rider noun 1 a visible, aggressive member of a gang US, 2001. 2 a police officer US, 2003. 3 5 kg of heroin supplied free with a 100 kg shipment of cocaine UK, 2002. 4 a cheater. From the phrase RIDE A PONY (to cheat on a test) US, 1959. 5 in trucking, a flat tyre on a set of dual tyres US, 1971 ridge adjective all right; okay. Probably a figurative use of now obsolete 'ridge' (gold). Now superseded by RIDGY DIDGE AUSTRALIA, 1938 ridge cottage noun a bunker in the Korean demilitarised zone. Korean war usage US, 1982 ridge-runner noun any white male from the Appalachian Mountain region in the southern US US, 1980

ridgy didge; ridgy-didge adjective all right; okay AUSTRALIA, 1953

ridiculous adjective excellent US, 1959 riding Saint George; the dragon on Saint George noun heterosexual sex with the woman straddling the man, her head upright US, 1980 riding the waves; riding a wave adjective experiencing drug intoxication US, 1930

R-ie noun a Returned Servicemen's League club. From the initials RSL AUSTRALIA, 1992

rif verb to separate someone from military service or employment. From the initialism for 'reduction in force' US, 1983 riff noun 1 a rhythmic musical phrase played repeatedly, used in jazz and rock. Probably an abbreviation of 'refrain' US, 1935. 2 an oft-repeated argument or point of view. A figurative usage of the previous sense UK, 2000. 3 the theme or gist of a conversation UK, 2000. 4 a verbal embellishment that adds no meaning to what is being said US, 1967. 5 an activity or experience US, 1975. 6 a refrigerated railway wagon US, 1946 riff verb 1 to repeatedly play a rhythmic musical figure, usually on a piano or guitar US, 1955. 2 to brag; to lie US, 1990. 3 to complain US, 1989

riffage noun rhythmic style(s) of rock music UK, 2002 riffle noun in a restaurant or soda fountain, to refill (an order) US, 1967 riffology noun in rock music, simple musical learning or skill UK, 1999 riff on verb to tease someone; to disparage someone or something US, 1995

riff-raff noun 1 the lowest class UK, 1470. 2 a Welsh person. Rhyming slang for TAFF UK: ENGLAND, 1992. 3 a café. Rhyming slang for CAFF UK, 1998

riffs noun music. Teen slang CANADA, 1946 rifle range noun 1 the ward in a hospital reserved for patients withdrawing from heroin addiction. A pun on SHOOTING GALLERY US, 1973. 2 change (money). Rhyming slang. Shortened form 'rifle' UK, 1980 rifle spot noun in the television and film industries, a spotlight that produces a long, thin beam of light US, 1990 rift noun a refrigerated freight railway wagon US, 1977 rig noun 1 a car, truck or bus US, 1938. 2 the collective equipment used by a musical group in concert UK, 1983. 3 a hypodermic needle and syringe US, 1969. 4 a still used in the illegal production of alcohol US, 1974. 5 a holster US, 2001. 6 the penis US, 1971. 7 surgically augmented breasts US, 1997. 8 a bad situation US, 1997

rigger noun 1 in the Royal Air Force, an airframe tradesman. An official Royal Air Force job title that was dropped as the job description changed in the 1930s yet has continued in colloquial use; still in Royal Air Force use, 2002 UK, 1943. 2 a half-gallon jar of beer NEW ZEALAND, 1998 rigger mortis noun an ineffectual member of the Royal Canadian Air Force. A 'rigger mortis' is a useless airman, based on RIGGER (an airframe tradesman) CANADA, 1995 rig gig noun a job driving a truck US, 1976 right noun in craps, a bet for the shooter US, 1974 right adjective 1 intensifies the good or bad character or condition of someone or something; complete, utter UK, 1956. 2 understanding and accepting the mores of the underworld US, 1950. ► not right in the head unsound of mind UK, 1934 right adverb very CANADA, 1988

right 1 used as a greeting or farewell TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1966. 2 I do not believe you. Heavily sarcastic, emphasising the negative interpretation. Variants include 'yeah right' and 'aye right' UK, 1998 right as rain adjective in good health; satisfactory UK, 1909 right enough adverb certainly, indeed UK, 1885 righteous adjective 1 very good, excellent, fine; honest; satisfactory. Conventional English with a religious overtone propelled into hip slang by context and emphasis in pronunciation US, 1942. 2 used of a drug, relatively pure and undiluted US, 1967 righteous bush noun any potent variety of marijuana. A combination of RIGHTEOUS (good) and BUSH (marijuana) US, 1946 righteous name noun a person's true name US, 1975 righteous nod noun a refreshing sleep US, 1947 right guy noun a dependable, trustworthy and reliable criminal US, 1964 right here used as a set answer to an inquiry as to how you are BAHAMAS, 1982 rightie noun in craps, a gambler who bets that the shooter will make his point before rolling a seven US, 1974 rightio!; righty-o!; rightehol; righty-ho! all right!; certainly!; gladly! UK, 1927 right numbers; right price noun in horse racing, higher than normal odds that merit a wager US, 1968

righto; right-oh okay!; all right! AUSTRALIA, 1911

right on! yes; excellent; correct; also used to signal enthusiastic agreement. Originally black usage, perhaps from 'right on the button', 'right on time' or RIGHTO. Subsequently adopted by the hippie generation US, 1990 right one noun a person whose behaviour does not conform to expectations UK, 1981 rights noun ► do the rights to seek or gain revenge UK, 2002 right-said-Fred noun the head. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of a pop group who enjoyed success in the early 1990s; the group took its name from the title of a humorous song by Bernard Cribbins which was a top ten hit in 1962 UK, 2000 righty noun someone who looks very much like someone else; a double or near double US, 1962 right you are! certainly!; agreed! UK, 1864 rigid adjective drunk US, 1972 rigid adverb greatly; used to intensify, especially 'bore', 'scare' and 'shake'. Modelled on synonymous STIFF, always used after the verb it modifies UK, 1943 rigmarole noun a string of incoherent statements; a disjointed or rambling speech; a trivial or almost senseless harangue UK, 1736 rigor mortis noun in croquet, the condition of not being able to hit any opponent's ball on a turn US, 1977

RIH rest in hell. A bitter version of RIP (rest in peace) US, 1999

rile verb to annoy or anger someone UK, 1836 rim noun ► above the rim of the highest quality US, 2002 rim verb 1 to lick, suck and tongue another's anus US, 1941. 2 to swindle someone US, 1949 rim-jag verb to make an indentation on a playing card with your fingernail or thumbnail to identify the card later in another player's hand US, 1988 rim job noun the licking of a partner's anus for the purposes of sexual pleasure US, 1969 rimmer noun a person who provides mouth in mouth-to-anus sex US, 1979 rim queen noun a male homosexual who is proficient at mouth-to-anus stimulation US, 1970 rimrock verb to drive livestock into an enclosure; to entrap someone CANADA, 1951 rim noun sunglasses US, 1997

rinctum noun an especially violent fit of temper CANADA, 1953

Rinehart!; Oh Rinehart! used as a shout to announce the onset of a student disturbance, started in fun but not always ending as such. Specific to Harvard University, honouring John Rinehart, Harvard Law School class of 1903 US, 1933 ring noun 1 a telephone call UK, 1900. 2 the anus. From the shape UK, 1949. 3 a circular area where the game of two-up takes place AUSTRALIA, 1896. 4 collectively, the bookmakers at a racecourse AUSTRALIA, 1877. ► get a ring in your nose in horse racing, to lose all your money betting US, 1951. ► put the ring around it to confirm something as definite NEW ZEALAND, 1978 ring verb 1 to provide one thing disguised as another UK, 1812. 2 to open and pilfer a cash register US, 1965. 3 to shout BARBADOS, 1965. ► ring it on to outwit someone UK, 1977. ► ring the bell 1 to make a successful attempt at something. Probably from a fairground challenge UK, 1966. 2 to achieve success beyond expectations US, 1950. ► ring the berries in ice hockey, to hit the goalie with a hard shot between the legs CANADA, 1985. ► ring your chimes to strike someone on the head with great force US, 1981 ring-a-ding noun an excellent example of something US, 1965 ring-a-ling on the ting-a-ling noun a telephone call US, 1968 ring angel noun a 'blip' on a radar screen, often a flock of birds US, 1947

ringas noun conversation; a conversation. Scamto youth street slang (South African townships) SOUTH AFRICA, 2005

ringburner noun an act of defecation that is attended by burning, stinging or other painful sensations in the anus; often applied to the spicy food that causes such effects. Combines RING (the anus) with a conventional sense of 'burn'; upper-class society origins. The following definition is offered by Ann Barr and Peter York in their 1982 Official Sloane Ranger Handbook: 'The results of a heavy curry the morning after' UK, 1982 ringer noun 1 a perfect resemblance. Often intensified with DEAD US, 1891. 2 an athlete or horse fraudulently entered in a game or race US, 1890. 3 a false vehicle registration number plate US, 1956. 4 a criminal who builds new cars from the parts of stolen cars UK, 1970. 5 a single inhalation of crack cocaine with a strong effect US, 1994. 6 a stockman AUSTRALIA, 1979. 7 the fastest shearer in a shearing shed AUSTRALIA, 1871 ring game noun a game of poker with all seats at the table occupied US, 1982

ringie noun the person running a game of two-up AUSTRALIA, 1941 ring-in noun 1 an illegal competitor substituted for another in a race AUSTRALIA, 1918. 2 any surreptitious substitute AUSTRALIA, 1956. 3 one who doesn't belong; an outsider AUSTRALIA, 1987 ring in verb 1 to illegally substitute a racehorse or greyhound for another in a race; to substitute a phoney in a competition AUSTRALIA, 1895. 2 to secretly introduce altered dice into a dice game US, 1950 ringing-in noun the illegal substitution of a racehorse or greyhound in a race AUSTRALIA, 1975 ring-keeper noun the person running a game of two-up AUSTRALIA, 1896 ring-knocker noun a graduate of one of the US military academies. From the school rings worn by graduates US, 1991 ringmaster noun a railway yardmaster US, 1946 ringpiece noun the anus. An ARSEHOLE in both the anatomical and figurative senses UK, 1949 ring raider noun a male homosexual. An allusion to anal intercourse, based on RING (the anus) UK, 2003 ring-sting noun a burning sensation in and of the anus caused, generally, by spicy food. Formed on RING (the anus). Occasionally, and originally, known as 'ring-burn' UK, 1984 ring-stinger noun a curry that produces, as an after-effect, a burning, stinging or other painful sensation in the anus UK, 2002

ringy adjective irritable US, 1932 rink rat noun a young boy who hangs around ice rinks, totally involved in hockey US, 1945

rinky-dink noun 1 something that is second rate, cheap or trivial US, 1912. 2 in trucking, the 4000 model White tractor US, 1971. 3 in snooker, the pink ball UK, 1992

rinky-dink adjective inexpensive; poorly made; worthless US, 1912

rinse noun a selection of dance tunes mixed into a seamless whole; an event which features such a musical blend UK, 1997 rinse verb to mix dance tunes into a seamless whole. Perhaps because of the wash of sound UK, 1999. ► rinse arse; rinse skin; rinse tail to administer a severe beating TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1992 rinsebag noun a plastic bag that once contained amphetamine US, 1989 rinshed adjective exhausted. A play on 'washed out' UK, 2005 rin sing!; rinsin'! excellent; a general-purpose superlative. The cry of approval offered up to a DJ who is rinsing tunes together (see RINSE), adopted by clubbers into wider usage UK, 2000

Rin-Tin-Tin; rinty noun the leg. Rhyming slang for PIN, formed from the name given to several generations of a German Shepherd dog television and film star of the 1930s–50s and beyond UK, 1998

Rio noun Rio de Janeiro US, 1935

riot noun something or someone that is very amusing or greatly funny UK, 1933 riot bell noun in prison, any bell UK, 1996 riot grrrl; riot girl noun a cultural movement of aggressive young feminists; a member of the riot grrrl movement; the sub-genre of punk rock music associated with the movement. Lazy journalism seems to be responsible for 'girl/grrl' variations US, 1991

Riot Hyatt; Riot House nickname The Continental Hyatt House, Sunset Boulevard, Los Angeles, famous for its association with rock musicians US, 1989

riot panic noun in circus and carnival usage, enthusiastic applause US, 1981 rip noun 1 a current travelling seawards from shore, usually moving swiftly. An abbreviation of 'rip tide' or 'rip current' US, 1990. 2 a method of breaking into a safe that employs mechanical force and no explosives US, 1950. 3 in a cheating scheme in a dice game, the switching of tampered dice into a game US, 1962. 4 an injustice; an action that is fundamentally unfair US, 1982. 5 a complaint lodged against a police officer US, 1970. 6 a fine or punishment imposed for breaking a police department conduct rule US, 1958. 7 one pound sterling UK, 1999. 8 marijuana UK, 2003. 9 a coarse, unattractive woman IRELAND, 1910 rip verb 1 to cheat or swindle someone US, 1904. 2 to steal something US, 1984. 3 to kill someone US, 1974. 4 to travel quickly UK, 1971. 5 to surf in a bold, skilled manner US, 1988. 6 to excel US, 1994. ► rip a new asshole to berate someone severely US, 1995. ► rip into to attack someone or something with vigour or gusto. Either physically or verbally AUSTRALIA, 1970. ► rip it up to enjoy energetically, to dance US, 1956. ► rip off a piece (of ass) to have sex US, 1971

rip and tear; rip verb to swear. Rhyming slang. Possibly an influence on LET RIP (to shout) UK, 1937 ripe adjective 1 bad-smelling US, 1995. 2 too strong for general acceptability UK, 1999. 3 used of a girl, over the legal age of consent US, 1988. 4 in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, poised for enlightenment in the mysteries of the band US, 1994 rip job noun a safe robbery in which the front of the safe is peeled off US, 1973 rip-off noun 1 a copy; an imitation US, 1970. 2 a robbery; a theft; a swindle; exploitation US, 1975 rip off verb 1 to steal something. If the speaker is doing the stealing, the term suggests an act of political heroism; if not, it suggests corporate greed. The subject of this verb can be either the goods stolen, the location or the owner; the subject can split the verb without changing the sense US, 1967. 2 to overcharge someone UK, 1977. 3 to rape someone US, 1984 rip-off adjective 1 in an imitative style, especially with the intention to exploit a commercial advantage AUSTRALIA, 1973. 2 exploitative; cheating US, 1975 rip-off artist noun a swindler; a thief UK, 1975 ripped adjective 1 drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1969. 2 muscular; lacking body fat; well-sculpted US, 1984 ripped out of your tits adjective very drunk UK, 2002 ripped to the tits adjective very drunk US, 1983 ripper noun 1 a very unattractive (young) woman. Variant 'old ripper' UK, 2003. 2 an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1986. 3 a skilled skateboarder US, 1984. 4 a skilled scooter-rider UK, 2000. 5 in pinball, a ball that is forcefully hit into play US, 1977 ripper adjective intense; extreme; excellent AUSTRALIA, 1974

ripper! used for expressing strong approval AUSTRALIA, 1987 ripping adjective 1 excellent UK, 1846. 2 very angry US, 1968 ripping iron noun a jacket slit up the back BARBADOS, 1965

rip-rap noun loose, crushed stone used to form embankments US, 1822 riproodling adjective excellent. A rare variant of 'rip-roaring' US, 1954 rips noun ► do rips to smoke marijuana US, 1997 rip, shit or bust verb to throw yourself wholeheartedly into a task without fear of the consequences NEW ZEALAND, 1999 rip-snorter noun a remarkable person; an exceptional thing US, 1842 rip track noun on the railways, a hospital US, 1977

Rip Van Winkle verb to urinate. Rhyming slang for TINKLE or SPRINKLE, formed from the eponymous character in an 1820 story by Washington Irving UK, 1992 rise noun an erection US, 1998 rise verb ► rise to the occasion to achieve an erection when the moment requires it. A punning application of a conventional phrase UK, 1984 rise and shine noun wine. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 rising damp noun cramp. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 rissole noun 1 the anus. Euphemistic for ARSEHOLE AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 a Returned Servicemen's League club. From a jocular pronunciation of RSL as a vowelless word, punning on 'rissole' (a meat patty) AUSTRALIA, 1983. ► like a rissole used as a jocular catchphrase tacked onto the farewell expressions 'catch you round' and 'see you round'. Punning on 'round' (circular), the shape of a rissole AUSTRALIA, 1996 ritual spirit noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 ritzy adjective classy, stylish, fashionable. After the Ritz luxury hotels in New York, London and Paris US, 1920

Riv; Rivie; Rivie hog noun a Buick Riviera car US, 1980 river noun in a hand of poker, the final card received by a player UK, 2003. ► across the river dead US, 1949. ► up the river; upriver to a prison US, 1947 riverina noun a shilling, hence, 5p. Rhyming slang for DEANER AUSTRALIA, 1943 river job noun as a result of betting, an enormous loss. So great is the loss that the bettor thinks of jumping in a river AUSTRALIA, 1989

River Lea noun tea, especially a poor quality cup of tea. Rhyming slang, formed on one of London's rivers UK, 1859

River Nile noun a smile. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

River Ouse; river ooze; the river noun strong drink. Rhyming slang for BOOZE UK, 1930 river rat noun a river-rafting enthusiast US, 1997

River Tyne noun wine, especially inferior wine. Rhyming slang, formed on a major river in the northeast of England UK, 1992

Riviera; Riviera of the south nickname any place in Antarctica perceived to be slightly warmer than the rest of the continent, especially the Antarctic Peninsula or Davis station ANTARCTICA, 1963 rivvel noun among Nova Scotians of German origin, a noodle soup. Like another Lunenburg County word, 'roovled' this word is probably a derivative of the German word runzeln (wrinkled) CANADA, 1999

Rizla noun a cigarette rolling paper. A brand name that acquired a generic meaning UK, 1996

RJR noun inexpensive cigarette tobacco given free to prisoners. An abbreviation of R.J. Reynolds, a major tobacco company US, 1990

R 'n' R noun rock 'n' roll. An initialism UK, 1999

roach noun 1 a cockroach AUSTRALIA, 1985. 2 the butt of a marijuana cigarette. The variant 'roche' also exists US, 1938. 3 a still-lit and smokeable cigarette end. From the previous sense UK, 1996. 4 Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug'. From the manufacturer, Hoffman-La Roche. The variant 'roachie' also exists US, 1995. 5 a police officer. A disliked insect found nearly everywhere US, 1963. 6 an unpopular girl US, 1959. 7 in new car sales, a bad credit risk US, 1989

roach verb 1 to smoke a marijuana cigarette UK, 2004. 2 to have sex with someone's spouse or lover; to cuckold someone BAHAMAS, 1982. 3 in computing, to destroy a program US, 1991

roacha noun marijuana UK, 2003

roach and dace noun the face. Rhyming slang. A less common variation of KIPPER AND PLAICE UK, 1874 roach bender noun someone who smokes marijuana. An elaboration of the noun and verb senses of ROACH US, 1942 roach clip noun a device, improvised or manufactured, designed to hold the butt of a (marijuana) cigarette and make smoking the final portion possible US, 1997 roach coach noun 1 a dustcart UK, 1981. 2 a catering truck. The reduplicative suggestion is of a lack of hygiene that attracts cockroaches US, 1985

Roachdale College nickname an 'alternative' institution within the University of Toronto, officially named Rochdale College. Founded in the 1960s, this irreverent nickname captured the flavour of the spirit of the place. Its history is memorialised in an exhibit which includes memoirs of drug use, a Can-Cannabis flag and other 'Counter-Cultural Ephemera' CANADA, 1969 roached adjective under the influence of Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug'. From the name of the manufacturer, Hoffman-La Roche US, 1996

roach haven noun a hotel/motel lacking in hygiene US, 1995 roach killers noun pointed shoes US, 1974

roach motel noun a used car dealership that targets customers with poor credit US, 1997

roach wagon noun a catering truck US, 1984

roachy noun the penis BAHAMAS, 1982 road noun the realities of contemporary urban existence. A refinement of STREET UK, 2005. ► the road in Roller Derby, anywhere outside the nine San Francisco Bay Area counties, the home of the game US, 1999. ► up the road committed for trial before a judge and jury UK, 1977 road verb to ride a bicycle on the road in a large Canadian city CANADA, 2002 road agent noun a highway patrolman or state police officer. Biker (motorcycle) usage US, 2003 road apple noun 1 a piece of horse manure US, 1996. 2 a touring performer US, 1981 roadblock dance noun an unofficial street party UK, 1994 road burn noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, the deteriorated grooming and personal hygiene that serve as physical manifestations of a long tour following the band US, 1994 road dog noun 1 an extremely close friend US, 1989. 2 in sports betting, a team picked as the underdog playing away from home US, 1989 road dope noun amphetamines. Derives from the drug's use by long-distance drivers UK, 2003 road engineer noun a long-haul truck driver US, 1963 road face noun a stoic expression giving no sign of emotion TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

road game noun a criminal's field of expertise US, 1984 road head noun oral sex received while driving US, 2001 road helper noun an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1969 roadie noun 1 a member of a rock band's entourage who is responsible for setting up and dismantling the band's equipment while on tour UK, 1968. 2 among mountain-bikers, a derogatory term for a cyclist who only rides on paved surfaces US, 1996. 3 a final drink before starting a road journey. From 'one for the road' AUSTRALIA, 1996. 4 a can or bottle of beer drunk while driving. Also used as a measure of distance, as in 'It's a three roadie trip' AUSTRALIA, 1996 roadie's screwdriver noun a hammer or any blunt instrument used to strike something that is not working UK, 1985 road kill noun literally, an animal or bird carcass on the side of the road; figuratively, an unattractive mess US, 1979 road louse noun a chorus dancer who can no longer get work in the major metropolitan dance halls US, 1948 road map noun 1 multiple facial lacerations US, 1989. 2 in craps, the dice placed before the shooter with the point needed to win face up US, 1983. 3 a peace plan. Originally, and especially, applied to the Israel–Palestine conflict US, 2002 road pizza noun an animal carcass on the road CANADA, 1987 road rage noun a driver's violent reaction to the frustrations of traffic hindrances and the discourtesies of other road users US, 1988 road rash noun 1 scraped, bruised and/or cut skin earned in falls while skateboarding or engaging in activity on the road US, 1976. 2 scraped, bruised and/or cut skin earned by moped riders in road accidents UK, 2003 road rocket; rocket noun an extremely fast motorcycle UK, 1978 road soda noun alcohol drunk in a car on the way to a party or concert US, 2004 road stake noun enough money to get someone to their next job US, 1965

roadster noun a tramp US, 1890 road talk noun gossip; a rumour BAHAMAS, 1982 road tar noun coffee, especially strong and bitter coffee US, 1976 road trouble noun problems encountered on the street, usually between a pimp and prostitute US, 1973 roam noun ► on the roam away from home US, 1976 roarer noun in horse racing, a horse that coughs loudly while galloping US, 1947 roaring forties nickname the latitudes between 40 and 49 degrees south. Strong winds from the west produce choppy ocean conditions ANTARCTICA, 1897 roaring game noun the sport of curling CANADA, 2002

roaring twenty noun a type of amphetamine tablet UK, 1998 roar up verb (of a male) to have sex UK, 1995

roast noun a person killed by a fire US, 1976

roast verb 1 (from an active perspective) to have sex with someone UK, 2002. 2 to criticise someone or something severely; to be mercilessly disparaging of someone or something; to denounce someone UK, 1782. 3 to earn money after hours, especially when doing so with some degree of dishonesty JAMAICA, 1990

roast beef noun the teeth. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

roast beef verb in the used car business, to suggest a higher trade-in value to the dealer management than will be approved, giving the salesman who does so a cushion to fall to the value he expects will be approved US, 1975

roasted adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1989 roastie noun 1 a roast potato UK, 2001. 2 a traditional English roast dinner UK, 2002 roasting adjective 1 of an ambient temperature, very hot UK, 1768. 2 anxious; unhappy UK, 1996 roast pork; roast noun a fork. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 roast pork; roast verb to talk. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 roast potato; roastie noun a waiter. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

rob noun ► on the rob engaged in thievery UK, 1999 rob verb to steal. Unconventional passive usage UK, 1999. ► rob the cradle to be romantically involved with a young person US, 1978. ► we wuz robbed; we woz robbed used as an excuse for losing. As a jocular exclamation this is a fine example of 'many a true word spoken in jest'; widely used (with serious intent) as an indignant cliché. Apparently coined in 1932 by boxing manager Joe Jacobs when his client, Max Schmeling, lost the world heavyweight title as the result of a controversial split-decision US, 1988 robber talk noun threatening talk TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1985

robe noun in circus and carnival usage, a judge in criminal court US, 1981

Roberta Flack noun dismissal from employment. Rhyming slang for SACK, formed from the name of the US singer (b.1939) UK, 1998

Robert E. Lee noun 1 a quay. Dockers' rhyming slang, formed on the name of the Confederate army general (1807–70) UK, 1961. 2 the knee. Sometimes abbreviated to 'Robert E.' or the simple 'Robert' UK, 1992. 3 urine; an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PEE OR WEE UK, 1998

Robert's your father's brother everything's all right. A humorous variation of BOB'S YOUR UNCLE UK, 1994

Robert's your mother's brother everything's all right. A humorous variation of BOB'S YOUR UNCLE UK, 1999

Robin Hood noun wood; a wood; a Woodbine™ cigarette. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of the legendary hero of Sherwood Forest UK, 1992

Robin Hood adjective good. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of the legendary hero of Sherwood Forest UK, 1932

Robin Hoods noun merchandise, goods. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

robin run noun in Canadian maple sugaring, the first flow of the maple tree sap, which is especially sweet CANADA, 1995

Robinson Crusoe verb to do so. Rhyming slang, formed from the eponymous hero of Daniel Defoe's 1719 book UK, 1960 rob my pal noun a girl. Rhyming slang for GAL UK, 1960

robo noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medicinal purposes US, 2003

robo verb to drink Robitussin™ (a branded cough medicine with codeine) US, 1993 robodose verb to abuse cough syrups for recreational purposes. From the name of the most popular syrup of abuse, Robitussin™ US, 1995 robotard noun a person who abuses for non-medicinal purposes non-prescription medication containing dextromethorphan (DXM). From the branded cough syrup, Robitussin™ US, 2003 robotrip verb to abuse for non-medicinal purposes non-prescription medication containing dextromethorphan (DXM). From the branded cough syrup, Robitussin™ US, 2003

ROC noun the rest of Canada, i.e. all of Canada except Quebec CANADA, 2002

roca noun 1 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003. 2 crack cocaine. Corrupted Spanish-English for 'rock' US, 1994

Roche; La Roche; rochie noun Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug'. Because Roche Pharmaceuticals markets the Rohypnol™ sleeping pill US, 2004 rock noun 1 a rhythmic style of (usually) amplified music that provides the umbrella for any number of music genres. Originally abbreviated from ROCK 'N' ROLL; in the US it has continued in use for all forms of driving, rhythmic music. Meanwhile, in the UK early variant forms were called 'beat' or POP, not until the mid-1960s was 'rock' used as a title for some contemporary music and then only applied to the more serious music that derived from rock 'n' roll US, 1957. 2 a diamond US, 1908. 3 cocaine US, 1973. 4 crack cocaine. Describes the crystalline lumps of purified cocaine US, 1983. 5 a pool ball US, 1990. 6 in the usage of youthful model road racers (slot car racers), a slow car US, 1997. 7 a solid, reliable, dependable fellow prisoner US, 1976. 8 in prison, a predatory homosexual US, 1967. 9 a frugal and stingy person US, 1950. 10 a dollar US, 1950. 11 a packet of brand name manufactured cigarettes, used as a basic medium of exchange in prison US, 1992. 12 a crystal tuning device used in a citizens' band transceiver US, 1976

Rock nickname ► the Rock 1 Gibraltar. From Gibraltar's main feature UK, 1829. 2 the Alcatraz federal penitentiary, located in San Francisco bay US, 1970. 3 Rocky Marciano (1923–69), the only undefeated heavyweight champion in boxing history US, 1975. 4 Guam. A nickname used by US military pilots during the Vietnamese war US, 1990. 5 Riker's Island jail, New York US, 1975. 6 the island of Newfoundland. This term, almost universal in use in both Newfoundland and the rest of Canada, derives from the stony soil of the island CANADA, 2001

rock verb 1 to have sex US, 1922. 2 to excel US, 1996. 3 to excite someone US, 1955. 4 to work UK, 2001. 5 to prepare crack cocaine from powdered cocaine US, 1995. 6 to distress someone; to disturb someone; to startle someone US, 1940. ► rock ass to produce rock music that inspires a vigorous audience response. On the model of kick ass (to behave energetically) US, 1979. ► rock the boat to upset the status quo; to make difficulties; to cause trouble UK, 1931. ► rock the clock in the used car business; to spin the odometer (mileometer) backwards US, 1997. ► rock the groove (of hip-hop music or musicians) to give pleasure UK, 1998

rock adjective hard UK, 2001

rockabilly noun a mid-1950s US fashion; a late 1970s British youth fashion and music genre identified as an exaggeration of hillbilly country and western style. An ellipsis of ROCK 'N' ROLL and 'hillbilly' US, 1993 rock and boulder noun the shoulder. Rhyming slang UK, 1931 rock and roll noun used of an automatic or semi-automatic weapon, full automatic fire US, 1979 rock and roll; rock 'n' roll verb to begin and perform the task at hand US, 1990 rock ape noun 1 a black person. Offensive AUSTRALIA, 1972. 2 a lout or hooligan AUSTRALIA, 1994 rock attack noun crack cocaine. An elaboration of ROCK. UK, 2003 rock bud noun a powerful variety of marijuana UK, 2003 rock cake noun a small bet. Possibly rhyming slang for 'stake'; or possibly a dismissive comparison to an article of little value UK, 1991 rock candy noun diamonds US, 1970 rockchopper noun a Roman Catholic. A derogatory term originating amongst Protestants. In earlier use (1908, Australian National Dictionary) used of a 'navvy' (i.e. one who breaks up rock), and thus in origin probably a slur labelling all Australian Catholics descendants of Irish Catholic convicts AUSTRALIA, 1981 rock college noun prison NEW ZEALAND, 1998 rock crusher noun in poker, a hand that is certain to win US, 1988 rockdance noun walking barefoot over a rocky surface to retrieve a surfboard US, 1963 rocked out adjective under the influence of crack cocaine US, 1991 rocker noun 1 any of the several curved stripes below the three chevrons on the insignia of a sergeant in the US Army or Marine Corps US, 1944. 2 a curved patch designating a motorcycle gang or the gang-member's home city or country, worn as part of the colours. A borrowing from the military US, 1971. 3 a member of the 1960s youth cult that is characterised by the use of motorcycles and leathers, and chiefly remembered as the opposite to Mod UK, 1971. 4 a non-surfer who associates with surfers and poses as a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1964. 5 a rock musician/singer UK, 2003. 6 a song, or instrumental, exhibiting the rhythmic characteristics of rock 'n' roll UK, 1975. 7 the convex curvature of the bottom of a surfboard US, 1965. ► off your rocker crazy UK, 1897 rock; rokker verb to speak Romany; to talk. English gypsy use from Romany roker (to speak) UK, 2000 rocket noun 1 a marijuana cigarette US, 1942. 2 a hypodermic needle and syringe US, 1989. 3 a bullet US, 1965. 4 an Oldsmobile V-8 engine US, 1965. 5 a tampon. From the shape US, 2001 ► see: ROAD ROCKET rocket alley nickname Phuoc Binh, South Vietnam. The nickname came from the frequent Viet Cong rocket attacks US, 1990 rocket burns noun faecal stains in the underwear or on a toilet bowl CANADA, 2002 rocket cap noun a dome-shaped cap on a vial in which crack cocaine is sold US, 1994

Rocket City nickname Tay Ninh, South Vietnam; Lai Khe, South Vietnam US, 1983

rocket fuel noun 1 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1976. 2 a combination of assorted alcoholic beverages NEW ZEALAND, 1997 rocket man noun a person who sells syringes to drug addicts. Illegal in the US, but profitable US, 1989 rocket ripple noun a barrage of 144 rockets fired from a small cart. Korean war usage US, 1957 rocket science noun any difficult, demanding task US, 1997 rocket stains noun faecal stains in the underwear or on a toilet bowl CANADA, 2002 rock fiend noun a crack cocaine addict. From ROCK (crack cocaine) UK, 2003

Rockford Files noun haemorrhoids. Rhyming slang for 'piles', formed from the title of a US television series, 1975–82 UK, 2003 rock hard noun amyl or butyl nitrite. Reflects male use as a sex-aid; possibly derives from a brand name UK, 1998 rockhead noun 1 a crack cocaine addict US, 1991. 2 a dim-witted person US, 1957 rock-hog noun in mining, a tunneller or driller CANADA, 1954

rockhopper noun an angler who fishes from coastal rocks AUSTRALIA, 1966 rock hound noun in oil drilling, a geologist, especially one who focuses on the earth's surface US, 1954 rock house noun a premises used for the sale and consumption of crack cocaine US, 1985 rocking chair noun 1 retirement with a pension US, 1946. 2 in a group of trucks travelling together, the truck in the middle US, 1976 rocking chair money noun unemployment insurance or Old Age Security CANADA, 1959

rocking horse noun sauce, whether the condiment, garnish or impudence. Rhyming slang UK, 1979

Rock Jaw nickname Rach Gia, South Vietnam US, 1990

rock jockey noun in the language of paragliding, the pilot of a hang glider US, 1992

rockman noun a dealer in crack cocaine US, 1989 rock med noun medical treatment targeted for rock 'n' roll concert goers US, 1994 rock 'n' roll noun 1 a genre of music with a driving rhythm; an umbrella for most simply rhythmic music produced since the 1950s. The etymology is laden with sexual overtones, thus 'My Man Rocks Me With One Steady Roll', sung by blues singer Trixie Smith in 1924, and a song entitled 'Rock and Roll' is recorded in 1934. It is not until 1954 that the music now recognised as 'rock 'n' roll' is given its identity; coinage is generally credited to US disc jockey Alan Freed US, 1924. 2 a hole. Rhyming slang, used practically or figuratively UK, 1992. 3 unemployment benefit; any government option from which it is administrated. Rhyming slang for THE DOLE UK, 1994 rock 'n' roll! used as an good-humoured exclamation of dismissal UK, 2000 rock of ages; rocks noun wages. Rhyming slang UK, 1937 rock of Gibraltar noun in shuffleboard, a disc that is well hidden and guarded US, 1967 rock-on noun an erection. A variation of HARD-ON (an erection) UK, 1999 rock on the chest; rock on the box noun silicosis US, 1951

rockpile noun any prison job US, 1984 rocks noun 1 salt US, 1981. 2 money US, 1950. 3 dominoes US, 1959. 4 jewels; pearls. From the US sense (diamonds) UK, 1937. 5 the testicles US, 1948. 6 courage US, 1977 ► see: ALMOND ROCKS, MINT ROCKS. ► get your rocks off 1 to ejaculate US, 1969. 2 to be satisfied with or excited about something. Figurative application of the sense 'to ejaculate' US, 1995. ► on the rocks 1 used of a drink, served over ice US, 1946. 2 in severe trouble UK, 1889. ► shoot your rocks to ejaculate US, 1975. ► the rocks a confidence swindle involving fake diamonds US, 1969 rock slinger noun a seller of crack cocaine US, 1993 rocks of hell noun crack cocaine. An elaboration of ROCK UK, 1998 rock solvent noun in caving and pot-holing, any explosive. This is slang with a euphemistic purpose: when communicating by telephone, e-mail, etc., it is thought ill advised to use words like 'explosive' UK, 2004 rockspider noun 1 an Afrikaner. Derogatory. Sometimes shortened to 'spider' SOUTH AFRICA, 1970. 2 a child molester. Originally in prison use, but now part of general slang AUSTRALIA, 1984 rock star noun 1 a crack cocaine dealer US, 1988. 2 a woman who engages in sex for payment in crack cocaine or money to buy crack cocaine; a prostitute addicted to crack cocaine US, 1993 rock starring noun an act of having sex with a partner in exchange for a payment of crack cocaine UK, 2002 rock whore noun a woman who will trade sex for crack cocaine US, 1991 rock wing noun in the language of paragliding, the pilot of a hang glider US, 1992 rocky noun 1 hashish. Probably from a specific use into generic UK, 1999. 2 crack cocaine UK, 1998

Rocky noun Coors™ beer. Coors boasts of being brewed with 'pure Rocky Mountain spring water' US, 1967 rocky black; rocky noun a type of marijuana UK, 1996

rocky hash noun a type of marijuana UK, 1997

Rocky III noun crack cocaine. An elaboration of ROCK, using the title of a 1982 film UK, 1998

Rocky Mountain deadshot noun pancakes; hotcakes; griddle cakes; flapjacks CANADA, 1989

Rocky Mountain Kool Aid noun Coors™ beer. Once available only in Colorado, where it is brewed US, 1977

Rocky Mountain oyster noun an animal testicle, usually that of a steer formerly known as a bull, prepared for eating as a regional delicacy US, 1986

rocy noun any variety of hashish from Morocco UK, 2003 rod noun 1 the penis; the erect penis UK, 1902. 2 a gun, usually a pistol. A perfect example for those who like to ascribe phallic symbolism to the tools of man's aggression US, 1903. 3 a hired gunman US, 1964. 4 a car modified for speed or looks; a hot rod US, 1945. 5 the draw-rod underneath a railway goods wagon US, 1904.

► had the rod wrecked; ruined. Variant of HAVE HAD THE DICK AUSTRALIA, 1975

rodadio noun a radio. Trucker embellishment US, 1976 rodda noun a Cadillac El Dorado car US, 1972

rodded up adjective armed with a handgun or handguns US, 1950

rodder noun a hot rod enthusiast US, 1949

rodeo fuck noun used for describing sex between a man and woman; the man enters the woman from behind, insults her ('you're almost as good as your sister' for example) and then holds on. A term heard mostly in jokes US, 2002

Rodino noun a Mexican citizen permitted to stay in the US during an immigration amnesty period in the late 1980s. After Congressman Peter Rodino, sponsor of the legislation that made the amnesty possible US, 1993

Rodney boater noun a boat-dweller who does not care for the upkeep of the boat-home UK, 1987 rod out verb to install high performance equipment in a car's engine US, 1994

Rods; Rod's nickname Harrod's, a department store in Knightsbridge, London. An abbreviation that seems to be a diminutive. Upper-class society use UK, 1982

Rod the Bod; Rod the Mod nickname rock singer Rod Stewart US, 1993

rod walloper noun a male masturbator. Formed on ROD (the penis) with a variation of 'beater' AUSTRALIA, 1971

rod-walloping noun male masturbation AUSTRALIA, 1971

roger verb 1 from a male perspective, to have sex. From its, now obsolete, use as a slang term for 'the penis' UK, 1711. 2 to acknowledge receipt of a message US, 2001

roger! used for expressing agreement or affirmation. 'R' or 'roger' signified that a message or command had been received US, 1941 roger dodger; roger dodge; roger D; roger splodge yes; affirmative. Variations of ROGER! (yes) US, 1976

Roger Hunt noun a cunt in all senses. Rhyming slang, formed, for no apparent reason other than the rhyme, from the name of a Liverpool and England footballer UK, 1998 rogering noun from a male perspective, sexual intercourse. From the verb ROGER (to have sex) UK, 1998

Roger ramjet noun any speeding and reckless driver US, 1976 rogue noun 1 a horse that is difficult to handle AUSTRALIA, 1947. 2 in surfing, a wave that appears without warning US, 1977 rogue verb to take something without permission US, 1984 rogue adjective strange; threatening US, 2003 rogue's badge noun in horse racing, blinkers. Usually worn by horses that do not behave well, hence the label of 'rogue' US, 1947 rogue's gallery noun a collection of photographs of criminals US, 1859 roidhead noun a habitual user of steroids. An abbreviation of 'steroid' combined with -HEAD (a user) UK, 2001 roid rage; 'roid rage noun violently ill-tempered behaviour resulting from excessive steroid use. An abbreviation of 'steroid', playing on ROAD RAGE US, 1987

roids noun anabolic steroids US, 1980 rojas noun Malboro™ cigarettes. Spanish for 'red', which is the colour of the packaging US, 1990 rojito noun a red central nervous system depressant, especially Seconal™. From the Spanish for 'little red one' US, 1971 rojo noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medical purposes. Spanish for 'red', which is the colour of the cough syrup US, 2003

rojo flow noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. A use of the Spanish word rojo (red) US, 2001

roko noun a riot, protest or demonstration INDIA, 2003

rolf verb to vomit US, 1982 roll noun 1 an act of sexual intercourse. An abbreviation of ROLL IN THE HAY US, 1962. 2 a roll of money US, 1965. 3 a single cigarette or marijuana cigarette Fiji, 1993. 4 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003. 5 ten barbiturate capsules sold as a unit US, 1973. 6 a double-breasted suit US, 1970. ► on a roll enjoying continuing success US, 1976 roll verb 1 to rob someone, especially with force and especially someone bemused with drink US, 1873. 2 to avoid paying a bill for services provided by an establishment such as a hotel or restaurant US, 1977. 3 to betray friends by changing sides; to inform on someone. A variation of ROLL OVER US, 1997. 4 to leave US, 1982. 5 to arrive on the scene AUSTRALIA, 1861. 6 to ride in a car US, 1990. 7 (used of a woman) to walk with a rolling motion of the pelvis TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973. 8 in prison, to open a cell US, 1976. 9 to take MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 2001.

► roll bones to play dice US, 1950. ► roll in on someone to attack someone US, 2000. ► roll it back to decelerate a motorcycle; to close the throttle-twist grip UK, 1979. ► roll on let it proceed or happen swiftly. Often used in an imperative or exclamatory manner UK, 1901. ► roll the dice to take a chance on something US, 1992. ► roll the drums in betting, to double the bet in effect US, 1986. ► roll your own to reload your own ammunition US, 1957 roll deep verb to go somewhere with a large group of friends; to have a large group of friends US, 2001

roller noun 1 a police officer US, 1964. 2 a robber who relies on brute force US, 1975. 3 a prostitute who takes a client's money without delivering a service. From ROLL (to rob someone) UK, 1996. 4 a Rolls Royce car UK, 1975. 5 in the car sales business, a car that can be driven home the same day it is bought US, 1966. 6 a car that is being driven US, 1970. 7 a machine used to start the engine of a drag racer by spinning the rear wheels while the driver turns on the ignition US, 1970. 8 a wave US, 1988. 9 a vein that tends to roll away from a needle US, 1970. 10 a bowler US, 1953. 11 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 2002. 12 a hot dog US, 1991

roller-rings noun the police US, 1987 rollers noun dice with rounded edges. A roller may be intentionally crafted or not; a naturally occurring roller makes a controlled shot by a cheat difficult US, 1950

rollerskate; skate noun a small car UK, 1951 roll for the bowl noun toilet paper US, 1991 rollicking noun a telling-off. Probably a euphemistic replacement for synonymous BOLLOCKING UK, 1938

rollie noun 1 a hand-rolled cigarette AUSTRALIA, 1981. 2 a marijuana cigarette. A variation of the previous sense UK, 1999. 3 a tablet of Rolyprol™, a brand name for flunitrazepam, a sedative NEW ZEALAND, 1989 rollies noun loose tobacco, used for hand-rolling cigarettes. Prison usage US, 1967 rolling adjective 1 very rich. Variants include 'rolling in it' and 'rolling in money' UK, 1782. 2 under the influence of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1996 rolling bones noun dice US, 1950 rolling hot! used by helicopter gunship pilots in Vietnam to announce that a strafing attack was about to begin US, 1990 rolling lighthouse noun in trucking, a tractor and trailer embellished with many extra running lights US, 1971

rollings noun loose cigarette tobacco US, 1945 roll in the hay noun an act of sexual intercourse US, 1945 roll me in the gutter; roll me noun butter. Rhyming slang UK, 1925 rollocks noun the testicles. Rhyming slang for BOLLOCKS. The reduced form of JIMMY ROLLOCKS, JOHNNY ROLLOCKS and TOMMY ROLLOCKS UK, 1984 roll-on noun a secret lover in addition to your regular partner. Teen slang SOUTH AFRICA, 2003 roll on verb to travel; to go. Wheeled transport is probably implied US, 2001 roll-on, roll-off noun a used, sometimes stolen, car imported for sale TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2002 rollout noun in handball, a ball hit off the front wall so low that the ball does not bounce off the floor US, 1977 roll out verb to leave US, 1997

rollover noun an informant US, 2000 roll over verb to turn against or inform against someone AUSTRALIA, 1995

Rolls noun a Rolls-Royce car US, 1928

Rolls Royce noun the voice, especially a good singing voice. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 roll-up noun 1 a hand-rolled cigarette. A prison coinage UK, 1950. 2 a type of bet where the amount won on one event becomes the stake for the next event. Better known as an 'accumulator' UK, 2001 roll up verb 1 to arrive AUSTRALIA, 1920. 2 to roll a marijuana cigarette US, 1971

rolly noun a match. Rhyming slang, from Rolly Hatch, a prominent and popular horse racing figure in New Zealand and later Australia AUSTRALIA, 1989 roll-your-own noun a hand-rolled cigarette NEW ZEALAND, 2002

roly noun a hand-rolled cigarette. From ROLL-UP UK, 2002

roly-poly adjective overweight UK, 1820

Roman candle noun 1 in homosexual usage, the penis of an Italian or Italian-American US, 1987. 2 in target shooting, a poorly loaded cartridge that produces a spray of red sparks when detonated US, 1957. 3 a burst of tracer bullets US, 1962. 4 a sandal. Rhyming slang, formed from a firework UK, 1992

Roman culture noun group sex US, 1967

Roman engagement noun in homosexual usage, anal sex with a woman US, 1987

Roman fingers noun the hands of a boy wandering over a girl's body NEW ZEALAND, 1984

Roman roulette noun birth control by the rhythm method. A variation of VATICAN ROULETTE UK, 1969

romantic ballad noun a salad. Rhyming slang UK, 1998

rom-com noun romantic comedy. Media jargon that has insinuated itself into mainstream consciousness UK, 2002 romo noun a follower of the New Romantic youth fashion of the early 1980s UK, 2003 romp noun in horse racing, an easy victory US, 1976 romp verb 1 to excite; to excel; to be lively US, 1946. 2 to win easily. Also as 'romp home' UK, 1881 rompered noun severely beaten. Derives from 'romper room'; used by the British military in Northern Ireland to describe a brand of justice dispensed by illegal kangaroo courts UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 1974

rompums noun marijuana UK, 2003

Romulan noun in British Columbia, a local variety of marijuana. A Star Trek inspired term CANADA, 2002

ron noun a homosexual Mafia don US, 2002

Ronan Keating noun a beating. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the popular Irish singer (b.1977) UK, 2004

ronies noun pepperoni US, 1996

Ronnie Biggs noun lodgings. Rhyming slang for DIGS, formed from the name of the 'Great Train Robber' (1929–2005) UK, 1992

Ronnie RayGun nickname Ronald Reagan (1911–2004), US President 1981–89. A neat pun that refers particularly to Reagan's 'Star Wars' initiative UK, 2000

ronson noun 1 a ponce, a man who lives on the earnings of a prostitute. Very imperfect rhyming slang, apparently adopted under the influence of high-powered advertising for the branded cigarette lighters UK, 1984. 2 a despised or unpleasant person. Rhyming slang, formed on a very weak rhyme for PONCE UK, 1960 roo noun 1 a kangaroo. By front clipping AUSTRALIA, 1898. 2 an apprentice station hand working on, and learning how to manage, a cattle or sheep station. An abbreviation of 'jackaroo' AUSTRALIA, 1891

-roo suffix used as an meaningless, affected embellishment of a noun US, 1984

roo bar noun a metal grille attached to the front of a vehicle as protection from kangaroos when driving in the country AUSTRALIA, 1973

roodle adjective in poker, said of a hand in which the stakes have been temporarily raised US, 1947 roody-poo noun someone who is ignorant or unsophisticated US, 1999

roody-poo adjective second-rate; shallow US, 1998 roof noun the flight deck of an aircraft carrier UK, 1998. ► on the roof paid for by the management of the establishment. A variation of ON THE HOUSE UK, 2002 roof verb to break into a building through the roof US, 1972 roofer noun Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug' US, 1997

roofies; ruffles; roples noun the recreational drug Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam) US, 1997 roof monkey noun a television journalist who, when on location, relies on satellite communication for incoming information which is then included in that journalist's report UK, 2005 roof-sniffing noun in caving and pot-holing, the act of moving on your back along a small, water-filled passage with only sufficient air-space for the eyes and nose UK, 2004

rook noun a beginner. An abbreviation of ROOKIE US, 1905 rook verb to cheat someone; to swindle someone; to defraud someone UK, 1590 rookety adjective rocky, bumpy BARBADOS, 1965

rookie noun 1 a raw recruit, especially a new recruit in the army or police. Probably a perversion of 'recruit' UK, 1892. 2 a novice at a sport; a player in his or her first year with a particular team. From the wider sense as a 'recruit' US, 1913. 3 a college freshman US, 1979 rooly; roolly adverb really. Representing a pronunciation of young children, though also used to represent supposed uneducated speech AUSTRALIA, 1979 room noun 1 in prison, a cell UK, 1996. 2 a bar or cocktail lounge US, 1970 roomdawg noun a person who shares your room, apartment or house US, 2002 roomdog noun a roommate US, 1996 roomie noun 1 a roommate US, 1918. 2 a prison cellmate US, 1982 room-rifler noun a thief who steals from hotel rooms US, 1954

'rooms noun mushrooms US, 1969 rooms noun a roommate US, 1970 room temperature IQ noun a very low intelligence US, 1981 room time noun time spent surfing in the breaking hollow of a wave US, 1991 rooney noun the penis US, 1968 roost noun 1 the highest rows in the highest gallery in a theatre UK, 1952. 2 a residence, be it room, apartment or house US, 1945 roost verb to sit US, 1983 rooster noun 1 the buttocks US, 1946. 2 crack cocaine US, 1994. 3 a member of the Piru youth gang US, 1994

rooster comb noun a swath of unmown hay left in the field after cutting CANADA, 1992

rooster tail noun a spray of water directly behind an object or person moving fast through the water US, 1965 root noun 1 the penis US, 1968. 2 an act of sexual intercourse AUSTRALIA, 1959. 3 a sexual partner. Especially used in contexts where a person's sexual abilities are rated; see DUD ROOT AUSTRALIA, 1969. 4 marijuana; a marijuana cigarette US, 1959. 5 an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1971. 6 a kick. The variant 'rooter' also exists IRELAND, 1962 root verb 1 to copulate with someone AUSTRALIA, 1958. 2 to confound someone; to defeat someone AUSTRALIA, 1944. 3 to give a hefty blow to someone or something AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► get rooted go away; piss off. An analogue to 'get fucked' AUSTRALIA, 1961. ► root like a rattlesnake (usually of a woman) to have sex with vigour and uninhibited enthusiasm AUSTRALIA, 1969

rootable adjective sexually desirable AUSTRALIA, 1973

root around verb to be sexually promiscuous AUSTRALIA, 2001

rooted adjective wrecked; ruined AUSTRALIA, 1944

rooter noun a person who copulates promiscuously AUSTRALIA, 1975

root for verb to support someone ardently US, 2000 rootin' tootin' oil noun semen US, 1962 root up verb to mess something up AUSTRALIA, 1992

root ute noun a panel van or the like used for sexual encounters AUSTRALIA, 2000

rooty-ma-toot noun a suit. Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

roovle noun among Nova Scotians of German descent, a wrinkle. In Lunenburg County, the descendants of German soldiers of fortune who were awarded land by King George in the late C18 use unconventional, slightly altered German words in their English conversation. This term is close in sound to 'rivvel' and thus may also come from German runzeln (to wrinkle) CANADA, 1999 rope noun 1 marijuana; hashish; a marijuana cigarette. Conventional 'rope' is often made from Indian hemp Cannabis sativa, a plant genus that gives us marijuana, is true HEMP but sometimes called INDIAN HEMP which may well explain the origins of this usage; it is likely that the sense as 'a marijuana cigarette' is influenced by appearance US, 1944. 2 Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug' US, 1995. 3 a vein used for drug injections UK, 1996. 4 a thick gold chain necklace US, 1989. 5 an Afrikaner.

Contemptuous, insulting; a reference to a rope that is, according to a 1975 informant, 'thick, coarse, twisted, hairy' SOUTH AFRICA, 1970. 6 tough talk TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1983 rope verb 1 to lure someone into a swindle US, 1848. 2 in a card game, to cheat or mislead someone US, 1985

ropeable adjective livid; splenetic; furious AUSTRALIA, 1874 rope-a-dope noun 1 a defensive tactic employed by Muhammed Ali, resting against the ropes and letting his opponent exhaust himself with punches that Ali evaded or absorbed US, 1975. 2 a tactic of feigning weakness in order to lure an opponent into an ill-advised offensive. From the boxing sense US, 1979 rope dope noun low grade marijuana US, 1995

ropehead noun 1 a Rastafarian with long matted braids JAMAICA, 1987. 2 a dark-skinned person. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1997 roper noun in a confidence swindle, a confederate who identifies and lures the victim into the swindle. Originally used in the context of gambling houses, and then in confidence swindles US, 1840 rophie noun Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug' US, 1993 ropy; ropey adjective bad; rough; unattractive; unsatisfactory; unwell. Originally Royal Air Force use UK, 1942 ro-ro noun 1 in prison, a type of educational course that makes it possible for short-term prisoners to complete individual modules. A figurative application of RO-RO (roll on, roll off) UK, 1996. 2 a Rolls Royce car UK, 1984 ro-ro adjective roll on, roll off. Said of a containerisation system used to ship military cargo during the Vietnam war US, 1990 rort noun 1 a confidence trick; an illicit scheme or dodge; a swindle. Also used of legitimate practices imputing that they are unfair or a rip-off AUSTRALIA, 1926. 2 a wild party; an unrestrained good time; a drunken orgy AUSTRALIA, 1950. 3 in horse or greyhound racing, a large and unexpected bet AUSTRALIA, 1989

rort verb 1 to fraudulently manipulate an organisation, system or the like; to rip someone off; to rig an election AUSTRALIA, 1919. 2 to party boisterously AUSTRALIA, 1960. 3 to engage in petty crime AUSTRALIA, 1919 roorter noun a swindler; a cheat AUSTRALIA, 1926

rorty adjective wild, boisterous AUSTRALIA, 1929

Rory O'More; rory noun 1 a floor. Rhyming slang, on the name of a legendary Irish rebel. The earliest of three uses for the rhyme; however, the second sense, 'a whore' is obsolete UK, 1857. 2 a door. Rhyming slang, on the name of a legendary Irish rebel. This is the only sense of the word also recorded in the US, where it is sometimes misspelt Rory O'More UK, 1892 rosa noun an amphetamine tablet US, 1994

Rosa Maria; rosa maria noun marijuana US, 1938

roscoe noun a handgun US, 1914 roscoe verb to point a handgun at someone and order them not to move US, 1974 rose noun a tablet of Benzedrine™ (amphetamine sulphate), a central nervous system stimulant US, 1967

Roseanne Barr noun a bra. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the US actress, comedienne and producer (b.1952) UK, 1998 rosebud noun 1 the anus US, 1965. 2 a textbook example of a primary lesion US, 1981. 3 following a colostomy, the pink tissue that marks the opening of the intestine on the abdomen US, 1980. 4 a potato. Rhyming slang for SPUD. Sometimes shortened to 'rose' UK, 1943 rosebud verb (of the anus) to become puffy and pronounced UK, 1996 rose garden noun 1 in prison, a solitary confinement cell UK, 1978. 2 a group of neurologically depressed hospital patients US, 1978

Rose Marie noun marijuana. An anglicisation of ROSA MARIA UK, 2003

rose tree trimmer noun a person hired to clean latrines BARBADOS, 1965

rosewood noun a police nightstick US, 1970 rosie lee; rosie lee; rosie noun tea. Rhyming slang; originally military, probably from the 1914–18 war UK, 1925

rosie noun a rubbish bin UK, 2002

Rosie O'Grady's noun a ladies' toilet. Rhyming slang, originally 'Rosie O'Grady' (a lady) but now used only of a public convenience, formed from the film musical Sweet Rosie O'Grady, 1943 UK, 1998

Rosie Palm and her five sisters; Rosie Palm; Rosie noun the male hand as the instrument of masturbation US, 1977 rosiner; roziner; rozener noun a large serving of an alcoholic drink AUSTRALIA, 1933

rosser noun a police officer AUSTRALIA, 1944

Rossy Docks noun socks. Glasgow rhyming slang, based on local pronunciation of Rothesay UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 rot noun 1 nonsense, rubbish. In Eats, Shoots & Leaves, 2003, Lynne Truss records the following marginal note, made by a long-ago reader, in the 1st edition of Partridge's You Have a Point There: 'Rot! You lazy swine Partridge' UK, 1848. 2 an unidentified disease or malady US, 1947

rot verb to be terrible US, 1997 rotary adjective in circus and carnival usage, emotionally unbalanced US, 1981 rot corps noun the ROTC, or Reserve Officer Training Corps, found at many colleges US, 1972

rote; rout noun in Nova Scotia, the sound of the surf on the shore, a fisherman's locating device. This word, not long in print, descended orally from an Old Norse word rauta meaning 'roar'. The different sounds of the surf tell fishermen whose GPS has broken down whether they are near sand, cliff, shingle or gravel beach, and their knowledge of the coastline does the rest CANADA, 1975

ROTF used in computer message shorthand to mean 'rolling on the floor (laughing)' US, 1991

rotgut noun any unwholesome alcohol UK, 1633

rothe noun two hundred pounds. Ticket-touting slang, recorded August 2002; possibly an ironic abbreviation of Rothschild (a rich man) UK, 2002 rotheo noun twenty pounds. Ticket-touting slang, recorded August 2002. From ROTHE UK, 2002

Rothman's-sign noun nicotine-stained fingers as a diagnostic indicator. An informal medical term, formed on the name of a cigarette manufacturer UK, 2002

roti and rum; rum and roti noun a tactic in a political campaign in which voters are given food and drink to encourage their vote. 'Roti' is an Indian bread TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1960 rotorhead noun a helicopter pilot or crew member US, 1991 roto-rooter noun a person who kisses with an active and probing tongue US, 1963 rotted adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1993 rotten adjective 1 unpleasant UK, 1964. 2 ill; depressed; worthless UK, 1881. 3 drunk AUSTRALIA, 1864. 4 used to intensify a negative quality UK, 1964 rotten row noun a blow. Rhyming slang, from the name given to the ride in London's Hyde Park UK, 1992 rotten squash noun brain damage US, 1985

rotter noun a despised person UK, 1894

rottie noun 1 a Rottweiler dog US, 1987. 2 a foul mood NEW ZEALAND, 1998

rouf noun four; in betting, odds of 4–1. Back slang; pronounced as 'loaf' UK, 1851 rouf and a half noun in betting, odds of 9–2. In bookmaker slang 'rouf' is 4–1; here the addition of 'a half' increases the odds to 4½ – 1 or 9–2 UK, 1991 rough noun turbulent seas following a storm CANADA, 1979 rough verb 1 to rob someone with force or threat of force US, 1973. 2 to jostle or shove a member of a rival gang US, 1955. ► rough it to have sex al fresco. To voluntarily go without such creature comforts as a bed UK, 2001. ► rough it up in poker, to bet heavily US, 1979. ► rough up the suspect (of a male) to masturbate US, 2001 rough adjective 1 unwell. Dialect US, 1883. 2 good. On the BAD (good) model UK, 2003. 3 excellent; fashionable, trendy US, 1963. 4 in lowball poker, unfavourable US, 1967 rough as a badger's arse adjective ugly; unsophisticated; unwell, especially as a result of too much drinking UK, 1998 rough as bags adjective extremely rough; unrefined, uncouth; also, of shabby appearance AUSTRALIA, 1927 rough as diamonds adjective unsophisticated; unpolished. A play on ROUGH DIAMOND AUSTRALIA, 1971

rough as guts adjective extremely rough; unrefined; uncouth AUSTRALIA, 1970 rough diamond noun a genuinely good person who is nevertheless unrefined in manners AUSTRALIA, 1907 rough end of the pineapple noun the raw end of the deal AUSTRALIA, 1978

rough-house verb to brawl in a playful if rowdy and boisterous manner US, 1900 rough hustle noun an amateurish, unpolished swindle. The term does not connote any physical roughness, simply a lack of polish US, 1977

roughie noun 1 an unrefined person or thing. Arthur Chipper notes, in The Aussie Swearer's Guide, 1972, that the term is 'Perhaps most commonly assigned to young ladies who aren't good-looking or too well-mannered' AUSTRALIA, 1907. 2 a racehorse or greyhound not expected to win; an outsider AUSTRALIA, 1922. 3 a sheep with two seasons of wool growth FALKLAND ISLANDS (MALVINAS), 1993

roughneck noun 1 a thug, a lout, a rowdy person US, 1836. 2 in oil drilling, a skilled oil field worker US, 1954. 3 on the railways, a brakeman on a goods train US, 1946 rough off verb to steal something using brute force US, 1985 rough rider noun 1 a condom of any style or brand thought to bring extra satisfaction to the female partner. West Indian and UK black usage JAMAICA, 2002. 2 an armed guard on a vehicle US, 1991 rough riding noun sexual intercourse without the protection of a condom UK, 1961 rough stuff noun 1 violent or sadistic sexual behaviour US, 1925. 2 marijuana that contains unusable detritus US, 1972 rough trade noun a tough, often sadistic male homosexual, especially as a casual sex-partner US, 1927 rough trip noun an unpleasant experience with LSD or another hallucinogen UK, 1983 rough trot noun a difficult period AUSTRALIA, 1944 rough up verb to beat or intimidate someone; to facilitate a street robbery with violence US, 1996

roughy noun a manual labourer in a carnival US, 1966 round noun an ejaculation TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

round verb to make the rounds US, 1961 roundabout; rounder noun a conditional bet on three selections UK, 2001 round-brown noun the anus US, 1972 rounder noun 1 a migratory, transient worker, especially one living on the edges of legality. Originally applied to railway workers US, 1908. 2 a street criminal CANADA, 1987. 3 a prisoner associated with traditional Italian-American organised crime US, 1992. 4 a highly skilled professional poker player who travels and plays less skilled players US, 1979 rounders noun confusing talk TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1977 ► see: ROUND THE HOUSES round eye noun 1 the anus; by extension, a male homosexual who plays the passive role in anal sex US, 1950. 2 an American or European. From the Southeast Asian perspective, adopted by US soldiers in Vietnam to describe themselves US, 1960 round-eyed adjective American or European, Caucasian US, 1966 round file noun a wastebasket US, 1975 roundhead noun the circumcised penis. A visual joke, probably of Royal Navy origin, then polari, or juvenile UK, 2002 roundheel noun a woman who is easily talked into sexual relations. Boxing slang from the 1920s for a poor fighter – a ‘push-over’ – applied later to women of easy virtue US, 1943 round-heeled adjective easily seduced US, 1957 round heels noun a promiscuous or sexually compliant woman. Derogatory, from the anatomical notion that a woman with round heels is more easily put on her back US, 1926 roundhouse noun a punch that swings round to hit your opponent side-on US, 1920 roundie; roundy noun a factory-made cigarette. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1948 round of drinks noun a small bet relative to the bettor's wealth AUSTRALIA, 1989

round robin noun 1 a story begun by one writer and completed by another or multiple writers US, 1982. 2 a wager of ten conditional bets on three selections UK, 2001 round robin shift noun a work schedule in which the worker rotates between several different shifts US, 1984 rounds noun an ejaculation BAHAMAS, 1982

round sound noun a fashionable, current song. ‘Round’ means nothing, but contrasts with SQUARE US, 1955 roundtable noun in organised crime, a meeting of leaders convened to discuss and decide with finality pressing business issues US, 1975 round the bend; around the bend adjective mad, crazy; eccentric. Probably a naval coinage, widespread by the mid-C20 UK, 1929 round-the-clock noun an elaborate conditional wager on a minimum of three selections UK, 2001 round the houses; round me's; rounds; rounders noun trousers. Rhyming slang on the Cockney pronunciation of ‘trousers’. The abbreviation ‘round me’s’ suggests a variation as ‘round me houses’ – this is not so. In the US the abbreviation ‘rounds’ was not recorded until 1944 UK, 1857 round the twist adjective crazy. A variation of ROUND THE BEND UK, 1960 round-up noun in college, a notification of academic deficiency US, 1968 roundy-round adjective used of a motor race track or course oval US, 1993 rouse verb ► rouse on to castigate someone verbally AUSTRALIA, 1896

rouseabout verb a general assistant on a rural property. Hence, also, any general assistant AUSTRALIA, 1881 roust verb 1 to harass someone, especially when done deliberately by the police or other authorities UK, 1995. 2 to upbraid someone AUSTRALIA, 1916 roustabout noun 1 in oil drilling, an unskilled oil field worker US, 1948. 2 a general assistant on a rural property. Variant of ROUSEABOUT AUSTRALIA, 1940 rouster noun a rough and ready western Canadian man. This expression is likely derived from ROUSTABOUT (an oil field worker), but adapted to describe any rough-hewn male CANADA, 1987

rousting noun 1 a vigorous act of sexual intercourse UK, 1999. 2 an act of deliberate (police) harassment UK, 1980

rout noun a wild, rowdy party US, 1968 ► see: ROTE router noun in horse racing, a horse that performs well in longer races US, 1965 rover noun in a casino, a gambler who moves from game to game, never staying at any one game very long US, 1987

row noun ► go for a row to get into trouble AUSTRALIA, 1965

row verb to fight; to battle. An exaggeration of the sense as ‘to argue’ UK, 1999. ► row down the red river to experience the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 2001 rowbottom noun a student disturbance, started in fun but not always ending as such. Specific to the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, claimed to have been named for J.T. Rowbottom, a rowdy member of Penn's Class of 1913 US, 1940 row dog noun in prison, another prisoner whose cell is on the same tier US, 1995 rowdy noun a person who inhales glue for the psychoactive effect US, 1971 rowdy dowdy noun in pickpocketing, the seemingly accidental jostling of victims or potential victims by members of the gang US, 1962 rowed out adjective excluded UK, 2000 rower noun an argument UK, 1996

rowers' revenge noun the ritual of throwing the coxswain into the water after a rowing team wins an event US, 2001 row in verb to implicate someone in a crime UK, 1970 row out verb 1 to contrive the innocence of someone in relation to a particular crime UK, 1970. 2 to distance yourself from something or someone UK, 1974

rox noun crack cocaine. A phonetic play on ROCK(S) US, 1994

Roxanne noun cocaine; crack cocaine. A ROCK personification US, 1994

Roy noun a refined and cultured Australian male. Counterpart to the ALF AUSTRALIA, 1960

royal adjective effeminately homosexual. ‘Queenly’ UK, 2002 royal blue noun a blue tablet variety of LSD US, 1971

royal crown noun a British Leyland ‘Princess’ car UK, 1981

Royal Docks noun syphilis; hence any sexually transmitted infection; hence an irritated condition. Rhyming slang for POX UK, 1992 royally adverb greatly, extremely US, 2002 royal mail; royal noun bail. Rhyming slang UK, 1961

Royal Navy noun gravy. Rhyming slang. Presumably served in a ‘Royal Navy boat’ UK, 1992

Royal Navy situation noun a need for money. A pun on SUB (a loan) UK, 1994

royal shaft noun monumental mistreatment US, 1983

royal temple ball noun hashish and LSD formed into a ball US, 1978 royal wedding noun in hold ‘em poker, a king and queen, especially of diamonds US, 1996

Roy Castle noun the anus. Rhyming slang for ARSEHOLE, used here in its anatomical, non-figurative sense; formed from the name of the multi-talented entertainer, 1932–94 UK, 1998

Roy Rogers noun building tradesmen who are not as skilled as may reasonably be expected. Rhyming slang on the plural form of BODGER. Formed on the name of a famous film cowboy, 1911–98, and thus a play on COWBOY (any tradesman who is unreliable, irresponsible and, perhaps, unqualified) UK, 1992

roz noun crack cocaine. Possibly a misspelling of ROX UK, 1998

rozzier; roz noun a police officer. Possibly from Yiddish khaser (a pig). ‘Roz’ is first recorded in 1971 UK, 1893

RPG noun a role-playing game US, 1986

RSN used as Internet shorthand to mean ‘real soon now’ US, 1995

RTA verb to return to Australia; to be returned to Australia AUSTRALIA, 1963

RTAer noun a person returning to Australia after expeditioning in Antarctica. From RTA AUSTRALIA, 1996

RTFM read the fucking manual US, 1997

ru noun a member of the Piru youth gang US, 1994

rub verb ► rub in; rub it in to emphasise something annoyingly, to continue to insist, especially in an unkindly or vexing manner

UK, 1870. ► rub off on someone (of abstract qualities, such as luck or enthusiasm) to transfer from one person to another US, 1959. ► rub someone up the wrong way to annoy someone UK, 1862. ► rub someone's nose in it to humiliate someone by reminding them of a mistake UK, 1963. ► rub the magic lamp (of a male) to masturbate US, 2007 rub-a-dub; rub-a-dub-dub; rubberdy; rubberdy; rubba noun a public house. Rhyming slang for PUB; from the nursery rhyme 'Rub-a-dub-dub, / Three men in a tub' UK, 1932 rub-a-dub-dubs nickname HMP Wormwood Scrubs (a prison in north London). Rhyming slang, in current prison use February 2002 UK, 2002 rubber noun 1 a condom. The most common, and almost only, slang term for a condom in the US US, 1947. 2 balloons US, 1966. 3 collectively, a car's tyres. A car might be said to have 'good rubber' US, 1882. 4 a car US, 1964. 5 a rubber bullet US, 1982. ► burn rubber to spin a car's wheels in a fast start, leaving rubber tracks on the road US, 1957. ► chirp rubber to shift gears in a car in a manner that produces a chirping sound of tyre meeting road US, 1965. ► on rubber driving a car US, 1945. ► peel rubber to spin a car's wheels in a fast start, leaving rubber tracks on the road US, 1971 rubber adjective used of a cheque, unfunded. A back-formation from the metaphor of an unfunded cheque bouncing US, 1991 rubber and rocks noun bacon and eggs. Collected during an extensive survey of New Zealand prison slang, 1996–2000 NEW ZEALAND, 2000

rubber arms noun the sensation experienced by a surfer paddling into a large wave that might be a little larger than the surfer cares to tackle US, 1964 rubberband noun a vehicle manufactured by DAF. Citizens' band radio slang; a slur on DAF technology UK, 1987 rubber bitch noun the inflatable rubber air mattress given to US troops in the field in Vietnam US, 1991 rubber bum noun a derelict hitchhiker CANADA, 1967 rubber cheque; rubber kite noun a worthless cheque. An unfunded cheque bounces back from the bank US, 1931 rubber chicken circuit noun the tour made by an after-dinner speaker, with reference to tough chicken as the usual main course CANADA, 1959 rubber cow noun in circus usage, an elephant, male or female US, 1981 rubber duck noun 1 a trifle; something of no value. Rhyming slang for FUCK UK, 1992. 2 an inflatable rubber dinghy SOUTH AFRICA, 1986

rubber ducker noun a rubber duck (an inflatable rubber dinghy) enthusiast SOUTH AFRICA, 1994 rubber duckie noun a short, flexible, rubber-coated vehicle-mounted radio aerial. A jokey reference to 'Rubber Duck' as referring to the HANDLE (a citizens' band radio identity) of the hero of the film Convoy, 1975 UK, 1981

rubbered adjective drunk UK, 2002 rubber heels; rubber heelers noun the Metropolitan Police internal affairs division at New Scotland Yard. From the silence and secrecy of its methods UK, 1964 rubber johnny; rubber johnnie; rubber johnney noun a condom. An elaboration of JOHNNY UK, 1980 rubber lip noun a citizens' band radio user who monopolises conversation US, 1976 rubber man noun in circus and carnival usage, a balloon seller US, 1981 rubberneck verb to stare with undue interest US, 1896 rubberneck bus noun a tour bus US, 1958 rubberneck car noun on the railways, an observation carriage US, 1946 rubbernecker; rubberneck noun a person who stares with curiosity, especially a motorist who slows to view an accident US, 1934 rubber numbers noun very approximate statistics US, 2003 rubbers noun 1 a wet suit, a garment made of rubber or synthetic neoprene worn next to the skin while in cold water CANADA, 1977. 2 sneakers, trainers VIRGIN ISLANDS, BRITISH, 1996

rubber vag noun in circus and carnival usage, someone who lives in a mobile trailer US, 1981 rubber walls adjective crazy. In gay use, especially in the phrase 'I'll go rubber walls' US, 1972 rubbins; rubbings noun rubbing alcohol. A drink of desperation US, 1980 rubbish noun 1 anything of poor quality or little or no worth; nonsense. From the sense as 'refuse' UK, 1601. 2 a contemptible person or persons SOUTH AFRICA, 1941 rubbish verb to criticise someone or something unfavourably; to disparage someone or something; to discard someone or something AUSTRALIA, 1953 rubbish adjective bad; inferior UK, 2001 rubbisher noun a person given to detraction AUSTRALIA, 1972

rubbishing noun an act of denigration. From RUBBISH (little or no worth) AUSTRALIA, 1971

rubbishy adjective of inferior quality UK, 1824 rubbity-dub; rubberity; rubberitty; rubberdy noun a public hotel. Rhyming slang for PUB AUSTRALIA, 1898

rubby noun a derelict who drinks rubbing alcohol. The word is not to be confused with 'rummy' US, 1962 rubby-dub noun an ignorant soldier from a rural mountain area, a poor candidate to be a good soldier US, 1946 rub down noun a cursory search of a prisoner by running hands over clothes and body UK, 1887 rub down verb to search a prisoner UK, 1887 rub; reub noun an unsophisticated, naive, inexperienced person. From the older, UK 'reuben' (a country bumpkin) US, 1896 rubia de la costa; rubia noun a light-coloured marijuana originating in Columbia. Directly from Spanish, rubia (fair-haired) is used by the Spanish to describe Virginian tobacco, plus de la costa (of the coast) US, 1976 rubies noun the lips US, 1947

Rubik's cubes; rubik's noun pubic hair. Rhyming slang for PUBES, formed from a puzzling toy UK, 2003 rub joint noun a dance hall where men can, for a small price, dance intimately with women US, 1981 rub 'n' tug noun a massage that includes masturbation US, 2000 rub of the brush noun a beverage made from the remnants of drinks in a bar US, 1950 rub-out noun a killing US, 1927 rub out verb 1 to kill someone US, 1848. 2 to disqualify a competitor AUSTRALIA, 1902

rub up verb to assault someone US, 1952 rubyfruit noun the vagina US, 1982

Ruby Murray; ruby noun a curry. Rhyming slang, based on popular singer Ruby Murray, 1935–96. In Cardiff, a local variant is Don Murray, named after the Cardiff City footballer UK, 1992 ruby rose; ruby noun the nose. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 ruck noun 1 a heated argument; a fight. Possibly derives from obsolete 'rux' (bad temper, anger, passion, noise) or conventional 'ruckus' UK, 1958. 2 a rucksack or backpack US, 1982 ruck verb 1 to fight, especially as part of a gang UK, 1999. 2 to masturbate. Prison slang UK, 1974

ruck and row; ruck noun a cow, especially in the sense a contemptible woman. Rhyming slang, formed from a combination of RUCK (a fight) and 'row' (a disturbance, a violent quarrel) UK, 1992

rucker noun 1 a fighter UK, 1968. 2 a customer given to complaining and making a fuss. A barely euphemistic variation of FUCKER, possibly influenced by 'ruckus'. Used by second-hand car dealers UK, 1968 rucking noun a severe reprimand. Mostly in prison use UK, 1958 ruck up verb to pick up your rucksack and other combat gear and proceed with a march. Used as a modernised SADDLE UP, which has definite overtones of cavalry days US, 1990

ruckus juice noun strong, homemade whisky US, 1999 ruco noun a boyfriend or husband. Border Spanish used in English conversation by Mexican-Americans; also used in the feminine 'ruca' (a girlfriend or wife) US, 1950 ruction noun a disturbance; agitation; disorderly behaviour UK, 1890 ruddy adjective used as an intensifier. A rhyming euphemism for BLOODY that also puns on the colour red UK, 1914 ruddy well adverb certainly, definitely UK, 1933 rude noun a youth who steals by mugging. Adapted from RUDE BOY (a Jamaican youth/gangster) UK, 2002. ► in the rude naked. Light-hearted rhyming euphemism for 'in the nude' UK, 1974 rude adjective 1 sexual; sexy. Upper-class society use. Not to be confused with IN THE RUDE (naked); one condition does not necessarily lead to the next UK, 1982. 2 attractive UK, 2003. 3 intense; superior. Collected from fans of heavy metal music US, 1995. 4 used of a computer program, poorly designed US, 1983

rudel! rudeness!; how rude!; how rudeness! used for suggesting that the speaker has crossed an etiquette line that is better not breached US, 1989

rude bits noun genitals AUSTRALIA, 1994 rude boy; rude bwoy; rudebwai; rudie noun a Jamaican youth associated with gang activities. West Indian and UK black patois JAMAICA, 1967

rudeness noun SEX TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973

rude parts noun the most obvious erogenous zones: male and female genitals and posteriors, and female breasts. Upper-class society use; combines RUDE (sexual) with 'private parts' UK, 1982 ruderalis skunk noun an extremely potent hydroponic marijuana which is a hybrid of ruderalis (a variety of marijuana from Russia) and skunk UK, 1999

rudery noun rudeness, impolite or risqué speech or conversation; sexually implicit or explicit gestures or behaviour UK, 1932

Rudolph Hess; rudolph noun a mess (a failure). Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the high-ranking Nazi officer, 1894–1987 UK, 1998 ruff noun a twenty-five cent piece US, 1945 ruff adjective acceptable, good, cool US, 1985

ruffie noun Rohypnol™ (flunitrazepam), popularly known as the 'date-rape drug' US, 1995

ruffle noun the passive participant in lesbian sex or a lesbian relationship US, 1970 ruffneck noun a male or female gangster; a non-conformist or rebellious youth; A misspelling of 'roughneck' (a thug). West Indian and UK black use into the US via hip-hop culture UK, 1994 ruff-puff noun a South Vietnamese local defence force. RFs were regional forces, PFs were platoon-size village forces. Quick American minds took RF with PF to form 'ruff-puff' US, 1977 rug noun 1 a hairpiece, especially a poorly executed one US, 1940. 2 pubic hair, especially on a female US, 1964. 3 in horse racing, a heavy horse blanket US, 1976 rugby ball noun a capsule of Temazepam™, a branded tranquillizer. From the shape UK, 1990s rug-cutter noun a great time US, 1951

rug-eater noun a lesbian US, 1997 rugger bugger noun an enthusiastic sportsman whose character is formed by the aggressive pursuit of masculinity and frequently demonstrated by his boorish behaviour and drunken socialising. From 'rugger' (rugby football) but encompassing a wider field of endeavours SOUTH AFRICA, 1970 rug joint noun a well-appointed, even luxurious gambling operation US, 1964 rug munch noun an instance of oral sex on a woman US, 1995 rug-muncher noun a lesbian. From the image of oral sex as 'munching a hairpiece' US, 1997 rug out verb to endure a difficult situation. An awkward attempt to render 'rugged' as a verb US, 2002 rug rat noun a young child. A bit derivative US, 1970 rug up verb in horse racing, to cover the horse with a blanket after a workout or race UK, 1948 ruined adjective drunk UK, 2002 rule noun ► on the rule of a prisoner, segregated from the general prison population for that prisoner's protection. A reference to rule 43 which is, according to HM Prison Service in 2003: 'A now defunct rule that allowed the segregation of prisoners' UK, 2000 rule verb used as an expression of supremacy for the preceding collective or plural noun(s) US, 1968 rule forty-three; rule 43; the rule noun in prison, a sex offender, or other prisoner, kept apart from the main prison community for 'safety of self or others' UK, 1996 rule of five noun a piece of (unofficial) medical lore: if more than five orifices are obscured by plastic tubing then a patient's condition is critical UK, 2002

rum noun 1 an unsophisticated, unaware person US, 1972. 2 a prisoner deemed inferior or too odd by other prisoners US, 1972. 3 a drunkard US, 1960

rum adjective strange; eccentric; disreputable; questionable UK, 1774 rumble noun 1 a fight, especially between teenage gangs US, 1948. 2 a wild party US, 1968. 3 a difficult encounter with law enforcement US, 1972. 4 a concerted police search for narcotics US, 1958 rumble verb 1 to fight US, 1946. 2 in circus and carnival usage, to spoil something US, 1981. 3 to come to an understanding or realisation of something that has been concealed UK, 1886

Rumble in the Jungle nickname the October 1974 heavyweight championship fight between Muhammed Ali and George Foreman in Kinshasa, Zaire, in which Ali knocked Foreman out in the 8th round US, 1974

rumbleseat noun a truck that is not equipped with a citizens' band radio following a truck that is US, 1976 rumble-tumble noun scrambled eggs. Originally military UK, 2003 rum blossom noun a red welt produced from excessive consumption of alcohol US, 1976

rum boy noun a drunk BAHAMAS, 1982

rum, bum and bacca; rum, bum and baccy noun the mythic three graces of a sailor's life. A (presumed) later variation of 'beer, bum and bacca'. Rum, Bum and Concertina, a pun on 'wine, women and song', is the title of the second part of George Melly's autobiography published in 1977. In 1992, the Pogues, reflecting an earlier view of naval life, released an album entitled Rum, Sodomy and the Lash UK, 1973 rumdum; rum-dumb noun a drunk US, 1891 rumdummed adjective extremely drunk US, 1891

rum goblet; rum goggles noun a large Adam's apple TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

rummy noun an alcoholic US, 1851

rummy adjective 1 prone to drink too much, if not alcoholic US, 1834. 2 poor; inferior; bad US, 1947 rumoured adjective married. English gypsy use, from Romany romer (to marry) UK, 2000 rump verb to cheat someone UK, 1998 rump bump noun in a sexual dance, a pelvic thrust that emphasises the buttocks moving backwards US, 1956

rumper noun in hot rodding, a powerful engine US, 1965 rumpo noun sexual intercourse. Possibly influenced by (or vice versa) Rambling Syd Rumpo, an innuendo-laden character played by Kenneth Williams in Round the Horne, BBC radio, 1965–69 UK, 1986 rump-ordained adjective used for describing a preacher who has no formal theological training or denominational affiliation US, 1974 rumpty adjective in poor repair; below standard NEW ZEALAND, 1995

rumpty pumpty; rumpty noun intimate sexual activity. A variation of RUMPY-PUMPY with a nursery rhyme feel thanks to Humpty Dumpty UK, 1998

rumpus noun a brawl; a riot UK, 1764 rumpy-pumpy noun sexual intercourse UK, 1983 rum-runner noun an importer, transporter and/or purveyor of illegal alcohol, especially rum US, 1920

rum-sucker noun a heavy drinker TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1845

rumty noun an admirable or excellent person or thing NEW ZEALAND, 1998

rum'un; rumun; rumin noun especially in Tasmania, an eccentric person; a character; a scallywag AUSTRALIA, 1967 run noun 1 a group motorcycle excursion US, 1966. 2 a period of extended amphetamine use US, 1967. ► on the run escaping from justice; being a fugitive UK, 1887 run verb 1 to associate; to socialise US, 1946. 2 to smuggle something UK, 1706. ► run a pot in poker, to make a sustained, pre-planned bluff on a hand US, 1967. ► run blues to use blue lights in a car's tail lights US, 1985. ► run hot to drive with sirens and flashing lights activated US, 2002. ► run like a hairy goat (of a racehorse) to run poorly in a race AUSTRALIA, 1941. ► run rings round someone to defeat someone with absolute ease UK, 1891. ► run speed limit to do something with great speed. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. ► run to seed with age or lack of care, to become ill-kempt, shabby or undesirable. The imagery of the garden UK, 1837. ► run your mouth to talk too much US, 1977. ► run your neck to make threats or boasts which you are not prepared to back up with actions US, 2001

runabout noun a small car UK, 1900

run along verb to depart; often used as a gentle imperative UK, 1902 run-around noun ► give someone the run-around; get the run-around to treat someone, or be treated, with contempt, or so as to serve a mere whim; to cause someone trouble, or be caused trouble US, 1924 run, chicken, run noun the Royal Canadian Regiment. Formed from the initials RCR. Note that 'chicken' does not insinuate cowardice. Rather this insult alludes to a story which alleges that a member of the regiment was found, in flagrante delicto, with a chicken. Members of the RCR counter that he was a cook CANADA, 1995 rundown noun a complete explanation US, 1969 runes noun in computing, any esoteric display character or computer language US, 1991 run-fast noun on the railways, oil US, 1946 run-in adjective substituted; phoney AUSTRALIA, 1969 run-in noun 1 an argumentative or violent encounter UK, 1999. 2 a concealed location used by criminals for the division or transfer of recently stolen goods UK, 1959 run in verb to arrest someone US, 1973 run, Johnny, run noun inexpensive loose cigarette tobacco. Formed from the initials of the R.J. Reynolds tobacco company US, 1962 run letter noun a final deportation letter from the US Immigration and Naturalisation Service US, 2002 runner noun 1 in an illegal betting operation, a person who physically collects and pays off bets placed with sheet writers US, 1947. 2 a prison inmate who collects dues for a baron (a powerful criminal whose influence is built on illegal trading) UK, 1978. 3 someone who carries illegal drugs between dealer and purchaser US, 1972. 4 a clerk or collector for a street bookmaker UK, 1934. 5 somebody sent to buy alcohol for others US, 1963. 6 in the television and film industries, an errand-running production assistant US, 1990. 7 a deserter from the armed services; an escapee from prison or borstal UK, 1959. 8 in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a fan who queues before a show and then quickly claims space for friends who will follow US, 1994. ► do a runner to escape by running away, to abscond; to leave hastily UK, 1981 runner and rider noun cider. Rhyming slang, from the vocabulary of horse racing UK, 1992 runners noun 1 sneakers, trainers AUSTRALIA, 1988. 2 any shoes US, 1995. ► the runners diarrhoea US, 1948

running noun 1 diarrhoea BAHAMAS, 1982. 2 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1998

running buddy noun a close friend and confederate in crime US, 1970 running dog noun a servant of the ruling class, subservient to counter-revolutionary powers. From Chinese communist terminology originally applied to the Kuomintang US, 1937 running partner noun a close friend joined for criminal and social activities US, 1965 runnings noun 1 diarrhoea ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA, 1996. 2 a sexually transmitted infection with discharge TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. 3 whatever is happening or is planned to happen UK, 1994 run-off noun a prostitute who has attempted to break off from her pimp US, 1993 run of outs noun a succession of losses or failures AUSTRALIA, 1953 run-out noun a well-worn tyre US, 1961 run out verb ► run out of road to fail to keep control of a motor vehicle, especially on a bend, and consequently be involved in an accident UK, 1981. ► run out of steam to lose vigour UK, 1961 run-out powder noun the departure of a gambler who has not paid off his gambling debts US, 1979 run-over days noun the first three days of the bleed period of the menstrual cycle BAHAMAS, 1982 runs noun a sexually transmitted infection with discharge TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1951. ► the runs a case of diarrhoea US, 1962

Runs Empty Only noun a truck manufactured by REO. A back-formation US, 1971

run noun 1 in circus and carnival usage, a dwarf or midget US, 1980. 2 in poker, a pairless hand US, 1963 runts and cunts noun used for expressing disapproval of the composition of the US armed forces in the decades after Vietnam US, 1993

runty adjective delicate; sickly IRELAND, 1989 runway noun a generous dose of powdered cocaine arranged in a line for snorting. A clever play on a conventional 'runway', (a long straight path used to achieve lift-off) UK, 1999 run-what-you-brung noun a drag race between amateur drivers driving their own cars US, 1970 ruof; rofe; roaf; rouf noun four. Back slang UK, 1863 rupert noun 1 an army officer; any young upper-class type. A generic based on the perception that Rupert is a popular name in 'quality' families, but note another military use of 'rupert' as 'the penis'. Current usage seems to date from the 1970s UK, 1996. 2 the penis. Military; possibly related to the sense as officer UK, 1961 ruptured duck noun the US armed forces insignia designating honourable discharge US, 1946 rush noun 1 a sudden and powerful sense of euphoria or energy. Figurative use of the drug term US, 1971. 2 the sudden onset of drug intoxication US, 1966. 3 amyl, butyl or isobutyl nitrite. From the sudden effects of the drug UK, 1996. 4 cocaine UK, 2003. 5 in poker, an unusual streak of good cards US, 1982

rush verb 1 to charge an amount of money UK, 1887. 2 to charge for goods or services, especially to overcharge or cheat UK, 1887. 3 to be infatuated with someone BARBADOS, 1965. 4 to make sexual advances TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1934. ► rush the knocks in drug sales, to ignore the order of customers and make a sale US, 2002

rush-and-snatch job noun a search and rescue mission without the complications of enemy fire US, 1991

Rushina noun in homosexual usage, a personification of amyl nitrite or butyl nitrite. From RUSH, a popular name for amyl nitrite US, 1980 rushy adjective descriptive of an energetic and euphoric reaction to MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1997

Russell Crowe noun an attack. Rhyming slang for GO, formed from the name of the notoriously pugnacious New Zealand-born film actor (b.1964) UK, 2003

Russell Harty noun a party. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the television presenter (1934–88) UK, 1992

Russian boots noun leg irons US, 1949

Russian duck noun an act of sexual intercourse. Rhyming slang for FUCK UK, 1992

Russian jack noun a homemade alcoholic beverage made from sugar, yeast, water and flavouring Fiji, 1984

Russian roast noun a sexual act in which a woman performs oral sex on a man who is, at the same time, being sodomised by another man UK, 2004

Russian roulette noun LSD UK, 1996

Russki adjective Russian UK, 1859

Russki; Russky; Rusky noun a Russian UK, 1858

rust noun faecal stains in the underwear or on a toilet bowl CANADA, 2002 rust belt noun the northern central US, highly industrialised prior to the economic decline in the US in the 1980s US, 1987 rust bucket noun an old, dilapidated vehicle AUSTRALIA, 1965

rustle up verb to obtain something; to organise the supply of something US, 1891 rusty adjective of a skill, having deteriorated as a result of lack of practice UK, 1796 rusty bullet wound; rusty bullet hole; rusty sheriff's badge; rusty washer noun the anus. 'Rusty' (brown, the colour associated with the anus) plus a visual metaphor UK, 1997

rusty dusty noun the buttocks US, 1942 rusty fuck noun a notional object of no value whatsoever US, 1969

rusty trombone noun a sexual technique in which a man receives oral stimulation of his anus and manual stimulation of his penis at the same time and from the same person. Imagery which becomes apparent if you picture the penis as a trombone's slide and the anus as its mouthpiece US, 2002

Ruud Gullit noun dismissal from employment. Rhyming slang for BULLET, formed from the name of the Dutch footballer (b.1962) when he was given 'the bullet' as player-manager of Chelsea football club in 1998 UK, 1998

RV; r.v. noun a recreational vehicle or large motor home US, 1967

Ryan Giggs noun lodgings. Rhyming slang for DIGS, formed from the name of the Welsh footballer (b.1973) UK, 1998

Ss

s- prefix it's, especially preceding a word spelt with an 'n', such as not snot and nice snice. A slovening that allows the childish to say SNOT UK, 1917

Sa noun a Samoan NEW ZEALAND, 1992

sab verb to act as a hunt saboteur UK, 1996 saccharine lips noun a glib talker. Not quite as glib as 'sugar' AUSTRALIA, 1989

sachie noun Versace™ clothing US, 1998 sack noun 1 a bed. Probably related to the C19 sailor's use of 'sack' as a 'hammock' US, 1942. 2 a bag of heroin; hence, heroin UK, 1998. 3 the scrotum. Originally dialect UK, 1928. 4 courage. A testicular reference US, 1984. 5 a coat or jacket US, 1972. ► in the sack used for suggesting sexual activity. Literally 'in bed' US, 1995. ► the sack dismissal from employment UK, 1841 sack verb 1 to dismiss someone from employment; to jilt someone UK, 1841. 2 to abruptly stop any activity UK, 2001. 3 to dispose of something UK, 2001. 4 to sleep; to spend the night US, 1966. ► sack it to receive an accidental blow to the scrotum UK, 2000 sack, back and crack noun a treatment for removing a man's body hair by waxing it and stripping it off UK, 2003

sack drill noun sleep US, 1963 sack duty noun sleep US, 1963 sack hound noun a lazy person, overly fond of sleep US, 1959 sack off verb to reject something UK, 2002 sack of garbage noun in bar dice games, a roll that produces no points for the player US, 1971

sack of sauce noun a used condom US, 1997 sack of shit noun used abusively of an unpleasant person. A conventional 'sack' full of SHIT (excrement); probably a revision of SAD SACK OF SHIT US, 2001

sack out verb to go to bed US, 1946 sack rat noun a lazy person, overly fond of sleep US, 1947 sack ship noun a big ship used to carry supplies from Europe to the East Coast fisheries CANADA, 1965

sack weather noun inclement weather during which air missions cannot be flown US, 1949

sacky dacky noun a depressed misfit US, 1946 sacrament noun LSD. An arguably pretentious euphemism US, 1990 sacré bleu! used for registering shock, frustration, anger, anguish, etc; especially in a context of Frenchness. Directly from the French euphemism sacré Dieu! (sacred God!) UK, 1869 sacred adjective excellent US, 1991 sacred cow; sacred ox noun on the railways, an extra engine used on a mountain US, 1977 sacred site noun a place one holds in reverence. From the meaning as 'a place sacred to Australian Aboriginals' AUSTRALIA, 1987 sad adjective terrible US, 1945 sad and sorry noun a lorry. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sad-ass; sad-assed adjective contemptible US, 1971 sad bastard noun a contemptible person; an ineffectual person UK, 2003

Saddam Hussein noun a pain; an irritation; an annoying person. Rhyming slang for conventional 'pain', also on a shortened PAIN IN THE ASS/ARSE; formed, with all due respect, from the name of the former Iraqi leader UK, 1988 sad day! used for expressing commiseration with another person's troubles US, 1989 saddle noun 1 in trucking, the driver's seat US, 1971. 2 in a group of trucks travelling down the motorway together, the truck in the middle US, 1976. 3 a two-part bet in an illegal numbers gambling lottery US, 1949. ► in the saddle 1 engaged in sexual intercourse. The term enjoyed widespread popularity in the US during discussions of the 1979 death of former Vice President and New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller US, 1979. 2 in control US, 1950 saddle-fuck verb to have sex, the woman astride the prone man US, 1972

saddler noun a ride on a bicycle's saddle while another person pedals UK, 1979 saddles noun the testicles hanging in the scrotum. Probably from JOHN WAYNE'S HAIRY SADDLE BAGS UK, 2004 saddle tramp noun 1 a person who rides horseback through the countryside US, 1942. 2 a motorcycle gang member US, 1989 saddle up verb 1 to pick up your gear and resume a combat patrol US, 1976. 2 to engage in mutual oral sex simultaneously US, 1985 saddo noun a pathetic or contemptible individual. Jocular if not derogatory UK, 2000 sadfuck noun a contemptible person UK, 1997

Sadie Masie noun sado-masochism. A jocular personification US, 1965

Sadie the Office Secretary noun used as a personification of the stereotypical female office worker US, 1953

Sadie Thompson verb to rape (a man) US, 1985 sad kecks noun a killjoy. Pejorative; conventional 'sad' combined with KECKS (trousers) UK, 1999

sadlands noun the suburbs of a city UK, 2002 sad-on noun a bad mood. Royal Navy slang UK, 1989 sad sack noun a miserable and depressing individual; an inept misfit. Originally US military US, 1942 sad sack of shit noun a miserable and depressing individual. Abbreviates as SAD SACK US, 1978 safe noun 1 the rectum. Referring to the rectum as a depository for drugs to be smuggled into prison US, 1992. 2 a condom UK, 1965. 3 in a pickpocketing team, the thief who takes the wallet or object stolen by the wire and leaves the scene with it US, 1954. ► in the safe concealed in the anus UK, 1996 safe adjective 1 worthy of approval SOUTH AFRICA, 1970. 2 hopelessly out of style. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. 3 all right; used as an expression of approval or agreement SOUTH AFRICA, 1981 safe and sound; safe noun the ground UK, 1992 safe house noun a room, apartment or house where it is safe to stay, work and hide from the authorities, rival criminals or rival spies US, 1963 safe screw noun a corrupt prison officer UK, 1996 safety noun 1 a condom US, 1973. 2 a safety pin used for an improvised injection of an illegal drug US, 1952 safe word noun a code word, agreed between a sexual dominant and submissive masochistic partner, for use by the masochist as a signal that the current activity should stop US, 1987 safey noun in horse racing, a riding assignment for a jockey on a horse that stands little chance of winning AUSTRALIA, 1989 sag verb to wear trousers that are too big and which consequently ride very low on or below the hips US, 1991 saga lout noun an elderly person who behaves badly. Saga is a UK company that supplies a wide range of services to the over-50s; a pun on LAGER LOU (a hooligan fuelled by lager) UK, 2004 sage noun a hybrid marijuana. An initialism of 'Sativa Afghani genetic equilibrium', contrived, perhaps, as a reference to the herb UK, 2003 saggie noun a central nervous system depressant such as Seconal™ US, 1960 sag off; sag verb to truant from school or work UK, 1959

Saigon cowboy noun a rear-echelon troop or civilian who dressed the part of a combat soldier but did not experience combat US, 1977

Saigon quickstep noun diarrhoea US, 1991

Saigon Suzie noun used for describing a stereotypical Vietnamese sex worker during the Vietnam war US, 1990

Saigon tea noun a whisky-coloured drink served to bar girls in Vietnam, passing for expensive whisky bought by US servicemen US, 1966

Saigon Tech noun the war in Vietnam; military service in Vietnam US, 1969 sailing adjective 1 drunk US, 1968. 2 marijuana-intoxicated US, 1993 sailor's elbow noun an act of ending a relationship with a lover. An elaboration, perhaps a specialisation, of ELBOW (an act of dismissal) UK, 2003 sailors on the sea; sailors noun tea UK, 1961 saint noun an incorruptible prison officer or police officer UK, 1996 saint and sinner noun dinner. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Saint Loo nickname St. Louis, Missouri US, 1961

Saint Moritz noun diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE SHITS, based on the Swiss resort UK, 1998

Saint Peter noun the penis. Perhaps because he 'opens the gate to heaven' UK, 2003 saints preserve us! used for expressing fear. A signature line of the chief of police on Batman (ABC, 1966–68), Chief O'Hara. Repeated with referential humour US, 1966

Saint Vitus dance verb to move in a fidgety, jerking manner UK, 1621 sais a ching noun in betting, odds of 6–5. A slurring of 'six' combined with CHING (five pounds) UK, 1991 sal noun a friend or pal BARBADOS, 1965 ▶ see: SAL'TING

sala noun an idiot. Adopted into hip-hop, urban usage from subtly insulting Hindi sala – the literal sense of which is 'a man's wife's brother'; the abusive sense is 'to someone who is not the speaker's wife's brother: the insult lies in the implication that the sister of the person abused is available to the speaker as a wife' (Nigel Hankin, Hanklyn Janklyn, 2003) US, 2003 salad noun 1 marijuana US, 1997. 2 a mixture of two or more drugs US, 1970 salad bowl noun a serendipitous mixture of inferior (and, hence, uncommercial) bud and leaf remains of varying marijuana varieties UK, 2003 salad days noun a period of youthful inexperience and innocence UK, 1606 salad dodger noun a person who is overweight UK, 1999 salad parade noun a group of ballet dancers UK, 1952 salad toss noun any of several sexual practices involving oral-anal stimulation CANADA, 2002 salad wagon noun a dustcart US, 1962 salami noun the penis. The image of a large, dark sausage US, 2000 salaud noun a contemptible person, mainly applied to a French person. From French salaud, ultimately from French sale (dirty) UK, 1962 saleslady noun a prostitute US, 1962 salesman noun 1 a professional wrestler who does a good job of feigning pain, anger or fear US, 1999. 2 in gin, a card discarded to lure a desired card from an opponent US, 1965

Sally noun a chilled, twelve ounce can of beer US, 2002

Sally Army; Sally Ann; Sally noun the Salvation Army; a Salvation Army hostel US, 1915

Sally Gunnell; sally noun a tunnel, especially the Blackwall Tunnel. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of the British Olympic athlete (b.1966) UK, 1998 salmon noun a twenty-dollar note. From the orange-red colour AUSTRALIA, 1983 salmon and trout; salmon noun 1 tobacco; a cigarette. Rhyming slang for SNOUT UK, 1974. 2 gout. Rhyming slang. Sometimes varied as 'salmon trout' UK, 1932. 3 the nose. Rhyming slang for 'snout' UK, 1974. 4 an informer. Rhyming slang for SNOUT UK, 1992. 5 a ticket tout. Rhyming slang, originally applied to a racecourse tout UK, 1932. 6 stout (beer). Rhyming slang UK, 1960 salon noun a semi-private area created by shrubs and trees where homosexual liaisons take place. For example, Coco Chanel's salon was found in a large grove of trees at Land's End in San Francisco US, 1972 saloon noun 1 in poker, a hand consisting of three cards of the same rank and a pair. Known conventionally as a 'full house' US, 1988. 2 a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977 salt noun 1 a sailor, especially an experienced sailor. Often in the phrase 'old salt' UK, 1840. 2 an experienced veteran in any calling UK, 1970. 3 a woman. Possibly by extension from obsolete (mid-C17 to mid-C18) 'salt' (the sex act); possibly by abbreviation from obsolete (C19) 'salt-cellar' (the vagina); most likely of unknown etymology UK, 1969. 4 a drunkard BARBADOS, 1965. 5 heroin. From the appearance of the powdered drug US, 1971. 6 plain tobacco mixed with marijuana SOUTH AFRICA, 1946 salt verb 1 to make something appear to be worth more than it is. Originally mining slang US, 1852. 2 to swindle someone by baiting them US, 1950. 3 to plant or place something to be found US, 1981 salt and pepper noun 1 marijuana, especially if of poor quality; marijuana adulterated with oregano US, 1946. 2 a police car. From the black and white colour scheme of many police cars US, 1976 salt and pepper adjective white and black US, 1915 salt and rob noun assault and robbery SOUTH AFRICA, 1946

salt away verb to save money; to hide money and valuables UK, 1902 salt-banker noun a fishing boat on the Grand Banks carrying enough salt to preserve fish caught, allowing a longer stay on the water CANADA, 1961 salt beef noun an attractive woman married to someone else BAHAMAS, 1982 saltee; salter; salty; saulty noun a penny. From Italian soldi (money) UK, 1859 saltie noun a saltwater crocodile AUSTRALIA, 1951

sal'ting; saltfish; sal noun the vagina JAMAICA, 1991

salt junk; salted adjective drunk. Rhyming slang, from a military and nautical name for 'salted beef' UK, 1909 saltmine noun a workplace US, 1976 salt-rising adjective sourdough retained as leavening for future baking CANADA, 1951

Salt River noun ▶ go up Salt River to die US, 1945

salt shaker noun a road-gritting or -salting vehicle US, 1976 salt struck adjective of cod, dressed with enough salt to be pickled CANADA, 1957 salt water noun a US police officer born in Ireland US, 1982 saltwater taffy noun an attractive woman on the beach. An allusion to a brightly coloured sweet sold at US beaches US, 1990 salty adjective 1 angry, hostile US, 1938. 2 uncouth; unpleasant US, 1985 salty dog noun during the Vietnam war, a piece of equipment lost in combat US, 1991 salty water noun the recreational drug GHB. Caustic soda mixed with industrial cleaner gamma butyrolactone produces a salt which is dissolved in water to produce the clear solution GHB US, 1997 salute verb ▶ salute the judge to win a horse race AUSTRALIA, 1977

Salvador Dali; salvador noun 1 cocaine. Rhyming slang for CHARLIE (cocaine) UK, 2000. 2 a drink. Glasgow rhyming slang for SWALLY UK: SCOTLAND, 2002 salvation army adjective mad; eccentric. Rhyming slang for BARMY

UK, 1992

Salvo noun a Salvation Army officer AUSTRALIA, 1891

Salvosh noun the Salvation Army UK, 2003

sam noun 1 a federal narcotics agent. An abbreviation of Uncle Sam, the personification of the US federal government US, 1971. 2 a southern Appalachian migrant US, 1981

Sam and Dave noun a grave. Rhyming slang, formed from US soul singers Sam Moore and Dave Prater who first came to prominence in the mid-1960s UK, 2004

Samantha Janus noun the anus. Rhyming slang based on the name of model and actress Samantha Janus (b.1975) UK, 2002 sambie noun a sandwich AUSTRALIA, 1976

sambo noun 1 a black person. Originally neutral, gradually accepted as taboo and derogatory; popular etymology holds that 'sambo' derives from 'sandboy' as in 'happy as a sandboy'; however Spanish or African origins account for the use from about 1704 as a proper name, slipping into a generic sense later in the C18 US, 1957. 2 a sandwich AUSTRALIA, 1984

Sam, Cow and the Duppy noun a random selection of the populace. The functional equivalent of 'Tom, Dick and Harry' BARBADOS, 1965 same bat time, same bat channel used as a humorous farewell. A catchphrase television sign-off on Batman (ABC, 1966–68). Repeated with referential humour US, 1966 same-day service noun in computing, a lengthy response time US, 1991 same difference; same diff noun the same thing, no difference UK, 1999 same mud, same blood used for explaining the absence of racism in combat troops US, 1981 same odds noun an equal effect; no difference worth consideration. From horse racing betting jargon UK, 2001 same-old noun an unchanged condition. An abbreviation of SAME OLD SAME OLD UK, 2000

same old same old; same-o same-o noun more of the same US, 1972 same old six and seven used for expressing a certain lack of progress in life. A borrowing from the game of craps – having established six as the point (the easiest point to make), the shooter rolls a seven, thus losing US, 1959 same shit, different day used as a stock answer when asked how things are going US, 1992

samey adjective monotonous; no different UK, 1929 samey-same; same same adjective the same. Korean and Vietnam war usage US, 1956

Sam Hill noun used as a very quaint euphemism for 'hell' US, 1839

Sami adjective Samoan NEW ZEALAND, 1998

sammo noun a sandwich AUSTRALIA, 1972

sammy noun an Indian man. An offensive word used as a term of address and reference SOUTH AFRICA, 1906

Sammy nickname Saddam Hussein. Used by US soldiers during the 1991 war against Iraq US, 1993

Sammy Hall noun a testicle. Rhyming slang for BALL(S), apparently formed on a character in a bawdy song UK, 1992

Sammy Lee noun urine; an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PEE or WEE, formed on Liverpool and England footballer (b.1959) UK, 1998

Samoan family car noun a used police car bought at auction. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982

Sam Sled noun in drag racing, a driver who consistently underperforms US, 1965

Samuel Pepys; samuels noun a sensation of dread or unease. Rhyming slang for THE CREEPS, formed from the name of the diarist, 1633–1703 UK, 1998

Samurai noun a Japanese man who is abundantly masculine, virile, brave and demeaning towards women. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982

San Antone! used as a mild oath US, 1951 sana wanga; sana banga verb to have sex. Probably an embellishment of WANG (the penis) TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1935

San Bernaghetto nickname San Bernadino, California. Collected in San Bernadino, August 2004. Numerous Internet usages, but none in print US, 2004 sanction noun in organised crime, punishment by death US, 1997 sand noun 1 courage US, 1962. 2 cocaine US, 2002 sand verb to mark the edges of playing cards with sandpaper or another abrasive for the purpose of cheating US, 1979

sandbag noun a sanitary towel or tampon US, 2001 sandbag verb 1 to lull someone into a false sense of security, and then suddenly attack them. Originally a term from poker, used to describe a betting strategy, and then expanded to broader use US, 1940. 2 in poker, to decline to raise a bet while holding a good hand in the hope of driving up the bet later in the play US, 1947 sandbagger noun 1 a person who lulls an opponent into security, and then suddenly attacks US, 1940. 2 in the sport of clayshooting, a competitor 'who by devious methods shoots in a lower class than his true form warrants' UK, 1983 sandbox noun 1 a toilet; a lavatory. A reference to a cat's toilet habits, intended as cute US, 1968. 2 in computing, the research and development department. A recognition of the playing nature of research US, 1991

Sand Box Express noun military transport to Saudi Arabia or Kuwait during the first Gulf war US, 1991

sandburner noun a Jeep UK, 1981 sand flea noun someone who associates with surfers at the beach but rarely if ever enters the water US, 1985 sandgroper noun a person from the state of Western Australia. Western Australia has vast tracts of desert AUSTRALIA, 1896

sandhog noun a tunnel construction worker; any underground worker US, 1903

S and J noun a beating by a police officer. An abbreviation of 'sentence and judgment' US, 2001

S and M nickname Santa Monica Boulevard in Los Angeles, California US, 1987

S and M; s-m; S & M noun 1 sado-masochism US, 1964. 2 in a sado-masochistic relationship, slave and master (or mistress). A confusion of meaning with 'sado-masochism' though not of context US, 1977. 3 sausage and mushrooms US, 1996 sand nigger noun an Arab; an Indian or Pakistani person. Highly offensive US, 1984

Sandoz; Sandoz's noun LSD. Named after Sandoz Pharmaceuticals, the original Swiss manufacturer of the drug US, 1967 sandpaper noun playing cards that have been altered for cheating by a minute sanding of the edges US, 1962 sandpaper verb ► sandpaper the anchor to perform a job that need not and, in fact, cannot be performed US, 1975 sandwich noun 1 sex involving more than two people, the specific nature of which varies with use, usually sex between one woman and two men, one penetrating her vagina and one penetrating her anus. A term given a lot of attention in 2000 when actress Cybill Shepherd dedicated a chapter of her autobiography to a description of her having taken the part of the filling in a 'Cybill Sandwich' with two stuntmen US, 1971. 2 heroin sandwiched between layers of cocaine UK, 1998. ► a sandwich short of a picnic (basket) not completely sane. May be 'a sandwich', 'one sandwich', 'two sandwiches' or 'a few sandwiches' short of a picnic; all variations of the NOT ALL THERE theme. You may also be 'a pork pie' or 'two apples' short of a picnic UK, 1992 sandwich verb 1 to rob someone TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990. 2 in poker, to surround a player with two confederates whose collusive betting tactics relieve the middle player of his bankroll and drive him from the game US, 1973 sandwich job noun condemnation surrounded on either side by faint praise US, 1981

Sandy nickname a Douglas A-1E Skyraider, especially effective in providing cover for combat rescue missions in Vietnam US, 1980

Sandy McNab; Sandy MacNab noun a taxi. Rhyming slang for 'cab' UK, 1960

Sandy McNabs; sandies noun pubic lice. Rhyming slang for CRABS UK, 1977

Sandy Powell noun a towel. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the popular northern comedian, 1900–82 UK, 1974 san fairy ann it doesn't matter, it makes no difference; don't worry. From French ça ne fait rien UK, 1927

San Fran nickname San Francisco, California US, 1957

San Francisco bomb noun ▶ see: FRISCO SPEEDBALL

sanga-wanga noun SEX TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1980

sanger noun a sandwich AUSTRALIA, 1943

sanitary noun a well-built, efficient car US, 1956 sanitary adjective used of a car, built well and without cosmetic frills. A wonderful example of standard English promoted into slang US, 1960 sanitary ride noun in a horse race, the tactic of riding away from the rail to avoid the mud flung by the pack of racehorses near the rail US, 1978 sannie noun a shoe sandal. From 'sandshoe' UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 ▶ see: SARNIE

sanny noun a sanitary towel; hence, a tampon UK, 1971 sano adjective used of surf conditions, excellent US, 1988 sano; sanno noun a person employed to empty toilet cans from unsewered households. From 'sanitary' AUSTRALIA, 1971

San Q nickname the San Quentin state prison, San Rafael, California US, 1993

San Quentin breakfast noun a male under the age of legal consent as an object of sexual desire US, 1976

San Quentin briefcase noun a large portable stereo system associated, stereotypically, with black youth culture. San Quentin is the most famous of California's state prisons US, 1990

San Quentin quail noun a girl under the age of legal consent. San Quentin is California's largest state prison. In the 1940 film Go West, Groucho Marx played a character named S. Quentin Quale, an inside joke US, 1940

Santa Barbara noun in hold 'em poker, an ace and a king as the first two cards dealt a player US, 1981

Santa Claus rally noun an increase in stock prices between Christmas and the end of the year US, 1976

Santa Marta; Santa Maria noun potent marijuana with a reddish-gold colour, originally cultivated in northern Colombia US, 1979

san toy noun a gang member. Rhyming slang for 'boy', as in 'the boys' UK, 1932 sap noun 1 a gullible fool UK, 1815. 2 in borstal, a weak trainee who is 'not very bright'. From the previous sense UK, 1978. 3 a short club; a police officer's nightstick US, 1899 sapazzola noun semen US, 1985

saperoo noun a complete fool US, 1950 sap gloves noun gloves weighted for maximised damage when used to strike someone US, 1975

sapper noun 1 a Viet Cong or North Vietnamese commando. Members of the North Vietnamese Army's combat engineers, and thus the name, derived from the longstanding UK sense of the word as 'a soldier in the Engineer Corps, the Royal Sappers and Miners'. 'Sappers inside the wire!' was a warning call that US soldiers did not want to hear US, 1987. 2 during the Vietnam war, an Australian combat engineer, especially one who searched and destroyed enemy tunnels AUSTRALIA, 1990 sap weather noun the period in the spring when maple sap is running. This period is also known as 'sugar weather' CANADA, 1963

Saracen Pig, Spartan Dog! used as a humorous description of an argument. From Woody Allen's 1996 film What's Up, Tiger Lily? (followed by Take this! And this!), revived and popularised by ESPN's Keith Olberman while broadcasting footage of ice hockey fights US, 1997

Sarah noun a single, rich and happy woman UK, 2002 sardine noun 1 a shark. Surfer humour US, 1965. 2 a despised person NEW ZEALAND, 1989

sarf London noun south London. A jocular attempt to say it correctly UK: WALES, 1999

sarge; sar'nt noun a sergeant, often as a form of address US, 1867

sarky adjective sarcastic UK, 1912 sarnie; sannie noun a sandwich. Reduced from an upper-crust pronunciation of 'sandwich'. In Glasgow a 'sannie' is preferred UK, 1961 sars-fras noun a low grade marijuana cigarette US, 1948 sarvey; sarvie noun this afternoon. Only in the phrase 'the sarvey', by metanalysis from 'this arvie' AUSTRALIA, 2003 sarvo noun this afternoon. Only in the phrase 'the sarvo', by metanalysis of 'this arvo' AUSTRALIA, 1942 sash noun anything used to tie around your arm while injecting a drug US, 1972 sashay verb to walk in a casual, often provocative, manner. A corruption of the French chasse, (a gliding dance step) US, 1928

Saskatchewan grunt noun a dessert of berries and dough on top, as in Nova Scotia, but with saskatoon berries CANADA, 1987 sass noun disrespectful, flippant back talk. A corrupted pronunciation of the British SAUCE US, 1835 sass verb to talk back to someone; to speak to someone with disrespect US, 1856 sassafras noun marijuana. Adopting the innocent identity and coincidental uses of the sassafras tree (Sassafras albidum); a native of North America which is used as a source of natural medicine and tea US, 1944 sassy noun rude speech. Used in the phrase 'give sassies' BAHAMAS, 1982

sassy adjective spirited; impudent; used to describe someone who answers back US, 1833 satchel noun ▶ in the satchel corrupted; bribed; beholden to someone else. A variation of the more common IN THE BAG US, 1955 satchel-swinger noun a bookmaker AUSTRALIA, 1965

sat-com noun satellite communications UK, 2001 satellite noun 1 a prisoner who remains on the fringes of a prison gang without actually joining it US, 1992. 2 a small-stakes poker tournament, the winning of which entitles the player to entry in a higher stakes tournament US, 1990 satin noun Italian Swiss Colony Silver Satin wine. An inexpensive wine US, 1980

satin and lace noun the face. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 satin and silk noun milk. Rhyming slang UK, 1985

Saturday night noun in dominoes, the double blank piece US, 1959

Saturday night special noun 1 an inexpensive handgun, usually small calibre US, 1968. 2 in computing, a program designed under intense time restraints US, 1991. 3 a hospital patient who regularly appears in the casualty department at weekends in search of food and a bed US, 1978

Saturday night syndrome noun 1 tachycardiac fibrillation US, 1992. 2 prolonged local pressure on a limb with resulting prolonged ischemia (inadequate blood supply). So named because of the tendency to drink to the point of extreme intoxication and then pass out with a limb dangling across the arm of a chair or the edge of a bed US, 2004. 3 the stress and fear suffered by preachers who wait until Saturday night to write their Sunday sermon US, 2000. 4 the tendency of a restaurant kitchen to fail to live up to its highest potential on the busiest night of the week, Saturday night US, 2001 sauce noun 1 any and all alcohol US, 1940. 2 in drag racing, a fuel mixed from nitromethane and alcohol US, 1968. 3 impudence; impertinence UK, 1835. 4 spirit; courage. From the song 'Baby's Got Sauce' by G. Love & Special Sauce US, 1997. ► the sauce the best BAHAMAS, 1982 sauce verb to speak impudently or impertinently to someone UK, 1862

saucebox noun an impudent person UK, 1588

sauced adjective drunk US, 1985 saucepan lid; saucepan; lid noun 1 a pound. Rhyming slang for QUID UK, 1951. 2 a Jewish person. Rhyming slang for YID UK, 1960. 3 a child. Rhyming slang for KID UK, 1960 saucepot noun an impudent person. A variation of SAUCEBOX UK, 1998 saucer noun 1 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. Perhaps there is an implied pun on flying saucers UK, 1996. 2 a silver dollar coin US, 1959. 3 in pinball, a scoring hole with a bevelled lip US, 1977 saucer cap noun a US Army wool serge AG-44 service cap US, 1990

saucered and blowed adjective all ready to go; prepared for use in any way CANADA, 1987 saucy adjective 1 attractive; desired US, 2004. 2 very drunk US, 1997

Saudi cool adjective warm to hot. Gulf war usage US, 1991 sausage noun 1 the penis AUSTRALIA, 1944. 2 someone foolish or gullible; used as a gently reproving term of address. Affectionate, childish and jocular UK, 1982. 3 used, often while reproving or gently chiding a child or lover, as an affectionate form of address, usually qualified with an adjective UK, 1982. 4 marijuana US, 1968. 5 a marijuana cigarette UK, 1978. ► hide the sausage; sink the sausage (of a male) to copulate AUSTRALIA, 1971. ► not a sausage no money; hence nothing at all. From rhyming slang, on SAUSAGE AND MASH (cash) UK, 1938 sausage and mash noun 1 cash; money. Rhyming slang UK, 1976. 2 a collision. Rhyming slang for 'crash' or 'smash' UK, 1961 sausage board noun a surfboard that is rounded at both ends AUSTRALIA, 1963

sausage dog noun a dachshund UK, 1938 sausage fest; sausage party noun a party with far more boys than girls US, 2001 sausage grappler noun a male masturbator AUSTRALIA, 1971

sausage roll noun 1 unemployment benefit. Rhyming slang for THE DOLE UK, 1972. 2 a pole. Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 3 a Pole. Rhyming slang UK, 1959. 4 the poll (the head), especially in reference to 'Poll Tax'. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sausage roll; sausage verb to have sex. Rhyming slang for POLE UK, 1992

sauskee noun in circus and carnival usage, fifteen dollars US, 1981

savage adjective good; excellent US, 1965

Savannah noun in craps, a seven US, 1983 save verb ► save me please save for me US, 1968. ► save right to the blossom in British Columbia logging, to fell a tall tree without breaking it CANADA, 1989 saveloy noun a boy, also in the sense 'one of the boys' (a gang member). Often heard in the catchphrase greeting, challenge or terrace-chant: 'oi oi saveloy!' UK, 1961 saver noun 1 in a pool tournament, an agreement between two or more players to share their winnings US, 1993. 2 a hedging bet AUSTRALIA, 1891 savoury rissole noun a lavatory, an unpleasant or dirty place, or location. Rhyming slang for PISS-HOLE, formed on an English dish also known as a 'faggot' UK, 1992 savvy noun knowledge; intelligence; experience. From the Spanish saber (to know) US, 1825 savvy verb to understand. Horribly butchered Spanish saber (to know), used by a monoglot English speaker trying to make himself understood by a foreigner UK, 1785

-savvy suffix aware, intelligent, informed. From French savoir (to know). Used for forming adjectives, it follows the noun UK, 1905 saw verb ► saw logs to snore. From cartoon illustrations comparing the sounds US, 1980. ► saw wood in pool, to play with an awkward stroke US, 1990 sawbones noun a doctor, especially a surgeon UK, 1837 sawbuck noun 1 a ten-dollar note US, 1850. 2 a ten-year prison sentence US, 1950 sawdust noun 1 dynamite US, 1949. 2 dehydrated cabbage ANTARCTICA, 2003 sawdust joint noun an unassuming, barebones gambling operation US, 1963 sawdust machine; sawdust pump noun a hand drill US, 1980 sawdust nobility noun an owner of a lumber mill or large timber stand CANADA, 1956 sawed-off noun a shotgun with a barrel less than 18 inches breech-to-muzzle or 26 inches overall US, 1982 sawn-off noun a shotgun with the barrels sawn off to a much shorter length to aid concealment of the weapon and enhance the lethal spread of the shot UK, 1959 saw-off noun an agreement to compromise with mutual benefits, especially political CANADA, 2002

sawski; sawsky noun a ten-dollar note. From SAWBUCK US, 1957

say noun a story. English gypsy use UK, 2000 say verb ► say goodbye to die. Apposite imagery for this piece of unusually sentimental rhyming slang UK, 1992. ► say Greg used for inviting a challenge TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. ► say your morning prayers to vomit in the morning, especially as a result of morning sickness TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1979

sayanora goodbye US, 1968 say dooey adjective eight. Polari; SAY (six) plus DOOEY (two) UK, 2002 saying hello to Mr Armitage adjective drunk, perhaps so drunk as to be sick. Derives either as a tribute to an unknown man or, perhaps, as a reference to lavatory manufacturer Armitage Shanks UK, 2002 say kids, what time is it? used as a humorous call to action. The signature opening of Howdy Doody Show (NBC, 1947–60). Repeated often with referential humour US, 1947 say now used as a greeting US, 1973 say oney noun seven. Polari; SAY (six) plus ONEY (one) UK, 2002 say-so noun 1 authority UK, 1637. 2 a person's word of honour UK, 1637 say tray adjective nine. Polari; SAY (six) plus TRAY (three) UK, 2002 say what? 1 used as a request to repeat what has just been said. An Americanism UK, 1999. 2 used for expressing disbelief at what has just been said US, 1987 say what and so what? intended as a clever dismissal of what has just been said US, 1992 say when! used to ask when enough food has been served or drink been poured. By ellipsis UK, 1889

SBD adjective used of a fart, inaudible but smelly. An abbreviation of 'silent but deadly' CANADA, 2002

sca noun information; news; gossip IRELAND, 1997 scab noun 1 a strike-breaker. From earlier usage as 'a generally contemptible person' US, 1777. 2 a thief UK, 2003. 3 a stingy person; a miser AUSTRALIA, 1987. 4 a citizens' band radio operator. A derivative term used by purist shortwave radio operators US, 1976. 5 in western Canada, a saddle CANADA, 1951 scab verb 1 to act as a strike-breaker US, 1806. 2 to search for a possible sex-partner. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. 3 to cadge something AUSTRALIA, 1986. 4 in pinball, to obtain a result through luck, not skill US, 1977

scabby adjective non-union AUSTRALIA, 1892. ► I could eat a scabby dog used as a declaration of great hunger. In Glasgow use UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

scabby eye noun a pie. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 scabby-headed adjective ► I could eat a scabby-headed wean used as a declaration of great hunger. In Glasgow use. 'I could eat a scabby-headed cat' is the familiar variant in the English midlands UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

scab duty noun especially in Western Australia and New South Wales, the picking up of litter as a school punishment AUSTRALIA, 2001

scabliifter noun a doctor UK, 1996

scad! used in expressing anger US, 2001

scadge noun a tramp UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 scads noun a large quantity of anything. From an earlier sense specific to money US, 1869 scaffle noun phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1994 scag; skag noun 1 heroin; cocaine US, 1967. 2 a cigarette US, 1945. 3 inferior alcohol US, 1947. 4 an unattractive girl or woman US, 1962 scaggy adjective addicted to heroin. Extended from SCAG (heroin) UK, 2002 scag-hag; skag-hag noun 1 a female heroin addict. Combines SCAG (heroin) with conventional 'hag' (a woman), on the model of FAG-HAG (a woman smoker) UK, 1999. 2 someone who enjoys the company of heroin-users. A gay coinage; combines SCAG (heroin) with conventional 'hag' (a woman), on the model of FAG-HAG (someone who enjoys the company of gays) UK, 1998. 3 a heterosexual woman who takes pleasure in the company of homosexual men US, 1970 scag-head; skag-head noun a heroin addict. A combination of SCAG (heroin or cocaine) and HEAD (a user) UK, 1999 scag jones; skag jones noun a heroin addiction US, 1982 scag nasty; skag nasty adjective repulsive in the extreme US, 1994

scald noun tea IRELAND, 1996 scale verb to ride a bus, train or tram without paying. Earlier, since 1904 (Australian National Dictionary) used intransitively to mean 'to avoid paying' AUSTRALIA, 1941 scaley noun a signaller in the British military UK, 1995 scalie noun a person employed on a vehicle weighbridge AUSTRALIA, 1976

Scallicon Valley nickname the Information Technology sector in Liverpool. A pun on SCALLY (a Liverpool rogue, hence a Liverpoolian) and California's mythical Silicon Valley, in the world's eyes the home of computer science UK, 2001 scally noun a rogue; a hooligan; a rough youth. A shortening of SCALLYWAG used in Liverpool slang UK, 1986

scally verb to behave in a lawless manner. From the noun sense UK, 2001 scallybip verb to burgle a house while the housewife is outside hanging washing on the line to dry US, 1972 scallywag; scallawag; skallywag noun a disreputable fellow US, 1849 scalp noun 1 the appearance of a pornography performer's photograph on the video box. From the sense of a 'scalp' as a 'trophy' UK, 1995. 2 a toupee US, 1952 scalp verb 1 to buy tickets for an event and resell them, usually outside the event itself. Originally stock exchange slang, then passed into broader general usage US, 1886. 2 to beat up a rival gang member and steal his gang patch NEW ZEALAND, 1999 scalper; scalp noun a person who buys tickets for a sporting or entertainment event and resells them at a profit US, 1869 scaly noun an acting detective constable in a Metropolitan Police Crime Squad UK, 2002

scaly leg noun a common prostitute US, 1972 scam noun 1 a scheme by which a legitimate business is forced into bankruptcy and taken over by organised crime US, 1982. 2 a scheme to defraud people US, 1963. 3 a report; the latest information US, 1977 scam verb to cheat or defraud someone US, 1963 scammer noun a petty confidence trickster; a fraudster US, 1972 scammered adjective drunk UK, 2003

scamp noun a rascal UK, 1808 scampi noun a very attractive man. Noted in connection with a legal dispute over rap lyrics by BBC News, 6th June 2003 UK, 1997 scan verb to examine someone or something US, 1988 scandal bag noun a plastic shopping bag JAMAICA, 2003 scandalous adjective 1 extremely competent US, 1992. 2 mean-spirited. The variant 'scan'lous' also exists US, 2001 scandalous! used for expressing disbelief or shock US, 1997

Scandi adjective Scandinavian UK, 1996

Scando-pop noun popular music originating in any Scandinavian country UK, 2003

scanger; skanger noun a rough, uncouth youth IRELAND, 2003 scanties noun skimpy knickers, hence, skimpy underwear (usually women's) UK, 1937

scants noun skimpy underpants (usually women's). A shortening of SCANTIES UK, 1968

Scarborough Fair; scarborough noun hair. Ephemeral rhyming slang, formed from the title of a 1966 recording by Simon and Garfunkel UK, 1998 scare verb ► scare the shit out of someone to terrify someone UK, 1961

Scare Air noun any of the many small airlines operating, on land, bush or water, in British Columbia CANADA, 1989 scare cards noun in poker, the strongest cards in a player's hand, exposed to other players accidentally on purpose US, 1996 scarecrow noun an empty police car parked at the side of a road to deter speeding US, 1976 scare-do noun an unflattering or unfashionable hairdo US, 1990 scaredy-cat noun a cowardly person. Childish UK, 1933

Scare Ontario noun Air Ontario CANADA, 1997

scarers noun ► put the scarers on someone to frighten someone AUSTRALIA, 1985 scare up verb to find something by hunting it out; to discover something. From the hunting of game US, 1852 scarf noun food US, 1967 scarf verb 1 to eat, especially to eat greedily and hurriedly US, 1951. 2 to lick, suck, and tongue a woman's vagina US, 1966. ► scarf pussy to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1972 scarfer noun 1 the supporter of a football club. The supporter's loyalty is advertised by the colours, pattern or insignia of a scarf UK, 1999. 2 in the usage of youthful model road racers (slot car racers), a fast car. From SCARF (to eat), suggesting that the car 'is eating up' the track US, 1997 scarfing noun self-asphyxiation as a masturbatory aid UK, 1994 scarf up verb to acquire. Extends from SCARF (to eat hungrily), possibly playing on SCARE UP (to discover) US, 1973 scarlet collar adjective working in the sex industry. Using 'scarlet woman' with the model of 'white collar' and 'blue collar' workers US, 1985 scarlet sister noun a prostitute US, 1951 scarper verb 1 to depart, especially in a hurry. Ultimately Italian scappare (to run away) or, less likely, rhyming slang for Scapa Flow for (to go); via polari into more general usage. Variants include 'scarpa', 'scaper', 'scarp' and 'scapli' UK, 1844. 2 to remove something; to dismiss someone. Circus; a variation of the previous sense UK, 1953 scary adjective good US, 1969 scat noun 1 excrement, especially as a sexual fetish. From Greek skat (dung) US, 1927. 2 sado-masochistic sex play involving defecation US, 1979. 3 heroin US, 1949. 4 low quality, low cost whisky US, 1950 scat verb to travel fast; to leave. Often used as an imperative US, 1954 scattered adjective drunk UK, 2002

scatty adjective crazy, slightly mad; feather-brained. From 'scatter-brained' UK, 1911 scatty-yatty noun an attractive girl. Teen slang, probably acquired from West Indian slang UK, 2003 scav verb to scavenge; to scrounge UK, 2001 scavenger noun in drag racing and hot rodding, a car that wins often, that 'eats up' its competition US, 1968

sceg noun a surfer. Variant of SKEG. AUSTRALIA, 1988

scene noun 1 a situation. A superfluous word to describe further a person, place, thing, or happening US, 1945. 2 a personal choice or taste; a favoured setting or milieu. Originally black usage, then via jazz into hippy circles US, 1966. 3 a sexual interlude US, 1971.

► make the scene 1 to arrive and participate in a social gathering US, 1958. 2 to go where something of interest is happening US, 1950. 3 to have sex US, 1966

scenester noun a person who is part of contemporary fashionable society US, 2003 sceney adjective fashionable; part of the scene UK, 1968 scenic route noun in horse racing, running outside the pack on turns US, 1978 schainer yid; shayner Yid noun an honest and absolutely trustworthy Jewish man. Yiddish for 'beautiful Jew', especially in the second spelling UK, 1968 scheitl; shietel; shyckle; shyker noun a wig. Polari; from Yiddish sheytl (a wig worn by Jewish women who have married in the Orthodox tradition) UK, 1992 scheme noun a housing estate UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

scheme-on noun a person's regular opening line in a singles bar US, 1985 schemie noun someone who lives on a council estate. The element of Scotland's social housing system that is popularly known as 'the schemes' UK: SCOTLAND, 2000

schimmel noun among Nova Scotians of German descent, a blond, colourless person CANADA, 1975

Schindler's List; Schindler's adjective drunk. Rhyming slang for PISSED, formed on the title of a 1993 Oscar-winning film by Steven Spielberg AUSTRALIA, 1994

schinwhars; chinois noun a Chinese person UK, 2002 schitz verb to behave in an abnormal fashion because of sustained methamphetamine use. From 'schizophrenia' US, 1993

schitz; schiz; schizo; skitz; skiz noun anyone who is considered to be mentally ill; generically, a mad person; specifically, a schizophrenic US, 1945

schizo; schitzi; schizy; schizzy adjective schizoid or schizophrenic; used derogatively of anyone whose behaviour is considered eccentric, illogical or mad. Schizophrenia is a severe mental disorder mistakenly understood by readers of modern thrillers to be little more than a split-personality US, 1951 schizz noun a person suffering from schizophrenia US, 1973

schlanting noun cheating AUSTRALIA, 1982

schlump verb to move heavily US, 1978

schlumph verb to drink alcohol UK, 1996 schmende noun the vagina. Possibly (a woman's) 'end' elaborated in cod-Yiddish US, 1998

schmick; smick adjective exquisite; immaculate AUSTRALIA, 1996

schmock; shmock noun heroin UK, 1978

schmoogie noun a friend US, 1993

Schneider verb 1 in gin, to win a game leaving an opponent scoreless. Also in the shortened form 'Schneid' US, 1965. 2 in gambling, to defeat someone completely US, 1997 schnoink noun a Jewish person. A deliberately offensive and insulting term used by non-Jews; it appears to be 'oink' (the cry of a pig) dressed up in mock-Yiddish UK, 1977

schonk verb to hit someone UK, 2002 school noun 1 in poker, a group of players who customarily play together UK, 1967. 2 a group of people engaged in a gambling game, especially two-up AUSTRALIA, 1812 schoolboy noun 1 cocaine; codeine; codeine cough syrup. An inference that these are beginners' drugs US, 1969. 2 heroin UK, 2003 schoolboy draw noun in poker, a draw in a highly unlikely attempt to improve a hand US, 1988

schoolcraft noun crack cocaine UK, 1998

schoolie noun 1 a school student AUSTRALIA, 1994. 2 one of a group of a young persons holidaying having just finished high school AUSTRALIA, 1993. 3 a school teacher AUSTRALIA, 1889

Schoolies Week noun chiefly in New South Wales and Queensland, a week following final high school exams during which vast numbers of students descend upon certain tourist areas to celebrate AUSTRALIA, 1984

schoolmarm tree noun a piece of firewood where two trunks have grown together and crossed; also, the tree itself CANADA, 1942

schoolmate noun a fellow prisoner US, 1949 school of crime noun a prison US, 1982 school of hard knocks noun the difficult emotional and physical experiences of growing up, seen as enriching. The UNIVERSITY OF LIFE for the working-classes US, 1912 school solution noun a military tactic as taught in the classroom US, 1988 schooler noun a 15-fluid-ounce glass of beer. In South Australia the same name is used for a 10-ounce glass of beer AUSTRALIA, 1892 shtonker noun anything impressive in its field. Misspelling of STONKER falsely suggesting a Yiddish etymology UK, 2002

schuss noun a dim-witted person CANADA, 1999

schussley; schusslish adjective giddy, silly CANADA, 1999

shwag; shwag noun marijuana, especially low quality marijuana US, 1995

schwallied adjective drunk UK, 2003 schweenie noun the penis. A variation of WEENIE (the penis) using a Yiddish model of reduplication amended with 'sch' or 'schm' US, 1995 schweinhund noun a despicable person. From German schwein (pig) and hund (dog), as used in British propaganda and fiction as one of the few words employed by any Nazi guard to refer to a British prisoner, and hence into the British vocabulary of abuse UK, 1941

schwindely adjective among Nova Scotians of German descent, dizzy, unfocused CANADA, 1999 schwung! used as a vocalisation of the sound a penis makes getting suddenly erect at the passing of a beautiful woman. A gift to teen slang from Mike Myers and his 'Wayne's World' sketches US, 1992 science fiction noun the US Army Special Forces. From the initials US, 1991 scissorbill noun 1 in any group setting, an outsider US, 1962. 2 a incompetent, stupid, or dull logger CANADA, 1989. 3 on the railways, a new and incompetent worker. Not praise US, 1977 scissor-fingers verb to shorten a performance. Often accompanied by finger gestures mimicking the use of scissors US, 1981 scissors noun marijuana US, 1977

scissor-sister noun a lesbian who engages in vagina-on-vagina sexual contact by spreading her legs as scissor-blades and so conjoining with another woman in a similar position. Adopted as a name by New York band Scissor Sisters who found international success in 2004 US, 2004

sluttery adjective overweight CANADA, 1999

scobie noun a young uncouth male IRELAND, 1997

scobo noun a black person US, 1947

scody adjective 1 excellent NEW ZEALAND, 1998. 2 disagreeable US, 1966

soff noun 1 food; a meal SOUTH AFRICA, 1846. 2 in the Maritime Provinces, a feast CANADA, 2002

soff verb to eat US, 1846 soffins noun in circus and carnival usage, food. If SCOFF is 'to eat', it is only logical that 'soffins' are 'that which is eaten' US, 1981 sconce noun the head UK, 1567

scone noun the head AUSTRALIA, 1945. ► duck the scone to plead guilty. Formed on SCONE (the head); from bending the head in unspoken affirmative. A variation of BOW THE CRUMPET and NOD THE NUT AUSTRALIA, 1984. ► off your scone mad. A variation of OFF YOUR HEAD AUSTRALIA, 1958. ► suck your scone in! mind your own business!; stop talking nonsense! A variation of PULL YOUR HEAD IN! AUSTRALIA, 1984

scone verb to hit someone on the head AUSTRALIA, 1948

scone hot adverb vigorously AUSTRALIA, 1927

Sconnie nickname a resident of the state of Wisconsin US, 1997 scoob noun a beverage. Gulf war usage UK, 1991 scoobied adjective drunk UK, 2003

scooby adjective to treat a prisoner unfairly. From SCOOBY-DOO (a prison officer) UK, 1996

scooby-doo; scooby; scoob noun 1 a clue. Rhyming slang, based on a popular animated cartoon character produced by Hannah Barbera since 1969 UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a prison officer. Rhyming slang for SCREW (a prison officer); from the cartoon character UK, 1996. 3 a look. Rhyming slang for 'view' UK, 2001. 4 a marijuana cigarette. Scooby Doo, a popular animated cartoon character produced by Hannah Barbera since 1969, disguises DOOBY US, 2000 scooby snack noun 1 marijuana US, 1997. 2 a drug that acts as a depressant or relaxant, usually Valium™ US, 1995 scooby snacks noun 1 any food that is hungered for while under the influence of marijuana. From the insatiable appetite of cartoon character Scooby Doo US, 1996. 2 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 scooch verb while sitting or lying down, to move your body by sliding US, 1985

scoof verb to steal something UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

scoop noun 1 the latest information or news US, 1874. 2 a drink IRELAND, 1991. 3 the convex curvature of the bottom of a surfboard US, 1965. 4 the recreational drug GHB US, 1993

scoop verb 1 to be the first to report a news story US, 1946. 2 (of a beer enthusiast) to drink any type of beer as a means of collecting and recording that particular brew UK, 2003. 3 to kiss someone US, 1997. 4 to arrest someone US, 1977. 5 in high-low poker, to declare for both high and low US, 1979

scooping noun the practice of collecting and recording different types of beer by the simple expedient of drinking each one UK, 2003 scoot noun 1 a foot-propelled scooter UK, 2000. 2 a motorcycle. A shortened 'scooter' US, 1943. 3 a dollar US, 1981. 4 an obnoxious drunk NEW ZEALAND, 1998. ► on the scoot on a drinking binge AUSTRALIA, 1916 scoot verb 1 to leave in a hurry US, 1882. 2 to slide UK, 1838 scooter noun marijuana US, 1997 scooter tracks noun faecal stains in underwear US, 1989 scooter trash noun a motorcycle gang member US, 1989 scoots noun 1 money US, 1997. 2 diarrhoea US, 1975 scope verb to see or to look at someone or something US, 1974.

► scope on to look at or examine someone or something US, 1990 scope; scoper; scopey noun an inept, clumsy or stupid individual. A rebranding of 'spastic' in line with the Spastic Society's 1994 name-change; the change to Scope was intended to avoid the 'most common use of the word "spastic" [which] has insidiously assumed misrepresentation that intends the word as an insult' UK, 2002 scope out verb to investigate something; to examine something; to check something out US, 1973 scoper; scope jockey noun a pathologist US, 1994 scope, scam and scheme used as a formula for seduction US, 1990 scope worker noun in circus and carnival usage, an astrologer. An abbreviation of 'horoscope worker' US, 1981 scorch noun a car's performance potential US, 1959 scorch verb to stare at someone or something US, 1991. ► scorch the iron to operate a train at a high rate of speed US, 1977 scorcher noun 1 a very hot day UK, 1874. 2 in ball games, an extremely hard shot UK, 1977 scorching adjective extremely hot UK, 1940 score noun 1 a robbery; the proceeds of a robbery US, 1949. 2 a one-time payment from a criminal to the police to avoid prosecution US, 1972. 3 a sale, especially of drugs or something else illegal US, 1914. 4 a prostitute's customer US, 1963. 5 a sexual conquest US, 1970. 6 twenty pounds, twenty dollars UK, 1929. 7 in betting, odds of 20–1 UK, 1991. ► keep score to perform the paperwork required of a police team US, 1970. ► the score the state of affairs, the current situation. Often in the verb phrase 'know the score' US, 1938 score verb 1 to obtain something, especially drugs and especially dishonestly US, 1914. 2 to make a sexual conquest AUSTRALIA, 1907. 3 (of a police officer) to extract a one-time bribe from a criminal to avoid prosecution US, 1972. 4 (of a horse or rider) to win a race AUSTRALIA, 1969. ► score on to get the best of someone verbally US, 1963 score! 1 used as a humorous acknowledgement of a correct answer US, 1994. 2 used for expressing joy US, 2002

scorebag noun twenty pounds' worth of a drug UK, 1996 scorpion noun 1 a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1996. 2 cocaine UK, 1998. 3 in dominoes, the 4–4 piece US, 1959

scotch noun an improvised place to sleep BARBADOS, 1996

Scotch noun in betting odds, even UK, 1991 scotch call; scotch ring; scotchie noun a telephone call that is unanswered by pre-arrangement and which acts as a signal or message without entailing the cost of a telephone call SOUTH AFRICA, 2002 scotch egg; scotch noun the leg. Rhyming slang; usually plural UK, 1962

Scotchman noun a Scotsman. In conventional use until during C19 and, whilst not strictly incorrect, had been superseded by 'Scotsman' on both sides of the border UK, 1998

Scotchman's shout noun a date where each person pays their own way NEW ZEALAND, 1942

scotch mist noun ► turn scotch mist to vanish; to fade away UK, 1994

Scotch mist adjective drunk. Rhyming slang for PISSED (drunk), playing on the nebulous sense of Scotch mist and a taste of Scotch (whisky) UK, 1984

Scotch screw noun a nocturnal emission of semen US, 1987

Scotch twist noun in handball, a serve that strikes the front wall very near to a corner US, 1972

Scotland the brave; scotland verb to shave. Rhyming slang UK, 1998

Scotland the brave; scotland noun a wave. Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

Scotsman's grandstand noun a vantage point overlooking a sportsground, permitting viewing with little or no payment. NEW ZEALAND, 1993

scott; scot noun heroin. Probably a variation of SCAT (heroin) US, 1971

Scottish adjective sexually uninhibited. The etymology is a mystery CANADA, 2000

Scotto- prefix Scottish UK, 2000

Scotty noun crack cocaine; the intoxication produced by crack cocaine. Taken from the catchphrase 'Beam me up, Scotty', first heard in cult science-fiction television series 'Star Trek' (1966–69) US, 1989 scouse noun a meat and vegetable stew. An abbreviation of 'lobscouse' (a favourite dish of sailors since the C17) UK, 1840

Scouser; Scouse; scouse noun a person from Liverpool UK, 1959 scout noun familiar term of address for a male IRELAND, 1996 scout around; scout about verb to search and explore a place or area UK, 1886 scout's honour noun used as a mocking pledge or oath to tell the truth. A reference to the Boy Scouts of America and their pledge to be truthful US, 1984 scow noun in trucking, an especially large truck US, 1946 scabble noun crack cocaine. Probably derives from scabbling on the floor for fragments of the drug. UK, 2003 scadge noun food. A British contribution to the slang of the South Pole ANTARCTICA, 2003 scrag verb 1 to manhandle someone roughly UK, 1835. 2 to murder someone US, 1930

scraggy adjective shabby US, 1946 scraggy Lou noun influenza. Rhyming slang for FLU UK, 1992

scram noun a black person US, 1940 scram verb to leave quickly. Probably a reduction of 'scramble', possibly from German schrammen (to run away) US, 1928

scram bag noun in circus and carnival usage, a suitcase that is always packed in the event that a hasty departure has become the prudent course of action US, 1981 scramble noun 1 adulterated heroin US, 1984. 2 crack cocaine. From the effect on the user US, 1994. 3 in motorcycle racing, a race in difficult terrain US, 1965. ► the scramble the chaotic movement of pedestrians as soon as traffic lights permit AUSTRALIA, 1984 scramble verb 1 to live hand-to-mouth by a variety of hustles US, 1989. 2 to sell drugs US, 1990 scrambled egg; scrambled eggs noun the gold braid insignia on an officer's cap or uniform UK, 1943 scrambled eggs noun mental confusion or mental illness US, 1984. ► have scrambled eggs to be drunk. Rhyming slang for, 'scrambled' (out of control) legs UK, 1992 scrambled eggs cap; ham and eggs cap noun a Captain or First Officer's cap, with gold 'scrambled eggs' applique US, 1982

scrambler noun a street-level drug seller US, 1990 scram heat noun the urge to attempt escape from prison US, 1962 scram switch noun in computing, an off switch for use in an emergency US, 1991 scran noun 1 food; a meal. Originally naval slang UK, 1916. 2 an informer. Back slang from NARC (an undercover narcotic officer) UK, 1996 scranker noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a follower of the band who has lost all touch with reality US, 1994 scrap noun 1 a fight UK, 1887. 2 a problem; a complaint. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. 3 change from a one-pound note or coin UK, 1983 scrap verb to fight US, 1997 scrape noun 1 a risky situation UK, 1709. 2 a shave. Semi-conventional usage UK, 1859. 3 a gynaecological dilation and curettage (D&C) of the uterus UK, 1994. 4 an abortion UK, 1968 scrape verb ► scrape the bottom of the barrel; scrape the barrel to employ, but not through choice, someone or something of inferior standard US, 1942. ► scrape the mug to shave US, 1962. ► scrape the paint in horse racing, to race very close to the inside rail AUSTRALIA, 1989 scrape job noun an abortion, especially an illegal one US, 1972 scrap iron noun 1 a potent and dangerous alcoholic concoction made from wood alcohol, mothballs and chlorine US, 1992. 2 in prison, weights for body building US, 1981 scrap metal; scrap noun a kettle. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 scrapper noun a fighter US, 1978 scrap track noun on the railways, a hospital US, 1977 scratch noun 1 money US, 1914. 2 unemployment benefit IRELAND, 2000. 3 a masturbatory manipulation of the clitoris UK, 1979. 4 a sound or rhythmic effect created by the manipulation of a vinyl recording US, 1995. 5 a drug addict US, 2001. 6 rubber marks left on a surface when a car speeds away US, 1966. 7 an attestation by a superior that a police officer was on his beat at a given time US, 1973 scratch verb 1 to manipulate a vinyl record to create sounds and rhythms. Scratching, as a technique, was invented in the late 1970s by 13-year-old Theodore Livingstone (later Grand Wizard Theodore) and widely recognised by the mainstream in 1983 with the release of 'Rockit' by Herbie Hancock which featured Grandmixer DST scratching US, 1995. 2 to sign-on for unemployment benefit UK, 2000. 3 to forge US, 1962. 4 to erase something; to withdraw something from a competition UK, 1685. 5 to whip someone; to mark someone with a whip UK, 1956. 6 to paddle a surfboard energetically US, 1963. ► scratch gravel to leave quickly, especially in a car US, 1968. ► scratch head to have sex. From the sense of HEAD as 'penis' TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. ► scratch your monkey (used of a drug addict) to satisfy your drug habit with an injection or other ingestion of the drug US, 1992 scratcher noun 1 a person who scratches their stylised signature into a window on the underground US, 1997. 2 a tattoo artist, especially an unlicensed amateur US, 1997. 3 a forger US, 1962. 4 a prison warder who is expert in searching a cell UK, 1980. 5 a rough bed or sleeping bag NEW ZEALAND, 1964 scratch house noun an inexpensive boarding house or brothel US, 1962 scratching noun the searching of prison premises UK, 1978 scratch man noun a forger US, 1962 scratch off verb to leave, especially in a hurry US, 1956 scratch pad noun very inexpensive lodging US, 1946 scratch sheet noun a leaflet or pamphlet offering 'inside' tips on horse betting US, 1972

scraven adjective gluttonous; greedy GUYANA, 2003

scrawbee-looby noun a badly scored goal, a fluke, or one that barely got past the goalkeeper IRELAND, 2000 scream noun 1 an extremely ridiculous or funny person or thing. Originally used in theatre slang, now simply melodramatic US, 1888. 2 an appeal against criminal conviction. Prison slang UK, 1990s. 3 a police search UK, 1956 scream verb 1 to complain US, 1984. 2 to inform the police or prison authorities UK, 1903. ► scream like Tarzan; scream like ten Tarzans to shout loudly TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1989

screamer noun 1 a blatant and conspicuous homosexual US, 1997. 2 a hysterical hospital patient US, 1978. 3 an arrest warrant US, 1990. 4 a police siren US, 1992. 5 in drag racing and hot rodding, a very fast car US, 1958. 6 a hamburger with hot sauce and onions US, 1997. 7 in typography, an exclamation mark (!) UK, 1933 screamer and creamer noun a woman who is vocal during sex US, 1977 screamers noun pieces of metal scrap packed with an artillery shell, which makes a screaming sound as the shell moves through the air US, 1990 screaming adjective 1 striking; conspicuous; obvious. Used as an intensifier since the mid-C19, but in a slangy homosexual sense much more recently US, 1848. 2 excellent; the best US, 1989 screaming area noun in a hospital, the medical screening area US, 1978 screaming chickens noun the 101st Airborne Division, US Army. Like the PUKING BUZZARDS, a play on the official 'screaming eagles' US, 1991 screaming Jimmy noun a large General Motors Corporation diesel truck. A reference to the high-pitched noise of the GMC engine US, 1962

Screaming Lord Sutch noun the crutch or crotch. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of rock musician and politician, founder of the Monster Raving Loony Party, David Edward Sutch, 3rd Earl of Harrow, 1940–99. In the 1960s he changed his name by deed poll to Screaming Lord Sutch UK, 1992 screaming meemies noun hysteria; excessive fear noisily expressed US, 1927 screaming shits noun 1 a non-existent disease. It is commonly found in expressions such as, 'I'd rather die with the screaming shits' US, 1947. 2 diarrhoea. used with 'the' US, 1971 screaming sixties noun the latitudes of 60 to 69 degrees south ANTARCTICA, 1976

screamy adjective melodramatic; exhibitionist; extremely extroverted. Homosexual usage US, 1979 screech noun 1 the mouth, the throat, the face UK, 1984. 2 dark, strong Jamaican rum imported into Newfoundland CANADA, 2001. 3 powdered lime juice. Military UK, 1995

screechie noun in circus and carnival usage, an audio technician US, 1981 screech-in noun in Newfoundland, an event in which a newcomer is given screech to drink and then asked to sample the ocean temperature with a foot or kiss a cod CANADA, 2002 screeel verb to complain loudly TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1971

screeve noun a car UK, 1979

screw noun 1 a prison officer. Possibly from an obsolete sense of 'screw' (a skeleton key), hence a 'turnkey' or 'warder', or perhaps from 'thumbscrew' (an instrument of torture used in C17 prisons) UK, 1812. 2 an act of sexual intercourse US, 1929. 3 a sexual partner, potential or actual, of either gender, objectified UK, 1937. 4 a wage UK, 1858. 5 a salary NEW ZEALAND, 1984. 6 a mischievous scheme TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1935. 7 a look AUSTRALIA, 1907. ► have a screw loose to be or become eccentric, crazy or insane UK, 1833 screw verb 1 to have sex UK, 1725. 2 used dismissively as a synonym for 'fuck' in exclamations and curses UK, 1949. 3 to burgle. A C20 usage from the earlier senses (a skeleton key; and to break into a building using a skeleton key) UK, 1812. 4 to swindle or cheat someone UK, 1900. 5 to ruin something. Probably a shortening of SCREW UP UK, 1976. 6 to stare at someone; to look at someone accusingly AUSTRALIA, 1917. 7 to leave US, 1985. 8 in pool, to apply spin to the cue ball to affect the course of the object ball or the cue ball after striking the object ball US, 1990. ► don't screw the crew a catchphrase injunction: do not have sex with your workmates. A corporate updating of NOT ON YOUR OWN DOORSTEP UK, 2003. ► screw daft to have sex to the point of insensibility. Generally something of a boast UK, 2000. ► screw the arse off someone to have vigorous sex with someone UK, 1967. ► screw the pooch to burgle or to ruin something. ► screw your brains out to have sex with great regularity and force US, 1971 screwage noun a computer malfunction due to design error US, 1991 screw around noun to fool around; to waste time US, 1939 screwball noun an odd, eccentric, or crazy person US, 1933 screwball adjective odd, eccentric US, 1936 screwdriver noun 1 a principal prison officer. An elaboration of SCREW (a prison officer) UK, 1950. 2 a person who evades work or duty. Rhyming slang for SKIVER UK, 1992 screwed adjective drunk UK, 2002 screwed, blued and tattooed adjective in such misfortune or trouble that there is no likely escape CANADA, 1969 screwed up adjective 1 troubled, disturbed UK, 1907. 2 spoilt; wrecked; fouled up. A euphemism for FUCKED UP US, 1943. 3 being locked in a prison cell. A pun on BANGED UP, via BANG (to have sex) and SCREW (to have sex) UK, 1977 screwface noun the look presented by a person who is staring UK, 2006 screwhead noun a crazy person. What you are when you HAVE A SCREW LOOSE UK, 1997 screw-hole noun an unpleasant location UK, 2001 screwing adjective anxious, unhappy. Probably from the Jamaican patois verb 'screw' (to frown) UK, 1996 screw job noun an exploitation or other maltreatment US, 1987 screw over verb to treat another person with contempt or cruelty in any way; to betray someone, to victimise someone, to cheat someone. A variation of SCREW UK, 2000 screws noun ► put the screws on; put the screws to to put pressure on someone, especially in relation to economic operations or debt recovery US, 1834 screwsman noun a housebreaker, a burglar, a thief. Originally 'a thief using a skeleton key' UK, 1812 screw-up noun 1 an action or circumstance that has been handled badly US, 1960. 2 an awkward person an incompetent, a blunderer; an inadequate person US, 1960 screw up verb to bungle; to fail in a task; to perform something poorly US, 1942 screwy adjective crazy; (very) eccentric US, 1887 screw you! used as contemptuous dismissal. Substituting SCREW for FUCK in FUCK YOU! with the same senses US, 2000 screw your buddy noun in pool, a three-player game in which all players play against all other players US, 1993 scribble verb in computing, to inadvertently and detrimentally modify a data structure US, 1991 scribe noun a letter US, 1970 scriber noun in the television and film industries, a writer US, 1977

scrid noun a very small amount BARBADOS, 1965

scrilla; skrilla noun money US, 1998

scrimy adjective despicable; lowdown US, 1952 script noun 1 a prescription for a narcotic, especially a forged prescription US, 1936. 2 in prison, a letter. Possibly from a (medical) prescription seen as a piece of writing with the intention of making you feel better UK, 1996. 3 a forged cheque US, 1950 script jockey noun a screenwriter US, 1964 scroat; scrote noun a despicable man. Probably from an abbreviation of 'scrotum' US, 1975

scrod noun 1 an ageing motorcyclist who still looks the part but for whom the motorcycle is a stage prop, not a way of life US, 2003. 2 any small fish, usually haddock or cod. This word is part of an old joke: 'Did you get scrod in Boston?'-'It's the first time I've been asked in the pluperfect subjunctive!' Boston is a usual destination for Nova Scotia fish CANADA, 1841

scrog verb to have sex US, 1983

scroggin noun a mixture of dried fruits, chocolate, nuts, and grains NEW ZEALAND, 1991

scromp verb to have sex US, 1993

scronies noun pepperoni US, 1996

scroogie noun a screwdriver US, 1991

scrot rot noun general discomfort, itchiness or sweatiness of the scrotum and surrounding areas UK, 2003 scrotty adjective dirty; unattractive. A variation of GROTTY, probably by elision of 'it's grotty'; in teenage use UK, 1982 scrotum noun ► on the scrotum alert, prepared. A play on the more common 'on the ball' US, 1949 scrounge noun a habitual borrower; a freeloader UK, 1937 scrounge verb to rummage; to search UK, 1909. ► scrounge off someone to freeload; to sponge off someone UK, 1959 scrounger noun a person known for their ability to beg, borrow, buy or steal what is needed. Respected and valued US, 1918 scroungy adjective cheap, always in search of help US, 1959

scrub noun 1 a contemptible or insignificant person, especially one who does not share your high standards of morality, style or personal hygiene UK, 1900. 2 a person attending a dance who is not asked to dance for long periods of time TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1971. 3 a first-year college student US, 1989. 4 a substitute player on a sports team US, 1892. 5 in hip-hop culture, a performer of little or no talent US, 1992 scrub verb to cancel something; to forget something; to reject something. A figurative application of the conventional sense 'to erase'; originally recorded in 1828, current use dates from military use in World War 2 UK, 1943. ► scrub round to cancel something; to forget something, especially by agreement UK, 1943 scrub-bash noun a journey through thick bushland AUSTRALIA, 1972

scrub bash verb to make a path through thick bushland; to drive a vehicle through bushland AUSTRALIA, 1964

scrub-bashing noun the clearing of bushland AUSTRALIA, 1959 scrubber noun 1 a sexually promiscuous woman UK, 1959. 2 an unattractive woman AUSTRALIA, 1977. 3 an inferior horse bred in the country AUSTRALIA, 1874

scrubout noun a weekly mass cleaning ANTARCTICA, 2003 scrubs noun loose-fitting, sterilised clothing worn in hospital operating rooms US, 1991

Scrubs noun ► the Scrubs Her Majesty's Prison Wormwood Scrubs in west London UK, 1999

scrub up verb to appear after grooming. Always followed by a positive adjective or adverb AUSTRALIA, 1985 scruffbag noun a scruffy person. Originally, 'a down-and-out' UK, 1973 scruff puppy noun a girl as the object of social and sexual desire US, 1988 scruffy and dirty noun in betting, odds of 100–30. Rhyming slang UK, 1991 scrum noun something of little or no value. Obsolete rhyming slang for a 'threepenny bit', rhymes on synonymous 'thrums'; back in circulation as the perceived worth of the old coin AUSTRALIA, 1998 scrumdiddliumptions adjective extremely delicious or delightful. An elaboration of SCRUMPTIOUS UK, 2000 scummy; scrummie adjective excellent; delicious. An abbreviation of SCRUMPTIOUS; often used as an exclamation of delight UK, 1915 scrump verb to steal apples from orchards. From an old dialect word for a 'withered apple' UK, 1866 scrumper noun a stealer of apples from orchards UK, 1946 scrumping noun an act of stealing apples from an orchard. From the verb SCRUMP UK, 1999 scrumptious adjective delicious. Often used as an exclamation of delight UK, 1881 scrumpy noun an alcoholic drink of fermented apples; an (often illicitly made or homemade) rough cider. West country dialect, now widely known UK, 1904 scrunchions noun in Newfoundland, cut-up pork fat, fried and used to garnish fish and brewis CANADA, 1966 scrunch up verb to squeeze in; to huddle US, 1902 scrungies noun swimming trunks worn for surfing AUSTRALIA, 1991

scrunt verb to live at an absolute minimum standard of living TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1976

scruples noun crack cocaine US, 1994 scuba diver; scuba noun a five-pound note. Rhyming slang for FIVER UK, 1998 scud noun 1 wine UK: SCOTLAND, 1996. 2 crack cocaine UK, 1996. 3 a state of nudity. Variant elaborations include 'scuddy' and 'scuderoony' UK: SCOTLAND, 1911

scud verb to slap someone or deliver someone a glancing blow UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 scudded adjective drunk. Used by US troops during the 1991 war against Iraq, playing on the missile US, 1991 scudder noun a disagreeable, unlikeable person US, 1972 scuddy adjective naked UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

scuddy-book noun a pornographic magazine UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

scuds noun the female breasts. A comparison with Scud missiles US, 2001 scuff noun in motor racing, a new racing tyre that has not been broken in US, 1993 scuff verb 1 in circus and carnival usage, to barely make a living US, 1981. 2 to prepare new racing tyres for a race US, 1993 scuffer noun 1 a police officer UK, 1860. 2 a prostitute US, 1971 scuffle noun life, perceived as a struggle US, 1946 scuffle verb 1 to survive by your ingenuity, not by working US, 1961. 2 to weed a patch of potatoes without disturbing the plants CANADA, 1990 scuffler noun a person who scrounges to earn a living on the fringes of legality US, 1965 scuffs noun 1 bedroom slippers. So named because of the scuffling sound they make when you walk US, 1985. 2 shoes US, 1987 scuff up verb to engage in a fist fight US, 1992 scugly adjective very ugly US, 1975 scull verb to quaff or down a drink in one draught. Variant spelling of SKOAL; SKOL AUSTRALIA, 1984

scum noun 1 a despicable, unlikeable person US, 1971. 2 in prison, a sex offender; a convicted paedophile UK, 1996. 3 semen US, 1965 scumbag noun 1 a low, despicable person. The highest profile use of the term in recent years was in late April 1998, when US Congressman Dan Burton publicly called then-President Clinton 'a scumbag'. This was shortly before the revelation that Burton was the father of a child born out of wedlock, a revelation that silenced his public judgments on President Clinton's morality. In May 2004, the word got another 15 minutes of fame when it was used in the family-friendly Blondie comic strip, provoking serious outrage among some readers US, 1957. 2 a condom. Combines SCUM (semen) with a conventional container; however it is not until the 1960s that 'scum' stands apart from this usage US, 1960. 3 a prostitute US, 1973

scumball noun a despicable person US, 1991 scumbucket noun a despised person US, 1983 scumff verb to massage the genitals through clothing. Etymology uncertain UK, 2001 scumhead noun a contemptible person US, 1995 scummer noun a despicable lowlife whose services are for hire. Perhaps from the C14 sense of the word as 'a pirate' US, 1985 scummy adjective unpleasant; despicable. Figurative use of the conventional sense (polluted) US, 1932 scum of the earth noun an extremely unappealing, unattractive or despicable person US, 1986

scum out verb to live in filth US, 1993 scumpig noun a low, despicable person UK, 1997 scumpteen noun a vague, large number US, 1946 scum-scrubber noun an employee of a pornography arcade whose job is to clean up the semen left by customers US, 1986 scumsucker noun a low, despicable person US, 1971 scum-sucking adjective despicable US, 1982

scunds noun a second helping US, 1966 scunge noun 1 filth AUSTRALIA, 1966. 2 a stingy person; a miser AUSTRALIA, 1988. 3 a habitual cadger AUSTRALIA, 2003

scunge verb to cadge something NEW ZEALAND, 1995 scungeel noun a low-life, a disreputable person. From the Italian scungili, (squid) US, 1977 scungies noun a pair of men's close-fitting and revealing nylon swimming trunks AUSTRALIA, 2003

scungy adjective sordid; dirty AUSTRALIA, 1983

scunner noun a nuisance. First recorded of persons in 1796, and of things in 1865 UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

scup verb to swing. Rarely heard US, 1951 scupper noun a promiscuous woman. From an earlier sense as 'a prostitute', in turn deriving from 'a hole in a ship's side' UK, 1970 scupper verb to put an end to something; to thwart someone; to destroy something UK, 1918 scurb noun a suburban skateboarder who confines his skateboarding to streets and sidewalks US, 1984 scurve noun a graceless person; someone who is disliked US, 1951 scurvy adjective 1 unkempt; sloppy; ugly US, 1965. 2 very thin US, 2001 scuse; 'scuse verb to excuse someone; especially in, or as an abbreviation of, the phrases: excuse me, please excuse me. In conventional use from C15, and considered a colloquial slovening since C19 UK, 1967 scut noun 1 the end of a cigarette IRELAND, 1984. 2 a contemptible person; someone of bad character IRELAND, 1975. 3 any menial medical procedure US, 1978 scut verb to ride on the back of a truck or van IRELAND, 1991

scut duty; scut work noun tedious, menial work US, 1960 scattered adjective drunk IRELAND, 2002

scuttlebutt noun gossip, rumours. From the name of the drinking-water cask found on board a ship, around which sailors gathered to gossip US, 1901 scutty adjective filthy; decrepit IRELAND, 1992

scuz noun a dirty, disreputable person US, 1973 scuzbag; scuzzbag noun a despicable, undesirable person. A variation on SCUMBAG US, 1980

scuz rag noun during the Vietnam war, a rag used to wipe floors US, 1991 scuzz verb to be involved in sleazy activities; to keep unpleasant company; to move in low circles UK, 1997 scuzzball noun a despicable person US, 1986 scuzzhead noun a despicable person UK, 1997

scuzzy adjective disgusting US, 1968

scwhag adjective inferior; shoddy US, 1998 seaboard adjective used of an order for take-away food at a restaurant US, 1952 sea daddy noun in the US Navy, a mentor US, 1992 seafood noun a sailor as an object of homosexual desire US, 1963 seafood breakfast noun oral sex performed on a woman in the morning AUSTRALIA, 1985 seafood plate please. An intentionally butchered French s'il vous plaît US, 1984 sea-going bellhop noun a member of the US Marine Corps. Derisive, used by other branches of the armed services to mock the USMC dress uniform US, 1960 seagull noun 1 a person who constantly complains US, 1968. 2 a casual wharfside worker AUSTRALIA, 1965. 3 a person who watches what bets are being made by big spenders and then makes a small bet on the horses favoured by the big spenders US, 1966. 4 a combat pilot who has become reluctant to fly US, 1990. 5 a rugby union player who remains outside tight play in the chance that the ball will break loose NEW ZEALAND, 1975. 6 chicken US, 1945 seam shooter noun a criminal who specialises in blowing up safes by placing small amounts of explosives in the safe's seams US, 1949 seam squirrels noun in circus and carnival usage, body lice US, 1981

Seamus Heaney noun a bikini. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the Irish poet (b.1939) UK, 2003

Sea of Green noun a marijuana growing technique from British Columbia CANADA, 2002 sea pie noun in the Ottawa valley, a Sunday meat dish CANADA, 1998 sea pig noun a fat surfer US, 1988 sea pussy noun the sea anemone. Based on a visual comparison with the vagina BAHAMAS, 1982 sea queen noun a homosexual sailor or ship's steward; a homosexual man with a taste for seamen UK, 2002 sea rat noun a seagull US, 1991 search verb to try to buy illegal drugs US, 1997 search and avoid; search and evade verb used by US forces to describe the activities of the South Vietnamese Army. Not praise US, 1972 searcher noun a prisoner who intimidates other prison inmates who are suspected of carrying drugs UK, 1996 search me I don't know US, 1947 sea stack noun a tall column of granite, created by erosion, just off the shore in the ocean near Newfoundland CANADA, 2002 sea story noun a tale about the teller's exploits, real and imagined US, 1961 seat noun a police officer assigned to ride as a passenger with another officer US, 1970 seat verb to perform anal sex on someone AUSTRALIA, 1950 seat back! used to reserve your seat as you briefly leave the room US, 1996 seat cover noun an attractive woman. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1976

Sea Thing noun the Sea King helicopter, acquired for the Canadian Navy from Sikorsky in 1963 CANADA, 1995

seatman noun 1 in prison, a male homosexual who takes the active role in anal sex AUSTRALIA, 1983. 2 in circus and carnival usage, a paid customer, employed to show enthusiasm US, 1981 seat-surf verb to move from empty seat to empty seat in a stadium or auditorium, gradually improving your position US, 1994

Seattle tuxedo noun a clean flannel shirt US, 1997

seaweed muncher noun a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1987

Sebastian Coe; sebastian; seb noun the toe. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of a celebrated British athlete (b.1956) who went into politics UK, 1992 sec noun 1 a second UK, 1909. 2 a capsule of secobarbital sodium (trade name Seconal™), a central nervous system depressant UK, 1996 seccy noun 1 a second. An elaboration of SEC rather than an abbreviation of 'second' AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 a capsule of secobarbital sodium (trade name Seconal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1969

secko; secoo; sekko noun a sexual deviant; a sex offender AUSTRALIA, 1949

seco noun Seconal™, a barbiturate US, 1972 second noun a close friend BARBADOS, 1965

second balloon noun a second lieutenant US, 1956 second banana noun a person in a supporting role. Originally applied to a supporting comedian US, 1953 second base noun 1 in a teenage categorisation of sexual activity, a level of foreplay, most usually referring to touching a girl's breasts. The exact degree varies by region or even school US, 1977. 2 in casino games of blackjack, the seat or player in the centre of the table directly across from the dealer US, 1980. 3 in a deck of playing cards, the card second from the bottom of the deck US, 1988

Second Chance University noun Sir George Williams University CANADA, 2002

second-generation joint noun a marijuana cigarette made with the remains of other marijuana cigarettes US, 1977 second hat noun an assisant drill instructor, US Marine Corps. Usually the most verbally abusive of the three drill instructors who work together as a team US, 1991 second John noun a second lieutenant US, 1956 second nuts noun in poker, a good hand that is beaten by a better hand US, 1976 seconds noun 1 sex with someone who has just had sex with someone else. Often preceded by the adjective 'sloppy' US, 1966. 2 a second helping of food US, 1992. 3 playing cards that have been altered for cheating US, 1950. ► the seconds; touch of the seconds second thoughts; a fear of consequences. Metropolitan Police slang UK, 1954 second second noun in the television and film industries, an additional second assistant director US, 1990 second-story man noun 1 a burglar US, 1886. 2 a skilled card cheat who deals the second card in a deck US, 1988 second to none noun heroin UK, 2003 secret squirrel noun an intelligence operative. In military use in Northern Ireland during the 1970s; from the animated cartoon hero created by Hanna Barbera and first seen in his own television show in 1965 UK, 1979 seducing vampires adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle CANADA, 2001 see noun a visual inspection US, 1973 see verb 1 to understand something; to believe something.

Elaborated in the wordplay: "I see," said the blind man, as he put down his hammer and saw.' US, 1850. 2 to have the ability to read music UK, 1955. ► see a brown friend out to the coast to defecate UK, 2002. ► see a man about a dog to go to the toilet. Jocular and euphemistic UK, 1885. ► see it coming a mile off to predict an obvious event, often only with the benefit of hindsight. An elaboration and intensification of 'see it coming' UK, 1966. ► see red to be angry UK, 1901. ► see Steve to use cocaine US, 1952. ► see the colour of your money to see your money; to be paid UK, 1718. ► see you coming to take advantage of your gullibility UK, 1937 seed noun 1 a child US, 1998. 2 a person who is hopelessly out of touch with current fashions and trends. A shortened form of HAYSEED US, 1968. 3 in a deck of playing cards, an ace US, 1988. 4 in private poker games, a one-dollar betting chip US, 1971. 5 a dollar US, 1961. 6 the butt of a marijuana cigarette US, 1982 seed money noun money needed to start a business US, 1943 seeds noun marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. Usage is generally as a singular noun US, 1969 seeds and stems noun the detritus of marijuana, unsmokeable but a reminder of what was US, 1971 seed spitter noun the penis US, 2001 seedy adjective 1 ill, unwell UK, 1858. 2 in car repair, rusty US, 1992 seedy rom noun a compact disc (CD-ROM) which is sexually explicit CANADA, 1995

seeing red adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999 seeing-to noun 1 the act of sexual intercourse, generally considered as the man doing it to the woman. A sense of aggression is implied; consider the contemporaneous 'seeing-to' (a beating) UK, 1985. 2 a beating. Often as 'a proper seeing-to' UK, 1968 seek verb ► seek the sheets to crawl into bed US, 1967 seek and search noun a church. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 seen! used for registering agreement or approval. Originally West Indian JAMAICA, 1967 seen? understood? Originally West Indian UK, 1994 see off verb to attend to something; to defeat someone UK, 1915 see seven stars noun strong, illegally manufactured whisky US, 1999 see the Chaplain! used for silencing a soldier who complains excessively US, 1941 see ya round like a Polo goodbye. A variation on SEE YOU ROUND LIKE A RECORD, playing on the shape of a Polo™ mint UK, 1996

see ya, wouldn't want to be ya goodbye US, 1993 see you around campus goodbye. Jocular US, 1972 see you, Jimmy used as an aggressive or threatening address to a male stranger. A cliché in the stereotypical drunken Scotsman's vocabulary. Tartan hats with a wild fringe of ginger hair, intended as a comic representation of the generic JOCK, are marketed as 'See You Jimmy hats' UK, 2001 see you later, alligator goodbye. From the use of GATOR as an all-purpose form of male address. A catchphrase to which the automatic response was 'in a while, crocodile'; in vogue around 1956, when Bill Haley and His Comets had great success with the song 'See You Later Alligator' (although the actual call and response in the lyric was a slight variation: 'See you later alligator, after a while crocodile') US, 1956 see you next Tuesday used as an insider's code for 'cunt'. The 'see you' make the 'cu' and the initials 'nt' follow. See You Next Tuesday is the title of Ronald Harwood's 2002 adaptation and translation of Francis Veber's 1993 play Le Diner De Cons UK, 1978

see you round like a record noun goodbye UK, 1978

seg; seggie noun in prison, segregation; a segregation unit US, 1967 seggy noun a capsule of secobarbital sodium (trade name Seconal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1967 sei-cordi box noun a six-string guitar. Polari; a combination of Italian sei; SEI; SEI (six) and corda with BOX (a guitar) UK, 1984 seized verb ► seized of in Quebec, gripped by, seized by (an idea or project, for example) CANADA, 2002 seizure! used as a cry of triumph, no matter how petty the success. Reported as a children's usage, Hay-on-Wye, May 2003 UK, 2003 seldom seen noun a queen; the Queen. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 selecta! used as an expression of approval or pleasure. Deriving from a dance music term for a DJ, via BO SELECTA! (expressing approval of a DJ's performance). Partly popularised in the UK in the late 1990s by Ali G (comedian Sacha Baron-Cohen) UK, 2003 selector; selecta noun a DJ. A shortening of 'music selector', used in modern dance culture, especially in the term BO SELECTA! UK, 1999 self-love noun masturbation UK, 2003 self-propelled sandbag noun a US Marine. US Army Gulf war usage US, 1991 self-toast verb to incriminate yourself. Office jargon UK, 2005

Selina Scott; selina noun a spot (a skin blemish). Rhyming slang, formed from the name of a UK television presenter and newspaper columnist UK, 1992 sell verb 1 to convince someone of something; to trick someone US, 1996. 2 to gamble on a result lower than the bookmaker's favoured spread UK, 2001. ► sell a hog to scare someone by bluffing US, 1990. ► sell a pup to swindle someone UK, 1901. ► sell backside to prostitute yourself, literally or figuratively SINGAPORE, 2002. ► sell Buicks to vomit US, 1978. ► sell someone down the river to betray someone US, 1927. ► sell tickets to engage in ritualistic, competitive insulting US, 2001 seller noun a gambler who bets on a result lower than the bookmaker's favoured spread UK, 2001 sell-out noun 1 an act of betraying principle or loyalty US, 2001. 2 in pool, a missed shot that leaves your opponent with a good shot US, 1978 sell out verb 1 to betray a cause of conviction, especially for financial reward. Around long before the 1960s, but promoted and glorified in the idealistic haze of the 60s US, 1888. 2 to vomit after drinking to excess NEW ZEALAND, 2002 selohssa noun used as a nonce name for a person or company. 'Assholes' spelled backwards. Peter Tamony collected examples from the San Francisco telephone directory in 1965, 1966 and 1967. In 1953, Welsh playwright Dylan Thomas introduced the village of 'Llareggub' ('bugger all' backwards) in the play Under Milkwood US, 1965 semi noun 1 a semi-detached house UK, 1912. 2 a semi-final US, 1942. 3 a semi-trailer AUSTRALIA, 1956. 4 the penis in a state between flaccid and erect US, 1994

semi-retired adjective unable to find work US, 1995

semolina noun a professional cleaner. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 semolina pilchard nickname Detective Sergeant Norman Pilcher of the Metropolitan Police. Probably coined by the Beatles. Pilcher secured a small celebrity and lasting notoriety in the late 1960s, by arresting, or attempting to arrest, pop stars such as Brian Jones of the Rolling Stones, and John Lennon and George Harrison of the Beatles, for drug offences, and was himself later imprisoned for corruption UK, 2001 semper fi used as a shortened version of the US Marine Corps creed – semper fidelis (always faithful). Used as a greeting, an affirmation, and in practically any situation to mean practically anything US, 1986

semper Gumby adjective flexible US, 1991 sen; sens noun marijuana. A clipping of SENSIMILLIA UK, 1998 senator noun in a game of poker, a dealer who does not play US, 1988 send noun the phase of a confidence swindle when the victim is sent to retrieve money US, 1940. ► put on the send in a confidence swindle, to send the victim off to retrieve the money that will pass to the swindlers US, 1972 send verb 1 to excite someone; to please someone US, 1935. 2 to produce a drug intoxication US, 1950. ► send a boy to do a man's work in poker, to make a small bet with a good hand in the hope of luring players with inferior hands to continue betting US, 1951. ► send out a salesman in gin, to discard in a manner that is designed to lure a desired card from an opponent US, 1965.

► send someone packing to dismiss someone; to reject someone with immediate effect UK, 1594. ► send the little sailor to sea to have sex US, 2001. ► send to Long Beach to flush a toilet. Long Beach is a community to the south of Los Angeles US, 1968

send down verb to commit someone to prison US, 1840 sender noun something or someone that arouses or excites. Originally (mid 1930s) a jazz term referring to a musician who excites and inspires a jazz band; in the early 1940s extended to general usage. Often emphasised as SOLID SENDER US, 1935 send-off noun 1 a funeral. A specialised use of the sense relating more generally to any journey US, 1876. 2 an occasion at which friendly good wishes are offered to someone leaving a current situation (for a journey or different employment, etc) US, 1841 send off verb 1 to apprehend or arrest someone AUSTRALIA, 1956. 2 to steal something AUSTRALIA, 1950

send-up noun a satirical act; a parody. From the phrasal verb SEND UP UK, 1958 send up verb 1 to mock someone or something satirically or parodically UK, 1931. 2 to sentence someone to prison US, 1852

senile street noun an area in a hospital or nursing home frequented by senile patients AUSTRALIA, 1987 senior moment noun a short interval in which an older person succumbs to a mental or physical lack of energy or consistency US, 1996 sense; sens noun marijuana. An abbreviation of SENSIMILLIA US, 1984

sensi; sensee noun marijuana. Clipped from SENSIMILLIA JAMAICA, 1983

sensimillia; sinsemilla; sinse noun a very potent marijuana harvested from a hybrid cannabis plant with seedless buds. From the Spanish sin se milla (seedless). Celebrated in song by 'Cocaine will blow your brain, but sinsemilla is IR-IE!' by Yellowman, quoted in Waiting For The Man, Harry Shapiro, 1999 JAMAICA, 1982 seppo noun an American. From SEPTIC AUSTRALIA, 1985

Sept. 10 adjective petty; inconsequential. Teen slang, post 11th September 2001 US, 2002

September morn noun the erect penis. Rhyming slang for HORN UK, 1998

septic noun an American. Short for SEPTIC TANK AUSTRALIA, 1970

septic tank noun an American. Rhyming slang for YANK. Certainly derogatory in origin, and demonstrating a general low-level anti-American sentiment prevalent in Australia. In the same way that POM demonstrates an anti-English sentiment it is always more joking than serious AUSTRALIA, 1967 serenity, tranquility and peace noun STP, a synthetic hallucinogen that appeared on the drug scene in 1967. Because of its claimed psychedelic powers, the drug was named STP after the engine oil additive (scientifically treated petroleum), with this trinity of virtues produced through back-formation US, 1972 sergeant from K company noun in a deck of playing cards, a king US, 1988 sergeant-major noun in the dice game crown and anchor, a crown. From 'crown', an army colloquialism for 'sergeant-major' UK, 1961 serial speedball verb to use cocaine, cough syrup and heroin in a continual cycle over a 1–2 day period UK, 1998 serio adverb in a serious manner. This corruption of 'seriously', making use of the familiarising suffix, especially common in Dublin colloquial speech IRELAND, 1996 serious adjective 1 used to enhance or intensify UK, 1982. 2 seriously ill. Indian English INDIA, 1979 serious chep noun intimate sexual contact; sexual intercourse. An intensified CHEP (a kiss) IRELAND, 2001 serious headache noun a gunshot wound to the head US, 1982 seriously adverb used to intensify or enhance US, 1981 serpent noun a railway pointsman. From the snake-like 'S' on the pointsman's union pin US, 1977

Serpico; Serpico 21 noun cocaine; crack cocaine. From the film Serpico, 1973 UK, 1998 serve verb 1 to insult someone in a semi-formal quasi-friendly competition. After 'serve' (a criticism) AUSTRALIA, 2000. 2 to humiliate someone; to hit someone US, 1989. 3 to sell drugs to someone US, 1990. 4 in card games, to deal US, 1988. ► serve you right; serves you right used as an expression of satisfaction that you have got your just deserts UK, 1837 server noun a person who hands crack cocaine to a buyer as part of a multi-layered selling operation US, 1994 service stripes noun bruises, punctures and sores visible on the skin of an intravenous drug user US, 1973 serving noun a beating AUSTRALIA, 2002

servo noun a service station AUSTRALIA, 1994

sesh noun 1 a period of sustained drinking. A shortening of SESSION UK, 1985. 2 a session US, 1982

sess; sces; sezz noun potent marijuana. Variations on SENSIMILLIA US, 1982 session noun 1 a prolonged period of steady drinking AUSTRALIA, 1949. 2 an instance of sexual intercourse US, 1997. 3 any period of time spent scooter-riding with friends UK, 2000. 4 a series of waves US, 1963 session; sesh verb to concentrate effort on a single objective US, 1995 set noun 1 a neighbourhood; a specific place in a neighbourhood where friends congregate US, 1965. 2 a neighbourhood faction of a gang US, 2001. 3 a party, especially a party with music US, 1966. 4 a group of breaking waves AUSTRALIA, 1963. 5 a woman's breasts AUSTRALIA, 1967. 6 in horse or dog racing, a wager or the cumulative amount of wagers taken against a particular contestant AUSTRALIA, 1988. 7 a still used in the illegal production of alcohol US, 1974. 8 in prison usage, a continuance of a parole hearing US, 1981. ► have a set on to be hostile towards someone AUSTRALIA, 1866 set verb to make a bet with someone AUSTRALIA, 1915. ► set (her) down in trucking, to make a sudden stop US, 1971. ► set in the woods in lobstering, to set traps close to the shore US, 1978. ► set the centre in the gambling game two-up, to ensure that the spinner's wager is covered by the other players AUSTRALIA, 1930. ► set them up to organise a round of drinks UK, 1959 set adjective having a wager settled upon AUSTRALIA, 1915 set about verb to attack or assault someone UK, 1879 set back verb to cost, especially to cost a great deal UK, 1856 set in concrete adjective immutable; unalterable. A variation of SET IN STONE UK, 2002 set in stone adjective immutable; unalterable. A figurative application of the conventional sense UK, 2003 set joint noun a carnival game which is rigged to prevent players from winning US, 1968 setter; setta adjective seven; seven (pre-decimal) pence UK, 1859 settle verb ► settle your hash to subdue you; to silence you; to defeat you; to kill you UK, 1803 settler noun in an illegal betting operation, the person who determines the final odds on an event after all bets are taken US, 1964 settlers noun dice that have been weighted and are thrown with an altered cup with great effect by a skilled cheat US, 1963 set-up noun 1 an organisation or establishment UK, 1959. 2 an arrangement, organisation or situation US, 1890. 3 a scheme for the entrapment of a criminal or the incrimination of an innocent US, 1968. 4 the equipment used to inject a drug US, 1952. 5 a place setting at a dining table US, 1934 set up verb especially of criminals, to arrange circumstances in such a way that the target of this arrangement is rendered vulnerable; to create a victim; to incriminate someone US, 1928 set-up man noun a criminal who identifies, plans and organises crimes US, 1953 seven noun 1 a telephone number. From the seven digits used in US telephone numbers US, 1998. 2 in eastern Australia, a seven-fluid-ounce glass of beer AUSTRALIA, 1972

- seven and seven noun 1 a drink made by mixing equal parts of Seven-Up™ soda and Seagrams Seven Whiskey™ US, 1976. 2 after 1971 in the Vietnam war, seven days of rest and recuperation, followed by seven days of leave US, 1991
- seven and six noun 1 a fix (a difficult position). Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 2 a young Mod. Apparently the MOD favoured tee-shirts from Woolworths costing seven shillings and sixpence UK, 1983
- seven and six verb to fix something. Rhyming slang UK, 1992
- seven and sixer noun a married person. From the cost of a 1960s' wedding licence, seven shillings and sixpence UK, 1998
- Seven Dials noun haemorrhoids. Rhyming slang for PILES, formed on a once notorious area of central London UK, 1998
- seven-eleven noun a small amount of money given to a gambler who has lost all their money, either by a casino or his fellow gamblers US, 1950
- seven-o noun seventy, 70th Street US, 1972
- seven out verb in craps, to roll a seven before making your point, thus losing US, 1974
- seven-ply gasser noun the very best thing US, 1968
- sevens noun ► all the sevens seventy-seven. In Bingo, House or Housey-Housey calling, the formula 'all the' announces a double number UK, 1943
- seventeen-wheeler noun an eighteen-wheel truck with a flat tyre US, 1976
- seventh cavalry noun any agency that promises or effects an eleventh-hour rescue or last-minute relief from an awkward situation UK, 2000
- seventh wave noun the difficulty that follows many others and proves to be climactic disaster. From the belief that every seventh wave is larger than the six before or after US, 1975
- seven-up noun crack cocaine. A pun on 'coke' as a soft drink and drug US, 1993
- seven-year itch noun a (notional) need to be unfaithful to your spouse after seven years of marriage UK, 1936
- severe clear adjective of the weather, perfect for flying CANADA, 1989
- severe like noun a strong desire for something US, 1984
- severely adverb very much UK, 1854
- sew verb ► sew the button on in oil drilling, to finish a job US, 1954
- sewer noun 1 a vein, especially a prominent vein suitable for drug injection US, 1994. 2 in pool, a pocket that is receptive to shots dropping US, 1990. 3 a person who cannot keep a secret US, 1955
- sewer hog noun a ditch digger US, 1962
- sewer trout noun white fish of unknown origin US, 1945
- sewing machine noun a small, foreign-made car. Drag racing usage, heard before the great influx of foreign cars into the US US, 1970
- sewn-up adjective finished UK, 1966
- sew up verb to organise or achieve a satisfactory conclusion; to ensure a favourable outcome UK, 1904
- sex noun the genitals. A literary nicety UK, 1938
- sex verb to have sex with someone US, 1966
- sex appeal noun false breasts US, 1981
- sexational; sexsational adjective very sexy; very sexually attractive US, 1928
- sex-bomb noun a sexually alluring person, especially a woman, particularly one with exaggerated but stereotypical sexuality UK, 1963
- sexcapade noun a sexual adventure. A combination of 'sex' and 'escapade' US, 1955
- sex case noun a sex offender UK, 1996
- sex changer noun a computer cable with either two male or two female connectors US, 1991
- sex down verb to make a thing less appealing. Derived as an antonym for SEX UP UK, 2003
- sexed up adjective sexually aroused UK, 1942
- sexile verb to force your roommate from your shared housing while you have sex US, 2000
- sex kitten noun an especially attractive young woman who exploits her appeal. Coinage apparently inspired by film actress Brigitte Bardot (b.1933) UK, 1958
- sexo; sex-oh noun 1 a sex offender NEW ZEALAND, 1963. 2 a person who is preoccupied with sex NEW ZEALAND, 1959
- sexpert noun an expert on sexual behaviour. Mix 'sex' with an 'expert' US, 1924
- sexploitation noun the exploitation of sexual imagery for commercial gain. A combination of 'sex' and 'exploitation' US, 1998
- sexpot noun a sexually exciting woman US, 1957
- sexstasy; sextasy noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, taken with the erection enhancing drug Viagra™ US, 1999
- sex tank noun a holding cell reserved for homosexual prisoners US, 1963
- Sexton Blake; sexton noun 1 a fake; a forgery. Rhyming slang, formed on the name of a fictional detective who first appeared in 1893 and continued in print well into the 1960s. British artist Tom Keating, 1917–84, famously forged works attributed to Gainsborough, Degas, Boucher, Fragonard, Renoir and Modigliani; in 1976 he confessed to having painted 2,000 Sexton Blakes UK, 1984. 2 a cake. Rhyming slang, formed on the fictional detective. Considered obsolete by Julian Franklyn, A Dictionary of Rhyming Slang, 1960; however, Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992, records it as 'long established' UK, 1960. 3 a 'take' in television and films. Rhyming slang, formed on the fictional detective UK, 1972
- sex up verb to present a thing in a manner designed to make it more attractive and appealing. Recorded in 1984 as 'to render a manuscript (more) sexually exciting' UK, 1984
- sex wagon noun a car that appeals to girls US, 1954
- sexy adjective used to describe anything considered to be desirable, very interesting or influential. A figurative application of the sense as 'sexually attractive' UK, 1980
- sey; sei; sa; say adjective six. Polari, from Italian sei UK, 1996
- sez verb says UK, 1844
- shack noun 1 a house that exudes wealth and invites burglary US, 1950. 2 especially in Tasmania, and south and west Australia, a holiday house of any size or quality AUSTRALIA, 1998. 3 a room, apartment or house US, 1955. 4 any room where a citizens' band radio set is housed US, 1976. 5 a direct hit on the target by a bomb US, 1991. 6 a sexual episode US, 1995. 7 a rear brakeman on a train US, 1977 ► see: CHIAC
- shack verb 1 to live together as an unmarried couple. Very often used in the variant 'shack up' US, 1935. 2 to spend the night with someone, sex almost always included. Not the ongoing relationship suggested by the older term SHACK UP US, 1996
- shacker noun a sexual partner who spends the night but does not live with you US, 2002
- shack house noun a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977
- shacking noun a party or social gathering US, 1972
- shack job noun a person with whom you are living and enjoying sex without the burdens or blessings of marriage; the arrangement US, 1960
- shack rat noun a soldier who has moved in together with a woman US, 1947
- shack-up noun a person with whom you are living and enjoying sex without the burdens or blessings of marriage US, 1960
- shack up verb 1 to take up residence, usually of a temporary nature US, 1942. 2 to provide living quarters for a lover US, 1960
- shaddup! be quiet! A slurring of SHUT UP! UK, 1959
- shade noun 1 a black person. Offensive US, 1865. 2 a suntan US, 1997. 3 a legitimate business that acts as a cover for an illegal enterprise US, 1978. 4 detached superiority US, 1994
- shade verb 1 to reduce something slightly and gradually US, 1997. 2 to mark the backs of cards with a subtle shading of the existing colour US, 1979 shades noun 1 sunglasses US, 1958. 2 police IRELAND, 1997

shade spade noun an Arab. Offensive US, 2000 shade-tree mechanic noun an amateur car mechanic of dubious skill, questionable honour and the best of intentions US, 1992

shadie noun a man, especially a young man, who spends his life on the edges of crime US, 1976 shadow noun 1 a collector for an illegal money lender US, 1950. 2 a truck that is not equipped with a citizens' band radio following one that is US, 1976

shadows noun dark glasses US, 1955 shady adjective 1 giving an impression of dishonesty; disreputable; not quite honourable UK, 1862. 2 detached, aloof US, 1994 shady lady noun a prostitute US, 1976 shaft noun 1 the penis UK, 1772. 2 an act of sexual intercourse; hence, a woman objectified sexually. From the verb UK, 1984. 3 poor treatment US, 1959. 4 a crankshaft. Hot rodder usage US, 1948. 5 the leg US, 1970 shaft verb 1 from a male perspective, to have sex. After SHAFT (the penis) UK, 1962. 2 to mistreat or abuse US, 1959 shaft artist noun a person who is prone to cheat or behave unfairly US, 1977 shafted adjective in deep trouble; in such deep trouble that your previous position is unrecoverable. Synonymous with FUCKED UK, 1994 shafter noun a single ox in an ox-pull contest or for work CANADA, 1985 shafting noun trouble; unfair treatment UK, 2000

shaftsman noun a person who is prone to cheat or behave unfairly US, 1977

shafty adjective (used of a thing) fashionable, popular US, 1951 shag noun 1 an act of sexual intercourse UK, 1999. 2 a sexual partner UK, 1788. 3 a friend NEW ZEALAND, 1984. 4 in trucking, a small trailer used for city driving US, 1971. ► like a shag on a rock all alone AUSTRALIA, 1845 shag verb 1 to have sex. Possibly from obsolete 'shag' (to shake); usage is not gender-specific UK, 1788. 2 to leave US, 1851. 3 to run someone down; to arrest someone US, 1911. ► shag ass to leave US, 1964. ► shag senseless to have sex to the point of exhaustion. Generally used as a boast UK, 2000 shagadelic adjective exciting; great. Combining two clichés of 'swinging sixties London' (from a Hollywood perspective): SHAG (to have sex) and 'psychedelic' (of mind-expanding drugs). Usage has added sexual overtones to this comic coinage which appears just once in the film Austin Powers, The Spy Who Shagged Me: 'New case? Very shagadelic, Basil!' (Mike Myers, 1998) US, 1998

shaganappi adjective worthless CANADA, 1961

shagbox noun the vagina UK, 2001

shagbucket noun a worthless or despicable person. Related to obsolete synonym 'shag-bag' UK, 1997 shagged; shagged out adjective exhausted. From SHAG (to have sex); compares with FUCKED (exhausted) UK, 1932

shagger noun a person, especially a male, who has sex UK, 2002

shagger's back noun any backache, whether or not produced by over-exertion in sex AUSTRALIA, 1988 shagging adjective used as an intensifier. A direct replacement of FUCKING UK, 2000

-shagging- infix used as an intensifier UK, 2002 shagging Nora! used as a register of surprise, anger, amazement, etc UK, 1982

shagging pad noun a room kept for sexual encounters AUSTRALIA, 1995

shagging room noun in a brothel, a room or cubicle set aside for the business of sex UK, 2002 shag-happy adjective obsessed with sex AUSTRALIA, 1994 shag me! used for expressing surprise NEW ZEALAND, 1998

shag-merchant noun a man who is only interested in having sex (and not a relationship) UK, 2002 shag-nasty noun an unpopular person UK, 1961 shag pad noun a premises used for sexual liaisons UK, 2003 shag-rag noun a tabloid newspaper that relies on sexual content for a healthy circulation. Combines SHAG (the sex act) with RAG (a newspaper) UK, 2000 shagspot noun a pimple (to which adolescents are prey); hence, also used as a nickname (not necessarily for the afflicted) UK, 1968 shagstastic adjective wonderful, especially in a sexual context UK, 2002 shag wagon; shaggin wagon; shaggin'-wagon noun a panel van, station wagon or the like used for sexual encounters AUSTRALIA, 1966 shag-worthy adjective sexually attractive; sexy AUSTRALIA, 1985

shaka adjective excellent. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981

shaka used as a greeting or to signify fraternity. Spoken in conjunction with a hand signal that emphasizes the little finger and thumb. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981 shake noun 1 a moment, an instant of time. Most often used in all manner of elaborations: 'in a shake' (C19), 'in the shake of a hand' (C19, probably obsolete), 'in a brace of shakes' (mid-C19), 'in a couple of shakes' (mid-C19), 'in two shakes' (late C19); later C20 variations are more whimsical: 'in the shake of a lamb's tail', 'in the shake of a dead lamb's tail', 'in two shakes of a lamb's whiff-whoff' (mid-C20), 'two shakes of a donkey's tail' and 'two shakes of a monkey's tail' UK, 1962. 2 marijuana, especially the resinous matter that is shaken to the bottom during transit or what remains after the buds have been removed US, 1978. 3 any adulterant added to cocaine powder US, 1989. 4 a party, a rent party US, 1946. 5 a blunt demand for money supported by the threat of physical force. A shortened form of SHAKEDOWN US, 1953 ► see: SHAKE AND SHIVER shake verb 1 to search a person's clothing and body US, 1972. 2 to get rid of someone or something US, 1872. ► shake a leg to hurry, to get a move on. Extends from the sense 'to dance'; generally used in the imperative US, 1904. ► shake hands (of a male) to urinate. The indirect object has been euphemistically omitted AUSTRALIA, 1962. ► shake hands with an old friend 1 used by a male as a jocular euphemism when excusing himself to go and urinate US, 1994. 2 (of a male) to masturbate. After the previous sense UK, 1984. ► shake hands with him 1 (of a male) to urinate. An allusion to the penis UK, 1984. 2 (of a male) to masturbate UK, 1984. ► shake hands with Mr Right (of a male) to urinate. Mr Right is what every woman is searching for, hence this humorous reference to the penis UK, 1960. ► shake hands with my friend (of a male) to urinate. A humorous allusion to the penis; a variation of SHAKE HANDS WITH AN OLD FRIEND UK, 2000. ► shake hands with the Devil (of either sex) to masturbate US, 1975. ► shake hands with the unemployed (of a male) to urinate. The notion behind 'unemployed' is a wry admission that the man in question has not been getting any sex of late AUSTRALIA, 1972. ► shake hands with the wife's best friend (of a male) to urinate; to masturbate AUSTRALIA, 1968. ► shake leg to idle SINGAPORE, 2002. ► shake the bushes; shake the leaves; shake the trees to look for the police, especially so as to warn other drivers. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1976. ► shake the leaves in a group of trucks travelling down the motorway together, to drive in the lead position, risking first contact with police watching for speeders US, 1976. ► shake the trees to drive in the lead position in a group of trucks travelling on a motorway together in a group effort to avoid speeding tickets while driving fast US, 1976. ► shake them up on the railways, to switch wagons or trains US, 1946. ► shake white coconuts from the veiny love tree (of a male) to masturbate. Coinage credited to surreal BBC comedy The League of Gentlemen UK, 2001. ► shake your booty to dance in a lively manner. Literally, 'to shake your buttocks' US, 1978. ► shake your skirt (of a woman) to go dancing US, 1989 shake 'n' vac noun an act of male masturbation, especially when performed by one sexual partner upon another. Shake 'n' Vac™ is a household cleaning product that achieved cult status as the result of a 1970s television commercial. During the all-singing and dancing demonstration, 'Do the Shake 'n' Vac / and put the freshness back' an attractive actress shook the tube-shaped packaging and white powder was scattered – the perfect metaphor UK, 2001 shake and bake noun 1 a non-commissioned officer fresh out of training US, 1985. 2 a portable fire shelter used by workers fighting forest fires US, 1991 shake and shiver; shake noun a river UK, 1960 shakedown noun 1 a search of a person or place US, 1914. 2 an act of extortion US, 1902 shake down verb 1 to search a person or a place US, 1915. 2 to extort US, 1872 shakers noun a bar featuring topless dancers US, 1994 shaker wire noun a motion-detector system used for perimeter security in prisons US, 1996 shakes noun any disease or condition characterised by trembling, especially delirium tremens UK, 1782 shake-up noun a mixture of wine and corn whisky US, 1973

Shakey Isles nickname New Zealand. Noted for its earthquakes AUSTRALIA, 1933

shake your shirt! hurry up! NEW ZEALAND, 2002

shakey side noun the west coast of the US, especially California. A term popularised during the citizens' band radio craze of 1976, recognised by many but used by few. A reference to the seismic instability of the west coast US, 1976

Shakies noun New Zealand. From the sobriquet 'the shakey isles' AUSTRALIA, 1989

Shaky noun a Chevrolet car US, 1965 shaky jake nickname the Jacobs radial engine, powering Canadian-built variants of the Anson, a training and liaison aircraft CANADA, 1995 sham noun a streetwise young male; a friend; an untrustworthy individual IRELAND, 1989 sham verb during the Vietnam war, to fabricate an injury or aggravate a real injury in the hope of being sent home US, 1991 sham-battle verb to engage in youth gang warfare US, 1949 shambolic adjective disordered, chaotic. From 'shambles' UK, 1958 sham dunk noun in poker, a poor hand that wins a pot as a result of successful bluffing US, 1996 shame-face adjective shy CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1935

shameful! used as a humorous admission that you have been cleverly ridiculed US, 1963 shame out verb to ridicule vociferously US, 1963

shameration noun the epitome of shame US, 1963

shammer noun a soldier who prolongs a legitimate absence from the frontline to avoid combat US, 1970 shampoo noun 1 champagne. A soundalike pun UK, 1957. 2 a scene in a pornographic film or photograph depicting a man ejaculating onto a person's hair US, 1995 shamrock noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1998 shamshes noun good-looking men. Possibly back slang from 'smashers' UK, 1947 shamus noun a police detective; a private detective US, 1925 shanghai noun 1 a sudden and unexpected transfer of a prisoner to another facility as a form of punishment AUSTRALIA, 1977. 2 a handheld catapult. Probably from northern British dialect shangie, a variant of shangan, from Scottish Gaelic seangan: 'a cleft stick for putting on a dog's tail' AUSTRALIA, 1863 shanghai verb 1 to abduct someone; to compel someone to do something. From military usage, 'to transfer forcibly' US, 1934. 2 to transfer a prisoner without warning AUSTRALIA, 1980. 3 to detail someone to a task; to enlist someone to do something that they are not entirely willing to do. From US nautical slang describing a method of recruiting sailors consisting of drugs and force US, 1915

Shania Twain; shania noun a pain. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the popular Canadian singer (b.1965) UK, 2003 shank noun a homemade knife or stabbing and slashing weapon US, 1967 shank verb to stab someone, especially with a homemade weapon US, 1955 shanks's pony noun walking, as a mode of transport. Ultimately from 'shank' (the leg) UK, 1898

shant noun a drink; a drinking session UK, 1999

shant verb to drink heavily UK: SCOTLAND, 2002

shantoozy noun a female singer. A corruption of chanteuse UK, 2002 shanty noun 1 a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977. 2 in poker, a hand consisting of three cards of the same rank and a pair. Conventionally known as a 'full house' US, 1988 shanty Irish noun poor Irish immigrants US, 1970

shantyman's smallpox noun marks from hard physical fighting CANADA, 1965 shape noun 1 a person of unconventional physical appearance. Disparaging UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a surfboard AUSTRALIA, 1963 shape verb 1 to improve your behaviour or attitude UK, 1960. 2 to adopt a fighting stance; to prepare to fight UK, 1855 shapes noun dice altered by cheats so as to be not true cubes US, 1950 shape up or ship out! used as a last warning to someone whose ways need mending US, 1956 shareware noun computer software that is freely available but for which the developer asks a payment US, 1988 shark noun 1 an unscrupulous businessman or lawyer given to unethical practice and exploitation. Derives from the voracious appetites and predatory behaviour of the fish UK, 1713. 2 a loan shark US, 1990. 3 a swindler. The variant 'sharkie' also exists UK, 1959 shark verb in a dice game such as craps, to make a controlled (cheating) throw of the dice US, 1950

shark and tatties noun fish and chips NEW ZEALAND, 1984

shark bait noun 1 a person who swims out past the surf at a beach; a person in shark-infested waters AUSTRALIA, 1920. 2 a person with very pale skin. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982

shark city noun Looe, Cornwall UK, 1981

shark-fucker noun a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1987

sharking noun 1 among women, the practice of man-hunting; subsequently also used by men hunting women. Also used in the verb form 'shark'. In 1999, in answer to the question 'What are you doing tonight?' a professional Soho media-type in her mid-20s offered a non-verbal shorthand: she placed both hands palm to palm above her head in imitation of a shark's fin UK, 1999. 2 the illegal loaning of money at extremely high interest rates US, 1974 shark meat noun an easy victim of a cheat, swindler or hustler US, 1990

sharky adjective used of a surfboard nose, pointed US, 1991

Sharon; Shaz noun a stereotypical working-class young woman. Pejorative, in the sense that such a woman is socially unacceptable; from a name widely associated in the 1980s and 90s with that generation and class. Shaz is a diminutive of Sharon UK, 1994

Sharon Stone; sharon noun a telephone, especially a mobile phone. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the US film actress (b.1958) UK, 1998 sharp noun 1 in gambling, a cheat. A shortened form of SHARPER UK, 1797. 2 a number sign (#) on a computer keyboard US, 1991 sharp adjective stylish, fashionable, attractive US, 1944. ► you are so sharp you'll cut yourself used to note someone's (over-)cleverness, also to reprove someone for that over-cleverness; especially implying a sharp-tongued cleverness UK, 1910 sharp and blunt noun the vagina. Rhyming slang for CUNT UK, 1937 sharpen verb ► sharpen the pencil to have sex. Possibly derisive, the use of 'pencil' indicates a small penis US, 2001. ► sharpen your pencil to reduce the price UK, 1997 sharp end noun in any given endeavour, the position which is exposed to the greatest difficulty or criticism; the vanguard. From the nautical use as 'the bow of a ship' UK, 1976 sharper noun in gambling, a cheater UK, 1681 sharpering omee; sharper noun a police officer. Polari; a variation of CHARPERER; CHARPERING OMEE UK, 2002

sharper's tool noun a fool. Rhyming slang UK, 1937 sharpest adjective ► not the sharpest tool in the box applied to someone of below average intelligence UK, 2002

sharpie noun 1 a gambling cheat US, 1942. 2 in pinball, a player who can play for long periods of time without paying because of his ability to win free games US, 1977. 3 a stylishly dressed teenage delinquent. From SHARP (stylish). During the 1960s and 70s only, coming after the BODGIE and WIDGIE and preceding PUNK ROCK AUSTRALIA, 1965. 4 an uncircumcised penis US, 2002 sharpish adverb quickly UK, 1984

sharps noun a hypodermic needle and syringe. Drug addict usage, borrowed from the medical terminology for any skin-piercing device US, 1994 sharpshoot verb to question a speaker after a lecture US, 1968 sharpshooter noun 1 a man whose wife is always pregnant; a man whose children are of the desired sex Fiji, 1994. 2 an intravenous drug user who usually hits a vein on the first attempt to inject a drug US, 1986. 3 in electric line work, a narrow blade shovel used in hard dirt US, 1980. 4 in oil drilling, a long, narrow shovel US, 1954 sharp top noun in a deck of playing cards, an ace US, 1988 shasta noun a sexual partner who is not particularly attractive, but who was available at the time. An allusion to Shasta™ soda, not especially liked but available and inexpensive US, 2001 shat verb ► shat along on my uppers to have fallen on hard times CANADA, 1999. ► shat it to have been frightened into giving up. A variation in the past tense of SHIT IT (to be afraid) UK, 2000 shat on adjective having been insulted and humiliated. The past tense of SHIT ON UK, 2000 shattered adjective 1 very tired, exhausted UK, 1930. 2 emotionally battered; depressed. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1997. 3 very drunk UK, 1962 shave noun a man with a shaved head; a shaved head. Unlike the SKINHEAD, a 'shave' has no racist or Nazi ideology NEW ZEALAND, 1997 shave verb 1 to alter the edges or surfaces of dice for use by a cheat US, 1974. 2 in hot rodding, to remove body trim from a car preparatory to customising the car US, 1950s to 70s. ► shave points to reduce scoring during a sports contest in furtherance of a gambling conspiracy US, 1982 shave and a haircut – two bits describes a particular repeated musical phrase that is characterised by the rhythm of the words in the spoken phrase. This musical RIFF is often credited to guitarist Bo Diddley (b.1928) but the rhythm was already familiar as a pattern of raps used for door-knocking CANADA, 1940 shave off verb to deliver a severe reprimand; to rant disapprovingly on any topic. Royal Navy slang UK, 1989 shave off! used to denote surprise, disgust, frustration or amazement. The Royal Navy is the only arm of the UK military that may allow a beard to be worn, hence the adoption, as expletive, of the order 'Shave off!' UK, 1989 shaver noun 1 a discounter of notes, at high interest rates CANADA, 1946. 2 in the Korean war, a booby trap used by South Korean troops to sabotage North Korean transportation carts US, 1982 shave-tail noun 1 a cigarette stub US, 1949. 2 a newly promoted second lieutenant US, 1970

shazam!; shazzam! used for registering triumph. An incantatory ritual from the comic book character created by Bill Parker and C.C. Beck in 1940 – a metaphorically God-like character whose name is called on by the superhero Captain Marvel in moments of crisis; Shazam is an acronym of Solomon (wisdom), Hercules (strength), Atlas (stamina), Zeus (power), Achilles (courage) and Mercury (speed) US, 1940 she noun 1 cocaine US, 1958. 2 used of an effeminate homosexual man, he UK, 1950. 3 the penis. An owner's usage, in much the same way a boat or a car is often identified UK, 1922 shears noun playing cards that have been trimmed for cheating US, 1961 shebang noun any thing, matter or business at issue at the moment. Usually as 'the whole shebang'. The former senses of 'a hut', 'vehicle' or 'tavern' are all but forgotten US, 1869

shebang verb to ingest cocaine by spraying a solution of cocaine and water up the nose UK, 2002 shebeen noun an unlicensed drinking place. Irish síbhín (illicit whisky) led to original use in Ireland. Adopted in the C20 for use in South African townships and UK West Indian communities IRELAND, 1847

she-bill; she-note noun a two-dollar note US, 1996 shed noun in poker, a hand consisting of three cards of the same rank and a pair. Known conventionally as a 'full house' US, 1988. ► off your shed in a state of mental confusion, insane. A variation of OFF YOUR HEAD UK, 1991 shed verb in poker, to discard a card or cards US, 1967 shedded adjective drunk. Recorded by 'e-cyclopaedia', BBC News, 20th March 2002, with the somewhat oblique explanation 'as in "My shed has collapsed taking most of the fence with it"' UK, 2003

shedder noun a moulting lobster US, 1978

shedful noun a great quantity. A variation of SHED LOAD UK, 2002 shed load; shedloads noun a great quantity. Probably euphemistic for SHITLOAD rather than a genuinely approximate measure UK, 1997 shed row noun in horse racing, the row of barns where horses are stabled US, 1951 sheeba noun a sensimilla variety of marijuana; a type of hashish produced from the pollen of the plant. Derived, perhaps, from CHIBA (a marijuana variety) US, 2003

Sheela noun an effeminate man or boy. Defined by Bernard Share in Slanguage, 2003, as a man or boy who takes an interest in 'affairs properly belonging to women' IRELAND, 2003 sheen noun a car. An abbreviation of 'machine' US, 1968

Sheena noun a melodramatic black homosexual male. From the comic book, Sheena, Queen of the Jungle US, 1980

sheeny noun a Jewish person UK, 1816 sheep noun a woman who volunteers to take part in serial sex with members of a motorcycle club or gang US, 1972 sheep-dipping noun the use of military equipment or personnel in an intelligence operation under civilian cover US, 1989

sheep-fucker noun a New Zealander AUSTRALIA, 1991

sheep-herder noun an inferior driver US, 1976

sheepie noun hair permed into a fleece of curls UK, 2001 sheep's back noun the wool industry AUSTRALIA, 1962

sheep's eyes noun a look that indicates attraction or sexual interest UK, 1811 sheepshagger; sheep shagger noun 1 a native of Wales. Literally, 'someone who has sex with sheep'; derogatory UK, 1997. 2 a New Zealander. Reflecting the high density population of sheep in New Zealand UK, 2000. 3 an Australian NEW ZEALAND, 1999

sheepshagging adjective contemptible UK, 2002 sheepskin noun 1 a university diploma US, 1843. 2 an executive criminal pardon US, 1962. 3 a condom US, 1991 sheero noun the head. English gypsy use UK, 2000 sheesh adjective very stylish; unnecessarily ornamented; elaborate; fussy. Probably from French slang chichi (used of affected looks and manners) UK, 1967 sheesh! used as a mild expletive. Euphemistic for, and possibly a slovening of, 'Jesus!' US, 1997 sheet noun 1 a police record of arrests and convictions. Probably a shortened RAP SHEET, but earlier sources for 'sheet' than this raise questions US, 1958. 2 a one-pound note; £1 in value. This survived, perhaps surprisingly, the introduction of the coin in 1983 UK, 1968. 3 a newspaper US, 1981. 4 one hundred doses of LSD soaked into paper US, 1999 sheet verb to charge someone with a criminal offence. Police use UK, 2002 sheet! used for registering surprise, rage, etc. May be a euphemism or an emphasised pronunciation of SHIT! depending on your needs US, 1995 sheet rocking noun a combination of crack cocaine and LSD UK, 2003 sheets noun a daily report of recent criminal activity, circulated among police going on shift US, 1975. ► between the sheets in bed, especially in a reference to sex UK, 1865 sheet writer; writer noun in an illegal sports betting operation or lottery; a functionary who takes and records bets US, 1949 sheezy noun ► for sheezy a very attractive teenager or young woman. Adopted from FO' SHEEZY (certainly) SOUTH AFRICA, 2003

she-he noun a transvestite or transgender person US, 1970 sheila noun a woman; a girl. From the given name Sheila. In the C19 spelt 'shelah' and 'shaler', settling down to its current form in the early part of the C20. Although not highly derogatory it certainly is not complimentary, and many women take exception to it. Women as a rule do not refer to other women as 'sheilas' AUSTRALIA, 1832 shekels noun money. From the ancient Babylonian unit of weight and coin US, 1883 shelf noun 1 an informer AUSTRALIA, 1916. 2 solitary confinement US, 1967. 3 in circus and carnival usage, an upper sleeping berth US, 1981. ► on the shelf unlikely to marry UK, 1839 shelf verb to inform on someone AUSTRALIA, 1936 shelf life noun the period of time during which something or someone remains popular or in demand. From the literal sense meaning the period of time during which a product may be stored and remain suitable for use US, 1996 shelfware noun a computer program bought but not used US, 1991 shell noun 1 a bullet. From the conventional senses as 'an explosive projectile' or 'cartridge case' UK, 2001. 2 a person who is somewhat lacking in mental faculties US, 2002. 3 a safe with a thin door and walls US, 1950 shell verb to move quickly, most likely derived from Shell Motor Spirit BARBADOS, 1965

shellacking noun a beating; a defeat US, 1931 shell back noun a reactionary. Originally nautical, meaning 'an experienced sailor' UK, 1943 she'll be right everything will be okay AUSTRALIA, 1947

she'll be sweet everything will be all right AUSTRALIA, 1957 shell-like noun the ear. Extracted from the phrase WORD IN YOUR SHELL-LIKE UK, 1994

Shell Mex noun sex. Rhyming slang, formed from the oil company UK, 1992 shell out verb to pay UK, 1801 shells noun money. Probably adapted from 'clamshell' ($1) UK, 1997 shemale noun a transvestite, transsexual or other transgender person; a person with mixed sexual physiology, usually the genitals of a male and surgically augmented breasts US, 1954 shemozzle; schemozzle; schlemozzle noun a fuss; an altercation; a difficulty; an unfortunate incident. An East End corruption of German schlimm (bad) and Hebrew mazel (luck), thus Yiddish schlimazel (an unlucky person) UK, 1889 shenanigans noun trickery; mischief US, 1855 shepherd noun a firefighter assigned to a hook-and-ladder truck. Probably named for the hook which he carries, evocative of a shepherd's staff US, 1954 shepherd verb in croquet, to guide your ball illegally through the hoop by pushing with your mallet US, 1977

Shepherd's Bush noun 1 dismissal from employment. Rhyming slang for THE PUSH, from an area of west London UK, 1992. 2 the face. Rhyming slang for MUSH (the face), from an area of west London UK, 1998

shepherd's pie; shepherd's noun the sky. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 shepherd's plaid; shepherds adjective bad. Rhyming slang UK, 1932 sherbert; sherbet noun alcoholic drink, especially beer; a drink of beer. Originally (late C19) any warm alcoholic drink; ultimately Turkish sherbet (a cooling non-alcoholic drink) AUSTRALIA, 1904 sherbet dab; sherbet noun a taxi, a cab. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 sherbet dip noun a gratuity, a tip. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Sheridan Morley adverb unwell. Rhyming slang for 'poorly'; based on the name of noted author, radio presenter and theatre critic Sheridan Morley (b.1941) UK, 2001 sherm noun 1 a marijuana cigarette that has been supplemented with phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust. From Shermans™, a cigarette brand US, 1982. 2 crack cocaine US, 1993. 3 a social outcast US, 1998 sherman tank; sherman noun 1 an American. Rhyming slang for YANK, based on the main US battle tank of World War 2 UK, 1979. 2 an act of masturbation. Rhyming slang for WANK UK, 1992 sharmed adjective intoxicated with phencyclidine, an animal tranquilizer US, 1990

sherm noun 1 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1981. 2 crack cocaine US, 1994

Sherwin-Williams overhaul noun in the used car business, a paint job and no further effort to repair or restore a car for sale. Sherwin-Williams is a paint manufacturer US, 1992

she-she adjective effeminate BARBADOS, 1965

she's right that's okay; everything is all right AUSTRALIA, 1938

sheuch noun the cleft between the buttocks. Glasgow slang from broader Scots sheuch (a trench, a ditch) UK: SCOTLAND, 1996. ► up the sheuch mistaken UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

shibby noun a man who does housework UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

shibby adjective positive; pleasing. Probably coined by Phil Ashton for the 2001 film Dude Where's My Car? in which it is used as a replacement for nouns, verbs, adjectives, proper names, etc.; the original intention in the film was to use the word to mean 'marijuana'; when all drugs references were removed the word remained. This multi-purpose word is also used as a replacement for any verb, and as a lover's nickname US, 2004 shicer; sheister noun a despicable man; a cheat; a welsher. From German scheisser (a shitter) UK, 1846 shick noun a slice, a share, a rake-off. Perhaps from Schick, a US manufacturer of safety and electric razors since 1926 UK, 1968 shicker; shickered; schicker adjective drunk. From Yiddish shiker (drunk); like many words for 'intoxicated' (or the causes thereof), there are a number of understandably inconsistent spellings, including: 'shiker', 'shikker', 'shickered', 'shikkured' and 'shikkared' AUSTRALIA, 1898 shield noun a police officer US, 1965 shift verb 1 to move or be moved from prison to prison UK, 1996. 2 to engage in sexual activity. The exact type of sexual activity is not specified, unlike, for example, RIDE which implies penetrative sex IRELAND, 1998. ► shift your arse; shift your ass to start moving; to move with speed UK, 1996. ► shift your cock (of a man) to start moving; to move with speed UK, 1997 shiftless noun in the car sales business, equipped with an automatic transmission US, 1953

shifty noun sex with a prostitute US, 1954

shikse; shiksa; shixa noun a Gentile woman UK, 1892 shikse from Dixie noun the ultimate in Gentile femininity. The reference to Dixie is solely for the rhyme; it does not connote that the woman in question is from the south US, 1945 shill noun 1 in a confidence swindle, a confederate who appears to be prospering as a result of the scheme which is designed to fleece the victim US, 1940. 2 a person posing as an enthusiastic and satisfied customer in order to boost sales by a confederate US, 1916 shill verb to pose falsely as a satisfied customer or successful gambler in order to encourage genuine customers, gamblers, etc US, 1914 shillelagh noun 1 in hot rodding, a Chevrolet engine, especially a V-8. Only related to the Irish blackthorn cudgel in sound US, 1965. 2 in horse racing, a jockey's whip AUSTRALIA, 1989 shillings noun money UK, 2000 shillings and pence; shillings noun sense. Rhyming slang, updated to POUNDS AND PENCE in the wake of 1971's decimalisation UK, 1992 shilly-shally verb to be undecided; to hesitate. Rarely heard in the US, but understood in context UK, 1782 shilly-shallying noun indecision, hesitation UK, 1842 shim noun 1 a plastic strip used for forcing locks US, 1968. 2 a person whose sex is not easily guessed on the basis of their hair and clothing US, 1970

shim verb to force a lock with a plastic strip US, 1972 shimmy noun 1 the game chemin de fer US, 1961. 2 an undershirt. Perhaps an abbreviation of 'chemise' NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992

shimmy act noun a feigned seizure US, 1988 shimmy dancer noun a woman who performs sexual dances US, 1962 shindig noun a party. A rural term that moved to the city; it gained wide usage as a result of the musical television programme Shindig which aired on ABC from September 1964 until January 1966 US, 1871 shine noun 1 a black person. Abusive in any context US, 1908. 2 a government bureaucrat. From the shine on the seat of the bureaucrat's trousers US, 1987. 3 alcohol US, 1933. 4 a still used in the illegal production of alcohol US, 1974. 5 an act of oral sex. A possible play on spit and polish as a means of getting a shine; it seems only to have been noted in the plural UK, 2002. ► take a shine to someone to take a liking to someone or something US, 1839 shine verb 1 to speak evasively and avoid a subject, often through flattery US, 1993. 2 to mock someone US, 1993. 3 on the railways, to start a work shift US, 1977. ► shine for someone to appeal to someone US, 1949. ► shine on to ignore something completely US, 1981

shine box noun a nightclub for an exclusively black clientele; a nightclub providing entertainment by black jazz musicians. Combines SHINE (a black person) and otherwise obsolete 'box' (a tavern, from French boîte) US, 1940 shine parlour noun an establishment that sells alcohol illegally, by the drink. The 'shine' is an abbreviated MOONSHINE US, 1978 shiner noun 1 a black eye US, 1904. 2 a torch US, 1950. 3 a railway lantern US, 1946. 4 in carnival usage, a diamond US, 1981. 5 in gambling, an object that reflects, enabling the user to cheat by seeing cards as they are dealt US, 1997 shiner player noun in gambling, a cheat who uses a shiny object to reflect the cards as they are dealt US, 1997 shiney noun a clerk. A reference to the shiny seat of a clerk's trousers – caused by an excess of sitting down. In Royal Air Force use, 2002 UK, 2002 shin fight noun a sham gang fight US, 1958 shingle noun 1 a name plate above a prison cell door US, 1961. 2 a car number plate US, 1976. 3 a lawyer US, 1958. ► a shingle short lacking a full complement of intelligence. From 'shingle' (a wooden roofing tile), thus 'a shingle short of a roof' AUSTRALIA, 1844 shining time noun starting time for work US, 1946

Shinner noun a member of Sinn Féin IRELAND, 1921

shinola noun used as a contrast in describing ignorance as not knowing shit from shinola. Shinola was a patented name (1903) for a boot polish US, 1940 shinplaster noun a dollar CANADA, 1963

shiny and bright; shiny adjective right. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 shiny-arse noun a desk worker. Disparaging. During World War 2 used of base personnel who saw no combat AUSTRALIA, 1945 shiny buttons noun money US, 1947 shiny wing pilot noun a pilot who has just completed his flight instruction training US, 1963 ship noun ► on the ship in prison, an unofficially worded instruction for immediate transfer to another prison UK, 1996 ship; ship out; ship off verb to move or be moved from prison to prison US, 1950 ship driver noun a US Navy officer. Gulf war usage US, 1992 shipfucker noun a rabble rouser; a troublemaker US, 1970 ship in full sail; ship noun ale. Rhyming slang UK, 1857 shipooi noun a woman US, 1954 shippie noun a prostitute focused on visiting sailors as customers NEW ZEALAND, 1999 ship's anchor noun a contemptible person. Rhyming slang for WANKER UK, 2003 ship-tick noun in college, a notification of academic deficiency US, 1968 shiralee noun a swag. Now only historical AUSTRALIA, 1892 shirt-lifter noun a male homosexual AUSTRALIA, 1966 shirty adjective angry, especially if only temporarily; characteristically ill-tempered. From 'shirt' as a symbol of anger in such obsolete phrases as: 'lose your shirt' or 'have your shirt out' (to become angry) UK, 1897

Shishkaberry noun in British Columbia, a local hybrid strain of marijuana CANADA, 2002 shishkebob noun the penis. Rhyming slang for KNOB (the penis); based on the appropriately shaped Turkish dish shish kebab (roast meat on a skewer) US, 1999 shisty adjective cold-hearted, mean US, 2004 shit noun 1 heroin US, 1950. 2 marijuana US, 1946. 3 crack cocaine UK, 1996. 4 narcotics; drugs in general US, 1967. 5 things; possessions US, 1969. 6 anything at all US, 1995. 7 nothing; something of no value IRELAND, 1922. 8 et cetera US, 1999. 9 used as a basis for extreme comparisons US, 1957. 10 a foul mood AUSTRALIA, 1973. 11 trouble US, 1937. 12 a contemptible person. Figurative use of excrement, since C16; often in combination as 'regular shit', 'arrogant shit', etc UK, 1508. 13 criticism UK, 2003. 14 abuse; unfair treatment UK, 1980. 15 nonsense UK, 1930. 16 used as a term of endearment. Especially common in the phrase 'little shit' US, 1970. 17 business US, 1994. 18 in the recording industry, a hit single US, 1982. 19 excrement; an act of defecation. Conventional from the C16, since the C19 has been considered vulgar UK, 1585. 20 used as a meaningless discourse marker UK, 1997. 21 a bombardment, especially with shrapnel. A military usage recorded in use in the Falkland Islands during 1982 UK, 1931. ► all about like shit in a field everywhere UK, 1999. ► drop someone in the shit to get someone blamed and into trouble. A variation of LAND IN THE SHIT; a conventional sense of 'drop' combined with IN THE SHIT (in trouble) UK, 2001. ► fall in the shit to get into trouble. A conventional sense of 'fall' combined with IN THE SHIT; leading to the clichéd envy of 'he could fall in the shit and come out smelling of roses' UK, 1984. ► get your shit together to take control of your personal condition; to get your mind and emotions under control; to become organised. A variation of 'pull yourself together' US, 1969. ► give a shit to care, to be concerned – usually in a negative context UK, 1970s. ► have shit for brains to be stupid; to lack intelligence AUSTRALIA, 1986. ► have shit on the liver to be irritable AUSTRALIA, 1935. ► have your shit together; get your shit together to be focused, organised, self-confident US, 1970. ► in deep shit in serious trouble US, 1999. ► in the shit 1 in considerable trouble. You can be IN DEEP SHIT, FALL IN THE SHIT or LAND (someone else) IN THE SHIT UK, 1937. 2 in combat US, 1987. ► land in the shit to get someone blamed and into trouble. A conventional sense of 'land' (to set down) combined with IN THE SHIT, generally heard as 'landed (someone) in the shit' UK, 1984. ► like shit off a shovel extremely fast, swift, prompt UK, 1998. ► not for shit of a person's ability to do something, not at all, by no means, not in any circumstances UK, 2001. ► run shit down to discuss something; to inform someone; to explain something US, 1970. ► talk shit to say disparaging things UK, 1993. ► the shit the best US, 1990. ► the shit will fly there will be trouble UK, 1974. ► three kinds of shit a lot of trouble AUSTRALIA, 1995. ► treat someone like shit to treat someone in a disdainful or humiliating manner UK, 1999.

► up to shit no good; hopeless AUSTRALIA, 1978. ► when the shit hits the fan; when the shit flies the moment when a crisis starts, especially if such trouble has been expected UK, 1966.
 ► you're shit and you know you are used by football fans as a chant to disparage (and enrage) the opposing team and fans UK, 2001

shit verb 1 to defecate. Conventional English for about 500 years from the C14, then, sometime in the C19, slipped into vulgarity UK, 1308. 2 to deceive someone; to lie to someone or stretch the truth. An abbreviated form of BULLSHIT US, 1934. ► shit a brick to have a difficult time accepting something; to react with anger US, 1971. ► shit all over to surpass someone or something by a great degree UK, 2003. ► shit in to win easily or by a large margin AUSTRALIA, 1979. ► shit it to be very nervous or worried; to be thoroughly frightened. An allusion to the bowel-loosening effect of terror UK, 2000. ► shit it in to do something with ease AUSTRALIA, 1992. ► shit nickels to be very frightened US, 1968. ► shit on someone to disparage or abuse someone UK, 1984. ► shit or get off the pot to get out of the way and let someone else try to do it; make your mind up. Originally directed at dice players CANADA, 1966. ► shit the life out of someone to frighten someone. Variation of conventional 'scare the life out of' combined with SCARE THE SHIT OUT OF UK, 1999. ► shit your pants 1 to soil your underpants by accidental defecation UK, 2001. 2 to be terrified. To lose control over your excretory functions is noted as a symptom of extreme terror; however, this is used figuratively (most of the time), often as an exaggeration UK, 1994. ► shit your shorts to behave in a nervous or frightened manner US, 2002. ► shit yourself to be terrified. Losing control over your excretory functions is noted as a symptom of extreme terror; it is used here (and most of the time) in a figurative sense, certainly as an exaggeration UK, 1914 shit adjective 1 inferior; shoddy; valueless; unpleasant; disliked for whatever reason UK, 1930. 2 unfashionable; in poor taste UK, 2001. 3 bad US, 1950. 4 despicable US, 1977. 5 good UK, 1996 shit! used for registering annoyance, frustration, despair, etc UK, 1920 shit a brick!; shit-a-brick!; shit on a brick! used for expressing annoyance, disgust or shock AUSTRALIA, 1968 shit-all noun nothing, nothing at all. A variation of FUCK ALL US, 1981 shit and a shave noun a short sentence of imprisonment. An inference that the sentence is for no more time than it takes to get ready to go out UK, 1996 shit and derision!; shit and corruption!; shit and molasses! used for registering annoyance and frustration. Originally air force, describing weather conditions UK, 1982 shit and git verb to leave quickly US, 1994 shit and shinola noun in poker, three two's US, 1948 shitaree noun a toilet UK, 1994 shit-ass adjective despicable, of poor quality US, 1967 shit-ass; shirt-arse noun a despicable person US, 1942 shitbag noun a despicable person or object UK, 1964 shitbag verb to denigrate or criticise someone or something AUSTRALIA, 1986

shitball noun a despicable person US, 1998 shitbird noun a despicable person US, 1952 shit-blitz noun an intensive media campaign of attack designed to present a negative image of someone or something UK, 2004 shit bowl noun a toilet US, 1967 shit box noun 1 the anus UK, 1997. 2 a despicable person AUSTRALIA, 1979. 3 a small and shoddy dwelling AUSTRALIA, 1995. 4 the Chevrolet Chevette US, 1992

shit-box adjective no good AUSTRALIA, 1995

shitbrains; shit-brain noun a stupid person US, 1970 shit-burner noun a person assigned to the task of cleaning out latrines, dousing the spoils with fuel and burning the mixture. Coined during the Vietnam war US, 1991 shitcan noun 1 any rubbish bin US, 1948. 2 a cheap car US, 1971 shitcan verb 1 to throw something away; to discharge someone from employment US, 1975. 2 to denigrate or criticise someone AUSTRALIA, 1950

shitcan adjective rubbishy UK, 1998 shit-chute noun the rectum US, 1977 shit creek noun ► up shit creek; up shit creek without a paddle; up the creek stranded, in trouble. Embellishments abound US, 1941 shitcunt noun a contemptible person; used as a harsh term of contempt. When neither SHIT nor CUNT is abusive enough this combination may serve UK, 1979 shit disturber noun a troublemaker US, 1977 shite noun excrement; hence rubbish. A variation on SHIT phonetically similar to German Scheiße UK, 1976. ► give a shite to care, to be concerned – usually in a negative context. A variation of GIVE A SHIT UK, 1971 shite adjective 1 poor quality, inferior UK, 1997. 2 awful; unhappy; emotionally upset UK, 2002 shite! used as an expression of frustration, anger, etc UK, 1937 shit-eater noun a coprophiliac US, 1996 shit-eating adjective sycophantic UK, 1974 shit-eating grin noun a broad smile, ingratiating and unctuous US, 1957 shite-awful adjective being of very inferior quality UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

shit eh! WOW! AUSTRALIA, 1972

shitehawk noun a despicable, worthless person UK, 2000 shitehead noun a contemptible person; used as a general term of abuse. A variation of SHITHEAD UK, 1997 shitpoke noun a despicable person US, 1926 shitters noun ► put the shitters up someone to frighten someone UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

shitters adjective scared. From SHIT-SCARED (terrified) and other variations on the theme UK, 2002

shitey adjective faeces-covered; of poor quality UK: SCOTLAND, 1994 shit-face noun 1 a despised person UK, 1937. 2 used as an intensifier of the degree of intoxication US, 1977

shitfaced adjective drunk US, 1968

shitfire! used as an oath US, 1970 shit fit noun 1 a bad case of diarrhoea US, 1975. 2 a tantrum US, 1968 shit-for-brains adjective stupid US, 2003 shit-for-brains; shite-for-brains noun an idiot US, 1994 shit-fuck noun a despicable person AUSTRALIA, 1997 shit happens used for conveying the inevitability of misfortune. A tremendously popular catchphrase in the mid-to late 1980s in the US, spawning dozens of jokes with the predictable punch-line, tee-shirts with lists of various religions' interpretations of the phrase, etc US, 1983 shit-hawk noun a seagull CANADA, 1993

shithead noun an objectionable, obnoxious, despised person UK, 1961 shitheap noun a motor vehicle that is in poor repair or that lacks power AUSTRALIA, 1984

shitheel noun a despicable person US, 1935 shit heroin noun heroin, especially if of poor quality UK, 1950 shithole; shitehole noun 1 a bad place; a dirty, run-down or disreputable place US, 1965. 2 the anus UK, 1937 shithook noun 1 the hand US, 1970. 2 a thoroughly unpleasant person US, 1968. 3 a CH-47 Chinook helicopter. Vietnam war usage US, 1991 shit-hot noun a highly skilled fighter pilot US, 1983 shit hot adjective excellent, wonderful. A positive sense of SHIT intensifies HOT (popular, fashionable) UK, 1961

shithouse noun 1 a toilet bowl; a toilet; a lavatory UK, 1795. 2 a shoddy, dirty, unpleasant place US, 1973. 3 jail or prison US, 1969. 4 an

- extremely unpleasant individual UK, 1999. 5 a coward UK, 2002. ► to the shithouse to hell AUSTRALIA, 1987
- shithouse adjective 1 disgusting, nasty, unpleasant AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 no good; hopeless; abysmal AUSTRALIA, 1973
- shithouse rumour noun gossip. A blunt version of the kinder and gentler 'latrine rumour' US, 1968
- shitkicker noun 1 a tough, belligerent person US, 1954. 2 a country-dweller, a peasant US, 1966. 3 a person employed to do menial jobs AUSTRALIA, 1950. 4 a prostitute. Far less common than the term MUDKICKER US, 1967. 5 a fraudster, especially one who adopts a pose of extreme modesty US, 1981
- shitkickers noun heavy work shoes or work boots US, 1974
- shitless adverb completely, entirely, to a great degree UK, 1936
- shitlips noun a person who talks nonsense. Extended from SHIT (rubbish, nonsense) with 'lips' representing the mouth that emits it US, 1991
- shit list noun an imagined list of those in disfavour US, 1942
- shitload noun a great deal of US, 1991
- shitman used as an intensifier of what follows US, 1967
- shitmobile noun a poor quality motor vehicle AUSTRALIA, 1995
- shit-nasty adjective very unpleasant UK, 2001
- shit off! go away! UK, 1966
- shitogram noun an especially virulent e-mail message US, 1991
- shit on a shingle noun minced or creamed beef on toast. A visual simile in UK military use, possibly of US origin US, 1994
- shit on a string noun an elusive or difficult task US, 1981
- shit or bust verb to make a determined final effort. A less extreme variation of RIP, SHIT OR BUST UK, 2005
- shit order noun a dirty or untidy condition, especially when applied to military accommodation or equipment UK, 1971
- shit-out noun a coward UK, 2000
- shit out verb to run away; to yield UK, 1999
- shit out of luck adjective very unlucky US, 1983
- shitpacker noun an anal-sex enthusiast US, 1964
- shit paper noun toilet paper US, 1969
- shitparcel noun a prison officer UK, 1996
- shitpicker noun a notional menial, demeaning job US, 1971
- shit pie noun a comparative example for anything of no value UK, 1999
- shit pit noun a field-latrine. Military UK, 1995
- Shitport nickname Norfolk, Virginia US, 1982
- shitpot noun 1 a contemptible, worthless individual UK, 1937. 2 a great deal of US, 1968. 3 marijuana of inferior quality. A combination of synonyms SHIT and POT US, 2001
- shitpuncher noun a male homosexual NEW ZEALAND, 1998
- shits noun ► for shits and giggles for no good reason. Something is done, for example, for shits and giggles US, 2001. ► put the shits up someone to frighten someone UK, 2002. ► the shits 1 diarrhoea UK, 1947. 2 the worst US, 1971. 3 fear. Following logically from the earlier sense as 'diarrhoea' UK, 1967
- shit sandwich noun a troubling, odious situation US, 1968
- shit-scared adjective terrified UK, 1958
- shit-shaped adjective used of a prison cell that has been daubed with excrement. A pun on 'ship-shape'. From private correspondence with a serving prisoner in 2001 UK, 2001
- shit, shave, shower, shine used as a jocular reminder of a man's tasks before going out on the town. Multiple variants, probably coined in the US Marine Corps as a pre-liberty litany US, 1968
- shitshover noun a male homosexual. An obvious allusion to anal intercourse UK, 1996
- shitstabber noun a male homosexual UK, 2002
- shit stain noun a stupid, despicable person US, 1997
- shitstain adjective despicable, unpleasant, foolish US, 1995
- shit-stick noun a despised person US, 1964
- shit sticks! used as a mildly profane expression of disappointment US, 1964
- shit-stir verb to tell tales, or spread rumours, with the specific intention of causing trouble. A limited variation of 'stir the shit' UK, 1999
- shit-stirrer noun a troublemaker; a person who heckles or harasses, especially for the fun of it AUSTRALIA, 1971
- shit-stirring noun harassing; heckling; troublemaking AUSTRALIA, 1971
- shit stompers noun heavy work boots US, 1975
- shit stopper noun a prank US, 1981
- shit stoppers noun drain-pipe trousers (a tight-cut, narrow-legged part of a Teddy Boy's 'uniform') UK, 2003
- shitstorm; shit storm noun an extremely serious situation US, 1962
- shit street noun an unpleasant place to be; serious trouble. You can be 'in' or 'up' shit street; a similar location to SHIT CREEK UK, 1961
- shitsure adverb certainly, definitely US, 1981
- shittalay noun a Chevrolet car US, 1992
- shit-talk verb to engage in bragging, insulting conversation US, 2004
- shitted adjective afraid. A variation of SHIT-SCARED UK, 1997
- shitter noun 1 an example of something UK, 2005. 2 a toilet or bathroom US, 1969. 3 a criminal, usually a burglar, who fetishistically defecates at the scene of the crime US, 1970. 4 a liar; a braggart; a bluffer. A shortened form of BULLSHITTER US, 1982. 5 a coward UK, 2000. 6 a horse US, 1958. 7 a prison cell used for solitary confinement US, 1972. 8 the hell. Used as an intensifier AUSTRALIA, 1971
- shit the bed! used for registering wonder or satisfaction. An elaboration of SHIT! UK, 2002
- shit ticket noun a piece of toilet paper AUSTRALIA, 1996
- shitting adjective used as a negative intensifier UK, 1966
- shitting in high cotton (and wiping with the leaves) enjoying prosperous times US, 1984
- shitting-it adjective scared; very nervous UK, 1996
- shittings noun diarrhoea BAHAMAS, 1982
- shitting up noun in prison, a deliberate act of protest by decorating a cell with excrement UK, 1996
- shit train noun a great number; a lot of US, 1989
- shitty noun a bad mood AUSTRALIA, 1979
- shitty adjective 1 awful; of poor quality US, 1924. 2 in a bad mood AUSTRALIA, 1971. 3 drunk US, 2003
- shitty end of the stick noun an unfair position to be in; inequitable treatment UK, 1974
- Shitty Mcshit! used for registering frustration, annoyance, anger, etc. SHIT! intensified by an elaborated reduplication UK, 2000
- shit up verb to scare someone UK, 2000
- shitville noun any remote, forsaken town US, 1977
- shitwork noun any unglamorous occupation, often dirty work UK, 1968
- shitwrap noun a despicable person US, 2001
- shiv verb to stab someone US, 1951
- shiv; chiv; shivvie noun a homemade knife-like weapon, especially one fashioned in prison. Almost certainly evolved from C17 'chive' (knife) US, 1915
- shivaree noun a group mocking US, 1805
- Shiva Skunk noun in British Columbia, a local variety of marijuana CANADA, 2002
- shiver and shake; shiver noun a cake. Rhyming slang UK, 1998
- shivoo noun a party; a celebration. From French chez vous (at your place) AUSTRALIA, 1844
- shivver noun a criminal who attacks victims with a knife US, 1957
- shiznit noun the very best; something of great quality. Used with 'the'. A euphemistic embellishment of THE SHIT US, 1996

shizzle; fo' shizzle certainly, emphatically yes. A hip-hop, urban black coinage; the opening sound of 'sure' elaborated to a pattern; especially in rhyming reduplications, 'fo' shizzle my nizzle' (for sure my nigger), 'fo' shizzle my sizzle' (for sure my sister) and 'fo' shizzle my bizzle' (for sure my brother) US, 2003 shizzle my mizzle fizzle dizzle! used as a contemptuous expression of dismissal. Popular hip-hop cryptography disguising 'suck my mother fucking dick!' US, 2003

shizzy adjective great UK, 1993 shlemiel; schlemiel; schlemihl noun a bungler with chronic bad luck. Yiddish. During the opening montage of the US situation comedy Laverne and Shirley (ABC, 1976–83), the lead characters, played by Penny Marshall and Cindy Williams, skip down a Milwaukee sidewalk singing '1–2–3–4–5–6–7–8, Shlemiel, shlamazzel, Hassenpepper Incorporated', giving 'shlemiel' its highest profile to date US, 1948

shlep noun 1 stealing from parked cars US, 1950. 2 influence US, 2002 shlep; schlep verb to move or travel laboriously. From Yiddish schlep or schlepen (to drag) IRELAND, 1922 shlepper; schlepper noun an inconsequential person; a nobody US, 1934 shlepper bag; schlepper bag noun a tote bag US, 2000 shlimazel; schlimazel noun a person with chronic bad luck. A blend of German and Hebrew, literally translated as 'bad luck' US, 1948 shlock; schlack; schlock noun shoddy, defective or cheaply made merchandise. From German to Yiddish to American slang US, 1915 shlocker; schlocker noun a cheaply produced horror or thriller film. A compound of SHLOCK; SHLOCK (something cheap or inferior) and SHOCKER UK, 2002 shlocky; schlocky adjective shoddy US, 1968 shlong noun 1 the penis. From the Yiddish. Also spelt 'schlong' US, 1969. 2 a hairstyle in which the hair is worn short at the front and long at the back. An ellipsis of 'short-long'. Better known, perhaps, as a MULLET US, 2005 shlubby adjective ill-mannered; poorly dressed. Yiddish from the Slavic zhlob (a coarse person) US, 1968

shm-; schm- prefix used for creating a Yiddish-sounding reduplication of an English word, usually with the intention of diminishing the importance of the original word US, 1929

shmagma noun marijuana UK, 2003 shmaltz; schmaltz noun excessive sentimentality, especially in music, writing, etc. From German schmaltz (fat, lard) via Yiddish, with a suggestion of something too greasy to be easily digested US, 1935 shmams noun the female breasts. Derives, apparently, from MAMMIES on the Yiddish model of reduplication ('mams, shmams') UK, 2003

'shman noun a first-year college student, a freshman US, 1987 shmatte; schmatte noun 1 the clothing trade CANADA, 2002. 2 a less than elegant house dress. Yiddish US, 1970

shmeat; schmeat noun a bribe US, 1950 shmeat; schmeat verb to bribe someone US, 1985 shmeck; schmeck; shmee noun heroin; cocaine. From German schmecken (to taste), but note an assonant similarity to SMACK (heroin) US, 1932 shmecker; schmecker noun a heroin user. Yiddish, formed from SHMECK US, 1952 shmeckler noun a heroin user or addict US, 1988 shmeer; schmeer noun a package or deal. From the Yiddish US, 1969 shmegegge; schmageggy noun an incompetent person. An American-born 'Yiddish' word US, 1975 shmendrick noun a naive, cowardly person. From the name of a character in an operetta by Abraham Goldfaden US, 1980 shmo; schmo; schmol noun a gullible, hapless fool. An American addition to Yiddish. In August 1948, just as 'shmo' was coming into the American lexicon, US cartoonist Al Capp introduced the 'shmoo' in the L'il Abner comic strip. The loveable and selfless 'shmoo' loved to be eaten and tasted like any food desired US, 1948 shmooze; schmooze noun an agreeable conversation; persuasive talk US, 1939 shmooze; schmooze verb to gossip; to chat; to engage in idle talk; to network; to persuade someone indirectly. Yiddish from the Hebrew US, 1897 shmoozy adjective chatty; friendly US, 1954 shmuck; schmuck noun 1 a fool; an objectionable person. Taken into general usage from Yiddish; the literal meaning is 'penis', hence the original Yiddish usage in this sense had a particularly derogatory tone. The variant 'schmuck' seems to have been adopted in error due to a similarity in sound to Yiddish schmuck (jewel) UK, 1892. 2 the penis UK, 2003 shmuck; schmuck verb to make a fool of someone US, 2001 shmucko; schmucko noun a reprehensible person AUSTRALIA, 1987 shmutter; schmutter noun clothing, especially a suit. From Yiddish shmatte (a rag), ultimately from Polish szmatte (a rag) UK, 1977 shmutz; schmutz noun filth; dirt. Yiddish from German US, 1959 shnitzel; schnitzel noun the penis US, 1967 shnook noun an inoffensive, unassertive person; a 'nobody'. American Yiddish coinage US, 1948 shnooked adjective drunk US, 1985 shnorrer; schnorrer noun a freeloader. Yiddish from the German for 'begging' US, 1948 shnoz; schnoz; shnozz; scnozz noun the nose. A shortening of SHNOZZLE US, 1942

shnozzle; shnozzola; schnozzle; schnozzola noun the nose US, 1930 shoat boat noun in trucking, a trailer used for hauling livestock US, 1971 shock a brew! have a beer! An intentional corruption of the Hawaiian SHAKA US, 1989 shocked-as adjective very shocked UK, 2001 shocker noun a person or thing that is shockingly bad AUSTRALIA, 1962 shock jock noun a radio personality who tests the limits and tries to win listeners by outrageous language, thoughts or stunts US, 1986 shock shop noun a room where electric shock therapy is administered US, 1962 shock treatment noun in the used car business, a very low assessment of the value of a customer's trade-in car US, 1980 shoddy-doo noun palms slapped in greeting US, 1976 shoddy-dropper noun a vendor of low quality clothing passed off as high quality AUSTRALIA, 1950 shoe noun 1 a detective. An abbreviation of GUMSHOE US, 1988. 2 a black person. A play on BOOT US, 1960. 3 in drag and motor racing, a driver US, 1980. 4 among Quebec anglophones, the Centre Hospitalier Universitaire de Sherbrooke. The word 'shoe' indicates how the acronym CHUS is pronounced, leaving off the last consonant in the French way CANADA, 2001. 5 a linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio US, 1976

Shoe nickname Willie Shoemaker (b.1931), the most successful jockey in the history of horse racing in the US US, 1977

shoebite; shoe-bite noun a blister on the foot caused by a shoe's rubbing INDIA, 1979 shoe boot noun a prostitute. Rhyming slang UK, 2003 shoe clerk noun a poker player who withdraws from a hand at any sign of serious betting US, 1996 shoe dog noun a shoe salesman US, 1997 shoegazer noun an aficionado of 'serious' introspective rock music; hence the music itself UK, 1999 shoegazing noun 'serious', introspective rock music UK, 2003 shoe laces and collar buttons noun in poker, a hand consisting of a pair of aces and a pair of twos US, 1988 shoe-leather express noun walking US, 1949 shoemaker noun a boy who is not particularly intelligent. Teen slang US, 1955 shoes noun 1 tyres US, 1917. 2 car wheel rims US, 2003 shoes and socks; the shoes noun syphilis; hence any sexually transmitted infection. Rhyming slang for POX UK, 1992 shoestring noun a very small amount of money; a low budget US, 1904

s-h-one-t noun used as a euphemism for 'shit' UK, 2002 shonk noun a person who engages in dishonest business dealings. Back-formation from SHONKY AUSTRALIA, 1982

shonker noun the nose UK, 1998 shonky noun a dishonest person AUSTRALIA, 1979

shonky adjective of an item, phoney; of business dealings, dishonest AUSTRALIA, 1969 shoo adjective well-dressed. Teen slang US, 1958 shoo-fly noun 1 a police officer assigned to investigate the integrity of other policemen US, 1958. 2 on the railways, a temporary track bypassing an unusable section of track US, 1946

shoofti; shufti noun a look AUSTRALIA, 1944 shoo-in noun a person, idea or thing with no serious competition. Originally (1935) applied to a fixed horse race and four years later in a more general sense US, 1939 shook adjective excited; enthusiastic US, 1973 shookon infatuated with AUSTRALIA, 1868 shook-up adjective alienated; confused; dehumanised US, 1914 shoop verb to have sex. From the song by Salt-N-Pepa US, 1994 shoosh noun silence AUSTRALIA, 1949 shoosh verb ► shoosh your noise to become quiet. Especially when used as an injunction UK, 2003 shoot noun 1 anything legitimate, unscripted or unstaged US, 1996. 2 heroin UK, 2002 shoot verb 1 to ejaculate. Most likely a shortened form of the C19 'shooting one's roe' IRELAND, 1922. 2 to inject a drug intravenously US, 1914. 3 to depart. Variants include 'shoot off' and 'shoot out' UK, 1897. 4 to flirt; to make sexual advances US, 1967. 5 to throw or toss something AUSTRALIA, 1929. 6 to play. Usually as 'shoot pool', 'shoot crap', etc US, 1926. 7 to drink alcohol in shot glass units US, 1991. 8 to pick a pocket US, 1969. 9 used as an imperative, to start; to continue US, 1915. 10 (used of a plant) to show signs of producing fruit CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985. ► he shoots, he scores; he shoots, he scores, he wins used for registering admiration of a small but telling personal victory. A cliché of football commentary applied to the ordinary moments of life; always in the third person, even if used of the first person UK, 2002. ► shoot a beaver to look for and see a girl's crotch US, 1966. ► shoot a blag to gossip TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1992. ► shoot a good stick to play pool well US, 1961. ► shoot a jug; shoot a peter to break into a safe using explosives US, 1950. ► shoot a wave to surf a wave, especially if difficult US, 1963. ► shoot an air rifle; shoot an air gun in pool, to bet without money to back your bet US, 1990. ► shoot an azimuth to take a compass bearing US, 1991. ► shoot blanks (said of a male) to engage in sex with a low or non-existent sperm count US, 1960. ► shoot down in flames to absolutely defeat in an argument UK, 1942. ► shoot for two to defecate. A combination of basketball terminology and children's bathroom vocabulary US, 2003. ► shoot gravy to inject a mixture of blood and drug solution that has been reheated after failing to make a direct hit on the vein US, 1973. ► shoot it to lie. Euphemistic variation of SHOOT THE SHIT (to tell tall tales) UK, 1959. ► shoot off your mouth; shoot your mouth off to speak with a complete lack of discretion; to speak boastfully US, 1864. ► shoot the breeze to chat idly US, 1919. ► shoot the bull to engage in small talk US, 1902. ► shoot the con to engage in goal-oriented, truth-deficient conversation US, 1965. ► shoot the crow; shoot the crow to abscond; to depart hurriedly, especially without paying money that is owed UK, 1887. ► shoot the curl; shoot the tube to surf through the hollow part of a wave US, 1957. ► shoot the doughnut to aim artillery strikes at enemy forces encircling a US defensive position US, 1990. ► shoot the duck to skateboard crouched on one leg with the other leg extended outward US, 1976. ► shoot the pier to surf, or attempt to surf, through the pilings of a pier US, 1962.

► shoot the scales (used of a truck driver) to bypass a weigh station US, 1963. ► shoot the shit; shoot shit to engage in idle conversation; to tell lies UK, 1984. ► shoot the V to make a V-sign (the first and index fingers raised from a clenched fist, knuckles forward). 'Shoot' as 'to fire a gun' accentuates the aggressive or dismissive nature of this action UK, 2000. ► shoot the works on the railways, to make a sudden, emergency stop US, 1977. ► shoot your bolt to ejaculate NEW ZEALAND, 1998. ► shoot your cuffs (used of a man wearing a suit or sports jacket) to straighten your arms so that the cuffs of the shirt extend beyond the jacket sleeves. The modern version of the older (1878) 'shoot your linen' UK, 1909. ► shoot your load figuratively, to exhaust your resources early in a contest US, 1954. ► shoot your trap to talk too much US, 1947. ► shoot your wad to ejaculate US, 1972 shoot! 1 yes! Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. 2 used as a euphemism for 'shit' in an exclamation US, 1934 shoot and scoot verb to engage in warfare involving brief contact with the enemy and then a quick withdrawal US, 1987 shoot-em-up noun used as a loose category for any film or computer game with violent gunplay as a main element in advancing the storyline UK, 2002 shooter noun 1 a gun; a pistol, especially a revolver UK, 1840. 2 a professional killer US, 1972. 3 a criminal who specialises in breaking into safes US, 1949. 4 an intravenous drug user US, 1991. 5 in a functionally compartmentalised illegal drug enterprise, the person who holds and turns over the drugs to buyers US, 1987. 6 a pinball player US, 1977. 7 in pinball, the device that propels a ball into the playfield. Known conventionally as a 'plunger' US, 1977. 8 a television camera operator US, 1986 shooting gallery noun a place where addicts congregate to buy and inject drugs US, 1951 shooting match noun all of something; the entire matter US, 1968 shoot it! in surfing, used to encourage a surfer to catch a wave breaking behind them US, 1957 shoot (someone) out verb to train or prepare someone US, 1972 shoot through noun a person who fails to honour an undertaking. Royal Navy slang, from the verb sense 'to go absent without leave' UK, 1989 shoot through verb to depart hastily; to go absent without leave AUSTRALIA, 1947. ► shoot through like a Bondi tram to depart hastily. Referring to trams formerly running from the centre of Sydney to Bondi beach, noted for their speed. Appearing slightly earlier (1945, Australian National Dictionary) was the variant 'go through like a Bondi tram' AUSTRALIA, 1951 shoot up verb to inject heroin or another drug intravenously US, 1914 shoot-up; shoot-up man noun a person who promotes a card game or other activity involved in a swindle US, 1977

shooty noun a shotgun. Jamaican gang terminology US, 1995 shop noun 1 any place of business, where you work UK, 1779. 2 any home or apartment where drugs are sold US, 1997. 3 a theatrical engagement; a job UK, 1888 shop; shop up verb to inform the police authorities against, or reveal the whereabouts of, someone with the expected result of arrest and imprisonment for the subject. The original (1583) sense 'to imprison' began, during C19, to also mean 'to cause to be imprisoned', which sense survives UK, 1976 shop around verb 1 to search for and compare different possibilities. Extended from the practice of making actual comparisons between shops UK, 1922. 2 to search for a conversation on a citizens' band radio US, 1976 shop door noun the fly on a man's trousers US, 1965 shopping accident noun an impulse purchase later regretted CANADA, 1993

shoppy noun 1 a shop assistant; a shop-keeper UK, 2002. 2 a shoplifter AUSTRALIA, 1975 shopping noun shoplifting AUSTRALIA, 1975 shopping job noun an act of shoplifting AUSTRALIA, 1975

shore dinner noun a sailor, as seen by a homosexual US, 1965 short noun 1 a car, especially a restored older car or hot rod US, 1914. 2 a drink of spirits (as opposed to wine, beer, etc), or a spirit and a mixer. Used of drinks taken in short measures, although the original use is also of undiluted alcohol UK, 1837. 3 the unsmoked butt of a cigarette UK, 1990. 4 a brief nap US, 1976. 5 in lobstering, a lobster that is not legal size US, 1978. 6 a railway carriage left between stations US, 1977 short adjective 1 lacking money; lacking enough money to meet an obligation US, 1960. 2 near the end of a prison sentence or military tour of duty US, 1967. 3 used of an amount of a drug, underweight US, 1989. ► a NOUN (part) short of a NOUN (whole) used as the central part of a generally humorous formula – a something short of a greater – that infers a lack of mental capacity, not completely sane, 'not all there'. Inspiration for these phrases seems to be universal: 'one planet short of a full galaxy'. Religions account for, among others: 'one candle short of a menorah'; 'two candles short of a mass'; 'a few wafers short of a communion'; 'several fishes short of a miracle'. UK politics and current affairs: 'quite a few red boxes short of a successful Prime Minister'; 'various wheezes short of a Scottish parliament'; 'a few pence short of a euro'; 'a few pence short of a first-class stamp'; 'a few digits short of a dialling code'; 'a couple of programmes short of a series'. Sports and games: 'one player short of a cricket team'; 'a couple of cubs short of a full Lion's pack'; 'one helmet short of a huddle'; 'two cards short of a full-house'; 'several pawns short of a full set'; 'several pieces short of a full set'. Animals are also popular: 'two sheep short of a flock'; 'a couple of kangaroos short of a full paddock'. Food and drink: 'several currants short of a bun'; 'one liquorice stick short of a Pontefract cake'; 'two bottles short of a crate'; 'a nosebag short of a sack of oats'; 'two luncheon vouchers short of a ploughman's'; 'several prawns short of a cocktail'; 'a few stock-cubes short of a full polar ration'; 'several gondolas short of a Cornetto [a branded ice-cream associated with Venice]'. Fashion: 'three diamond clusters short of a tiara'; 'several gemstones short of a full tiara'; 'more than a Dolce short of a Gabbana [Dolce & Gabbana is a well-known fashion-house]'. And so on. Two final examples, both with obviously limited circulation but they demonstrate the possibilities: 'a few billion neurons short of a full load'; 'a few shards of pottery short of a full anthropological theory' UK, 1941. ► a sheep short of a paddock lacking a full complement of intelligence AUSTRALIA, 1994. ► get short to near the end of a prison sentence or military enlistment US, 1951. ► have short arms and long pockets to be stingy AUSTRALIA, 1966 short-and-curly noun pubic hair US, 1967. ► have by the short and curly to hold someone at a disadvantage; to exercise complete control over someone. Fanciful but convincing imagery in which 'short and curly' represent pubic hairs; a variation of HAVE BY THE SHORT HAIRS UK, 1948 short-arm verb to perform a rectal examination US, 1994 short-arm bandit; short-arm heister noun a rapist US, 1950 short-arm inspection; small-arm inspection noun an inspection for a sexually transmitted infection. Soldiers or prisoners are lined up, each holding his penis. At the command 'Skin it back and milk it down', each man 'milks' down his penis from the base to the tip so that the inspecting doctor can check for pus at the tip of the urethra UK, 1919 short-arm parade noun an inspection of the genitals of a group of men for sexually transmitted infection AUSTRALIA, 1977 short-arse; short-ass noun a short person UK, 1706 short-arsed adjective small, not tall. Extended from SHORT-ARSE (a short person) UK, 1997 short bus noun used as a reference to the mentally retarded. Referring to the smaller school buses used to transport special education students in the US US, 1998 short buy noun a purchase of a small amount of drugs US, 1955 shortcake noun the act of shortchanging someone deliberately. Used with 'the' US, 1974 shortcake verb to shortchange someone US, 1961 shortcake artist noun an expert at shortchanging US, 1980 shortchange artist noun a swindler who gives customers too little change US, 1960 short con noun a confidence game in which the victim is swindled once, without being sent home for a bigger prize US, 1940 short con verb to engage in a short con swindle US, 1964 short dog noun a half pint bottle of alcohol; cheap wine US, 1968 short end noun in the television and film industries, unexposed film remaining after cutting off the exposed film US, 1990 short eyes noun a child molester US, 1976 short fuse noun an impending deadline US, 1986 short go; short order noun a drug dose that is smaller than the addict is accustomed to US, 1959 short hairs noun ► have someone by the short hairs to hold someone at a disadvantage; to exercise complete control over someone. A figurative use of the literal meaning 'to hold by the pubic hair' UK, 1888 short heist noun an act of masturbation US, 1974 short house noun a short person. A euphemistic variation of SHORT ARSE UK, 1964 shortie pyjamas noun summer pyjamas with short sleeves and trousers legs AUSTRALIA, 1987 shortitis noun the mental state of knowing that you have almost finished a prison sentence or military tour of duty US, 1950 short-long noun a hairstyle in which the hair is worn short at the front and long at the back. Most commonly known as a MULLET US, 2001 short of cars adjective on the railways, without a job US, 1977 short on adjective less than is adequate, expected or required UK, 1922 short ones noun ► have someone by the short ones to have absolute control of someone; to force submission. A figurative use of the literal meaning 'to hold by the pubic hair'; a variation on HAVE BY THE SHORT HAIRS US, 1971

short pair noun in poker, a pair of tens or lower US, 1963 short round noun gunfire or artillery fired by friendly forces US, 1985 shorts noun 1 a condition of low or no funds US, 1932. 2 the last portion of a cigarette US, 1992. 3 in poker, a pair that is beaten by a larger pair US, 1988 short short adverb soon US, 1976 short-shorts noun very brief shorts US, 1958 short skirt noun a Mini car. Citizens' band radio slang, punning on the length of a mini-skirt UK, 1981 short-sleeves noun in homosexual usage, an uncircumcised penis US, 1981 short stick noun a stick notched by a US soldier in Vietnam counting the days until the end of his tour of duty US, 1983 shortstop noun 1 a temporary arrangement or relationship US, 1972. 2 a gambler who makes small and conservative bets US, 1950. 3 in pool, a very skilled player who is just below the highest tier US, 1990. 4 in a group eating setting, to take a second helping despite an earlier request from another for seconds US, 1947 short time noun a brief session with a prostitute, long enough for sex and nothing more US, 1965 short-time verb 1 to serve the final days of a jail sentence or term of enlistment US, 1975. 2 to engage in a quick sexual encounter with a prostitute US, 1960 short-timer noun 1 a soldier near the end of his tour of duty in Vietnam. All but the US Marines served exactly 12 months in Vietnam; the Marines served 13 months US, 1964. 2 a prisoner whose release date is approaching US, 1966. 3 someone whose retirement date is rapidly approaching US, 1993. 4 a prostitute engaged for a short period of time US, 1960 short-timer's calendar noun a calendar showing the days remaining in a soldier's tour of duty in Vietnam US, 1965 shorty noun 1 a female, especially an attractive one US, 1997. 2 a close friend US, 1997. 3 in a casino, a shorter-than-expected shift at a table US, 1980 shot noun 1 an opportunity US, 1972. 2 an attempt UK, 1756. 3 the right way to do something AUSTRALIA, 1953. 4 an occurrence or instance; a thing US, 1960. 5 an instance of sexual intercourse. An abbreviation of SHOT OF COCK US, 1968. 6 an ejaculation US, 2001. 7 an injection of drugs UK, 1929. 8 cocaine UK, 2003. 9 Coca-Cola™ US, 1946. 10 a single measure of spirits US, 2000. 11 a blow, especially a severe one US, 1996. 12 an illegal move by a gambler US, 1980. 13 a competent pickpocket US, 1976. 14 a person or thing UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 15 an incident report describing a prisoner's misconduct US, 1976.

 ▶ have a shot at to heckle or harass someone AUSTRALIA, 1947.
 ▶ like a shot exceedingly quickly UK, 1809. ▶ make a shot to secret something on your body while shoplifting US, 1971

Shot noun ▶ the Shot Aldershot (the home of the British Army) UK, 1925 shot adjective especially of a mechanical contrivance, broken; wrecked; ruined AUSTRALIA, 1983. ▶ shot of rid of UK: SCOTLAND, 1823

shot! well done! BERMUDA, 1985

shotcaller noun the nominal leader of a youth gang US, 1995 shot down adjective drug-intoxicated US, 1982 shot-for-shot noun an arrangement between two homosexuals in which they switch sex roles to satisfy each other US, 1950 shotgun noun 1 a pipe with air-holes used for smoking marijuana. The shotgun gives a BLAST US, 1977. 2 a ritual of drinking beer, forcing the beer out of the can into the drinker's mouth by opening the down-facing top after puncturing the up-facing bottom US, 1988. 3 a potent mix of heroin, cocaine, nitroglycerine, phenol and kola nut administered to racehorses as a stimulant US, 1961. 4 the front passenger seat in a car. Also called the 'shotgun seat'. The earliest use of the term, not yet applied to a car, seems to be in the 1939 film Stagecoach. To date, the earliest discovered use in the sense of a car is in 1963 US, 1963. 5 a male passenger in a vehicle equipped with citizens' band radio UK, 1981. 6 a police radar unit US, 1976. 7 in blackjack, the player to the immediate left of the dealer US, 1979. 8 in electric line work, an insulated line tool formally known as a grip-all stick US, 1980. 9 an unannounced test US, 1968 shotgun verb 1 to share marijuana smoke with someone else in the following manner: you blow through a lighted joint or blunt which is held with the burning end in your mouth, while your fellow-smoker inhales the stream of smoke that is produced US, 1974. 2 to smoke an entire marijuana cigarette in one go AUSTRALIA, 1995. 3 while treating a hospital patient, to order every possible treatment to avoid being wrong US, 1994 shotgun adjective 1 used of a house or apartment, having rooms set on both sides of a central hall US, 1903. 2 wide-ranging US, 1994 shotgun! used as a claim on riding in the front passenger seat of a car US, 1973

Shotgun Alley nickname the A Shau Valley, dense jungle terrain near the border of South Vietnam and Laos, southeast of Khe Sanh. A phonetic approximation US, 1990 shotgun bunk noun a sleeping space into which one must crawl CANADA, 1963 shotgun mike noun in the television and film industries, a directional microphone US, 1990

shotgunner noun a door gunner on an air gunship US, 1990 shot house noun an establishment that sells alcohol illegally, by the drink US, 1978 shot of cock noun sexual intercourse US, 1968 shot on the swings noun an instance of sexual intercourse UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 shot out adjective in very bad physical shape US, 1989 shot rod noun a fast car. Teen slang US, 1955 shottie noun a shotgun US, 1997 shot to shit adjective ruined, utterly spoiled UK, 2001 shotty; shotti noun the front passenger seat in a car. A shortened SHOTGUN US, 2004 shotty-gotty! used as a claim on riding in the front passenger seat of a car. A variation on SHOTGUN! US, 1997 shoulder noun in betting, odds of 7–4. From the TICK-TACK signal used by bookmakers UK, 1991 shoulder boulder noun an abandoned vehicle on the side of the road. The hard shoulder of the road, rhymed and contrived to make an obstacle US, 1976 shoulder hopper noun a surfer who surfs in another surfer's right of way US, 1987 shoulders noun ▶ on the shoulders in betting, odds of 9–2. From the TICK-TACK signal used by bookmakers UK, 1991

shouse noun a toilet. Euphemistic for SHITHOUSE AUSTRALIA, 1941

shouse adjective no good. Euphemistic for SHITHOUSE AUSTRALIA, 2003

shout noun 1 a drink or round of drinks bought for others; the purchase of a round AUSTRALIA, 1854. 2 your turn to buy drinks for someone else AUSTRALIA, 1882. 3 your turn to buy anything AUSTRALIA, 1911. 4 a call on the police radio. Derived from conventional 'shout' (used to hail) UK, 1970. 5 a greeting US, 1999 shout verb 1 to buy a round of drink for others AUSTRALIA, 1854. 2 to buy something as a present for another AUSTRALIA, 1949. 3 to write exclusively in upper case US, 1995. ▶ shout at your shoes to vomit US, 1987. ▶ wouldn't shout if a shark bit you to be stingy AUSTRALIA, 1986

shout-out noun a greeting; a recognition US, 1999 shove noun the member of a pickpocketing team who jostles the victim, diverting his attention so that a confederate can actually pick the victim's pocket US, 1981. ▶ give someone the shove to dismiss someone from employment or reject the partner in a romantic relationship UK, 1899 shove verb to have sex UK, 1969. ▶ shove it used as a harsh rejection of a suggestion. A shortened form of 'shove it up your ass' AUSTRALIA, 1941. ▶ shove it up the ass to reject something completely US, 1957. ▶ shove paper to pass counterfeit money or stolen or forged cheques US, 1962. ▶ shove shit uphill to take the active role in anal intercourse UK, 1996 shovel verb ▶ shovel coal (of a motor vehicle) to accelerate. An allusion to steam-driven, coal-fired transports US, 1976 shovel and broom; shovel noun a room. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 shovel and pick; shovel noun a prison. Rhyming slang for NICK UK, 2000 shovel and tank noun a bank. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 shovelhead noun the V-twin Harley Davidson engine, manufactured 1966–83. Biker (motorcycle) usage US, 1995 shovel pilot noun a manual worker UK, 2003

shovels and spades noun AIDS. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 shove off verb to go away. Naval coinage, from shoving a boat away; often used as an injunction UK, 1909 shover noun a person who passes counterfeit money US, 1945 show noun an opportunity; a chance; an opening AUSTRALIA, 1876

 ▶ see: SHOW PRICE

show verb to arrive; to make an appearance US, 1958. ▶ show hard to reveal to other men that you have an erection US, 1975 show and shine verb in car customising, to prepare a car and then exhibit it in a car show US, 1993 show-and-tell noun a public display and explanation. From the name of a school activity for young children US, 1948 showbiz noun the entertainment industry. A reduction of 'showbusiness'; originally theatrical US, 1945 showbizzy adjective used of the stereotypical excesses of showbusiness UK, 1969 showboat verb to show off; to pay attention to the performance aspects of a task. From the C19 river steamers with theatrical performances and melodramatic, showy gamblers US, 1951 show buddy noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a friend with whom you team up for Grateful Dead tours US, 1994 showcase verb to show off US, 1945 showdown noun 1 in prison, private time for sex US, 1972. 2 in poker, the moment when betting is completed and the players show their hands US, 1982 shower noun a worthless collection of people UK, 1941. ► not come down in the last shower to be aware AUSTRALIA, 1902 shower bath; showers noun ten shillings; hence 50p. Rhyming slang for 'half a pound' UK, 1960 shower cap noun a condom. Figurative application of a conventional item US, 1969 shower of shit; shower of shite noun an unpleasant and worthless collection of people. Derogatory. An elaboration of 'shower' UK, 1999 showers noun urination by one person on another, or other acts of urine fetishism, especially when offered or sought in advertisements UK, 2003 shower-spank verb (of a male) to masturbate in the shower US, 1989 show house noun a homosexual brothel US, 1981 showie noun a person who runs or works in a stall or ride at agricultural shows AUSTRALIA, 1980 show me the money used as a humorous urging that a statement be backed up. A key catchphrase in the US in the late 1990s US, 1996 show-off lane noun in trucking, the passing lane of a motorway US, 1976 show-out noun a discreet signal from an informer to a police officer UK, 1959 show out verb to behave ostentatiously US, 1993 show pony noun a prissy, prancing fop more concerned with image than performance AUSTRALIA, 1964 show price; show noun in gambling racing, the betting odds displayed by a bookmaker at a point in time UK, 1976 show shop noun a theatre US, 1981 showstopper noun a proposal that would lead to a breakdown in negotiations; a deal-killer US, 1997

showtime noun time for something to begin US, 1992 show-up noun a process used by police to have witnesses to a crime identify the criminals US, 1969 show-up box noun a room in a jail where suspects are shown for identification by witnesses US, 1953 show us your tits used as a crass male heckling catchcry AUSTRALIA, 2000

shpilkes noun an inability to sit still US, 1992

SHPOS noun a critically ill hospital patient who fails to follow medical instructions, worsening their own condition; a sub-human piece of shit US, 1978 shpritz; schpritz verb to squirt or spray. Yiddish US, 1967 shrapnel noun 1 low denomination coins UK, 2005. 2 the ripple effect in poker of a player completely losing his composure and infecting other players with his poor play US, 1996 shred verb to perform very well; to excel US, 1977 shredache noun the headache resulting from extreme exertion while surfing. A punned version of the standard 'headache', built on SHRED (performing well) US, 2004 shredded adjective 1 muscular as the result of intense workouts US, 2001. 2 weary, weak US, 1986 shredded wheat adjective excellent. Rhyming slang for SWEET, based on the branded breakfast cereal; current in UK prisons February 2002 UK, 2002 shredder noun a snowboarder US, 1995 shreddies noun male underpants; army-issue underpants; panties; female underwear. Originally a reference to the stereotypically disgusting state of bachelor's underwear; Shreddies™, a branded breakfast cereal, are brown and have a woven appearance UK, 1991 shredding adjective extreme; exciting; good US, 1987 shrewd adjective attractive; popular; savvy US, 1962 shrewd head noun a cunning or shrewd person AUSTRALIA, 1915 shrewdie noun 1 a cunning or shrewd person AUSTRALIA, 1904. 2 a clever action NEW ZEALAND, 1998

shriek noun 1 distilled, concentrated heroin US, 1987. 2 an exclamation mark (!) US, 1983 shrieking sixties noun the latitudes of 60 to 69 degrees south ANTARCTICA, 1921 shrimp noun 1 a short person UK, 1386. 2 a small penis US, 1972. 3 marijuana UK, 2003 shrimp job; shrimp noun the act of toe-sucking for sexual pleasure. A foot-fetishist's view of an appetising similarity between toes and shrimps UK, 1999 shrimp queen; shrimper noun a person with a fetish for the toes US, 1971 shrink noun a psychiatrist or therapist. From the longer and older HEADSHRINKER US, 1966 shrinkage noun the condition of a man's genitals after swimming in cold water. Coined and popularised on an episode of Jerry Seinfeld's television programme (The Hamptons) that first aired on 24th May 1994 US, 1994 shroomer noun a recreational drug user who takes hallucinogenic mushrooms; also, more innocently, a person who gathers wild mushrooms US, 2003

shroomers noun mushrooms as a pizza topping US, 1996 shrooms noun psychoactive mushrooms US, 1987 shroud noun from the perspective of a man not accustomed to dressing up, a suit US, 1962 shtarker noun a strong and brave person. Yiddish, from German US, 1959 shtetl noun a predominantly Jewish neighbourhood. From the German for 'village', originally applied to small Jewish villages in eastern Europe UK, 1949 shtick; schtick; shtik; schtik noun 1 a theatrical routine, an act; hence a style, routine or behaviour. From German stück (a bit, a piece) into Yiddish, and thence more widespread US, 1961. 2 an area of interest. From the Yiddish for 'piece' or 'play' US, 1968 shtuck; schtuck; schtook; stuk noun trouble. Not Yiddish despite appearances, although probably formed on the Yiddish model of a reduplicated word commencing with a 'sh' sound, in which case 'shtuck' is a variant of 'stuck' (in a difficult situation) UK, 1936 shtum; shtoom; stumm adjective quiet; saying nothing. Anglicised phonetic spelling of synonymous German stumm which, it is presumed, reached England through Yiddish UK, 1958 shtunk; shtonk noun a nasty person; a jerk. Yiddish, from German US, 1977 shtup noun an act of sexual intercourse US, 1986 shtup; shtoop; schtup verb to have sex. Yiddish from the German for 'to push' US, 1965 shubs noun a party. Urban youth slang UK, 2005 shuck noun 1 nonsense; something of little worth US, 1851. 2 a deception; a tease US, 1959. 3 in poker, a card that may be discarded and replaced US, 1981 shuck verb to deceive someone in a blustery, teasing manner. Often used with 'jive' US, 1959. ► shuck the ice to remove stolen diamonds from their settings US, 1949 shucker noun a striptease dancer US, 1981 shuckman noun a swindler US, 1965 shucks used as a register of dismay or contempt. Used where SHIT! might do US, 1847 shucky darn used as a mock, mild oath US, 1976 shuffle noun 1 the movement by a surfer forward on the board while surfing, executed without crossing the feet US, 1965.

2 counterfeit money US, 1950 shuffle verb ► shuffle off to Buffalo to leave. The reference to Buffalo, New York, is for the sake of rhyme and adds nothing to the meaning US, 1986. ► shuffle the deck on the railways, to switch wagons onto side tracks at stations along a line US, 1946 shufti; shuftie; shuftly; shoofiti noun a quick look. Military adoption of Arabic sufti (did you see?) UK, 1943

'shun! Attention! A military command, abbreviated from the extended delivery 'Atten... shun!' UK, 1888 shunk; shunkie noun a toilet UK; SCOTLAND, 1988

shunt noun a car accident UK, 1959 shunt verb in motor racing, to bump a competitor US, 1965 shunter noun a drug dealer who becomes addicted and continues to deal in order to fund the habit. Formed on PUNTER (a customer) UK, 2000 shurrit! be quiet! A phonetic slurring of SHUT IT! UK, 1982 shurrrup! be quiet! A slurring of SHUT UP! UK, 1964 shush verb to steal something. Polari; a possible variant sense and spelling of ZHOOSH (to swallow) UK, 2002 shush bag noun a bag for carrying away stolen property. Polari; from SHUSH (to steal) UK, 2002 shusher noun a person who is employed to keep people quiet on the street outside a nightclub. From 'shush!' (be quiet!) UK, 2004 shushing noun the work of keeping people quiet on the street outside a nightclub UK, 2004 shush the mush! be quiet!, shut up! A combination of conventional 'shush!' and MUSH (the mouth or face) UK, 2004 shush up verb to become quiet. Often in the imperative. Combines conventional 'shush!' (be quiet!) with SHUT UP UK, 1999 shut verb ► shut the gate in motor racing, to pass another car and immediately pull in front of the other car, minimising its ability to pass in return US, 1965 shut-door noun a rejection; a refusal. The image of a door being slammed in your face UK, 2001

shuteye; shut-eye noun sleep UK, 1896 shuteyes noun a sex offender US, 1982 shut-in noun a person who stays at home and never goes out US, 1904 shut it! be quiet! UK, 1886 shutout noun any situation in which a person fails to score, literally or figuratively US, 1957 shutter noun 1 the eyelid US, 1945. 2 a gunman. Recorded by a Jamaican inmate in a UK prison, August 2002 UK, 2002 shutterbug noun 1 a photography enthusiast; a photographer US, 1940. 2 a photographer who selects subjects for personal sexual gratification, often without the subject's knowledge or consent US, 1999 shut the fuck up! be quiet! An intensified, very imperative SHUT UP! (be quiet!) US, 1991

shutup! be quiet!; stop talking! A variation of SHUT UP! UK, 1955 shut up verb to cease talking; to stop making a noise. Used as a two word exclamation the sense is imperative or (since the 1960s) disbelieving US, 1840 shut up! verb used as a humorous, kind, even flirtatious way to change the subject US, 1978 shut UP! shut up. The difference between the slang 'shut up' and the colloquial is the emphasis on a drawn out 'up' with register rising slightly for the 'up' US, 1989 shut-up sandwich noun a punch in the mouth CANADA, 2002 shut your crunch! be quiet! UK, 1978 shut your face! be quiet!; shut up! UK, 1809 shut your head! be quiet!; shut up! US, 1876 shut your teeth! be quiet!; stop talking! UK, 2003 shut your trap! be quiet! From TRAP (the mouth) UK, 1959

shuzzit noun marijuana. A discreet variation of SHIT US, 1971 shvartz; schvartz noun a black person; an Indian or Pakistani person. Also seen as 'schwartz', 'schvartze' and 'schvartza'. The Yiddish term schvartz (from the German for 'black') is an adjective, with schvartzer as the noun for 'a black person'. 'Schvartz' the adjective became an inside, 'code' word among Jews for 'a black person' US, 1961 shvartz; schvartz; schwartz; schvartze adjective black, especially as a skin colour. Derogatory UK, 2002 shvitz; schvitz verb to perspire. Yiddish, from German US, 1992 shvontz; shwantz noun the penis US, 1965 shy verb to cook opium pellets for smoking US, 1946 shy adjective 1 having less of something than is desired, required or necessary US, 1895. 2 in debt; owing money US, 1950 shylock noun 1 a person who illegally loans money at very high interest rates and often has violent collection procedures. The allusion to Shakespeare's usurious money-lender in The Merchant of Venice cannot be missed US, 1930. 2 in circus and carnival usage, the show's office secretary US, 1981

shylock verb to engage in usurious loan practices UK, 1930 shypoo adjective inferior; shoddy NEW ZEALAND, 1952 shyster noun 1 a lawyer, especially an unprofessional, dishonest or rapacious lawyer; any dishonest professional. In his Origin of the Term Shyster, slang lexicographer Gerald Cohen demonstrates the craft of slang etymology at its highest: 'coined by New York journalist Mike Walsh' US, 1843. 2 a very poorly attended circus performance UK, 1953 siamesed adjective in motor racing and repair, closely connected or joined together US, 1993 sib noun a sibling UK, 2000

Siberia noun solitary confinement US, 1984

sice noun in craps, the point and number six US, 1950

Sicilian price noun death, usually slow and painful, as punishment US, 1997 sick noun withdrawal symptoms suffered by a drug addict US, 1972.

► on the sick in receipt of sickness benefit UK, 1996 sick adjective 1 suffering the symptoms of withdrawal from a drug addiction US, 1938. 2 experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle BAHAMAS, 1982. 3 infected with HIV or suffering from AIDS US, 1990. 4 scary. Perhaps from the sensations aroused US, 1995.

5 tedious, boring; disaffecting UK, 1973. 6 excellent; wonderful. On the principle that BAD means 'good' US, 1987. 7 in poker, without further funds US, 1988 sick and tired of adjective bored or fed-up with someone or something UK, 1783 sick and wrong! used for conveying a strong disagreement or disapproval US, 1989 sick as an ANIMAL adjective physically sick, but not necessarily vomiting. The earliest recorded is 'dog' (1705); followed by 'horse' (1765); 'cat' shows up in 1915, and 'sonofabitch' in 1953. 'Sick as a parrot' is a jocular variation from 1979. On 20th November 2000, Judith Keppel was the first contestant to win a million pounds on the television quiz Who Wants To Be A Millionaire; the first question she answered (for £100) was: 'Complete this phrase: As sick as a – Puffin – Penguin – Parrot – Partridge' UK, 1999 sick-bay commando noun a soldier who feigns illness to avoid combat duty US, 1991

sickener noun anything that is depressing or disappointing UK, 2001

sickest adjective best TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987

sickie; sickly noun a feigned illness cited as grounds for missing work AUSTRALIA, 1953 sickle; motorsickle noun a motorcycle. Re-pronounced abbreviation punning on CHOPPER (a motorcycle) US, 1967 sickler noun a person suffering from sickle-cell anaemia US, 1994 sickness noun the range of symptoms experienced when a drug addict is deprived of the drug US, 1987 sicko noun an emotionally or psycho-sexually disturbed person US, 1963 sicko adjective depraved AUSTRALIA, 1993 sick pad noun a sanitary towel US, 1966 sick puppy noun a perverted person US, 1984 sick squid noun six pounds. A play on on 'six QUID' UK, 2002 sick to death of adjective bored or fed-up with someone or something UK, 1890

siddi noun marijuana UK, 1998 side noun 1 a recorded tune or song. Early gramophone records held one recording on each side US, 1936. 2 a girl US, 1972. 3 a group of friends TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973. ► on the ... side somewhat; to a noticeable degree UK, 1713. ► on the side 1 describes an extra-marital sexual liaison US, 1893. 2 of work or commerce, extra to regular or legitimate practice, often discreetly so UK, 1961. 3 used as an announcement that you are monitoring a citizens' band radio channel; describes someone monitoring a citizens' band radio channel US, 1976. ► over the side engaged in private business or sexual liaisons during duty hours. Originally navy, 'over the side (of a ship)', meaning 'absent without leave'; adopted into police use UK, 1970. ► put on side to assume airs and graces. Possibly derived from the game of billiards UK, 1878 side ► on the ... side somewhat; to a noticeable degree UK, 1713 side arms noun 1 in poker, the lower value pair in a hand consisting of two pairs US, 1988. 2 sugar and cream US, 1945 sideboards noun side whiskers UK, 1857 sidebox verb to surround someone in a menacing manner UK, 1982 side-buster noun a person whose deeds do not match his description of his deeds US, 1989 side comb noun hair parted on the side. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982 side dish noun a mistress US, 1949 sidehill winder; sidehill gouger noun a mythical animal whose legs are shorter on one side than the other from years of grazing on a hillside US, 1975 sidekick noun a close friend and accomplice US, 1906 sideman noun in a whe-where lottery game, an assistant to the banker TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1966 side-roader noun a rural marijuana thief; a person who grows marijuana in a remote outdoor garden NEW ZEALAND, 1990

'sides adverb in addition; used to introduce a further matter. An abbreviation of 'besides' UK, 1579 side squeeze noun a partner in romance other than your primary partner; a romantic affair US, 1991 sidewalk pizza noun a puddle of vomit US, 1997 sidewalk Susie noun a prostitute US, 1949 sideways adjective 1 of a sum of money being gambled, split each way (to win or place). Racing slang UK, 1960. 2 in motor racing, out of control, whether or not the car is actually sideways to the track traffic US, 1973 sideways trip noun a suicide in prison US, 1984 sidewinder noun 1 a South Asian prostitute; a promiscuous South Asian female. The allusion is to a poisonous snake found in North America US, 1997. 2 an unknown but very fast horse CANADA, 1974. 3 in trucking, a U-model Mack truck with a slightly off-centre driver's compartment US, 1971 side work noun prostitution US, 1996 sides; siddies noun side whiskers. An abbreviation of 'sideburns' or 'sideboards' UK, 1967 sidity; sididy; seditty adjective arrogant, boastful, showing off US, 1968 sieg heils noun haemorrhoids. Rhyming slang for PILES UK, 2003 sieve noun a hospital or admitting physician that freely admits patients US, 1994 sieve verb to drill holes in a safe for the placement of explosives to be used in opening it US, 1970

siff noun syphilis US, 1972

sift verb to move swiftly through a crowd. Adopting conventional 'sift' (to pass through a sieve), perhaps incorporating a gentle pun on 'shift' (to move) UK, 1997

SIG (in doctors' shorthand) a bad-tempered, thoroughly objectionable individual. An (unofficial) medical initialism: STROPPY (bad-tempered) ignorant GIT (objectionable individual) UK, 2002 sight noun a large quantity UK, 1390 sight verb to understand BAHAMAS, 1980 sight adverb very much. Often used with 'damn', 'damned' or another intensifier UK, 1928 sight-hit verb to stare at someone or something; to ogle someone INDIA, 1979 signal-to-noise ratio; s/n ratio noun the amount of useful content found on an Internet site. A figurative use of a technical term US, 1997 signature noun the backblast of flame or smoke from a weapon US, 1990 signify verb to engage in ritualistic insults, goading and teasing. Unlike DOZENS, signifying does not make a person's mother the subject of the tease US, 1932 sign on verb to register unemployed; hence to be unemployed US, 1885 signs noun hand signals showing youth gang affiliation US, 1993

Sigourney Weaver noun the vagina. Rhyming slang for BEAVER, formed from the name of the US actress (b.1949) UK, 2003 sig quote noun in computing, an aphorism automatically included with the user's formatted signature US, 1991 silencer noun a motorcycle muffler. The UK conventional English 'silencer' is US slang US, 1973 silent adjective of an entry in a criminal's file, unofficial; showing crimes for which the criminal was not charged but probably committed US, 1990 silent but deadly adjective applied to the unpleasant smell that hangs in the air as a result of a silent fart. Unpleasant but hardly deadly. Anecdotal evidence and experience place this term in the 1970s UK, 1999 silent captain noun in shuffleboard, the scoreboard US, 1967 silent death noun an electric train. By comparison with steam engines, at the date (around 1950) of the introduction of electric trains UK, 1970 silent flute noun the penis. Variation of FLUTE (the penis) UK, 1788 silent flute of love noun the erect penis UK, 2003 silent night noun a light ale. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 silent violent noun an unpleasantly aromatic fart that pollutes without warning, a silent fart. A variation of SILENT BUT DEADLY UK, 2003 silk noun 1 a white person US, 1960. 2 a homosexual US, 1972. 3 in the categorisation of sexual activity by teenage boys, a touch of a girl's crotch outside her underwear US, 1986. 4 money US, 1950. 5 heroin UK, 2002. ► hit the silk; take to silk to open a parachute after jumping from a plane US, 1933 silk adjective 1 white-skinned US, 1960. 2 homosexual US, 1962 silk and satin noun any combination of central nervous system stimulants and central nervous system depressants US, 1980 silk department noun the very best AUSTRALIA, 1989 silk glove noun a guard on a passenger train. Not praise US, 1977 silk hat noun in circus and carnival usage, an egocentrist US, 1981 silkies noun a woman's underpants US, 1986 silks noun silk or nylon socks US, 1972 silk-stocking adjective wealthy US, 1970 silky adjective excellent; pleasing; smooth US, 1973 silky-straight noun any hairstyle with artificially straightened hair US, 1987

Silky Sullivan noun in horse racing, any horse that comes from far behind to win a race. Ridden by Willie Shoemaker, the original Silky Sullivan came from 30 lengths behind to win the 1958 Santa Anita Derby by three lengths US, 1997 silly affairs noun used as a humorous synonym for 'Civil Affairs' US, 1968 silly as a two-bob watch adjective very silly NEW ZEALAND, 1984 silly billy noun a fool. Formed on Billy, a familiar diminutive of William; originally used as a nickname for William Frederick, Duke of Gloucester (1776–1834) and William IV (1765–1837), then as a popular name for a clown, especially a clown's juvenile stooge UK, 1834 silly bollock; silly bollocks noun a contemptible fool UK, 1999 silly cunt noun a fool UK, 2000 silly dust noun a powdered drug UK, 2003 silly season noun from a police perspective, the summer as a period of counterculture, pop, rock and dance festivals. From the familiar journalistic sense. Used by late 1980s–early 90s counterculture travellers UK, 1999 silly side bin noun psilocybin or psilocin, in powder or capsule form. Nonsense pun on the chemical name UK, 1999 sillyvillian noun a civilian, seen from the cynical eyes of the military US, 1963 silly walk noun in computing, an absurd procedure that must be followed. A borrowing from Monty Python US, 1991 sillywatter noun any alcoholic drink, especially in reference to a drinker's foolish behaviour UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 silver noun 1 marijuana. Based on the colour of the leaves UK, 2000. 2 in American casinos, a silver coin or $1 chip US, 1980. 3 money US, 1966. 4 a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957 silver and gold adjective old. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 silver bike noun a metal syringe. Drug addict usage US, 1970 silver bullet noun 1 an ideal, usually notional, solution to a problem. From the mythology that a silver bullet is fatal to a werewolf, this symbol was also adopted by the eponymous hero of television western The Lone Ranger, 1956–62 UK, 2002. 2 a martini US, 1988 silver goose noun a proctoscope US, 1989 silver haze noun a hybrid strain of marijuana. From the frosty colour of the leaf UK, 1999 silver lady noun a hypodermic needle and syringe US, 1993 silvermine verb to patrol a casino in search of coins left in the tray of a slot machine or dropped on the floor US, 1985 silver plate please. Intentionally butchered s'il vous plaît US, 1990 silvers noun any coins TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 silver spoon noun 1 used as a metaphor of wealth at birth, especially in the expression 'born with a silver spoon in your mouth' US, 1972. 2 the moon. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 silver surfer noun an elderly or retired person who uses the Internet. Adopting the identity of cartoon superhero the Silver Surfer, created in 1966 by Stan Lee and Jack Kirby for Marvel Comics; this puns 'silver' (the hair colour) and 'surfer' (someone who browses the Internet) UK, 2001 silvertail noun 1 a member of the privileged class. Derogatory AUSTRALIA, 1891. 2 a prisoner who enjoys privileges AUSTRALIA, 1950

silvertail adjective pretentious AUSTRALIA, 1962

silvery moon noun a black person. Rhyming slang for COON UK, 1979 silvery spoon noun a black person. Rhyming slang for COON UK, 1977 sim noun a simulator; a simulation UK, 1979 simmer down verb to calm down US, 1871 simoleon noun a dollar US, 1896 simp noun a fool; a simpleton US, 1903 simp adjective 1 foolish. From SIMP (a simpleton) US, 2000. 2 fashionable US, 1965 simple as very easy. The familiarity of the phrase 'it is as simple as that' has allowed a gradual clipping; first the verb was generally considered unnecessary to express the intention, then 'as' was slurred aside, finally 'that' is understood; it is as simple as that UK, 2001

simple pimp noun a pimp who fails to live up to the high standards of his fellow pimps US, 1972 simple Simon noun 1 a diamond (the precious stone; the suit of cards); Double Diamond™ (a branded beer). Rhyming slang, formed from a nursery rhyme character UK, 1992. 2 psilocybin, a hallucinogenic mushroom US, 1970 simp twister noun in circus and carnival usage, a carousel US, 1987 sin noun ► as sin extremely, especially in phrases 'ugly as sin' and 'miserable as sin' UK, 1821 sin! used for registering shock or surprise. Ironic euphemism for FUCK! UK, 2001 sin bin noun 1 in team sports, an off-field area a player can be sent to for a period as a punishment for breaking the rules CANADA, 1970. 2 in prison, a punishment cell or the punishment block UK, 1996. 3 a panel van or the like used for sexual encounters AUSTRALIA, 1984. ► in the sin bin ostracised AUSTRALIA, 1995 sin-bin verb 1 to temporarily remove a person from duty or office while they are under investigation for some misdeed AUSTRALIA, 1983. 2 in team sports, to send a player to the sin bin AUSTRALIA, 1983 since Adam was a pup for a very long time AUSTRALIA, 1956 since Hector was a pup for a very long time US, 1904 since time for a very long time UK, 2003 sin city noun the neighbourhood in An Khe, Vietnam, housing brothels, bars and other vice dens US, 1968

Sinead O'Connor; Sinead noun a doner kebab. Popney rhyming slang, based on the name of Irish singer Sinead O'Connor (b.1966). Popney was contrived for www.music365.co.uk, an Internet music site UK, 2001 sine-died adjective permanently barred (from a bar or sporting endeavour). From Latin sine die (without a day) used in legal language for 'an indefinite adjournment' UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 sing verb 1 to give information or evidence, usually to the police US, 1929. 2 in carnival usage, to make a sales pitch US, 1981. 3 in a big store confidence swindle, to provide false information to the intended victim, 1997. ► sing in the choir to be homosexual. Cute code US, 1994. ► sing like a canary to give information or evidence, usually to the police. An elaboration of SING US, 1950

Singapore grey noun hashish purportedly manufactured in Singapore US, 1971 singbird noun a police informer US, 1982 sing-cerely used as a humorous closing in letters between singers US, 1975 singer noun 1 in a confidence swindle, a participant who passes information about the false enterprise to the victim US, 1985. 2 in trucking, a recapped tyre. Named after the road noise US, 1971

Singin' Johnny noun homebrew CANADA, 1998

single eye noun a Japanese person. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982 single-fish noun a urination. Glasgow rhyming slang for PISH (a PISS) UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 single-O noun a criminal, gambling cheat or a prisoner who acts alone US, 1962 single-O verb to operate as a criminal without confederates; to operate selfishly within a criminal enterprise US, 1950 single-O adjective selfish US, 1950 singles bar noun a bar that caters to a young, unattached clientele US, 1969 single-skinner noun a single fence UK, 2002 single-stakes-about noun in gambling, a type of conditional bet UK, 2001

singleie noun a single man UK, 1995

Singlish noun a Singaporean adaptation of the English language; a variety of English used in Sri Lanka SINGAPORE, 2001 sing on verb in the context of a calypso song, to disparage or tease someone TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1958

singular! great! US, 1992 sinistered area noun in Quebec, a disaster area. The French phrase zone sinestress is the source of this phrase when used in English in this way CANADA, 2001 sink noun in the language of hang gliding, falling air that increases the speed of descent US, 1977. ► behind the sink depleted of funds US, 1974 sink verb to down a drink AUSTRALIA, 1911. ► sink the pink to have sex. Snooker imagery US, 2001 sinker noun 1 a doughnut US, 1962. 2 a dent on a surfboard that requires a resin filler US, 1986 sin loi, motherfucker sorry about that. Xin loi or sin loi is Vietnamese meaning something in the nature of 'sorry about that'. It was widely heard and widely used by US troops in Vietnam US, 1990 sinner noun a person IRELAND, 1991

Sip nickname the state of Mississippi US, 1970 sip verb ► sip at the fuzzy cup to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1980. ► sip suds; sip on suds to drink beer US, 1986 siphon verb ► siphon the python; syphon the python 1 (of a male) to urinate. A jocular construction rhyming a reasonably conventional use of 'syphon' with PYTHON (the penis) AUSTRALIA, 1968. 2 (of a male) to have sex US, 1984

Sippie noun a member of the Student Information Processing Board at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Acronym US, 1990s

slipple adjective slippery TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973

sip-sip verb to whisper, especially when gossiping BAHAMAS, 1982

sir and miss noun syphilis. Rhyming slang UK, 2003

Sir Anthony Blunt; Sir Anthony noun a fool; a despicable fool. Rhyming slang for CUNT, probably coined by comedian and satirist Peter Cook (1937–95). Sir Anthony Blunt (1907–83) was an art historian and traitor who spied for the Soviet Union ('the fourth man') and, eventually, had his knighthood removed UK, 1979

Sir Charles noun the Viet Cong US, 1982

Sir Walter Scott noun a pint glass, a pint pot. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the Scottish novelist and poet, 1777–1832 UK, 1992

sis noun 1 used as a term of address for a sister UK, 1656. 2 used as a form of address for a girl or young woman; also (when used by a man of a younger woman) may imply no sexual interest US, 1859 sisselfied; sissy; cissy adjective effeminate. From SISTER via SIS US, 1846

sissy noun an effeminate boy or man, especially a homosexual; a coward US, 1879 sissy bar noun 1 on a motorcycle or bicycle, a back rest for the passenger seated behind the driver. The suggestion is that a manly man or tough woman has no need for the back rest US, 1969. 2 a bar patronised by homosexuals US, 1982 sissy stick noun in pool, a mechanical device used to support the cue on hard-to-reach shots US, 1970

sissy tank noun a jail holding cell reserved for homosexual prisoners US, 1981 sister noun 1 used as a form of address for a woman whose name is unknown US, 1906. 2 a black woman US, 1968. 3 a form of address between homosexual men. This CAMP adoption of the feminine form is also reflected in the cross-gender assignment of pronouns UK, 1992. 4 a fellow homosexual US, 1949. 5 a female fellow member of a countercultural or underground political movement US, 1968 sister act noun a relationship, usually sexual, between two homosexuals with the same orientation US, 1965 sister girl noun used as a female-to-female term of address, often sternly US, 1989 sister hix noun in craps, a six US, 1983 sisterhood noun the bond that unites male homosexuals US, 1979 sistren noun (of women) friends. Conventional 'sisters' with religious and political overtones adopted for everyday use by the West Indian and UK black communities UK, 2000 sit noun 1 in harness racing, the position immediately behind another horse, thus using the other horse as a wind-break US, 1997. 2 in horse racing, a contract for a jockey to ride a race AUSTRALIA, 1989 sit verb ► sit like Miss Queenie to sit with your legs crossed as others work DOMINICA, 1977. ► sit on your hands to refrain from applause at a moment when applause would be appropriate US, 1981. ► sit tight to stay where you are; especially to remain in place when it would be easier to go UK, 1999. ► sit up and beg describes elderly cars and old-fashioned bicycles and motorcycles; also the position adopted by drivers of such vehicles UK, 1979 sit-and-grab noun in a carnival, a food concession with seating US, 1960 sit-arse verb to wait; to do nothing. A contraction of 'sit on your arse' UK, 2001 sit beside her noun a spider. Rhyming slang that seems to have its origins in the nursery rhyme 'Little Miss Muffet' UK, 1992

sitch noun a situation US, 1967 sitcom noun a situation comedy. A protocol for television comedies since the early 1950s in which the humour is drawn from the confluence of characters and situations US, 1964 sit-down noun 1 a meeting or conversation over a meal or while sitting UK, 1861. 2 in organised crime, a discussion of a dispute between members of the crime enterprise with a final and binding decision rendered by a leader or group of leaders US, 1975. 3 a base camp or town in the rear, away from combat. Vietnam war use US, 1990 sit down verb to join a poker game US, 1963 sit-down money noun amongst Australian Aboriginals, government welfare or unemployment benefits AUSTRALIA, 1978 sit hard verb (of ducks) to stay on an egg-nest as long as possible in the approach of danger CANADA, 1958 sit in verb 1 to play by invitation with a band to which the musician does not belong US, 1936. 2 to join a poker game US, 1967 sit on it! used as an expression of disapproval. Popularised in the 1970s by frequent use on the television series Happy Days US, 1979 sitrep noun a situation report. Military UK, 1995 sit-still noun in horse racing, a style of riding based on patience US, 1976 sitter noun 1 a woman who works in a bar, encouraging male customers to drink and to buy them drinks US, 1987. 2 a hostess in a brothel, neither prostitute nor madam AUSTRALIA, 1985. 3 a person who monitors and comforts an alcohol or drug addict who is going through the initial stages of detoxification. A term used in twelve-step recovery programmes such as Alcoholics Anonymous US, 1998. 4 a person who guides another or others through an LSD experience. An allusion to the practice of babysitting US, 1966. 5 in pool, a ball perched on the lip of a pocket US, 1924 sitting breeches noun the trousers worn (figuratively) by visitors who have over-stayed their welcome BARBADOS, 1965 sitting britches noun the trousers worn (figuratively) by an idler or laggard US, 1963 sitting down noun in fencing, the 'on guard/en garde' position. From the bending of the legs UK, 1988 sitting duck noun 1 an easy target. Originally military, figurative use of hunting imagery UK, 1944. 2 a stolen car discovered by police through serendipitous checking of number plates US, 1970 sitting on a goldmine used admiringly of a sexually attractive person, especially one who does not take financial advantage of his or her attraction US, 1972 sit upon noun the posterior. Euphemistic UK, 1961 sitzmark noun among British Columbia skiers, the imprint left in the snow from a skier's fall CANADA, 1989

Siwash noun a stupid person. Originally from Chinook jargon, this term was used by explorers for Native American Indians, but over time it has become an insult both to the native peoples and to the person so designated CANADA, 1976

Siwash verb to place a non-Native American Indian person on the list of people not allowed to buy alcohol CANADA, 1989

Siwash blanket noun low cloud cover CANADA, 1998

Siwash logger noun a beachcomber. This term carries on the early derogatory use of siwash for any Indians or their customs CANADA, 1962

Siwash wind noun a storm that comes on quickly CANADA, 1998

six noun 1 a lookout during a crime US, 1987. 2 a six-pack of a beverage US, 1992. 3 a six-fluid-ounce glass of beer AUSTRALIA, 1972. 4 a unit commander US, 1976. ► behind the six without funds US, 1967. ► take six to re-enlist in the military for six years US, 1968 six-and-eight noun a poor condition. Rhyming slang for STATE UK, 1980 six-and-eight adjective honest, legitimate. Rhyming slang for STRAIGHT (honest) UK, 1959 six and four noun heroin mixed with other substances. Probably from the ratio of ingredients UK, 1996 sixer noun 1 anything that counts or scores as six, especially a six in cricket UK, 1870. 2 a six-pack of beer US, 1993. 3 a jail sentence of six months US, 1949. 4 a corporal punishment of six strokes with a cane. A variation of SIX OF THE BEST UK, 1927 sixes noun a small drink of rum. Originally costing six cents TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1968. ► all the sixes sixty-six. In Bingo, House or Tombola the formula 'all the' announces a double number UK, 1943

six feet under adjective dead and buried UK, 1942 six-for-fiver noun a money lender who operates informally to advance workers money on their wages US, 1953

sixie; sixie from Dixie noun in craps, the number six US, 1985 six moon noun a six-months prison sentence UK, 2000 six o'clock girl noun a thin girl US, 1947 six o'clock jump noun an enema given to a patient the night before surgery US, 1946 six o'clock swill noun a last minute rush for drinks in a hotel bar prior to six o'clock closing time. Now obsolete as opening hours for hotels have been expanded AUSTRALIA, 1955 six of the best noun a corporal punishment of six strokes with a cane UK, 1912 six-pack noun 1 a well developed and defined abdominal musculature. From the superficial resemblance between the muscles and a six-pack of beer cans US, 1997. 2 a car carburettor system with six barrels US, 1993 six-packer noun a man with well-developed and defined abdominal musculature, a well-built man. Teen slang SOUTH AFRICA, 2003 six-packs noun in craps, a roll of twelve US, 1999 sixpennyworth noun a prison term of six months UK, 1957 six, six, and a kick noun military discipline consisting of six months imprisonment, six months forfeiture of pay and a bad-conduct discharge from the service US, 1991 sixteen noun an M-16 rifle US, 1985 sixteenth noun a sixteenth of an ounce (of drugs) US, 1988 six tits noun in poker, three queens US, 1948 six-to-five!; sixty-five!; sixty fifth street! used as a warning among criminals or swindlers that a police officer is nearby US, 1950 six to four noun a whore. Rhyming slang, from racing odds UK, 1939 six-to-six noun 1 a prostitute. From their working hours – evening to dawn Fiji, 1996. 2 a conversation between two unit commanders US, 1991 six-trey noun sixty-three; 63rd Street US, 1972 sixty days noun in dice games, a roll of six US, 1962 sixty-eight noun used as a humorous variation on sixty-nine – you give me oral sex and I'll owe you one US, 1982 sixty-four dollar question; sixty-four thousand dollar question; sixty-four million dollar question noun a question that gets to the heart of the matter. The US radio quiz show Take It or Leave It offered a highest prize of $64, giving rise to the catch-phrase 'sixty-four dollar question'. The phrase gained currency and three decimal places in televised quiz shows on both sides of the Atlantic US, 1942 six up! used as a warning in the usage of counterculturalists associated with the Rainbow Nation gatherings and the Grateful Dead that law enforcement officials are approaching US, 1994 size queen noun a homosexual male or a woman who is attracted to men with large penises US, 1963 sizzle noun 1 a sister, in the sense as a female companion, especially in the phrase 'fa' shizzle my sizzle'. A hip-hop, urban black coinage, formed as a rhyming reduplication of SHIZZLE (sure, yes). After 'fa' shizzle my nizzle' (yes my nigger) US, 2003. 2 an illegal drug US, 1969 sizzle verb to be executed by electrocution in the electric chair US, 1982 sizzler noun 1 in cricket, an exceedingly fast ball; an extremely fast horse, etc UK, 1961. 2 an unskilled cook US, 1975 sizzle seat noun the electric chair; capital punishment by electrocution US, 1982

SK8 noun in text messaging, a skate or to skate. A variant spelling; one of several constructions in which a syllable pronounced 'ate' is replaced by the homophone 'eight' US, 2002

ska noun a rhythmic musical style that evolved into reggae. Coinage, in the late 1950s or very early 60s, is generally credited to Jamaican bassist Cluet Johnson when trying to explain the sound and rhythm of ya-ya music; Cluet Johnson is also recorded as using 'skavoovee' and 'love skavoovie' as a nonsensical but American-sounding greeting JAMAICA, 1993

skagged up adjective intoxicated by or addicted to heroin UK, 1993 skanger noun a member of a Dublin/Kilkenny subcultural urban adolescent, teenage and young-adult-male grouping that is given to hanging around and causing trouble IRELAND, 2001 skank noun 1 a girl whose sole attraction is her immorality and sexual availability. An abusive description possibly derived from 'skunk' US, 1966. 2 a prostitute US, 2002. 3 a confidence trick; a fraud. After SKANK (to steal). West Indian, hence UK black UK, 1994. 4 nastiness, filth US, 1995

skank verb 1 to work a confidence trick; to operate a fraud; to work behind someone's back. West Indian and UK black slang which spread into wider criminal circles. An earlier, surviving usage is a dance style, which imagery suggests the possible etymology is of a figurative dance around the victim of the trick UK, 2000. 2 to move to reggae rhythms in a particular loose-limbed style JAMAICA, 1992. 3 to steal something UK, 1997

skank off verb to play truant UK, 1997 skank-pit noun an unpleasant, distasteful place US, 1999 skanky adjective ugly; cheap; nasty US, 1975 skat; skattie noun used as a term of endearment. From Afrikaans schat (treasure) SOUTH AFRICA, 1964 skate noun 1 an easy task US, 1976. 2 an extremely unattractive woman who is seen as a sex object, especially one who is ravaged by age. Possibly from obsolete 'skate' (an inferior horse) and influenced by the sense 'an unpleasant man' UK, 2002. 3 an unpleasant man US, 1896. 4 a lazy and/or incompetent worker. US Army usage US, 1998. 5 an act of letting someone escape wrongdoing without punishment US, 1992. 6 a tyre US, 1976. 7 a motorcycle US, 1970 ► see: ROLLERSKATE. ► do a skate to vanish NEW ZEALAND, 1988 skate verb 1 to get away with something; to escape punishment US, 1945. 2 to win easily UK: SCOTLAND, 1996. 3 in the used car business, to steal another salesman's sale US, 1975. 4 to dance IRELAND, 1991. 5 to be without money TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1996 skate Betty noun a girl who associates with skateboarders, perhaps skateboarding herself US, 1989 skate jockey noun a driver of a small car, especially a sports car. Citizens' band radio slang, combines 'skate' (small car) with another form of 'driver' US, 1976 skate rat noun a devoted, perhaps skilled skateboarder US, 1989 skating adjective drunk UK, 1984

sked noun in remote country regions, a schedule for a radio call AUSTRALIA, 1946 sked verb to schedule. A shortening of the US pronunciation US, 2004 skedaddle; skiddadle verb to leave in a hurry. Originally US Civil War slang, with claims of Swedish and Danish origins probably disproved US, 1861

Skedaddle Ridge noun a hill in southern New Brunswick CANADA, 1995

skee noun 1 whisky, especially low quality, low cost whisky US, 1950. 2 opium; heroin US, 1960

skeef noun an attractive female JAMAICA, 2000

skeef adverb disapprovingly. From Afrikaans skeef (askew) SOUTH AFRICA, 1969 skeenteen noun used as an imaginary high number US, 1968 skeet noun 1 a girl UK, 2003. 2 in poker, a nonstandard hand consisting of a 9, a 5, a 2, one card between 5 and 9 and one card between 2 and 5 US, 1963 skeet verb 1 to ejaculate US, 2002. 2 to eject liquid from a syringe US, 1971 skeeev noun a disgusting individual US, 1976 skeeev; skeeve out verb to disgust US, 1976 skeevie noun a disgusting person. Teen slang US, 1955 skeevie; skeevy adjective disgusting US, 1976 skeevosa noun a disgusting individual. An extension of SKEEV (a disgusting individual) US, 1995 skeeeze verb to have sex US, 1990 skeeezer noun a woman who will perform sex for crack cocaine US, 1990 skeezix noun a fool. After a character (a founding, adopted by Walt and Phyllis Rumpus Blossom, who grew up to be the father of Chipper and Clovia) in Frank O. King's newspaper comic strip Gasoline Alley US, 1975 skeff noun a confidence swindle TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1975 skeg noun 1 a surfer. The variant 'sceg' also exists AUSTRALIA, 1985. 2 a member of a subcultural social grouping of pubescent or adolescent girls IRELAND, 2001. 3 a fin on a surfboard US, 1962 skeg-first adverb while surfing, said of the beginning of a ride with the tail of the surfboard pointing towards shore US, 1988

skeg-head noun a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1988 skein of thread; skein noun a bed. Rhyming slang UK, 1979 skeletons fucking on a tin roof used as a perfect simile for a rattling noise US, 1961 skell; skel noun a vagrant, especially of the thuggish sort. Seemingly related to the C17 'skelder', an honorable cant term for 'a professional beggar' which was long obsolete when 'skell' started to show up in New York in the early 1970s. A favourite word of police television dramas in the 1990s; the screenplay by Gardner Stern for episode 2 of season 2 of NYPD Blue that aired in September 1994 was titled For Whom the Skell Rolls US, 1957 skerrick noun a small amount of something. From British dialect AUSTRALIA, 1854 sketch noun 1 a situation, an arrangement UK, 2000. 2 a term of endearment for someone IRELAND, 1997. ► keep sketch to keep watch IRELAND, 1996 sketch adjective suspicious; threatening US, 2003 sketchy noun an odd or weird person. Used amongst foot-powered scooter-riders UK, 2000 sketchy adjective dangerous; possibly dangerous US, 2002 skew-whiff; skiwift adjective awry; askew; at the wrong angle UK, 1754 ski verb in soccer, to kick the ball unnecessarily high in the air US, 1945

-ski suffix used in combination to intensify an adjective or adverb UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

ski bum noun a ski enthusiast who spends as much time as possible skiing and as little time as possible working US, 1963 ski bunny noun a female who is learning to ski; a female who visits ski resorts for the company but does not ski US, 1963 skid noun heroin, especially when heavily adulterated US, 1977 skid verb while snowboarding, to slide down a slope sideways US, 1993 skid artist noun a getaway driver UK, 1996

Skid Blvd. noun a jocular honorific for a living area for poor people CANADA, 1963 skiddies noun 1 underpants UK, 1995. 2 faecal marks in underwear UK, 1999 skidge verb attack! A command inciting a dog to attack. A variant of SKITCH! AUSTRALIA, 1983 skid lid noun 1 a safety helmet or crash helmet US, 1968. 2 a paratrooper's helmet US, 1991 skid mark noun a faecal stain on a toilet bowl or underwear AUSTRALIA, 1971

skidoo noun a snowmobile CANADA, 1961

skidoo verb 1 to depart hastily US, 1905. 2 to travel by skidoo (a snowmobile) CANADA, 1986 skid row noun 1 in any town, the run-down area where the socially disadvantaged and marginalised tend to congregate US, 1931. 2 in prison, cells for troublesome prisoners UK, 1996 skids noun underpants. Derives from SKID MARK(s) (faecal stains in underwear) UK, 1996. ► put the skids under (of a person or circumstances) to ensure the imminent dismissal of someone; to dismiss someone from employment UK, 1948 skid shot noun in pool, a shot made with backspin on the cue ball US, 1993 skied adjective drug-intoxicated. A play on 'sky' not 'ski', as 'HIGH in the sky' US, 1989 skiff noun an attractive girl BAHAMAS, 1982 ► see: SKIT skiffle noun 1 a music genre, a sort of poor-man's rock 'n' roll, played on homemade or low budget instruments, popular in the late 1950s. Originates in 1930s and 40s US black society, meaning a house-party at which a subscription was charged to cover costs and raise money to meet the rent. Music was played by groups of amateur musicians. From conventional 'scuffle' (an impromptu struggle) UK, 1957. 2 a very short hairstyle JAMAICA, 1999 skilli! used as a register or exclamation of approval UK, 2003 skim noun money stolen from a business or enterprise, skimmed from the business funds like cream from milk US, 1988 skim verb to divert a portion of your earnings or winnings to avoid paying taxes or to avoid paying your superiors in the enterprise their share US, 1966 skimaged adjective drunk. English gypsy use UK, 2000 skimmer noun a hat US, 1972 skimming verb criminal acquisition of credit or debit card details by use of an electronic reader UK, 2003 skim money noun money taken from an enterprise's net proceeds before any accounting of the proceeds US, 1981 skimpy noun in Western Australia and the Northern Territory, a topless barmaid AUSTRALIA, 2003 skin noun 1 a person UK, 1958. 2 an immature or inexperienced young person. Royal Navy slang UK, 1989. 3 contact between hands in greeting, acknowledgement or congratulations US, 1942. 4 sex US, 1976.

5 a woman as a sex object TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1936. 6 the foreskin UK, 1961. 7 a condom. Literally, 'an extra layer of (latex) skin' US, 1965. 8 a thin paper used to roll marijuana or tobacco cigarettes US, 1996. 9 one dollar US, 1930. 10 in carnival and amusement park usage, a shirt US, 1982. 11 a wallet US, 1950. 12 a tyre, especially a well-worn one US, 1954. 13 fist fighting US, 1957. 14 an American Indian. An abbreviated form of 'redskin' US, 1989. ▶ see: SKINHEAD. ▶ get under your skin to irritate; to become constantly irritating UK, 1896. ▶ no skin off your nose it makes no difference to you. Variations have included: 'no skin off your ear', 'off your ass', 'off your bugle', 'off you' and 'off Jeff' (thus, any person's name) UK, 1926 skin verb 1 to inject (a narcotic) into the skin as opposed to a vein US, 1953. 2 to swindle someone US, 1819. 3 to defeat someone US, 2002. 4 in hot rodding, to remove a car's upholstery US, 1958. 5 to surf without a wetsuit US, 1991. ▶ skin (it) back to withdraw the foreskin from your penis, either as part of a medical inspection or masturbation US, 2002. ▶ skin teeth to smile; to grin. The image of showing your teeth. West Indian and UK black JAMAICA, 1994. ▶ skin the cat to perform oral sex on a woman US, 2000 skin adjective 1 young, youthful; fresh, new. Royal Navy slang UK, 1989. 2 used of a film or a publication featuring nudity UK, 1977 skin and blister noun a sister. Rhyming slang UK, 1925 skin beater noun a drummer US, 1947 skin beef noun a prison sentence for an unspecified sexual crime US, 1976 skin book noun a sex-themed book US, 1970 skin boy noun an uncircumcised male NEW ZEALAND, 1999 skin chimney noun the vagina UK, 2002 skin complaint noun a bullet wound US, 1982 skinder; skinner noun gossip; slanderous rumour. From the verb SOUTH AFRICA, 1979

skinder; skinner verb to gossip. From Afrikaans SOUTH AFRICA, 1942 skinderer noun a gossip. From SKINDER (to gossip) SOUTH AFRICA, 1993

skindering noun an act of gossiping. From SKINDER (to gossip) SOUTH AFRICA, 1981 skin diver noun 1 a five-pound note; the sum of £5. Glasgow rhyming slang for FIVER UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 2 a person who performs oral sex on a male. The reverse of a 'muff diver' US, 1969 skin fighting noun a fight between members of rival gangs in which weapons or at least lethal weapons are forbidden US, 1967 skin flick noun 1 a pornographic film US, 1968. 2 a slide used by a dermatologist to illustrate diseases during teaching rounds US, 1980 skin-flick house noun a cinema showing pornographic films US, 1972

skinflint noun a mean person UK, 1700 skin flute noun the penis. Often arises in the phrase 'play the skin flute' (to perform oral sex) US, 1941 skinful noun more than enough alcohol to achieve a drunken state UK, 1788 skin full of noun drunk US, 1985 skin game noun 1 in gambling, a rigged game that honest players always lose US, 1962. 2 the science of dermatology US, 1980

skingraft noun an intramuscular injection of a drug US, 1968 skin habit noun a drug addiction based on intramuscular, not intravenous, injections US, 1972 skinhead; skin noun 1 a member of a youth fashion and gang movement, characterised by close-cropped or shaven scalp and smart utilitarian wear, associated with football hooliganism, racist violence and neo-Nazism. Early in the 1970s Richard Allen, a pseudonym of James Moffat (1922–93), published a series of 'youthsploitation' novels under the general title Skinhead UK, 1969. 2 a British Leyland 'Allegro' car. Citizens' band radio slang, playing on AGGRO UK, 1981 skinhound a sexually aggressive person CANADA, 2002 skin house noun a brothel or place where the entertainment is of a sexual nature US, 1970 skin magazine; skin mag noun a magazine featuring photographs of nudes, usually women US, 1968 skin man; skinner noun a sex offender US, 1976

skinner noun 1 a big win on an unbacked horse or other race competitor; a betting coup UK, 1874. 2 a gambling cheat US, 1974. 3 a police officer US, 1965 skinny noun 1 inside information, rumour or fact US, 1959. 2 in circus and carnival usage, a ten-cent piece US, 1981 skinny adjective 1 miserly, niggardly UK, 1998. 2 prepared with low-fat or non-fat milk US, 1997 skinny as a broom; skinny noun a bridegroom. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 skinny-dip verb to swim in the nude US, 1966 skinny dipping in the love pond noun from a male perspective, the act of sex without a condom US, 2001 skinny Dugan noun in craps, any combination of seven US, 1985 skinny end noun in horse racing, a third place finish AUSTRALIA, 1989

skinnymalink noun a thin person UK: SCOTLAND, 1911

skinny-minny adjective very thin; small and thin US, 1997 skin one; skin two; skin three noun used as a rating system by US forces in Vietnam for the films shown on base; the system evaluated films on the amount of nudity. Higher ratings reflected higher amounts of nudity US, 1990 skin out verb to clean something out; to finish something CANADA, 1999 skinpix noun pornographic films US, 1964 skin pop noun an injection of a drug into the skin or muscle, not into a vein US, 1952 skin-pop verb to inject a drug into the skin or muscle, not into a vein. Usually practised in the early stages of drug use US, 1952 skin popper noun a drug user who does not inject the drug into a vein US, 1967 skin-popping noun an act of injecting a drug subcutaneously, not into a vein UK, 1973 skin-pump verb to inject a drug under the skin, not into a vein US, 1952 skins noun drums UK, 1926 skin shake noun a thorough search of a person's body, including orifices US, 1967 skin show noun a show featuring women approaching or reaching nudity US, 1973 skinsman noun 1 a drummer UK, 1983. 2 a prolific lover BARBADOS, 1965

skint adjective having little or no money, penniless. Figurative application of conventional 'skinned' UK, 1925 skint as a kipper's backbone adjective having no money. An elaboration and intensification of SKINT punning on 'skinned', the original derivation UK, 1956 skinto adjective having little or no money, penniless. A variation of SKINT used in Glasgow UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 skin trade noun the sex industry in all its facets US, 1986 skin up verb 1 to roll a marijuana cigarette. From SKIN (cigarette paper) UK, 1990. 2 to expose a woman's genitals and breasts TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986

skinz noun a sexually attractive woman US, 1993 skip noun 1 a skipper (a captain, a leader, etc) UK, 1830. 2 a coach; used as a term of address for a coach. A shortened form of SKIPPER US, 1970. 3 a uniformed police sergeant. An abbreviation of SKIPPER (a US police captain or sergeant) UK, 2002. 4 an Anglo-Australian. From Skip, shortening of Skippy, the name of the kangaroo star of the children's television programme Skippy, The Bush Kangaroo AUSTRALIA, 1987 skip verb ▶ skip it to forget it; to drop the subject; to dispense with something. Often used as an imperative US, 1934. ▶ skip on to leave US, 1989. ▶ skip the cinders; skip the ties to walk along a railway track US, 1977

skip adjective Anglo-Australian AUSTRALIA, 1995

skip and jump noun the heart. Rhyming slang for PUMP UK, 1992 skip-out noun a hotel guest who leaves without paying the bill US, 1958 skip out verb to leave in a hurry in order to avoid obligations UK, 1865 skipper noun 1 a police chief, captain or sergeant. Jocular, from the C14 nautical sense US, 1929. 2 a sport's team captain. From the use as 'a ship's captain', originally (in this sense) used of the captain of a curling team UK, 1830. 3 a mid-level boss in an organised crime enterprise US, 2003. 4 a prison warden US, 1950. 5 a railway guard US, 1946. 6 a derelict property used as shelter by the homeless. From the C16 when the original sense was 'a barn' (from Welsh ysgubor or Cornish sciber), hence 'a bed out of doors' and, finally, the current use UK, 1925. 7 in poker, a hand with five cards sequenced by twos US, 1963 skipper verb 1 to live rough. From SKIPPER (a place of rest for the homeless) UK, 1845. 2 to move from house to house, staying a few nights at each, with all your worldly possessions in tow US, 1971

skippies noun inexpensive shoes US, 1990 skippy noun a homosexual male US, 1970 skip rat noun a litter collector UK, 1996 skirt noun a woman or women objectified sexually. In conventional English usage until the late C19 when Victorians deemed it slang; not necessarily pejorative or contemptuous, however various compounds, some now obsolete, objectify women: 'a light skirt' (a loose woman), a BIT OF SKIRT or 'piece of skirt' (a woman as sex object), 'flutter a skirt' (to be a harlot) 'run a skirt' (to keep a mistress) and 'the skirt' (women, collectively) UK, 1899 skit; skiff noun a small amount of snow CANADA, 1990

skitch verb in icy winter conditions, to grab the bumper of a passing car and use your feet as skis as you are pulled along US, 1997 skitch! attack! A command inciting a dog to attack AUSTRALIA, 1955

skite noun 1 a boaster AUSTRALIA, 1897. 2 boastful talk AUSTRALIA, 1860. 3 a glancing blow UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. ► on the skite engaged in a drinking binge IRELAND, 1992

skite verb 1 to boast. From British dialect AUSTRALIA, 1857. 2 to hit someone or something with a glancing blow UK: SCOTLAND, 1911

skitters noun diarrhoea. Recorded as 'skitter' in the Scots Dialect Dictionary, 1911 UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

skittery adjective worthless IRELAND, 1992

skittle verb 1 to knock someone or something down AUSTRALIA, 1938. 2 to kill someone AUSTRALIA, 1971

skittle meon noun a sexually available woman JAMAICA, 2002

skittles noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medicinal purposes US, 2003 skitz adjective used for expressing approval UK, 2003 skive noun an evasion of duty, work or occupation; an instance of such evasion UK, 1958 skive verb to evade a duty, work or occupation; to play truant from school. Possibly from dialect skive (to skim or dart about), more probable is French esquiver (to avoid, to slip away). Adopted into military slang during World War 1, and in widespread use by the middle of the century UK, 1919 skiver noun a person who evades work or duty, a shirker UK, 1941 skiving adjective work-shy. From SKIVE (to evade work, to shirk) UK, 1959 skivvies noun underwear. Originally applied to an undershirt or vest, now to underwear in general US, 1918 skivvy noun 1 a domestic servant, especially a maid-of-all-work UK, 1902. 2 during the Vietnam war, a prostitute US, 1991 skivvy verb to perform heavy, boring, menial household chores. From the noun UK, 1984 skizziest adjective the best US, 1960 skoal; skol verb to drink; to down a drink US, 1957 skolly; skollie; scolly noun especially in Cape Town, a non-white street hoodlum or petty criminal. From Dutch schullen (to lie low) via Afrikaans SOUTH AFRICA, 1934 skoof noun a marijuana cigarette US, 1980 skoookum adjective big; powerful; terrific; smart CANADA, 1965

skoon noun one dollar US, 1988 skoosh noun 1 something that is easily achieved or accomplished UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 any carbonated soft drink UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

skooshed adjective drunk UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

skop, skiet and donder noun physically violent and threatening behaviour or activity. From Afrikaans skop, skiet en donder (to stop, shoot and beat up). In South African colloquial use: skop (to kick, to enjoy yourself); skiet (to shoot, to gamble with dice, to lie); DONDER (beaten up, also an abusive term of address); skiet and donder (used of action entertainment, 'blood and thunder') SOUTH AFRICA, 1970 skosh; skoshi noun a small amount. Korean pidgin, used by US soldiers in Korea and brought back to the US as 'skosh'. The word was given a second wind in the 1970s with a radio advertisement for jeans that promised 'just a skosh more room' in the crotch area for men US, 1970

SKP noun an escaped prisoner. A play on 'escapee' US, 1962

skrep noun a worn-out, decrepit prostitute TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973

skronk noun in contemporary music, dissonant sounds UK, 1996 skronky adjective of an electric guitar's sound or style of playing, excitingly raw and basic; hence, applied to fans of such music US, 2003 skua noun frozen chicken. The 'skua' is a large predatory gull; the comparison with chicken is not in the nature of praise ANTARCTICA, 1991 skuif; skuifie; skyf; skyfie noun a cigarette, especially a hand-rolled tobacco cigarette, or one containing marijuana. From Afrikaans skuif (a puff of smoke) SOUTH AFRICA, 1946 skull noun 1 oral sex US, 1973. 2 a confidence swindle TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1979. 3 a passenger in a lorry. Road hauliers' slang UK, 1951. 4 in circus and carnival usage, a free ticket US, 1981. ► out of your skull very drunk or drug-intoxicated. Variation on OFF YOUR HEAD UK, 1968. ► take a skull in a dramatic performance, to react slowly to a line US, 1973 skull verb 1 to strike someone; to attack someone IRELAND, 1997. 2 to shun someone JAMAICA, 2003 skull and brains noun oral sex US, 2002 skull cracker noun strong, homemade whisky US, 1999 skulldrag verb in prison, to awake a prisoner in the early hours for immediate transfer to another prison UK, 1996 skulled adjective drunk US, 1955 skull-fry noun chemically straightened hair US, 1970 skull fuck noun an intense assault on all the senses CANADA, 2002 skullfuck verb 1 to perform oral sex on a man; (from the male perspective) to receive oral sex CANADA, 2002. 2 (notional) to have sex with a head in symbolic victory. A less realistic variation of the previous sense US, 2000 skullie noun a skullcap US, 1993 skull job noun an act of oral sex US, 1971 skull money noun money earned in illegal ways UK, 2000 skull session noun a group analysis and discussion; a conference US, 1959 skunk noun 1 a woman, especially a promiscuous woman with deficiencies in the area of hygiene US, 1965. 2 an unpleasant man; a contemptible person. After the North American animal UK, 1841 skunk verb in various games, to defeat an opponent by an overwhelming margin US, 1843 skunk beer noun inexpensive, bitter, poor quality beer US, 1997 skunked adjective drunk US, 2001 skunk juice; skunk juicer; skunk junker noun an illegal linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio US, 1976 skunk oil noun any odourising agent injected into natural gas US, 1954 skunk weed; skunk noun an extremely potent variety of marijuana which will produce an hallucinogenic effect; also, good quality marijuana US, 1982 sky noun 1 in a casino, the ubiquitous overhead surveillance system. An abbreviated form of EYE IN THE SKY US, 1991. 2 a hat US, 1976 sky verb 1 to jump high and with great elan US, 1980. 2 to leave quickly. Vietnam war slang US, 1982 sky-blue-pink noun an unknown, indeterminate or fantasy colour. Jocular UK, 1942 sky diver noun a five-pound note; the sum of £5. Glasgow rhyming slang for FIVER UK; SCOTLAND, 1988 sky hook noun 1 in oil drilling, a non-existent tool that is often the subject of hazing of new workers US, 1954. 2 a citizens' band radio antenna US, 1976 sky jockey noun a fighter pilot. Gulf war usage UK, 1991 sky juice noun a cheap refreshment of flavoured ice JAMAICA, 1972 skylark verb to park a vehicle. Rhyming slang UK, 1964 sky man noun a preacher. A variant of the more common SKY PILOT US, 1959 sky-nest noun an apartment on an upper floor of an apartment building US, 1950 sky palace noun a church. The home of a SKY PILOT (a preacher) UK, 1981 sky-piece noun a hat US, 1948 sky pilot noun a clergyman, especially in the forces or the prison service. Originally nautical slang UK, 1887 skyrocket verb (of prices or statistics) to increase steeply US, 1895 sky rocket; sky noun pocket. Rhyming slang UK, 1879 sky scout noun an air force chaplain US, 1945 skyscraper noun paper; writing paper; toilet paper; a newspaper. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sky-shooters noun sunglasses US, 1997 sky six noun God. From 'sky' (a unit commander) US, 1876 sky's the limit noun in poker, any game played with no limit on the amount of bets US, 1967 slab noun 1 a road; a highway. A specific application of the generally conventional use as 'a broad, solid mass' US, 1976. 2 a thick, dark, cold wave US, 1991. 3 a sandwich. Teen slang CANADA, 1946. 4 a cardboard carton of 24 cans or bottles of beer AUSTRALIA, 1997. 5 a phonograph record; any audio recording US, 1974. 6 a package of crack cocaine US, 1998. 7 crack cocaine that is heavily adulterated US, 1992 slab verb in necrophile usage, to engage in sexual activity with a corpse US, 1987 slabbed and slid adjective 'dead and gone'; also used in prison of an ex-prisoner who has been forgotten UK, 1950 slab boy noun a necrophile US, 1987 slab house noun a modest restaurant serving barbecued meat US, 1975 slabs noun the testicles. Back slang UK, 1960 slack noun 1 less than harsh treatment US, 1968. 2 money US, 1972. 3 in a military patrol, the soldier immediately behind the lead soldier in formation US, 1971 slack verb to wear trousers, especially jeans, oversized, baggy and sagging US, 1992 slack adjective 1 of a woman, objectionable; of loose morals AUSTRALIA, 1977. 2 of poor quality, below standard, unacceptable; lewd, vulgar UK, 1994. 3 unproductive; inefficient; lazy US, 1978. 4 dreadful; awful; pathetic NEW ZEALAND, 1981. 5 contemptibly unfair; unkind AUSTRALIA, 2000 slack Alice noun a slovenly woman. A fictitious friend called Slack Alice featured in the television comedy monologues of Larry Grayson during the early and mid-1970s UK; ENGLAND, 2002 slackarse noun a lazy person AUSTRALIA, 1971

slack-arse adjective tired out, lazy or both NEW ZEALAND, 1998

slacker noun a person who avoids work, study and responsibility. The most recent burst of popularity for the term is not its first US, 1898

Slackers nickname Halifax, Nova Scotia. The following etymology is offered by William Pugsley in his 1945, Slackers, Sinners and other Seamen: so called because of the relatively slack discipline ashore following duty at sea CANADA, 1945 slack jaw noun a dolt; a stupid person US, 1994 slack man noun in a combat march, the second man in line US, 1989 slackmeister noun someone who has perfected the art of doing nothing US, 1987 slackness noun 1 lewd and vulgar language. West Indian and UK black patois UK, 1994. 2 sexual aggression, promiscuity or perversion TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1940 slag noun 1 a contemptible person UK, 1943. 2 a prostitute; a sexually promiscuous woman UK, 1958. 3 an unattractive woman AUSTRALIA, 1988. 4 a petty criminal; petty criminals UK, 1955. 5 a coward. The earliest of many meanings, all of which are pejorative UK, 1788. 6 a negative criticism AUSTRALIA, 2003. 7 an insult UK; SCOTLAND, 1985 slag verb 1 to verbally attack, to slander. Variants include 'slag off' and 'slag down' UK, 1971. 2 to spit AUSTRALIA, 1965 slag about verb to move around; to come and go UK, 1979 slag-bag noun a contemptible woman. A rhyming combination of SLAG (a contemptible person; a sexually promiscuous woman) and BAG (an unattractive woman) UK, 1997 slagging rag noun a parachute that is slow to open or does not open at all US, 1991 slaggy noun a groupie who is promiscuous and sluttish, even by groupie standards US, 1969 slaggy adjective sluttish UK, 1943 slake verb ► slake the snake (of a male) to have sex US, 1984 slam noun 1 a jail or prison. A shortened form of SLAMMER sometimes; used as a plural US, 1960. 2 sexual intercourse US, 1982. 3 in foot-powered scootering, a very hard fall UK, 2000 slam verb 1 to inject an illegal drug intravenously US, 1996. 2 to violently jar a mix of alcoholic spirit (usually a shot of tequila) and carbonated soft drink. To prepare a SLAMMER from the action of slamming a covered glass containing the mixture down on a hard surface, e.g. a bar counter UK, 2001. 3 to hide prison contraband in your rectum US, 2000. 4 to defecate US, 2001. 5 to criticise someone or something harshly US, 1916. 6 to refuse to work. Prison usage US, 1950. 7 in hot rodding and car customising, to modify a car's suspension so as to lower the body US, 1993. 8 while riding a surfboard or skateboard, to lose your balance and fall US, 1984. 9 to slam dance US, 1995 slam bam noun 1 homemade whisky US, 1980s. 2 a hastily prepared sandwich consisting only of bread and bologna BAHAMAS, 1995

slambang verb to successfully cheat other gamblers US, 1950 slam-bang adverb with force or noise UK, 1840 slam book noun a book with a series of questions to which friends write answers US, 1969 slam dance verb to dance in a violent manner popular in punk and post-punk settings. Slam dancing was good fodder for popular television in the US, with the Chips episode that aired on 31st January 1982 and the Quincy episode of 2nd December 1982, both of which centred around the relatively new phenomenon US, 1981 slam down verb to confine someone to a jail cell US, 1989 slam dunk noun 1 in the language of wind surfing, an unintended, sudden end of a ride when the board steers too hard to windward US, 1985. 2 anything accomplished with ease US, 2001 slam-dunk verb to defeat someone convincingly, if not overwhelmingly. From the basketball sense of jamming the ball through the hoop US, 1992 slam-dunk adjective certain US, 1992 slam hammer; slam puller noun a tool used by car thieves to pull out the cylinder of the ignition lock UK, 1977 slammed adjective incarcerated US, 1982 slammed back adjective under the influence of heroin US, 1997 slammer noun 1 a door US, 1946. 2 a jail or prison. Also in UK use US, 1952. 3 solitary confinement US, 1984. 4 a mix of alcoholic spirit (usually a shot of tequila) and carbonated soft drink, violently jarred together and gulped down whilst fizzing UK, 2001. 5 a person who slam dances US, 1995. 6 an illegal linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio US, 1976 slammin'; slamming noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 slamming adjective excellent; beautiful; fabulous. Originally late C19; current usage started in 1980s black society and spread with hip-hop music US, 1994 slammin', jammin', throw down happy feet! used for expressing great pleasure US, 1986 slam partner noun a partner for sex, pure and simple US, 1993 slam up verb to imprison someone US, 1990 slang noun in carnival and amusement park usage, a watch chain US, 1981 slang verb 1 to sell drugs, especially crack cocaine US, 1991. 2 to berate someone with abusive language UK, 1844. 3 to exhibit or perform in a circus, fair or market; to perform on a stage UK, 1789 slanged adjective in fetters; in chains UK, 1812 slanger noun 1 a drug dealer US, 1997. 2 a showman. Circus use; from obsolete slang (a travelling show; a single performance of a travelling show) UK, 1933 slanging match noun an exchange of harsh abuse UK, 1896 slangs noun slang words or terms. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1972 slanguage noun a slang vocabulary. A jargon-like attempt to dignify slang as a language US, 1879 slangui noun a linguist with a special interest in slang; an expert user of a slang vocabulary. An inevitable construction that lends some dignity to a misunderstood academic; it is first recorded in William Safire's New York Times column, 26th October 1980, although 'slangist' was recorded in 1885 as 'a user of slang' US, 1980 slant noun a South Asian person. Offensive US, 1942 slanter noun 1 a dishonest trick AUSTRALIA, 1864. 2 the eye US, 1970 slant-eye noun a person from southern Asia. Offensive US, 1962 slant six noun a six-cylinder engine configured with all six cylinders in line slanted over 30 degrees. Introduced in 1959 for the Plymouth Valiant, it is considered by many to be the most durable engine ever manufactured commercially US, 1960 slantville noun a neighbourhood dominated by South Asian people US, 1959 slanty-eyed; slant-eye noun a car of Japanese manufacture. Citizens' band radio slang; a specific application for generally racist terms US, 1976 slap noun 1 a beating. From the conventional use (to hit with an open hand); as with SPANK it is applied with heavy irony UK, 2001. 2 a prison sentence. From a conventional 'slap' given as a punishment UK, 2000. 3 theatrical makeup cosmetics. You slap it on; theatrical; survives in the face of lighting technology that has made much makeup unnecessary. Also variant 'schlep' UK, 1860 slap verb 1 to increase the charge for something; to implement a punitive condition UK, 1922. 2 especially in jazz or funk music, to play the double bass or bass guitar by pulling at the strings and letting them 'slap' back. 'Slap-style' is also known as 'thumb-style' US, 1933. ► slap skins 1 to have sex US, 1995. 2 to slap palms in greeting, farewell or approval US, 1967. ► slap the bacon in the pan to have sex US, 1977. ► slap the iron to her to put snow chains on a truck's tyres US, 1961. ► slap the monkey (of a male) to masturbate. A variation of SPANK THE MONKEY UK, 2002

slap adverb exactly; perfectly UK, 1829 slap and tickle noun 1 sex. A little slap and tickle never hurt anyone UK, 1984. 2 a pickle. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 slap-back adjective self-congratulatory UK, 2001 slap circuit noun the underworld US, 1963 slap-down noun a humiliating situation US, 1986 slap down verb to contradict and prevent someone's action, especially when it is done with humiliating effect UK, 1938 slap hammer noun a hammer designed for pulling dents but used to break open the top of a car's steering column to obtain access to the ignition US, 1996 slap-happy adjective 1 dazed; confused US, 1936. 2 obsessed with masturbation US, 1962 slaphead noun a bald person, whether naturally so or shaven UK, 1990 slaphead adjective bald-headed UK, 1997 slap-in-the-chops noun a shot of pure alcohol BERMUDA, 1985 slap on the wrist noun any minor punishment UK, 2002 slapper noun 1 a sexually promiscuous woman. Possibly from SLAP (makeup) or, simply, the sound of flesh on flesh UK, 1999. 2 a small, heavy club US, 1976. 3 a windscreen wiper US, 1976 slapping noun a beating UK, 1997 slaps noun plastic flip-flops (sandals). Skateboarding usage US, 1976 slapsie-maxi noun a taxi. Rhyming slang NEW ZEALAND, 1963 slap-slap noun a small police club that fits into a police officer's hand US, 1962 slap-up adjective (of a meal) excellent, generously provisioned, superior. Originally (1823) used to describe anything or anyone that was considered excellent UK, 1889 slash noun 1 a urination UK, 1950. 2 the vagina US, 1972. 3 an attractive, white woman US, 1987 slash verb 1 to urinate UK, 1950. 2 to cut a military-style peaked cap in such a way that the downward angle of the peak is exaggerated UK, 2001. 3 to surf aggressively back and forth across the face of a wave US, 1991 slash-and-burn adjective ruthless; unconcerned with the consequences of a tactic. From a term describing a jungle agricultural practice first recorded in the early 1940s US, 1989 slasher noun 1 a person who takes a perverse pleasure from vandalism by slashing US, 1954. 2 in prison, a self-mutilator UK, 1996. 3 a surgeon. Often teamed with anaesthetists as 'GASSERS and slashers' UK, 2002. 4 in greyhound racing, a dog that cuts to the inside rail after the first turn US, 1997 slash-house noun a toilet AUSTRALIA, 1971 slat noun 1 used to denote five shillings, or the post-decimalisation equivalent of 25p. Originally (1788) 'a half-crown coin'; subsequently, perhaps as a result of inflation, used of a crown (a five-shilling coin) and its value. Thus, pre-1971, 'half-a-slat' was 'a half-crown coin; half-a-crown in value', and so it remained, despite metrication, to represent equivalent values UK, 1979. 2 a dollar US, 1969. 3 a jail or prison sentence US, 1973 slate noun marijuana UK, 1996 slate verb to criticise someone or something harshly UK, 1848 slating noun an instance of harsh criticism UK, 1870 slats noun 1 ribs US, 1898. 2 prison bars US, 1950. 3 skis US, 1963 slaughter noun a concealed location used by criminals for the division or transfer of recently stolen goods UK, 1970 slaughter verb 1 to utterly defeat someone UK, 2001. 2 to severely criticise someone or something UK, 1991. 3 to use a concealed location for temporary storage, distribution or transfer of recently stolen goods UK, 2001 slaughtered adjective very drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1989 slaughterhouse noun 1 a premises where a drug dealer stores drugs UK, 2003. 2 a school. Teen slang US, 1958

Slaughter on the Water noun the 1995 America's Cup sailing race, a lopsided victory by New Zealand US, 1996 slave noun 1 in a sado-masochistic relationship, a person who endures many forms of humiliation, including extreme pain and public displays of submission US, 1963. 2 a submissive prisoner who performs all types of menial tasks for others US, 1988. 3 a job US, 1946 slave verb to work, especially at a menial job US, 1974 slave bracelet noun a bracelet showing romantic devotion to another US, 1947 slave-driver noun a stern taskmaster US, 1854 slave market noun 1 any place where day labourers congregate US, 1978. 2 a National Employment Service office CANADA, 1960 slave training noun the process of instructing, and conditioning the behaviour of, a sexual submissive in order that the submissive's menial service and status become part of a sexual relationship, especially when used in a dominant prostitute's advertising matter UK, 2003 slay verb to cause someone to laugh uproariously UK, 1927 slayer noun an assertive young woman. An allusion to the eponymous lead in the television series Buffy the Vampire Slayer. Teen slang UK, 2003 sleaze noun 1 sordidness, sleaziness; immorality UK, 1967. 2 political corruption US, 1983. 3 a person with low moral standards US, 1976 sleazebag noun an undesirable, unlikeable person. A useful term when you cannot decide whether to call someone a SCUMBAG or a SLEAZEBALL US, 1992 sleazeball noun an utterly despicable person US, 1983 sleazemeister noun an acknowledged expert on, or practitioner of, sordidness, sleaziness, immorality or political corruption. By a combination of SLEAZE and German meister (master) US, 1993 sleazo noun a despicable, sleazy person US, 1972 sleazoid noun a person of low character US, 1986 sleazy adjective 1 cheap; inferior; low US, 1941. 2 disreputable, especially in a sexually enticing way UK, 1960 slab noun a celebrity. A phonetic slurring and reduction UK, 1997 sled noun 1 a motorcycle. Biker (motorcycle) usage US, 2003. 2 a car US, 1985 sledge noun a verbal criticism designed to put a player off their game AUSTRALIA, 2000 sledge verb to needle an opponent in order to put them off their game AUSTRALIA, 1995 sledgehammer noun in pool, a stroke lacking in finesse but full of force US, 1990 sledger noun in cricket, a fielder who baits, taunts and abuses an opponent as tactical gamesmanship UK, 2002 sledgied adjective under the influence of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1991 sledging noun the practice of needling an opponent in order to put them off their game. Originally, and still principally, in cricket, but now also used in reference to other sports AUSTRALIA, 1975 sleekit adjective cunning, sly. Dialect UK: SCOTLAND, 1911 sleep noun 1 a prison sentence of one year US, 1949. 2 cocaine. Rich irony; if you do, you won't US, 1987 sleep verb ► sleep with someone to have sex with someone UK, 1819. ► sleep with the fishes to be dead as a result of a murder US, 1972 sleep around verb to be sexually promiscuous US, 1928 sleepers noun 1 a barbiturate capsule; a sleeping tablet US, 1961. 2 heroin UK, 1998. 3 a book, film, song, etc, that, having failed to sell successfully on its initial release, eventually becomes a 'hit' UK, 1984. 4 in sports, a player who performs exceptionally well in spite of very low initial expectations US, 1878. 5 in betting, uncollected winnings; a stake that is illegally retained by the bookmaker when a bet is won UK, 1956. 6 in circus and carnival usage, money that a customer overlooks US, 1981. 7 in craps, a bet on the table that a gambler has forgotten is his US, 1981. 8 in dominoes, an unused piece that rests numbers-down US, 1997. 9 in hot rodding, a conventional-looking, deceptively high-performing car US, 1965. 10 a train with sleeping carriages US, 1958. 11 a rock just below the land surface CANADA, 1987 sleepers jump noun any long distance move between performances US, 1973 sleeping Bill noun a police truncheon US, 1949 sleeping policeman noun a speed bump UK, 1973 sleeping time noun a very short jail or prison sentence US, 1992 sleep off verb to serve a short prison sentence without difficulty US, 1950 sleep on verb to give overnight consideration to something; to put off making a decision until the following day UK, 1519 sleep-out noun 1 an enclosed verandah, or part thereof, fitted with a bed for sleeping AUSTRALIA, 1927. 2 chiefly in Victoria, a separate outbuilding used as sleeping quarters AUSTRALIA, 2003

Sleepy-R noun the Canadian Pacific Railway CANADA, 1987

sleepy seeds noun the deposits of mucus formed about the eyes during sleep US, 1975 sleet noun crack cocaine. From the drug's resemblance to sleet US, 1994 sleeve noun a condom UK, 1998. ► on the sleeve used of someone who injects drugs. From the need to roll up a sleeve before injecting UK, 1996. ► put the sleeve on someone to arrest someone UK, 1996 sleeve verb to tattoo the lower half of the arm US, 1989 sleeveen adjective sly, devious IRELAND, 2004 sleeves noun a wetsuit of any style US, 1977 sleezer noun a person, usually female, who is substandard in some important way US, 1992 sleigh ride noun the use of cocaine or heroin; cocaine or heroin. Building on the SNOW metaphor US, 1973 sleven noun in Newfoundland, a person not to be trusted, a rascal CANADA, 1968 slevered adjective drunk. Hip-hop, urban slang noted in connection with a legal dispute over rap lyrics by BBC News, 6th June 2003 UK, 2003 slew noun a large amount US, 1839 slew; slew a head verb to distract someone, especially in the commission of a crime AUSTRALIA, 1975 slice noun 1 a woman or women, objectified sexually. From the phrase 'take a slice' recorded in 1796 as 'to intrigue, particularly with a married woman, because a slice of a cut loaf is not missed'; the etymology is further thought to trace back to the proverbial phrase 'it is safe taking a shive [a slice] of a cut loaf', and 'shive' is easily exchanged with 'swive' (to have sex). Perhaps from an image of the vagina as a slice in the flesh, but also taking a slice of bread as something necessary and in plentiful supply UK, 1796. 2 an act of sexual intercourse (with a woman). After the previous sense, possibly influenced by synonymous PORTION UK, 1955. ► cut off a slice to have sex (with a woman). A punningly contrived verb form of 'slice' (an act of sexual intercourse) UK, 1980 slice verb ► slice bread to make a payoff UK, 1970 sliced adjective 1 muscular, lacking body fat, well-sculpted US, 1984. 2 circumcised US, 1988 slice of knuckle pie noun a punch in the mouth UK, 1962 slice of toast noun a ghost. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 slick noun 1 a car tyre without a tread, used in drag racing. Usually heard in the plural US, 1960. 2 a glossy magazine US, 1953. 3 in pool, a skilled player who bets on his own ability US, 1990. 4 a field of criminal expertise US, 1992. 5 an unarmed aircraft US, 1990. 6 a helicopter used for troop transport US, 1971 slick adjective 1 attractive; charming US, 2001. 2 in lowball poker, favourable US, 1967 slick chick noun an attractive girl US, 1947 slickdick adjective smooth; plausible. Elaboration of conventional 'slick' UK, 1997 slicker noun 1 a world-wise, sophisticated, urban person US, 1900. 2 a police officer US, 1998. 3 a stolen car with all identification markings erased or removed US, 1950. 4 an oversized, wide, smooth tyre used in racing US, 1958 slick leggings noun the rubbing of the penis between the thighs of another man until reaching orgasm US, 1967

slicklicker noun an oil-spill cleaning machine CANADA, 1995 slick-sleeve noun a US Army private E-1; a US Air Force airman basic; a police recruit. 'Slick' because he has no stripes on his sleeve US, 1970 slick superspeed noun methcathinone. From the superior quality of the drug when compared to average SPEED (amphetamine) US, 2003 slick top noun an unmarked police car with no light on its roof US, 1976 slick-wing adjective used of a pilot in the air force, junior. The wing insignias of the junior pilot did not have a star above them like those of senior and command pilots US, 1986 slicky; slicky verb to obtain something through ingenious and unorthodox diligence, up to and including theft. An adaptation of pidgin English by United Nations troops in Korea in the early 1950s, from 'slick' (not-quite-honestly smart) US, 1968 slicky boy noun a thief or swindler. Coined by Koreans, borrowed by US and UN troops in Korea US, 1967 slide noun a trouser pocket US, 1932 slide verb 1 to depart, to go US, 1859. 2 to ride a wave US, 1965. ► slide your jive to talk freely. Teen slang CANADA, 1946 slide adjective used of a college course, easy US, 1974 slide and sluther noun a brother. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 slider noun 1 an electronic device that allows operation between authorised channels on a citizens' band radio US, 1976. 2 a gambler who slides rather than rolls dice in an effort to control the result US, 2003. 3 a hamburger or cheeseburger. Originally the small hamburgers sold by the White Tower™ chain, later any hamburger US, 1987 sliders noun men's shorts with an elastic waistband TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1939 slide-rule jockey noun a navigator in an aeroplane crew US, 1959 slides noun shoes US, 1962 slim noun a handgun US, 1950 slime noun 1 heroin US, 1994. 2 British Army Intelligence Corps personnel UK, 1995 slimeball noun a despicable person US, 1973 slimedog noun a dirty, offensive person US, 1994 slimemouth noun a foul-talking person US, 1985 slim-fast diet noun HIV or AIDS US, 2002

slim jim noun a device that is slipped into a car door and used to open the door's locking mechanism US, 1988 slim off verb to strip to your underwear US, 1958 slimy adjective having an insincere and ingratiating manner UK, 1602 sling noun 1 a monetary gift or tip. Wilkes records a slightly earlier (1948) variant 'sling back' AUSTRALIA, 1950. 2 in horse racing, a gratuity given the jockey and attendants by the owner after a win AUSTRALIA, 1989. 3 a bribe or illegal payment AUSTRALIA, 1948. ► beat it for the sling to fail to appear in court AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► in the sling said of a woman experiencing her menstrual period US, 1954 sling verb 1 to throw something (or someone) in a specific direction; hence to pass something from one person to another. Common in C14 and C15, now dialect or colloquial UK, 2002. 2 (to discard or abandon) someone or something; to quit something UK, 1902. 3 to pay a tip to someone AUSTRALIA, 1875. 4 to pay a bribe to someone AUSTRALIA, 1939. 5 to sell illegal drugs US, 2001. 6 to engage in promiscuous sexual behaviour BAHAMAS, 1982. ► sling hash to work as a waitress or short-order cook US, 1906. ► sling ink to tattoo US, 1989. ► sling your hook to go, to leave. A naval derivation, perhaps inspired by slinging grappling hooks preparatory to swinging across to another ship. Later use seems to be mainly imperative UK, 1874 sling-backs noun used generically for high-heeled shoes UK, 2002 sling-ding noun in fishing, a weight attached to a line of trawl to be set, to moor the end CANADA, 1955 slinger noun 1 a criminal who passes counterfeit money UK, 1950. 2 a striptease artist US, 1981

sling off verb to speaking disparagingly to someone AUSTRALIA, 1900

sling out verb to reject something; to eject someone UK, 1959 slingshot noun 1 a drag racing car design in which the driver is seated behind the rear wheels US, 1962. 2 any vehicle that passes others on the motorway at great speed US, 1976. 3 in motor racing, a passing method in which the car follows another's draught and then quickly passes US, 1973. 4 an extremely skimpy man's bathing suit US, 1991

slingshotting noun in bungee jumping, a reverse jump, beginning with the cord stretched out, yanking the participant up in the air US, 1992 slip noun 1 in cricket, a fielder or fielding position close to the wicket keeper UK, 1816. 2 the price of the fare home given to a punter who has lost all their money AUSTRALIA, 1977 slip verb 1 to give birth to a child AUSTRALIA, 1968. 2 to act inappropriately US, 1993. 3 to insult someone in a semi-formal quasi-friendly competition US, 2000. ► slip a fatty to have sex UK, 1983. ► slip a lock to open a locked door by sliding a plastic credit card between the door and jamb and then sliding the lock open US, 1981. ► slip her a length (from the male perspective) to have sex with a woman UK, 1949. ► slip it to someone (of a male) to have sex with someone. Euphemistic and naughty, both at once US, 1952. ► slip one to someone (of a male) to have sex with someone UK, 2001 slip-and-fall noun a run-of-the-mill, often fraudulent law suit or insurance claim resulting from an injury suffered slipping and falling in a business establishment US, 1996 slip-in noun any lubricant used for facilitating sex, especially anal sex US, 1962 slipper-training noun spanking with an old-fashioned gym shoe, especially when advertised as a service offered by a prostitute UK, 2003 slippery adjective in hot rodding and drag racing, streamlined US, 1968 slippery Anne noun in a deck of playing cards, the queen of spades US, 1950 slippery Sid; slippery noun a Jewish person. Offensive. Rhyming slang for YID UK, 1998 slippings noun any lubricant used in anal sex US, 1979 slipping stick noun a slide rule US, 1954 slippy adjective 1 quick; spry; nimble. From dialect. Perhaps the best known contemporary usage is the song that became the theme of the film Trainspotting UK, 1885. 2 slippery US, 1982 slip-slap noun an old shoe, especially a slipper TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973 slip-slop noun a strap sandal with a wooden sole BARBADOS, 1965 slip-sloppy adjective very drunk CANADA, 1988

slipstick noun a trombone US, 1970 slip-stick jockey noun a radar technician US, 1947 slip up verb to make a mistake US, 1855

S list noun used as a euphemism for 'shit list', a list of enemies US, 1974 slit noun 1 the vagina UK, 1648. 2 A person from South Asia. Offensive. From the European perception of South Asian eyes as slanted slits US, 1980. 3 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy.

Possibly from the sense as 'a vagina', punning on CUNT (a vein for injecting) UK, 2003 slitch noun a despicable and/or promiscuous girl. A blend of SLUT and BITCH US, 1963

slither noun counterfeit coins US, 1982

Sloane ranger; Sloane noun a conventional person, part of a fashionable set, born to the privileges of the upper-middle-class, especially one who dwells in London. A playful blend of Sloane Square (in Chelsea, London) and The Lone Ranger (since the 1930s, a fictional hero of the American west) UK, 1975

slob noun 1 a slovenly person; a fat, lazy person; hence, when the characteristics are applied to the intellect: a simple-minded person, or, when applied to the morals, a delinquent UK, 1861. 2 anyone of Slavic heritage. Offensive US, 1978. 3 used as a derogatory nickname for a member of the Bloods youth gang US, 1994

slob; slob out verb to behave in a lazy, slovenly manner UK, 2002

slobber noun food; a meal UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

slog noun an act or period of hard work UK, 1888 slog verb 1 to work hard at something UK, 1888. 2 to punch someone UK, 1824. 3 to walk heavily. From obsolete 'foot-slogger' (an infantryman, a pedestrian) UK, 1872. ► slog it out to work hard at some activity. An elaboration of SLOG (to work hard) AUSTRALIA, 1971. ► slog your guts out to work hard at something. An intensification of SLOG UK, 1984

sloo noun a look; a visual examination AUSTRALIA, 1989

sloosh verb to wash in a hurry and in a perfunctory fashion NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992

slooze noun a promiscuous female US, 1976 slop noun 1 prison food, 1996. 2 poorly formed waves for surfing purposes US, 1965. 3 in pool, a shot made unintentionally US, 1990. 4 in computing, a built-in margin of error in one direction only US, 1983. 5 a second-year college student US, 1947 slop verb ► slop the hogs in trucking, to fill a truck radiator with water US, 1971 slop and flop noun meals and lodging US, 1953 slope noun a person from South Asia US, 1948 slopehead noun a Vietnamese; any South Asian. Derogatory, perjorative, offensive, demeaning US, 1966 slope off verb to depart, especially surreptitiously or in embarrassment UK, 1861 slope-out noun an easy task US, 1957 slopey adjective used of a wave steep US, 1991 slopie noun a Chinese person or other South Asian. Offensive US, 1949 slop out verb 1 in prison, to dispose of bodily waste collected in unplumbed toilet facilities. The first order of the day according to Lag's Lexicon, Paul Tempest, 1950; however, according to HM Prison Service in 2003: 'Slopping out was officially ended on 12th April 1996' UK, 1950. 2 to remove and clean plates, bowls, etc, that have been used in a prison cell. A play on SLOP (prison food), and the previous sense UK, 1996 slopping out noun in prison, the regular emptying of unplumbed toilet facilities UK, 2000 sloppy adjective 1 very sentimental US, 1883. 2 drunk US, 2002

Sloppy Joe noun a multi-layered sandwich from which the fillings ooze. The name comes from the inevitable mess on fingers and face, the sign of a sloppy eater US, 1961 sloppy seconds noun sex with someone who has just had sex with someone else US, 1969

slops noun beer AUSTRALIA, 1944. ► go slops to have sex with a woman who has very recently had sex with another man or other men AUSTRALIA, 1985

slopshoot noun food with little nutritional value but which appeals to popular taste. US Marine Corps slang US, 1991 slops merchant noun a habitual drinker of beer AUSTRALIA, 1962

slopsucker noun a low priority project US, 1991 slop time noun in prison, meal time. From SLOP (prison food) UK, 1996 slop up verb to drink to the point of intoxication US, 1962 slosh noun 1 a small indeterminate measure of some liquid UK, 1888. 2 a blow. From SLOSH (to hit) UK, 1936. 3 a drink, especially if watery or weak; tea; coffee; beer; drink in general; hence, sodden or mushy food UK, 1819. 4 the back-slash (\) on a computer keyboard US, 1991 slosh verb 1 to pour a liquid or a sodden mass carelessly; to swallow a drink, an oyster, etc carelessly. Usually combined with an adverb: 'slosh down', 'slosh out', 'slosh over', etc US, 1875. 2 to hit someone UK, 1890 slosh and mud; slosh noun a stud. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 sloshed adjective drunk UK, 1946

sloshing noun a beating; a thrashing UK, 1931

sloshy adjective drunk US, 1993 slot noun 1 a prison cell AUSTRALIA, 1947. 2 prison AUSTRALIA, 1976. 3 used as a term of address among jazz lovers of the 1930s and 40s US, 1946. 4 the perfect spot to ride a wave US, 1964. 5 a crevasse in the snow ANTARCTICA, 2000 slot verb 1 to imprison someone AUSTRALIA, 1950. 2 to shoot someone dead. Military UK, 1998. 3 to give something UK, 1999 slotties noun 1 a handbag. Polari UK, 1992. 2 money UK, 1992 slouch noun a lazy non-performer US, 1796 slough noun a jail or prison US, 1950 slough verb 1 to arrest someone US, 1962. 2 to close down a poker game. Also used in the variant 'slough up' US, 1979 slow verb ► slow your roll to calm down US, 1993 slow boat noun ► get someone on a slow boat to win all of a person's money by luring them into making ill-advised bets US, 1951

slowcoach noun a slow-moving (or slow-thinking) person UK, 1837 slow-em-up noun any central nervous system depressant US, 1980 slow-me-down noun a sedative tablet UK, 2000 slow-mo adjective slow-motion US, 1993 slow-pay noun a person in debt who has been remiss in making repayment US, 1973

slow pill noun in horse racing, a depressant given to a horse to decrease its performance US, 1947 slow-play verb 1 to stall; to delay US, 1992. 2 in poker, to underbet a hand to lure other players with inferior hands into betting UK, 1990

slowpoke noun a person who moves slowly or dawdles US, 1848 slow set noun in a disco, a set of songs (usually three) played at slow tempo with the purpose of bringing the dancers closer together IRELAND, 1997 slow smoulder noun a person whose career is going nowhere fast. US Air Force usage; the opposite of a 'fast burner' US, 1998 slow the row, papa! take it easy! US, 1947 slud verb to fall victim to a chemical warfare attack. From the official military warning that the victim will salivate, lachrymate, urinate, and defecate' US, 1991 sludge noun beer UK, 1958

SLUF nickname an A-7 Corsair attack bomber. An acronym for 'short /little (or low) ugly fucker (or fellow)' US, 1994

sluff verb to play truant US, 1951 slug noun 1 a drink UK, 1756. 2 a dollar US, 1981. 3 the penis. Figurative application of the slimy invertebrate found in damp places; the pun on conventional 'slug' (a bullet) into BULLET (an ejaculation of semen) is later AUSTRALIA, 1945. 4 an idler. Either an abbreviation of 'sluggard' or a comparison to the slow-moving slimy gastropod or land-snail UK, 1425. 5 a seal. A visual similarity ANTARCTICA, 1940. 6 a group of cards that have been arranged and then inserted into a deck US, 1996. 7 a hospital patient who refuses to participate in therapy or self-help US, 1989. 8 in drag racing and hot rodding, a piston US, 1958. 9 in the television and film industries, a piece of slug verb 1 to strike someone hard UK, 1862. 2 to drink directly from a bottle. From the noun sense UK: SCOTLAND, 1996. 3 to cheat playing slot machines by inserting something other than the proper coin in the machine US, 1985. 4 to lie in bed. Verb formation from the more common usage as a noun US, 1986 slug and snail; slug noun a fingernail, a toenail. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 slugfest noun a bruising, drawn-out fight; hence, a military engagement at close-quarters. A combination of SLUG (to strike) and -FEST (a concentration of the preceding noun) US, 2003 slugger noun 1 a brutish fist-fighter US, 1942. 2 a casino cheat who tries to play slot machines with objects other than the proper coin US, 1985

unusable film that is temporarily used to fill in for footage that will be added US, 1990. ► put the slug on someone to hit someone with your fist US, 1980

sluggo noun an extremely skimpy bikini AUSTRALIA, 1991 sluggos noun tight-fitting men's nylon swimming briefs. So called since they display the SLUG (the penis) AUSTRALIA, 1987 slug huggers noun a pair of men's close-fitting and revealing nylon swimming trunks AUSTRALIA, 2003 slugout noun a fight, especially between youth gangs US, 1962 sluice noun an act of sexual intercourse; sex. From an earlier sense (the vagina) UK, 1970 slum noun 1 an apartment or house. The Oxford English Dictionary offers several early C19 cites in this sense but deems the term obsolete. Robert Beck (Iceberg Slim) wrote the language of the streets, not C19 England, suggesting a slang life for the word in the C20 US US, 1969. 2 inexpensive costume jewellery; any low-value merchandise US, 1914. 3 prison food US, 1950 slum verb 1 to visit a poor neighbourhood out of curiosity; to live beneath your station UK, 1884. 2 to voluntarily mix with social inferiors UK, 1928 slum adjective cheap; shabby; in poor taste US, 1973 slumber slot noun in trucking, a sleeping compartment behind the seat US, 1971 slumgullion noun a make-shift stew made with whatever ingredients are at hand US, 1963 slum hustler noun a person who sells fake jewellery US, 1973 slumlord noun a landlord who rents poorly kept-up properties in the ghetto, often with a large profit margin US, 1953 slummadelic fire noun excellent and exciting rap music US, 2002 slummy noun small change; coins. Liverpool use UK, 2001 slung up adjective relaxed; at ease US, 1990

slurp verb ► slurp at the sideways smile to perform oral sex on a woman US, 2001 slurpage noun any beverage US, 1997 slush noun 1 counterfeit paper money UK, 1924. 2 tea UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. ► in the slush very drunk US, 1991

slush box noun an automatic transmission; a car with automatic transmission AUSTRALIA, 1981 slush car noun a car with an automatic transmission US, 1958 slush fund noun 1 a discretionary fund, where the source of the money and the exact way in which it is spent is not subject to any accounting or accountability US, 1874. 2 money collected by a prisoner's associates for a prisoner's family UK, 1996 slushing fuck pit noun the vagina UK, 2001 slush pump noun 1 a trombone. Musicians' slang US, 1937. 2 an automatic transmission; a vehicle with an automatic transmission. 'Not used so much these days,' noted Clive Graham-Ranger, Sunday Times, 9th August 1981 US, 1968 slush up verb to drink to the point of intoxication US, 1949 slushy noun a kitchen hand AUSTRALIA, 1880

slushy adjective extremely sentimental US, 1889 slut noun 1 a promiscuous girl or woman UK, 1450. 2 a promiscuous boy or man US, 2002. 3 a prostitute US, 1967. 4 used as an affectionate female-to-female term of address. Use of the term does not suggest promiscuity US, 1983

-slut suffix in combination with a sexual fetish or activity, a sexual fetishist or (in pornography) specialist; in such forms as pain-slut, nipple-slut, come-slut, etc. Intended to, or, at best, tends to, diminish the status of a person so described. Widespread in Internet pornography UK, 2003 slut-mouth noun a person whose language is often coarse and vulgar US, 2007 slut puppy noun a promiscuous girl US, 1990 slutted out adjective broken down; in disrepair US, 1984 sluttish adjective sexual in a cheap way US, 2004 slutty adjective promiscuous; having a sexual appearance US, 1991 slutwear noun extremely sexually provoking clothing US, 2000 sly adjective unfair. Liverpool usage UK, 2001 sly-boots noun a cunning person. Jocular UK, 1700 sly-grog noun illegally made or supplied alcohol AUSTRALIA, 1825

sly-grogger noun a person selling sly-grog AUSTRALIA, 1897

sly-grogger noun an establishment selling alcohol without a licence to do so AUSTRALIA, 1907 sly-grogging noun the practice of selling alcohol illicitly AUSTRALIA, 1952

sly-grog joint noun an establishment selling alcohol without a licence to do so AUSTRALIA, 1956 sly-grog shop noun an establishment selling alcohol without a licence to do so AUSTRALIA, 1826 sly mongoose noun an extremely clever and devious person. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981 smack noun 1 heroin. Derives, possibly, from Yiddish shmeker (a sniffer of drugs) US, 1942. 2 alcohol US, 1973. 3 disparaging talk US, 1999. 4 slang US, 1997. 5 a swindle based on matching pennies US, 1940 smack verb to murder someone UK, 1999. ► smack the pony (of a female) to masturbate. Smack the Pony is an all-women television sketch show, first broadcast on Channel 4 in 1999 UK, 2002 smack adverb precisely. A shortened SMACK-DAB US, 1951

smack-bang adverb of a location, exactly, in the middle UK, 1984 smack-dab adverb exactly. At times reversed for comic effect US, 1892 smacked back adjective heroin-intoxicated US, 1981 smacked out adjective in an extreme state of heroin- or cocaine-intoxication UK, 1983 smacker noun 1 a loud kiss UK, 1775. 2 a one-dollar note US, 1945. 3 a pound sterling. From the earlier sense UK, 1924 smackeroonie noun 1 a kiss. A teenage elaboration of SMACKER, noted by Joanna Williamson, 1982 UK, 1982. 2 a pound sterling. An extension of SMACKER (a pound), popularised by UK television personality Christ Tarrant (b.1946) on Who Wants To Be A Millionaire? on Itelevision from 1998 UK, 2002 smackers noun the lips UK, 2002 smackhead noun a heroin addict. A combination of SMACK (heroin) and HEAD (user) US, 1972

smack in the eye noun a pie. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 smack up verb 1 to attack someone; to beat someone up AUSTRALIA, 1945. 2 to inject oneself with heroin US, 1995 smacky lips noun prolonged kissing US, 1965 smage verb to masturbate NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992

small noun one hundred dollars US, 1988 small adjective 1 afraid US, 1986. 2 drug-intoxicated. Comedian Steve Martin's refrain of 'Let's get small' inspired a wider usage of the term US, 1978 small beer noun something or someone of little consequence or importance UK, 1777 small fortune noun an extravagantly large sum of money UK, 1874 small fry noun an insignificant thing or things, person or people UK, 1797 small house noun a latrine TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986

smallie noun 1 in Jamaica, a person from any other Caribbean island JAMAICA, 1994. 2 on Trinidad and Tobago, a person from any of the smaller English Caribbean islands northwest of Trinidad and Tobago TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1945 small nickel noun fifty dollars or, in a casino, fifty dollars' worth of betting tokens US, 1967 small one noun one hundred dollars US, 1988 small potatoes adjective something of little consequence US, 1838 smalls noun 1 underwear UK, 1943. 2 a small amount of money as a bribe JAMAICA, 2003 small suppository in anticipation of the broom handle noun the opening volley in a battle. US Naval aviator usage US, 1986 small thing noun ► do that small thing used in a request for a favour, or to signal compliance with a request UK, 1984 small-time adjective insignificant, unimportant; minor. Of vaudeville origins US, 1938 small-timer noun an insignificant person; someone of trivial importance in any given field UK, 1935 smanker noun an unmarried, middle-aged person who has no children, objectified as a lifestyle category. Formed on the acronym of 'single middle-aged no kids', and probably contrived for marketing purposes UK, 2003 smarm verb to behave in an ingratiating manner; to flatter someone insincerely UK, 1911 smarmy adjective smug, self-satisfied; overly sentimental UK, 1909 smart adjective fine; well; alright UK, 2001 smart alec; smart aleck; smart alick noun an offensively smart person; a know-it-all US, 1865 smart armpit noun a know-all. Euphemistic for SMART-ARSE UK, 2000 smart-arse; smart-ass noun a person with a conceited view of their own intelligence AUSTRALIA, 1937 smartarsed; smart-arsed adjective conceited about one's intelligence US, 1960 smart as a new pin adjective very smartly dressed UK, 1893 smarter than the average bear used for a humorous, if at times ironic, observation about another's intelligence. Yogi Bear's boast about himself in the television cartoon series that first aired in 1958 US, 1958 smart-eye verb to give someone a look that may be aggressive, challenging or disapproving US, 2000 smartie noun 1 a shrewd operator; a person who is wise to the various devices used by criminals AUSTRALIA, 1950. 2 an impudent, cheeky person; an offensively smart person AUSTRALIA, 1969. 3 an intelligent person AUSTRALIA, 1982 smarties noun tablets of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. From a branded multi-coloured confection UK, 2001 smartman noun a man who engages in confidence swindles TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 smart mob noun a group of protesters (or some other demonstration of social unrest) organised and mobilised by text messaging. A play on conventional 'mob' and an abbreviation of 'mobile' US, 2003 smart money noun in horse racing, money bet on the basis of solid, empirical data US, 1957 smart-mouth verb to talk insolently to someone US, 1968 smart pill noun rabbit droppings. In the US, Michigan Upper Peninsula usage AUSTRALIA, 2001

smarts noun intelligence US, 1970 smarty noun in horse racing, a person purporting to have inside information but who is not to be trusted AUSTRALIA, 1989 smarty-pants noun a person who is smart, but not quite as smart as they think they are US, 1941 smash noun 1 a great success. A shortening of 'smash hit' UK, 1930. 2 momentum. Air combat slang US, 1986. 3 money; pocket change US, 1953. 4 wine US, 1962 smash verb ► smash case in computing, to disregard any differentiation between upper and lower case US, 1991 smash and grab noun 1 a black taxi or a minicab. Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 2 a simplistic burglary involving very little planning or thought US, 1969 smashed adjective 1 drunk US, 1960. 2 drug-intoxicated US, 1967 smash 'em-up noun a vehicle accident US, 1976 smasher noun 1 a very attractive female US, 1959. 2 a superlative thing UK, 1894. 3 a baggage handler on a train US, 1977 smasheroo noun 1 a great success. An elaboration of SMASH US, 1948. 2 a good-looking female US, 1959 smash-face adjective physical; aggressive US, 1990 smashing adjective fine; excellent; possessed of great charm; large. It is often claimed, improbably, that this derives from the Irish phrase is maith sin (that's good) UK, 1911 smash-mouth noun prolonged kissing US, 1965 smash-mouth verb to kiss passionately US, 1968 smash-mouth adjective physical, aggressive US, 1989 smazzmo verb to move in an uncoordinated, jerky manner US, 1977 smear noun theatrical cosmetics US, 1952 smear verb to drop napalm on a target US, 1991. ► smear a queer to assault a homosexual US, 1993 smears noun LSD US, 1982

smeg noun 1 used as an all-purpose, non-profanely insult. Used in many different forms – 'smeg!', 'smegging', 'smeghead' – by space castaway Dave Lister in the science fiction comedy television show Red Dwarf, BBC since 1988 UK, 1988. 2 any viscous matter of unknown origin. The variant 'shmeg' also exists US, 1995 smell noun digital-vaginal contact US, 1974 smell verb ► smell Apple pie to be near your date of expected return from military service in Vietnam to the US US, 1991.

► smell for water to find a spring using a divining rod CANADA, 1960. ► smell some gas to be transported by motor vehicle US, 2002

smeller noun the nose UK, 1700 smell-fart noun an inquisitive know-it-all NEW ZEALAND, 1994

smellies noun 1 perfume; perfumed deodorants UK, 2002. 2 anchovies US, 1996 smell of broken glass noun a strong body odour, especially male. Probably from the 'sharp' nature of the offending smell UK, 1973 smell of clay noun a condition ascribed to a person likely to die soon UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 smellybridge noun the perineum (the area of skin between the anus and the scrotum or vagina) UK, 2002 smelly hole noun the vagina UK, 2001 smell you! used for replying to an obvious brag US, 1995 smesh noun in circus and carnival usage, money US, 1981 smidge noun the smallest amount. A shortened SMIDGEN. First recorded in 1905, but popularised by ESPN's Dan Patrick telling viewers that Sports Center will resume 'in a smidge.' US, 1905 smidgen; smidgin noun a very small amount US, 1845 smile noun something that is amusing US, 1982 smile and smirk; smile noun work; also, as a verb: to work. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 smiley noun 1 a simplistic image of a smiling face, used for indicating laughter or happiness. First seen as an icon and later in electronic communications formed with punctuation marks, generally as :) but with multiple variations US, 1995. 2 a tablet of LSD with the smiley icon printed or etched thereon UK, 1998. 3 a variety of

MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by the smiley motif embossed on the tablet UK, 2002. 4 a large chain with a padlock worn around the arm or neck US, 1997

smithereens noun small pieces or fragments; shreds UK, 1829

Smitty noun in hot rodding, a silencer packed with fiberglass, increasing the roar of the engine US, 1960 smock noun heroin. A corruption of SMACK or the Yiddish SHMECK US, 1960

smog verb 1 to smoke marijuana US, 2001. 2 to execute someone with lethal gas US, 1992 smoke noun 1 a cigarette; a cigar UK, 1882. 2 marijuana; heroin; opium; any drug that may be smoked US, 1946. 3 a marijuana cigarette US, 1967. 4 crack cocaine when smoked; heroin mixed with crack cocaine when smoked US, 1991. 5 denatured alcohol (ethyl alcohol to which a poisonous substance has been added to make it unfit for consumption) mixed with water for drinking US, 1950. 6 toxic, potentially fatal solvents used as substitutes for alcohol for the truly desperate US, 1955. 7 a black person. Offensive US, 1913. 8 a non-commissioned officer commanding an artillery battery US, 1988. 9 a forest fire US, 1991. 10 one dollar US, 1975. ► bring smoke to fire a gun US, 1997. ► in smoke in hiding AUSTRALIA, 1908. ► put smoke to fire a single round of artillery to help others mark a target US, 1990. ► the Smoke; Big Smoke; Great Smoke; the Smokes London; any large city. All variations are used with 'the' UK, 1848. ► up the Smoke to London; to central London (from the suburbs). Originally tramps' usage; you go 'up THE SMOKE' (London) even when heading down from the north UK smoke verb 1 to shoot someone US, 1926. 2 to drive fast US, 1976. 3 to defeat someone soundly, especially in a contest of speed US, 1996. 4 to perform oral sex on a man. Simple imagery, perhaps influenced by the Freudian notion that smoking is an 'oral' habit UK, 1984. ► smoke a bowl to smoke a pipe filled with marijuana US, 1982. ► smoke a pipe; smoke the pipe to surf through the hollow tube of a wave US, 1987. ► smoke butt to curry favour through obsequious behaviour US, 1992. ► smoke it to commit suicide by a gunshot wound in the mouth US, 1984. ► smoke like a chimney to smoke cigarettes heavily UK, 1840. ► smoke with the devil to drive too fast for road conditions US, 1976

smokeasy noun a clandestine venue for the illegal sale and consumption of marijuana. Modelled on SPEAKEASY (a bar that sells alcohol illegally) UK, 2004 smoke Canada noun marijuana, presumed to originate in Canada UK, 2001 smoked cheaters noun dark glasses US, 1959 smoked haddock noun at a racecourse, the paddock. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 smoked Irishman noun any person with black, brown or coffee-coloured skin UK, 1966 smoked out adjective 1 extremely intoxicated on marijuana or crack cocaine US, 1993. 2 without any crack cocaine to smoke US, 2003

Smoked Scotchman noun a person whose parentage is Scottish and Indian CANADA, 1960

smoked Welshman noun any dark-skinned man speaking little English. Maybe simple racial stereotyping, but is probably influenced by the fact that an English person attempting a Welsh accent sounds generically Indian UK, 1984 smoke house noun 1 a room where meetings of twelve-step recovery programmes such as Alcoholics Anonymous are held. A term based on the heavy cigarette smoking that is often characteristic of the meetings US, 1998. 2 crack cocaine UK, 2003

smoke pole noun a shotgun CANADA, 1970

smoker noun 1 a social gathering, limited to men, especially one with sexual entertainment; a film shown during such a gathering UK, 1887. 2 a marijuana smoker US, 1961. 3 a passenger train car in which smoking is permitted US, 1977. 4 any diesel-powered truck US, 1962. 5 a car for sale that a car trader is using for personal transport UK, 1965. 6 a stolen car US, 1997. 7 a high-mileage car. A car-dealers' term UK, 1981 smokestack noun a pile of gambling tokens in the hands of an unskilled gambler US, 1996

smoke train noun a cigarette US, 2001 smoke-up noun in college, a notification of academic deficiency US, 1961 smoke wrench noun in car repair, an oxy-acetylene torch US, 1992 smokey noun 1 in prison, a segregation unit UK, 1996. 2 a Maori. Offensive NEW ZEALAND, 1984

smokey bear; smokey; bear noun a police officer; the police. Citizens' band radio slang; from Smokey Bear (aka Smokey the Bear), a caricatured black bear, from Capitan, New Mexico, used since 1950 to promote forest fire prevention. The symbolic bear wears a hat similar to that worn by US highway patrol officers and state troopers. Also used to designate police in various forms: 'smokey beaver' (a policewoman), 'smokey convention' (two or more police cars), 'smokey on four legs' (mounted police), 'smokey with a camera' (police using speed detection equipment), 'smokey with ears' (police with radio), etc US, 1975

Smokey the bear noun 1 a drill sergeant in the US Army US, 1965. 2 a military aircraft used for dropping magnesium-based flares to illuminate the ground at night US, 1989 smoking adjective 1 excellent; thriving; exciting US, 1975. 2 fashionably dressed US, 1989 smoking gun noun 1 unarguable evidence, or an unmissable clue. A term that came into popular use during the President Nixon Watergate scandal in the US in the early 1970s US, 1974. 2 a mixture of heroin and cocaine; heroin UK, 1998 smoko noun 1 a break from work. Originally a break for a cigarette and normally long enough for a hot beverage AUSTRALIA, 1865. 2 marijuana AUSTRALIA, 1967

smoky noun an Indian. Offensive CANADA, 1953

Smoky Joe noun a military aircraft that marks targets for bomber aircraft with smoke bombs US, 1946

smoo noun the vagina AUSTRALIA, 1992

smooch verb to kiss in a lingering manner US, 1932 smoochy adjective of music, suitable for slow, romantic dancing UK, 1966 smoochywoochypoochy noun marijuana. A pet name UK, 2001 smoodge; smooge verb 1 to play the sycophant AUSTRALIA, 1898. 2 to kiss and cuddle AUSTRALIA, 1915. 3 to win someone around; to charm someone AUSTRALIA, 1940

smoodger; smoojer noun a flatterer AUSTRALIA, 1897

smoodgingly adverb ingratiatingly AUSTRALIA, 1962 smooth noun 1 a member of the aggressive youth fashion and gang movement that was the final and least notable stage in the evolution of the skinhead. A SKINHEAD with fractionally longer hair became SUEDEHEAD which, in turn, grew smooth – and not distinctive enough to survive UK, 1972. 2 on the railways, a tip of ten cents US, 1977 smooth verb in hot rodding and drag racing, to remove ornaments and hardware from the car body US, 1968 smooth adjective 1 used of a man's body, hairless US, 1997. 2 calm US, 1967. 3 in lowball poker, favourable US, 1967. 4 sophisticated, urbane US, 1991 smooth used to intensify a phrasal verb US, 1984 smooth and glassy adjective easy-going US, 1984 smoothie noun 1 the complete removal of a woman's pubic hair; the result thereof US, 2001. 2 a person who stays calm and avoids trouble US, 1967. 3 a man who is attractive, persuasive, crafty, and a bit manipulative. Often, but not always, pejorative US, 1929. 4 a skilled gambling cheat US, 1964 smooth leg noun a woman. Citizens' band radio slang UK, 1981 smooth operator noun someone who is attractive, crafty, and a bit manipulative US, 1951 smooth trade noun an urbane, fashion-conscious homosexual man US, 1965 smother noun an overcoat. Allied to the practical sense of the coat worn over a pickpocket's arm to mask criminal activity UK, 1934 smother verb to conceal a person, a thing or a movement AUSTRALIA, 1932 smouch verb to kiss AUSTRALIA, 1968

smoush noun a kiss. With the long vowel of 'smooch' AUSTRALIA, 1963 smudge noun 1 a photograph. Originally photographers' jargon, from blurred pictures UK, 1931. 2 a pornographic magazine or magazines. Extended from the previous sense UK, 1996. 3 a photographer, especially a press photographer. Shortened from SMUDGER UK, 1968 smudger noun a photographer, especially a press photographer. From SMUDGE (a photograph) UK, 1961 smurf noun 1 an ordinary citizen whose personal bank accounts are used to launder drug money. The Smurfs are well-known children's cartoon characters, adopted here to suggest the innocent appearance of a money launderer US, 1998. 2 in an Internet discussion group, a frequent poster who adds little in the way of content US, 1997

Smurf Juice noun the recreational drug GHB. As a marketing strategy the clear liquid is dyed blue, which is the colour of Smurfs™ (internationally known children's characters) SOUTH AFRICA, 2003 smush verb to crush. A blending of 'crush' and 'smash' US, 1991

smut noun pornography UK, 1638 smut-hound noun a man with a marked predilection for bawdiness or indecent publications; a censor who seeks out such works US, 1927

smuts noun sexually explicit photographs or postcards US, 1962 snack noun 1 a youthful, sexually inexperienced male who is the object of an older homosexual's desire US, 1987. 2 something easily accomplished AUSTRALIA, 1941 snacker noun aboard a trawler, a deck-boy or odd-job man UK, 1974

snackpack noun the male genitals as seen in a jock strap or tight, skimpy underwear US, 1988 snaffle verb to acquire something for your own UK, 1902 snafu noun a chaotic mess. An acronym of 'situation normal, all fucked up', or the more polite 'situation normal, all fouled up' US, 1941 snafu verb to bungle something; to reduce something to chaos. From the noun sense US, 2001 snag noun 1 a girl, especially an ugly one US, 1962. 2 a tooth US, 1967. 3 a sausage AUSTRALIA, 1941 snag verb 1 to grab something; to acquire something US, 1895. 2 to outdo someone US, 1946 snag bag noun a small bag for carrying personal effects. Prison usage US, 1967 snagged stag noun a boy who is steadily and exclusively dating one girl US, 1961

snaggle tooth noun a young woman or girl with irregular (or missing) teeth. Among US boys in 2004 'summer teeth' is a nickname for British girls – some are teeth that point here, some are pointing there UK, 1909 snail mail noun mail sent by normal postal service. A term that was coined after the advent of electronic mail US, 1983 snail track noun 1 a verticle line of hair on the stomach AUSTRALIA, 2002. 2 the residue of vaginal secretions, semen and/or saliva on a woman's thighs after sex US, 1986 snail trail noun the vagina UK, 2001

snake noun 1 the penis US, 1997. 2 among anglers, a very long rag-worm used as bait UK, 1968. 3 in electric line work, insulated rubber line hose US, 1980. 4 a long, serpentine putt US, 1962. 5 a subway, an underground system US, 1960. 6 a surfer who surfs in another surfer's right of way US, 1987. 7 an informer US, 1958. 8 in foot-powered scootering, another rider who cuts in, especially one who take's another's line into a trick UK, 2000. 9 an AH-1G Cobra attack helicopter. The US Army's primary gunship in Vietnam US, 1986. 10 a railway pointsman. From the serpentine 'S' on the pointsman's union pin US, 1946. ► able to crawl under a snake; lower than a snake's belly morally reprehensible; despicable. Variations include 'a snake's hips', since World War 2, and 'able to crawl under a snake's belly with a top hat on', 1959 AUSTRALIA, 1932. ► the snake in firefighting, the hose. Used by the London Fire Brigade UK, 1984 snake verb 1 to have sex from the male perspective US, 2001. 2 in snowboarding or skateboarding, to cut in front of someone US, 1984. 3 to go quietly, to move silently. The variant 'snake off' also exists IRELAND, 1958 snakebite; snakie noun a mixture of cider and lager UK, 1988 snake-charmer noun in Western Australia, a railway maintenance worker. From the prevalence of snakes along railway tracks AUSTRALIA, 1937 snake-eaters noun the US Army Special Forces. From their jungle survival skills US, 1991 snake-eye; snake-eye bomb noun during the Vietnam war, one of several aircraft bombs with descent-slowng devices to permit low-level attacks US, 1966 snake eyes noun 1 in dice games, a roll of two one's. A visual metaphor US, 1929. 2 in dominoes, the 1–1 piece US, 1959. 3 in poker, a pair of aces US, 1988 snake fence noun a rail fence, split cedar, in six or eight interlocking zigzag patterns US, 1805

Snake Gully noun an imaginary remote and backward place AUSTRALIA, 1945

snakehead noun a smuggler of Chinese people. Direct translation from a Chinese term US, 2002 snake juice noun strong liquor, especially of rough quality AUSTRALIA, 1890

Snakenavel, Idaho noun a fictitious rural place US, 1994 snake pit noun 1 used in the US military during the conflict in Vietnam for describing any operational headquarters US, 1966. 2 a sergeant's mess AUSTRALIA, 1941 snake ranch noun a bachelor's house US, 1990

snake room noun a bar CANADA, 1912

snake's noun an act of urination. Shortening of SNAKE'S HISS AUSTRALIA, 1966 snake's hiss noun an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PISS AUSTRALIA, 1966

snakey-snakey noun sexual intercourse. From SNAKE (the penis) UK, 2001

snaky adjective in a foul mood AUSTRALIA, 1894

snap noun 1 amyl nitrite; an ampoule of amyl nitrite. From the sound/action of breaking open the ampoule UK, 1962. 2 an amphetamine tablet US, 1994. 3 a mouthful of alcohol or a drink taken in one gulp CANADA, 1988. 4 a negative statement or taunt, often as part of a rap performance US, 1994. 5 a humorous statement or person US, 1970. 6 something that is simple or easy US, 1877. 7 in pool, the first shot of the game US, 1990. 8 a photograph US, 1894. 9 a snack; a packed meal. In dialect from 1642; usage appears to have spread via the railways UK, 1980 snap verb 1 to insult someone in a semi-formal quasi-friendly competition US, 1979. 2 to realise something suddenly; to experience an epiphany US, 1967. 3 to flex, and thus contract, the sphincter during anal sex US, 1972. ► snap in to engage in rifle target practice. Korean war usage US, 1953. ► snap out of it to stop dreaming; to face reality; to change your mind-set. Often used as an imperative UK, 1918. ► snap to it to urgently begin to do something UK, 1918. ► snap your cap to lose your sanity US, 1973 snap! used for registering a (usually minor) coincidence. From the children's card game during which players cry 'snap!' whenever matching cards are exposed UK, 1959 snap cap noun a dummy shotgun cartridge UK, 1983 snapped up adjective 1 under the influence of snap (amyl nitrate) UK, 1962. 2 very drunk CANADA, 1999 snapper noun 1 the vagina, especially one with exceptional muscular control US, 1975. 2 a girl or young woman US, 1971. 3 an infant IRELAND, 2003. 4 the foreskin US, 1941. 5 a photographer UK, 1910. 6 in blackjack, an ace and ten-point card dealt as the first two cards to a player US, 1980. 7 amyl nitrite; an ampoule of amyl nitrite US, 1967. 8 a small, fast-breaking wave AUSTRALIA, 1977. 9 in lobstering, a lobster that is not legal size US, 1978. 10 a wooden match US, 1970. 11 the mythical ingredient in baked beans that can be removed to prevent flatulence US, 1975 snapper-rigged adjective improvised; repaired in a makeshift fashion. Nautical terminology brought ashore in Nova Scotia CANADA, 2002 snappers noun the teeth, especially false teeth UK, 1924 snappy adjective 1 fashionably smart. Especially as 'snappy dresser' UK, 1881. 2 short-tempered; irritable US, 1834. ► make it snappy; look snappy to be quick. Often used as an imperative UK, 1926 snaps noun 1 praise; recognition US, 1995. 2 money US, 1997. 3 handcuffs US, 1949. 4 snack food US, 1986 snard lumps noun snow and ice clumps that build up under the fender of the car. In eastern Canada, they have been called 'snowbirds' CANADA, 1987 snarf verb 1 to drink or to eat something, especially greedily. Possibly abbreviated and adapted from an affected UK pronunciation of SNAFFLE (to acquire) UK, 2002. 2 to take something; to grab something US, 1968

snark noun a caustic witticism US, 2003

snark verb to act grumpily or nastily US, 1997 snarky adjective snide, sarcastic; irritable. From the Scottish snark (to find fault, to nag) UK, 1906 snarler noun a sausage NEW ZEALAND, 1963

snarl-up noun a chaotic mess; often applied to a near-gridlock in a traffic system UK, 1960 snatch noun 1 the vagina; sex; a woman (or women) as a sexual object UK, 1904. 2 a kidnapping US, 1931. 3 something stolen UK, 2000. 4 an air rescue of ground troops or the crew of a downed aircraft US, 1988 snatch verb to kidnap someone US, 1932. ► snatch it to quit work taking the wages due AUSTRALIA, 1911. ► snatch your time to quit work taking the wages due AUSTRALIA, 1916 snatch 22 noun a woman who is considered so sexually unattractive that a man would have to be drunk to attempt sex with her, but too drunk to perform. A logical knot, formed on SNATCH (the vagina); after Catch 22, the novel by Joseph Heller, 1961, and the conventional usage it inspired UK, 2002 snatch box noun the vagina. An elaboration of SNATCH UK, 1961 snatch box decorated with red roses noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. Formed on SNATCH BOX (the vagina) with blood imagery US, 1999

snatcher noun 1 a thief US, 1965. 2 a police detective US, 1948 snatch fur noun female pubic hair US, 1972 snatch hair noun the pubic hair (of either gender) US, 1995 snatch hound noun a person who is obsessed with sex and women US, 1992 snatch man noun a press photographer UK, 2001 snatch patrol noun a combat mission in which the object is to capture enemy troops for interrogation US, 1977 snatch-plug noun a tampon US, 1972 snavel verb to steal something AUSTRALIA, 1892

snazzy adjective stylish; fashionable; smart US, 1932 sneak noun 1 a schoolchild who tells tales or informs on his or her fellows. School slang, from an earlier, more general sense as 'a despicable person, or one who behaves in an underhand manner' UK, 1840. 2 a soft-soled shoe; a running shoe, a trainer UK, 1862 sneak verb 1 to tell tales; to inform upon someone. School slang UK, 1897. 2 to break into a building US, 1949. ► sneak a peak to take a look at something or someone US, 1999 sneak adjective ► on the sneak tip in secret US, 1995 sneak-and-peak adjective 1 designed to be quiet US, 1973.

2 undertaken for the purpose of reconnaissance US, 1974 sneaker noun 1 a person engaged in an illegal enterprise who does not pay a regular bribe to the police but does when confronted US, 1973. 2 a smuggler US, 1956. 3 a linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio US, 1977. 4 in hot rodding or motor racing, an unusually large tyre US, 1992 sneaker bitch noun a person who is too focused on conspicuous consumption, such as high priced trainers US, 1989 sneakernet noun in computing, to carry a disk from one computer to another US, 1991 sneakers noun car wheel rims US, 2003 sneak go noun any secretive action AUSTRALIA, 1989 sneak-in noun a bar that surreptitiously remains open after the legal closing time US, 1951 sneak job noun housebreaking UK, 1996 sneaky adjective used of a recording device, easily hidden US, 1982 sneaky beaky noun a spy. Often used attributively as an adjective UK, 1995 sneaky man noun a married woman's adulterous sexual partner BAHAMAS, 1982 sneaky Pete noun 1 any potent, potentially fatal, alcoholic concoction, favoured by those whose need outweighs their ability to pay US, 1947. 2 marijuana mixed in wine US, 1955. 3 a member of a US Army long-range reconnaissance patrol unit US, 1990. 4 an unannounced in-flight examination by a crew that boards the plane just before take-off US, 1963. 5 in pool, an expert player's custom cue, designed to look like an ordinary cue US, 1993 sneeze noun pepper US, 1981 sneeze verb to arrest someone US, 1950 sneeze and squeeze noun cocaine and sex US, 1984 sneezed adjective arrested; kidnapped UK, 1996 sneeze out verb to confess UK, 1996 sneezer noun 1 the nose US, 1945. 2 in marketing, a person whose opinion the market listens to and trusts. A logical by-product of VIRAL MARKETING (word-of-mouth) US, 2000. 3 a jail or prison US, 1953 sneezing powder noun heroin US, 1958 snide noun 1 a cunning person; an untrustworthy person; a contemptible person; an informer. German aufschneiden (to boast, brag), reaching English via Yiddish. Also used in the variant 'shnide' UK, 1950. 2 a stolen pearl AUSTRALIA, 1933 snide adverb secretly; deceitfully UK, 2002 snide; shnide; snidey adjective false, counterfeit, sham, bogus; hence mean, contemptible; underhand UK, 1859 snidey adjective sneering; contemptuous; disdainful UK, 1964 snidey up verb to adulterate drugs, to prepare fake drugs for sale. Extended from SNIDE; SNIDEY (fake) UK, 1996 sniff noun 1 cocaine US, 1990. 2 any solvent that can be inhaled for its psychoactive effect US, 1974. 3 a sycophant. From an image of the sycophant's brown nose being in the near proximity of an anus US, 1968. 4 a girlfriend UK, 2002. ► the sniff a recreational hunt for sexually attractive company UK, 1998

sniff verb to ingest drugs by nasal inhalation UK, 1925 sniffed-up adjective under the influence of cocaine UK, 1999

sniffer noun 1 the nose UK, 1858. 2 an ampoule of amyl nitrite US, 1970. 3 a cocaine user US, 1988. 4 a device placed on a vehicle's exhaust pipe to measure the pollutants in the emission US, 1993. 5 a claims investigator of unemployment and other benefit fraud UK, 1982. 6 a computer program that surreptitiously records user passwords and other log-in data US, 1994. 7 an outsider who tries to be part of the pornography industry US, 1995. 8 a handkerchief US, 1945 sniffer and snorter noun a reporter. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 sniffer bag noun a small bag of heroin intended for inhaling US, 2002 sniffings noun any industrial solvent that is inhaled for its psychoactive effect US, 1984 sniffing snow noun cocaine. An instructive elaboration of SNOW (cocaine) UK, 2000 sniff queen noun a homosexual who is a heavy user of amyl nitrite or butyl nitrite during sex US, 1972

sniffy adjective scornful, disdainful UK, 1871 snifter noun 1 a small drink of alcoholic liquor; hence, specifically, a brandy glass; more generally, a glass for spirits. The difference between the senses is not always apparent US, 1844. 2 a single inhaled dose of cocaine US, 1930

snig verb to drag something heavy by means of ropes or chains AUSTRALIA, 1897

snip noun 1 a bargain UK, 1926. 2 something that is easily achieved or done; a certainty UK, 1890. 3 a thing that is more fortunate, excellent or pleasing than might normally be expected. In the phrase 'snip of a thing' UK, 1952. 4 a ticket collector UK, 1970. ► the snip any invasive medical procedure that sterilises a patient; a vasectomy, an orchidectomy, etc UK, 2001

snip verb to borrow money on short notice AUSTRALIA, 1989 snipe noun 1 the butt of a marijuana cigarette. In the late C19, a 'snipe' referred to the discarded stub of a cigar or cigarette. It briefly enjoyed standing in the vocabulary of marijuana users before falling victim to ROACH US, 1969. 2 the butt of a cigarette that can still be relit and smoked US, 1891. 3 the nose. From the long straight bill of the bird UK, 2002. 4 a sniper's hide UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 1979. 5 on board a ship, a crew member, especially an engineering officer UK, 1918. 6 a railway track worker US, 1946 snipe verb 1 to disparage someone US, 1980. 2 to snoop; to spy on someone US, 2002 sniper noun 1 a person who posts inflammatory attacks on the Internet US, 2001. 2 a sexually promiscuous girl of limited intellect BAHAMAS, 1982 snippy adjective impatient; argumentative. Originally used in the UK to mean 'parsimonious' (C18), and then in the US (C19) in the current sense. The term enjoyed a brief moment of fame in the early morning hours of 9th November 2000, when US Vice President Al Gore told future President George Bush, 'You don't have to get snippy with me' as he retracted a concession made several minutes earlier US, 1848 snips noun any cutting tool, for example scissors or wire cutters US, 1962

snirt noun a stormy mixture of snow and dirt CANADA, 1987

snit noun 1 a mild temper tantrum US, 1939. 2 among Nova Scotians of German descent, an apple slice CANADA, 1999 snitch noun 1 an informer, especially a police informer. A high profile use of the term was in the motto of the television police drama Richard Diamond, Private Detective (1957–60) – 'A detective is only as good as his snitch' UK, 1785. 2 a piece of information supplied by a police informer UK, 2002 snitch verb 1 to inform upon someone UK, 1801. 2 to steal something US, 1904. 3 to shoot a marble NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992

snitchball noun any game played by prisoners in the protective unit reserved for informers US, 1992 snitch box noun an in-house prison post box US, 1992

snitcher noun 1 a metal detector US, 1950. 2 a dislike or grudge NEW ZEALAND, 1953

snitch jacket noun a reputation for being an informer US, 1973 snitch kite noun a note sent by a prisoner to prison authorities, informing on other prisoners US, 2000

snitty adjective bad-tempered US, 1978

snob mob noun a group of friends with a very high opinion of themselves US, 1955 snockered; schnockered; shnockered adjective drunk US, 1955 snodger adjective great; excellent AUSTRALIA, 1917

snog noun a passionate kiss; a short but intense period of kissing and cuddling UK, 1959

snog verb to kiss and cuddle UK, 1945 snog and fuck noun a public house called the 'Dog and Duck'. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 snogger noun someone who kisses with passion. From SNOG UK, 2000

sno-go noun a snowmobile US, 1961 snogtastic adjective sexually attractive; kissable. Elision of SNOG (to kiss) and 'fantastic' UK, 1998 snooge noun in Newfoundland, a way of attaching sled dogs CANADA, 1957 snooker verb 1 to trick someone; to place someone in an impossible position. From the game played with balls on a billiard table UK, 1915. 2 to conceal something or someone AUSTRALIA, 1950 snookered adjective placed in a deliberately difficult position. From the game of snooker UK, 1915 snookums noun used as an affectionate term of address. As the Oxford English Dictionary so gracefully puts it, 'usually applied to children or lap-dogs' US, 1919 snoop noun a detective. From SNOOP (to pry) US, 1942

snoop verb to pry US, 2001 snoop and pry; snoop verb to cry. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 snooper noun an investigator US, 1889 snoopers noun the flashing lights on top of a police car US, 1976 snoopy noun the vagina. A pet name; probably from the character Snoopy, a pet beagle, in Peanuts cartoon strip by Charles M. Schulz (1922–2000) US, 2001 snoose noun damp, grated, chewing snuff CANADA, 1951

snoot noun 1 the nose UK, 1861. 2 cocaine US, 1993. 3 a conceited, snobbish person AUSTRALIA, 1938. 4 in the television and film industries, a cone attachment that directs light to a specific area US, 1990. ► give someone the snoot to treat someone in a condescending manner US, 1989

snootch noun the vagina CANADA, 2002 snootchie bootchie nootchies!; snootchie bootchies! used as an all-purpose, meaning-free catchphrase. The term was apparently coined by actor Jason Mewes in Kevin Smith's films of the 1990s US, 1995

snooter noun a habitual drug user who ingests drugs by nasal inhalation UK, 1996

snoot full noun enough alcohol to make you drunk US, 1918 snooty adjective arrogant, unpleasant, supercilious, snobbish UK, 1919 snooze noun 1 a short sleep; a doze UK, 1793. 2 a bore US, 1997 snooze verb to sleep; to doze UK, 1789. ► snooze hard to sleep deeply US, 1995 snoozer noun 1 a Pullman sleeping carriage on a passenger train US, 1975. 2 in a poker game using the joker, the joker. Perhaps related to the earlier sense of the word as 'a thief' US, 1950 snoozing and snoring; snooze and snoring adjective boring. Rhyming slang. Sometimes shortened to 'snoozing' UK, 1992

snop noun marijuana US, 1969

snorbs noun the female breasts US, 1969 snooze-off noun 1 a sleep; a nap AUSTRALIA, 1949. 2 a place to sleep AUSTRALIA, 1967

snore off verb to sleep or fall asleep AUSTRALIA, 1925

snore sack noun a sleeping bag US, 1945

snore shelf noun a bed; a sleeping compartment in an over-the-road truck US, 1976 snorker noun 1 a sausage AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 the penis. From the previous sense AUSTRALIA, 1971. 3 a contemptible fool. From the sense as 'penis', thus synonymous with PRICK US, 1977. 4 in poker, a player who berates the other players when he wins a hand US, 1988

snorner; snorer noun a difficult customer, a scrounger. Derived from Yiddish shnorner (a beggar) UK, 1977 snort noun 1 a drink of an alcoholic beverage US, 1889. 2 cocaine US, 1975 snort verb 1 to ingest drugs by nasal inhalation US, 1951. 2 to take a measure of alcohol nasally UK, 1999 snorter noun a tablespoonful of alcoholic spirit (tequila and vodka are popular) taken nasally UK, 2001 snortin' Norton noun a Norton motorcycle. Biker (motorcycle) slang US, 2003 snort rag noun a piece of cloth holding a powdered drug US, 1969 snot noun 1 nasal mucus. Originally conventional English and in common usage; considered to be dialect or vulgar since the C19 UK, 1425. 2 the residue produced by smoking amphetamine US, 1993. 3 an arrogant, conceited and flippant person US, 1941. 4 a slut US, 2001. ► in a snot annoyed IRELAND, 2003

snot verb to blow nasal mucus from the nostrils UK, 2002 snot and tears noun maudlin misery. Also in Afrikaans snot en tranen SOUTH AFRICA, 1969 snot nose noun 1 an arrogant person; a snob UK, 1964. 2 conceit US, 1984 snot rag noun 1 a handkerchief UK, 1886. 2 an insignificant or contemptible person UK, 1973 snotsicle noun frozen mucus hanging from the nose ANTARCTICA, 1997

snotter noun a gob of thick nasal mucus and phlegm UK: SCOTLAND, 1869 snotterybeak noun a person with a runny nose UK, 1988 snottie noun the hagfish. From its production of slime NEW ZEALAND, 1991

snottily adverb conceitedly, arrogantly, aloofly UK, 1864 snotty adjective 1 conceited, arrogant, aloof UK, 1870. 2 dirty with nasal mucus. While accepted in conventional usage, the root-word SNOT (nasal mucus) is considered vulgar UK, 1570. 3 used of a drag racing track surface, slippery US, 1965 snotty-nosed adjective contemptible, dirty UK, 1964 snout noun 1 tobacco; a cigarette. From 'snout' (the nose), mainly prison use. 'The word originates from the days when smoking was prohibited in prison. When smoking, the lag cupped his hand and pretended to rub his nose[.]' (Paul Tempest, Lag's Lexicon, 1950) UK, 1885. 2 an informer, especially one who seeks a reward for giving information. Derives from a conventional 'snout' (the nose) which is poked into other people's business UK, 1910. 3 a grudge against someone AUSTRALIA, 1919 snout-baron noun in prison, a trafficker in tobacco. SNOUT (tobacco) plus BARON (a powerful convict whose influence is built on illegal trading) UK, 1962 snoutery noun a tobacco warehouse UK, 1956 snow noun 1 a powdered drug, especially cocaine but at times heroin US, 1914. 2 silver; silver money UK, 1925. 3 passes for free admission to a performance; audience members who attend a performance using a free pass US, 1981. ► no snow on your shoes in the context of a betting operation, trustworthy. From the belief that someone who has been inside the operation long enough for the snow to have melted off his shoes does not have advance information on a bet US, 1951 snow verb 1 to deceive someone; to flirt insincerely US, 1943. 2 in poker, to bluff or fake US, 1963 snow and ice noun a price; in gambling, a starting price. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 snowball noun 1 a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1996. 2 a mixture of cocaine and heroin UK, 2000. 3 a white person. Offensive US, 1980. 4 in hot rodding, a whitewall tyre US, 1958. ► not a snowball's chance in hell; not a snowball's not a chance UK, 1962 snowball verb to pass semen to the donor through a kiss US, 1972 snowballing; snowdropping noun after oral sex, passing semen to the donor by kissing. Originally an exclusively homosexual use US, 1972 snowballs noun 1 crack cocaine US, 1995. 2 dice altered for cheating with only the numbers four, five and six on the faces US, 1993

snowbanker noun a big American car CANADA, 1999 snowbird noun 1 a person from the northern US or Canada who migrates to Florida or elsewhere in the southern US during winter. Originally applied to men who enlisted in the army just before winter, and then to workers who flocked south in the winter, and then to tourists US, 1979. 2 a cocaine user or addict. Building on SNOW (cocaine) and reaching to pun with the more conventional sense of the term 'snowbird' US, 1914. 3 cocaine UK, 2002. 4 a glob of snow that sticks under a fender CANADA, 1978 snowblind adjective impaired from excessive cocaine use UK, 1983 snow-bug noun a motor toboggan, predecessor to the snowmobile CANADA, 1964 snow bunny noun 1 a young woman who hangs around ski resorts in conspicuous dress CANADA, 1964. 2 a Royal Marine trained in arctic warfare. After the white camouflage suiting UK, 1978 snowcaine noun cocaine, or a related drug such as benzocaine or lidocaine US, 1993 snow cap noun cocaine combined and smoked with marijuana US, 1995 snow coke noun crack cocaine. A combination of two terms meaning 'cocaine' UK, 2003 snowcone; snowcones noun cocaine US, 1994 snowdrop noun a US military police officer. An allusion to the white helmets, gloves, belts and socks US, 1946 snow-eater noun in Colorado, warm, dry winds that can quickly melt snow US, 1997 snowed adjective cocaine-intoxicated US, 1949 snowed under adjective over-burdened with work US, 1984 snowflake noun 1 a white person. From racial tension situation comedy Love Thy Neighbour, 1972–76 UK, 2000. 2 cocaine. Also used in the plural US, 1997. 3 a military mail control record US, 1986 snowheart noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1996 snow hole noun among Nova Scotians living on the coast, the part of the sea from which wind and later snow comes CANADA, 1968 snow job noun deception by flattery US, 1943 snowman noun 1 a cocaine dealer US, 1988. 2 a handsome, popular boy. High school usage US, 1961 snowmen noun LSD UK, 2003 snow queen noun a black homosexual who is attracted to white men US, 1985 snow seal noun a combination of cocaine and amphetamines. From SNOW (cocaine) UK, 1998 snow storm noun ► caught in a snow storm under the influence of cocaine US, 1949 snow tank noun an older, large car that is reliable in snow driving. The older and more worn out, the more likely that the car will get you to your destination when road conditions make driving difficult. Michigan Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003 snow time noun the infatuation stage of a relationship US, 1959 snowtubing noun a sporting recreation, racing across snow on an inflated inner-tube US, 1986

Snowturkey noun a member of the Canadian Forces Flying Demonstration Team, the 'Snowbirds' CANADA, 1995

snow white noun cocaine US, 1993

Snow Whites noun tights. Rhyming slang, formed on the fairytale character Snow White UK, 1992 snozzled adjective drunk US, 1947 snubby; snubbie adjective a short-barrelled pistol. From 'snub-nosed' UK, 1981 snuff noun a murder US, 1994. ► up to snuff enough, sufficient, good enough US, 1994 snuff; snuff out verb to kill someone. In C19 slang, 'to die', and then later the transitive 'to kill' UK, 1932 snuff-dipper noun a prostitute who works at truckstops US, 1976 snuffer noun 1 a film purporting to depict the actual killing of someone, usually a woman US, 1990. 2 the nose US, 1945 snuff film; snuff flick; snuff movie noun a film purporting to depict the actual killing of someone, usually a woman US, 1976 snuff it verb to die. An image of a candle being extinguished UK, 1885 snuff muff noun a dead woman used for sex. From SNUFF (to kill), in the adjectival sense found in SNUFF FILM, etc., and MUFF (the vulva; a woman as a sex object) UK, 2002 snuff-out noun a fast and violent loss of position on a surfboard, usually followed by a sudden trip below the ocean surface US, 1977 snuff powder noun adulterated heroin or a white powdered poison used to injure or kill someone using it in the belief it is heroin. Much better known as a HOTSHOT US, 1960

snuff stick noun a cigarette NEW ZEALAND, 1978

snuffy noun any low-ranking soldier in the US Army or Marines, performing a servile or degrading task US, 1991

Snuffy Smith noun in trucking, any driver for the Smith Transfer Company US, 1976

snug verb in horse racing, to rein the horse in to preserve energy for a sprint later in the race US, 1951

snuggle-bunny noun a girlfriend UK, 1963 snurgle verb to advance with caution; to crawl forward UK, 1983

snye noun in the Ottawa valley, a side channel bypassing falls or rapids CANADA, 1995

SO noun used as Internet discussion group shorthand to mean 'significant other' US, 1997 so adjective homosexual. Dating from the late C19, during the 1930s the pronunciation was affected with a lisp UK, 2002

so adverb very, extremely. Attitude and pronunciation separate the slang sense from the standard sense US, 1988. ► so many women/books/etc, so little time used as a humorous expression of regret for lost opportunity. So many variations, so little dictionary space US, 1953 so used within a sentence as introduction to an intensifying repetition. Tautological. Originally recorded as a 'proletarian colloquialism', there appears to be a widespread usage in Northern Ireland UK, 1935 soak noun a drunk UK, 1820 soak verb to use something as collateral for a loan US, 1972 soaked adjective drunk. First recorded by Benjamin Franklin in 1737 US, 1737 soaker noun 1 a surfer who lingers in the water, rarely catching a wave US, 1991. 2 a pawnshop CANADA, 1976. 3 an extremely large halibut US, 1997 so-and-so noun 1 used as a substitute for a person's name that is either forgotten or that is not important to the point being made UK, 1596. 2 used as a euphemism for any derogatory form of address UK, 1943 soap noun 1 a soap opera, either in the literal sense of a radio or television melodramatic series or in the figurative sense US, 1943. 2 the recreational drug GHB US, 1995. 3 ordinary soap used to fill cracks when using explosives to open a safe US, 1970. 4 a bribe US, 1972 soap and flannel noun the National Health Service. Rhyming slang for 'panel', a term that relates to healthcare under the system that preceded the advent of the NHS in 1946 UK, 1992 soap and lather noun a father. Rhyming slang. Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992, notes that this 'makes the pope the "holy soap"' UK, 1961 soap and water noun a daughter. Rhyming slang UK, 1925 soap bar; soap noun a small block of cannabis resin, often heavily adulterated, especially with animal tranquilizers; thus hashish, especially if adulterated. From the similarity to a conventional bar of soap UK, 1996 soap box noun a Mini car. Citizens' band radio slang, from the shape and size UK, 1981 soap-box artist noun a skilled public speaker NEW ZEALAND, 1938 soapbox derby syndrome noun any rapidly progressing disease or medical condition. The Soap Box Derby is a downhill coasting race sponsored by the Cub Scouts US, 1983 soapdogger noun a person who always seems unwashed. From DOG (to dodge, to avoid) UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 soap opera noun a never-ending radio or television drama series, designed to attract long-term audience loyalty and emotional involvement. The original of the genre, broadcast on US radio from 1932, was The Puddle Family sponsored by Procter & Gamble, a soap manufacturer; the product giving the entertainment its identity US, 1939 soapy noun the balance after a day of betting. Rhyming slang based on Soapy Vallance, a legendary Australian athlete of the 1930s AUSTRALIA, 1989 soapy adjective dirty; in a mess; in need of a wash UK, 1996 soapy bubble; soapy noun trouble. Rhyming slang, first recorded in Glasgow. Later used as Cockney rhyming slang UK, 1985 sob noun one pound sterling. Probably a mishearing of SOV(£1) UK, 1970

SOB noun 1 used as a term of abuse: son of a bitch US, 1918. 2 a sober old bastard. A term used with affection in twelve-step recovery programmes such as Alcoholics Anonymous US, 1998

SOB adjective short of breath; dyspeptic US, 1989 sobriety coach noun someone who aids or mentors an alcoholic or a drug addict in the maintenance of a drink- or drug-free life US, 2002

sob sister noun a soft-hearted, naive person US, 1912 sob story noun a sentimental narrative that is told to arouse sympathy UK, 1913 sob-story artist noun a swindler whose method of operating includes a sentimental narrative of misfortune and an appeal to the emotions of the victim US, 1954 sociable adverb in poolroom betting, for a small wager US, 1967 social noun a government social worker US, 1995. ► go social to stop fighting US, 1968

Social noun ► on the Social receiving Social Security or other state benefits UK, 1996. ► the Social the Department of Health and Social Security (DHSS), reformed as the Department of Social Security (DSS). In 2001 the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) replaced the DHSS UK, 1997

social lubricant noun alcohol US, 1986 socials noun alcoholic beverages UK, 1991 societ verb to associate with someone BARBADOS, 1965 society high noun cocaine. A neat reversal on 'high society' suggesting the social circles that can afford cocaine UK, 1998 sock noun 1 a blow, physical or figurative UK, 1700. 2 a condom US, 1992. ► put a sock in it to stop talking. Usually as an imperative UK, 1919 sock verb 1 to hit or thrash someone UK, 1700. 2 to place something somewhere; to hide something US, 1942. 3 used for conveying encouragement and support US, 1960s. 4 (of a male) to have sex US, 1969. ► sock it to someone 1 to attack someone, literally or figuratively US, 1946. 2 to have sex with a woman US, 1969 socket noun the vagina UK, 2001 sock hop noun a dance for teenagers. The term was coined on account of the practice of removing your shoes and dancing in your socks. The practice changed but the term did not US, 1975

socking great adjective very large UK, 1985 sock it to me! surprise me!; liven things up! Borrowed from the vocabulary of black jazz musicians. Between 1968 and 1970 it was Judy Carne's catchphrase in television variety show Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In US, 1967

socko adjective excellent; outstanding US, 1938 socko-boffo adjective absolutely excellent; in a showbusiness or film context, in a 'knock-'em-dead' style. A combination of SOCKO and BOFFO, intensifying either element US, 1981 socks noun a linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio. From the term FOOTWARMER (a linear amplifier in a truck) US, 1976. ► give socks to copulate IRELAND, 1984. ► your socks off with great effect; with great commitment UK, 2001

So Co noun Southern Comfort™ whisky US, 1997

Socrates' pleasure noun anal sex US, 1993

Socred noun a member of the Social Credit party CANADA, 1966 sod noun 1 a sodomite; generally used of a male homosexual UK, c. 1855. 2 a contemptible man. An abbreviation of 'sodomite' UK, 1818. 3 a difficult circumstance; an awkward thing. From the previous sense UK, 1936. 4 used as a general form of address UK, 1942. 5 a person of the stated characteristic, thus: lucky sod, jammy sod, miserable sod, etc UK, 1931 sod! used for dismissing, or registering exasperation with, whatever or whoever is the subject of this injunction UK, 1904 soda noun 1 cocaine. Playing on Coke™ as the most popular soda in the US US, 1993. 2 something easy to do AUSTRALIA, 1917 sod about verb to play the fool; to potter about; to waste time UK, 1961 soda jerk noun a person, usually a teenaged boy, who works at a counter at a soda fountain, mixing drinks for customers. An abbreviation of the earlier (1889) 'soda jerker' US, 1910 sod-all noun nothing, not a thing UK, 1958 sod buster noun a business that appears to be legitimate but is in fact a front for criminal activity US, 1982 sodding adjective used as an all-purpose intensifier, generally to negative effect; interchangeable with bloody, fucking, etc UK, 1912 sodding Nora! used as a register of surprise, anger, amazement, etc UK, 1982 sodding well adverb used as an intensifier UK, 1962 sod it! used for registering resignation, exasperation, aggravation, etc UK, 1953 sod-off adjective very obvious UK, 2000 sod off! go away! UK, 1960

Sodom and Gomorrah; sodom verb to borrow; hence, an act of borrowing. Cockney rhyming slang, which gives rise to the phrase: 'on the sodom' UK, 1998

sod's law noun a cynical 'law' of existence that decrees that 'if something can go wrong it will' and is therefore named or cited as explanation or justification whenever such circumstances conspire UK, 1970

sod this for a game of soldiers!; sod that for a game of soldiers! used as an emphatic dismissal of any activity or notion that you have no wish to subscribe to UK, 1979 sod this for a lark!; sod that for a lark! used as an emphatic dismissal of any activity or notion that you have no wish to subscribe to UK, 2004 sod you! used for registering antipathy or hostility towards or dismissal of the person(s) addressed UK, 1904 soft noun 1 cocaine US, 2002. 2 paper money US, 1950. 3 in the usage of telephone swindlers, a cash sale US, 1959 soft adjective 1 denotes all recreational drugs that are loosely categorised as less harmful or addictive UK, 2001. 2 stupid, dull, halfwitted; 'soft in the head' UK, 1775. 3 in blackjack, said of a hand with an ace where the bettor has the option of treating the ace as 1 point or 11 points US, 1978

softarse noun a person who is easily imposed upon UK, 2002 soft-arsed adjective stupid, dull, half-witted UK, 2002 softball noun any barbiturate or central nervous system depressant US, 1977 soft cock noun a weak-willed or timid person; a wimp AUSTRALIA, 1999

soft-cock adjective weak; insipid AUSTRALIA, 1981

soft-cock rock noun rock music that lacks power and aggression. Blend of SOFT COCK and COCK ROCK AUSTRALIA, 1996

soft con noun a confidence swindle accomplished through charm and warmth US, 1977

softcore noun sexual material that does not show insertion, penetration, an erect penis, spread labia or ejaculation US, 1977 soft cover noun the official government-issued armed forces baseball cap. Marine usage in the Vietnam war US, 1990 softly-softly adjective describing a circumspect approach to achieve an objective. An abbreviation of 'softly softly catchee monkey'. Later use is probably influenced by Softly Softly, a BBC television police drama series, 1966–76 UK, 1959 soft-nose adjective easily learned. A term of derision applied to the 'soft' sciences, for example sociology US, 1974 soft-on noun a penis flaccid from being sexually turned off AUSTRALIA, 1995

soft one noun in necrophile usage, a corpse that has yet to stiffen with rigor mortis US, 1987 soft option noun an easier or the easiest choice in any given circumstances. Often in a disapproving or derogatory tone UK, 1923 soft parts noun in car repair, parts or equipment that can be expected to wear out and can normally be replaced at a car parts shop US, 1992 soft-pedal verb to proceed in a circumspect, less forceful or subdued manner. A figurative application of a piano or organ's volume control UK, 1915

softplay verb in poker, to play less than ruthlessly against a friend UK, 1990

soft shoes noun sneakers, trainers BARBADOS, 1998 soft slugger noun a casino cheat who inserts counterfeit currency into a slot machine US, 1999 soft-soap noun flattery, especially as an act of deception or manipulation US, 1830 soft-soap verb to flatter or deceive someone UK, 1840 soft time noun a relatively short jail sentence, especially one served in an easy-going prison US, 1983 soft touch; easy touch noun a person who is easily manipulated or parted from a thing of value; a task that is easily done US, 1940 soft walkers noun sneakers, trainers ANGUILLA, 1992 software rot noun in computing, an imaginary condition in which unused software or software features stop working if not used US, 1981

softy noun 1 a flaccid penis US, 1995. 2 an inexperienced and/or unskilled poker player US, 1988. 3 in computing, a programming expert who lacks any substantial understanding of computer hardware US, 1991 soggy adjective drunk AUSTRALIA, 1945 soggy Sao noun a game in which a group of men simultaneously masturbate onto a biscuit which is then eaten. From Sao™, the brand of dry cracker AUSTRALIA, 1992

so help me cripes good lord! AUSTRALIA, 1947

so help us Fort Knox used with humour as a pledge or oath. From the US television situation comedy How to Marry a Millionaire (1958–60), in which three young women seeking rich husbands pledge to help each other, sealing the pledge with 'So help us Fort Knox', referring to the depository of gold held by the US government. Used with referential humour US, 1960

SOHF noun a sense of humour failure on the part of outsiders who fail to appreciate the graceless antics of the user's social set. Upper-class society use UK, 1982 so I says used for effect in introducing a humorous statement. Made famous by Sophie Tucker in her onstage banter about her love life with a fictional Ernie US, 1998 soixante-neuf noun mutual and simultaneous oral sex. A direct translation into French of synonymous 69; perhaps with euphemistic intention, or to lend sophistication to the act UK, 1888 sol noun solitary confinement US, 1992

SOL noun ill temper. Initialism of 'shit on liver' AUSTRALIA, 1951

solarist noun a single-minded sunbather UK, 1979 solar-panel on a sex-machine noun a man's bald-spot. Jocular UK, 1995 soldi noun a penny. From Italian soldi (money) UK, 2002 soldier noun 1 a regular, low-level member of a criminal organisation who can be counted on to follow orders US, 1963. 2 a male lookout for a criminal operation US, 1956. 3 a bottle of alcohol; a can of beer US, 1945. 4 a finger of bread or toast UK, 1977 soldier ants; soldiers noun underpants. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 soldier on verb to persevere against peril; to continue doggedly in the face of difficulty or hardship UK, 1954 soldier's farewell noun any abusive term of dismissal UK, 2004 soldier's wash noun a method or act of washing in which cupped hands are used instead of a flannel UK, 1980 solid on adjective convinced by, or enthusiastic about, something US, 1928 soles noun shoes US, 1995 solicit verb (of a homosexual man) to walk in public dressed in female clothes – not necessarily for the purposes of prostitution. An ironic adoption of the stricter legal sense UK, 2002 solid noun 1 a trustworthy, dependable person US, 1997. 2 a favour US, 1973 solid adjective 1 very good. A jazz term that arrived on the scene with 'swing' in 1935 US, 1935. 2 especially amongst criminals, loyal; staunch AUSTRALIA, 1950. 3 harsh; severe; unreasonable; unfair AUSTRALIA, 1915. 4 usually of time, continuously, uninterrupted; complete UK, 1718 solids noun in pool, the solid-coloured balls numbered 1 to 7 US, 1984 solid sender noun a person, particularly a musician, who is especially inspired or inspiring. From the jive vocabulary into the rock 'n' roll lexicon US, 1946 solid six noun in Keno, a bet on a block of three numbers, two rows deep US, 1973 solid sweet! used as strong approval US, 1980 solo box noun a pornographic video cover showing photographs of only one performer US, 1977

Solomon Gundy noun salt herring in marinade CANADA, 1998

so long goodbye US, 1865 so long for now, and spaceman's luck to all of you used as a humorous farewell. A catchphrase television sign-off on Tom Corbett, Space Cadet (1950–55), a children's adventure programme. Repeated with referential humour US, 1955 solo sack time noun time spent sleeping alone US, 1946 solve noun a crime that has been solved US, 1992

Somali tea noun 1 leaves of catha edulis, a stimulant also called qat or qaadka. Originating in the Horn of Africa and the Arabian peninsula, legally available in the UK and similar to amphetamine in effect when chewed US, 2003. 2 methcathinone US, 2003 somatamax noun the recreational drug GHB. In Aldous Huxley's Brave New World, 1932, 'soma' is the drug of social conditioning US, 1990 some adjective exceptional, remarkable. Used in ironic understatement US, 1808 some adverb very US, 1981 somebody up there noun God; a higher power. Used in a jocular and secular vein in expressions such as 'somebody up there likes me' US, 1957 some cunt from Preston noun country and western music. Rhyming slang UK, 1988 some hope!; some hopes! used as an expression of hopelessness or extreme scepticism UK, 1940 some mothers do 'ave 'em used of someone who is clumsy, foolish or laughable. A slight variation on a saying from Lancashire: 'don't some mothers 'ave 'em?'. Widely popularised as the title of a BBC television comedy series, 1974, and still repeating UK, 1960

Somerset Maugham; somerset adjective warm. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the British author, 1874–1965 UK, 1998 something noun a remarkable thing UK, 1958. ► do you want to make something out of it?; do you want to make something of it? do you want to fight about it?; do you want to argue about it? US, 1948. ► have something on to have information about someone or something US, 1919

something adverb used for intensifying. Amends an adjective into an adverb: 'something cruel', 'something horrible', etc UK, 1964 something chronic adverb constantly; badly, objectionably, severely, unpleasantly UK, 1916 something else adjective beyond description; unbelievable US, 1968 something-something noun SEX US, 2003 something strange noun sex with someone other than your regular partner BERMUDA, 1985 sometime noun a person who cannot be relied upon US, 1981 sometimesy; sometimey adjective moody; unstable; emotionally inconsistent US, 1972 sometimish adjective insincere; unreliable BARBADOS, 1965

sommat noun something. A phonetic distortion UK, 1978 son; my son noun used between contemporary, unrelated males as a familiar form of address. Occasionally patronising, used in order to establish social ascendancy UK, 1914 son-bitch noun used as a slightly jocular form of son of a bitch US, 1981 song noun ► on song in good form, especially in a sporting context UK, 1974 song verb to advertise a delinquent debtor by putting his name and offence in a song CANADA, 1975 song and dance noun 1 an elaborate performance or presentation of a story, especially in an effort to persuade US, 1895. 2 a fuss, an outcry. Something trivial or of little account is 'nothing to make a song and dance about' US, 1895. 3 a strip search US, 1976. 4 a chance. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 song and dancer noun an opportunist. Glasgow rhyming slang for CHANCER UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 songbird noun 1 a female singer UK, 1886. 2 a police informer US, 1970 songplugger noun a person employed to promote a recorded song by any of a variety of means US, 1923 sonic noun a type of LSD identified by a picture of computer game hero 'Sonic the Hedgehog' UK, 1996 sonk noun a foolish, feeble or otherwise objectionable person. Back-formation from SONKY AUSTRALIA, 1922

sonky adjective foolish, silly; feeble AUSTRALIA, 1917

sonno noun used generally for addressing a son, a boy or a man AUSTRALIA, 1910s sonny noun used for addressing a boy or younger man. Often patronising UK, 1870 sonny boy; sonny Jim; sunny Jim noun used to address a boy or younger man. An elaboration of SONNY; often patronising UK, 1959 son of a successor of something. A jocular derivation from the imaginative formula used to title some Hollywood film sequels (a fine example: Son of Paleface, 1952, in which Bob Hope played the son of the character he portrayed in The Paleface, 1948) UK, 1971 sonofabitch; sonuvabitch noun a fellow US, 1951 son of a bitch noun 1 a despicable person UK, 1605. 2 used in extreme comparisons US, 1953 son of a bitch! used as a mild expletive US, 1953 son-of-a-bitching adjective used as a somewhat profane intensifier US, 1930 son-of-a-bitch with slides noun an expert guest speaker at a medical meeting US, 1985 son of a gun noun a fellow. Originally, 'a soldier's bastard', now mildly disparaging or pejorative. Occasionally used as an exclamation of surprise UK, 1708

sook; sooky; sookie noun a person easily brought to tears; a crybaby AUSTRALIA, 1941 sooky adjective apt to burst into tears; weak; timid or cowardly. From British dialect (Clydesdale) sooky meaning 'effeminate', recorded in the English Dialect Dictionary under the word 'soaky' AUSTRALIA, 1901 sool verb 1 to incite someone to attack or go after someone; to spur someone on AUSTRALIA, 1924. 2 to set a dog onto someone AUSTRALIA, 1889. 3 (especially of a dog) to attack someone AUSTRALIA, 1849 sooner noun 1 a person or thing which fails to perform. Because 'they would sooner do nothing than something' AUSTRALIA, 1892. 2 a mixed-breed dog BARBADOS, 1965 sooty; soot noun a black person. A derogatory term US, 1838 sooty noun 1 a Maori. Offensive NEW ZEALAND, 1989. 2 an engine tradesman in the Royal Air Force. In Royal Air Force use, 2002 UK, 2002

sooty tunes noun reggae music UK, 1983

SOP noun in motor racing, seat of the pants US, 1993 sope noun a tablet of the recreational drug methaqualone, best known as Quaaludes™ US, 1985 soph noun a second-year student in high school or college. An abbreviation of 'sophomore' US, 1778

Sophie noun a girlfriend. Teen slang US, 1951 sophisticated lady noun cocaine US, 1980 sop joint noun a Turkish bath US, 1968 sopor; soper; soaper noun a tablet of the recreational drug methaqualone, best known as Quaaludes™. From a brand name, ultimately from 'soporific' US, 1973 soppings noun gravy or sauce. From the act of sopping up with a piece of bread. Southern US, 1984 soppy adjective foolishly sentimental; naive. A play on 'sopping wet' (excessively sentimental) UK, 1918 soppy date noun a fool; someone who is foolishly sentimental UK, 1959 soppy ha'p'orth; soppy 'a'p'orth; soppy apeth noun a fool; someone who is foolishly sentimental. An elaboration of HA'P'ORTH, and a variation of SOPPY DATE, certainly in parental use during the 1950s UK, 1984 sore adjective angry; bitter; disappointed; disgruntled UK, 1694 sore as a boil adjective extremely upset AUSTRALIA, 1955 sore bitch noun a member of a college sorority US, 1968 sore-neck noun the sense of resentment arising from not being invited to a social event NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992 sore thumb verb the epitome of something that is patently obvious or conspicuous US, 1936 sorority noun 1 male homosexuals collectively as a group US, 1979. 2 a woman's prison US, 1949. 3 a poker game or tournament limited to female players US, 1996

Sorority Sal noun a stereotypical sorority member who looks, dresses, talks and lives the part US, 1959 sorority sauce noun ketchup US, 1985 sorostitute noun a member of a college sorority. Derivative, suggesting sexual promiscuity US, 1998 sorrowful tale noun a sentence of three months' imprisonment. Rhyming slang for '(three months in) jail' UK, 1859 sorry about that used as a jaded response to something bad that has just happened, especially when caused by the speaker. A keystone of military vernacular during the conflict in Vietnam US, 1965 sorry and sad; sorry noun a father. Rhyming slang for 'dad' UK, 1998 sorry and sad; sorry adjective bad. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 sorry-ass adjective pathetic; despicable US, 1998 sort noun 1 in combination with an adjective (usually good or bad), a person of whatever character is indicated UK, 1869. 2 a woman; a companion of the opposite sex AUSTRALIA, 1933. 3 an attractive woman. Without a distinguishing epithet this word equates with GOOD SORT AUSTRALIA, 1933. 4 a woman considered in terms of sexual attraction. Concentrating on the physical aspect of a person, as opposed to their character. An attractive woman is described as a 'beaut sort', 'great sort', 'grouse sort', 'not a bad sort', 'terrific sort', etc. An ugly woman can be described as a 'rough sort', 'drack sort', 'awful sort', etc AUSTRALIA, 1948 sort verb 1 to have sex with someone; to satisfy someone's sexual requirements UK, 2001. 2 to provide someone with drugs UK, 2000. 3 to beat up a fellow prisoner UK, 1996

sorta adjective in a way; to some extent; somehow; one might say. 'Sort of' lazily pronounced US, 1980 sorted adjective provisioned with sufficient drugs UK, 1996 sort out verb to use violence to resolve a difference with someone UK, 1937

SOS noun 1 the same old stuff US, 1963. 2 a somewhat older student. Used by college students to describe, usually unkindly, students in their late twenties or older US, 2002

SOS adjective unable to learn; stuck on stupid US, 1994

SOS between schoolchildren, used as advice that a slip or petticoat can be seen below the hem of a skirt. An initialism of 'slip on show', playing on the emergency code 'save our souls' UK, 1979 sosh noun 1 a member of upper-class society US, 1993. 2 a student whose emphasis is on social activities US, 1968

soshe; the soshe noun the Social Security, a UK government agency responsible for welfare payments; the welfare (sickness, old-age, unemployment, etc) payments given by the UK government UK, 1999 soshing noun manipulating someone with criminal intent. Derived from social engineering US, 2000 so-so adjective mediocre UK, 1570 soos; soosy noun the penis. From an abbreviation of 'sausage' NEW ZEALAND, 1998

soosso noun a sausage AUSTRALIA, 1992

soosso roll noun a sausage roll AUSTRALIA, 1985

sot noun an alcoholic dulled by drinking UK, 1592 so there! used at the end of an argumentative or threatening proposition as the final stress. Abbreviates 'so there you have it', 'so there you are'; often childish UK, 1982 so? throw party! used for dismissing the importance of what has just been said. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982 soul noun the essence of black culture US, 1965 soul adjective pertaining to the essence of black culture US, 1946

Soul Alley; Soul City; Soulsville noun an area in Saigon with bars and brothels patronised largely by black US soldiers US, 1970 soulboy noun a member of a mid-1970s youth fashion and music sub-culture UK, 2000 soul brother noun a black man US, 1970 soul-case noun heart and soul AUSTRALIA, 1901 soul food noun food associated with southern black culture US, 1964 soulie noun a member of a mid-1970s youth subculture identified by its dedication to soul music; a soulboy or a soulgirl UK, 1996 soul kiss noun a sustained, open-mouthed kiss US, 1948 soul kiss verb to give someone a deep and intimate kiss, usually involving tongue or tongues US, 1951 soul patch noun facial whiskers that are grown and worn beneath the lower lip and above the chin UK, 2006 soul sister noun a black woman US, 1967 soulville noun a part of a city inhabited largely by black people US, 1975 sound noun 1 a style of speech, including vocabulary, syntax and attitude US, 1958. 2 a taunt or tease; an insult US, 1967 sound verb 1 to speak or inform; to tease someone; to flirt; to insult someone in a semi-formal quasi-friendly competition US, 1959. 2 to glare at or intimidate someone with a look US, 1955 sound that's good; used in a congratulatory sense to express praise for an action UK, 2002 sound as a pound adjective reliable; perfectly sound, good or healthy UK, 2001 sound as a trout adjective perfectly sound, good or healthy UK, 1635 soundbox noun the throat US, 1946 sound down verb to speak to someone in a probing or inquiring way US, 1990 sound off verb to complain angrily about a particular something; to speak your mind US, 1918 sounds noun 1 recorded music US, 1955. 2 a radio. From its use as a provider of 'sounds' (music) UK, 1996 sounds like a personal problem used for silencing a complaint without sympathy US, 1968 soundtrack verb to supply the musical accompaniment to an activity UK, 2002 soup noun 1 nitroglycerin, or any explosive used for opening a safe US, 1902. 2 in the television and film industries, the chemicals used to develop film US, 1990. 3 in hot rodding and drag racing, race fuel US, 1954. 4 cocaine US, 1995. 5 foaming water left after a wave breaks US, 1963. 6 rain US, 1945. 7 in shuffleboard, the scoring area of the court US, 1967. ► in the soup in grave trouble US, 2001 soup and gravy; soup noun a navy UK, 1960 soup can noun a gas grenade US, 1978

souped adjective of a car, power-enhanced UK, 1951 souped-up adjective usually of a standard model car, supercharged, performance-enhanced US, 1931 soup job noun a car with many performance-enhancing features US, 1993 soup jockey noun a cook for a railway work crew US, 1975 soup out verb to ride a wave into the foaming water produced by the breaking wave US, 1963 soup-plate feet noun large hooves on a horse UK, 1948 soup-strainer noun a moustache US, 1946 soup suit noun a dinner-jacket US, 1954 soup up verb to make modifications which increase a car's performance US, 1933 sourball noun a person with a sour disposition US, 1900 sourdough noun 1 a person with considerable experience in Alaska US, 1898. 2 in Alaska, homebrew alcohol US, 1915 sour grape noun rape. Prison slang. NEW ZEALAND, 1999 sourpuss noun a grumbler; a misery; a killjoy. From the 'sour' look on his or her PUSS (face) US, 1937 soused adjective drunk US, 1932 south noun ► go south to palm and hide something, usually dice or cards US, 1962

South noun ► the South Antarctica ANTARCTICA, 1901 south 48; south 49 noun in Alaska, all states except Alaska US, 1984

South American snowflakes noun cocaine UK, 1999

South Austin suitcase noun a brown paper bag used to conceal a beer you want to drink on the street US, 2001

South County Indian noun a Portuguese immigrant or Portuguese-American. Rhode Island usage, alluding to the large Portuguese population US, 1989

Southend-on-Sea noun urine; an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PEE OR WEE, formed from the stereotypical Cockney's traditional seaside resort UK, 1992

Southend Pier noun the ear. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 southerly buster noun on the east coast, a sudden strong and cooling wind from the south arriving towards evening after a hot day and often bringing rain AUSTRALIA, 1850

Southern and Seven noun an alcoholic drink consisting of Southern Comfort™ whisky mixed with Seven-Up™ soda US, 1989

Southern engineering noun a sloppy job of design or manufacture US, 1984

Southern love noun mouth-to-penis contact immediately after the penis is withdrawn from a rectum US, 1995

Southie nickname an Irish-American enclave in south Boston. An area famous for its support of the Irish Republican Army, its opposition to school busing to achieve racial integration and its anti-homosexual stance US, 1984

South of France noun a dance. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 south of the border adjective unacceptable. Glasgow rhyming slang for OUT OF ORDER. Not a reference to England but (thanks to Hollywood) Mexico UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 south of the border adverb in or to the area of the genitals, especially a woman's US, 1945 south of the border; south noun order; an orderly condition. Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

southpaw noun a left-handed person, especially a left-handed athlete US, 1891

South Pole noun the anus. Rhyming slang for HOLE UK, 1992

souvenir verb to take an object as a souvenir. Originally World War 1 military slang AUSTRALIA, 1918 sov noun one pound sterling (£1). An abbreviation of 'sovereign', which, at one time, was a coin valued at £1; since the departure of the coin as currency it has denoted first a one-pound note, and then a one-pound coin UK, 1850 sovvv noun a gold sovereign; a sovereign ring UK, 2005 sow belly noun on the railways, a coal tender with a drop bottom US, 1946 so what? used for registering dismissal of, or disinterest in, what has gone before US, 1934

SOX noun socks UK, 1905

so you feel that is your opinion, that is what you think. Recorded in use among young urban blacks UK, 1999 sozzled adjective drunk. From dialect word sozzle (to mix messily) UK, 1886

SP noun 1 the latest information. Bookmakers abbreviation of jargon 'starting price' UK, 1974. 2 starting price bookmaking AUSTRALIA, 1941. 3 a starting price bookmaker AUSTRALIA, 1949. 4 an establishment operating starting price bookmaking AUSTRALIA, 1965. 5 the US Navy's Shore Patrol, or internal police US, 1951

SP adjective relating to horse race betting at starting price odds AUSTRALIA, 1932

SP adverb at starting price odds AUSTRALIA, 1949

spa noun a small, privately owned convenience/grocery shop US, 1997

Spa noun the Saratoga race track, Saratoga Springs, New York US, 1960

spac adjective stupid; awful AUSTRALIA, 1988. ► go spac to lose control in anger AUSTRALIA, 1988

spac adverb dreadfully AUSTRALIA, 1988

spac; spack; spak noun 1 a stupid or unfashionable person.

Alteration of SPASTIC. Used by schoolchildren AUSTRALIA, 1988. 2 a person with spastic paralysis; a person who has any disability UK, 1996

spac attack; spack attack noun an instance of idiotic behaviour. From SPAC UK, 2003 spacbrain noun a stupid or unfashionable person AUSTRALIA, 1988

spacco adjective ► go spacco to behave in an idiotic, erratic or hyperactive manner. From SPAC UK, 2003 space noun 1 a mental attitude or position UK, 1971. 2 a year, especially a year in prison US, 1950 space verb to daydream; to wander off mentally US, 1995 spacebase noun a cigar wrapper filled with phencyclidine and crack cocaine US, 1992 space cadet noun 1 a drug user UK, 2002. 2 a heavily drugged hospital patient US, 1989 space case; space cadet; space head noun a person who is completely out of touch with their surroundings US, 1974 space cookie; space cake noun a sweet confection with marijuana in the recipe UK, 1998 space cowboy noun a disoriented, distracted person US, 1977 spaced adjective 1 in a state of drug intoxication, especially as a result of hallucinogen use but loosely of any drug US, 1967. 2 unaware; unfocused; highly distracted US, 1967 spacedancing noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, the freeform dancing practised by band followers US, 1994 spaced out adjective 1 drug-intoxicated; disoriented. Conventionally 'space' is beyond the frontiers of normality US, 1970. 2 stupefied from anaesthetic US, 1973 space pill noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2000

spacer noun 1 a hallucinogenic recreational drug UK, 1971. 2 a mace cigarette US, 1967. 3 someone who is capable of crazy actions IRELAND, 2003 space shake noun a milk-based drink which has marijuana as an important ingredient UK, 2003 space suit noun untearable prison-issue pyjamas UK, 1996 spaces noun computerised arcade games. From Space Invaders, one of the earliest popular games of this type. Modelled on POKIE AUSTRALIA, 1986 spacker; spacka; spack noun a stupid person. A later variation of SPASTIC as a general derogative, in juvenile use in the UK UK, 2001 spacy; spacey adjective in a state of confusion; denoting an unbalanced normality or a dazed condition; similar to or of a hallucinogenic experience. Compares a perception of reality to that of being SPACED (drug-intoxicated) but does not always describe a drugged state US, 1970

spad nickname a Douglas aircraft A-1 Skyraider, used for close air support of ground troops US, 1989 spade noun a black person US, 1928. ► in spades to a great degree US, 1929 spades noun shoes with pointed toes. Teen slang US, 1955 spaff verb to ejaculate semen UK, 2003. ► spaff your load to ejaculate semen. An elaboration of SPAFF UK, 2003

spag noun spaghetti UK, 1948

Spag noun an Italian. From 'spaghetti' AUSTRALIA, 1967

spag bol; spag bog noun spaghetti bolognese UK, 1970 spag fag noun a gay man attracted to Italians. Combines SPAG (an Italian) and FAG (a gay man) UK, 1998

spaghetti noun 1 in hot rodding, a surfeit of chrome US, 1958. 2 in oil drilling, small-diameter piping US, 1954

spaghetti adjective Italian US, 1969 spaghetti and macaroni noun sado-masochism. Disguising the initialism S AND M US, 1989 spaghetti-bender noun an Italian or Italian-American US, 1967

spaghetti-eater noun an Italian or Italian-American US, 1958

Spaghetti Junction nickname 1 junction 6 of the M6 motorway, the interchange at Gravelly Hill, near Birmingham. So-called for the complicated pattern of roads; it opened for use in 1972, but was already known by this name in late 1971 UK, 1972. 2 a motorway overpass 10 kilometres from Durban SOUTH AFRICA, 1999 spaghetti strap noun very thin shoulder straps on a woman's garment; the garment itself US, 1972

spaghetti western noun a cowboy film about the American 'wild west' produced by the Italian film industry US, 1973

spaginz noun a black person US, 1973

Spahn and Sain and then, dear Lord, two days of rain used as a humorous entreaty for a bit of luck to accompany a bit of skill or hard work. Coined by sports writer Gerald Hern in 1948 to describe the strategy of the Boston Braves baseball team – win games pitched by the skilled pitchers Warren Spahn and Johnny Sain and then hope for the best US, 1948

spak noun ► see: SPAC

spam noun unsolicited, unwanted, often fraudulent advertising messages sent by e-mail US, 1994

spam verb 1 to post e-mail in unwanted quantities, especially advertising matter to people who don't want it. Ultimately from branded tinned meat Spam™ (a compound of spiced ham); popular etymology insists that this usage is inspired by the Monty Python sketch, 1970, set in a café in which nothing but unwanted Spam is served US, 1994. 2 to assign an unpleasant task to someone. Gulf war usage UK, 1991

spam can noun 1 a Southern Region 4–6–2 passenger locomotive of the 'West Country' class; a class Q freight locomotive also known as a 'biscuit box'. Railway slang with a derogatory edge; an allusion to the shape UK, 1979. 2 any metal-skinned light aeroplane. A derogatory term used by flying club pilots of veteran, fabric-covered aircraft UK, 1979

spam fritter noun the anus. Rhyming slang for SHITTER UK, 2003

spam fritters noun the vaginal labia. A pink highlight of UK cuisine UK, 2002

spam javelin noun the erect penis. A meat weapon UK, 1997

spam lance noun the penis, especially when erect UK, 2001 spam medal noun the Canadian Volunteer Service Medal, given to all Canadian servicemen during World War 2 who volunteered rather than being conscripted CANADA, 1995

spamouflage noun software designed to mask the fact that an e-mail is an unsolicited mass advertisement US, 2002

Spandau Ballet noun an alley. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of a 1980s UK pop group UK, 2004 spang verb to beg on the streets. Etymology is uncertain, possibly a compound of 'Spare any change?' or, less likely, an abbreviation of 'spangle' (something that glitters, hence a coin) UK, 1998 spangled adjective drunk UK, 2002

Spanic noun in Toronto, a person of South American descent CANADA, 2001

Spanish archer noun dismissal; a rejection. An excruciating pun: ELBOW (dismissal, a rejection) and 'El Bow' UK, 2000

Spanish curse noun in dominoes, the 3–3 piece US, 1959

Spanish football noun a sexually transmitted infection. Navy 'lower decks' usage; possibly a pun on 'dribbling' UK, 1961

Spanish guitar; spanish noun a cigar. Rhyming slang UK, 1952

Spanish Main; spanish noun a drain. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Spanish onion noun a bunion. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Spanish radio station noun used as the epitome of something that is always in the way TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1984

Spanish surrealist noun cocaine. A discreet reference to SALVADOR DALI UK, 2002

Spanish waiter noun a potato. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 spank noun a beating UK, 1984 spank verb 1 to beat someone with violent intent. Extends from 'spank' (to beat with an open hand) UK, 1999. 2 to rob someone US, 1976. 3 to fraudulently amend financial accounts US, 1999. 4 (used of a male) to masturbate US, 1994. 5 to slap the inside of the arm to draw out veins for a drug injection US, 1997. ► spank the monkey (used of a male) to masturbate US, 1999. ► spank the plank 1 (of a male) to masturbate UK, 1998. 2 to play an electric guitar UK, 2004

spankadocious adjective ► see: SPOKADOCIOUS

spanked adjective worn out; over-used US, 1992 spanking noun a serious beating. From 'spank' (to hit with the open hand); a blackly humorous understatement of violent intent UK, 1999 spank off verb (of a male) to masturbate UK, 2002 spanner noun 1 a promiscuous female; a sexually provocative woman. From the name of the tool used to tighten nuts UK, 1983. 2 in prison, a key UK, 1996. 3 a fool; an idiot IRELAND, 2003

spannered adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated UK, 2000 spansula noun a combination of central nervous system depressants and stimulants US, 1971

Span-yard noun a Spaniard UK, 2000

spar noun 1 a friend; a companion. Shortening of SPARRING PARTNER BARBADOS, 1965. 2 a close male friend JAMAICA, 2003. 3 a man. From the meaning as 'a friend'. Mainly black usage. The variant 'spa' is also used UK, 1998 spare noun 1 in a social context, any or all unattached members of the opposite sex UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a friend US, 1947 spare adjective distraught, distracted or distressed; angry; crazy UK, 1964. ► go spare to become very angry UK, 1958 spare me days! heavens above! With ME for 'my' AUSTRALIA, 1915 spare prick noun a useless fellow; someone who is surplus to requirements. A shortening of 'spare prick at a wedding', from the phrase 'standing about like a spare prick at a wedding' UK, 1982 spare rib noun a trivial lie. Rhyming slang for 'fib' UK, 1998 spare time noun the possession of marijuana. The implication is that you must have spare time if you are to use the marijuana US, 1999 spare tire; spare tyre noun a roll of fat around the waist US, 1961 spark verb 1 to light a cigarette or a marijuana cigarette. Also variant 'spark up' US, 1995. 2 to hit someone hard; to knock someone out UK, 2002. 3 to see something or someone. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1972. 4 in horse racing, to use an electrical device to shock a horse during a race US, 1951. ► spark it up to smoke marijuana UK, 1998 sparked adjective knocked out, unconscious UK, 1996

sparkers adjective unconscious or deeply asleep. A variation of SPARK OUT UK, 1977 sparkle noun strong and pure methamphetamine with a crystalline appearance US, 1989 sparkle plenty noun an amphetamine tablet. Named after a character in the Dick Tracy comic strip US, 1969 sparkler noun 1 a diamond UK, 1822. 2 a tablet of amphetamine US, 1994 sparklers noun clean white socks. Michigan Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003 sparkly adjective dishonest; criminal. An opposite to dull, STRAIGHT (honest) UK, 1999 sparko adjective 1 in a state of unconsciousness. Abbreviated from SPARK OUT UK, 1999. 2 psychotic; deranged UK, 1983 spark out verb to become unconscious; to faint; to die. The spark of life goes out, to some degree UK, 1936 spark-out adjective unconscious. The spark of life has (temporarily) gone out UK, 1958 sparkplug noun a tampon US, 1999 sparks; sparky; sparkie noun an electrician UK, 1914 spark scene noun a sexual fantasy; the imagined or remembered scene that sparks or enhances a sexual reaction UK, 2001 sparky noun a fool; a mentally handicapped person. Probably derived as a variation of SPAC; SPACK UK, 2003 sparky adjective lively. Electric, giving off sparks UK, 2000 sparring partner noun a friend; a companion; a husband or wife. From boxing jargon UK, 1961 sparrow noun an attractive, single female BERMUDA, 1985

Sparrow noun in Canada, an Englishman, particularly a Cockney CANADA, 1966

sparrow-fart; sparrow's fart noun dawn UK, 1886 sparrow grass noun asparagus CANADA, 2001

sparrow's kneecaps noun undeveloped or non-existent arm muscles. Parodic, jocular, derisive UK, 1984 spastic noun a stupid or uncoordinated person. A general term of abuse commonly used by schoolchildren AUSTRALIA, 1981 spastic adjective incompetent; uncoordinated; unfashionable. A cruel allusion to spastic paralysis US, 1973 spat noun a short, sharp quarrel; a tiff US, 1804 spatmobile noun the Toronto airport's Special Assistant Team vehicle CANADA, 1994

spawgee noun a poor white person BARBADOS, 1965

spaz noun 1 a person with spastic paralysis; a person who has any disability UK, 2003. 2 an uncoordinated or incompetent individual; a fool. Contemptuous and derogatory use of 'spastic' (a person with spastic paralysis). Also used in the variants 'spazz' and 'spas' US, 1964

spaz; spazzo adjective crazy, foolish AUSTRALIA, 1966

spaz chariot noun a wheelchair. From SPAZ (a person who has any disability) UK, 2003

spaz cut noun any hairstyle that is alleged to make the wearer look mentally or physically handicapped. From SPAZ (a person with a disability) UK, 2003 spazmo noun an uncoordinated or incompetent individual; a fool. A variation of SPASTIC UK, 1984

spaz out; spazz out verb to act in a very awkward or uncoordinated manner; to lose emotional control US, 1984

spazzed adjective drunk UK, 2002

spazzer noun a spastic (a person with spastic paralysis) UK, 2003

SP betting noun illegal betting at starting price odds AUSTRALIA, 1936

SP book noun a starting price bookmaker's ledger AUSTRALIA, 1948

SP bookie; SP bookmaker noun an illegal off-course bookmaker who offers starting price odds AUSTRALIA, 1938

SP'd up adjective informed UK, 1999 speak noun a bar where alcohol is served illegally. A shortened form of SPEAKEASY US, 1930 speak verb ► speak the real to speak the truth, unpleasant as it might be US, 1998. ► speak the same language to share a way of thinking about something UK, 1948. ► speak white to speak English. Anglophone Canadian usage US, 1978

-speak suffix vocabulary or jargon. 'Newspeak' is the language of Oceania in George Orwell's 1948 novel 1984. This coinage seeped into the language and, post-1984, provides a neat formula for book titles and media headlines concerned with jargon and slang. 'Jackspeak' 1989, 'Low Speak' 1989, 'Artspeak' 1990, 'Eurospeak' 1992, 'Rockspeak' 1996, 'Freshspeak' 1997, 'Double Speak' 1999, 'Teen Speak' 2001 among others UK, 1949 speak! tell me what's on your mind! US, 1975

speakeasy noun a bar that sells alcohol illegally US, 1889 speaker noun a gun US, 1970

speak to the hand ► see: TALK TO THE HAND speak up verb ► speak up Brown – you're through!; speak up Ginger – you're almost through! said, as if on a telephone, as a comment on an audible fart. Occasionally heard as 'come on Brown', etc UK, 1961 spear noun 1 a hypodermic needle US, 1961. 2 a firefighter's hook US, 1954. ► take the spear to accept responsibility. Colonel Oliver North popularised the phrase during the moral collapse of the Reagan presidency in 1986 and 87, explaining that while he had said that he would 'take the spear' for the administration's misdeeds in Iran and Nicaragua, he did not mean that he would accept responsibility if criminal prosecution became a possibility US, 1989. ► the spear dismissal from work AUSTRALIA, 1941 spear verb 1 to dismiss someone from employment AUSTRALIA, 1911. 2 to eject someone from a shop, pub, etc AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► spear the bearded clam (from a male perspective) to have sex. Formed on BEARDED CLAM (the vagina) AUSTRALIA, 1971. ► spear the keg to broach a keg of beer AUSTRALIA, 1994 spear-carrier noun a non-speaking role in a play; an actor who appears in the background or only plays minor roles UK, 1984 spear-chucker noun 1 a black person. Offensive. An allusion to the jungles of Africa US, 1969. 2 a vocal, aggressive advocate US, 1997

spec noun 1 an operational specification; a detailed description of something UK, 1956. 2 a position, a view-point. Probably abbreviated from 'spectate' UK, 1999. 3 a pair of eye-glasses BAHAMAS, 1982. ► on spec on the off chance; speculatively UK, 1832 speccy; speckie noun in Australian Rules football, a spectacular catching of the ball AUSTRALIA, 1989

special noun a potent marijuana cigarette US, 1938 special adjective applied to a disabled person. More patronising than euphemistic UK, 2003 special a la coke noun the recreational drug ketamine in powder, capsule or tablet form US, 1998

special friend noun a woman's menstrual period US, 2001

Special K noun ketamine hydrochloride, an anaesthetic used as a recreational drug, in powder, capsule or tablet form. Kellogg's Special K™, a well-known breakfast cereal, is the inspiration for this variation on K (ketamine) US, 1993 specimen noun a person of a stated character. Generally derogatory UK, 1854 speck noun a black person. Offensive US, 1980

Speck noun ► the Speck Tasmania. A reference to the shape and size of Tasmania on a map; shortened from obsolete the 'Fly-speck Isle' AUSTRALIA, 1916 speck verb 1 to search for gold or opal on the surface of the ground AUSTRALIA, 1888. 2 to place a highly speculative bet on a horse AUSTRALIA, 1960 specker noun 1 a speculative bettor. Agent noun of SPECK AUSTRALIA, 1960. 2 one year of a prison sentence. Used in numeric constructions such as 'three-specker' or 'five-specker' US, 1950 specking noun an act of randomly searching for houses to burgle. From ON SPEC (speculatively) UK, 1996

specky adjective bespectacled UK, 1956 specs noun 1 eye-glasses. A shortened form of 'spectacles' UK, 1807. 2 a person with poor eyesight and thick glasses US, 1997. 3 in horse racing, blinkers on a horse US, 1951 spectacles, testicles, wallet and watch the positions of the hand when making the sign of the cross. Part Catholic mnemonic, part joke UK, 1999 sped noun a social outcast US, 1997 speed noun 1 an amphetamine, especially Dexedrine™, which is a central nervous system stimulant US, 1966. 2 crack cocaine UK, 2003. 3 ability in pool US, 1967 speed verb 1 to be under the influence of a central nervous system stimulant US, 1995. 2 in poker, to bet heavily and to bluff often US, 1983 speedball noun 1 a mixture of a central nervous system stimulant (especially cocaine) and a narcotic (especially heroin) US, 1936.

2 an alcoholic beverage fortified with a drug US, 1962. 3 a rissole AUSTRALIA, 1965 speedball verb to inject or smoke a mixture of cocaine and heroin. After the noun sense UK, 2002

speedboat noun marijuana UK, 1998 speedbomb noun amphetamine powder rolled in a cigarette paper (for the purpose of swallowing) UK, 2000 speed bump noun 1 a red bump on the skin sometimes suffered after injecting impure amphetamines US, 1989. 2 a non-military obstacle that is likely to hinder an army's progress, especially civilians but also used of geographic features. Military jargon US, 2003 speed bumps noun 1 small female breasts US, 2003. 2 Saudi Arabian troops. Gulf war usage US, 1991 speed-dating noun an intensive method of meeting a number of prospective partners, organised so that each meets each for a short period before moving on to 'date' the next US, 2003

speed for lovers noun ► see: LOVER'S SPEED speedfreak noun a person who is addicted to or compulsively uses amphetamines or methamphetamine US, 1967

Speed Gordon noun used as the epitome of trouble or strife AUSTRALIA, 1961

speed hump noun a skindiver AUSTRALIA, 1996

speed jaw noun an aching jaw which is a symptomatic after-effect of amphetamine use UK, 2002 speed merchant noun in American football, a fast runner US, 1962 speed money noun a bribe that purchases official cooperation of bureaucratic machinery INDIA, 2002

speedo noun a speedometer UK, 1934 speed of heat noun a high speed. US naval aviator usage US, 1986 speedometer noun in computing, a graphic depiction of a computer's current operating speed US, 1991 speedy adjective of drugs, displaying stimulant qualities; of a person, under the influence of a central nervous system stimulant. From SPEED (amphetamines) UK, 1995 speedy dog nickname a Greyhound bus; the Greyhound corporation US, 1988 speedy squib noun in horse racing, a horse that runs well for most of the race but does not finish well AUSTRALIA, 1989

Speewah; Speewa noun an imaginary remote country property or locale used as a setting for tall tales. Named after an actual place in northwest Victoria AUSTRALIA, 1890 speiler noun a swindler AUSTRALIA, 1879 spell noun a sentence of three months' imprisonment UK, 1996 spell verb ► spell it out to explain something that should be apparent and make it absolutely clear UK, 1968 spelling flame noun an inflammatory Internet posting attacking another's spelling US, 1995 spell-o noun a rest period, a break ANTARCTICA, 1916

spelunk verb ► spelunk without a partner (of a female) to masturbate. Figurative sense of 'spelunking' (caving as a sport), hence this solo exploration of a 'grotto' (the vagina) US, 2001 spelunker noun a caver. Ultimately from Latin spelunca (a cave) US, 1942

Spenard divorce noun a shooting of one spouse by the other US, 1965 spend verb ► spend a penny to urinate. This derives from the charge made for use of a public convenience. The first to charge a penny was opened outside the Royal Exchange, London, in 1855; however, a euphemistic use is not recorded until 1945. Since then prices have risen to beyond a point where the term has any practical meaning UK, 2003

spends noun spending money UK, 2002

spendy adjective expensive US, 1993

speng noun a fool UK, 1996 spent up adjective having no more money UK, 1996

sperm wail noun an involuntary cry from a male experiencing an orgasm UK, 2002 spesh noun Carlsberg Special Brew™ lager. Phonetic abbreviation of 'special' UK, 1997 spesh adjective special AUSTRALIA, 1996

spew noun 1 vomit US, 1997. 2 semen US, 1989. 3 a temper tantrum NEW ZEALAND, 1998

spew verb 1 to vomit US, 1988. 2 to ejaculate. Adopted from the more common sense 'to vomit', suggesting a more than generous ejaculation US, 1989. 3 to reject an agreement or responsibility. Possibly a play on synonymous BLOW OUT UK, 2002. 4 to be extremely angry AUSTRALIA, 1987. 5 to post an excessive number of messages to an Internet discussion group US, 1995. ► spew your guts to inform on your friends to the police UK, 1961. ► spew your guts up to vomit violently UK, 1984. ► spew your ring; spew your ring up to vomit violently UK, 1963

spewing! used for expressing anger AUSTRALIA, 1988

spewsome adjective dreadful; awful. That is, 'enough to make you vomit' AUSTRALIA, 1996

spynx noun the removal by wax of all of a woman's pubic hair; the results thereof US, 2001 spic noun 1 a Spanish-speaking person. Derogatory and offensive US, 1913. 2 a Spaniard. This usage reflects the fact that Spain is the closest Spanish-speaking community to the UK UK, 2000. 3 the Spanish language US, 1946. 4 a West Indian US, 1945. 5 a railway track worker. Many track workers in the American southwest were Mexican; the racial epithet was applied to Mexican and non-Mexican alike US, 1977

spico noun a Spanish-speaking person. A modestly embellished SPIC US, 1967

Spictown noun a Spanish-speaking neighbourhood US, 1969

spide noun a member of a Belfast subcultural urban adolescent grouping that seems to be defined by a hip-hop dress and jewellery sense UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 2003

spider noun 1 in the television and film industries, a device used to support the legs of a tripod on a slippery or uneven surface UK, 1960. 2 in harness racing, a sulky AUSTRALIA, 1989. 3 a tall glass of carbonated soft drink with a dollop of ice-cream in the top AUSTRALIA, 1941 spider blue noun heroin. Referring probably to the web of blue veins into which heroin users inject the drug US, 1994 spider box noun in the television and film industries, an electrical junction box US, 1990 spider hole noun a sniper's lair in a cave. Korean war usage US, 1957 spider's legs noun the pubic hair that can be seen outside the confines of a girl's bikini or underwear UK, 2003 spiel noun 1 a long-winded explanation US, 1896. 2 a speech intended to attract customers US, 1966. 3 an illegal gambling operation UK, 1996. 4 a drinking club. Probably a shortening of SPIELER UK, 1981

spiel verb to talk, especially at length; to patter US, 1894

spieler noun 1 a facile and smooth speaker US, 1894. 2 a person who stands at the door of a business calling out to people passing by, trying to lure them into the business US, 1894. 3 an (illegal) gambling or drinking club UK, 1931 spiff noun 1 a loner. An articulation of the initials SBF (surrounded by friends), used with irony US, 1987. 2 a tip, gratuity or commission US, 1997. 3 a bonus paid by a record company to a promoter who has succeeded in getting a record played US, 1980 spiff verb to dress up. Coined in the UK in the 1870s, obsolete by the 1930s, and then resurfaced in the US in the 1970s, used with 'up' US, 1979

spiffed adjective drunk US, 1987 spiffing; spiffin' adjective excellent, first-rate; fashionable or smart. Often seen to be dated, redolent of the C19 to mid-C20 upper-and middle-class society, hence current usage tends towards irony. However, it is also current in its original unambiguous sense UK, 1872 spifflicated; spiflicated adjective drunk US, 1906 spiffy adjective well-dressed, elegant, sharp UK, 1853

spificate verb to deal with someone in a way that confounds, silences, dumbfounds or defeats. A humorous colloquialism that by mid-C20 survived mainly as a vague threat to children. Recorded as a form of intimidation used among Yorkshire schoolchildren by Iona and Peter Opie, The Lore and Language of Schoolchildren, 1959 UK, 1785

spig noun a Spanish-speaking person. A corruption of the prevalent SPIC US, 1969 spike noun 1 a syringe and needle; a hypodermic needle US, 1936. 2 a mixture of heroin and scopolamine or strychnine UK, 2002. 3 in a deck of playing cards, an ace US, 1988. 4 in volleyball, hitting the ball downward with great force from the top of a jump US, 1972. 5 a casual ward (a temporary accommodation facility for vagrants) UK, 1866. ► the spike the hypodermic syringe as a symbol of drug addiction UK, 1973 spike verb 1 to adulterate a drink or ply a person with alcohol or drugs US, 1909. 2 to inject a drug US, 1935. 3 in American football, to slam the football to the ground in a ritualistic celebration after scoring a touchdown US, 1975. 4 to attach electrical tape on a stage floor to mark positions for props and sets US, 1991 spiked adjective in a state of intoxication as the unwitting victim of an adulterated drink or drug UK, 1996

spiker noun a (branded antidepressant) Prozac™ tablet UK, 2001 spikes noun 1 sports shoes with cleats US, 1997. 2 woman's shoes with narrow high heels that taper into a point, formally known as spike-heel shoes US, 1996 spikey; spikie noun an anti-globalisation activist with a philosophy of violent protest UK, 2001 spiky adjective uncompromising in Anglican faith or practice UK, 1881 spill verb 1 to fall off a surfboard US, 1957. 2 to talk with energy and no clear agenda US, 1970. ► spill the beans to tell that which one is not supposed to tell US, 1993. ► spill your guts (out) to confess your secrets; to tell all you know US, 1927 spin noun 1 a tactical, revisionist interpretation of an event for public consumption. Although the term came to the forefront during the Reagan presidency, it is an ancient practice that was simply taken to new heights by Reagan's handlers US, 1986. 2 an excursion in a car. Originally applied to horse training, meaning 'a run of some duration', then to a bicycle ride, and now the present sense UK, 1907. 3 a period of time considered in terms of how you fared during it; an experience; a time of it AUSTRALIA, 1917. 4 five years' imprisonment AUSTRALIA, 1950. 5 a five-pound note; the sum of £5. An abbreviation of SPINNAKER. After decimalisation in 1966 also briefly used for $5 AUSTRALIA, 1941. 6 a single playing of a song by a radio station US, 1999. 7 a turn at spinning the coins in the gambling game two-up AUSTRALIA, 1919. 8 a Separation Program Number. The numbers corresponded to several hundred reasons for discharge from the service. Also known as 'spin number' US, 1984

spin verb 1 to manipulate, edit and present information in such a way that it suits political needs or a political agenda UK, 2003. 2 in circus and carnival usage, to speak a language or dialect fluently US, 1981. 3 to search UK, 1972. 4 to play a record, especially on the radio US, 1965. 5 in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, to tape a concert US, 1994. 6 to turn back a car's odometer (mileometer) US, 1980. 7 to deceive US, 1952. 8 to leave US, 1989.

► spin a dit in nautical use, to tell a story, especially a tall story. From DIT (a tale) AUSTRALIA, 1943. ► spin a drum; spin to search a private premises UK, 1977. ► spin the shit to discuss something UK, 1995 spinal noun a paraplegic US, 1998 spinal tap noun falling over backwards while snowboarding US, 1990

spinbin noun a residential facility for psychiatric treatment UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 spindle-man noun a game operator in a carnival US, 1969 spinebash noun a period resting rather than working AUSTRALIA, 1968

spine-bash verb to loaf AUSTRALIA, 1958

spinebasher noun a loafer AUSTRALIA, 1945

spinebashing noun loafing AUSTRALIA, 1941

spinmeister noun an acknowledged expert in the art of spin. A combination of SPIN and German meister (master) US, 1986 spinnable adjective open to persuasion by manipulated information; also, used of information that is suitable for biased interpretation UK, 2003

spinnaker noun a five-pound note; the sum of £5 AUSTRALIA, 1898

spinner noun 1 in the used car business, a person who is adept at reducing the mileage on a car's odometer (mileometer) US, 1975. 2 in hot rodding, a showy hubcap US, 1958. 3 a radio disc jockey US, 1950. 4 a person who is mentally unstable after extensive medication US, 1989. 5 in the gambling game two-up, the person who tosses the coins AUSTRALIA, 1911. 6 in air-traffic control, a shift of employment covering absent workers' responsibilities UK, 1981. 7 in dominoes, a double that may be played on both ends US, 1959. 8 in poker, a streak of good luck US, 1988

spinny adjective crazy, insane CANADA, 1992

spin on it!; spin! a derisive invitation that accompanies the offensive gesture of a raised middle finger UK, 2003 spin out verb in the gambling game two-up, to throw a pair of tails and hence lose the right to continue spinning AUSTRALIA, 1951 spins noun the heightened state of dizziness you feel when you lie down very drunk US, 1993 spin up verb to roll a cigarette with tobacco or marijuana UK, 2003 spit noun 1 an exact, or near-exact, likeness of someone UK, 1825. 2 something of no value US, 1987. 3 a small sum of money US, 1985. 4 the payout in coins from a computer poker game AUSTRALIA, 1989. 5 in some games of poker, a card turned face-up in the centre of the table which may be used by all players' hands. Also called a 'spit in the ocean' US, 1961 spit verb to perform a rap lyric US, 2001. ► spit beef to vomit US, 1978. ► spit blood to be very angry, especially in the phrase 'could spit blood' UK, 1963. ► spit bricks to be furious UK, 2002. ► spit chips to vent anger verbally AUSTRALIA, 1947. ► spit cotton to salivate while under the influence of heroin US, 1953. ► spit lead to fire a gun US, 1949. ► spit the dummy; spit the dummy out to become furious; to throw a tantrum. From the image of an upset baby spitting out its dummy and crying AUSTRALIA, 1984

spit! be quiet! US, 1950 spit and drag; spit and a drag noun a cigarette; a cigarette being smoked, especially when the act of smoking is clandestine. Rhyming slang for FAG UK, 1960 spit and git verb to accomplish a task quickly US, 1972 spit and image noun an exact likeness of someone or something. The surviving form of 'spit and fetch' (image, picture), in which 'spit' is surely the substance of a body, or perhaps its corrupted 'spirit' and the noun with which it is combined represents an outer-appearance, ('fetch' is defined by the Oxford English Dictionary as 'the apparition, double or wraith of a living person'); 'spit and' has varied in dialect use to spitten leading, ultimately, to the conventional synonym: 'spitting image' UK, 1895

spit-back noun a technique of spitting a drink back into a glass to give the appearance of consuming more alcohol than you are US, 1964

spitball verb in the entertainment industry, to offer up a suggestion for discussion; to brainstorm US, 1955 spit black noun mascara. Because water is needed to apply UK, 1952 spit box noun in horse racing, the barn where horses are taken after a race to have their saliva tested for the presence of illegal drugs or their metabolites US, 1997 spit fuck verb to penetrate a rectum or vagina using only saliva as a lubricant US, 1979 spit kit noun in the US submarine corps, an anti-submarine vessel US, 1948 spit out verb to say something that is emotionally difficult to say UK, 1855

spit-roast noun a sexual position in which a woman (or a man) performs oral sex on one man whilst being penetrated by another from behind; the woman (or man) receiving such attention. The two erect penises necessary for this activity create the illusory image of a single spit going in one end and out the other. Mainly heterosexual usage UK, 1998 spit-roast verb to have sex as an active participant in the spit-roast position UK, 2003

spits noun sunflower seeds CANADA, 1987

spit spiders verb to be furious UK, 2001

spitter noun 1 a person who spits out semen after oral sex AUSTRALIA, 1987. 2 a killer US, 1975. 3 a wave that sprays from its end as it collapses US, 1964 spitting feathers adjective 1 very thirsty UK, 1997. 2 furiously angry UK, 2003 spittin' time noun the bleed period of a woman's menstrual cycle US, 1954

spiv noun a sharply dressed individual who lives by his wits – within the law for preference, and not too far outside the law whenever possible. Several possible etymologies vie for credence: an acronym from police records 'Suspected Persons and Itinerant Vagrants'; back slang of the acronym for 'Very Important Persons' (VIPs); dialect spif or spiff (neat, smart, dandified), which also leads to SPIFFING (excellent); spivic, an apparently obsolete Romanyn word for 'sparrow', used to describe those who followed the gypsies and picked up their leavings UK, 1934

spivias noun amphetamines; MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 spivvery noun petty crime and other behaviour associated with a spiv UK, 1956

spizz noun a hypodermic needle US, 1961

SP joint noun an establishment operating starting price bookmaking AUSTRALIA, 1945

splack noun sex US, 1994

splack verb 1 to steal a car, especially by shattering the steering column US, 1993. 2 to ejaculate in sexual climax US, 2001 splaff noun a marijuana cigarette laced with LSD. 'A' for ACID substitutes the 'i' in SPLIFF (a marijuana cigarette) UK, 2003 splash noun 1 an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1966. 2 a small amount of water added to an alcoholic drink US, 1996. 3 tea (the beverage) UK, 1960. 4 a bath US, 1972 splash verb 1 to take a bath US, 1972. 2 to ejaculate US, 1970. ► splash the boots to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1968. ► splash the pot in a game of poker, to throw betting tokens directly into the pile of chips in the centre of the table instead of lining them up for other players to see before adding them to the pot US, 1961 splashing noun in a prostitute's advertising, semen, urine and other fluids secreted at orgasm UK, 2003 splash move noun in cheating at dice, a switch of the dice US, 1997 splash out verb to spend money extravagantly UK, 1934 splashover noun a signal leaking from one citizens' band radio channel to another US, 1976 splash shot noun a scene in a pornographic film or photograph depicting a man ejaculating US, 1997 splat noun 1 any food not subject to ready identification. From the sound made when it hits the mess kit US, 1968. 2 the * character on a computer keyboard US, 1983 splat verb to be killed bungee jumping US, 1992 splat hat noun a motorcycle crash helmet UK, 1981

splendiferous; splendacious; splendidous; spledidous adjective excellent; very splendid US, 1843 splib noun a black person. Offensive. US, 1964 splice verb to marry someone UK, 1710 spliced adjective married US, 1997 spliff noun 1 a marijuana cigarette JAMAICA, 1936. 2 marijuana. Also used in the variant 'splif' UK, 1967. 3 a cigarette adulterated with crack cocaine UK, 2002. 4 a hand-rolled cigarette UK, 1984. ► on the spliff a state of marijuana intoxication UK, 2001

spliff verb to smoke marijuana and be under its influence UK, 1977 spliffed; spliffed out; spliffed up adjective in a state of intoxication as a result of smoking marijuana UK, 1994

spliff up verb to prepare a marijuana cigarette; to smoke marijuana in cigarette form UK, 2000

spliff wine noun marijuana wine UK, 2002

spliffy noun a marijuana cigarette UK, 2000 spliffy adjective in a state of gentle intoxication as a result of smoking marijuana; in a manner that suggests the smoking of marijuana. Playing on SQUIFFY (drunk) UK, 2001 splifted adjective marijuana-intoxicated; exhilarated US, 1995 splim noun marijuana. A misreading or simple variation of SPLIFF US, 1982 splinky noun the penis. A term apparently coined by the writers of Mad About You, a US situation comedy (NBC, 1992–99); repeated with referential humour US, 1999 splint noun a marijuana cigarette US, 1992

splinters noun adversity US, 1954 split noun 1 the vagina US, 1967. 2 a share of mutual property or profits UK, 1889. 3 a tranquilizer or other central nervous system depressant US, 1969. 4 a decongestant tablet sold as MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1996 split verb 1 to leave. Each night, during the 1960s, Philadelphia rock 'n' roll disc jockey Hy Lit ended his broadcast with the mantra, 'Nuff said Ted, solid ahead, time to split the scene and leave it clean' US, 1956. 2 from a male perspective, to have sex. Probably more to do with bragging than as a considered threat of violence UK, 1937. ► split a gut to exert yourself to the extreme, especially laughing US, 1958. ► split on someone to inform on or betray someone UK, 1795. ► split the breeze to drive fast US, 1976. ► split the difference from a male perspective, to have sex. A punning elaboration of SPLIT UK, 1974. ► split the scene to leave US, 1990. ► split the sheets to divorce US, 1976. ► split the whiskers (of a woman) to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1992. ► split your sides to laugh heartily UK, 1704 split-arse noun a woman. Noted as current in the northeast of England by Chris Lewis, The Dictionary of Playground Slang, 2003 UK, 1998 split beaver; spread beaver noun the vagina displayed with lips parted. A familiar cliché of pornography US, 1969 split C-note noun a fifty-dollar note US, 1954 splith noun marijuana prepared and smoked in the fashion of a cigarette. A jocular variation of SPLIFF US, 2000 split knish noun the vagina. A conventional 'knish' is a baked or fried turnover of Russian Jewish origins; 'split' describes the nature of the vagina and exposes the savoury filling US, 1998 split-tail noun a female US, 1950 split-whisker noun a woman AUSTRALIA, 1945

splivins noun amphetamines US, 1970

splo noun inexpensive, low quality whisky US, 1974

splonk noun in horse race betting, the favourite UK, 1967

splooge noun semen US, 1989

splooge verb to ejaculate US, 1989

splusher noun a drunk UK, 2000

splow noun palms slapped in greeting US, 1976 splurge verb to spend money extravagantly; to recklessly use an expensive resource US, 1934

SP man noun a starting price bookmaker AUSTRALIA, 1932

Spock noun used as a term of address for anyone who is coming across as intellectual or superior. From the intellectual and superior character on Star Trek US, 1978

spock verb to examine something or someone US, 1991 spod noun a student whose devotion to study excludes all other interests or society, hence an unpopular student; someone who is considered too studious; someone obsessed with computers UK, 1998

spoddy adjective obsessively studious and unstylish UK, 2001 spodioidi noun 1 a mixture of cheap port and whisky. Used (and drunk) by jazz-lovers and musicians CANADA, 1959. 2 wine US, 1975

spoggie; spoggy noun (chiefly in south Australia) the common house sparrow, passer domesticus AUSTRALIA, 1975 spoiled water noun any non-alcoholic beverage US, 1962 spoiler noun a team that has no chance of winning a championship but which takes pride if not pleasure in defeating teams that are vying for a championship US, 1962 spokadocious; spankadocious adjective attractive; fashionable BAHAMAS, 1982 spoke adjective spoken. Especially of language, in the construction 'as she is spoke' UK, 1937 spoon verb to tell a lie UK, 1999 spondonicles; spondonicals; spongs noun a pair of metal tongs for lifting a hot cooking utensil off a fire AUSTRALIA, 2003 spondooli noun money. Variation of SPONDULICS UK, 1997

spondulics; spondulix; sponds; spondos noun money US, 1857 sponge noun 1 a group, notional or real, opposed to the gains of the civil rights movement. The vocalised abbreviation stood for 'Society for the Prevention of Negroes Getting Everything'. The group was more notional than real, but, for example, in 1965 the Student Council of the University of Virginia was petitioned by an organisation calling itself SPONGE for status as an independent organisation eligible to receive Student Council funds US, 1965. 2 a boogie boarder, who rides waves on a small foam board. Used in a disparaging manner by surfers US, 1991 sponge verb 1 to obtain something in a parasitic manner UK, 1673. 2 in horse racing, to insert a sponge into a horse's nostril just before a race, impeding its breathing during the race US, 1951

spongelled adjective drunk UK, 2002

sponger noun a person who obtains things in a parasitic manner UK, 1677 sponge-worthy adjective used of a man, so sexually desirable as to warrant the use of a contraceptive sponge. Coined and popularised on an episode of Jerry Seinfeld's television comedy show ('The Sponge') that first aired on 7th December 1995 US, 1995 spongies noun in the usage of youthful model road racers (slot car racers), smooth, soft tyres US, 1997

spunk noun semen. A variation of SPUNK UK, 2001

spoo noun semen. Variant pronunciation of SPEW (semen), from SPEW/SPOO (to ejaculate) US, 1989

spoo verb to ejaculate. Variant pronunciation of SPEW (to ejaculate), from conventional 'spew' (to vomit), the suggestion therefore is of a copious quantity of semen US, 2005 spoof noun 1 a hoax, a bluff, an act of hoaxing UK, 1889. 2 a parody UK, 1958. 3 semen. Rhymes with 'hoof' AUSTRALIA, 1916 spoof verb 1 to hoax; to fool UK, 1889. 2 to make a parodic version of something UK, 1927. 3 to ejaculate AUSTRALIA, 1992

spoof adjective parodic; fake; bogus UK, 1884

spoofed adjective used of an electronic message, of a suspect origin US, 1997 spoofer noun 1 in carnival usage, a large stuffed dog offered as a game prize US, 1985. 2 a hoaxer; a bluffer UK, 2001

spoofing noun 1 the sending of e-mail that claims to come from one organisation but in fact comes from another. Known more fully as 'IP spoofing' US, 1989. 2 the creation of a false website that looks exactly like a real site. More fully known as 'web spoofing'. The attacker can lure an Internet user to the false site, can see everything that the user is doing, and can modify traffic from the user to any web server US, 2004 spooftube noun a cardboard tube filled with scented cloth that masks the smell of exhaled marijuana smoke US, 2003

spoofy adjective spermy AUSTRALIA, 1998

spoooge noun 1 semen US, 1987. 2 any viscous matter of unknown origin US, 1995. 3 in computing, code or output which cannot be understood US, 1991 spoooge booth noun a private booth in a pornography arcade US, 2001 spook noun 1 a black person. Derogatory and offensive US, 1945. 2 a ghost US, 1801. 3 a spy US, 1942. 4 a drug-addict. From the addict's ghostly pallor UK, 1958. 5 a psychiatrist US, 1961. 6 in casino blackjack, a player who can spot the dealer's down card US, 1991. 7 in drag racing, a car that crosses the starting line too soon US, 1960s spook verb 1 to frighten or startle someone. Also variant 'spook out' US, 1935. 2 to drive a car without a destination, merely for the pleasure of driving and the social aspects of being seen US, 1958. 3 in blackjack, to peek and see the dealer's down card US, 1985

spooked adjective used of playing cards, marked for cheating US, 1963 spooky adjective 1 in surfing, difficult or unpredictable US, 1963. 2 fine, good. West Indian and UK black usage, recorded August 2002 UK, 2002 spool of pipe thread noun used as a mythical task assigned to a newly hired helper US, 1963 spoon noun 1 the amount of a drug needed for a single dose. A measure of heroin, sufficient for a single injection, approximately equal to a standard teaspoon US, 1973. 2 the handle of a hand grenade. From its curved, spoon-like shape US, 1977. 3 an army cook US, 1991. 4 the dip up at the front nose of a surfboard US, 1963. 5 a dolt NEW ZEALAND, 1982 spoon verb 1 to lie behind someone, your face towards their back US, 1887. 2 to tongue a woman's vagina and clitoris US, 1971 spoondoolie noun the penis UK, 2001

spooney noun an effeminate male who may or may not be homosexual US, 1978 sport noun used as a term of address, usually male-to-male. In Australia an everyday usage. In the US, a self-conscious term that conveys a jocular feeling AUSTRALIA, 1935 sport verb to wear something in order to display it UK, 1778 sport fucking noun sex without any pretence of a relationship, although with a competitive edge US, 1986 sporting girl noun a prostitute US, 1938 sporting house noun a brothel US, 1894 sporting lady noun a prostitute US, 1972 sporting life noun 1 the business and lifestyle of prostitution and pimping US, 1973. 2 a wife. Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 3 cocaine. From Porgy and Bess, in which the character Sportin' Life sells cocaine. Retro and rare. The shortened form is 'sporting' US, 1978 sportsman noun a pimp. In the mid-C19, the term referred to a gambler. By mid-C20 it was a somewhat grandiose euphemism for 'pimp' US, 1967 sportsman's paradise noun a bar favoured by pimps US, 1978 sporty adjective excellent BERMUDA, 1985

s'pose; 'spose verb suppose UK, 1852 spot noun 1 a difficult or dangerous position. Usually in phrases: 'in a spot' and 'in a bit of a spot' UK, 1936. 2 a venue, especially a place of entertainment UK, 1936. 3 an apartment or house US, 2001. 4 a place in a programme of entertainment, or an item of entertainment performed in such a programme US, 2001. 5 a large party, a convention or other event that is a promising source for swindle victims US, 1977. 6 of food, a portion or meal that should not be described as extravagant; of abstracts like work, rest and pleasure, a small amount UK, 1932. 7 a small measure of drink UK, 1885.

8 money US, 1947. 9 a one-hundred-pound note; the sum of £100. After the introduction of decimal currency in 1966, used for $100 AUSTRALIA, 1945. 10 a prison term, often prefixed with a numeral that denotes the number of years US, 1901. 11 any of the large suit symbols printed on the face of a playing card US, 1967. 12 in a deck of playing cards, an ace US, 1988. 13 in poolroom betting, a handicap given in a bet-upon game US, 1967. ► put someone to the spot to kill someone who has been lured to a rendezvous US, 1948 spot verb 1 to recognise, discover or detect someone or something. Colloquial US, 1848. 2 to rain in a few scattered drops. Originally dialect; 'spotting with rain' is a constant and current feature of UK weather reports UK, 1849. 3 in trucking, to park a truck US, 1946 spot card noun in a deck of playing cards, any card other than an ace or face card US, 1967 spot on adverb absolutely accurate, exact; precisely UK, 1920 spot play noun in horse racing, an approach to betting in which the bettor only bets in situations where the odds seem advantageous US, 1975 spots noun 1 dice UK, 2000. 2 in circus usage, leopards US, 1981 spotted dick adjective ill. Rhyming slang for 'sick', formed on a great British pudding UK, 1992 spotter noun 1 a spy hired by an employer to observe and report on employees' activities US, 1876. 2 a criminal who finds or identifies a likely victim for robbery UK, 1937. 3 a look out in a drug-selling operation US, 1990. 4 a trainspotter, a planespotter, a bus-spotter or a similar type of hobbyist. Spotter's Guides have been published by Mayflower Books of New York since 1979 US, 2003

spotters noun the eyes US, 1945

spotters and skimmers noun childlike, scratchy handwriting BARBADOS, 1992 spotting it a method of consuming cannabis resin: pieces of hash, cut to the approximate size of matchheads, are picked up on the end of a lit cigarette; once the drug is burning the smoke given off is inhaled by means of a hollow tube, such as the empty body of a ballpoint pen UK, 2000 spotty dog; spotty noun a foreigner. Rhyming slang for WOG UK, 1979 spout noun ► up the spout 1 in trouble; close to ruin; bankrupt. From the earlier sense (to pawn) UK, 1829. 2 of a bullet, in the rifle barrel and ready to fire. Often as 'one up the spout' UK, 1931. 3 pregnant. From the earlier sense (ruined) UK, 1937 spout verb to speak. A broadening of conventional sense (1750s), 'to declaim' UK, 1964 spraddle verb to step awkwardly around something or someone. A blend of 'sprawl' and 'straddle' BARBADOS, 1965 sprag noun 1 in school, an informer, a tell-tale. Commented on by the Plain English Campaign in October 2003 UK, 2003. 2 chiefly in Queensland, the common house sparrow, passer domesticus AUSTRALIA, 1981 spranksious adjective energetic, playful BARBADOS, 1965 sprassey; spraser; sprazey; sprowsie; sprouse noun sixpence or 6d; a coin of that value. Many variations, ultimately from Sheila sprazi. Inflation has rendered the conversion from 6d to 2½p meaningless UK, 1931 sprounce verb to lie; to tell a trivial lie UK, 1998 sprauncy adjective ostentatious, showy UK, 1980 spray noun an aerosol used when inhaling solvents UK, 1996 spray verb 1 to ejaculate semen onto a sexual partner UK, 2001. 2 to fart US, 2002 spray and pray verb in a military engagement, to shoot wildly then run US, 2003 spread noun 1 an assortment of food laid out on a table or served at a social event UK, 1822. 2 in sports betting, the margin of victory incorporated into a bet US, 1973. 3 a photograph of a naked woman exposing her genitals US, 1969. 4 in pool, the first shot of the game US, 1990 spread verb to share information or cards while engaging in a cheating scheme US, 1968. ► spread a game to start a card game US, 1977. ► spread for someone of a woman, to dispose herself for sex with someone UK, 1978. ► spread the eagle to escape from prison or jail US, 1950. ► spread your shot to speak honestly and directly US, 1976 spread-bet noun a type of gamble against predicted odds US, 1992 spread-betting noun a form of gambling against a bookmaker's predicted result (see citation) US, 2001 spread-eagle verb to spread and stretch out a person's arms and legs UK, 1826 spreadhead noun a devoted follower of the band Widespread Panic. An evolution of 'deadhead' (a follower of the Grateful Dead) US, 2001 spreading broads noun an act of playing or cheating at cards, especially the manipulating of cards in the three-card trick UK, 1886 spread shot noun a photograph or scene in a pornographic film showing a woman's spread vagina US, 1971 spreck up verb (of a male) to orgasm. A possible pun on 'ejaculate' based on German sprechen (to speak) UK, 2002 spree boy noun a person who loves fun but not work BARBADOS, 1965

sprigs noun sparse facial hair BAHAMAS, 1982 spring verb to escape, or effect someone's escape or release, from prison or detention US, 1904 spring buster noun a hole in a road, jarring to the driver when encountered US, 1962 springbutt noun a person who is eager to please US, 1962 spring chicken noun a youthful, attractive boy as the object of sexual desire of an older homosexual man US, 1979 springer noun 1 any person in the position to get you out of jail, from a bail bondsman to a lawyer to a judge US, 1950. 2 in horse racing, a horse that becomes the betting favourite or nearly the favourite after betting opens on a race UK, 1948 springy noun a wetsuit covering the body, neck and limbs to the elbows and knees AUSTRALIA, 1992 springy thingy noun in drag racing, a car with a light structure and thus maximum flexibility US, 1965 sprinkle verb to urinate UK, 1992 spritz verb to squirt, especially a mist US, 1917 spritzer noun a fuel injector US, 1992 sprog noun 1 a baby, a child. From obsolete 'sprag' (a lively young fellow) UK, 1706. 2 a recruit. Royal Air Force originally, then Royal Navy, now police. Probably derives from obsolete 'sprag' (1706) 'a lively young fellow' but etymological theories abound: a reversal of 'frog spawn' – because it's so very green; a confusion of 'cog and sprocket' – a metaphor with the recruit just a cog (a sprocket) in a wheel; a distortion of 'sprout'; it has also been claimed that a 'sprog' is 'a young gannet' UK, 1941. 3 semen AUSTRALIA, 1992 sprog verb to parent a child UK, 2000 sproggied adjective pregnant NEW ZEALAND, 1984

sprogie adjective stylish; fashionable BAHAMAS, 1982

spronce verb to show off, especially by your choice of clothes UK, 1991 sproncy; spraunty; spraucy adjective showily dressed; fashionable; showy UK, 1957 spruik verb to declaim; to hold forth; to make a speech like a showman. Exact origin unknown, but no doubt related to the Germanic, such as Dutch spreken (to speak) or Yiddish shpruch (a saying, a charm) AUSTRALIA, 1902 spruiker noun a speaker employed to attract a crowd to a venue, show or demonstration of a product; a barker AUSTRALIA, 1902 sprung adjective addicted US, 1992 sprung on adjective infatuated with US, 1995

SP shop noun an establishment operating starting price bookmaking AUSTRALIA, 1948 spud noun 1 a potato NEW ZEALAND, 1845. 2 a trainee UK, 2001. 3 a SCUD missile. An obvious rhyme that belittles the enemy's weaponry US, 1993 spud and onion gang noun a group of wharf workers who load or unload produce AUSTRALIA, 1995 spud-bashing noun potato peeling; hence, kitchen fatigues. Military, combining SPUD (a potato) with the suffix -BASHING (vigorous compulsory activity) UK, 1940 spud cocky noun a potato farmer AUSTRALIA, 1950

spudge verb to poke a fire's logs, making the fire blaze up CANADA, 1984 spud juice noun a potent homemade alcoholic beverage produced by fermenting potatoes US, 1977 spun noun in the television and film industries, a light diffuser made with synthetic materials. Originally an abbreviation of 'spun glass', the term was retained when the material changed US, 1990 spun adjective 1 crazy, disoriented US, 1997. 2 very drug-intoxicated US, 1997. 3 excited, enthusiastic US, 1984 spunk noun 1 mettle, courage. A word forever associated in the US with actress Mary Tyler Moore; in the initial episode of The Mary Tyler Moore Show in 1970, Moore's boss Lou Grant assesses her – 'You've got spunk. I hate spunk!' UK, 1774. 2 semen UK, 1888. 3 a very attractive person AUSTRALIA, 1978 spunk verb 1 (of a male) to ejaculate. Also used in the variants 'spunk off' and 'spunk up' AUSTRALIA, 1974. 2 to spend or waste money or time. From 'spunk' (to ejaculate semen), punning on 'spend' UK, 2000

spunk bin noun the vagina UK, 2001 spunkbubble noun 1 used between men as a term of abuse UK, 1984. 2 a sexually attractive person AUSTRALIA, 1992

spunk dust noun used between men as a term of abuse UK, 1984 spunker noun used by adolescent girls as a derisive term for any boy of similar maturity. Demonstrates a very basic grasp of biology: only males produce SPUNK (semen) UK, 1997 spunkette noun a sexually attractive young woman AUSTRALIA, 1994

spunkiness noun good looks AUSTRALIA, 1981

spunkrat noun a sexually attractive person AUSTRALIA, 1987

spunky noun a sexually attractive person AUSTRALIA, 1967 spunky adjective 1 brave; spirited; plucky. From SPUNK (courage) UK, 1786. 2 sexually attractive AUSTRALIA, 1973

spun out adjective crazy UK, 2000 sputnik noun a mixture of marijuana from Pakistan and opium; marijuana. From 'sputnik' (the Russian satellites, first launched in 1957), hence its use here as something else to take you out of this world UK, 1998 squab noun a young girl or woman. From the standard sense (a newly hatched or very young bird) US, 1948 squab verb to fight US, 1986 squab job noun a sexually attractive girl below the legal age of consent US, 1964 squack noun a woman; sex with a woman US, 1972 squack verb to ejaculate US, 1993 squad noun a police car. Known conventionally as a 'squad car' US, 1965

Squad noun ► the Squad the Flying Squad (a unit of the Metropolitan Police, known as the Flying Squad since 1921) UK, 1996 squaddie; squaddy noun a soldier, usually ranked private. From a new recruit's placement in a squad UK, 1933 square noun 1 a person with a conventional job and lifestyle; an old-fashioned person US, 1944. 2 a heterosexual AUSTRALIA, 1960. 3 a filling meal US, 1882. 4 a factory-manufactured cigarette US, 1958. 5 a one-dollar note US, 1993. ► on the square 1 honest, truthful, trustworthy. Possibly from Masonic symbolism and jargon UK, 1872. 2 in a faithful monogamous relationship with someone AUSTRALIA, 1944.

3 being a freemason. From symbolism that is employed in freemasonry UK, 1984 square verb to satisfactorily settle matters or resolve a problem, generally by the use of power and influence, bribery or threat. From 'square' (to balance the books) UK, 1853. ► square it away to settle matters AUSTRALIA, 1985 square adjective 1 old fashioned; decent and honest; conventional US, 1946. 2 heterosexual AUSTRALIA, 1944. 3 in cricket, used to describe fielding positions along an imaginary line extending to the left and right of the batsman's wicket UK, 1851. ► live square to conduct your life as an honest citizen AUSTRALIA, 1975 square as a bear adjective extremely conventional. The bear appears for the rhyming value, nothing else US, 1957 square away verb to put in order, to tidy away; hence, to learn UK, 1909 square-bashing noun military parade drill. From the 'parade square' UK, 1943 square bitch noun any woman who is not a prostitute US, 1972 square box noun in court, a witness box UK, 1996 squared adjective craving drugs US, 1958 square dancing ticket noun a dose of LSD on a square of blotting paper UK, 2003 square-eyed adjective applied contemptuously to someone who watches 'too much' television UK, 1984 square from Delaware noun an exceptionally naive, conventional person. Delaware exists for the rhyme; it is no more or less square than any other state. In the 1930s and 40s, there was a cottage industry in inventing terms along the line of this construction – a 'clown from Allenton', a 'pester from Chester' and so on. The 'square from Delaware' was one of the few that truly worked itself into speech US, 1938 square grouper noun a brick of compressed marijuana. The name of a notional fish, alluding to the presence of marijuana smugglers in south Florida waters US, 1989 squarehead noun 1 a German, especially a German soldier in World Wars 1 and 2. A derogatory term that has lingered, perhaps, through films retelling how we won the war US, 1999. 2 any Scandinavian. Left from the language of the logging camps of the early C20 US, 1975. 3 in Quebec, an anglophone US, 1978. 4 a non-criminal AUSTRALIA, 1890 square Jane noun an exceptionally conventional woman US, 1986 square John noun a decent and law-abiding, if naive, person US, 1934 square joint noun a tobacco cigarette US, 1971 square mackerel noun marijuana. From the shape of packages smuggled by sea US, 1998 square monicker noun a person's legal, given name US, 1959 square name noun a person's legal name, sometimes unknown to his associates who know him only by a nickname US, 1955 square-off noun something that puts matters right; an apology AUSTRALIA, 1941 square off verb to settle matters; to make everything right AUSTRALIA, 1950 square pair noun in craps, an eight rolled with a pair of fours US, 1985 squarer noun in circus and carnival usage, a claims adjuster and mender of legal problems US, 1987 square rigger noun a black person. Rhyming slang for NIGGER. Offensive UK, 1992 square Sam noun an exceedingly honest, upright, conventional person US, 1953 square shooter noun a truthful, direct, honourable person US, 1914 square time bob noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 square up verb to return to the path of righteousness after a sojourn in sin US, 1968 square weed noun tobacco US, 1959 square-wheeled adjective parked. Citizens' band radio slang UK, 1987 square wife noun in law enforcement, a wife in the literal sense of the word, as opposed to the sense of work partner US, 1988 square woman noun a woman who is not a prostitute US, 1967 squarie noun 1 especially in nautical parlance, a young woman AUSTRALIA, 1917. 2 a non-criminal AUSTRALIA, 1950 squash noun 1 a kiss. Circus and carnival usage US, 1981. 2 the skull or brain US, 1985 squash it! forget it! US, 1993 squash rot noun the medical condition suffered by severe stroke victims US, 1983 squat noun 1 nothing. A shortened form of BOODLY-SQUAT. Often found in double negative constructions US, 1967. 2 an act of defecation NEW ZEALAND, 2002. 3 a seat; a chair US, 1973

squat verb 1 to execute someone by electrocution in the electric chair US, 1950. 2 to assemble to discuss and mediate disagreements among prisoners US, 1976

squat team noun in prison (especially HMP Holloway), a unit of prison officers trained to discover drugs and other contraband UK, 1996 squatter noun a chair US, 1945

squat through verb to lower your stance to a squat to maintain control of your surfboard while a wave is cresting over you US, 1965 squatum noun in Newfoundland, homemade berry wine CANADA, 1964 squawk noun a complaint, especially a vociferous and indignant one US, 1909 squawk verb 1 to complain US, 1970. 2 (of an aircraft) to transmit an identification and location signal. Used among air-traffic controllers US, 1956 squawk book noun a book in which complaints are registered US, 1955 squawk box noun 1 a low-fidelity public address system US, 1945. 2 a 'Citizens' band radio US, 1976. 3 a child hospital patient who persistently cries or complains US, 1994

squaw money noun a two-dollar note CANADA, 1987

squaw pee noun ginger beer CANADA, 1992

squaw piss noun beer with a low alcohol content US, 1968 squaw winter noun the first snowstorm or cold snap, just before Indian summer CANADA, 2001 squeak noun 1 a police informer US, 1950. 2 a cheapskate US, 1963 squeak verb to complain UK, 2003 squeaker noun a very close score in any athletic contest. Often used with irony to describe a large margin of victory US, 1977 squeal noun in police work, a person who reports a crime; the call reporting the crime UK, 1977 squeal verb 1 to inform on someone; to betray someone US, 1846. 2 from a standstill, to accelerate a car suddenly, squealing the tyres on the road US, 1951

squealer noun 1 a police informer UK, 1865. 2 in trucking, a device that records time and speed data, used by company officials to assure compliance with laws and regulations. Known conventionally as a 'tachograph' US, 1971. 3 a baby, especially an illegitimate one UK, 1865 squealers noun bacon US, 1996

squeegee cop noun in Burnaby, British Columbia, a police undercover officer posing as someone offering to clean windcreens in stopped traffic in order to catch seat-belt violators CANADA, 2002

squeegee man noun a street-corner hawker of car windscreen washing services UK, 2002 squeegee noun a young person who is hopelessly out of touch with current fashions and trends. Youth usage US, 1949 squeeze noun 1 a partner in romance. A shortening of MAIN SQUEEZE (a man's primary romantic partner) US, 1980. 2 a benefit; an advantage UK, 2000. 3 in prison, a prisoner's application or request which is favourably dealt with UK, 1996. 4 a light sentence of imprisonment

UK, 1996. 5 extortion or graft US, 1949. ► put the squeeze on someone to exert influence on someone US, 1941. ► the squeeze permission to enter UK, 1996

squeeze verb 1 to recount or tell something US, 1947. 2 in poker, to surround a player with two confederates whose collusive betting tactics relieve the middle player of his bankroll and drive him from the game US, 1949. 3 while playing cards, to look only at the very edge of a card US, 1967. ► squeeze (her) easy to slow down a truck US, 1976. ► squeeze a lemon; squeeze the lemon to drive through a traffic light as it changes from yellow to red US, 1993. ► squeeze one out to fart; to defecate; of a male, to masturbate UK, 2005. ► squeeze the breeze to close a car window US, 1991. ► squeeze the cheese to fart US, 1993. ► squeeze the lemon to urinate UK, 1984. ► squeeze your head; squeeze to defecate UK, 1984 squeeze box noun 1 an accordion or concertina. Musicians' slang UK, 1936. 2 in greyhound racing, the number five starting position (the yellow box) AUSTRALIA, 1989 squeeze cheese noun a pasteurised processed cheese product, semi-solid, sold in a plastic bottle. A clever name for a vile thing US, 1986 squeeze off verb to fire a shot from a gun US, 1956 squeezers noun dice that have been squeezed out of shape in a vice for use by cheats US, 1950

squeeze up verb to ejaculate UK, 1974 squeezings noun a gel formed with liquid ethanol and saturated calcium acetate solution; when ignited, the alcohol in the gel burns. Used as a source of fuel in portable cooking stoves and as a source of alcohol for truly desperate derelicts who squeeze the gel through sponges and collect the liquid US, 1980

squib noun 1 a coward AUSTRALIA, 1908. 2 in the television and film industries, a small explosive charge that simulates being struck by a bullet US, 1990. 3 in target shooting, a hand-loaded cartridge that does not fully detonate US, 1957. 4 a slow racehorse AUSTRALIA, 1915 squib verb 1 to act the coward AUSTRALIA, 1918. 2 to fire a gun to frighten rather than to wound CANADA, 1999

squid noun 1 a serious, dedicated, diligent student US, 1987. 2 a despicable, spineless person US, 1974. 3 an inexperienced, unskilled motorcyclist. Perhaps from the image of flailing arms US, 2002. 4 a US Navy sailor. From the perspective of the US Marines US, 1991. 5 a fisherman US, 1978. 6 a Japanese person who is lacking in all social skills. Hawaiian youth usage; highly insulting US, 1982. 7 one pound sterling (£1). A play on QUID UK, 1997

squid verb to study hard US, 1981 squidge verb 1 to squeeze; to squelch together so as to make a sucking noise. Originally Isle of Wight dialect UK: ENGLAND, 1881. 2 in tiddlywinks, to shoot a wink with an oversized wink US, 1977

squidgy black noun a variety of marijuana UK, 1996

squidjigger noun in Canada, any resident of the Maritime Provinces CANADA, 1978

squiffed off adjective annoyed; angry US, 1952

squiff out verb to lose consciousness as a result of excessive consumption of alcohol US, 1953 squiffy adjective drunk. Probably from SKEW-WHIFF (at the wrong angle) UK, 1855

squigg noun a prank US, 1988

squiggle noun a tilde (~) on a computer keyboard US, 1991 squiggles noun during the 1991 US war against Iraq, any writing in the Arabic script US, 1991 squiggly noun a sexually attractive woman BERMUDA, 1985

squillionaire noun a multi-millionaire UK, 1978

squinch-eyed adjective with eyes half closed US, 1946 squinchy adjective very small BAHAMAS, 1982

squint noun 1 a look; a glance. Generally phrased 'have a squint at' UK, 1673. 2 in the car sales business, tinted glass US, 1953. 3 a person lacking in social skills, fashion or both US, 1978. ► on the squint on the look-out for something US, 1970 squire noun used as a familiar form of address to a man UK, 1961 squirm seat noun the chair in which witnesses sit in a courtroom US, 1962 squirrel noun 1 a reckless driver who weaves in and out of traffic US, 1962. 2 a drug addict who hides drug portions for future use US, 1957 squirrel verb 1 to smoke cocaine, marijuana and phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust. It makes you nuts; squirrels like nuts UK, 1999. 2 on the railways, to climb up the side of a coach US, 1977 squirrel away verb to hide something; to conceal something for later use; to store something away. Like the squirrel and his nuts UK, 1977 squirrel cage noun in electric line work, a pole-mounted steel bracket used for supporting a conductor US, 1980 squirrel trap noun the vagina UK, 2001 squirrelly adjective 1 completely obsessed with acquiring and hoarding amphetamine US, 1989. 2 in motorcycle racing, difficult to control or out of control US, 1973 squirt noun 1 a person who is small in stature, character or both US, 1848. 2 twenty-five cents or twenty-five dollars US, 1951. 3 in the car sales business, windscreen cleaner US, 1953 squirt verb in pool, to strike the cue ball off centre producing a course in the opposite direction proportional to the degree to which the ball is hit off centre US, 1978. ► squirt it into the air to test an idea by bringing it up before a group and asking for comments US, 1974

squirt brakes noun hydraulic brakes US, 1965 squirter noun a scene in a pornographic film or photograph depicting a man ejaculating US, 1995

squirt racing noun drag racing US, 1993 squishy adjective forgetful. Teen slang US, 1951 squit noun an insignificant person. Probably cognate with SQUIRT UK, 1825 squits; the squits noun diarrhoea. A shortening of SQUITTERS UK, 1841 squitters noun diarrhoea. From obsolete dialect squitter (to squirt) UK, 1664

squiz; squizz noun a brief look; a peek AUSTRALIA, 1913

squiz; squizz verb to have a brief look. From British dialect (Devon) AUSTRALIA, 1941

squulch verb to crush BARBADOS, 1965

Sri Lanka noun a contemptible individual. Rhyming slang for WANKER, apparently inspired by the Sri Lankan cricket team UK, 1998

SRO standing room only; completely sold-out US, 1890

SS noun 1 an injection of drugs into the skin, avoiding a vein. An initialism of 'skin shot' US, 1938. 2 the Department of Social Security (DSS, previously DHSS). An obvious, hard to resist pun on Nazi stormtroopers UK, 1988 ssss... noun an informer. From the hissing sound of a SNAKE (an informer) UK, 1996 ssstoned adjective intoxicated with marijuana. Extends STONED to demonstrate the effects of marijuana UK, 1999 stab noun 1 a short and sudden type of scratch (a manipulation of a record to create a musical effect) UK, 2002. 2 a victim of a knife fight US, 1985. ► have a stab; make a stab at to attempt; to guess US, 1895 stab verb 1 to disparage someone with profanity US, 2001. 2 in pool, to hit the cue ball with enough backspin so that it stops immediately after striking the object ball UK, 1873 stable noun 1 a group of prostitutes working for a single pimp or madam US, 1937. 2 a group of 'slaves' in the control of, or at the disposal of, a dominatrix; a collection of masochists in the control of, a sadist US, 1989. 3 by extension, a group of people working for someone UK, 1942. 4 a house or apartment US, 2000

stable verb (used of a pimp) to induce a prostitute to join other prostitutes working for him US, 1969 stable boy's favourite noun a controlled throw of dice onto a dirt surface US, 1974 stable of lace noun the prostitutes associated with one pimp US, 1976 stable sister noun one prostitute in relation to the other prostitutes in a pimp's stable US, 1972

'stache noun a moustache US, 1989 stack noun 1 in rock music, an assemblage of loudspeakers UK, 1996.

2 in pool, the balls assembled inside the rack before a game US, 1977. 3 in pool, the clustered pack of balls left at the foot of the table after the first shot of the game US, 1990. 4 a package of marijuana cigarettes US, 1955. 5 one thousand dollars US, 2002.

6 money US, 1997. 7 in trucking, a smokestack from the truck engine US, 1971. 8 a large amount of something US, 1870 stack verb 1 to crash a vehicle AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 to earn a lot of money US, 1997. ► stack on a blue to begin a fight AUSTRALIA, 1944. ► stack on a turn to kick up a fuss AUSTRALIA, 1971. ► stack on an act to kick up a fuss AUSTRALIA, 1962

stack away verb to eat or drink heartily AUSTRALIA, 1960 stacked adjective 1 possessing large breasts. Sometimes intensified with phrases such as 'stone to the bone' or rhymed as in 'stacked and packed' (the name of a photographic calendar produced by former Nixon operative G. Gordon Liddy, featuring nearly naked women holding guns) US, 1942. 2 muscular US, 2002. 3 used of prison sentences, consecutive, not concurrent US, 1998. 4 well-provided; wealthy UK, 2001 stackhat noun a crash helmet AUSTRALIA, 1985

stack it verb to brag or boast. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1999 stacks noun 1 a large amount US, 1892. 2 a lot of intimate activity with the opposite sex UK, 1987. 3 in hot rodding, an exhaust system US, 1948 stackup noun a group of waves; a group of surfers on a single wave US, 1977 stack up verb on the railways, to have a collision US, 1977 staff noun ► go to work without a staff (of a female) to masturbate US, 2001. ► meet the staff to have sex. Punning on 'staff' (a long stick/weapon/personnel) as 'penis' US, 2001 stag noun 1 at a social function, a man without a date US, 1905. 2 a male at a stag party. A back-formation from STAG PARTY (a party for men only) UK, 2003. 3 a pornographic film. An elliptical form of STAG MOVIE US, 1966. 4 guard duty. Military UK, 1943. 5 amyl or butyl nitrite. Possibly derived from a brand marketing the drug as a male sex-aid UK, 1998. 6 the butt end of a cigarette US, 2002 stag dinner noun a males-only dinner featuring sexual entertainment in the form of pornographic films, dancers and/or prostitutes US, 1889 stag do; stag night; stag noun a social event for men only. After STAG PARTY UK, 1965 stage verb 1 to single someone out in front of a crowd US, 2004. 2 in drag racing, to bring the front wheels of a car to the starting line preparatory to starting the race US, 1973 stage door Johnny noun a man waiting outside the stage door for an actress US, 1912 stage fright noun a light ale. Rhyming slang UK, 1977 stage mother noun in hospital usage, a mother who coaches their child in answering questions from a doctor and who has a preconceived notion of the diagnosis and appropriate treatment US, 1978 stage name noun a criminal's alias US, 1950 stage stop noun a truck stop. A jocular comparison to the days of stage coaches US, 1976 stag fight noun an amateur, extra-legally staged boxing match US, 1955 stag film noun a pornographic film US, 1967 stag flick noun a pornographic film US, 1966 staged-off pants noun among loggers in British Columbia, trousers cut off short CANADA, 1989 stagger soup noun whisky US, 1977 stagger-through; stagger noun an early and rough attempt at rehearsing an entire piece of work. Theatrical UK, 1964 stag line noun at a dance, a line of men without dates, waiting to dance US, 1934 stag movie noun a pornographic film made for and enjoyed by men US, 1960 stag party noun a party for men only, usually organised to view pornography, tell sexual jokes and/or be entertained by strippers or prostitutes US, 1856 stain noun a contemptible person. Shortened from WANK-STAIN UK, 1997 staining noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle UK, 1951 stair-dancer noun a thief whose speciality is office buildings with multiple floors NEW ZEALAND, 1953 stake noun 1 money needed to finance an enterprise or to contribute as a share to finance an enterprise US, 1738. 2 in gambling circles, money US, 1963 stake verb to provide someone with money or other needed resources US, 1853 staked out adjective tired of a necessary but tedious task BARBADOS, 1992 stake driver noun on the railways, an engineer in the engineering department US, 1946 stakehorse noun in pool, a person who financially backs the wagers of a professional player US, 1990 stake-out noun an act of covert surveillance on a stationary target US, 1942 stake out verb to carry out surveillance of a building or other place. Extends the imagery of a goat tethered to a stake to bait a trap US, 1951 stakey adjective anxious; jumpy; ready to leave US, 1965 stal; stallie noun a stalactite formation and/or stalagmite formation. A cavers' and pot-holers' term UK, 1980

Stalin Hill noun a hill within the punch bowl basin, occupied by North Korean and Chinese troops during the Korean war. Also refers to hills in North Vietnam and Prague (the site of a statue of Stalin from 1955 to 62) US, 1989 stalk noun 1 the penis, especially when in a state of erection UK, 1961. 2 man's obvious sexual appetite; courage; impudence. Extended from the previous sense UK, 1977. 3 a plastic sheath used for medical examination of the rectum IRELAND, 1994 stalks noun the legs US, 1972 stall noun a pickpocket's confederate who distracts the victim UK, 1591 stall verb 1 to make excuses; to play for time UK, 1829. 2 in pool, to intentionally miss a shot or lose a game US, 1967 stallion noun an attractive, sensual woman, especially a tall one US, 1970 stall the ball! stop! IRELAND, 1999 stall the digger! stop! IRELAND, 1997 stall walker noun in horse racing, a nervous jockey who paces before a race. A term originally for a racehorse pacing in the stall US, 1953

Stamford Hill cowboy noun an orthodox Jewish resident in the Stamford Hill/Stoke Newington area of north London. From the wide-brimmed black hat that is conventionally worn and the consequent image created by a group with the sun behind them UK, 2002 stammer and stutter noun butter. Rhyming slang UK, 1937 stamper noun a shoe UK, 1565 stamping ground noun a territory; an area of responsibility UK, 1821 stamp on verb to adulterate an illegal drug UK, 1983

Stan and Ollie noun an umbrella. Rhyming slang for BROLLY, formed on the names of film comedians Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy UK, 1998 stand verb in blackjack, to accept your hand without any further cards US, 1980. ► stand for to endure or tolerate something US, 1896 stand-about noun a idler. A variation of 'layabout', but so literal as to be almost conventional INDIA, 2002 stand-at-ease noun cheese. Rhyming slang, originally military, current during Word War 1 UK, 1979 stand by for a ramming! used as a jocular prediction that trouble is impending US, 1994 stand from under noun thunder. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 stand on it to accelerate a car to full speed US, 1970 stand on me believe me UK, 1933 stand-over noun intimidation. Used attributively AUSTRALIA, 1956 standover verb to intimidate someone with the threat of violence AUSTRALIA, 1939

standover man noun a criminal who uses intimidation; a thug AUSTRALIA, 1939

standover merchant noun a criminal who uses intimidation; a thug AUSTRALIA, 1944 stand-read noun an act of standing and reading magazines, newspapers, etc where they are displayed on a vendor's shelves. A subtle form of theft UK, 1999 stand-to-attention noun a pension. Rhyming slang, originally military, probably from the early part of C20 and used exclusively of a military pension; now in wider use UK, 1961 stand up verb 1 to fail to keep a social appointment or romantic engagement with someone US, 1902. 2 to refuse to co-operate when questioned by the police; to withstand pressure to confess US, 1971 stand-up adjective 1 loyal to the end, devoted and dependable. Perhaps from boxing, where a stand-up fight was one in which the fighters stood up to each without flinching or evasion. The ultimate praise in the world of organised crime US, 1971. 2 solid; pure US, 1973 stand-up adverb describing someone's play in pool, at your true skill level, not below it US, 1993

standy-up adjective used of an on-your-feet position or posture UK, 2002

stang noun prospective goods to be stolen US, 1965

Stang noun a Ford Mustang car US, 1993

stank noun the vagina; sex. Usually said unkindly US, 1980. ► get your stank on (from a female perspective) to have sex. Reclaiming STANK (the vagina) for women UK, 2002

stanky adjective bad-smelling US, 1980

Stanley noun 1 a Pole or Polish-American. Coined in Chicago US, 1982. 2 an industrial knife with a retractable blade, often used as a discreet weapon. Although similar tools are manufactured by many other companies, the Stanley brand provides the generic identity UK, 1997 stanley knife noun a wife. Rhyming slang, formed from a proprietary cutting tool that is a generic for such tools UK, 1998 stanza noun in horse racing, a single race US, 1951 star noun 1 cocaine. Possibly from shortening STARDUST (cocaine) US, 2003. 2 methcathinone UK, 2003. 3 a prisoner serving a first custodial sentence UK, 1996. 4 an asterisk sign (*) on a computer keyboard US, 1991. 5 man; used as a general form of address. West Indian, hence UK black. Also spelt 'starr' JAMAICA, 1995 starch noun semen US, 1967 stardust noun 1 cocaine US, 1967. 2 phencyclidine. Recorded as a 'current PCP alias' US, 1977 starfish noun the anus. A visual pun UK, 2001 starfish trooper noun a male homosexual. An allusion to anal sex based on STARFISH (the anus), playing on the popular science fiction image of a starship trooper NEW ZEALAND, 2002 starfucker noun anyone who seeks to provide free sexual services to the famous; hence, an ingratiating hanger-on of anyone with celebrity status UK, 1970 star gazer noun 1 on the railways, a brakeman who has misread oncoming signals US, 1975. 2 in horse racing, a horse that holds its head too high UK, 1948 star grade noun in the US military, the rank of general US, 1982 stark bollock naked adjective absolutely naked. An amended spelling of earlier 'stark ballock naked', 1922 UK, 1984 stark bollocky; stark bollocky naked; stark bollocky adjective totally naked AUSTRALIA, 1972

starkers adjective totally naked NEW ZEALAND, 1923

stark mother naked adjective totally naked AUSTRALIA, 1967

stark staring bonkers adjective utterly mad UK, 2001 starlight hotel noun sleeping in the open air at night NEW ZEALAND, 1998 stars noun LSD. From the design printed on the dose UK, 1998

Starship Enterprise noun a marijuana cigarette. In the cult television series Star Trek (1966–69) and sequels, the Starship Enterprise is a means 'to boldly go' exploring space – simply a ROCKET for the next generation UK, 2001

Starsky and Hutch; starsky noun the crotch. Rhyming slang, formed from a US television police-action-adventure series, 1976–81 UK, 1998 star's nap verb to borrow something, especially money. Rhyming slang for TAP UK, 1961 star-spangled powder noun cocaine UK, 1998 start verb 1 to start your menstrual period US, 2001. 2 to act as if you want a fight IRELAND, 1998 starter noun a gambler hired by a casino to gamble and thereby create interest in a game US, 1977 starter cap noun a condom. To stop anything starting US, 1996 starters noun any lubricant used to facilitate anal sex UK, 2002. ► for starters to begin with UK, 1969 starting juice noun pressurised ether in a spray can, used to spray in the carburettor to help start a car that is not inclined to start US, 1992

startler noun in typography, an exclamation mark (!) UK, 2003 star up verb (used of a young prisoner, on turning 21) to be transferred to an adult prison UK, 1996

starver noun a saveloy AUSTRALIA, 1941 starve the crows! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1918 starve the lizards! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1927 starve the mice! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1962 starving Armenians noun used as an example when parents urge children to finish their dinner. There are endless variations on the theme US, 1979 starving days noun the first few, unproductive days of a project. A logger term that survived the end of mass logging US, 1975

stash noun 1 a hidden supply of drugs, usually marijuana; the hiding place itself US, 1942. 2 in the illegal production of alcohol, a cache of alcohol US, 1974. 3 ill-gotten or illicit goods kept in a hidden store UK, 1914. 4 a person's hiding place US, 1927. 5 a room, apartment or house US, 1946 stash verb 1 to hide something, especially drugs US, 1914. 2 (used of a prostitute) to retain some of your earnings and not turn them over to your pimp US, 1989

stash apartment noun an apartment where drugs are hidden US, 1992

stash catcher noun an employee of a drug dealer whose job it is to retrieve supplies of drugs that are jettisoned in the event of a police raid US, 1992

stash pad noun the room, apartment or house where someone hides their drugs UK, 1983 stat noun 1 a statistic. Usually used in the plural US, 1961. 2 a statutory tenant UK, 1963. 3 methcathinone US, 2003 statch adjective statutory US, 1994 state noun 1 a dirty, ill-kempt or poorly preserved condition UK, 1879. 2 a condition of excitement; agitation; anxiety; a state of drunkenness UK, 1837. 3 a state prison US, 1991

State and Perversion nickname in Chicago, the intersection of State and Division Streets US, 1958 state college noun a state prison US, 1949 state electrician noun the executioner in a state using electrocution in the electric chair for capital punishment US, 1982 stateful adjective in a nervous or excited condition, 'in a state'. Teen slang UK, 2003

State of Maine bankroll noun a bankroll made from a real note folded around paper cut to the shape of currency US, 1975 state-of-the-monte adjective state of the art, using up-to-date technology. Formed with the FULL MONTE (everything) UK, 1999 state-raised adjective said of a prisoner who has spent most of his life incarcerated US, 1992

States noun ► the States in Alaska, all states except Alaska US, 1984 stateside adjective of the US; American US, 1943 state time noun a prison sentence served in a state prison. More serious than time in COUNTY, and within the state jurisdiction as opposed to federal jurisdiction US, 1995 statey noun a state highway trooper US, 1985 static noun harassment; trouble; complications US, 1926 stationery noun free tickets to an athletic or entertainment event UK, 1952 stations of the cross a police tactic in which a person who has been arrested is moved from one precinct to another in rapid succession, making it impossible for him to be located and bailed out by his friends and family US, 1992 stave noun a drinking session IRELAND, 1984 staving drunk adjective very drunk. This phrase has lasted past the time when alcohol came only in barrels (although SWISH still does) CANADA, 1999 stay verb to reside US, 1973. ► stay awake to use amphetamines or methamphetamine continuously. A vague euphemism US, 1989.

► stay loose to remain calm US, 1959 stay and pray verb in poker, to stay in a hand with a large amount of money bet, hoping for a particular card to be drawn to improve your hand US, 1988 stay-awake noun amphetamine sulphate or any other central nervous system stimulant US, 1993 stay-behind adjective left to operate in enemy territory. CIA Director Allen Dulles formed 'Operation Stay Behind' shortly after World War 2, building a wide network of anti-communist guerrillas – including many former Nazis – who would fight behind the lines in the event of a Soviet invasion of Europe US, 1982 stayer noun 1 in poker, a hand that warrants staying in the game but not raising the bet US, 1949. 2 in horse racing, a horse that performs well in longer distance races US, 1976 stay-home sauce noun food or drink made with ingredients believed to instil sexual fidelity or attraction GUYANA, 1992 stay-out noun in prison, a confrontational tactic in which prisoners refuse to return to their cells US, 1976 stay out of the Koolaid! mind your own business! US, 1995 stay put to remain in place, to stay where you are US, 1843 stay up used as a farewell US, 1998 stay-wag noun a station wagon US, 1991

St Cat's noun in Montreal, Rue St Catherine CANADA, 2002

STD grab bag noun a person who has had many sexual partners and is likely, therefore, to be a source of sexually transmitted disease UK, 2003 steady noun a steady boyfriend or girlfriend US, 1897 steady Eddie noun a reliable, dependable, trustworthy person US, 2003

Steak and Kidney noun Sydney. Rhyming slang AUSTRALIA, 1905 steak and kidney pie noun the eye. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 steak drapes noun the vaginal labia. A play on BEEF CURTAINS UK, 1998 steal noun something cheap or made available at a cheaper cost US, 1944 steal verb in poker, to win a hand with an inferior hand either through superior bluffing skills or poor estimation by other players US, 1979. ► steal someone blind to rob someone of everything. An illiterate variation of 'rob someone blind' US, 1976. ► steal the ante in poker, to bet aggressively early in a hand, driving out other players and leaving a pot consisting mostly of the buy-in antes US, 1975. ► steal the show in a public display, to outshine other performers, to gain most applause US, 1928 stealth bomber nickname Stella Artois™ lager. Named after the nickname of the US Air Force's B2 Spirit, which is used here to imply invisible strength and a great power to inflict damage UK, 2002 steam noun 1 alcohol AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 hashish CANADA, 2002. 3 in sports betting, a flurry of betting on one side of a bet US, 1991. ► not give the steam off your turds; not give the steam of your piss expresses an absolute refusal to give or be generous. The predominate style is 'off', rather than 'of'. The term employed for appropriate bodily excretions may be as varied as the user's vocabulary: 'steam off your shit' is a familiar example UK, 2000 steam verb in gambling, to bet increasingly larger amounts of money in a losing effort to recoup recurring losses US, 1985 steam and cream; steam job noun during the Vietnam war, a bath and sex with a prostitute US, 1969 steamboat noun a cardboard tube or box with a hole for a marijuana cigarette and a hole for inhaling, used to trap the smoke US, 1967 steamboats adjective 1 foolish, silly. Probably derives as rhyming slang from Steamboat Willie, the 1928 animated film that introduced Mickey Mouse UK, 2000. 2 drunk UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 steame noun a steamed hot dog CANADA, 2001 steamer noun 1 a member of a youth gang taking part in a steaming attack UK, 1987. 2 in horse racing, a horse that attracts heavy betting on the morning of a race, at a time before the odds being offered by bookmakers are reduced UK, 1991. 3 an act of oral sex performed on a man UK, 2003. 4 a homosexual man, especially one who seeks passive partners. Ultimately from STEAM TUG (a MUG) UK, 1958. 5 a prostitute's client UK, 2002. 6 a gambler who increases the size of his bets after losing US, 1968. 7 a drinking session UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 8 a full wetsuit covering the torso, legs and arms AUSTRALIA, 1985 steam in verb to engage in an activity, especially fighting, with absolute commitment UK, 1961 steaming noun youth gang activity involving robbing and escaping en masse UK, 1987 steaming adjective 1 used as an intensifier UK, 1962. 2 drunk UK, 2002 steaming demon noun any large American car UK, 1981 steam packet noun a jacket. Rhyming slang UK, 1857 steampigged adjective drunk UK, 2002 steam-powered adjective obsolete US, 1991 steamroller noun 1 a thick hand-rolled cigarette NEW ZEALAND, 1953. 2 a bowler hat. Rhyming slang. Glossed as: 'A dying piece simply because the headwear of the typical city gent is a thing of the past' by Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992 UK, 1992 steam tug; steamer noun a fool; a victim. Rhyming slang for MUG UK, 1932 steeazick noun a marijuana cigarette US, 1947 steel noun a pistol. A variation of the more common 'iron' US, 1993.

► off the steel not engaged in railway work US, 1977 steel and concrete cure noun the sudden and complete deprivation of drugs to a jailed drug addict, who suffers intensely US, 1950 steel beach noun the deck of an aircraft carrier or other warship when used for recreational purposes US, 1982 steel door noun a hospital-admitting physician who admits only the sickest patients US, 1994

steelie noun a ball bearing used in a game of marbles US, 1978

steelies noun steel-toed boots, especially those made by Doc Marten US, 2000 steel pot noun the US military standard-issue M-1 helmet. Vietnam war usage US, 1968 steely noun 1 a steel guitar UK, 1967. 2 in trucking, a brake made with a magnesium-steel brake shoe in a steel drum US, 1971 steen noun an imaginary large number US, 1900 steep adjective 1 excessively expensive; over-priced US, 1856. 2 sought by the police; wanted US, 1995

steer noun ► all a steer can do is try said to justify, humbly, an attempt to do the seemingly impossible CANADA, 1987

steer verb in confidence swindles, to direct the confederate(s) who will swindle the victim US, 1889 steerage noun economy class on a commercial airliner US, 2002 steerer noun a person who directs potential customers to an illegal enterprise US, 1989 steerman noun 1 a member of a swindling enterprise who identifies potential victims and directs them into the swindle US, 1993. 2 in tandem surfing, the person towards the rear of the surfboard US, 1957

steeze noun a person's image or style US, 2003

Steffi Graf; Steffi noun 1 a laugh. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the German tennis champion (b.1969) UK, 1998. 2 a bath. Rhyming slang, based on the name of the German tennis player Steffi Graf (b.1969) UK, 1998. 3 half an ounce, especially of drugs. Rhyming slang UK, 2003

steggies noun steroids UK, 2002

Steinie noun a bottle of Steinlager™ beer NEW ZEALAND, 1998

stella blue noun a variety of marijuana. Possibly named after a 1973 song by the Grateful Dead: 'It seems like all this life / Was just a dream / Stella Blue / Stella Blue' US, 1995 stellar adjective very good. A conventional adjective rendered slangy through attitude, pronunciation and application to objects such as hamburgers US, 1986

Stella the Steno noun used as a personification of the stereotypical female office worker US, 1946 stem noun 1 a main street or boulevard, especially one frequented by tramps, prostitutes, pimps, and their ilk US, 1914. 2 the dominant culture in a society. An abbreviation of 'system' US, 1995. 3 the penis US, 1972. 4 a railway track US, 1946. 5 a laboratory pipette used to smoke crack cocaine US, 1992. ► on the stem performing or inclined to perform oral sex on a man US, 1976. ► up against the stem addicted to smoking marijuana. From 'stem' (the non-smokeable part of the marijuana plant) UK, 1998 stem verb to beg on the street US, 1958

stemmer noun a beggar US, 1962 stems noun 1 the legs UK, 1860. 2 marijuana. An example of BAD meaning 'good'; the non-smokeable part of the plant is here adopted as a name for the good UK, 2003

stencil noun molasses, water and ground ginger, to go on porridge or as a drink in the field CANADA, 1988

stencil trench noun the vagina UK, 1997

stencil noun a thin and long marijuana cigarette US, 1980 stenked adjective drunk UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

steno noun a stenographer US, 1906 stenographer noun in a deck of playing cards, a queen US, 1988

step verb ► step on to dilute a powdered drug US, 1971. ► step on the gas; step on it to hurry, to accelerate; often used as an imperative. Originally applied just to motor vehicles; the 'it' is the accelerator pedal US, 1920. ► step on your dick to commit a self-damaging act US, 1980. ► step on your meat to engage in self-defeating conduct US, 1981. ► step up to the plate to rise to a challenge. From the image of a batter in baseball coming up to bat US, 1919

Stephenson's rocket noun a pocket. Rhyming slang, formed from the early locomotive UK, 1998

Stepin Fetchit noun an black person who curries favour with whites through obsequious behaviour. After the stage name of Lincoln Theodore Monroe Perry (1902–85), a black actor known for his film portrayal of stereotypical black minstrel characters US, 1940

step off verb to go away US, 1993 stepper noun 1 a prostitute; a promiscuous woman US, 1953. 2 a gunman JAMAICA, 2000. ► up the steps; up the stairs on trial. The accused goes up the steps/stairs from the cells into the court UK, 1931

step to verb to get into a fight US, 1995

step up verb to start a fight US, 2001 stern-wheeler noun the passive participant in anal sex US, 1979

Steve Canyon noun any fighter pilot. Vietnam war usage, alluding to the name of a comic strip popular in the US in the 1950s and 60s US, 1968

Steve McQueen's noun jeans. Rhyming slang UK, 2002

Stevie Wonder noun thunder. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the US singer and musician (b.1950) UK, 1998 stew noun 1 an awkward position; an agitated condition UK, 1806. 2 a state of alcohol intoxication US, 1965. 3 a drunkard US, 1950. 4 nitroglycerin used to blow open a safe US, 1949. 5 an airline flight attendant. A shortened form of 'stewardess' US, 1969 stew verb ► stew in your own juice to endure the consequences of your actions UK, 1885 stewards'; steward's noun an informal investigation of any situation. Reduced from 'stewards' inquiry' (an authorised investigation by the officials who control horse racing) UK, 1999

Stewart Granger noun danger. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the British film actor UK, 1992 stew bum; stewbum noun an alcoholic derelict US, 1902 stewed adjective drunk. Another drunk synonym, first recorded by Benjamin Franklin US, 1737 stewed prune noun a tune. Rhyming slang UK, 1979

stewie noun an alcoholic US, 1945

St. Gapour noun in Quebec, the alcoholic mixed drink best known as a Singapore Sling CANADA, 1992

stick noun 1 ability in pool US, 1970. 2 a cigarette. Indian English INDIA, 1979. 3 marijuana UK, 2003. 4 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust UK, 2001. 5 a truncheon; a riot baton. In police and prison-service use; narrowing but continuing the sense as 'cudgel', which has been in recorded use since 1377 US, 1929. 6 a burglar's pry-bar UK, 1879. 7 a clarinet. A shortened form of LIQUORICE STICK US, 1946. 8 a handgun. Recorded in use August 2002 UK, 1781. 9 a surfboard US, 1964. 10 a skateboard US, 1984. 11 in horse racing, the whip used by jockeys US, 1976. 12 a pool player US, 1990. 13 the game of pool US, 1966. 14 a set of rules for a game of pool US, 1990. 15 criticism, especially harsh criticism. A softening of the sense 'to beat with a stick' UK, 1942. 16 violent punishment; a severe reprimand. Originally 'the stick' (a beating with a stick) UK, 1856. 17 harsh or extreme demands made of a motor engine. Usually as 'give it (some) stick'; derives from the sense of the 'cane', as 'punishment' UK, 1978. 18 a manually operated car transmission. A shortened form of 'stick shift' US, 1960. 19 in drag and motor racing, tyre traction US, 1980. 20 a prisoner's personal influence or power US, 1992. 21 a person of a type described UK, 1784. 22 a fighter pilot US, 1986. 23 a prostitute US, 1972. 24 one thousand dollars. Probably an evolution of YARD US, 1978. 25 in circus or carnival, a person playing a game or concession with the house's money in an attempt to attract other patrons to play US, 1980 ► see: BELLY-STICK. ► give it stick; give it some stick to enjoy something noisily, and to the utmost UK, 1984. ► give stick; give some stick to energetically criticise someone; to inflict physical damage on something or someone UK, 2000. ► had the stick to be ruined or irreparably broken; to be finished AUSTRALIA, 1953. ► up the stick pregnant AUSTRALIA, 1941 stick verb 1 to stab someone with a knife US, 1975. 2 to inject a drug US, 1992. 3 to punch or hit someone US, 2003. 4 (from the male perspective) to have sex US, 1972. 5 to tolerate or endure someone or something UK, 1899. 6 to burden someone UK, 1851. ► stick a hit in snowboarding, to achieve impressive height when jumping US, 1995. ► stick beef (used of a male) to have sex BAHAMAS, 1982. ► stick fat to remain loyal. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1997. ► stick in promise land for to threaten someone with a prison sentence. Prison use UK, 1959. ► stick it up to treat someone unfairly AUSTRALIA, 1974. ► stick like shit to a blanket to adhere tenaciously UK, 1956. ► stick one on someone to hit someone UK, 1960. ► stick to your knitting to limit your efforts to doing what you know how to do; in the business world, to avoid the temptation to diversify beyond your company's expertise US, 1991. ► stick with to persevere with something; to endure; to remain faithful to someone or something UK, 1882. ► stick your neck out to take a risk US, 1926

stick ► stick your bib in to interfere; to meddle AUSTRALIA, 1952

stickability noun perseverance US, 1888 stick and stone; stick noun a bone. Rhyming slang, generally plural UK, 1992 stick book noun a pornographic book or magazine AUSTRALIA, 1967 stick bun noun a son. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sticker noun 1 a knife UK, 1896. 2 a warrant or bill of detainer US, 1976. 3 a prisoner who is remanded in custody pending a court appearance UK, 1977 stick for verb to charge too much for something UK, 1961 stick hall noun a pool room US, 1958 stick horse noun in horse racing, a horse that runs best with some encouragement from the jockey and whip US, 1976

stickie nickname a member of the 'official' IRA and Sinn Féin IRELAND, 1972

stick Indian noun a backwoods Indian CANADA, 1956 sticking out adjective good; fashionable UK, 1983 stick-in-the-mud noun someone who resists change UK, 1733 stick it up your arse!; stick it in your ear!; stick it up your jumper! expressions of contemptuous rejection US, 1960 stick mag noun a pornographic magazine AUSTRALIA, 1992

stickman noun 1 a pickpocket, shoplifter or other petty criminal's accomplice who is passed the stolen goods, and also impedes any pursuit. West Indian slang UK, 1861. 2 a marijuana smoker US, 1966. 3 a sexually active heterosexual male who prides himself on his skill and prowess UK, 1975 stick me with a fork – I'm done! used for expressing submission in the face of a challenge US, 2000 stick of rock noun the penis. Rhyming slang for cock; a visual pun on a long pink sweet that is made to be sucked UK, 1992 stick of tea noun marijuana prepared and smoked in the fashion of a cigarette. Combines STICK (a cigarette) with TEA (marijuana) US, 1940 stick out verb to be conspicuous or obvious. From 'stick out a mile'. Originally in conventional use, colloquial or slang since mid-C19 UK, 1638. ► stick out like dog's balls to be obvious; to stand out prominently AUSTRALIA, 1971 sticks noun 1 the countryside US, 1905. 2 goalposts. Examples include football (soccer) and Australian Rules football AUSTRALIA, 1876. 3 skis; ski poles US, 1963. 4 furniture US, 1956. 5 good quality marijuana UK, 2000 sticks and stones noun the game of pool US, 1990 sticksing noun pickpocketing. West Indian slang UK, 1977 stick sister noun a woman who shares a sexual partner with another woman AUSTRALIA, 1987

stickspin noun a scene in a pornographic film in which a woman changes positions without losing her vaginal grip on the man's penis US, 1995 stick up verb to rob someone at gunpoint; to hold up a place AUSTRALIA, 1843 stick-up adjective engaged in sex TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1974

stickup; stick-up noun 1 an armed hold-up US, 1904. 2 glue used in solvent abuse. A play on the conventional use of glue UK, 1996 stick up for verb to champion or defend someone or something UK, 1837 stick-up merchant noun an armed robber AUSTRALIA, 2001 sticky noun an inquisitive look. Short for STICKYBEAK AUSTRALIA, 1974 sticky adjective 1 of a situation, incident, work, etc, unpleasant, very difficult, dangerous UK, 1915. 2 in trouble BARBADOS, 1965. 3 of a website, successful at attracting repeated or extended visits from Internet users UK, 2003. 4 in volleyball, said of a ball that is briefly, and illegally, held US, 1972 stickybeak; sticky-beak noun 1 an overly inquisitive person AUSTRALIA, 1920. 2 an inquisitive look AUSTRALIA, 1971 stickybeak; sticky-beak verb to pry AUSTRALIA, 1933 sticky book noun a pornographic book or magazine UK, 2000 sticky buns; the stickys noun diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE RUNS UK, 2003 sticky dog noun in cricket, a rain-soaked pitch which the sun is drying UK, 1933 sticky end noun ► come to a sticky end 1 (of a person) to end up in prison, or to die an unpleasant (and unnatural) death; (thus, of an abstract or physical thing) to cease to exist, to be destroyed UK, 1961. 2 to masturbate. A pleasing pun AUSTRALIA, 1984 sticky end of the stick the least desirable part TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987 sticky finger verb to shoplift US, 1970 sticky-fingered adjective inclined to thievery UK, 1890 sticky fingers noun 1 an inclination to steal US, 1939. 2 a shoplifter US, 1982 sticky-icky noun marijuana US, 2002 sticky toffee noun coffee UK, 1979 sticky wicket noun 1 a tricky or uncertain situation. From the game of cricket; the ball bounces unpredictably on a pitch that is drying out UK, 1882. 2 in croquet, a difficult shot US, 1977 stiff noun 1 a corpse US, 1859. 2 an ordinary person; a person who conforms US, 1998. 3 in any endeavour, a disappointing, poor performer US, 1978. 4 a non-player in a gambling establishment US, 1979. 5 a poor tipper US, 1974. 6 a disagreeable person who is likely to try to cheat US, 1882. 7 a tramp; a hobo UK, 1899. 8 in an illegal betting operation, a person who has agreed to pose as the head of the operation to protect the actual head in the event of a police raid and arrest US, 1952. 9 an unskilled pool player US, 1993. 10 in horse racing, a horse that is favoured to win but is not ridden in an effort to win US, 1947. 11 in pool, the cue ball left with no easy shot US, 1993. 12 a worthless cheque US, 1950. 13 in the usage of telephone swindlers, a payment by cheque US, 1959. 14 a clandestine letter; in prison, a letter smuggled into, out of, or between prisons UK, 1900. 15 in blackjack, a card with a value of two, three, four, five or six. Combined with a ten-point card, a card that leaves the player in limbo US, 1975. ► the stiff money or correspondence to the benefit of a prisoner passed to a prison warder by a prisoner's friend or relative US, 1875 stiff verb 1 to cheat someone; to rob someone; to refuse to pay someone US, 1950. 2 to extort from someone UK, 1978. 3 to kill someone UK, 1977. 4 to fail miserably US, 1996. 5 (of a male) to have sex. Used in both the passive and active forms UK, 1977 stiff adjective 1 of alcoholic liquor, potent or undiluted UK, 1813. 2 drunk US, 1737. 3 excellent BERMUDA, 1985. 4 frustrated; out of luck. From earlier sense as 'broke, penniless', 1898 (Australian National Dictionary) AUSTRALIA, 1917 stiff adverb greatly; used to intensify, especially 'bore' and 'scare'. From 'stiff' (dead) hence, here, 'to death'; always after the verb it modifies UK, 1905 stiff! tough luck! AUSTRALIA, 1985

stiff-assed; stiff-arsed adjective used of a person who behaves in a superior manner and doesn't mix with others US, 1937 stiff bikkies! used for expressing a lack of sympathy with a bad turn of events NEW ZEALAND, 1992 stiff cheddar! tough luck! AUSTRALIA, 1979

stiff cheese! tough luck! AUSTRALIA, 1979

stiffen the crows! heavens above! AUSTRALIA, 1932

stiffen the wombats! heavens above! AUSTRALIA, 1962 stiff-eye verb to look at someone without establishing eye contact US, 1964 stiffie noun an erection NEW ZEALAND, 1995

stiff luck noun bad luck AUSTRALIA, 1919

stiff one noun any strong alcoholic drink UK, 1813 stiff shit! tough luck! AUSTRALIA, 1969

stiff-toe gang noun the dead BAHAMAS, 1995

stiff turps noun bad luck AUSTRALIA, 1960 stiff upper lip noun a personal quality characterised as repressed emotion or quiet courage, and regarded as typically British. In early use you would 'carry' or 'keep' a stiff upper lip; later use is mainly jocular or derisory. Although widely considered a stereotypical British characteristic, actually of US origin US, 1815 stiff with adjective closely packed, densely crowded. Hyperbole; originally (from C17) a conventional use of 'stiff' UK, 1907 stiffy noun 1 an erection. Also variants 'stiffie' and 'stiff'. *UK, 1980. 2 in snowboarding, a stiff-legged jumping manoeuvre *US, 1995. 3 an engraved invitation card. Upper-class society use; from the unbending quality of the card and the (stiff) formality of the occasion UK, 1982. 4 a computer disc. From the packaging *SOUTH AFRICA, 1993 stifle verb to silence yourself. A verb popularised by the Archie Bunker character on the television series All in the Family US, 1971 still nickname a Falkland Islander UK, 2002 still game noun a card game held on a regular basis with regular players US, 1977

stillies noun stiletto shoes UK, 2005 stilt person; stilt people noun a celebrity NEW ZEALAND, 2003

stilts noun the legs US, 1945

stim noun an empty bottle with a refundable deposit UK, 1995 stimey noun ten dollars' worth of drugs. From the synonymous DIME BAG; a contraction of 'it's a dimey' US, 2001

stimp noun the leg UK, 2002 stimp cover noun a nylon stocking. Based on STIMP (the leg) UK, 2002

sting noun 1 any crime that achieves its purpose by fraud or deception *US, 1930. 2 a robbery *US, 1940. 3 a short, sharp chord played to make or dissolve a sense of suspense *US, 1973

sting verb 1 to swindle someone; to cheat, to rob someone *UK, 1812. 2 in horse racing, to shock a horse with an electrical device during a race US, 1951. ► sting between the toes (from a male perspective) to have sex *AUSTRALIA, 1971 stinger noun 1 a pinched nerve *US, 1999. 2 the penis US, 1967. 4 a high velocity, hollow-nose, expanding bullet US, 1981. 4 in poker, a sequence of five cards. Known conventionally as a 'straight' US, 1988. 5 a railway brakesman US, 1977. 6 an improvised heating element consisting of exposed wires attached to a small metal plate, used for heating water US, 1989. 7 an illegal vote. Chicago Mayor Richard Daley was given credit for delivering Chicago and the state of Illinois to John Kennedy in the 1960 presidential election through extensive use of 'stingers'. Subsequent research dispelled most of these rumours, but Daley enjoyed the power the stories gave him US, 1982. 8 a radio antenna *US, 1976

stingo noun strong, illegally manufactured whisky US, 1999 stingy brim noun a hat with a thin brim US, 1949 stink noun a commotion; a loud complaint UK, 1812. ► like stink desperately hard, extremely fast, very much, etc UK, 1929 stink verb to be aesthetically or morally offensive US, 1934 stink bomb noun in the used car business, a car that won't sell because of a lingering, nauseating smell US, 1992 stinker noun 1 an offensive or despicable person or thing US, 1911. 2 a corpse that has begun to decompose and, as a result, smell US, 1996. 3 an onion US, 1962. 4 a cigar. So known because of the offensive smell the cigar emits US, 1907. 5 in dominoes, a player who forces the next player to draw by cutting him off US, 1959. 6 a strongly worded letter UK, 1912 stinkeroo noun a complete failure. Coined by Damon Runyon US, 1934 stinker squad noun a police homicide investigative department US, 1981 stink-eye noun a hateful glare. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981 stink-finger noun 1 the insertion of a finger or fingers into a woman's vagina *UK, 1903. 2 the middle finger. From the vaginal odour occasioned by the finger's predominant use in sexual foreplay *UK, 1984 stink-finger verb to insert a finger or fingers into a woman's vagina US, 1992 stinking adjective 1 disgusting, contemptible. In conventional use for centuries, but now considered vulgar *UK, 1961. 2 drunk, very drunk. This sense is recorded earlier than STINKING DRUNK *US, 1887 stinking drunk adjective very drunk. A combination of two adjectives with the same sense UK, 1926 stinkingly adverb excessively UK, 1906 stinking rich; stinking adjective very wealthy. First recorded as 'stinking' in 1940; with 'rich' in 1945 US, 2003 stinking thinking noun the rationalisation of an addiction as 'not that bad' or as something short of an addiction. Used in twelve-step recovery programmes such as Alcoholics Anonymous US, 1998 stinking with money; stinking with it adjective very wealthy. A variation of STINKING RICH UK, 1961

stinko noun alcohol, especially wine AUSTRALIA, 1958

stinko adjective exceedingly drunk US, 1927 stinkoed adjective drunk. A variation of STINKO UK, 1997 stinkout noun a prank in which bad-smelling material is put in a room, making it uninhabitable US, 1967 stink pot noun the vagina US, 1980 stink stiff noun a badly decomposed and smelly corpse US, 1984

stinkum noun any bad-smelling substance US, 1972 stinkweed; stink weed noun marijuana US, 1950 stinky noun 1 a promiscuous woman *BERMUDA, 1985. 2 a female member of the Royal Air Force. In Royal Air Force use, 2002 UK, 2002. ► go stinky to defecate *US, 1979 stinky pinky noun 1 a finger enriched with the aroma of vagina *US, 1993. 2 a party game based on rhymes. An overworked prostitute is a 'sore whore', excretory humour is 'shit wit', etc *US, 1949 stipe noun a stipendiary steward at a racecourse AUSTRALIA, 1902 stir noun 1 a prison or jail. Derives from Romany stariben, steripen thus Welsh gispy star (to be imprisoned), stardo (imprisoned) *UK, 1851. 2 a party NEW ZEALAND, 1998. 3 teasing AUSTRALIA, 1985. ► do stir to serve time in prison *UK, 1994 stir verb 1 to have sex *US, 1973. 2 to tease someone *AUSTRALIA, 1969.

► stir the porridge (of a man) to have sex with a woman whose vagina is newly awash with the semen of her previous partner(s), especially if the final man in the line; to have sex with a woman who is in a sexual relationship with another man. The appearance of mixed ejaculate put the coiner in mind of porridge AUSTRALIA, 1970. ► stir the shit to cause trouble, especially by gossiping or telling tales UK, 1984 stir bug noun a prisoner crazed by years of incarceration US, 1950 stir-crazy adjective deranged by incarceration US, 1908 stir-happy adjective adversely affected by imprisonment UK, 1959

Stirling Moss; stirring Moss noun a thing of little or no value. Rhyming slang for TOSS, formed from the champion racing driver, Stirling Moss (b.1929) UK, 1992 stirrer noun a teaser; a troublemaker AUSTRALIA, 1966 stirrup noun 1 in trucking, any device that provides help for climbing up into the cab US, 1971. 2 on the railways, the lowest step on a freight wagon US, 1946 stir-simple adjective mentally unstable because of incarceration US, 1952 stitch noun a confidence trick, often good-natured rather than criminal UK, 1995 stitch and bitch noun the (Canadian) Officer's Wives Club at an air base CANADA, 1995 stitch queen noun a male homosexual wardrobe assistant US, 1973 stitch that!; stitch this! said at the moment of physical attack with a knife or similar weapon, usually as the climax to a catchphrase threat such as 'Can your wife do first aid? Stitch that!' or 'Are you any good at sewing? Stitch this!' UK, 1992 stitch-up noun an act that unjustly places criminal, financial or moral responsibility on someone else UK, 1984 stitch up verb 1 (of the police) to incriminate someone, especially by planting false evidence UK, 1977. 2 to deliberately take unfair advantage of someone UK, 1970 stitchy noun in circus and carnival usage, a tailor US, 1981 stivver verb to stagger CANADA, 1953

STL adjective said of a hospital patient who is in a persistent vegetative state, who is similar to lettuce. US, 1994

St. Louis noun in circus and carnival usage, second helpings of food. According to Wilmeth, an allusion to the fact that circus engagements in St. Louis played in two sections US, 1981

St Louis blues; St Louis noun 1 shoes. Rhyming slang, formed from 'St Louis Blues', a song by William Christopher Handy, published in 1914, and now a jazz classic UK, 1980. 2 news; the news. Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

St. Louis stop noun a rolling stop at a traffic signal or stop sign US, 1999

St. Martins-le-Grand; St Martin; Martin-le-Grand; martin noun the hand. Rhyming slang UK, 1857

stoat verb (of a bet) to win UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

stoat down verb to rain very heavily. Formed on Scots stot (to bounce) UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

stoated adjective drunk UK, 1999 stoater noun something excellent; a particularly good-looking person, especially a woman UK: SCOTLAND, 1911 stoating adjective excellent. From STOATER (a good thing) UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 stoat-the-baw; stoater noun a paedophile; a child-molester. From Scots for 'bounce-the-ball', possibly an image of a child's head being patted as if bouncing a ball UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 stocious; stotious adjective drunk. Of Anglo-Irish origins UK, 1937 stock noun the prizes in a carnival midway game concession US, 1985. ► throw stock to distribute prizes in a carnival game US, 1966

-stock suffix used in combination with an entertainer's name (or part thereof) to create a name for a musical festival. The second syllable of legendary music festival Woodstock, 1969, is taken to lend quality and scale to a current music event. In August 1992, the group Madness reformed after eight years, and hosted and headlined a weekend-long open-air concert called Madstock in London's Finsbury Park. Officially titled 'Big Beach Boutique', Normstock is, or was, a one-day festival of dance music hosted on Brighton beach by DJ Fatboy Slim, real name: Norman Cook.

When the crowds in attendance proved to be greater than the authorities expected the parallel to Woodstock was drawn UK, 1992 stockbroker's Tudor; stockbroker Tudor noun faux-Tudor architecture UK, 1938 stockholder noun on the railways, any employee who appears to be more concerned about the company than his fellow workers US, 1977 stockings noun female legs US, 1971 stocking stuffer noun 1 in poker, money bet by a player who has withdrawn from the hand US, 1996. 2 cash US, 2003 stocks and bonds a slogan used by prostitutes to advertise bondage services. A punning euphemism UK, 2001 stocks and shares noun stairs. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 stocky noun a habitual user of cocaine. Recorded as 'cokehead' by a Jamaican inmate in a UK prison UK, 2002 stogie noun 1 a cigar US, 1873. 2 an extra-large marijuana cigarette. Derives ultimately from Conestoga, a town in Pennsylvania, and the name given to a horse-drawn freight wagon originating in that region in the C18. Conestoga (the town and the wagon) abbreviated to 'Stogy'; 'Stogy drivers', apparently, smoked a coarse cigar which became known as a 'stogie', and by the late C19 a 'stogie' was a generic cheap or roughly made cigar US, 1980. 3 a cigarette US, 1995 stokaboka adjective extremely enthusiastic US, 1991 stoke verb (from a male perspective) to have sex. Coined for the pun illustrated in the following citation UK, 2001. ► stoke the boiler in a swindle operated by telephone, to telephone a prospective victim US, 1988 stoked adjective 1 excited. A major word of the surf lexicon, it was the title and only word in the lyric of a 1963 Beach Boys song written by Brian Wilson US, 1963. 2 drug-intoxicated US, 1986. 3 drunk US, 1964

Stoke-on-Trent adjective homosexual. Rhyming slang for BENT, formed from the Staffordshire town UK, 1992 stoker noun a wave that excites surfers US, 1977

Stokey noun Stoke Newington, in north London UK: ENGLAND, 1998

Stolly; Stoli; Stoly nickname Stolichnaya™, vodka UK, 1998 stomach noun ► stomach thinks your throat has been cut to be extremely hungry AUSTRALIA, 1950 stomach Steinway noun the accordion US, 1994 stomp verb in computing, to mistakenly overwrite something US, 1991 stomp-down adjective excellent, admirable US, 1968 stomper noun 1 an aggressive, 'mannish' lesbian US, 1967. 2 the foot; a shoe, especially a heavy shoe. Also used in the variant 'stomp' US, 1960 stompie noun a cigarette butt, especially one saved for smoking later SOUTH AFRICA, 1947 stomping noun an attack, especially by kicking UK, 1971 stomp pad noun on a snowboard, the pad between the bindings US, 1993 stomps noun shoes US, 1970 stone noun 1 a diamond or other precious stone SOUTH AFRICA, 1884.

2 an Opel car. Citizens' band radio slang; pun on 'opal' UK, 1981. 3 crack cocaine; a piece of crack cocaine. A recurring rock metaphor UK, 1996. 4 a state of drug intoxication US, 1980. 5 a billiard ball US, 1990. 6 in motorcycle racing, a very slow racer US, 1965. 7 in the usage of youthful model road racers (slot car racers), a slow car US, 1997 stone verb 1 to render a drug user intoxicated, especially of marijuana US, 1952. 2 by extension, to amaze or impress someone US, 1950 stone adverb completely, utterly UK, 1928

Stone Age noun in computing, the years from 1943 until the mid-1950s US, 1991 stonebonker noun in horse racing, a horse sure to win a race.

Popularised by radio race caller Cliff Caller, a fixture in Australia beginning in the mid-1960s AUSTRALIA, 1989 stoned adjective 1 intoxicated on a drug, usually marijuana US, 1952.

2 very drunk US, 1952. 3 exhilarated, unrelated to drugs US, 1971 stoned out adjective in a state of drug intoxication. An elaboration of STONED US, 1952 stoned out of your paypen adjective highly drug-intoxicated UK, 2000 stone ginger adjective absolutely certain. From the name of a horse that won virtually every race it ran NEW ZEALAND, 1936 stonehead noun a regular user of marijuana. A combination of STONED (drug-intoxicated) and HEAD (a user) UK, 2002 stone John noun a jail or prison US, 1962 stone jug noun a gullible fool; an easy dupe. Rhyming slang for 'mug' UK, 1998 stone me! used for registering surprise or exasperation. Execution by stoning was current in biblical times, which lends this innocent expletive a mildly blasphemous feel; the inspiration, however, could just as likely be STONES (testicles). However obscene the original intention, from the mid-1950s its popularity (and innocence) was spread by comedian Tony Hancock (1924–68) and the BBC UK, 1958 stone motherless adjective in horse racing, used for describing a horse running a distant last AUSTRALIA, 1989 stoner noun a regular or habitual user of marijuana; a drug user US, 1988 stoner moment noun a short interval in which a marijuana user succumbs to a mental or physical lack of energy or consistency. After SENIOR MOMENT UK, 2004 stones noun 1 the testicles UK, 1154. 2 courage. From 'stones' as 'testicles' and 'testicles' as 'courage' US, 1990. 3 crack cocaine US, 1994. 4 dominoes US, 1959 stone the crows! verb heavens above! AUSTRALIA, 1927

Stonewall Jackson noun used as a soubriquet for an extremely frugal person. Thomas 'Stonewall' Jackson was a general in the Confederate Army, killed by 'friendly fire' in 1863 US, 1962 stone work noun a jewellery robbery US, 1949 stone adjective of drugs, capable of causing intoxication. From STONED (drug-intoxicated). Also known as 'stone weed' UK, 2003 stone weed noun marijuana. A combination of STONEY (capable of intoxicating) and conventional 'weed' or 'weed' as marijuana UK, 2003 stonker noun 1 anything impressive in its field UK, 1997. 2 the erect penis. A personal specialisation of something impressive UK, 2001

stonker verb 1 to make someone drunk AUSTRALIA, 1947. 2 to bring a halt to someone or something; to thwart, overcome or stop something AUSTRALIA, 1964

stonkered adjective 1 drunk AUSTRALIA, 1918. 2 very tired NEW ZEALAND, 1984 stonking adjective 1 excellent, great; used generally to add positive emphasis to adjectives of size or quality UK, 1980. 2 drunk. After the previous sense UK, 2002 stonk-on noun the erect penis UK, 2003 stony adjective 1 without money. A shortened form of STONY-BROKE UK, 1886. 2 used of a golf ball, extremely close to the hole, such that the making of the putt is a foregone conclusion. From the more conventional but still slangy 'stone dead' US, 1985 stony-broke; stone-broke adjective without money UK, 1886 stony lonesome noun prison US, 1993 stooge noun 1 a performer whose role in an entertainment is as the butt of a leading character's jokes, or straight man or feed US, 1913. 2 a person in a subservient position UK, 1937. 3 a petty criminal who confesses falsely to a crime committed by a more powerful villain and takes the rap for him UK, 1999 stooge verb to act as someone's lackey US, 1939 stookie noun a stiffly formal person; a fool; a stupid person. Extends from STOOKY (a plastercast) UK: SCOTLAND, 1911 stooky noun a plastercast on a broken arm or leg. From 'stucco' (a type of plaster) UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 stool noun a police informer. A shortened version of STOOL PIGEON US, 1906 stool verb to inform on US, 1911 stoolie; stooly noun a police informer. A shortened form of STOOL PIGEON US, 1924 stool magnet noun a person with bad luck US, 1994 stool pigeon noun a police informer US, 1906 stoop adjective used of work, usually agricultural, requiring the worker to bend at the waist to work near the ground US, 1953

stooper noun in horse racing, a bettor who examines discarded tickets on the ground in the hope of finding a winning bet US, 1947

stoosh adjective pretentious JAMAICA, 2003

stooshie; stushie; stushy noun an uproar. Scottish dialect stushie UK: SCOTLAND, 2000 stop noun sufficient marijuana for a single joint or pipe; hence, marijuana SOUTH AFRICA, 1949 stop-and-go noun 1 a traffic signal. Michigan Upper Peninsula Usage US, 2003. 2 the toe. Rhyming slang. Can be shortened to 'stop' UK, 1992 stop and start noun the heart. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 stop-at-a-winner noun in gambling, a conditional bet: an instruction to the bookmaker to halt a series of bets when a winning result is recorded UK, 2001 stop gun noun on the railways, a torpedo placed on the track to warn a train operator of a problem ahead US, 1977 stop it – I like it! used for registering a guilty pleasure, especially as a pretence that a partner's caresses are unwanted US, 1970 stop-over noun a short jail sentence, either empirically or in proportion to the crime involved US, 1962 stopper noun 1 a central nervous system depressant; a barbiturate US, 1977. 2 air or artillery fire used to prevent enemy ground troops from escaping US, 1990 stoppo driver noun a getaway driver UK, 1996 store noun 1 a betting operation US, 1951. 2 any rigged game or attraction in a carnival US, 1985. 3 in a big con swindle, the fake office, poolroom or betting establishment created for the swindle US, 1940. ► your store is open a catchphrase used to advise that your (trouser) fly is undone CANADA, 1968 store-bought adjective factory-manufactured cigarettes, as opposed to hand-rolled US, 1969 store choppers noun false teeth US, 1975 store dice noun inexpensive store-bought dice, not milled to casino-level tolerances US, 1962 store dick noun a department store's private detective US, 1960 stork bite noun a flat pink birthmark or capillary hemangioma US, 1991 storked adjective pregnant US, 1945 storm verb 1 in hot rodding, to perform very well US, 1965. 2 to attend a party to which you are not invited TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1969 storm carpenter noun an untrained, unskilled, incompetent carpenter. The formation of storm-CRAFT is used with other crafts as well, such as 'storm mason' TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1831 storm damage noun applied to a person of limited intelligence UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 stormer noun 1 any excellent thing UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 an excellent performance in a sports match (hurling, soccer, Gaelic football) IRELAND, 1996. 3 a theatrical success UK, 2001. 4 in hot rodding, a fast car US, 1958 storming adjective excellent; exciting UK, 2003

Stormin' Norman nickname 1 US Army General H. Norman Schwarzkopf, commander of the anti-Iraq forces in the Persian Gulf war US, 1991. 2 Norm Van Brocklin (1926–83), quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams during their glory days (1949–57) and then for the Philadelphia Eagles (1958–60) US, 1960 storm-stayed adjective prevented from reaching home by a storm CANADA, 1899 stoush noun a fight; a brawl; fighting. Possibly a variant of Scottish dialect stashe (a commotion, disturbance, quarrel) which was recorded in C19 Aberdeen as 'stash' without the 'ie' suffix. During both World Wars used by servicemen to refer to the war, with a touch of jocular or ironic bravado AUSTRALIA, 1893. ► deal out a stoush to assault with violence AUSTRALIA, 1900 stoush verb to punch, to hit; to struggle, to battle AUSTRALIA, 1893 stove noun a truck or car heater US, 1971

stovebolt noun a Chevrolet or Chevrolet engine US, 1965 stovepipe noun 1 a distended, gaping anus produced by recent anal intercourse US, 1995. 2 a revolver US, 1957. 3 a jet aircraft US, 1956. 4 gossip. From the image of railwaymen gathered around a stove gossiping US, 1977. 5 a three-part bet in an illegal numbers gambling lottery, in which the bettor must correctly guess two of the three digits in the winning number and have the third digit be one of eight bet on US, 1949 stove up adjective injured, ill or exhausted US, 1901 stow verb ► stow your chant to stop talking US, 1964

STP noun a type of synthetic hallucinogen. Probably coined as an abbreviation of 'serotonin triphosphate' and as an allusion to the trademark name of an motor oil additive, and later de-abbreviated to 'serenity, tranquility and peace' US, 1967

St Pete noun in shuffleboard, a disc hidden midway on your opponent's side of the court US, 1967

str8 adjective straight, in all its senses US, 1993 str8 draw noun a move in an on-line game of hold 'em poker, when the player gambles on making a straight with the final card. A variant spelling of a conventional term UK, 2003 strack; strac adjective professional; neat; clean. Military slang US, 1982

Strad noun a Stradivarius violin UK, 1884 straddle noun in poker, an increased bet made without looking at your cards US, 1988

straggler noun in horse racing, a winning bet that is not cashed in immediately after a race but, unlike an out ticket, is cashed in before the end of the day US, 1982 straight noun 1 a conventional person, blind to the values of a counter-culture US, 1967. 2 a factory-made cigarette US, 1951. 3 a house dweller. Used by late-1980s–early 90s counterculture travellers UK, 1999. 4 a heterosexual US, 1941. 5 simple vaginal intercourse US, 1961. 6 unadulterated tobacco UK, 1978. 7 in horse racing, a bet that a horse will win a race US, 1976 straight adjective 1 heterosexual US, 1941. 2 conventional, not part of the counterculture US, 1960. 3 not currently drug-intoxicated; no longer using drugs UK, 1967. 4 under the influence of drugs, or at least not suffering from withdrawal symptoms US, 1946. 5 correct US, 1996. 6 good, pleasing, acceptable US, 1993. 7 of an utterance, outspoken, straightforward UK, 1894. 8 honest, honourable, frank UK, 1864. 9 of alcoholic drinks, undiluted US, 1874. 10 without a 'minus' or 'plus' attached to a grade US, 1968. ► go straight to abandon a criminal lifestyle in favour of honesty UK, 1940 straight! honestly! it's a fact! UK, 1897 straight and narrow; straight noun an honest, conventional or virtuous way of life, especially when temptation is resisted. Always with 'the'; a shortening of 'the straight and narrow path' UK, 1930 straight arrow noun an honest or honourable person. From the proverbial expression, 'straight as an arrow' US, 1969 straight as a monk's cock adjective very honest UK, 1999 straight as a stiff adjective very honest or honourable. An elaboration of STRAIGHT (honest); punning the final posture of a STIFF (a dead body) with the impossibility of the dead being anything other than honest. An interesting comparison with STIFF (to cheat) UK, 2001 straight as a string adjective used of a racehorse, fully exerting itself US, 1976 straight date noun conventional vaginal sex with a prostitute US, 1972 straight-down-the-line adjective very honest; used to describe someone who sticks to the rules. An elaboration of STRAIGHT UK, 2001 straight down the line adverb honestly UK, 1996 straight edge adjective reflecting a philosophy that promotes hardcore rock music, abstinence from drugs and abstinence from promiscuous sex. Probably coined by Ian Mackaye in the self-titled song 'Straight Edge' while Mackaye was the singer of the Washington D.C. band Minor Threat US, 1983 straighten verb 1 to bribe someone US, 1923. 2 to avenge someone. A part of TEDDY BOY culture UK, 1959. 3 to produce drug intoxication in someone US, 1958. ► straighten out a curve to enter a curve driving too fast and leave the road US, 1962 straightener noun a fist fight to settle an argument, to straighten matters out; a fair fight. A TEDDY BOY term UK, 1956 straighten out verb 1 to correct someone; to put someone right UK, 1956. 2 (of a drug addict) to cease drug use UK, 2001. 3 to feel the effects of a drug, relieving any pangs of withdrawal US, 1966. 4 to bring someone up to date US, 1946 straight face noun an facial expression that is hiding amusement or successfully restraining laughter UK, 1897 straight-faced adjective displaying a facial expression devoid of humour UK, 1975 straight flush wannabe noun in poker, a sequenced hand comprised of all red or all black suits, but not a flush. Impressive looking, but worth no more than any non-flush straight US, 1996 straight-goer noun a dependable, honest person AUSTRALIA, 1899 straight-leg noun an infantry soldier, unattached to a mechanised or airborne unit US, 1951 straight moniker noun a person's legal name US, 1966 straight puda noun the complete, whole truth US, 1968 straights noun straight pool or continuous pocket billiards US, 1984 straight shooter noun a glass or metal device used to smoke crack cocaine US, 1995 straight trade noun homosexual sex with a man who considers himself heterosexual US, 1972 straight trick noun vaginal sex between a prostitute and customer US, 1972 straight up adjective 1 used of an alcoholic drink or a drug, undiluted US, 1973. 2 a prison sentence, without reduction for good behaviour or other factors US, 1969. 3 pure, unadulterated US, 1995. 4 used of a person, especially a girl, thin US, 1947 straight up! honestly; used for emphasis UK, 1959 straight up and down adverb entirely US, 1999 straight up the platform adverb absolutely, completely, entirely UK, 1999 straight wire noun the whole truth NEW ZEALAND, 1998 strain verb ► strain at the leash to demonstrate a great eagerness. From the characteristic behaviour of a dog UK, 1910. ► strain the potatoes; strain the spuds; strain your taters to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1965 strange noun a new and unknown sexual partner US, 1967 strange adjective new, fresh, unknown, especially sexually US, 1957. ► don't be strange don't resist; don't hesitate. A polari catchphrase, always in the imperative UK, 1967 strangely weird; strangely noun a beard. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 stranger noun 1 used as a form of address emphasising the fact that the two people have not seen each other for a while US, 1996. 2 in poker, any card added to a hand by draw US, 1988 strangers noun in gin, cards in a hand that do not and cannot form a sequence US, 1965 strange stuff noun a new and different sex-partner US, 1950 strangle verb 1 to turn something off; to deactivate something US, 1963. 2 to prevent a horse from winning a race. Strictly, and originally, by pulling back on the reins so strongly that the horse is almost strangled AUSTRALIA, 1949. ► strangle a darkie to defecate UK, 1985 strap noun 1 a naughty or lascivious girl IRELAND, 2000. 2 a handgun. Recorded in UK prison use, August 2002 US, 1991 strap verb 1 to interrogate someone in a severe manner UK, 1996. 2 to have sex. Also used in the variant 'strap on' US, 1971 strap-hanger noun 1 a passenger on public transport who stands supported by an overhead strap (or other type of grip) UK, 1905. 2 a member of the armed forces, stationed well away from combat, accompanying troops into the field without having a specific role to play US, 1986 strap-on noun a dildo that is harnessed to a person's body UK, 1999 strapped adjective 1 armed, especially with a gun. From STRAP (a handgun) US, 1993. 2 short of money. Also appears as 'cash-strapped'. US, 1857 straps noun suspenders US, 1945 strap up verb to carry a pistol US, 1998

strat noun a cigarette UK, 1996

Strat noun a Fender 'Stratocaster' guitar, first manufactured in 1954 US, 2004 strat verb to deceive someone BARBADOS, 1965

straw noun 1 marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. Playing on GRASS or HAY US, 1971. 2 a hat US, 1976

strawb noun a strawberry AUSTRALIA, 1985

strawberries noun LSD bearing a strawberry design UK, 1998 strawberries and cream noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by the pink and white colours of a pill UK, 2002 strawberry noun 1 a woman who trades sex for crack cocaine US, 1989. 2 the female nipple. Usually in the plural US, 1982. 3 a tablet of mescaline. From the colour of the tablet US, 1971. 4 a bruise or scrape CANADA, 1921 strawberry fields; fields; strawberries noun LSD. Named after the drug-inspired imagery that is the Beatles song 'Strawberry Fields Forever', 1966. Strawberry Fields is an area of Liverpool US, 1986 strawberry jam noun 1 the corpse of a person who has died with massive injuries US, 1987. 2 an unspecified flammable substance US, 1987 strawberry patch noun a brakevan (caboose) seen from the rear at night. From the red lights US, 1946 strawberry ripple noun a cripple. Rhyming slang, from an ice-cream variety UK, 1982 strawberry shortcake noun amphetamine; MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1970 strawberry tablet; strawberry noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. From the pink colour of the tablet UK, 1996 strawberry tart; strawberry noun the heart. Rhyming slang UK, 1984 straw boss noun an assistant foreman US, 1894

strawboss verb to work as an assistant foreman US, 1977 straw hat noun in the car sales business, a convertible top US, 1953

strawny verb to figure something out CANADA, 1999

straws noun strawberries. Greengrocers' abbreviation, both spoken and used in signage UK, 1961 stray noun a solitary enemy soldier. Borrowed from the lexicon of the cowhand, referring to stray cattle US, 1991 streak noun a thin person. Usually qualified (LONG STREAK OF MISERY; LONG STREAK OF PISS); in its unqualified form it is more often used in Australia and New Zealand but not exclusively so AUSTRALIA, 1941. ► put a streak in it to hurry UK, 1968 streak verb 1 to move at great speed UK, 1768. 2 to run naked through a crowd, especially at public events, either as a protest or out of exhibitionism. Adapted from the sense 'to go very fast' US, 1966 streak of misery noun a tall, thin, morose person AUSTRALIA, 1961 streak of pelican shit noun a tall, thin person AUSTRALIA, 1969 streak of piss noun an inconsequential or weak person. Adapted from LONG STREAK OF PISS (a tall, thin person) UK, 2001 streak of rust noun a railway US, 1946 streak of the squeak noun cowardice UK, 2000

streaky weather noun a changing weather situation CANADA, 1990 street noun 1 the essence of modern urban life for the poor, with suggestions of the underworld or the shadows between the underworld and the legitimate mainstream US, 1967. 2 in stud poker, a card. For example, the fifth card dealt is known as 'fifth street' US, 1988. ► on the street not imprisoned; released from prison US, 1935 street adjective 1 experienced in or possessing the necessary qualities for urban survival US, 1980. 2 having an admired-as-fashionable quality of being understood by or of urban youth. Abbreviated from STREETCRED in turn shortened from 'street-credibility', but also informed by STREET (the essence of modern urban life) UK, 2001 street bookie noun a bookmaker who takes bets on the street, without an established place of business US, 1972 street cat noun a man, especially a young black man, who spends his life on the edges of crime US, 1976 street cred noun an admired-as-fashionable quality of being understood by or of urban youth. Abbreviated from 'street-credibility' (late 1970s) UK, 1981 street divorce noun a domestic quarrel that ends in one spouse murdering the other US, 2001 street doctor noun a drug dealer US, 1998 streeter noun a person who spends his time fraternising and carousing on the street US, 1968 street-legal adjective used of a motor vehicle, in compliance with all motor vehicle laws US, 1993 street machine noun a car made for street driving US, 1970 street name noun a nickname by which you are known by acquaintances US, 1983 street person; street people noun a person living, or spending most of their time, on the street. A semi-voluntary, semi-political state that preceded 'homelessness' as a label US, 1968 streets ahead adjective absolutely superior UK, 1898 streets behind adjective greatly inferior. The natural opposite of STREETS AHEAD UK, 1984 streets better adjective greatly superior. A variation of STREETS AHEAD UK, 1917 street-smart adjective familiar with the human condition as played out in an urban setting US, 1976 street smarts noun an intuitive understanding of human nature as played out in urban reality US, 1990 street squirrel noun a person who rides a moped or small motorcycle with an attitude and style befitting a large motorcycle US, 1992 street sweeper noun a taxi driver who solicits customers on the street US, 2004 streetsy adjective of a manner of speech or vocabulary, having a contemporary urban quality US, 1997 street tax noun in an illegal drug-selling enterprise, the share of an individual's earnings paid to his gang US, 1997 streetwalker noun 1 a prostitute who seeks customers on the street UK, 1592. 2 in oil drilling, an operator who does not have an office US, 1954 street-wise adjective experienced in or possessing the necessary qualities for urban survival US, 1981

-strel suffix when combined with a music style, a singer in that style. From 'minstrel'. 'Teen angstrel' (a teen singer affecting angst) and 'popstrel' are noted by Susie Dent, The Language Report, 2003 UK, 2003 strength noun the essential facts; the pertinent details AUSTRALIA, 1908. ► on the strength used to signify agreement, import or sincerity US, 1995 stress-head noun a person who is habitually stressed; a constant worrier AUSTRALIA, 1996

stretch noun 1 a prison sentence; one year's imprisonment. A prison sentence of a number of years is given with the number of years preceding 'stretch' US, 1821. 2 a longer-than-normal limousine with extended seating. From 'stretch limousine' US, 1982. 3 the penis UK, 2001. 4 in poker, a hand consisting of a sequence of five cards. Known conventionally as a 'straight' US, 1988. ► to do a stretch to shoplift NEW ZEALAND, 1985 stretch verb 1 to serve time in prison. From STRETCH (a prison sentence) US, 2002. 2 to put someone to death by hanging US, 1962 stretched out adjective in trucking, travelling fast US, 1971 stretcher noun 1 a lie UK, 1674. 2 a substance added to a drug for the simple purpose of diluting it for increased profit when sold US, 1970 stretcher-case noun a person who is exhausted UK, 2002

stretchers noun shoe laces US, 1962 stretches noun years; a very long time. From STRETCH (a year's imprisonment) UK, 2000

strewth!; struth! used as an oath. A shortening of 'God's truth!' UK, 1892 strides noun 1 trousers. Being the tailored articles in which you 'stride' UK, 1889. 2 trousers that are reserved for messy jobs, especially in car customising US, 1960 strike! used as an expression of shock, surprise or astonishment. Short for STRIKE ME BLIND! or STRIKE A LIGHT! AUSTRALIA, 1915 strike a light! used as an expression of shock, surprise or astonishment AUSTRALIA, 1922 strike me! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1874 strike me blind!; strike me dumb!; strike me lucky! used for registering shock, surprise or astonishment. Other variations include calls on God to strike the speaker 'bountiful', 'vulgar', 'ugly' or 'pink'. The earliest variation recorded is 'strike me dumb' in Vanbrugh's The Relapse, 1696 and 'strike me blind!' appears in 1704; 'strike me lucky!' from 1849, was a popular catchphrase in Australia in the 1930s. Other Australian examples are listed below UK, 1971 strike me dead; strike me noun bread. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 strike me dead! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1932 strike me fat! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1895 strike me handsome! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1955 strike me pink! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1892 strike me purple! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1915 strike me roan! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1917 strike me up a gum-tree! used for expressing great surprise AUSTRALIA, 1960 strike-out noun a hospital patient who has died or lapsed into a neurologically depressed state US, 1977

Strike U nickname the US Naval Strike Warfare Center, Fallon, Nevada US, 1991

strillers; strill; strills noun a musical instrument, especially a piano; a musician. Polari; possibly from Italian strillare (to shriek).

Thus, for a pianist: 'strill homey' or 'strillers omee' (a piano man), or 'strill polone' (a piano woman) UK, 1967

Strine noun broad Australian English, specifically that form of Australian English which appeared in the books of Alastair Morrison. 'Strine' is supposedly how the word 'Australian' is said in the Australian accent. It is not a separate language or dialect, but rather a jocular celebration of the Australian accent utilising respelling, shifting word boundaries and much elision to give the impression that other words are being spoken, e.g. sly drool is Strine for 'slide rule', Emma Chisit for 'how much is it?', laze and gem for 'ladies and gentlemen', let stalk Strine for 'let's talk Australian' AUSTRALIA, 1964 string noun 1 being hoaxed; being kept under control UK, 1958. 2 the group of prostitutes working for a particular pimp US, 1913 string verb to manipulate a wire into a slot machine to trigger the free-play mechanism US, 1985 string bean noun a tall, thin person UK, 2003 string beans; strings noun jeans. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 stringer noun 1 in poker, an instalment bet or the person making it US, 1988. 2 in poker, a hand of five cards in sequence. Conventionally known as a 'straight' US, 1967. 3 a railway brakeman US, 1977. 4 a narrow strip of laminated wood on a surfboard US, 1979 stringie noun a string bag AUSTRALIA, 1968 strings noun 1 the female legs US, 1963. 2 spaghetti US, 1956 string up verb to execute someone by hanging UK, 1964 string vest noun a pest, a nuisance. Rhyming slang UK, 1988 strip noun 1 in a striptease show, the portion of the show in which the dancer removes her last garments US, 1945. 2 a neighbourhood BAHAMAS, 1982. 3 a thoroughfare in a town or city lined with bars, nightclubs, off-licences and restaurants US, 1939. 4 a Benzedrine™-soaked strip of paper from an inhaler, removed from the inhaler and ingested as a central nervous system stimulant US, 1957. ► the Strip 1 the portion of Sunset Boulevard between Crescent Heights Boulevard and Doheny Drive, Los Angeles, California US, 1951. 2 Las Vegas Boulevard south of central Las Vegas, Nevada, lined with neon-signed hotels and casinos US, 1971. 3 a section of Yonge Street, between Dundas and Bloor, in central Toronto, Ontario. A flashy, noisy part of town US, 1987 stripe noun 1 a scar, usually the result of a razor slash. Hence the adjective 'striped' UK, 1958. 2 in the military, a promotion US, 1968 stripe verb to slash someone with a blade. Descriptive of the scar that is made UK, 1958 stripe me! used as a register of surprise or exasperation UK, 1997 striper noun in prison, an improvised cutting weapon UK, 1996 stripes noun 1 a referee in an athletic contest US, 1997. 2 in pool, the striped balls numbered 9 to 15 US, 1984. 3 in circus usage, tigers US, 1981 stripes and solids noun in pool, the game of eight-ball US, 1974 stripping noun a severe reprimand. From STRIP (to slash with a blade) UK, 2000 stripper noun 1 a striptease dancer (usually female), a performer who undresses creatively for the purpose of entertainment. Gypsy Rose Lee (Rose Louise Hovick, 1914–70) was, perhaps, the most famous of all strippers; in Gypsy, the musical biography (1962) by Stephen Sondheim, she discovers the word 'ecdyasiast' to give her job description a veneer of respectability US, 1981. 2 a pickpocket US, 1950. 3 a car thief who targets newer cars that will be stripped for parts US, 1962. 4 a playing card that has been altered in a manner that facilitates its extraction from a full deck US, 1962 stripping hole; stripping pit noun a strip mine US, 1997 strippy noun in prison, a strip search UK, 1996 strips noun in prison, a segregation unit UK, 1996 stroke noun 1 an underhand, immoral or illegal trick UK, 1970. 2 praise or flattery. Almost always in the plural US, 1964. 3 appetite IRELAND, 2000 stroke verb 1 to flatter someone US, 1979. 2 to masturbate. Also 'stroke off' US, 1986. ► stroke it 1 in car racing, to drive with care and caution US, 1965. 2 to perform badly on purpose US, 1989. ► stroke the lizard (of a male) to masturbate US, 1971 stroke book noun a magazine or book viewed while masturbating US, 1967 stroke mag noun a pornographic magazine. The 'stroke' thus inspired is a direct reference to masturbatory technique UK, 1995 stroke-me-off noun used as a humorous nickname for stroganoff, as in 'beef stroganoff' US, 1985 stroker noun 1 a petty thief IRELAND, 1996. 2 a hospital patient who has suffered a stroke US, 1961 stroll noun ► the stroll the collective activities on a street, mostly illegal, some involving sauntering as if innocently strolling US, 1946. ► The Stroll Seventh Avenue, New York US, 1946 stroller noun 1 a car US, 1960. 2 a stone on the surface of the field CANADA, 1987 stroll on! used for registering disbelief or surprise UK, 1959 strong noun alcohol TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1989. ► the strong of the essential facts; the pertinent details AUSTRALIA, 1908 strong verb ► strong it to behave in an aggressive manner, or to take things to an extreme. A variation of COME ON STRONG UK, 1964 strong adjective 1 of a theatrical performance, very sexual US, 1962. 2 well-funded at the moment. Teen slang US, 1958. 3 flush with money US, 1954. ► be going strong to be prosperous, or enjoying continuing success, or full of energy and vigour UK, 1898. ► come it strong to behave with boldness; to overstate something UK, 1837. ► come on strong to behave aggressively or exhibit aggressive behaviour; to have a success US, 1970. ► go strong on to support or follow a particular course with great energy or investment UK, 1844 strongarm noun 1 a crime involving brute physical violence; a violent criminal US, 1901. 2 a person who lends physicality and a capacity for brutal physical force to the moment. Also called 'strongarm man' US, 1907 strong-arm verb to rob a place roughly or violently US, 1903 strong as a Mallee bull adjective physically strong AUSTRALIA, 1990 strong-back adjective sexually aggressive; virile TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 strong box noun a prison cell, usually windowless; designed for disruptive prisoners UK, 1996 strong like moose adjective used humorously with a literal meaning. A catchphrase of US television in the 1950s and 60s, first from the Uncle Tenoose character on The Danny Thomas Show and then from Boris Bandanov of the Rocky and Bullwinkle Show; spoken with a thick Russian accent US, 1968 strong move to the hole noun a direct approach to seducing a girl. Application of a basketball term to sexual relations, punning on HOLE as 'the basket' in the basketball term and 'the vagina' in this usage US, 1992 stronk noun male and female sexual secretions. Recorded in the song 'The Ballad of Kirriemuir' in Martin Page's collection of World War 2 songs and balads, 'For Gawsake Don't Take Me', 1976 UK: SCOTLAND, 1976 strop noun 1 a display of bad temper. From STROPPI (bad-tempered), ultimately from 'obstreperous' UK, 1970. 2 male masturbation. From the conventional action. Also variant 'stropping' UK, 1992 strop verb ► strop the Mulligan (of a male) to masturbate. Also variant 'stropping' AUSTRALIA, 1971 stropi adjective 1 bad-tempered. Conventional 'obstreperous' wrongly abbreviated and understood UK, 1951. 2 stubborn, defiant NEW ZEALAND, 1984 struck noun a girl's steady boyfriend US, 1963 struck; struck by; struck with adjective charmed, attracted to or delighted by someone or something. From an older sense as 'bewitched' UK, 1839 structural engineering noun a well-constructed foundation garment, or garments; also applied to the uplifting effect that a well-designed and well-fitted brassiere can have on a woman's shape AUSTRALIA, 1984 structure noun the human body JAMAICA, 2000 struddle verb to fool with something you shouldn't. The word is from the German strudeln (boil, spout, proceed rashly) CANADA, 1999 strudel noun the 'at' sign (@) on a computer keyboard US, 1991 struggle verb 1 to dance US, 1960. 2 to experience a hangover US, 2001 struggle and strain noun a train UK, 1931 struggle and strain verb to train; to exercise. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 struggle and strainer; struggle noun a trainer (shoe). Rhyming slang, extended from STRUGGLE AND STRAIN (to train) UK, 1992 struggle-and-strife; struggle noun 1 a wife. Rhyming slang UK, 1959. 2 life; a life. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 struggle-buggy noun a broken-down car US, 1946 struggling adjective worn out; neglected US, 2000 strum verb to masturbate. Also variant 'strum off'. From the up and down stroking action that is strumming a guitar UK, 1999. ► strum heads to fight US, 1990. ► strum the banjo (of a woman) to masturbate. A surreal elaboration of STRUM (to masturbate) UK, 2001

strummed up adjective stimulated by drugs US, 1972 strung out adjective 1 addicted to a drug; in a poor state of physical and mental health as a result of drug addiction. Used as a participial adjective US, 1958. 2 obsessed with or overly concerned about an activity or condition; emotionally disturbed US, 1973. 3 extended UK, 2001. 4 in love; infatuated US, 1968

strunt verb to sulk CANADA, 1990 strychnine noun in craps, the point and number nine US, 1950 stub verb to kick, particularly a ball, especially in rugby UK, 1947 stubbie; stubby noun a small, squat beer bottle, now 385 ml; the contents of a stubbie. From the noun use of 'stubby' (short and squat) AUSTRALIA, 1966 stubbie guts noun a game in which frisbees are used to knock over stubbies AUSTRALIA, 1993 stubbie holder noun an insulating container for keeping a stubbie of beer cool whilst being held AUSTRALIA, 1981 stubble jumper noun a prairie farmer CANADA, 1961 stub down verb in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, to move to better seats at a concert using ticket stubs for the better sections smuggled up by friends US, 1994

stube noun a tavern US, 1950 stuck adjective Of a player in a game of poker or other gambling game, losing US, 1974. ► get stuck in to initiate or become vigorously involved in an activity AUSTRALIA, 1941. ► get stuck into to attack a task or a person vigorously AUSTRALIA, 1941 stuck on adjective infatuated by, or enamoured of, someone US, 1886 stuck-up adjective conceited; pretentious UK, 1829 stud noun 1 a man, especially a manly man UK, 1895. 2 used as a jocular term of address to a man US, 1999. 3 in homosexual usage, a person who plays the 'masculine' role sexually and emotionally in a relationship US, 1961. 4 amyl or butyl nitrite. Possibly derived from a brand marketed as a male sex-aid UK, 1998. 5 loose tobacco US, 2002 stud broad noun a lesbian US, 1968 stud duck noun in oil drilling, an important company official US, 1954 student noun an inexperienced drug user US, 1952 student tobacco noun marijuana. From a perception that those undergoing higher and further education are drug users UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 stud hustler noun a male homosexual prostitute who projects a tough, masculine image US, 1963

Studie noun a Studebaker car US, 1950 studio-fuel noun cocaine. Probably coined by cocaine-fuelled musicians UK, 2003 studly adjective 1 describes a man who is considered to be above average in his sexual adventuring US, 1999. 2 admirable US, 1966. 3 unpleasant; unpopular US, 1960

stud muffin noun a handsome, well-built man US, 1992 stud puppy noun an attractive person. A variation of STUD MUFFIN US, 1989 stud up noun in prison, a prisoner who attempts to abandon homosexual activity and return to his previous state of heterosexual celibacy US, 1990 study bunny noun a serious and diligent student US, 1987

stuff noun 1 a drug, especially heroin US, 1929. 2 used for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 1889. 3 anything at all. Used as a euphemism for FUCK in constructions such 'I don't give a stuff about it' NEW ZEALAND, 1969. 4 in prison, anything of value US, 1967. 5 the female genitals US, 1982. 6 a woman as a sexual object US, 1967. 7 the male genitals US, 1966. 8 an effeminate homosexual man US, 1976. 9 in pool, spin imparted on the cue ball to affect the course of the object ball or the cue ball after striking the object ball US, 1993

stuff verb 1 used as an emphatic rejection; and euphemistically for 'fuck' in all senses UK, 1955. 2 to have sex from the male point of view NEW ZEALAND, 1984. 3 to block the pay chute of a casino slot machine with the expectation of returning later, unblocking the chute and retrieving the interim earnings US, 1999. 4 to persuade someone to buy something that they did not know they wanted to buy US, 1997. ► stuff your face to overeat; to eat greedily; to eat. An unconventional and over-active digestion would be required if this simple description of the apparent action was as accurate as the imagery US, 1996

stuffed adjective very tired NEW ZEALAND, 2002

stuffed shirt noun a person who is overly formal, aloof, and out of touch US, 1913 stuffer noun 1 a male homosexual who plays the active role in anal sex US, 1949. 2 a parachute rigger US, 1991. 3 in hot rodding, a supercharger US, 1968 stuffy adjective conservative; very conventional; straitlaced. Derives from STUFFED SHIRT UK, 1885 stugots; stugats noun the penis. From southern Italian dialect, adapted/corrupted by Italian-American immigrants US, 1962

stuk; stukkie noun a woman sexually objectified SOUTH AFRICA, 1946

stulper verb to stumble CANADA, 1999

stum noun any central nervous system depressant US, 1980 stumble biscuit noun a tablet of the recreational drug methaqualone, best known as Quaaludes™. From the lack of coordination associated with the drug US, 1993 stumblebum noun a poor and foolish drunk US, 1932

stumbler noun any barbiturate or central nervous system depressant US, 1977 stumbles noun a loss of coordination, especially as the result of drug or alcohol intoxication US, 1971 stumer noun 1 a fool. The spelling 'stumor' is also used UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a forged or bad cheque UK, 1890. 3 a mistake; a blunder; a mess UK, 1983 stump noun 1 the leg. Survives mainly in the phrase 'stir your stumps!' (start doing something; get moving!) UK, 1460. 2 the penis. In a world where size matters, often but not always applied to a short penis US, 1993. 3 a shoe US, 1973 stump verb to challenge or dare someone CANADA, 1959 stump-broke adjective unconditionally obedient. From the quaint notion of a mule trained to step forward and then backwards for sex with a man standing on a stump US, 1967

stumpers noun shoes US, 1971 stump-floater noun heavy rain CANADA, 2002

stumphole whiskey noun strong, homemade whisky US, 1971 stump-jumper noun an infantry soldier US, 1991 stump ranch noun in the Canadian west, a poorly run farm CANADA, 1989

stump up; stump verb to pay UK, 1833 stumpy noun a short person. Often used as a term of address US, 1997 stunned adjective drunk US, 1982 stunned mullet noun used as the epitome of one who is dazed, stupid, foolish AUSTRALIA, 1953 stunner noun 1 an exceedingly attractive woman UK, 1848. 2 a person or thing of extraordinary excellence UK, 1855. 3 a pin-up, topless or soft-porn model. Adapted by the tabloid press from the earlier, and continuing use, as 'a good looking woman'. Often combined with 'Page 3', in reference to the Sun newspaper's daily placing of naked female breasts. The spellings 'stunna' and 'stunnah' also exist UK, 1999 stunning adjective 1 excellent; extremely good looking UK, 1847. 2 in computing, incomprehensibly stupid US, 1991 stunt noun in advertising, marketing, etc, an event contrived to attract attention and gain publicity. Still regarded as colloquial by those who keep up our standards UK, 1878 stunt verb to wear expensive clothes and jewellery as a display of conspicuous consumption; to show off US, 2001

stunt cock; stunt dick; stunt noun a male pornography performer who fills in for another performer who is unable to maintain an erection or ejaculate when needed US, 2000 stunt pussy noun a female pornography performer who fills in for another performer for the purposes of genital filming only US, 2000 stunts noun sex US, 1994 stupe; stoop noun a stupid person. Often, not always, used affectionately UK, 1762 stupid adjective 1 used to describe a 'smart' weapon that fails to function properly US, 2003. 2 good. The spelling 'stupid' is also used US, 1989. ► get your stupid on to drink to the point of intoxication US, 2003 stupid adverb extremely US, 1992 stupid badge noun a temporary identification card worn by a worker who has lost or left his identification at home US, 1955 stupid-baker noun a Studebaker car US, 1992 stupidiee noun a stupid or insignificant person TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1959 stupid labour noun public labour CANADA, 1987

stupidness! used for expressing scorn CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985 stupid, stupid used as an expression of utter disapproval. From the cry of 'stupid, stupid rat creatures!' in the Bone comic book US, 1997 surgeon noun a surgeon US, 1994 stutter and stammer; stutter noun a hammer. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 stuvac noun especially in New South Wales, student holidays from school or university. From 'student vacation' AUSTRALIA, 1970 style noun graffiti US, 1997 style verb to conduct or carry yourself in a stylish manner, especially in an exaggerated, showy way US, 1972 stylee noun a style, determined by the cultural category that precedes it. A fashionable elaboration of 'style' UK, 1997 styleie noun a white person with dreadlocks US, 1994

stylin' and profilin' adjective very fashionable US, 1988 stylo milo adjective very fashionable SINGAPORE, 2002 sub noun 1 a submarine UK, 1917. 2 a subscription UK, 1833. 3 in publishing, a sub-editor UK, 1859. 4 a sexual submissive, a willing slave in a sado-masochistic relationship US, 1987. 5 the submissive performer in a pornographic sex scene US, 2000. 6 in prison, a subversive UK, 1996. 7 on an athletic team, a reserve player who may enter the game as a substitute for a starter UK, 1889. 8 a loan. An abbreviation of 'subsistence', with the loan characterised as a 'subsistence advance' AUSTRALIA, 1989. 9 a financial advance, especially when given against wages or salary UK, 1866. 10 a concealed pocket, used by a casino employee to hide stolen chips US, 1980

sub verb 1 to give or receive a financial advance UK, 1874. 2 to serve as a substitute US, 1853

sub adjective mentally sub-normal UK, 1963 subby noun a subcontractor AUSTRALIA, 1978

sub-deb noun a girl in her mid-teens US, 1917 sublime adjective ► from the sublime to the gorbimey; from the sublime to the ridiculous from one extreme to another UK, 1984 submarine noun 1 a marijuana cigarette, especially a large one SOUTH AFRICA, 1946. 2 a surfboard that is too small for the person using it. So named because the person forces the board under water US, 1964. 3 in the used car business, a car that has spent time submerged in water US, 1975. 4 a gambling casino scheme in which a stolen chip is slipped into the thief's trousers US, 1977. 5 an after-hours drinking session in a Rugby club UK, 1984 submarine verb 1 in tiddlywinks, to shoot a wink under another US, 1977. 2 to ride through tall grass AUSTRALIA, 1951 submarine belt noun in motor racing, a safety belt that clips onto the buckle of a lap belt and is attached to the chassis under the driver's seat US, 1980 submarine races noun used as a euphemism for foreplay in a car at a remote spot US, 1967 subway noun in roller derby, contact between skaters who are eligible to score before they reach the back of the pack of blocking skaters, taking them to the floor of the track US, 1999

subway dealer noun in a card game, a dealer who cheats by dealing some cards off the bottom of the deck US, 1962

Subway Sam noun a man who is partial to sex in subway toilets US, 1966

Subway silver noun ► see: MANHATTAN SILVER subway tickets noun in a card game, cards that did not come off the top of the deck because of cheating in the dealing US, 1988 sub-Z nickname a Sub-Zero™ freezer. Collected in Berkeley, California, in 2000 US, 2000 such a bitter experience never again; such a bloody experience never again nickname the former Belgian airline 'Sabena'. Most airlines attract jocular mnemonics of their names US, 2002 such-a-much noun an important or self-important person US, 1968 suck noun 1 an act of oral sex US, 1870. 2 a sycophant US, 1977

suck verb 1 to be useless, unpopular, distasteful, of no worth. When the term came into currency in the US in the 1960s, sexual connotations made it a vulgar, taboo-ridden term. By the mid-1990s, all sense of taboo had vanished in the US except for older speakers for whom the sexual connotation remained inescapable. In UK English, the term, first used as a noun (1913) expressing contempt, never enjoyed the sexual implications found in the US. If anything, there was long an upper-class air to the term thanks in part to the 'Yah boo, sucks to you' catchphrase associated with Billy Bunter, a fat upper-crust schoolboy created by author Frank Richards US, 1965. 2 to perform oral sex US, 1881. 3 to consume alcoholic drinks AUSTRALIA, 1960. 4 in pool, to hit the cue ball with backspin that appears to draw or suck the cue ball backwards after it strikes the object ball US, 1990. ► it sucks to be you used for expressing a trace of commiseration in a situation that might call for a bit more US, 1993. ► suck ass; suck arse to behave subserviently. A variation of KISS ARSE/ASS US, 1956. ► suck butt to curry favour US, 1997. ► suck cock to perform oral sex on a man US, 1941. ► suck diesel to make rapid progress; to move rapidly, especially in a motor vehicle IRELAND, 1997. ► suck face to kiss, especially in a prolonged fashion. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982. ► suck milk to be knocked off your surfboard and then be thrashed by a wave US, 1991. ► suck out loud to be very bad US, 1994. ► suck salt to experience difficulties TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1966. ► suck suds to drink beer US, 1947. ► suck the arse out of a durry to smoke a hand-rolled cigarette to the very end NEW ZEALAND, 1998. ► suck the big one to be terrible US, 1999. ► suck to the bulls to act friendly with police US, 1992. ► suck tubes to smoke marijuana US, 1998. ► suck weight to drink large amounts of liquids in a short period in order to gain weight to qualify for a sporting event US, 2001. ► suck wind to fail; to lose out. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1972. ► suck your flavour; suck your flava to copy your style US, 1993 sucka noun a fool; a dupe. Misspelling of SUCKER (a gullible individual) US, 2000 suck-ass noun a sycophant who curries favour in a self-demeaning fashion US, 1980 suck-ass adjective subservient; sycophantic; obsequious US, 1985 suck back verb to drink something US, 1980 sucked up adjective 1 weak; undeveloped physically US, 2001. 2 angry US, 1989 suckee-suckee noun oral sex performed on a man. From the patois of Vietnamese prostitutes during the war, embraced by soldiers US, 1987 sucker noun 1 a gullible individual US, 1838. 2 a fellow. Neutral but informal US, 1980. 3 someone who is unable to resist a stated temptation or addiction; an enthusiast US, 1957. 4 a thing US, 1987. 5 in caving and pot-holing, a caver who uses another's equipment while the owner is otherwise engaged. Examples of use include 'chair-sucker', 'rope-sucker', 'stove-sucker', etc US, 2004. 6 the buttocks NEW ZEALAND, 1999 sucker verb to deceive or trick someone US, 1939 sucker life noun conventional life, with a conventional job and conventional lifestyle US, 1977 sucker pocket noun the hip pocket, an easy pocket to pick US, 1982 sucker-punch verb to hit someone without warning, especially in the face US, 1947 sucker weed noun faked, adulterated or poor quality marijuana. WEED (marijuana) that can be sold to a SUCKER (someone gullible) US, 1980 sucker wild adjective completely unrestrained and uninhibited US, 1969 suck gas to breath nitrous oxide for pleasure US, late 1960s suck-happy adjective obsessed with oral sex AUSTRALIA, 1975

suckhole noun 1 a sycophant; a flatterer; a toady; an unpleasant person AUSTRALIA, 1943. 2 a hole between private video booths in a pornography arcade or between stalls in a public toilet, designed for anonymous oral sex between men US, 1987

suckhole verb to behave in an ingratiatingly sycophantic manner CANADA, 1961 suck-holer noun a sycophant NEW ZEALAND, 1998

Suckie nickname Sauchiehall Street, Glasgow UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

suckie fuckie verb to perform oral sex on a man followed by sexual intercourse. Vietnam war usage US, 1973 sucking noun an act of oral sex UK, 1869 sucking wind adjective in firefighter usage, said of extremely smoky conditions US, 1954 suck job noun an act of oral sex US, 1969 suck-off noun an act of oral sex US, 1995 suck off verb to perform oral sex on either a man or woman, especially to the point of orgasm UK, 1909

suckout noun in surfing, a wave that is breaking fast in front of itself, creating a tunnel or tube US, 1977 suck out verb 1 to speed past a parked police car, drawing it into a chase US, 1962. 2 in poker, to win in the face of every known convention and probability US, 1996 suck points noun imaginary credits earned by obsequious ingratiation US, 1994 suck-up noun a sycophant US, 2001 suck up verb to seek favour through obsequious behaviour UK, 1860 suck wind! leave me alone! Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981 sucky noun a hollow wave AUSTRALIA, 1985

sucky adjective awful US, 1984 sucky face noun kissing US, 2000

sucrose noun money US, 1951 sudden death noun in sports, games and recreations, as diverse as league football and television quiz shows, a period of extra time during which the first to score or achieve a specified target wins. Originally 'a single toss of the dice' UK, 1834 suds noun 1 beer US, 1904. 2 a large amount of money US, 1945 suds artist noun a habitual beer drinker AUSTRALIA, 1972 sue verb ► sue the ass off someone; sue someone's arse off to take a legal action against somebody in pursuit of punitive damages US, 2002 suede noun a black person US, 1973 suedehead; suede noun a member of a late 1960s youth fashion and gang movement, characterised by a close-cropped scalp and smart utilitarian wear, associated with football hooliganism, racist violence and neo-Nazism. This lexicographic development matches exactly the SKINHEAD fashion's further growth; 'suede' is the velvety surface of leather and thus describes the soft nap on a previously shaven head UK, 1982 sufferation noun hard times TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 sufferin' sheepdi! used for expressing disapproval. A signature line of the Colonel Sherman Potter on *M*A*S*H* (CBS, 1972–83). Repeated with referential humour US, 1983 sug noun used as an affectionate term of address. A shortened form of SUGAR US, 1947 sugar noun 1 used as a term of endearment. A distinct southern ring. Variation include 'sugar-pie', 'sugar-babe', 'sugar-baby', etc US, 1930. 2 diabetes US, 1968. 3 a type of snow suitable for skiing UK, 1968. 4 heroin; powdered heroin adulterated with sugar. From the appearance US, 1977. 5 cocaine. A white powder UK, 1998. 6 sand US, 1977. 7 money US, 1951 ► see: SUGAR LUMP sugar! used an all-purpose euphemism for 'shit', especially as an exclamation. Pronunciation often hesitates over the 'sh' before committing itself to 'shit' or 'sugar', possibly from a combination of 'shit' and BUGGER! RECORDED IN 1901 AS 'I'll be sugared!' UK, 1995 sugar and honey; sugar noun money. Rhyming slang UK, 1859 sugar and spice noun ice, especially as served with a drink. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sugar and spice; sugar adjective nice. Rhyming slang; not especially sarcastic in use UK, 1992 sugarbeeter noun a resident of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan. Michigan Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003 sugar block noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 sugar candy noun brandy. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 sugar candy adjective useful, generally in a negative context. Rhyming slang for 'handy' UK, 1992 sugar cube noun LSD. From the method of ingesting a dose of the drug dripped onto a sugar cube US, 1967 sugar daddy noun an older man who supports or helps support a young lover. With occasional playful variants UK, 1926 sugar dish noun the vagina. A variation of C19 obsolete 'sugar basin' (the vagina) US, 1998 sugar down verb to dilute powder narcotics, especially with powdered milk sugar (lactose) US, 1970 sugarhead noun strong, homemade whisky US, 1999 sugar hill noun a brothel US, 1987 sugaring-off noun in Canadian maple syrup making, the process of boiling the maple sap down to syrup or sugar CANADA, 1995 sugar lips noun a smooth talker AUSTRALIA, 1989 sugar lump; sugar noun LSD. Probably from 'sugar cubes' which are sometimes used as a medium for taking the drug UK, 1973 sugar pimp noun a pimp who controls his prostitutes through charm and attention US, 1972 sugar report noun during war, a letter from home, especially from a girlfriend US, 1991 sugar shack noun a small hut built for boiling down maple sap to make maple syrup CANADA, 1998 sugar stick noun the penis. Rhyming slang for PRICK UK, 1992 sugar tit noun any cherished object or habit US, 1971 sugar up verb to curry favour US, 1964 sugar weed noun marijuana which has been adulterated and bulked-out with sugar water or honey US, 1969 suicide alley noun in shuffleboard, a quarter of the opponent's side of the court US, 1967 suicide axle noun in hot rodding and drag racing, a special axle assembly that allows a lower front end US, 1965 suicide blonde noun a girl or woman who has dyed her hair blonde at home. From the pun: 'dyed by her own hand' US, 1962 suicide box noun in trucking, a sleeper added to a conventional cab. So named because of the danger presented to anyone sleeping in the box should the truck jackknife US, 1971 suicide club noun a mythical group of jockeys who ride in steeplechase races US, 1951 suicide clutch noun a foot-operated clutch on a motorcycle. If your foot slips off when stopped, it engaged the clutch US, 1966 suicide door noun on a car, a door that hinges at the back and opens towards the rear US, 1993 suicide jockey noun 1 the driver of a vehicle hauling dangerous cargo US, 1976. 2 a dangerous driver UK, 1981 suicide king noun in a deck of cards, the king of hearts. It appears that he is plunging a knife into his head US, 1988 suicide season noun the few months leading up to the wet season in Australia's tropical north AUSTRALIA, 1975 suicide seat noun the front, passenger seat in a car US, 1992 suicide stew noun a combination of central nervous system depressants and alcohol US, 1966 suit noun 1 an executive; a person of authority but no creativity. The term usually suggests a them-against-us mentality, with 'them' being the executives who wear suits; pejorative US, 1979. 2 in prison, an official non-uniformed visitor UK, 1996 suitcase noun the rectum US, 1992 suitcase verb to conceal drugs inside a condom or balloon inside a body orifice US, 1987 suitcase farmer noun a farmer who also works in the town CANADA, 1959 suitcase pimp; suitcase noun a boyfriend, agent or other male who accompanies a female pornography performer to the set. Not flattering US, 1995 suited and booted adjective well-dressed UK, 1998 suit up verb to place a condom on a penis US, 2000 sulker noun in horse racing, a moody horse US, 1951 sulphate; sulph noun amphetamine sulphate UK, 1996

Sumatran red noun a variety of marijuana UK, 1996 sumbitch; sombitch noun a son of a bitch. A southern corruption US, 1972 summat noun something. A phonetic slovening UK, 1984

Summerland Donkey Cock noun a variety of marijuana from British Columbia CANADA, 2002 summer sausage noun the female partner of a boy in a summer romance at camp CANADA, 1997

SUMO shut up and move on. An acronym from the world of office jargon UK, 2005 sun noun ► the sun shines out of someone's arse said of a person who is considered perfect UK, 2000. ► the sun's drawing her backstays; the sun's got her backstays down lines in the sky coming down from the sun, predicting rain or bad weather CANADA, 1968 sunbathers noun in poker, a pair of queens dealt face-up US, 1988 sunbeam noun a piece of cutlery or crockery that was not used during a meal and thus needs no washing up AUSTRALIA, 1981 sun belt noun the southern states in the US US, 1969 sunburnt adjective used for describing playing cards that have been left in the sun to discolour slightly to aid a cheat in identifying them in another player's hand US, 1988

Sunday noun a surprise blow from the blind side US, 1967

Sunday verb to hit someone from their blind side US, 1993

Sunday best noun 1 your smartest clothes. Such clothes were originally reserved for Sunday wear UK, 1846. 2 a vest. Rhyming slang, with a fine sense of irony UK, 1992

Sunday-go-to-meeting adjective used of clothes, suitable for wearing to church. Intentionally rural US, 1831

Sunday morn noun an erection (of the penis). Rhyming slang for HORN UK, 1992

Sunday popper noun an occasional user of an addictive drug US, 1966

Sunday punch noun a blow from a person's blind side US, 1968

Sunday run noun in circus and carnival usage, a long trip between engagements US, 1981

Sunday school show; Sunday school noun a circus or carnival with no crooked games and no performances with sexual content US, 1980

Sunday science lecture noun any presentation made with a captive audience ANTARCTICA, 1997

Sunday suit noun no clothes at all US, 1976 sundowner noun 1 an itinerant traveller. So-called from their habit of arriving at a country property just on sundown so that they can ask for sustenance without being given any manual labour AUSTRALIA, 1868. 2 a senile patient who is quiet during the day but becomes agitated at dark US, 1983. 3 any alcoholic drink enjoyed at the end of the day. Recorded in India, Singapore, the East Indies and Australia; also in south and east Africa UK, 1938. 4 a VF-111 combat aircraft. The plane was first deployed in 1942 in the Pacific with the mission of shooting down Japanese 'Suns'. Deployed in Korea and Vietnam US, 1990 sun gonna shine noun a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957 sun gun noun in the television and film industries, a portable, intense light US, 1990 sunker noun in Newfoundland, a rock or reef just underwater CANADA, 1962 sun kink noun an expansion of railway track caused by hot weather conditions US, 1975 sunner noun a thief who snatches a chain from the wearer's neck. Recorded by a Jamaican inmate of a UK prison, August 2002 UK, 2002 sunnies noun sunglasses AUSTRALIA, 1981 sunny side up adjective of eggs, fried, with the yolk on top US, 1901 sun parlour noun a brakevan (caboose) cupola US, 1977 sunrise noun a Toyota car. Citizens' band radio slang; plays on SUNSET (a Datsun car); also of Japanese manufacture, and Japan's identity is 'the land of the rising sun' UK, 1981 sunset noun a Datsun car. A weakly derogative play on Sunny, a late-1960s Datsun brand UK, 1981 sunshine noun 1 used as a form of address, often patronising with an underlying note of disapproval or threat UK, 1972. 2 LSD US, 1971

Sunshine Coast noun 1 Vancouver, British Columbia CANADA, 1965. 2 Brisbane, Australia AUSTRALIA, 1999

sunspots noun in computing, the purported reason for an unanticipated error US, 1991 suntans noun a summer-weight tan military uniform US, 1937 sup noun supper US, 1969

s'up? used as a greeting. A very slurred 'what's up?' US, 1981 super noun 1 a superintendent, especially of an apartment building AUSTRALIA, 1857. 2 a supernumerary UK, 1838. 3 high-octane or top-grade petrol UK, 1967. 4 in carnival usage, a handsome watch displayed as a prize US, 1981

super adjective excellent UK, 1895 super- adjective in combination with a person, animal or thing, well above the usual standard of its type. Under the influence of Nietzsche's philosophical concept, expanded by George Bernard Shaw's play Man and Superman, 1903, and made most familiar by Superman, a US comic strip superhero first seen in 1938 UK, 2003 super adverb very. Adds a melodramatic, gushing flavour to the intensification US, 1968 superbissimo adjective excellent; superb. A decorative elaboration of 'superb' formed, loosely, with an Italian suffix UK, 2003 superblush noun in poker, a sequence of cards in a red suit – diamonds or hearts US, 1996 super C noun ketamine hydrochloride, an anaesthetic used as a hallucinogen US, 1994 supercalifragilisticexpialidocious used in various contexts with various meanings by children fascinated with the size of the word. Popularised, but apparently not coined, in the 1964 film Mary Poppins. The term did not appear in the book, and so some credit must be given to Robert B. Sherman, who wrote the lyrics of the song. According to The Straight Dope (6th August 2002), songwriters Barney Young and Gloria Parker brought a copyright infringement suit, claiming that they had written a song with a variant spelling of the term in 1949. In the 1960s, the term replaced 'antidisestablishmentarianism' in US youth 'longest word' contests US, 1964 super chicken noun in trucking, a truck owned by Yellow Freight Systems US, 1976 super citral noun an especially narcotic variety of marijuana UK, 2003 super dope noun marijuana with formaldehyde added US, 1982 superduper; super noun a hydrogen bomb US, 1951 super-duper adjective exceptionally good. Childish, or intentionally evocative of childishness US, 1940 superfly noun 1 a drug dealer. From the film Superfly, 1972 US, 1973. 2 a curly hairstyle popular with black men and women in the mid-1970s US, 1975 superfly adjective extremely fashionable, attractive, and appealing US, 1974 supergrass noun 1 an informer who gives the police substantial amounts of information, or who informs on a major crime or terrorist operation. Bertie Smalls, a notorious or legendary (depending on your point of view) small-time robber turned police informer became, in 1973, the original 'supergrass' UK, 1978. 2 good quality marijuana; phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust; a combination of the two US, 1977 super hopper noun a Citroen car. Citizens' band radio slang UK, 1981 super joint noun phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1982 super Ketama noun a superior grade of hashish from the Ketama region of Morocco UK, 2003 super kools noun phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust. Because the addition of PCP makes Kools™, a brand name cigarette and hence any cigarette, 'superior' US, 1997 superman noun 1 a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by the embossed Superman shield-shaped 'S' motif UK, 2002. 2 a variety of LSD identified by a cartoon graphic of the comic book and film superhero UK, 1996

Super Mario noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by the embossed Super Mario™ motif UK, 2002

Supermax noun the Penitentiary Administrative Maximum facility (the highest security prison in US) US, 1994 super pot noun marijuana which has been soured in alcohol then dried US, 1967

Super Scooper noun a water bomber, with a huge scoop for filling at speed from a lake or waterway, to dump on fires CANADA, 1994 superskunk noun an extremely potent marijuana UK, 1999 superslab noun a major road. Citizens' band radio slang, elaboration of SLAB US, 1976 super-snooper noun a special inspector employed by the former Department of Health & Social Services to uncover fraudulent claims UK, 1983 super-snoopy noun a helicopter with a camera that has the capability to take close-up pictures from a kilometre's distance UK, 1980 superstud noun a man with superior sexual prowess, or one reputed to be so lucky. Enhancement of STUD UK, 1997 supersweet adjective excellent US, 2002

Super T noun Tennants Super™, a super strength lager UK, 1997

super Thai noun an 'everyday' variety of marijuana UK, 2003

superweed noun marijuana, especially if of extra strength UK, 1996 super-yankee noun a multiple bet, gambling on 5 different horses in a specific combination of 26 win stakes or 52 each-way. Also known as a CANADIAN UK, 2001 supes noun a superior; a respectful form of address. Black usage UK, 2000

supon noun cornmeal mush CANADA, 1955

supremo adjective excellent; extreme US, 1979 sure adjective ► be sure and take care, don't fail to do something UK, 1892 sure as Christmas certain UK, 1959 sure as eggs is eggs absolutely certain, without a doubt. Early usage recorded as 'as sure as eggs be eggs' this idiom is now so familiar that even the shortening to 'sure as eggs' is understood UK, 1699

sure as God made little apples; sure as God made little green apples very certain. The earliest form is 'little apples'; the second form appears to derive from the song by Bobby Russell, 'Little Green Apples', 1968, in which it is likely that 'green' is added for the scansion of the lyric UK, 1874 sure as shit and taxes very certain US, 1957 surefire; sure shot adjective certain to succeed or prevail US, 1901

Sure. I knew you could. used as a sarcastic expression of great doubt. A borrowing from the children's television programme Mr Rogers US, 1981 sure off verb in an illegal numbers gambling lottery, to insure numbers that are the object of heavy betting US, 1949 sure pops noun dice that have been heavily weighted and are likely to produce the desired results US, 1950 sure thing certainly. From the conventional sense (a certainty) US, 1896 sure-thing man noun in carnival usage, a confederate who is hired to play and win a game in order to generate business US, 1981 surf verb ► surf the crimson tide to experience the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1995 surface verb 1 to wake up; to get up; to get up and start the business of the day. Probably of Naval origins, from a submarine surfacing UK, 1963. 2 to come out of hiding; to leave a surreptitious existence and become more public US, 1971 surfboard Suzie noun a stereotypical woman who spends time at the beach admiring male surfers US, 1990 surf bum noun a surfing enthusiast who haunts popular beaches UK, 1958 surf bunny noun a woman who spends a great deal of time at the beach, associating with surfers and/or surfing US, 1980 surf dog noun an avid, veteran surfer US, 1991 surfie noun a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1962

surfie chick noun a young woman companion of a surfer AUSTRALIA, 1979

surfing knobs; surfing bumps noun calcium deposits near the knees and feet caused by extended contact with a hard surfboard US, 1964 surf nazi noun a zealous, devoted surfer US, 1988 surf-o adjective obsessed with surfing US, 1991 surf rat noun a beginner surfer US, 1990 surf safari noun a trip in search of good surfing conditions US, 1964

surf's down used for expressing dismay at poor surf conditions US, 1977 surf silks noun silk or nylon swimming trunks worn under a wetsuit US, 1977 surge noun surgical spirit as an alcoholic drink UK, 2000 surgical truss noun a bus. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 surprise party noun in poker, a hand that should not win, that is not expected by its holder to win, but that wins US, 1996 surprise! surprise! with heavy irony or sarcasm, used as an expression of disappointment, or resignation that the expected worst has happened UK, 1964

Surrey Docks noun syphilis; hence any sexually transmitted infection. Rhyming slang for POX, formed on a famous south-of-the-river location UK, 1974 sus; suss noun 1 suspicion UK, 1936. 2 an arrest on suspicion; a person being arrested for loitering with suspicion UK, 1977

sus; suss adjective suspicious; suspect UK, 1958

Susie College noun a stereotypical female college student US, 1970 suspense noun the time allotted to complete an action US, 1986 suspicion verb to suspect someone US, 1834

suss noun common sense UK, 1977

suss verb to suspect, or discover the truth about, someone or something. A shortened form of 'suspect' UK, 1953 sussed adjective 1 having knowledge about something; well informed UK, 1984. 2 arrested as a suspected person loitering UK, 1977

sussies noun suspenders UK, 1995

susso noun 1 government sustenance provided during the depression of the 1930s AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 a person receiving government sustenance AUSTRALIA, 1947 suss out; suss; suss on verb to work out, discover, find, ascertain or understand something. Extended from various senses of SUS and SUSS UK, 1962

sussy adjective suspicious, in both active and passive senses UK, 1965 suzie noun a Suzuki motorcycle (manufactured since 1936 but only popular in the UK from about 1960) UK, 1979

Suzie Wong; suzie noun 1 a song UK, 1998. 2 an unpleasant smell. Rhyming slang for PONG, formed from the film The World of Suzie Wong, 1960 UK, 1998

Suzy Robincrotch; Suzy Rottencrotch; Suzy noun during the Vietnam war, the generic girlfriend back home US, 1991

Suzy Sorority noun a stereotypical sorority member who looks, dresses, talks and lives the part US, 1974

swa noun southwest Asia US, 1998

swab noun a roll of money US, 1965

swab verb ► swab the deck to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1964

swabbie; swabby noun a sailor US, 1944

swab jockey noun a marine US, 1958

swacked adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1945

swag noun 1 stolen goods; loot; bounty. Derives from the earlier sense 'a shop' hence the contents seen as the object of theft; originally, especially linens and clothes rather than precious metals and stones UK, 1794. 2 contraband. Used both as an adjective and a noun US, 1951. 3 free merchandise or tickets to concerts handed out by music recording companies US, 1997. 4 the possessions of an itinerant traveller rolled up in a blanket and carried from place to place. The 'swag' and the 'swagman/swaggie' are Australian cultural icons AUSTRALIA, 1841. 5 a person's possessions when travelling light. Metaphoric use of the swagman's swag AUSTRALIA, 1987. 6 a bedroll AUSTRALIA, 1865. 7 clothes. The best known meaning of 'swag' (stolen property) originally referred especially to linens and clothes. Here the sense narrows to the type of goods with no suggestion of theft UK, 1999. 8 money US, 1976. 9 a large amount of something AUSTRALIA, 1882. 10 inferior quality marijuana. It seems unlikely that this usage should derive from the C19, now obsolete adjective 'swag' (worthless) but stranger etymologies have happened US, 2001. ► on the swag carrying a swag and travelling as an itinerant AUSTRALIA, 1982

SWAG noun a joking and derogatory prediction or estimate. A 'scientific wild-assed guess' CANADA, 1995

swag verb 1 to move articles in a hurried manner. Extends from the sense 'to hustle' UK, 1956. 2 to hustle or hurry someone UK, 1958 swag adjective 1 stolen US, 1979. 2 inferior UK, 2004 swag bag noun a bag for loot or special contraband US, 1974 swaggie noun a swagman AUSTRALIA, 1891

swagman noun an itinerant man looking for work; a tramp AUSTRALIA, 1859

swag off verb to lock a prisoner's possessions away UK, 1996

SWAK; SWALK; SWANK written on an envelope, or at the foot of a lover's letter, as lovers' code for 'sealed with a kiss'. Embellishments included a 'loving' kiss and a 'nice' kiss. Widely known, and well used by servicemen, then a nearly mandatory sign-off line in any American teenage love letter of the 1950s and 60s, now a part of the coded vocabulary of texting UK, 1925 swallow noun a drink of alcohol UK, 1822 swallow verb 1 to easily accept something as true UK, 1594. 2 to accept something that has happened without complaint or acknowledgement. A shortening of 'swallow your pride' UK, 2000.

► swallow a dictionary to be loquacious or sesquipedalian; to habitually use long or erudite words AUSTRALIA, 1957. ► swallow a gun to commit suicide by gunshot to the mouth US, 1981.

► swallow spit to stop talking; to be quiet US, 1993. ► swallow the olive to lose your composure and concentration US, 1961 swallow and sigh noun a collar and tie. Rhyming slang UK, 1938 swallower noun a person who swallows semen during oral sex AUSTRALIA, 1987

swally noun a drink; a drinking session. Glasgow slang from 'swallow' UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

swami noun a poker player with the annoying habit of coaching other players US, 1996 swamp verb to drink an alcoholic beverage after eating UK, 1983 swamp-donkey noun a particularly unattractive woman UK, 1998 swamped adjective drunk US, 1945 swamper noun 1 a labourer who loads or unloads cargo US, 1981. 2 rubber boots worn during mud season. Michigan Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003 swamp rat noun any person living near or coming from near the great swamps of the southern US US, 1978 swampy noun a rural New Englander who is thoroughly and steadfastly rural. An abbreviation of SWAMP YANKEE US, 1963 swamp Yankee noun a rural New Englander who is thoroughly and steadfastly rural US, 1939 swan verb ► swan about; swan around; swan off to move idly or with no apparent purpose (although pleasure is often presumed). The imagery of swans gliding on water; originally military, of armoured vehicles (perhaps sliding over mud) UK, 1942 swan dive noun to pretend to be injured or fouled while playing a team sport CANADA, 2002

Swanee river noun the liver. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 swank noun a drink of sweetened water BARBADOS, 1965 swank and wank verb to preen in a self-satisfied manner. A neat, rhyming combination of 'swank' (to behave in a pretentious manner) and WANK (to masturbate) UK, 2002 swanky adjective showy; conceited; pretentious; pretentiously grand. First recorded as Wiltshire dialect UK, 1842

Swan Lake; swan noun a cake. Rhyming slang, formed from the ballet by Tchaikovsky UK, 1992 swannie noun a bush shirt. From the branded Swannndri™ shirt NEW ZEALAND, 1998

swanson noun a coward US, 2004 swap verb ► swap cans (used of a male homosexual couple) to take turns as the active participant in anal sex US, 1965. ► swap lies and swat flies to engage in prolonged, aimless conversation US, 1962. ► swap slop to kiss US, 1947. ► swap spit to kiss long and hard US, 1952 swap out verb to exchange roles in homosexual sex after one partner achieves satisfaction US, 2002 swapper noun a married person who engages in spouse swapping at sex parties US, 1967 swarming noun a gathering swiftly formed as the result of a snowball-effect proliferation of instant text message communication UK, 2003 swash noun foaming water after a wave breaks on shore US, 1963 swass noun sweaty buttocks. A contraction of 'sweaty' and 'ass' CANADA, 2003 swatch noun a quick look UK: SCOTLAND, 1911

swatty-blouse noun an effeminate intellectual NEW ZEALAND, 1995 swave and blaze adjective suave and blasé. An intentional mispronunciation, meant to be humorous US, 1967 swear verb ► swear and cuss a bus. Rhyming slang UK, 1938.

► swear by to have a great confidence in something UK, 1815 sweat noun a worry or difficulty. Usually used in the negative, most often as 'no sweat!' US, 1979 sweat verb 1 to coerce someone through intense pressure, usually not involving physical force US, 1947. 2 to admire or desire someone or something US, 1999. 3 to disclose that a pool player is in fact a skilled betting professional US, 1990. 4 to gamble nervously and cautiously US, 1991. ► sweat blood 1 to make an unsparing effort UK, 1911. 2 to be very afraid UK, 1924. ► sweat bullets to experience a high degree of nervous tension, usually sweating profusely US, 1977. ► sweat cobs to perspire heavily UK, 1978. ► sweat it to worry UK, 1998. ► sweat like a glassblower's arse to perspire heavily UK, 2003. ► sweat on to wait with nervous expectation UK, 1917. ► sweat the brass in horse racing, to race a horse day after day, without giving it a rest period US, 1951. ► sweat your guts out to labour extremely hard; to make the utmost effort UK, 1890 sweatback noun an illegal immigrant to the US who is working. A WETBACK who is working, and thus sweating US, 1962 sweat box noun 1 a police interview room UK, 1971. 2 the waiting area outside the room in which a parole hearing is to take place US, 1962. 3 a vehicle for transporting prisoners in small individual cubicles UK, 1996. 4 in trucking, a sleeping compartment behind the seat US, 1971 sweat chovey noun a gymnasium or weights room. A combination of 'chovey' (an otherwise obsolete term for a shop) with a product of working-out UK, 2002

sweater noun 1 a casino employee or executive who cheats gamblers US, 1977. 2 in a casino or other gambling establishment, a person who observes but does not participate in a game US, 1968. 3 a person who worries US, 1966

sweater meat noun the female breasts US, 2004 sweater puppies noun the female breasts US, 1995 sweater queen noun a neatly and nicely dressed homosexual male US, 1997 sweat room noun a small room in a police station where suspects are interrogated or 'sweated' UK, 1974

Sweatshop noun ► the Sweatshop the Apollo Theatre, New York US, 1949 sweaty sock; sweaty noun a Scot. Rhyming slang for JOCK (a Scot); derogatory, both in its own imagery and as demonstrated in the usage by football supporters to taunt rivals. Certainly in use in the Newcastle-upon-Tyne area in 1990 UK, 2002 swede noun 1 the head; hence, the hair on the head. From the shape of the vegetable UK, 1999. 2 a potentially naive provincial police officer investigating complaints in London. A nuance used by the Metropolitan Police UK, 1999 swede-basher; swede noun a person from the countryside; an unsophisticated type. Derives from the root vegetable UK, 1943 swedeland noun the countryside as seen from the town. Derogatory. From SWEDE-BASHER (a person from the countryside; an unsophisticated type) UK, 1967 swedey noun ► the swedey the provincial police of 'Operation Countryman' drafted to London, from 1978 to the early 1980s to investigate alleged corruption in the Metropolitan Police, particularly in the Flying Squad. Derisive; formed on SWEDE (a provincial police officer), punning on THE SWEENEY (the Flying Squad) UK, 1980

swedge verb to fight UK: SCOTLAND, 1999

Swedish adjective sexually permissive. From the Swedish attitude to pornography UK, 2000

Swedish fiddle noun among loggers, a cross-cut saw. The reference to Sweden likely alludes to the 'Swedish saw' CANADA, 1942

Swedish headache noun an aching in the testicles from sexual activity that does not culminate in ejaculation US, 1932

Swedish massage noun ejaculation achieved with the man's penis between the woman's breasts UK, 1973 sweedie noun a friend, an acquaintance; recognised as a form of address with shallow sincerity. An ironic mid-Atlantic approximation of SWEETIE; identified and popularised in BBC television comedy Absolutely Fabulous (1992–2001) UK, 2002

Sweeney noun ► on your Sweeney on your own IRELAND, 1996. ► the Sweeney the Flying Squad, Metropolitan Police branch C1 (1921–48), subsequently C8; a member of the Flying Squad. Rhyming slang formed from 'Sweeney Todd' for 'Flying Squad'. Sweeney Todd was the legendary 'Demon Barber of Fleet Street'. Brought to widespread popular attention by television police drama series The Sweeney, originally broadcast from 1974–78, which gave the impression that all police work was about guns and fast cars UK, 1938 sweep noun 1 in combat, a search and destroy mission or a concerted search through an area US, 1977. 2 a concerted effort to find someone or something illegal US, 1974 sweep verb to systematically search for surveillance devices US, 1985. ► sweep the leaves to drive at the back of a group of trucks travelling together, watching for police from the rear US, 1976 sweeper noun 1 in mountain biking, a tree limb overhanging the trail at approximately face height US, 1992. 2 an expert hired to search for and locate surveillance devices US, 1985 sweet noun 1 an effeminate male homosexual US, 1990. 2 an amphetamine tablet US, 1994 sweet adjective 1 all right UK, 1890. 2 excellent; in style; admirable US, 1982. 3 amenable. A shift in the earlier (C18–19) sense as 'gullible, unsuspicious' UK, 1999. 4 when combined in phrases meaning nothing, absolute UK, 1958. 5 homosexual US, 1972. 6 drunk BARBADOS, 1965 sweet! used to express approval UK, 2003 sweet-arse adjective used for describing someone or something with approval. A variation of SWEET UK, 1998 sweet as adjective satisfying and easy, especially of a crime. A shortening of the familiar SWEET AS A NUT UK, 2001 sweet as a nut adjective satisfying and easy, especially of a crime UK, 1937 sweet BA noun nothing whatsoever. A euphemistic variation of SWEET BUGGER ALL UK, 1958 sweet bugger all noun absolutely nothing at all. A sarcastic or emphatic variation of BUGGER ALL UK, 1918

sweet chat noun flattery TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1977

sweet cop noun an easy job AUSTRALIA, 1918

sweet count noun in dominoes, a good hand US, 1997 sweet daddy noun a pimp US, 1957 sweet deedee noun in horse racing, a combination wager conventionally known as the 'daily double' US, 1968 sweet dreams noun heroin UK, 1998 sweet dying Jesus an affectionate exclamatory oath CANADA, 1985 sweeten verb 1 in poker, to increase the amount bet US, 1963. 2 in the television and film industries, to make subtle improvements in the soundtrack US, 1990 sweetened air noun candy floss US, 1981 sweetener noun 1 a bribe UK, 1996. 2 cash US, 2003

Sweet evening breeze noun ► see: EVENING BREEZE

sweet Fanny Adams; sweet FA noun ► see: FANNY ADAMS sweet fuck all noun absolutely nothing at all. A sarcastic or emphatic variation of FUCK ALL UK, 1969 sweethead noun a marijuana user US, 1997 sweetheart noun 1 used as an endearment or what is intended to be an endearing form of address. Often patronising UK, 1290. 2 used as a menacing form of address. An ironic variation of the genuine endearment UK, 1977 sweetheart adjective used of a trade union overly sympathetic to, if not controlled by, management US, 1959 sweet Heaven! used as a mild expletive, or register of shock, surprise, etc UK, 2002 sweetie noun 1 a sweetheart US, 1925. 2 used as a wheedling, patronising form of address US, 1971. 3 an effeminate man, usually an effeminate homosexual. A pejorative, adopted by gays as an ironic endearment US, 1972. 4 a sweet (an individual chocolate- or sugar-based item of confectionary). From 'sweetmeat', but now considered a childish extension of 'sweet', generally heard in the plural UK, 1860. 5 tablets for medication or recreation. From the sense as 'confectionary' UK, 2000. 6 the drug Preludin™, a stimulant that suppresses the appetite US, 1970. 7 an amphetamine or MDMA tablet UK, 1994 sweetie-pie noun a sweetheart; a dear friend; a CAMP form of address. An extension of all variants of SWEETIE as an endearment. In 1947 the animated cartoon Tweety Pie won an Oscar UK, 1928 sweet Jesus noun morphine; heroin US, 1967 sweet Jesus! used as a mild expletive, or register of shock, surprise, etc UK, 2002 sweet leaf noun marijuana US, 2001 sweet limburger! used for expressing disapproval. A signature line of Colonel Sherman Potter on *M*A*S*H* (CBS, 1972–83). Repeated with referential humour US, 1983 sweet Lucy noun 1 muscatel wine US, 1973. 2 any cheap wine US, 1997. 3 a solution of hashish and wine US, 1948. 4 marijuana US, 1969 sweet mack noun a pimp who controls his prostitutes through charm and attention US, 1972 sweetman noun a man who is supported by his lover; a pimp TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1939

Sweet Miss Adams noun ► see: FANNY ADAMS

sweet name noun any affectionate nickname TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1971 sweetness noun used as an endearment UK, 1992 sweet on infatuated by someone or something UK, 1740 sweet shit in a bucket! used for registering anger, frustration or despair US, 1970 sweet spot noun in surfing, the forward position on the surfboard that maximises speed and the back position that maximises the ability to manoeuvre AUSTRALIA, 2003 sweet stuff noun powdered drugs; cocaine, heroin or morphine US, 1936 sweet-talk verb to flatter someone, to convince someone through kind words US, 1936 sweet thing noun an attractive young woman US, 1971 sweet tooth noun an addiction to morphine US, 1961 swell noun a well-dressed, fashionable man UK, 1786 swell adjective good; attractive; stylish. A key piece of slang for more than a century, eventually displaced by COOL UK, 1812 swellbow noun a swollen elbow. Skateboarders' and scooter-riders' slang; an elision of 'swell' and 'elbow' UK, 1998 swell pipes noun in circus and carnival usage, a good singing voice US, 1981 swell-up noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 swerve noun 1 a deception, practical joke or false report US, 1997. 2 intoxication US, 2001. ► get your swerve on to drink to the point of intoxication US, 1998 swerve verb 1 to avoid someone or something. From the conventional sense (to change direction abruptly); probably a shortening of BODY-SWERVE UK; SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 to make a late change in your plans. Teen slang UK, 2003 swerve past verb to visit a place briefly, to go out of your way UK, 1999 swift adjective 1 good, clever US, 1970. 2 of police, corrupt UK, 1977 swiftie noun 1 a deceitful trick; a con AUSTRALIA, 1945. 2 an alcoholic drink quickly drunk, a 'swift drink'. The spelling 'swifty' is also used UK, 2001 swifting noun in the police, an action of making a quick arrest when it may not be clear that all elements of the offence can be proved. From 'swift 'un' (a quick, possibly unfair arrest) UK, 1999

swig noun an act of drinking deeply, especially of intoxicating liquor UK, 1621 swig verb to drink, especially deeply, and especially of intoxicating liquor. From SWIG (a drink) UK, 1654 swill noun a drink UK, 2001 swill cup noun a combination of leftover alcoholic beverages US, 2003 swiller noun a public house UK, 2001 swim noun ► in the swim active socially, up to date with trends and fashions UK, 1869 swim verb 1 to parade ostentatiously. A variation of SWAN (to move with no purpose) UK, 1952. 2 to move through a stadium or auditorium, experiencing a concert from different perspectives US, 1994 swimmer noun 1 a car that has been driven or fallen into a body of water US, 1962. 2 in horse racing, a horse that performs very well on wet track conditions AUSTRALIA, 1989 swimmers noun a swimming costume AUSTRALIA, 1967

swimmies noun swimwear; a swimming costume UK; SCOTLAND, 1988 swindle sheet noun 1 a record of reimbursable business expenses that is completed by a travelling sales representative or business executive. An implicit suggestion that these records are not always entirely honest US, 1949. 2 in trucking, a trucker's daily log book US, 1971 swine noun 1 an unpleasant person, especially a coarse or degraded person; a sensualist UK, 1842. 2 a police officer; the police US, 1997. 3 a prison guard US, 1976. 4 a difficult or awkward thing. From the sense as 'an unpleasant person' UK, 1933. 5 leather, especially leather car upholstery US, 2002 swing noun 1 a bag (or similar receptacle) that is used to transfer contraband items between prison cells by being attached to a length of string (or similar) and swung from one cell window to another. Also called a 'swinger' UK, 1996. 2 a punch delivered with a wide sweep of the arm, especially in the phrase: take a swing at UK, 1910. 3 an employee's rest period in a shift system; a pattern of working that incorporates such rest periods; hence, time off work US, 1917. 4 a consensual orgy US, 1969 swing verb 1 to enjoy frequent casual sex with different partners UK, 1964. 2 to have fun, especially in a currently fashionable or unconventional activity; hence, to be fashionable US, 1957. 3 to accomplish something, especially something that is difficult UK, 1933. 4 to be executed by hanging. Hanging has been the principal form of execution in the British Isles since the C5; the death penalty was abolished in the UK in 1965 (except for crimes of treason, piracy with violence and arson in the Royal Dockyards) UK, 1542. 5 to play jazz with feeling and a basic understanding of the medium US, 1933. 6 to cheat or swindle someone US, 1952. 7 to steal something. Casino usage US, 1980. 8 in high-low poker, to declare for both high and low US, 1979. ► swing both ways to be bisexual UK, 1972. ► swing it 1 to malingering; to shirk responsibility; to evade duty. Variation of SWING THE LEAD UK, 1959. 2 to achieve something by trickery or influence UK, 1959. ► swing the lead to malingering; to shirk responsibility; to evade duty. Popular etymology holds this to be the 'sounding-lead' with which the depth of water is measured; in practice 'heaving the lead' is a skilled task. The term certainly has naval origins UK, 1917 swing by verb to visit briefly, to go out of your way UK, 2001 swingdom noun a culture of casual sexual interaction US, 1997 swinger noun 1 a person who freely enjoys life's pleasures US, 1959. 2 someone who engages in spouse or partner swapping US, 1964. 3 a person who has died by hanging US, 1987. 4 a prisoner who has attempted suicide by hanging UK, 1996. 5 in trucking, a large load US, 1971 swing gang noun in the television and film industries, the crew that prepares and dismantles the set US, 1990 swinging noun consensual swapping of sexual partners as a deliberate activity UK, 1976 swinging adjective 1 lively and alert and progressive; uninhibited; fashionable UK, 1967. 2 of a court case, adjourned until a later date AUSTRALIA, 1975 swinging dick noun an ordinary fellow. Sometimes euphemised (barely) as 'swinging Richard' US, 1966 swingle noun an unmarried person in search of a sexual partner US, 1968 swing oil noun to a golfer, beer or alcohol US, 2000 swing-out noun a fight between youth gangs US, 1972 swings and roundabouts the rough and the smooth; used of a fluctuating situation where the average outcome remains constant whatever action is taken. A reduction of the proverb 'what you lose on the swings you gain on the roundabouts' UK, 1983 swing shift noun a work schedule that begins late in the afternoon and continues until the middle of the night, traditionally from 4 pm until midnight US, 1943 swipe noun 1 a heavy blow delivered with a swinging motion (may be applied to a bat addressing a ball, or a hand hitting flesh) UK, 1807. 2 an instance of adverse criticism. Extended from the previous sense UK, 1932. 3 an objectionable person UK, 1929. 4 the penis US, 1969. 5 potent, homemade pineapple-based alcohol. Hawaiian usage US, 1982. 6 to drink great amounts of kava, a tranquillity-inducing herbal beverage FJI, 1997 swipe verb 1 to hit someone. From an earlier sense, 'to swing the arms in a circular motion' UK, 1851. 2 to steal something US, 1889. 3 to take something, but not necessarily to steal it UK, 1947 swipe me! a euphemistic cry of surprise, replacing 'fuck me!'. A slight variant of the obsolete and hence euphemistic 'swive' (to have sex) UK, 1955 swipes noun 1 in horse racing, a groom US, 1947. 2 beer. Originally (1786) 'a small beer' UK, 1805 swish noun 1 a homosexual male, especially of the dramatically effeminate type US, 1941. 2 weak alcohol made by letting water stand in old screech barrels CANADA, 2001 swish verb 1 (of a homosexual male) to behave in a flamboyant, camp or effeminate manner US, 1960. 2 (among drug users) to distribute drugs, especially hallucinogenic drugs NEW ZEALAND, 1982 swish adjective 1 fashionable; elegant. Colloquial, from Devonshire dialect UK, 1879. 2 blatantly homosexual. Also variant 'swishy' US, 1941 swish Alps noun the Hollywood Hills, Los Angeles, California. A homosexual enclave US, 1983 swisher noun a hollowed-out cigar refilled with marijuana US, 1999 swish faggot noun an effeminate, melodramatic homosexual man US, 1980 swish tank noun a holding cell in a jail where homosexual suspects and prisoners are kept US, 1992

Swiss Army knife; swiss army noun a wife. Rhyming slang, formed on a commercial tool that is marketed in a wide range of variations UK, 1998

Swiss banker noun used as an all-purpose form of abuse. Rhyming slang for WANKER UK, 2003

Swiss-cheeze up verb to shoot a person or place full of holes. The image of a piece of cheese such as Emmental US, 2002 switch noun 1 a switchblade knife that opens with a button-operated spring US, 1949. 2 in a sexually oriented massage parlour, a massage given to the masseuse by the customer US, 1982. 3 the buttocks US, 1949 switch verb to act upon bisexual impulses US, 1970. ► switch lanes to change allegiance. Used by teenage gang members UK, 2003 switchable noun a person who is willing to play either the sadist or masochist role in a sado-masochism encounter US, 1979 switchboard jockey noun a telephone operator US, 1957 switched on adjective 1 in fashion, up-to-date and well-informed UK, 1964. 2 drug-intoxicated US, 1972. 3 excited by music; aroused by a sexual opportunity. Electrical imagery UK, 1977 switcher noun a bisexual US, 1966 switcheroo noun a swapping; an exchange US, 1933 switchfoot noun a surfer who can surf with either foot forward, depending on the conditions US, 1964 switch hitter noun 1 a bisexual US, 1960. 2 a person who masturbates with first one hand and then the other US, 2002 switchies noun sex involving more than two people US, 1983 switch list noun on the railways, a menu US, 1977 switch monkey noun a railway pointsman US, 1977 switch off verb 1 to stop paying attention; to lose interest UK, 1921. 2 to knock someone out. Electrical imagery UK, 2000 swizzle; swiz; swizz noun a swindle; a disappointment half-jokingly described as a 'swindle' UK, 1913

swole adjective upset; provoked; angry US, 1998 swoles noun muscles. From 'swollen' US, 2004 swoll adjective muscular US, 1997 swollen-headed adjective conceited UK, 1928 swonked adjective exhausted by heavy work CANADA, 1953

swoon verb to seduce or romance someone UK, 2003 swoonie nickname the contemporary dollar coin. In 2002, with the Canadian dollar dropping in value, this parody nickname is derived from LOONY CANADA, 2002 swoontime noun the approximate time when young people congregate somewhere to socialise US, 1953 swooper noun a prisoner who collects discarded cigarette-ends (to roll new ones). The swooper swoops on his prey UK, 1996 swoop squad; swoop team noun a unit of prison officers detailed to discover drugs and other contraband UK, 1996

swoosh noun the name given to the tick-shaped logo of Nike™, the sports shoe manufacturer US, 2007

S-word noun 1 the word 'shit' US, 1999. 2 the word 'sex' US, 1988. 3 the word 'socialism' US, 1987 sword fighting noun a sexual act in which two erect penises compete for or share the attention of a single person performing oral sex UK, 2002 swordsman noun 1 a man with an impressive reputation for his sexual prowess UK, 1998. 2 a male homosexual UK, 1983 sword swallower noun a person who performs oral sex on a man. The working title of the 1970s pornographic classic Deep Throat was Sword Swallower US, 1964 swot verb to study, especially at the last possible moment before an examination NEW ZEALAND, 1984

swot; swat noun an extra-studious student UK, 1850 swot vac noun student holidays from school or university AUSTRALIA, 1983 swy noun 1 the gambling game two-up. Ultimately from German zwei (two), possibly via Yiddish AUSTRALIA, 1913. 2 two; a two-year prison sentence; two shillings; two pounds; two ounces of tobacco. From German zwei (two). The spelling 'swi' is also used AUSTRALIA, 1921

swy game noun the gambling game two-up AUSTRALIA, 1946

swy school noun a group of people playing the gambling game two-up AUSTRALIA, 1944

sXe noun used as an identifying word by members of the Straight Edge youth culture. The 's' and 'e' are, obviously, the initials of 'Straight Edge', while the 'X' represents the rubber stamp marked on the hands of under-age patrons at youth clubs US, 2000

Sydney Harbour noun a barber. Rhyming slang AUSTRALIA, 1942

Sydney or the bush all or nothing AUSTRALIA, 1915

Sylvester Stallone; sylvester adjective alone. Rhyming slang, formed on the US film actor (b.1950) UK, 1998 synch noun ► in synch; in sync in accord with. Figurative use of the abbreviated in synchronization (working together) US, 1967

syndicat noun in Quebec, a trade union CANADA, 2002 syndicate noun 1 a criminal organisation US, 1929. 2 a small group of close friends. Joining CREW and POSSE as crime terms applied to friends US, 1993 synergy noun 4-bromo-2, 5-dimethoxyphenethylamine, a mild hallucinogen US, 1995 syph noun syphilis US, 1914 syrup noun prescription cough syrup, used recreationally US, 1995 syrup head noun a person who abuses for non-medicinal purposes non-prescription medication containing dextromethorphan (DXM) US, 2003 syrup of fig; syrup of figs; syrup noun a wig. Rhyming slang. Syrup of figs is used as a laxative. Noted in use among criminals by David Powis, The Signs of Crime, 1977; as a showbusiness term by Red Daniells, 1980, and in wide and general use by Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992 UK, 1977 syrupped up adjective intoxicated by cough syrup taken for non-medicinal purposes US, 1970 system noun 1 the criminal justice system; jail US, 1995. 2 an audio system, especially a loud car audio system US, 1993 systems kicker noun in prison, a rebellious inmate. One who kicks against the system UK, 1996

SYT noun a youthful, attractive homosexual male; a sweet young thing US, 1979

Tt

T noun 1 marijuana. The simplest abbreviation of TEA UK, 1950.

2 cocaine. Probably an abbreviation of another slang term for 'cocaine' such as TOOT UK, 2003. 3 a tee shirt UK, 2003. ► to a T precisely, exactly UK, 1693

T nickname the local rail system serving urban and suburban Boston, Massachusetts. used with 'the'. From the official designation 'Boston Transport' US, 1987 ta thank you. An abbreviation of 'thanks' or 'thank you'; originally childish or juvenile, now widespread UK, 1772 tab noun 1 a tablet, usually one taken as a recreational drug; a single dose of LSD. Originally medical and pharmaceutical jargon, added to the vocabulary of drugs users in the 1950s UK, 1961. 2 a tabloid newspaper US, 1951. 3 a bill, especially in a restaurant or bar US, 1946. 4 a cigarette. Originally northern dialect, spread with media usage UK, 1934. 5 a walk or march across country UK, 1982. 6 an enterprise, an activity US, 1946. ► run a tab to order drinks without paying for each one, paying instead the entire bill at the end of the session US, 1995 tab verb 1 to march or otherwise travel on foot across country. Military UK, 1982. 2 to make a drug into tablet form US, 1967 tabasco noun napalm US, 1991 tabbed adjective dressed stylishly US, 1980 tabla noun a surfboard. Spanish, imported to the US from Mexico by American surfers US, 1977 table noun a pinball machine UK, 1977

table dance noun in a strip-club, a semi-private sexual performance near or on a customer's table US, 1992 table grade adjective used of a woman, sexually appealing. A clear suggestion of oral sex, or eating US, 1972

table-hopper; table-topper noun a necrophile US, 1987 table manners noun in poker, a player's mannerisms, which may provide clues as to the relative strength of his hand US, 1981

table muscle noun the stomach US, 1984

table pussy noun a woman with good looks and manners US, 1970 tablescore verb to take food left on restaurant tables US, 1997 table talk noun in poker, idle chatter that does not rise to the level of intentionally distracting talk US, 1979 table time noun a time-based charge for playing pool US, 1993 table zamboni noun a cleaning rag used by a bartender. Zamboni is an ice resurfacer used on ice rinks US, 1987 tab out verb to pay a bar bill and leave the bar US, 1992 tabs noun the ears US, 1970 tacit noun ► take a tacit to stop talking US, 1947 tack noun 1 anything that demonstrates a quality of vulgarity, bad taste or kitsch US, 1986. 2 a tattoo US, 1992. 3 marijuana UK, 1996 tacked adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 2004 tacked back adjective covered with tattoos US, 1989 tacked out adjective in trucking, running at full speed. A construction from 'tachometer' US, 1971 tacker noun a child. From British dialect (Devon and Cornwall) AUSTRALIA, 1942 tackety bit; tackety noun the female breast. Glasgow rhyming slang for TIT from the local pronunciation of 'tackety' (steel-tipped and -heeled) boots UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 tackie noun a tyre SOUTH AFRICA, 1978 tackies noun running shoes, trainers SOUTH AFRICA, 1913

tackiness noun a state of unrefined vulgarity US, 1977 tackle noun 1 the male genitalia. Originally 'a man's tackle' subsequent familiarity reduced the necessity for 'a man's' UK, 1788.

2 food and drink; 'stuff'; more recently, drugs UK, 1987 tackle verb to court; to flirt TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987 tacky adjective vulgar, unrefined, unattractive, aesthetically unappealing; 'cheap and nasty' US, 1862 taco adjective Mexican. Offensive. From the Mexican street food US, 1990 taco bender noun a Mexican or Mexican-American. Offensive US, 1992

Taco Hell nickname a Taco Bell™ fast-food restaurant US, 1990 tacoland noun a Mexican or Mexican-American neighbourhood. Offensive US, 1981 taco wagon noun a car embellished with bright colours, chrome and other accessories associated with Mexican-American car enthusiasts US, 1960 tad adjective little; a small amount. Perhaps from dialect tad (toad) UK, 1940 tadger noun the penis. Originally dialect; survives in rhyming slang FOX AND BADGER UK, 1961 tadpole noun an OH-6 light observation military helicopter. From its shape US, 1991 tadpole factory noun the testicles UK, 2003 ta ever so thank you. An elaboration of TA and variation of THANKS EVER SO UK, 1970

Taffia; Tafia noun a notional conspiracy of influential Welsh people, especially Welsh-speakers, that control many areas of Welsh life for its own benefit. A blend of TAFF (Welsh) and 'mafia' (a criminal association) UK: WALES, 1980

Taffy; Taff noun a native of Wales. From Welsh Dafydd (David – the Welsh patron saint and everyday christian name) as heard by English ears. Taffy since about 1700; Taff since 1929 UK, 1964 tag noun 1 the stylised signature of a graffiti artist. From 'tag' (a label) US, 1998. 2 a stylised signature often confused with graffiti US, 1997. 3 a nickname, or popular designation US, 1950. 4 a number plate US, 1972. 5 a planned murder US, 1982. 6 in the television and film industries, a very short final scene US, 1990 tag verb 1 to shoot and hit someone or something US, 1992. 2 to strike or hit someone or something US, 1975. 3 to catch or arrest someone, or convict someone of a crime US, 1966. 4 to spray-paint graffiti in a signature styling US, 1980. 5 to tattoo part of the body US, 1993. 6 to bestow a nickname on someone US, 1960. 7 to identify someone or something US, 1951 tag-along noun someone who joins an activity without invitation US, 1961 tag and bag verb to put a name tag on a corpse and place the body in a body bag. Vietnam war usage US, 1981 tagger noun a person who writes his signature in a stylised fashion on public walls, subways, etc US, 1997 tagging crew noun a group of graffiti artists US, 1989 tag plant noun a prison number plate manufacturing shop US, 2000 tag shop noun the area in a prison where number plates are manufactured US, 1958

Taig; Teague nickname a Catholic. From the anglicised spelling of the Irish name/nickname Tadhg UK, 1971 tail noun 1 the backside, buttocks and/or anus UK, 1303. 2 a woman, regarded as a sexual object; women, collectively, categorised with the same regard UK, 1846. 3 an act of sexual intercourse or sexual intercourse in a general sense. The earlier, obsolete, senses of 'penis' and 'vagina' come together in a logical consequence UK, 1933.

4 a person who is following someone else closely and secretly US, 1914. 5 in prison, an informer US, 1990. 6 the term of a prisoner's parole US, 1992. 7 in hot rodding, a fox tail or racoon tail tied to the car US, 1960. ► bust your tail to give the maximum effort US, 1996 tail verb to follow someone closely and secretly US, 1907. ► tail 'em in the gambling game two-up, to throw a pair of tails AUSTRALIA, 1917 tail-better noun in the gambling game two-up, a player who bets on tails AUSTRALIA, 1963 tail-end Charlie noun someone at the rear of any group or expedition. Originally the name given to the rear gunner on a Royal Air Force bomber, hence 'the man at the back' UK, 1941 tailgate verb 1 to walk very closely behind another person. A variation of the conventional sense UK, 2003. 2 to eat and drink clustered in parking lot before a sports event US, 1995 tailgunner noun a homosexual male NEW ZEALAND, 1998 tailie noun in the gambling game two-up, a player who bets on tails AUSTRALIA, 1919 tail lights noun LSD UK, 1998 tailor noun in gin, a win without the opponent scoring US, 1950 tailor-made; tailor; taylor noun a factory-made cigarette US, 1924 tail pain noun anal pain TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

taily noun the penis US, 1982 taima noun marijuana. Possibly an elision of Spanish Tailandés (Thai) and marijuana UK, 1998 taint noun the perineum US, 1955 t'aint no crack, but a solid fact what I am saying is the truth US, 1973

Taj Mahal noun a dome covering radar antennae at NORAD air defence radar stations CANADA, 1995 take noun 1 an opinion; a view. Possibly from television and film jargon, 'take' (a recorded scene), suggesting a point of view UK, 2001. 2 stolen property, especially money US, 1888. 3 a theft AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► on the take accepting bribes US, 1930 take verb 1 (of a male) to have sex with someone UK, 1915. 2 to defeat someone UK, 1939. 3 to successfully swindle someone UK, 1946. ► take advantage (of a man) to seduce someone, to have sex with someone, to force sex upon someone. Euphemistic, but often jocular US, 1928. ► take back water to back down on a brag or dare; to refuse a challenge. This phrase is derived from rowing CANADA, 1972. ► take care of someone to kill someone; to kill one or more, especially as an expedient solution to a problem UK, 1984. ► take in laundry to wear underwear internally UK, 2001. ► take it in the shorts to be abused or defeated US, 1994. ► take it lying down to submit tamely UK, 1961. ► take it Nelson to relax UK, 1996. ► take on for the team to accept responsibility for an unpleasant task for the greater good of a group. Originally a baseball team, used as an ex post facto explanation of a batter advancing to first base after being hit with a pitch US, 2001. ► take one to be open to bribery UK, 1970. ► take one for the team in a social situation, to pay attention to the less attractive of a pair of friends in the hope that your friend will have success with the more attractive member of the pair US, 2002. ► take someone apart to absolutely defeat someone in a fight; to reprimand someone severely UK, 1984. ► take someone for a ride 1 to swindle or deceive someone US, 1925. 2 in a car, to take a planned victim to a convenient spot for murder US, 1927. ► take stoppo to escape. Based on 'stoppo' (a getaway) UK, 1956. ► take the biscuit used in the context of surprise or annoyance at something which is remarkable or extraordinary UK, 1907. ► take the cake used in the context of surprise or annoyance at something that is startlingly improbable US, 1900. ► take the cheese to be considered in the most negative manner; in a figurative sense, to take the prize for being worst UK, 1997. ► take the micky; take the mickey; take the mick; take the michael to make fun of someone; to pull someone's leg. All variations of rhyming slang MIKE BLISS; MICKY BLISS (PISS); literal and euphemistic translations of TAKE THE PISS. The variations on 'micky', 'mick' etc. may be given an initial capital UK, 1935. ► take the piss; take the piss out of someone 1 to make a fool of someone; to pull someone's leg. To PISS and hence deflate a bladder gives the central idea of deflation, in this case by making a fool of; perhaps coincidentally an inflated bladder (on a stick) is the mediaeval comedy prop associated with a fool UK, 1984. 2 to implement a urine test. A literal pun on the sense 'to tease someone' UK, 1996. ► take the ta-ta kiss; take the ta-ta to make a fool of someone; to pull someone's leg. Rhyming slang for TAKE THE PISS, formed on a goodbye kiss UK, 1992. ► take yourself in hand (of a male) to masturbate UK, 1953 take a little, leave a little used as a description of the standing orders that carnival workers have for cheating customers US, 1985 take a running jump!; take a running jump at yourself! used as a contemptuous expression of dismissal UK, 1933 take a train! used as an all-purpose insult US, 1957 takedown noun the amount earned US, 1990 take down verb to arrest and convict someone US, 1997. ► take someone down a peg to reduce a person's self-esteem; to force a brash or bumptious person to conform UK, 1959 take-down brights noun the very bright lights on a police car used when ordering a driver to pull over US, 1992 take-homes noun a several-day supply of methadone US, 1989 take it away! commence the entertainment!; start the music! UK, 1984 take-man noun the member of a criminal gang who actually steals the money AUSTRALIA, 1975 take money noun the proceeds of a robbery or other illegal scheme US, 1975 take night to make day used for describing an all-out effort TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986 taken short adjective desperate to urinate or defecate UK, 1890 take-off noun 1 in a gambling operation, the amount of the bet money taken by the house US, 1950. 2 a mimicking impression; a parody US, 1846. 3 in surfing, the catching of a wave and start of a ride US, 1970 take off verb 1 to use a drug, especially to inject a drug US, 1952. 2 to bring someone to orgasm US, 1975. 3 to go; to leave UK, 1959. 4 in surfing, to catch the momentum of a wave and begin a ride US, 1970. 5 to rob a place; to steal something US, 1960. 6 to mimic or parody someone or something UK, 1766. ► take off a piece of work to masturbate US, 2002 take-off artist noun an escaped prisoner UK, 1996 take on verb to have sex with someone US, 1972 take-out noun in poker, the minimum number of chips that a player can buy from the bank at once US, 1967 take out verb 1 to kill someone US, 1939. 2 to win a game, an award a prize or the like AUSTRALIA, 1976 taker noun a thief who snatches a chain from the wearer's neck. Recorded by a Jamaican inmate of a UK prison, August 2002 UK, 2002 takey-ah-ways noun take-away food. Pronounced with a mock Maori accent NEW ZEALAND, 1998 take you everywhere twice – the second time to apologise used as a jocular reprimand to a companion who has just said or done something contrary to the accepted social code; or (replacing you with him or her) to the company at large, as a humorous acknowledgement of such a faux pas UK, 2002 take your pick adjective stupid. Rhyming slang for THICK, possibly formed from the title of a television quiz show broadcast between 1955 and 68 UK, 1998

takkies noun running shoes SOUTH AFRICA, 2001

takkouri noun hashish. A corruption of Tunisian takroui (hashish) UK, 1998 talala noun the vulva and vagina TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1959

talc; talco noun cocaine. Another white powder as a metaphor US, 1984 talent noun 1 a categorisation of sexually attractive people (within a given area), usually by heterosexual men of women and by homosexual men of men; occasional use by women increased in the 1990s UK, 1947. 2 an intelligent, resourceful criminal US, 1962.

► the talent in the entertainment industry, the actors, the performers US, 1991 talented adjective attractive US, 1996

Tale of Two Cities; tale o' twos adjective the female breasts. Rhyming slang for TITTIE(S), formed from the title of Charles Dickens' novel, 1859. Often spoonerised as 'Sale of Two Titties' UK, 1960

Taliban adjective given as a nickname to any eccentric or unconventional student, especially one of Arab ethnicity. Teen slang, post 11th September 2001; from the Muslim fundamentalist government. The words 'terrorist' and 'fundamentalist' are also current as nicknames US, 2002 talk verb 1 to betray someone; to inform on someone US, 1924. 2 to have a sexual relationship in prison US, 1982. 3 (used of a truck) to emit a clear sound from the smokestack US, 1971. ► talk game to analyse the business of prostitution US, 1972. ► talk noise to exaggerate; to lie US, 1986. ► talk shit 1 to disparage someone or something; to exaggerate US, 1965. 2 to talk nonsense US, mid-C20. ► talk smack to disparage someone or something US, 1993. ► talk stink to malign someone or something. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981. ► talk story to gossip; to engage in idle conversation. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981. ► talk the hind legs off a donkey to talk until a listener is distracted; to talk persuasively. The surviving variation of many de-legged creatures: 'bird' (1929), 'cow' or 'dog' (1887), 'horse' (mainly dialect), 'jackal', etc UK, 1915. ► talk though your neck to talk nonsense UK, 1899. ► talk through your arse; talk through your ass; talk out of your arse to talk nonsense UK, 1985. ► talk through your hat to talk (ill-informed) nonsense US, 1888. ► talk to Ralph Beukler to vomit CANADA, 2002. ► talk to Ralph on the big white phone to vomit US, 1989. ► talk to the canoe driver to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1971. ► talk to the seals to vomit. Surfer usage US, 1997. ► talk trash to engage in aggressive verbal sparring; to speak offensively US, 1967. ► talk turkey to speak candidly and openly about an important issue US, 1903 talk and walk noun the practice of professing psychological improvement in a prison therapeutic setting to improve your chances of parole US, 1971 talk at verb to talk to someone. The 'at' is a folksy affectation that decreases the formality of the statement US, 1999 talkdown noun the conversational technique used to guide an LSD user who is having a difficult time back to reality US, 1994 talker noun in the circus or carnival, a person who entices customers into the side show US, 1960 talkie noun a film with sound; a film. Mainly historical, as an opposite to silent films US, 1913 talking handbag noun a portable radio UK, 1996 talking head noun an expert guest on a television or radio news show US, 1977 talking woman noun a female performer who banters with the audience as she strips off her clothes US, 1950 talkman noun an electrical torture device attached to a prisoner's face. Gulf war usage, punning on the Walkman™ portable music device US, 1991 talk of the devil! said of a person who, while being spoken of, arrives unexpectedly; hence, an ungracious, though not necessarily unfriendly, greeting to that person. A shortening of the proverb 'Talk of the Devil, and he's presently at your elbow' UK, 1666 talk powder noun any central nervous system stimulant US, 1988 talk to the hand; tell it to the hand (because the face isn't listening); speak to the hand used for expressing a complete lack of interest in what is being said. Usually followed with 'because the face don't give a damn' or something in a similar vein, accompanied by a gesture of a raised hand, palm facing the other person US, 1995 talk-up noun in sales and marketing, a raising of awareness and expectations. A jargon-like variation of 'praise' UK, 1999 tall adjective 1 used of a jail sentence, lengthy US, 1992. 2 drug-intoxicated. A play on HIGH US, 1946 tallboy noun a 16-ounce can of beer US, 1984 tall grass noun in circus and carnival usage, an extremely remote location US, 1981 tallie; tally noun chiefly in Queensland, a tall, 750 ml bottle of beer AUSTRALIA, 2003 tall order noun an excessive demand, a difficult thing to achieve US, 1893 tall poppy noun an eminent, wealthy or successful person when viewed as needing deflation AUSTRALIA, 1902 tall poppy syndrome noun the habit of denigrating successful people. An outgrowth of the Australian's strong sense of egalitarianism and habit of siding with the underdog AUSTRALIA, 1983 tall story; tall tale noun an elaborate lie; an (enjoyable) exaggeration UK, 1846 tall wine noun sex in which the woman below the man moves and keeps her buttocks up off the bed TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986

Tally adjective Italian UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

tallywhacker; tallywacker noun the penis US, 1966 tam noun a knitted hat used by a Rastafarian to contain his dreadlocks. An abbreviation of conventional 'tam o'shanter' JAMAICA, 2002 tamale noun the vagina. The imagery is of a savoury dish (originally from Mexico): a rolled pancake with a spicy filling US, 1998 tamboo bamboo noun the penis. An allusion to a musical instrument made from a length of bamboo TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1980

Tammie noun a capsule of Temazepam™, a branded sleeping pill US, 1997

tammy noun a tampon UK, 2001

tamp verb to walk US, 1953

Tampa; Tampa pilot noun in shuffleboard, a hide disc on your side of the court near the apex of the ten US, 1967 tampax noun filter-tipped cigarette(s). From the similarity in appearance between the white tubes of manufactured cigarettes and Tampax™, a well-known brand of tampons UK, 1984

tampi; tampee noun marijuana JAMAICA, 1975

tamping noun a beating US, 1967 tampon noun 1 a snobbish, unpleasant person. An allusion to the nature of tampons in the sense that they are all 'stuck up cunts', punning on 'stuck-up' (snobbish) and CUNT (an unpleasant person) UK, 2001. 2 a fat marijuana cigarette US, 1997. ► maybe your tampon will be flushed perhaps you will be feeling better; maybe your mood will have improved. Note south Wales dialect tamping (angry) US, 1988

tampon dick noun a contemptible man UK, 1997 tamp up verb to beat someone physically US, 1962 tampy noun marijuana BAHAMAS, 1982 ta muchly thank you very much. A deliberate solecism used for humorous effect UK, 1969 tan verb 1 to consume something voraciously; to do something briskly or with urgency UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 2 to burgle somewhere UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. ► tan someone's hide; tan someone's arse to beat someone on the buttocks (as a punishment) UK, 1670

T and A noun visual depictions of sexually provocative females. From TITS AND ASS; TITS AND ARSE US, 1993

T and T verb to tape record and trace the origin of a phone call US, 2001 tangerine dream noun a type of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. Named for the colour of the tablet and after a German group that plays electronic, synthesized music UK, 1996

Tangier tiger noun a low grade variety of hashish from the foothills of the Rif Mountains UK, 2003 tangle noun ► on the tangle drinking; on an alcohol binge NEW ZEALAND, 1966 tangle verb to fight US, 1990. ► tangle ass to brawl US, 1950.

► tangle assholes to become involved in a confrontation US, 1985 tanglefoot noun 1 strong, homemade whisky US, 1860. 2 barbed wire staked to the ground as a defensive perimeter around a military camp or base US, 1990 tango noun a type of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. From the colour of the tablet; possibly an abbreviation of TANGERINE DREAM, or named after Tango™, a branded carbonated orange drink that, according to the product's advertising, has a surreal effect on all who drink it UK, 1996 tango boat noun an armoured landing craft US, 1971 tango november noun a token black soldier in an otherwise white unit or corps, especially the officer corps. From the military phonetic alphabet 'TN', short for 'token nigger' US, 1990 tank noun 1 a jail cell, especially one in a local police station US, 1912. 2 an intentional loss in a competition. Originally boxing slang. Also called a 'tank job' US, 1955. 3 a room in the Pentagon where the Joint Chiefs and Staff meet jointly with the Operations Deputies US, 1986. 4 a safe NEW ZEALAND, 1937. 5 a safe burglary. Prison slang. NEW ZEALAND, 1999. 6 of money, all you have with you UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 7 an old and heavy surfboard US, 1988. 8 a heavy-set woman TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1964. 9 an ugly girl US, 1966. 10 money. Probably evolves from TANKER (a prizefighter who accepts payment to throw a fight in a fixed boxing match) UK, 1991. ► go in the tank used of an athletic contest, lost on purpose US, 1955. ► in the tank drunk US, 1975 tank-ass noun buttocks that are disproportionately large US, 2001 tanked adjective 1 drunk or drug-intoxicated. Also used as 'tanked up' UK, 1893. 2 in computing, not operating US, 1991 tanker noun 1 a hired thug UK, 2003. 2 a heavy drinker. From TANK UP (to drink) CANADA, 1984. 3 a boxing match or other athletic contest that has been fixed US, 1955 tanker wanker noun someone who flies in air-to-air refuellers. A Royal Air Force term, formed by rhyming the airborne 'tanker' with an all-purpose pejorative; reported by Squadron Leader G.D. Wilson, 1979 UK, 1979 tankman noun a safe-blower AUSTRALIA, 1972

tank money noun funds that are employed to give a fraudulent impression of substance or wealth UK, 2000 tank town noun a small, unimportant town. A possible railway etymology US, 1906 tank tracks noun in the Canadian military, folds that develop along the top of the official beret CANADA, 1995 tank-up noun a drinking binge NEW ZEALAND, 1959 tank up verb 1 to administer fluids to a dehydrated hospital patient US, 1994. 2 to consume large quantities of something, especially alcohol US, 1902 tanner noun in pre-decimalisation currency, sixpence, 6d; a coin of that value. Inflation has rendered the conversion from 6d to 2½p meaningless UK, 1811 tanorexia noun an addiction to sunbathing, especially by means of sunbeds. A punning combination of 'tan' and 'anorexia' which sacrifices the meaning of anorexia for a journalistic tag UK, 1997 tanorexic noun a person who is addicted to sunbathing, especially by means of sunbeds US, 1998

tans noun the standard US Army summer khaki uniform US, 1990

Tans noun the Black and Tans IRELAND, 1992

tantie noun ► tantie come to town to experience the bleed period of your menstrual cycle TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tanty noun a tantrum AUSTRALIA, 1987

tan valise noun a blonde prostitute US, 1960 tap noun 1 a blow given or received in a fight UK, 1996. 2 a murder US, 1963. 3 in circus and carnival usage, the admission price US, 1981 tap verb 1 to borrow something, especially money UK, 1953. 2 to ask for, or imply readiness to accept, a tip. Used by ships' stewards UK, 1961.

3 to successfully attract a partner for sexual intimacy UK, 2002. 4 to have sex US, 1949. 5 to kill someone US, 1963. 6 to intercept a telephone communication. From an earlier sense of intercepting a telegraphic message UK, 1869. 7 in poker, to bet all of your chips, or an amount equal to an opponent's bet, depending on context US, 1947. ► tap a kidney to urinate US, 1997. ► tap the pot in bar dice games, to bet the total amount of the pot US, 1971 tap city noun when gambling, the position of being out of funds US, 1976

tap code noun a method of cell-to-cell communication in a prison where talking is forbidden US, 1982 tap dancer noun 1 a black person who curries favour from white people with obsequious conduct US, 1974. 2 a delivery truck driver US, 1971 tape and tuck verb (used of a male) to tape your penis and testicles between your legs in an effort to pass as a woman AUSTRALIA, 1985 tape dance verb to buy a block of stock at a price slightly higher than the last price on the tape for that stock US, 1988 tapioca noun 1 semen; an urgent need to ejaculate semen. The unsettling image of a hot milk-pudding UK, 1980. 2 a joker (the playing card). Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tapo noun an inadvertent error in a taped message US, 1982 tap-out noun a complete depletion of funds, especially in gambling US, 1979 tap out verb 1 to run out of money, usually as a result of gambling US, 1939. 2 in a casino, to relieve a dealer from duty US, 1961 tapped adjective ► see: DOOLALLY tapped-out adjective having been emptied. A figurative use of 'tap' (to draw off liquid) UK, 2001 tapper noun 1 a persistent borrower UK, 1981. 2 a boy who persists in asking a girl for a date when reason would dictate a strategic retreat. Teen slang US, 1951. 3 someone who sells the police false or useless information in return for a small sum UK, 1959 tappers noun dice that have been loaded with mercury that shifts when the dice are tapped US, 1962 tap up verb to approach someone with a proposal UK, 2001 tar noun 1 coffee. Citizens' band radio slang, from the colour rather than the consistency US, 1976. 2 crude, dark, gummy heroin, usually from Mexico US, 1992. 3 opium. From the colour and consistency of raw opium US, 1936. 4 crack cocaine and heroin mixed and smoked together UK, 2002. 5 rum TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. 6 a sailor. Probably a shortening of obsolete 'tarpaulin' UK, 1676 tara; ta-ra; tarra; tra goodbye. Originally northern, now more widespread through the agency of Coronation Street and other television programmes; possibly a slovening of TA-TA UK, 1958 tar and feather; tar noun a leather jacket. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Tara Palmer-Tomkinson; Tara Palmer; tara noun a drama. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of a celebrity-socialite; generally applied to a minor inconvenience UK, 2000 tararabit goodbye. A Liverpudlian elaboration of TARA (goodbye), thus 'goodbye [for] a bit' UK, 1984 tar baby noun a black person. Offensive. From the Br'er Rabbit stories by Joel Chandler Harris US, 1962 tar beach noun a flat urban rooftop, used for sleeping or drug use US, 1970 tardust noun cocaine. A pun on STARDUST (cocaine) UK, 2003 tariff noun 1 the portion of a life-sentence to be served in custody. A nuance of the conventional sense UK, 2002. 2 the fee charged by a prostitute TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

Tarka verb to have anal intercourse. Rhyming slang, based on the novel by Henry Williamson (1895–1977), Tarka the Otter, rhyming with 'dot her' (to have anal sex) UK, 2002 tarmac noun in Canadian military aviation, the ramp section of an air base hangar line CANADA, 1995 tarnation noun used as a euphemism for 'damnation' US, 1790

tarred adjective drunk BARBADOS, 1965

Tarrier noun a Catholic, especially of Irish descent UK, 2002 tart noun 1 a woman AUSTRALIA, 1903. 2 a promiscuous woman UK, 1887. 3 a prostitute UK, 1894. 4 a girlfriend or sweetheart UK, 1864. 5 a wife or female partner. Rhyming slang for 'sweetheart' UK, 1864. 6 a weak, ineffectual man. A term of abuse, used to call a man a woman; a wider gender-only sense of 'tart' than when applied to a woman UK, 1999 tartan noun cocaine. Etymology unknown UK, 2001 tartan banner noun a sixpenny coin; sixpence. Rhyming slang for TANNER that dropped out of circulation after decimalisation in 1971 UK, 1960 tartanize verb to adapt an English product for Scottish use or sale; hence, the adjective: tartanized UK, 2004 tarted-up adjective 1 dressed like a prostitute; dressed smartly UK, 1947. 2 of a thing, business, building, etc, having a new image or presentation. Often derogatory in tone UK, 1984 tart fuel noun bottled alcopop (branded alcoholic beverage with the characteristics of a soft drink) or other alcoholic drinks deemed to be for feminine consumption. A fashionable drink amongst young women who will, when inebriated, it is suggested/hoped by the coinor of this term, relax their moral standards and behave promiscuously UK, 2002

tart's delight noun a frilly, fussy, looped-up way of hanging lace curtains at windows UK, 1980

tart's fart noun used as a comparative measure of little or negligible worth UK, 2002 tart up verb to dress someone up or decorate something smartly. Often with the implication of tastelessness or tawdriness UK, 1952

tarty adjective like a prostitute UK, 1918

Tarzan noun 1 sex outdoors US, 1966. 2 a soldier who is overly anxious to take the highly visible and dangerous point position on a combat march US, 1991. ► like ten Tarzan quickly; loudly TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1984

tash; tache noun a moustache UK, 1893

tashered adjective drunk UK, 2002

tash test noun a man's moustache seen as an indicator of homosexuality and, hence, predictive of HIV status. Formed from TASH (a moustache). A medical observation that, hopefully, was more witty than practical UK, 2002 task noun in prison, an act of masturbation UK, 1996

Tasmaniac noun a person from Tasmania AUSTRALIA, 1867

Tasmanian Tiger noun a strain of marijuana, known elsewhere as New Zealand green, Thai Buddha and Hawaiian head AUSTRALIA, 2002

Tasmanian yawn noun vomiting, especially when experienced crossing the Tasmanian Sea AUSTRALIA, 1995 tassel dance noun a sexual dance focused on the woman's breasts and the tassels worn attached thereto US, 1977 tassie noun an intaglio (an engraved figure or design). Used by antique dealers UK, 1977

Tassie noun 1 Tasmania AUSTRALIA, 1892. 2 a Tasmanian AUSTRALIA, 1914

taste noun 1 an alcoholic drink US, 1919. 2 a sample US, 1990. 3 a small sample of drugs, especially heroin US, 1952 taste-face noun a heroin user who lends his syringe to others in return for small amounts of heroin US, 1978

-tastic suffix used as an intensifier. On the model of POPTASTIC US, 2003

tasty adjective 1 attractive, sexually appealing UK, 1899. 2 worthwhile; valuable; exhibiting strength UK, 1975. 3 competent; polished. The term can be applied to either the work or the person who did it IRELAND, 1999. 4 used of a known, especially well-respected criminal; capable of physical violence UK, 1975. 5 having a pleasing flavour; appetising. In conventional use from the early 1600s; by mid-C19 considered colloquial UK, 1617

Taswegian nickname a person from Tasmania. Blend of Tasmania and Norwegian AUSTRALIA, 1961 tat noun 1 an article, or collection of articles, of inferior or rubbishy quality; odds and ends of material. The spelling 'tatt' is also used

UK, 1951. 2 a tattoo US, 1994. 3 a swindle featuring dice and doubled bets US, 1963

tata noun nonsense TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990 ta-ta goodbye. At first chiefly nursery, now (in the US) simply highly affected UK, 1823 ta-tas noun the shakes AUSTRALIA, 1977

tatas noun the female breasts US, 1995

Tate and Lyle noun style. Rhyming slang, formed from the company that describes itself as 'world leader in carbohydrate ingredients' UK, 1992 tater; tatur; tottie noun a potato UK, 1759

tatered adjective drunk US, 1993 taters noun the buttocks US, 1999 taters in the mould; potatoes in the mould; taters adjective cold. Rhyming slang, most commonly used as 'taters' UK, 1934

tats noun dice, especially loaded dice or dice marked for cheating UK, 1688

TATT (in doctors' shorthand) tired all the time UK, 2002

tatted adjective tattooed US, 1990

tatting down noun an act of tidying away possessions and making ready for travel. Used by late 1980s–early 90s counterculture travellers UK, 1999 tattletale noun 1 in trucking, a device that records time and speed data, used by company officials to assure compliance with laws and regulations. Known conventionally as a 'tachograph' US, 1962. 2 in motor racing, a specially designed tachometer that measures and records the engine's highest speed during a run or lap US, 1965. 3 in trucking, a dangling chain that shows the approximate weight of the load by its distance from the axle US, 1961

Tatts nickname 1 Tattersalls (a racecourse enclosure) UK, 1991. 2 a lottery originally run from Tattersall's Hotel, Sydney AUSTRALIA, 1916 tatty adjective shabby, tawdry UK, 1933 tatty-bye goodbye. Probably a conflation of TA-TA and 'bye!'. Popularised by Liverpool comedian Ken Dodd (b.1929); in widespread use by the mid-1970s UK, 1980 taury rope noun the Pope. Glasgow rhyming slang, formed on Scottish dialect for 'tarry rope' UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

taw; toy noun in marbles, a marble used for shooting UK, 1709

tawny adjective excellent US, 1993 tax; taxing noun the fee paid to enter a crack house US, 1992 tax verb 1 to steal something; to rob somewhere UK, 1994. 2 to steal valuables from vehicles that are waiting at traffic lights UK, 1996. 3 in Montreal, to forcibly confront and force someone to hand over money, jewellery or clothes CANADA, 2002. 4 in prison, to extort money or other payment such as tobacco from a weaker prisoner by threat of violence UK, 1996. 5 to tease or berate someone US, 2001 taxi noun a call girl. Glossed as 'Colloquialism used in the appropriate urban circles for a prostitute who operates at a place required by her clients[.]' by Nigel Hankin, Hanklyn-Janklyn, 2003 INDIA, 2003 taxi bit noun a prison sentence of between five and fifteen years US, 1950 taxi-cab noun a crab; crab meat. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 taxi-cabs; taxis noun pubic lice. Rhyming slang for CRABS UK, 1959

taxi dance verb to work as a taxi dancer US, 1973

taxi dancer; taxi girl noun a woman who will dance and talk with bar patrons, but stops short of prostitution; a prostitute US, 1930 taxing noun 1 the theft of high-price training shoes being worn by the victim UK, 1992. 2 the robbery of drug dealers by drug dealers UK, 2002 taxi rank; taxi noun 1 an act of masturbation. Rhyming slang for WANK UK, 1992. 2 a bank. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 taxi-rank; taxi verb to masturbate. Rhyming slang for WANK UK, 1984 taxpayer noun a building that generates enough rental income to pay the taxes on it US, 1921

taylaylay noun the vagina TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

TB noun 1 tuberculosis US, 1912. 2 in circus and carnival usage, a dull town where business is poor. An abbreviation of TOTAL BLANK US, 1981

TB adjective loyal, true blue US, 1997

TBF noun severe morbidity, usually terminal. A 'total body failure' US, 1989

TBH adjective potentially available for gay sex. Acronym of 'to be had' UK, 1970

T-bird noun 1 a Ford Thunderbird. First sold in October 1954, the Thunderbird became an American cultural icon US, 1994. 2 Thunderbird™ wine US, 1973. 3 a T-33 jet trainer aircraft US, 1956. 4 a capsule of amobarbital sodium and secobarbital sodium (trade name Tuinal™), a combination of central nervous system depressants US, 1993

T-bone noun a Model T Ford car, first built in 1908 US, 1970

T-bone verb while driving a car, to drive into the side of another car US, 1991

T bowl noun a toilet US, 1982

TBP in doctors' shorthand total body pain UK, 2002

TCB verb to take care of business. Coined by the black community and then spread into widespread use US, 1964

T-dot nickname Toronto, Ontario. From the proliferation of high-tech businesses in the city CANADA, 2004 tea noun 1 marijuana US, 1935. 2 in horse racing, a drug (especially cocaine or strychnine) which will stimulate a horse US, 1951. ► not for all the tea in China! certainly not!; not at any price AUSTRALIA, 1937 tea and cocoa verb to say so. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tea and toast noun the mail, the post. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 teabag noun 1 a contemptible person. Rhyming slang for SLAG UK, 2000. 2 a marijuana cigarette US, 1982 tea-bag verb in the pursuit of sexual pleasure, to take a man's scrotum completely into the mouth, sucking and tonguing it US, 1998 tea-bagger noun in motor racing, a lover of British sports cars US, 1965 teabagging noun the sucking of a man's entire scrotum US, 1998 teabags verb to steal something. Rhyming prison slang: from TEALEAF (a thief), punning on 'bag' (to steal) NEW ZEALAND, 1999 tea boat noun in prison, a financial alliance between several prisoners to pay for tea UK, 1996 tea boy noun a person who runs errands and performs other menial tasks UK, 1968 tea, breakfast and dinner noun everything TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990 tea caddy noun an Irish person. Rhyming slang for PADDY UK, 2000 teach noun a teacher UK, 1958 teacher noun a traffic police officer who lectures violators instead of issuing citations US, 1962 teacher arms noun the flabby arms of an overweight person AUSTRALIA, 2000 teacup queer noun an effeminate homosexual man US, 1957 tea'd up adjective marijuana-intoxicated US, 1959 tea for two; teafer noun a Jewish person. Rhyming slang for 'Jew' UK, 1992 tea girl noun a quasi-prostitute in a Vietnamese bar who cadges US servicemen into buying her drinks, especially of Saigon tea US, 1966 tea grout noun a Boy Scout. Rhyming slang UK, 1967 tea head noun a user of marijuana US, 1949 tea hound noun a marijuana user US, 1951 tea-leaf verb to rob someone; to steal something. Rhyming slang: from the noun sense UK, 2000 tealeaf; tea-leaf noun 1 a thief. Rhyming slang UK, 1903. 2 a small penis. A small, limp, black visual metaphor JAMAICA, 2002 tea-leaving adjective inclined to thievery. Rhyming slang for THIEVING extended from TEALEAF (a thief) UK, 1960 team noun a criminal gang UK, 1950. ► on the team homosexual, from the homosexual point of view UK, 1993 team adjective dressing in a style that identifies you with a particular group US, 1989 team cream noun an orgy US, 1970 team-handed adjective working together as a gang. From TEAM (a criminal gang) UK, 1996 team Jesus noun a group of zealous, proselytising Christian students US, 2004 tea pad noun an apartment, house or room where marijuana is smoked US, 1938 tea party noun a social party where marijuana is smoked US, 1968 teapot noun 1 a heavy user of marijuana UK, 1983. 2 standing with your hands on your hips NEW ZEALAND, 1998 teapot lid; teapot noun 1 a Jewish person. Rhyming slang for YID UK, 1960. 2 a child. Rhyming slang for KID UK, 1960. 3 a pound sterling. Rhyming slang for QUID UK, 1960 teapot lid; teapot verb to fool, to pretend. Rhyming slang for KID UK, 1934 tear noun 1 a spree, a period of self-indulgent enjoyment UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 an expedition to deface advertising billboards US, 2001. 3 a manipulation of a record to create a musical effect that plays a sample in two sections with a jolt-effect in the middle, 2002. ► on the tear engaged in a drinking session IRELAND, 2003 tear verb 1 to leave, especially in a hurry US, 1951. 2 to surf aggressively and with skill US, 1988. ► tear a passion to tatters in a dramatic performance, to over-act US, 1973. ► tear a strip off someone; tear someone off a strip to reprimand someone UK, 1941. ► tear it to frustrate or thwart someone's intentions, usually in the phrase 'that's torn it' UK, 1909. ► tear off a chunk to have sex US, 1973. ► tear off a tab; tear off a scab to open a can of beer NEW ZEALAND, 1984. ► tear off; tear off a piece to have sex US, 1964. ► tear someone a new asshole to trash someone; to abuse someone verbally US, 1968. ► tear the arse out of to destroy or spoil something UK, 1999. ► tear the roof off to create or intensify mass excitement through the agency of loud music. A refinement of 'raise the roof' (to make a great noise) UK, 2001. ► tear them apart; tear them up to delight an audience UK, 1933. ► tear your pants to commit a social gaffe US, 1947 tear-arse around; tear-arse about; tear ass verb to race about wildly. Elaboration of 'tear' (to rush) UK, 1999 tearaway noun a minor criminal, one who tends towards violence at the slightest excuse. Originally a 'ladies' tearaway', a criminal specialising in snatching (tearing away) women's handbags UK, 1958 teardrop noun 1 a dose of crack cocaine, packaged in the corner of a plastic bag US, 1994. 2 a surfboard that is wide at the rear and narrow at the nose AUSTRALIA, 1963 tearjerker noun a melodramatic or sentimental and sad story or song US, 1921 tear-off noun a minor criminal, one who tends towards violence at the slightest excuse. A variation of TEARAWAY UK, 1966 tearoom; t-room noun a public toilet. From an era when a great deal of homosexual contact was in public toilets; probably an abbreviation of 'toilet room', a term used in reported criminal prosecutions of homosexuals in the late C19. A public toilet in Illinois was the focus of Laud Humphrey's famous sociological study Tearoom Trade US, 1941 tea-room cruiser noun a male homosexual prostitute who frequents public toilets US, 1982 tea-room trade noun a sexual partner found in a public toilet US, 1980 tear-up noun 1 a gang fight; a brawl. From conventional 'tear-up' (a commotion) US, 1964. 2 in jazz use, a period of wild, inspired music-making US, 1958. 3 any valueless letter addressed to Scotland Yard. Officially filed in the Metropolitan Police's General Registry as GM [General Matters]51 UK, 1999 tease and please noun sexual arousal after which satisfaction is delayed under the pretence that such gratification is denied, especially when advertised as a service offered by a prostitute UK, 2003 teaser noun 1 in horse breeding, a horse used to test a mare's readiness for breeding US, 1976. 2 in sports betting, a bet that ties two or more games together US, 1975 teaspoon noun a measure of heroin or other narcotic drug UK, 1996 tea strainer noun a trainer (a shoe). Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tea-towel head noun an offensive term for an Arabic person AUSTRALIA, 1981 tea-towel holder noun the anus. A resemblance in shape and detail UK, 2002 tea wagon noun in the television and film industries, the console used by the sound mixer US, 1977 tec noun a detective UK, 1879 tecate; tecatos noun heroin. Directly from Mexican Spanish US, 1982 tecato noun a heroin or morphine addict. Directly from Mexican Spanish US, 1970 tech noun 1 a technical college, an institution that provides further and higher education. Often 'the Tech' is used for your local one UK, 2000. 2 a technician; someone employed to deal with technological devices, especially in a creative milieu. Also called a 'techie' US, 1942. 3 a nine-millimetre handgun US, 1995 tech dog noun in foot-propelled scootering, a rider with strong technical skills UK, 2000 technical; tech noun in foot-powered scootering, any trick that is performed on a flat surface or ledge and requires a good deal of technical skill UK, 2000

technicolour laugh noun an act of vomiting; vomit AUSTRALIA, 1964

technicolour yawn noun an act of vomiting AUSTRALIA, 1964 techno adjective as a combining form, denotes intrinsic technological expertise or inspiration, especially in relation to computing, gadgetry or music fashions US, 1989 technobabble noun pretentious scientific chatter. Modelled on 'psychobabble' US, 1981 technodolt noun a person who is completely technologically illiterate US, 1990

technodweeb noun a person who is passionately interested in technology US, 1990 technosavvy noun someone who understands technology US, 1996

technowords noun a scientific vocabulary US, 1996 teddy noun a bottle of alcohol, legal or otherwise CANADA, 1986 teddy bear noun 1 a dose of LSD identified by the printed picture of a teddy bear UK, 2003. 2 a person who dresses and behaves in a showy manner. Rhyming slang for LAIR AUSTRALIA, 1944. 3 a pear. Rhyming slang, formed from a cuddly toy UK, 1992 teddy bear suit noun heavy winter garments issued to US troops during World War 2 and later in Korea US, 1982

Teddy Boy; Teddy; Ted noun a member of a youth cult of the mid-to late 1950s, characterised by a style of dress loosely inspired by fashions of the Edwardian era (1901–10). Edward abbreviates to Teddy and Ted. Teddy boys referred to themselves as Teds UK, 1954

Ted Frazer noun a cut-throat razor. Rhyming slang UK, 1997

Ted Heath noun a thief. Rhyming slang, formed (satirically) on Edward Heath (1916–2005), Conservative Prime Minister 1970–74 UK, 1972

Ted Ray adjective homosexual. Rhyming slang for FAY; probably formed from the British comedian and actor (1905–77); however, Bodmin Dark, Dirty Cockney Rhyming Slang, 2003, suggests an American jazz musician of the same name UK, 2003

Teds noun ▷ see: EDWARD HEALTH teedle-ee noun a urination. Glasgow rhyming slang for PEE UK, SCOTLAND, 1988

teed off adjective angry US, 1950 teef verb to steal something. A mispronunciation of 'thieve' or an elision of TEA-LEAF (to thief) UK, 1997 teem noun team. Fashionable misspelling UK, 2002 teenager noun 1 a person aged between 13 and 19. Originally 'teen-ager'. Since about 1955 has usually been written as one word, and since about 1960 has been regarded as standard English US, 1935. 2 cocaine UK, 2002

teener noun one sixteenth of an ounce US, 1993 teen-flick noun a film intended for teenagers UK, 2003 teenie noun 1 a younger teenager US, 1968. 2 one-sixteenth of a dollar. Trader usage US, 1992 teensy adjective tiny. A childish corruption US, 1899 teensy-weensy adjective very small US, 1906 teenth noun a sixteenth of an ounce (of drugs) UK, 2001 teeny adjective very small UK, 1825

teenybop adjective of or for teenyboppers US, 1967 teenybopper noun a young teenager, especially a girl US, 1965 teenyhooker noun a young female prostitute US, 1982

teeny weeny adjective tiny. 'Teeny' came from 'tiny', and then the reduplicative 'teeny weeny', which is often found in the same breath as 'itsy bitsy' US, 1931 tee off verb 1 to annoy or to irritate someone US, 1961. 2 to fart UK, 1998 tees noun dice on which some numbers are repeated, usually made with identical numbers on opposite sides US, 1950 teeth noun cocaine; crack cocaine. From the resemblance of the drug to small teeth US, 1994. ► my back teeth are floating I am desperate to urinate UK, 2001

TEETH (in doctors' shorthand) tried everything else, try homeopathy. Medical slang UK, 2003 teeth and tits used to remind dancers that an attractive smile and a distracting display will stop an audience noticing the footwork. Theatrical UK, 2005 teething troubles noun initial problems with any new device, invention, enterprise, technology, etc UK, 1937

teev noun a television AUSTRALIA, 1982

teflon adjective describes a person to whom blame doesn't stick. From the non-stick properties of polytetrafluoroethylene, trademarked as Teflon™ US, 2004 tekno noun the recreational drug ketamine. Back slang for 'on ket' UK, 2004 tele noun a television set; television. Early use mainly US (as television itself), adopted enthusiastically in the UK in the mid-50s US, 1940 telegram noun 1 a message designed for mass distribution from prisoner to prisoner, passed from one cell to the next US, 1992. 2 in prison, a written notice given to an inmate who has been placed on report for an offence UK, 1996 telegraph verb to inadvertently disclose or reveal your intentions to an opponent UK, 1925 telephone noun a bilingual Canadian who serves as a go-between for English and French speakers CANADA, 1979 telephone booth noun in poker, a player who regularly 'calls' (matches the bet of the previous player) US, 1988 telephone number noun a long prison sentence US, 1950 telephone numbers noun 1 a large sum of money US, 1979. 2 in horse racing, a winning bet at high odds US, 1934

telephone pole noun ▷ see: FLYING TELEPHONE POLE telephone tag noun the serial leaving of messages when two people who are trying to talk by telephone can never reach each other US, 1979 telescope noun the penis. A jocular euphemism US, 1968 teletubby; telletubby noun a husband. Rhyming slang for HUBBY, formed on Teletubbies, a BBC television programme for young children, first seen in 1996 UK, 1998 tell noun 1 an unintentionally honest reaction; a revealing piece of body-language. Adopted from gambling jargon UK, 1999. 2 in gambling, any mannerism that reveals the relative value of the player's hand US, 1991 tell verb ► I'll tell you what; tell you what I'll tell you something; this is how it is; often as the introduction to a suggestion UK, 1596. ► tell it like it is 1 to speak directly, candidly and with a self-righteous conviction of access to a great truth US, 1965. 2 to tell the whole truth. In black usage originally US, 1964. ► tell on someone to inform on someone UK, 1539. ► tell someone where to get off to severely rebuke someone; to scold someone US, 1900. ► tell the tale in a swindle, to explain to the victim just how he will profit from the arrangement being proposed US, 1989 tell ► tell someone where to stick it to emphatically reject. A variation of 'stick it up your arse' UK, 1999 teller noun a skateboarder whose tales of accomplishments are exaggerated US, 1984 telling-off noun a scolding, a reprimand. From TELL OFF UK, 1911 tell it to the marines! used for registering disbelief. Formed, apparently, from an inter-service jibe against the credulity of the marines UK, 1806 tell me another one used for registering disbelief UK, 1914 tell off verb to scold or reprimand someone UK, 1919

telltale noun in the language of wind surfing, a streamer on the mast used to determine wind direction US, 1985 tell-tale-tit noun someone who tells tales. A nursery term, featured in children's playground rhymes UK, 1841 telly noun television US, 1940. ► off the telly as seen on television UK, 2000

Telly nickname Telegraph Avenue, Berkeley, California US, 1966

telly- prefix telephone. Used for constructions such as 'tellypole' or 'tellywires' US, 1970 temazzies; temazies; temmies; temazes; tems noun Temazepam™, a branded tranquilizer UK, 1998

temp noun a temporary worker US, 1980

temp verb to work as a temporary worker US, 1980 temper noun a restaurant customer who leaves a 10% tip US, 1995 temperance punch noun a non-alcoholic fruit punch drink US, 1957 temple balls; temple bells; temple hash noun potent hashish shaped as small balls, claimed to originate in Nepal US, 1971 temple du vin noun Le Clos Jordan, a winery to be designed by Frank Gehry on the Jordan Bench, on Ontario's Niagara Peninsula, Canada's main wine-producing area CANADA, 2002 ten noun 1 a perfectly beautiful woman. Based on a grading scale of one to ten, popularised in the 1979 film 10 starring Bo Derek US, 1979. 2 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 2003 ten adjective very good. Teen slang, from the marking of schoolwork UK, 1977 ten-bob twist noun a drug sale involving drugs, usually marijuana, costing ten shillings UK, 1983

ten-cent line noun in an illegal betting operation, the ten percent charge for making a bet US, 1973

ten-cent pistol noun a dose of heroin that is either adulterated with a poison or contains a more pure heroin than usual, sold or given to someone with the intent of injuring or killing them US, 1966

ten-cent rock noun ten dollars' worth of crack cocaine US, 1991 ten commandments noun bare feet. As Long John Silver said, it is good to have ten toes TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 tend verb to mind your own business US, 1995

ten-days noun any temporary job TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

ten-day sweat noun treatment for a sexually transmitted infection, involving heat therapy and sulpha-based drugs US, 1949 tender adjective 1 in poker, said of a hand that is probably unplayable US, 1988. 2 weakened by oxidation; rusty CANADA, 1992 tenement noun in hold 'em poker, a ten and nine US, 1996 ten F noun a gall bladder patient. Often a fat, fair, fecund, fortyish, flatulent, female with foul, frothy, floating faeces US, 1985 ten-man job noun a very tough man, a very hard man to arrest UK, 1998

Tennant Creek noun a Greek person. Rhyming slang, from the name of a goldmining town in the Northern Territory AUSTRALIA, 1977

tenner noun 1 a ten-pound note; the value of £10; a ten-dollar note UK, 1845. 2 a prison sentence of ten years US, 1950. 3 in the television and film industries, a 10,000-watt spotlight US, 1990

Tennessee top hat noun a hairstyle in which the hair is worn short at the front and long at the back. Better known, perhaps, as a MULLET US, 2000

tennies noun tennis shoes; trainers US, 1965 tennis, anyone? used for humorously suggesting an activity. Seen as quintessentially British and enormously witty in its many variant forms US, 1951 tennis racket; tennis noun a jacket. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tennis shoes noun tyres US, 1976

ten one hundred noun the act of urination US, 1976

ten over noun a surfing stance in which the surfer's ten toes extend over the nose or front of the board US, 1991 ten percenter noun a person who buys and resells stolen goods US, 1976 tens noun amphetamine UK, 2003 tense adjective used of a computer program, smart and economical US, 1983 tension noun crack cocaine US, 1993 tensky noun a ten-dollar note. The 'sky' is a meaningless decorative embellishment US, 1962 ten-spot noun 1 a ten-dollar note US, 1954. 2 a ten-pound note. Adopted directly from the previous sense UK, 1984. 3 a ten-year prison sentence US, 1965

Tenth Street noun a ten-dollar note US, 1946

'tention noun in poker, a ten US, 1951 tent peg noun an egg. Rhyming slang UK, 1949 tent pole noun an erect penis. From the image of an erect penis pushing up against a sheet US, 1992 tent squirrel noun in circus and carnival usage, a performer US, 1981 tenuc; teenuc noun the vagina; an unpleasant or despicable person. Back slang for CUNT UK, 1904 termination dust noun the first snow of the winter. Because it terminates construction in the north US, 1957 termite noun a carpenter US, 1963 terper noun a professional dancer. An abbreviation of Terpsichore, daughter of Jupiter and Mnemosyne, the muse of dancing US, 1973 terps; turps noun a cough syrup containing elixir of terpin hydrate and codeine, abused for non-medical purposes US, 1971 terr; ter; terro; terry noun a guerilla soldier; a terrorist. Originally Rhodesian military slang SOUTH AFRICA, 1978

terra-poo noun a crossbreed of terrier and poodle US, 2001 terrible adjective excellent US, 1960 terrible Turk noun work. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 terribly adverb used as a positive intensifier with the meaning exceedingly, greatly, very UK, 1833 terrier noun a railway track worker US, 1977 terrific adjective terrific. Not a lot of thought goes into clipped adjectives, and with a few exceptions they do not last long US, 1951

Territory rig noun any of various adaptations of formal attire worn by men in far northern Australia AUSTRALIA, 1964 terrorist noun a teacher who intimidates his pupils into learning. Teen slang, post 11th September 2001 US, 2002 terrorize verb to cover something with graffiti US, 1997 terror track noun in cricket, a wicket best suited to fast bowlers UK, 1996

Terry toon noun a prostitute's pimp. Rhyming slang for HOON AUSTRALIA, 1973

Terry Waite adjective late. Rhyming slang, formed (surely with irony) on the church envoy and hostage negotiator (b.1939) who was held hostage in Beirut for 1,760 days between January 1987 and November 1991 UK, 1998 tess noun a young man TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1960 test verb ► test the shocks to have sex in a car US, 1997 tester noun a sample of drugs UK, 2000 testicules noun the testicles UK, 2003 test-tube baby noun a poker player whose experience is largely limited to simulated computer poker games US, 1996 test-tube wallah noun a forensic scientist. Police use UK, 1971 tete noun the female breast TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

Texas Cadillac noun a Chevrolet Suburban sports utility vehicle CANADA, 1991

Texas gate noun a cattleguard CANADA, 1997

Texas mickey noun a very large bottle of alcohol CANADA, 2001

Texas pot noun marijuana cultivated in Texas US, 2003

Texas Ranger; TR noun danger. Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

Texas rat noun in the used car business, a car previously owned by a salesman or other long-distance driver US, 1968

Texas stop noun slowing down but not fully stopping as required by law at a stop sign US, 1962

Texas sunflowers noun in craps, a roll of two fives US, 1983

Texas tea noun 1 marijuana US, 1938. 2 oil US, 1984

Texas toothbrush noun the penis. In Texas, known as an 'Oklahoma toothbrush' US, 1994

Texas Volkswagen noun a Cadillac US, 1956

Texican noun a Texan US, 1984

Tex-Mex noun marijuana, of Texan-Mexican origin UK, 1998

Tex Ritter; tex noun bitter (beer). Rhyming slang, formed from the US cowboy film actor, 1907–74 UK, 1992 text verb to send a text message on a mobile phone UK, 2001 textile noun among naturists, a person who wears clothes UK, 1995 textile adjective clothed, as distinct from nude. From the noun sense UK, 1995 tezzers noun the testicles UK, 2003

TFB too fucking bad US, 1996

TFTF an after-dinner bloated condition unsuited to the advancement of romance. A coded message: 'too fat to fuck' UK, 2002

TG noun a young member of a youth gang US, 2001

TGIF Thank God it's Friday. Notable variations: the restaurant chain 'T.G.I. Friday's', established in New York in 1965, now worldwide; and the controversial UK television programme TFI Friday, 1996–2000 US, 1941

T-grams noun a grandmother US, 1998

TH noun in betting, odds of 8–1 UK, 1991

Thai Buddha noun a strain of marijuana, known elsewhere as New Zealand green, Tasmanian tiger and Hawaiian head AUSTRALIA, 2002

Thai green noun a strain of marijuana originating in Thailand UK, 2002

Thai stick noun marijuana cultivated in Thailand, soaked in hashish oil, wound on short thin sticks of bamboo which are bundled for sale; a cigarette rolled from marijuana cultivated in Thailand US, 1975

Thai weed; Thai noun marijuana cultivated in Thailand; marijuana from Thailand soaked in hashish oil UK, 1997

Thames trout; trout noun a condom. Appears to be a London coinage, probably after the rare appearance of a condom floating down the River Thames; remembered by a correspondent from Sheffield as a 1970s usage UK, 2004 thang noun thing. Slang by vowel exchange US, 1977 thanie noun heroin UK, 2003 thank fuck used in relief when others may be grateful to God. Euphemistic use of 'fuck' for what might otherwise border on blasphemy UK, 1999

thank goodness used as a register of heartfelt or exaggerated gratitude UK, 1872 thanks a bunch used as an insincere or derisory declaration of gratitude UK, 2003 thanks a bundle used as an insincere or derisory declaration of gratitude UK, 1990 thanks a million thank you very much indeed. Usually sincere, but occasionally derisory UK, 1984 thanks awfully thank you! Quintessentially English middle- and upper-class UK, 1890 thanks but no thanks used when declining an offer UK, 1979 thanks ever so thank you! UK, 1914 thank you and good night! used in final dismissal of a foolish suggestion, or in surrender to overwhelming misfortune. A valedictory phrase that became a broadcasting cliché which inspired a catchphrase UK, 1975

thank-you-m'am noun a bump or dip in a road which produces a moment of slight uneasiness in the stomach US, 1960 that adjective used as a mildly derogatory prefix to a (usually proper) noun UK, 1976 that adverb to such a degree; so; very. In conventional use from the mid-C15, but by C20 considered colloquial or dialect UK, 1999 that pronoun used persuasively in anticipated commendation UK, 1849 that and this noun urine; an act of urination. Rhyming slang, PISS, also employed as a verb UK, 1961

Thatcher noun a type of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. From Margaret Thatcher (b.1925), former UK Prime Minister 1979–90, later Baroness Thatcher of Kesteven; her name is used here by an illicit drug manufacturer, perhaps as a tribute to her commitment to free enterprise UK, 1996

Thatcher wagon noun a car with the back cut away CANADA, 1987 that had to hurt! used as a humorous if not particularly sympathetic observation of a painful event US, 1992

that'll be the day! used of something that is not very likely to occur or be done AUSTRALIA, 1941 that'll happen used as a humorous comment on something that should not happen or never happens. Coined and popularised by ESPN's Keith Olberman US, 1997 that plays used for expressing approval US, 1966 that's chalk! that's great! BAHAMAS, 1982

that's close used for expressing doubt about a statement or request US, 1973 that's dead! used for expressing a strong negative US, 1991 that's that used in final emphasis of a preceding statement: that's all there is, there is no more UK, 1872 that's the name of that tune used for summing up or signalling the end of an explanation. A signature line of actor Robert Blake on the television police drama Baretta (ABC, 1975–78). Repeated with referential humour, especially after Blake's arrest in the early 2000s for the murder of his wife US, 1978 that's the ticket! used as a humorous expression of assent. From a skit on Saturday Night Live featuring Jon Lovitz as a pathological liar US, 1986 that's what I'm talking about! I agree strongly! Almost a cliché US, 2002 that's word! used for expressing strong assent US, 1992 that time noun the bleed period of a woman's menstrual cycle US, 1954 that way adjective homosexual. Shortened from the euphemistic phrase 'that way inclined' UK, 1956

thaw shay noun a spendthrift IRELAND, 2000

THC noun marijuana. The psychoactive chemical in marijuana is delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol, or THC US, 1971

THC doctors' shorthand for what the homeless require from a day and night's hospitalisation: three hots and a cot (three meals and a bed) UK, 2002 the adjective 1 my. Colloquial UK, 1838. 2 used in the formation of colloquial nicknames for places. Thus Alice Springs becomes 'the Alice'; Mount Isa becomes 'the Isa'; Cloncurry becomes 'the Curry'; Wollongong becomes 'the Gong' AUSTRALIA, 1883 theatrical noun an actor. Generally seen in the plural UK, 1859

Thelma Ritter; the thelma noun a toilet; the anus. Rhyming slang for SHITTER, formed from the name of the US film actress, 1905–69 UK, 1998

Thelonius Monk; thelonius noun semen. Rhyming slang for SPUNK, formed from the name of the US jazz pianist, 1917–82 UK, 1992

them's my orders used as an apology for acting in accordance with orders US, 1973

them's the breaks used as a world-wise expression of resigned acceptance of a misfortune US, 1988

them's the rules used as a humorous deference to protocol or rules US, 1997 them things noun marijuana cigarettes US, 1992

the nerve of the scurve! used as a humorous exclamation, half admiring US, 1975

there adverb ► be there to be alert and alive to your situation UK, 1890. ► have been there; have been there before to have experienced something UK, 1877. ► have someone there to cause someone to be at a loss; to nonplus someone UK, 1937

there it is used as a common form of assent by US soldiers in Vietnam US, 1991

there I was with Davey Crockett... used as a humorous introduction to a story. A signature line used by the Trooper Duffy character played by Bob Steele on the television comedy F Troop (ABC, 1965–67). Repeated with referential humour US, 1967

Theresa Truncheon; Theresa noun a police officer; the police. An example of CAMP trans-gender assignment, in this case an assonant play on 'truncheon' as stereotypical police equipment UK, 1992 there's no answer to that! used in answer to a question, implying an innuendo within the question which renders an answer unnecessary. A catchphrase of British comedian Eric Morecambe, 1926–84, widely adopted as a useful face-saver UK, 1975

there you are noun tea (a drink). Rhyming slang for CHAR UK, 1992

there you are then!; there you are! used as the (triumphant) last words in an argument as a point is proved. Often preceded by 'so' or 'well' UK, 1907

there you go! used for expressing approval US, 1970 thermos bottle noun a tanker lorry. From the shape US, 1976 these and those noun 1 the toes. Rhyming slang UK, 1960. 2 the nose. Rhyming slang AUSTRALIA, 1960. 3 clothes. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 the shot heard 'round the world noun the homerun hit by New York Giants Bobby Thompson to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers in the final game of a three-game playoff series for the National League Championship in 1951. An allusion to the first skirmish of the American Revolution on the village green in Lexington, Massachusetts, on 19th April 1775 US, 1951 thesp noun an actor. An abbreviation of the conventional 'thespian' UK, 1962 thews noun muscles; the thighs; the forearms. A variation of the conventional sense as 'vigour'; only recorded in the plural UK, 1966

They noun the mysterious authority over all authority, the power behind the throne. Beloved in the political culture of the 1960s US, 1968

Theydon Bois noun noise. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of an Essex village UK, 1992 thick adjective 1 in close association, familiar, intimate. Often elaborated as THICK AS THIEVES UK, 1756. 2 stupid, dense UK, 1935. 3 sexually appealing, attractive, well built US, 1998. 4 of a bet, large UK, 1991 thick-a adjective very dense. Used in Maine, as in 'thick-a-fog', 'thick-a-snow' or 'thick-a-vapor' US, 1978 thick and thin noun 1 the chin. Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 2 gin. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 thick as a docker's sandwich adjective very stupid. 'Thick as' is used as the basis for many similes UK, 1998 thick as a plank adjective very stupid. The simplified variation of THICK AS TWO SHORT PLANKS UK, 1980 thick as a pudding adjective very stupid. A north of England variation on a theme, the 'pudding' is a Yorkshire pudding UK: ENGLAND, 2003 thick as pigshit adjective very stupid UK, 1999 thick as thieves adjective in close association, familiar, intimate, inseparable UK, 1833 thick as two short planks adjective very stupid. Originally military, one of the best-known modern variations on a Shakespearean theme UK, 1984 thick dick; thick Dick noun a stupid person. Teen slang UK, 1982 thick ear noun a blow round the head. From the swelling of the ear – if the blow is accurate UK, 1909 thick end of the stick noun an unfair position to be in, or inequitable treatment UK, 1957 thick head noun a headache, especially one that results from drinking alcohol UK, 1991 thickhead adjective idiotic, foolish, stupid. From the noun sense UK, 1999 thickie; thicky; thicko noun a fool. Variations of THICK UK, 1968 thick on the ground adjective abundant, numerous, crowded UK, 1893 thick piss noun semen NEW ZEALAND, 1998

thief noun in horse racing, a horse that runs worst when its chances seem best US, 1976

Thief Row noun London Heathrow airport. Jocular but telling UK, 1999

thieve noun ► on the thieve engaged in the occupation or act of stealing UK, 2001 thieving adjective inclined to thievery. Originally in conventional use UK, 1598 thighbrows noun female pubic hair that escapes the confines of underwear or swimwear UK, 2002 thigh-highs noun stockings worn up the middle of the thigh US, 1995 thigh opener noun a vodka gimlet US, 1985 thighslapper noun in pantomime, the role of principal boy. From the traditional gesture by which an attractive actress convinces an audience of her manhood UK, 2003

T. Hill noun Tommy Hilfiger™ clothing US, 1998

thimble and thumb; thimble noun rum. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 thimble-titted adjective small breasted US, 1994 thin noun in prison, a key UK, 1996 thin blue line noun the police. From the image of, and originally recorded as, a line of police holding back a crowd UK, 1984 thing noun 1 used to replace any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify. Also called a 'thingy' US, 1968. 2 the penis. Since Chaucer, and still UK, 1386. 3 the vagina. Euphemism. Early use implied in obsolete 'thingstable' (1785) where 'thing' replaces CUNT in a policeman's title US, 1970. 4 an interest, obsession, attraction US, 1841. 5 a romantic affair US, 1974. 6 an instinctive or irrational dislike of, or aversion to, someone or something UK, 1936. 7 heroin; a capsule of heroin US, 1958. 8 cocaine UK, 2002. ► do your own thing; do your thing to behave according to your own self-centred philosophy, appetites and idiosyncracies. Originally a black coinage, adopted by the hippies in the 1960s US, 1967. ► have a thing for; have a thing about to be attracted, perhaps obsessively so, to someone or something UK, 1936. ► the Thing an M-50A1 Ontos antitank tracked vehicle, heavily armed US, 1990. ► the thing the requisite, notable or special point UK, 1850

thingamajig; thingumajig; thingummyjig noun used as a pseudo-term for something the name of which is unknown, forgotten or not important UK, 1824 thingamerry; thingumbobsy noun an object the name of which escapes the speaker BARBADOS, 1965

thingie; thingy noun 1 a thing UK, 1933. 2 the penis UK, 1977 thingio noun used as a vague replacement for an unremembered or unnamed person, object or action. A variation of THINGIE (a replacement noun) UK, 2001 thingio verb used as a vague replacement for an unremembered or unnamed verb UK, 2002

thingo noun an unnamed, or temporarily unnameable, person or thing AUSTRALIA, 1966 things noun 1 possessions, personal effects carried with you at a given time UK, 1290. 2 garments, clothing UK, 1634. ► do things to someone to excite someone, especially sexually; to arouse a passion, whether deep or momentary UK, 1951 things are crook in Tallarook things are very bad. Tallarook is a town in central Victoria AUSTRALIA, 1963 things-on-the-springs noun a military inspection of a soldier's gear displayed on his bed US, 1991 thing-thing noun an object the name of which escapes or is unimportant to the speaker US, 1976 thingumabob; thingummybob noun used as a replacement for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 1832

thingummy noun used as a replacement for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 1796

thingummy-whatsit noun used as a euphemistic replacement for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 2002

thingy noun in drag racing, a car that has been modified and enhanced for speed US, 1960 ► see: THINGIE thin hairs noun ► have someone by the thin hairs to hold someone at a disadvantage; to exercise complete control over someone US, 1946 think verb ► think outside the box to reject standard assumptions and strive for a creative solution to a problem. From a brain-teaser puzzle which can be solved only if you reject the boundaries of a box. It vaulted into cliché use quickly, and provided the inspiration for author Jim Tompkins' 2001 book Think Outside the Box: The Most Trite, Generic, Hokey, Overused, Clichéd or Unmotivating Motivational Slogans US, 1999. ► think your shit doesn't stink to be very conceited UK, 1961. ► you're not paid to think a catchphrase admonition in response to any excuse that begins 'but I thought...'. Originally a military truism UK, 1971 think again, dearie used for humorously expressing the negative US, 1987 think it ain't? used for expressing affirmation US, 1992 thinko noun a momentary loss of memory or disruption in a thought process. A play on 'typo' US, 1991 think-piece noun a serious article of journalism UK, 1960 think tank noun a toilet. Punning on the term usually applied to non-governmental organisations that analyse policy US, 1997 thin man noun a person who does not exist who is placed on a payroll as a bookkeeping fiction US, 1973

thinny noun a very thin hand-rolled cigarette or joint UK, 2000 thin one noun a dime, or ten-cent piece US, 1962 thin on the ground adjective sparse, scarce. The natural opposite of THICK ON THE GROUND (abundant) UK, 1942 thin-out verb to depart UK, 1987 third base noun in casino blackjack, the seat immediately to the dealer's right US, 1985 third degree noun an intense level of interrogation US, 1880 third hat noun an assistant drill instructor in the US Marine Corps. Generally the drill instructor who hands out physical discipline – Physical Incentive Training US, 2004 third leg noun the penis US, 1994 third rail noun 1 a bill, especially in a restaurant. A term of the 1940s music industry US, 1950. 2 an extremely controversial political issue. Like the third rail in an electric railway system, it is to be avoided US, 2000. 3 inexpensive, potent alcohol US, 1962 third sex noun homosexuals as a group US, 1896 third-world botherer noun a person who acts upon the need to do good in less fortunate areas of the world UK, 2000

third world briefcase noun a large portable stereo system associated, stereotypically, with black youth culture US, 1987 thirst monster noun a crack cocaine user US, 2002 thirsty adjective intensely craving crack cocaine US, 1992 thirteen noun 1 marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. Because 'M' is the 13th letter of the alphabet US, 1966. 2 in a deck of playing cards, any king US, 1996 ► see: 13

thirteen nickname the Mexican Mafia prison gang US, 2000 thirteenth gear noun in trucking, neutral gear, used to coast down hills US, 1971 thirty days noun in poker, a hand with three tens US, 1963 thirty dirty miles noun in a game of poker, a hand with three tens US, 1963 thirty miles of railroad track noun in poker, a hand consisting of three tens US, 1988 thirtysomething adjective describing the age of the generation of baby boomers as they moved into their thirties. From the name of a television drama (1987–91) focusing on YUPPIE angst US, 1990

thirty-thirty noun a central nervous system stimulant other than amphetamine packaged to look like and sold as amphetamine US, 1993 thirty-weight noun strong coffee. Inviting a comparison with motor oil US, 1976

this and that noun a hat. Rhyming slang AUSTRALIA, 1937

this and that verb in cricket, to bat. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 thisavvy noun this afternoon. A Liverpool slur UK, 2001 this is it used when something that has been talked about happens or is happening UK, 1942

this is me used in place of 'hello' when answering the telephone US, 1978 this time it's personal used as a humorous assertion that an issue is being taken personally. A moderately popular catchphrase from Jaws: The Revenge (1987) US, 1999

this will separate the men from the boys; this will sort the men from the boys this task, event, crisis or activity will only be successfully managed by someone of sufficient experience or maturity. The original use, 'this is where the men are separated from the boys' or 'this is where they separate the men from the boys', is attributed to US film actress Mae West, in which case this dates to the late 1930s and is laden with sexual innuendo UK, 1974

T.H. Lowry noun a Maori. Prison rhyming slang, formed from a famed horse-breeder NEW ZEALAND, 1997

Thomas Cook noun a look. Rhyming slang, invented by the advertisers for travel company Thomas Cook in the slogan 'Take a Thomas Cook at our Prices!' and now in limited circulation. UK, 1998

Thomas More noun a whore. Rhyming slang, probably formed from the renaissance writer and Catholic martyr (1478–1535) UK, 2003

thong feminism noun contemporary forms of feminism CANADA, 2002

thook verb to spit UK, 2006

thooleramawn noun a contemptible, incompetent person IRELAND, 1989

Thora Hird; Thora noun 1 a third-class university degree. Rhyming slang, based on British stage and screen actress Dame Thora Hird (1911–2003) UK, 1998. 2 a turd, hence an act of defecation. Rhyming slang, based on the name of British stage and screen actress Dame Thora Hird (1911–2003) UK, 2002 thorazine shuffle noun the slow, dragging walk of a patient being medicated with thiorazine US, 1994 thorn noun 1 a nail. Used by workers in the building trade in Glasgow UK; SCOTLAND, 1988. 2 a knife US, 1993 thoroughbred noun a drug dealer who sells high quality, pure drugs US, 1970 those days noun the bleed period of a woman's menstrual cycle US, 1954 thou noun 1 a thousand US, 1867. 2 a thousandth of an inch UK, 1902 though used, after a question or statement, as an intensifier; truly. A colloquial term UK, 1905 thousand miler noun a sateen shirt worn by railway workers US, 1946 thousand percent adverb completely. The most famous use of the term in the US came in 1972 when Democratic presidential nominee Senator George McGovern announced that he was 'one thousand percent' in support of his running mate, Thomas Eagleton, despite revelations that Eagleton had once received shock treatment; McGovern dropped Eagleton from the ticket several days after this endorsement US, 1963 thousand-yard stare; thousand-metre stare noun a lost, unfocused look, especially as the result of brutal combat US, 1986 thou shalt not be found out; thou shalt not get found out propounded as the Eleventh Commandment UK, 1974

thrap verb (of a male) to masturbate UK, 2001 thrash noun 1 a high-spirited party UK, 1967. 2 a style of hard rock music that appeals to disaffected suburban adolescent boys – fast, relentlessly loud and heavy US, 1994

thrash verb 1 to surf aggressively and with skill US, 1988. 2 to skateboard aggressively and with skill US, 1989. 3 in drag racing, to work on a car hurriedly if not frantically in the hours just before a race US, 2003 thrashed adjective tired, worn-down, exhausted, especially as a result of excessive indulgence in hedonistic pleasures; dishevelled US, 1999 thrasher noun 1 a party where guests bring bottles of alcohol that are poured into a rubbish bin for all to share. Michigan Upper Peninsula practice and usage US, 2003. 2 a person who violently responds to the pricks of a tattoo needle US, 1997. 3 a skilled and fearless skateboarder US, 1984 threaders adjective fed-up; being ready to lose your temper. Royal Navy, especially marine, slang; an abbreviation of 'threadbare', suggesting patience worn thin UK, 1989 threads noun clothes US, 1926 three noun a three-dollar bag of heroin US, 1976. ► or three either by exaggeration or understatement, used for emphasis of an amount UK, 1976 three; three up verb in prison, to share a cell with two other inmates UK, 1996 three and a half noun in Quebec, an apartment with a living room, kitchen, bedroom and bathroom. Similarly, in Quebec, a 'two-and-a-half' is an apartment with a living-dining room, bedroom and bathroom; a 'four-and a half' has two bedrooms; and so forth up to 'seven-and-a-half' CANADA, 2002 three and four noun a whore. Rhyming slang UK, 2003 three-bagger noun 1 an unattractive girl. From the tease that she is so ugly that you have to put two bags over her head and one over yours US, 1987. 2 a train pulled by three engines US, 1946 three-balls noun a Jewish person. An allusion to the historical signage outside a pawn shop US, 1980 three blind mice noun rice. Rhyming slang, formed from a nursery rhyme UK, 1992 three-bug noun in horse racing, an inexperienced jockey given a weight allowance of ten pounds US, 1990 three-cents people noun a poor family. When the colonial British Guyana dollar was based on the British pound sterling, 'three cents' was used to indicate cheapness. The term survives as a metaphorical relic GUYANA, 1998 three-D adjective said of a school that recruits basketball players but does not prepare them for life after college. It is said that the college that does not teach players to play defense, does not instill discipline, and in the end does not award diplomas to many of its student athletes US, 1983 three day chop noun a period of partial or absolute withdrawal from drugs or a drug-substitute UK, 1996 three days by canoe adjective a long distance US, 1993 three days' delay noun in Quebec, three days' notice CANADA, 2002 three days older than dirt adjective very old indeed US, 1994 three-decker noun a three-storey house. Coined and primarily used by Irish immigrants and then Irish-Americans in Boston US, 1990 three deuces noun in hot rodding, three two-barrel carburetors US, 1992 three-dollar bill noun 1 used for comparisons of something that is rare or odd US, 1942. 2 a homosexual. From the expression 'as strange as a three-dollar bill' US, 1965 three drags and a spit noun a cigarette. Gay use; a deliberate reversal of rhyming slang SPIT AND DRAG (a cigarette) thereby avoiding the rhyme on FAG and its derogatory homosexual connotations UK, 2002 three Ds noun ► see: DERRY-DOWN-DERRY three'd up adjective in prison, used of three inmates sharing a single cell UK, 1974 three fates noun in poker, three queens US, 1988 three fifty-seven; three fifty-seven Magnum noun a central nervous system stimulant, the exact nature of which is unknown, sold as amphetamine on the street US, 1993 three-fingered salute noun when operating a computer, the keyed-combination of the characters Ctrl-Alt-Delete used to restart the machine US, 2004 three-finger fuck around noun a disorganised activity with no apparent purpose US, 1991 three-for-two noun fifty percent interest US, 1967 three-hairs noun a Vietnamese woman. From the perception of the US soldier that the pubic hair of Vietnamese women is very sparse US, 1991 three H enema noun in hospital usage, an aggressive enema – high, hot and a hell of a lot US, 1980 three-holer nickname an aircraft with three engines, especially the Boeing 727 US, 1985 three hots and a cot noun room and board. From the sense of HOT as 'a meal' US, 1930 three-hundred club noun a notional association of those who experience a temperature swing of three hundred degrees fahrenheit, usually by rolling naked in the Antarctic night and then entering a sauna ANTARCTICA, 2003 three-legged beaver noun a homosexual man. Two legs and an erect penis make the three legs, feminised by BEAVER (a woman/vagina) UK, 1981 three-martini lunch noun a leisurely business lunch paid for from an expense account, often centred around alcohol US, 1972 three minutes noun a gang punishment in which the offending member must fight another gang member for three minutes US, 2001 three moon noun a three-month prison sentence. A multiple of MOON, included here for the singular nature of the plural UK, 1950 three on the tree noun a three speed manual transmission with the gear shift mounted on the steering column US, 1993 threepenny bits; thrupennies; threepennies; thrups noun 1 the female breasts. Rhyming slang for, (TIT(S)), based on a small coin (3d) that ceased to be legal tender with decimalisation in 1971; when this slang was coined, you got 80 threepenny bits to the pound UK, 1961. 2 an urgent need to defecate; diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE SHITS AUSTRALIA, 1971 three-phase set noun in electric line work, a set of three shovels: a cup-shaped spoon, a spade and a shovel US, 1980 three-point c and b noun a painful parachute landing. The three points were the head, heels and buttocks, while the 'c and b' was a 'crash and burn' US, 1991 three-rounder noun a petty criminal, a small operator. From the three-round bouts of junior and novice boxing UK, 1961 threes noun 1 the third landing or floor level in a prison UK, 1978. 2 in poker, three cards of the same rank in a hand US, 1967. ► all the threes thirty-three. In Bingo, House or Housey-Housey calling, the formula 'all the' announces a double number UK, 1943 three-sheet verb to wear theatrical makeup in public US, 1971 three sheets in the wind adjective very drunk UK, 1821 three-sixty noun a complete, 360-degree turn; in the UK, especially while joyriding US, 1927 three-skinner noun a marijuana- or hashish-filled cigarette fashioned out of three cigarette papers UK, 2003 threesome noun group sex with three participants US, 1972 three squares noun three square meals a day US, 1922

three-time loser noun a criminal who has been convicted of a third serious crime, probably guaranteeing life imprisonment US, 1966

three-toed sloth noun a slow-thinking, slow-talking, slow-acting hospital patient US, 1985 three-toke killer noun extremely potent marijuana. Derived from the perception that the marijuana will produce extreme intoxication after only three inhalations US, 1993 three-tone noun of a car, badly repaired after an accident. A play on the advertising of 'two-tone' cars (cars painted in two colours) UK, 1981 three-two-hundred out, one-six-hundred in adjective completely confused. From the standard 6400-mil circular artillery chart US, 1968 three up and three down noun a master sergeant in the US Army. From the stripe configuration US, 1991 three up and two down noun a sergeant first-class or platoon sergeant in the US Army. From the stripe configuration US, 1991 three-way noun sex involving three people simultaneously US, 1985 three-way adjective (used of a woman) willing to engage in vaginal, anal and oral sex US, 1967 three-way freeway noun a woman who consents to vaginal, anal and oral sex US, 2001 three wheel trike; three-wheeler noun a lesbian. Rhyming slang for DYKE UK, 2003 thrift verb to live a frugal, if attractive, lifestyle US, 1997 thrift shop noun any low-limit, low-ante poker game US, 1996

Thrilla in Manila nickname the heavyweight boxing championship fight between Muhammed Ali and Joe Frazier on 1st October 1975 in Manila, won by Ali when Frazier's manager Eddie Futch threw in the towel before the 15th round US, 1998 thrilled adjective pleased, delighted UK, 1937 thrilled to bits adjective utterly delighted; very pleased UK, 1964 thriller noun a sensational (adventure) story told as a play, film or novel; such a form of entertainment. A narrow sense of the general meaning UK, 1889 thrill pill noun a central nervous system stimulant in tablet form. A reduplication that never really caught on; too true for a euphemism and too euphemistic for the street US, 1953 throat *noun ► have someone by the throat to have someone completely under control *AUSTRALIA, 1947 thrombo noun a fit of rage. From 'thrombosis', suggesting a rush of blood to the head UK, 2002 throne noun 1 a toilet seat; a pedestal lavatory (as a place on which you sit) UK, 1922. 2 the most coveted position for a bookmaker at the track AUSTRALIA, 1989 throttle artist; throttle jerker; throttle puller noun a train engineer US, 1977 throttle jockey noun a combat jet pilot US, 1956 throttling pit noun a lavatory AUSTRALIA, 1971 through-the-card noun a wager that bets on all the races at a meeting. Commonly used when gambling on greyhound racing UK, 2001 through-ticket noun in pool, a player who continues to play and to lose money until he has lost his entire bankroll US, 1993 throw noun 1 the cost of an item or action, usually preceded by a specific amount. Probably from the old side shows of the fair US, 1898. 2 an act of vomiting; vomit AUSTRALIA, 1967 throw verb 1 to disconcert, to confuse US, 1844. 2 to deliberately lose a contest US, 1868. 3 to break an addiction US, 1952. ► throw a fin; throw the fin while surfing, to reach the top of a wave and expose to the air the surfboard's fin(s) US, 1987. ► throw a fit to become very angry or agitated US, 1926. ► throw a party to lose heavily when gambling US, 1982. ► throw a shape to make an impression, 1999. ► throw a shine to ignore someone. Usage by Mexican-American youth (Pachucos) in the southwestern US US, 1947. ► throw a shoe to suffer a tyre blowout or flat tyre US, 1963. ► throw blows to fight US, 1965. ► throw flame in trucking, to show an actual flame or a red glow suggesting a flame on a smokestack US, 1971. ► throw forty fits to become very angry or agitated. An occasional intensification of THROW A FIT UK, 1984. ► throw gravel to accelerate briskly from a dirt road shoulder US, 1962. ► throw hands to fight US, 2002. ► throw it to someone from a male perspective, to have sex US, 1969. ► throw off at to deride someone or something AUSTRALIA, 1812. ► throw one from the male perspective, to have sex US, 1954. ► throw shade to project a defiant attitude US, 1995. ► throw shapes to box IRELAND, 1995. ► throw signs to flash hand signals, almost always gang-related US, 2001. ► throw teddy out of the pram to throw a tantrum; to lose your temper. An allusion to childish behaviour UK, 1998. ► throw the bald-headed champ to perform oral sex on a man US, 1972. ► throw the book at someone to discipline or penalise someone severely. Making maximum use of the rulebook that inspires the punishment US, 1960. ► throw the head to lose one's temper IRELAND, 1995. ► throw the knockwurst from the male perspective, to have sex US, 1973. ► throw the latch in a hotel, to activate a mechanical device advising hotel employees to carefully watch activity in a particular room US, 1954. ► throw the leg over to mount a racehorse AUSTRALIA, 1989. ► throw the voice; throw your voice to vomit AUSTRALIA, 1962. ► throw up your set to flash gang hand signals US, 1995. ► throw waist to thrust with vigour during sex TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. ► throw your weight about; throw your weight around to 'show off' in an unpleasant, domineering way; to bully people UK, 1917 throwaway noun an outer garment quickly discarded by a criminal after a crime to thwart easy identification US, 1987 throw away verb to abort a foetus TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1939

throwaway adjective used of a gun unregistered and not capable of being traced, and thus used to place in the vicinity of someone whom the police have shot to justify the shooting US, 1981 throwdown noun a large party US, 1996 throw down verb 1 to threaten someone with a weapon US, 1972. 2 to kill US, 1963. 3 in basketball, to forcefully drive the ball down through the basket US, 1997. 4 to dance. Sometimes embellished with 'some happy feet' as a direct object US, 1983 throw-down gun; throwdown noun a gun that is not registered and not capable of being traced, and thus placed by the police in the vicinity of someone whom they have shot to justify the shooting US, 1983 throw off verb to perform at a skill level below your capability US, 1965 throw-out noun 1 the prize that a carnival game operator arranges for a player to win to entice more customers to play US, 1985. 2 a trinket thrown by a parader to spectators US, 1951 throw-up noun a large, simple piece of graffiti art US, 1994 throw up verb 1 to vomit. Abbreviated from the elaborately elegant 'throw up your accounts' (C18) UK, 1793. 2 to create large graffiti pieces (especially on trains, walls, etc) US, 1994 thrush noun 1 a female singer US, 1940. 2 an attractive young woman AUSTRALIA, 1960 thrust noun amyl, butyl or isobutyl nitrite. A definite suggestion of sexual vigour and therefore, probably, derives from brand marketing as a male sex-aid UK, 1996 thruster noun 1 an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1969. 2 a modern surfboard with three fins AUSTRALIA, 1985 thrutch noun a difficult challenge ANTARCTICA, 2003 thud nickname an F-105 Thunderchief aircraft. From the fact that many were shot down during the Vietnam war. A two-seated F-105 was known as a 'double thud' US, 1965 thug noun a youth gang member UK, 2003 thugged-out adjective in hip-hop culture, self-sufficient and dangerous. From conventional 'thug' (a violent person) which has been adopted by some urban blacks as an honourable term and condition US, 2002

th-uh, th-uh, that's all folks used as a humorous farewell. Used as the sign off on Looney Toon cartoons produced by Warner Brothers by a stuttering Porky the Pig. Repeated with referential humour US, 1955 thumb noun marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. Probably because you suck your thumb for comfort in much the same way as you suck on a cigarette US, 1960. ► on the thumb hitchhiking UK, 2004. ► with the thumb in betting, used for indicating that the current odds will not continue to be offered for long. From the TICK-TACK signal used by bookmakers UK, 1991 thumb verb to hitchhike US, 1932. ► thumb your nose to treat someone or something contemptuously US, 1973 thumb buster noun 1 a knob attached to a car or truck's steering wheel to help the driver make turns quickly. When the steering wheel returns to its normal position, the knob can injure the hand of a driver who is not careful US, 1971. 2 a railway mechanic US, 1977 thumb-check noun a cursory examination of a long document or packet of documents. US naval aviator usage US, 1986 thumb job noun a hitchhiker; the act of hitchhiking. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1976 thumb merchant noun a hitchhiker US, 1976 thumbs down noun a rejection or refusal. From the gesture famously used to signal 'no mercy' for gladiators in the arenas of ancient Rome and Hollywood UK, 1929 thumbsucker noun a long and complex piece of journalism; a writer of such articles US, 2003 thumbs up noun approval; positive news. After the gesture that spared the life of Roman gladiators UK, 1951 thump noun a fight US, 1971

thump verb to defeat someone soundly UK, 1594 thumper noun 1 a hand grenade launcher US, 1990. 2 a drummer US, 1981. 3 a piece of rope used by dog handlers to discipline sled dogs ANTARCTICA, 1982. 4 in electric line work, an underground fault locator US, 1980 thumper bumper noun in pinball, a bumper that upon impact with a ball scores and then propels the ball back into play US, 1977 thump gun noun an M79 grenade launcher. Vietnam war usage US, 1982 thumping adjective unusually large or heavy; of an untruth, outrageous UK, 1576 thumping adverb used as an intensifier of adjectives of large size UK, 1961 thunder noun 1 male sexual prowess TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1989.

2 heroin UK, 2002. ► do a thunder to defecate IRELAND, 1994 thunder verb to excel US, 1989 thunderbags noun underpants AUSTRALIA, 1971

thunderbirds noun the female breasts. From the mammatic and lexicographic symbolism of the science fiction Thunderbirds, especially Thunderbird 2, in cult television supermarionation puppet-series Thunderbirds by Gerry Anderson, from 1965, and relaunched in the 1990s UK, 2001

Thunderbirds are go used for denoting or announcing that something is proceeding. A catchphrase from Thunderbirds, a cult science fiction puppet series, first broadcast on television in 1965 UK, 2001 thunderbowl noun a lavatory UK, 1982 thunderbox noun a lavatory. Originally coined for a 'portable commode' UK, 1939 thunderbumper noun a cumulonimbus cloud CANADA, 1995 thunderdome noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. A reference to the film Mad Max: Beyond The Thunderdome, 1985 UK, 1999 thundering adjective forcible, violent; hence, as an intensifier: great, excessive UK, 1618 thundering adverb excessively UK, 1809 thunderingly adverb violently, forcibly, powerfully, energetically; greatly; excessively UK, 1680

Thunder Road noun Highway 13, north of Saigon, South Vietnam. So named because of the US Army's frequent THUNDER RUNS on Highway 13 US, 1971 thunder run noun 1 during the Vietnam war, a tactic of having a small armoured convoy drive at high speeds shooting at both sides of the road to thwart ambushes by the Viet Cong; in Iraq in 2003, used by soldiers of a death or glory incursion into Baghdad. Possibly originating in the Korean war, 1950–53, where it was used figuratively for a final bar crawl before leaving a posting US, 1983. 2 in white-water rafting, the most treacherous rapids or the act of negotiating them US, 2003 thunder thighs noun large, heavy thighs, especially on a woman US, 1977 thunk noun in computing, code that supplies an address US, 1991 thunk verb used as an alternative past tense of 'think' in place of 'thought'. Intentionally jocular or rural UK, 1876

TI nickname the federal correctional institution, Terminal Island, California US, 1981

tia noun marijuana. A Spanish aunt such as AUNT MARY (marijuana) UK, 2003

TIA used as Internet shorthand to mean 'thanks in advance' US, 1997

Tibb's Day noun the day after Resurrection, Judgment Day etc, i.e. a day that will never come in this lifetime. C. L. Apperson, in English Proverbs and Proverbial Phrases, calls it 'a day neither before nor after Christmas'. Brewer's Dictionary of Phrase and Fable (1870) points out that there never was such a saint as St Tibb, hence the use of the term as a synonym for 'never' CANADA, 1999

tic noun phencyclidine US, 1977

TIC noun when a criminal is on trial, a crime which does not form a part of the case being heard but which the defendant may request to have taken into account during sentencing. A partial acronym of 'taken into account' UK, 1996 tical noun marijuana. A coinage claimed by rap artist Methodman; usage spread with his adoption of 'tical' as one of many drug-related aliases US, 1998 tick noun 1 a moment; a second, a minute UK, 1879. 2 credit, deferred payment. Generally in the phrase 'on tick' (on credit) UK, 1642. 3 in spread-betting, a tenth UK, 2001. 4 in basketball, a shot US, 1986. 5 in a hospital, an intern US, 1994 tick verb ► tick along nicely to make satisfactory progress Ireland IRELAND, 2003 tick adjective sexually attractive UK, 1950 ticked off adjective angry US, 1959 ticker noun 1 a clock, especially a pocket watch US, 1964. 2 the heart. Analogised to a clock ticking US, 1930. 3 courage AUSTRALIA, 1977 ticket noun 1 an ordinary person. Used generally in Glasgow and MOD culture UK, 1985. 2 an amusing or charming person IRELAND, 1992. 3 a follower (not an originator) of Mod fashion UK, 1964. 4 a professional licence; a certificate of qualification. Originally military US, 1951. 5 a warrant or bill of detainer US, 2002. 6 an official misconduct report in prison US, 1976. 7 an order to be locked in solitary confinement US, 1965. 8 in prison, a contract for a killing or beating US, 1974. 9 in horse racing, a betting receipt US, 1951. 10 a playing card. As in the expression 'I held some good tickets' US, 1961. 11 LSD; a dose of LSD. Another LSD-as-travel metaphor US, 1969. ► just the ticket; that's the ticket exactly what is required UK, 1838 ticket agent noun an LSD dealer. Premised on a TRIP metaphor US, 1974

Ticket Bastard nickname the Ticketmaster ticket service US, 1994 ticket of leave man noun a parolee UK, 1998 ticket-punching noun in the military, nearly automatic promotion from rank to rank with short periods in combat to justify the promotion US, 1988 tickets noun the female breasts. A term from the coarse sector of the entertainment industry, recognising the selling power of sex US, 1977. ► have tickets on yourself to be conceited AUSTRALIA, 1918 tickety-boo adjective fine, correct, in order, satisfactory. Originally military; a variation of 'ticket', as in JUST THE TICKET (correct), with Hindu tikai babu (it's all right, sir) UK, 1939 tick-hunter noun an ardent bird-watcher, usually one who is excitable. From a bird-watcher's habit of ticking-off observations in a note book UK, 1977 tick in cow's arse noun something or someone who is very close to something or someone else TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1982 ticking-off noun a reprimand UK, 1984 tickle noun 1 a robbery or other profitable criminal enterprise. Probably derives from the image of a poacher 'tickling a trout', an activity for the 'light-fingered' UK, 1938. 2 in the sport of polo, a weak hit on the ball UK, 2003. 3 a pleasurable sensation caused by drug use UK, 2000. 4 a deep v-bottom on a boat; also, especially in Newfoundland, a narrow strait between mainland and an island CANADA, 1947 tickle verb 1 to prime an engine. To start the cold engine of a motorcycle, it is sometimes necessary to prime the carburettor, or 'tickle the pot' US, 2003. 2 to administer oral sex to a male pornographer performer before or between scenes to help him maintain an erection US, 2000. 3 to rob NEW ZEALAND, 1998. ► tickle a bug in computing, to activate a normally inactive malfunction US, 1991. ► tickle the peter to steal from a till or cashbox AUSTRALIA, 1941. ► tickle the pickle from the male perspective, to have sex US, 1964 ticklebelly noun the queasy feeling experienced when a car crests a poorly graded hill too fast CANADA, 2002 tickled; tickled to death; tickled pink adjective very pleased UK, 1907

tickler noun 1 an office system that serves to remind of impending deadlines US, 1905. 2 anything worn on the penis that is designed to stimulate the vagina or the clitoris during sex UK, 1974 tickle your fancy noun a homosexual. Rhyming slang, NANCY (BOY), noted as a post-World War 2 term by Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992, who suggests a corruption of the children's song 'Billy Boy' as a possible source UK, 1992

ticklish adjective difficult, awkward UK, 1591

tick off verb to reprimand someone UK, 1915 tick-tack; tic-tac noun 1 a system of hand signalling used by racecourse bookmakers UK, 1899. 2 a signal of any kind. From race track use UK, 1992 tick-tack; tic-tac verb to signal betting information by tick-tack AUSTRALIA, 1956

tick-tacker noun a person who signals betting information by tick-tack AUSTRALIA, 1897 tick-tacking noun an illegal system of sign language used between bookmakers and touts on a racecourse AUSTRALIA, 1899

tick-tack man noun a tick-tacker AUSTRALIA, 1939

tick-tick noun a bicycle with three gears TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tick-tock noun a clock. A children's colloquialism, from the conventional imitation of the ticking of a clock UK, 1984 tick-tock used to mark the passing of an instant. From the ticking of a clock UK, 1959 tick twenty noun ten o'clock US, 1946

ticky adjective old-fashioned, out-of-date US, 1960

tic-tac noun 1 a person who signals betting information by tick-tack UK, 1990. 2 a fact. Rhyming slang, from the race track signalling system UK, 1992. 3 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1994

tid-bit noun an appetising and toothsome woman US, 1973 tiddie; tiddy noun the female breast. A variation of TITTY UK, 2003

tiddle verb to urinate. A children's colloquialism UK, 1961 tiddled off adjective annoyed, cross. After TIDDLE (to urinate), thus a variation of PISSED OFF UK, 1977 tiddler noun 1 any small fish. Originally applied to a stickleback UK, 1885. 2 anything small; a child, a small animal, a small drink, etc UK, 1927. 3 any small coin (of size rather than denomination) UK, 1966. 4 a player of tiddleywinks US, 1958 tiddler's bait; tiddley bait; tiddley; Tilly Bates adjective late. Rhyming slang UK, 1960 tiddly; tiddley adjective mildly drunk UK, 1905 tiddlywink; tiddly-wink; tiddleywink; tiddly; tid noun 1 an alcoholic drink. Rhyming slang UK, 1859. 2 a Chinese person. Rhyming slang for CHINK (a Chinese person) UK, 1977

tidemark noun a dirty mark that is left by, and marks the extent of, a child's neck-washing regime UK, 1961 tidе's in adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999

tidе's out adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999 tidy adjective 1 large, considerable. As in the song sung by Boy Scouts: 'The great meat pie was a tidy size, / And it took a week to make it, / A day to carry it to the shop, / And just a week to bake it' UK, 1838. 2 satisfactory; good; decent; correct. Widely exemplified by John Edwards, Talk Tidy! (the title is defined in the book as 'speak properly!'), 1985 UK, 1844. 3 sexually attractive; sexy UK, 2000 tidy! in South Wales, used as a positive affirmation UK: WALES, 1985

tidy; tidy up verb 1 to make something orderly, clean, etc UK, 1821. 2 to wash the vulva and vagina TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1978 tidy and neat; tidy verb to eat. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tidy away verb to clear up for tidiness' sake UK, 1867 tidy whities noun white, boxer-style men's underpants US, 1994 tie verb to inject with a drug UK, 2003. ► tie on one to get very drunk US, 1996. ► tie the knot to marry UK, 1605. ► tie them down on the railways, to apply hand brakes US, 1946

tie a knot in it! addressed to someone (usually a male) who needs to urinate but is having to control the urge; also, said to someone who is whistling tunelessly UK, 2001

tie and tease noun sexual bondage alternating pleasurable stimulation and deliberate frustration, especially when advertised as a service offered by a prostitute UK, 2003 tie-eye noun a commotion or ruckus CANADA, 1999

tie off verb to restrict the flow of blood in a vein in preparation for an injection of narcotic drugs US, 1996 tie-tongued adjective suffering from a speaking disability such as a lisp BARBADOS, 1965

tie-up noun the rope or cord used to restrict the flow of blood in a vein in preparation for an injection of drugs UK, 1996

tie up verb to apply an improvised tourniquet, usually on the arm, preparatory to injecting a drug US, 1990 tiff noun a petty quarrel; a brief peevish disagreement UK, 1754 tiger noun 1 a person who is keen for or enthusiastic about something AUSTRALIA, 1896. 2 a male homosexual UK, 1983. 3 a wife. A Cockney endearment UK, 1980. 4 an outstanding sportsman; a confident climber; a formidable sporting opponent UK, 1929. ► take a tiger for a walk (used of a food addict) to eat in moderation. A term in twelve-step recovery programmes such as Alcoholics Anonymous US, 1998 tiger cage noun an underground, high security jail cell US, 1992 tiger country noun 1 rough, uncultivated country or terrain AUSTRALIA, 1945. 2 any challenging situation. From World War 2, referring to territory patrolled by German Tiger tanks NEW ZEALAND, 1945. 3 in hospital operating theatre usage, any part of the body where surgery is high risk US, 1994 tiger in the tank noun a linear amplifier for a citizens' band radio. From the 1960's Esso advertising slogan 'Put a tiger in your tank' US, 1976 tiger lady noun a female Vietnamese civilian building worker at a US facility during the war US, 1990 tiger piss noun Tiger Paw™ beer. A south Vietnamese speciality, made with formaldehyde US, 1991 tiger stripe noun a scar from intravenous drug injections US, 1958 tiger stripes noun camouflage worn in the jungle US, 1971 tiger suit noun jungle camouflage uniforms worn by soldiers in the South Vietnamese Army US, 1990 tiger sweat noun strong, illegally manufactured whisky CANADA, 1999 tiger tank noun a thing of little worth. Rhyming slang for, WANK (rubbish), usually phrased 'not worth a tiger tank'; from the advertising slogan 'put a tiger in your tank' UK, 1980

Tiggerish; tiggerish adjective energetically enthusiastic and cheerful. From the character of Tigger, created by A.A. Milne, 1882–1956, especially as filtered through the Disney animations of Winnie the Pooh's adventures UK, 2003 tight noun 1 a close friend BAHAMAS, 1982. 2 in poker, a hand consisting of three cards of the same rank and a pair. Known conventionally as a 'full house' CANADA, 1988. ► in a tight in serious trouble US, 1984 tight adjective 1 tipsy; drunk US, 1830. 2 lacking generosity, mean UK, 2000. 3 aggressive; cruel; unpleasant. From the previous sense as 'mean', punning on 'mean' as 'cruel' UK, 1999. 4 hard; severe; difficult UK, 1764. 5 of a slot machine, disadvantageous to the gambler in terms of the frequency of payouts US, 1984. 6 used of a hard bargain US, 1828. 7 of money; hard to come by; in short-circulation UK, 1846. 8 used of a player in poker extremely conservative in play and betting US, 1990. 9 of a contest, close, evenly matched US, 1848. 10 friendly US, 1956. 11 good; fashionable; in style US, 1998 tight-arse noun a person who is mean with money UK, 1999 tight-arsed adjective 1 mean, close-fisted, ungenerous UK, 1966. 2 puritanical; very restrained; self-centred UK, 1990 tight as a crab's arse adjective miserly UK, 1999 tight as a gnat's twat adjective miserly UK, 2001 tight-ass noun a highly strung, nervous person US, 1971 tight-assed adjective highly strung, nervous US, 1970

tighten verb ► tighten the wig to smoke marijuana US, 2001.

► tighten up someone's game to educate or coach someone US, 1972 tightener noun 1 any alcoholic drink US, 1969. 2 in horse racing, a race seen as preparation for the next race US, 1994 tighter than a camel's arse in a sand storm adjective miserly. An elaboration of TIGHT (mean) UK, 1999 tighter than bark to a tree adjective miserly CANADA, 1992 tight fight with a short stick noun a difficult job with poor equipment to do it US, 1954 tight hole noun an oil well whose discovery and location have not been reported US, 1997 tight laces noun commercially manufactured cigarettes, especially with filters US, 1990 tight-roll noun a manufactured cigarette US, 1984

tightwad noun a miserly person US, 1906

tighty-whities noun form-fitting men's jockey shorts US, 1985 tig ol' bitties noun large breasts. An intentional Spoonerism of 'big old titties' US, 2001 tigre; tigre blanco; tigre del norte noun heroin. Possibly 'branded' types of heroin, from Spanish for 'tiger', white 'tiger' and 'northern tiger' UK, 2003

Tijuana 12 noun a cigarette made with tobacco and marijuana US, 1982

Tijuana Bible noun a pornographic comic book US, 1979

Tijuana chrome noun silver spray paint. Tijuana is just across the border from California in the Mexican state of Baja California. Californian youth often took their customised cars to Tijuana, where much of the best and some of the shoddiest customising work was done US, 1993

Tijuana taxi noun a well marked police car US, 1976

tik noun a potential victim. West Indian and UK black UK, 1996

Tilbury Docks; the Tilburys noun any sexually transmitted infection. Rhyming slang for POX, formed on a part of the Port of London. An earlier, now obsolete sense for this rhyme was 'socks' UK, 1992 tiles noun dominoes US, 1959. ► on the tiles partying NEW ZEALAND, 1984

till-tap verb to steal money from a cash till US, 1970 till tapper noun in a casino, a person who steals coins or tokens from a slot machine being played by someone else US, 1999 till tapping noun theft from a cash register when the cashier is distracted US, 1964 tilly noun (especially in Queensland and northern New South Wales) a utility truck AUSTRALIA, 1957

Tilly noun used as a personification of the police US, 1970

Tilly Bates adjective ► see: TIDDLER'S BAIT tilly-tallied adjective drunk. Possibly from obsolete 'tilly-vally' (nonsense), which is what tends to be spoken when drunk UK, 1999 tilt noun 1 especially in the Maritime Provinces, a crude shelter, open on one side and with its back to the wind CANADA, 1958. 2 in pinball, a mechanism on the machine that ends a game when the player moves the machine too forcefully US, 1979. ► on tilt used of a poker player's playing, exceptionally poor US, 1979

Tim noun a Roman Catholic. Who the original Tim is or was is unknown UK: SCOTLAND, 2000 timber noun 1 a toothpick US, 1948. 2 in horse racing, a hurdle in a steeplechase race US, 1976. 3 in poker, the cards that have been discarded US, 1951. 4 in the circus or carnival, a person playing a game or concession with the house's money in an attempt to attract other patrons to play US, 1968 timber nigger noun a Native American Indian. Offensive. Used by sporting enthusiasts and those in the tourist industry to describe Native American Indians involved in the fishing/hunting rights debate US, 1993 timber rider noun in horse racing, a jockey in a steeplechase event US, 1976 timbit noun a rendezvous for coffee and snack proposed by one police officer to another. A doughnut hole from Tim Horton's™; refers to the dough that is punched out of a ring doughnut, fried, and sold as a 'hole' CANADA, 2000

time noun time in prison; a jail sentence UK, 1837. ► (he) wouldn't give you the time of day; too mean to give you the time of day applied to a notoriously mean person UK, 1984. ► do time 1 to serve a prison sentence, especially in a manner that preserves the prisoner's sanity UK, 1865. 2 to stay after school in detention US, 1954. ► for the time in poolroom betting, playing with the loser paying for the use of the table US, 1967. ► have no time for someone to have no respect for someone AUSTRALIA, 1911. ► in no time; in less than no time immediately UK, 1822. ► make time; make time with someone to have sex with someone; to make sexual advances towards someone US, 1934 time-and-a-half noun in blackjack, the payout to a player of one and a half times their bet when the player is dealt a natural 21. A pun using a term usually applied to an overtime rate of pay US, 1977 time of the month noun the bleed period of a woman's menstrual cycle. Barely euphemistic UK, 1931 time out! used for warning others of approaching police US, 2000 timer noun father. An abbreviation of 'old-timer' CANADA, 1993 time-stretcher noun a prisoner whose attitude and actions serve to make the time served by others seem longer than it is US, 2002 time through the gate noun the on-the-job experience of a prison officer UK, 1996

Timmy noun a Tristar aircraft. In Royal Air Force use UK, 2002

timothy noun a brothel. A shortening of 'Timothy Titmouse', rhyming slang for 'house' AUSTRALIA, 1950

timps noun timpani (kettle-drums); timpanists. An abbreviation of 'timpani' UK, 1934

Timshop noun a Roman Catholic chapel UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

tim tam noun a tampon. Abbreviation and reduplication AUSTRALIA, 2001 tin noun 1 a police badge US, 1958. 2 a police officer US, 1950. 3 a gun US, 1986. 4 a safe US, 1970. 5 one ounce of marijuana. Probably from a pipe tobacco tin as a measured container US, 1946. 6 beer in any quantity or container US, 1980. 7 in drag racing, a trophy, especially one awarded without a cash prize US, 1965. ► does what it says on the tin; does exactly what it says on the tin used as an assurance that whatever is so described will be, or behave, as expected. From a catchphrase-slogan for Ronseal™ wood-treatments; first introduced in the early 1990s, the phrase is now part of the company's registered trademarking, and widely applied in the sense recorded here UK, 2001 tin-arise; tin-bum noun a lucky person. Derives, perhaps, from a play on 'copper-bottomed' AUSTRALIA, 1953 tin arise; tin arsed adjective lucky AUSTRALIA, 1919

Tina Turner; tina noun 1 a profitable activity. Rhyming slang for, 'earner'; formed from the popular US singer and actress (b.1938) UK, 2001. 2 Rhyming slang for GURNER (a person intoxicated by MDMA) UK tin bath; tin noun 1 a laugh. Rhyming slang UK, 2002. 2 a scarf. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tin can noun 1 a safe that is easily broken into by criminals US, 1949. 2 an older ship in disrepair US, 1970. 3 a citizens' band radio set. From one of the most primitive technical means of communication: two tin cans joined by a piece of string US, 1976

tinchy adjective petty; small BAHAMAS, 1982

Tin City noun a sheet metal barracks in Guam used to house Vietnamese refugees after the North Vietnamese conquest in 1975 US, 1990 tin collector noun a police officer or prosecutor involved in investigating police misconduct US, 2001 tinctor noun 1 an alcoholic drink. Popularised, if not inspired by the 'Dear Bill' letters in Private Eye UK, 1980. 2 a light drug in liquid form. A jocular euphemism UK, 1968 tin dog noun a snowmobile NEW ZEALAND, 1969

tin ear noun tone deafness US, 1935

Tin-Ear Alley noun the boxing world. A journalists' pun on 'Tin-Pan Alley' (the world of music) UK, 1961 tin flute noun a suit. A variation of WHISTLE AND FLUTE in Glasgow rhyming slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

t'ing noun thing. West Indian and UK black pronunciation UK, 1994 ting noun money; a payment, especially in an illegal context TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1989

ting-a-ling noun 1 the penis BAHAMAS, 1982. 2 a ring (jewellery). Rhyming slang UK, 1992. 3 in playing cards, a king. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tin grin noun any person with orthodontia US, 1977 tings noun the testicles. West Indian pronunciation of 'things' UK, 2000 tingum noun a person or thing the name of which escapes the speaker BAHAMAS, 1995 tin hat *noun 1 a fool, an idiot. Rhyming slang for PRAT UK, 1998. 2 on the railways, a company official US, 1977. ► put the tin hat on it; put the tin hat on something to bring an unfortunate sequence to an unwelcome climax; to finish something off *UK, 1919 tinhorn noun a cheap and offensive person US, 1887 tinhorn adjective shoddy; inconsequential; inferior US, 1886 tin Indian noun a Pontiac car US, 1993

tinker noun 1 a member of the travelling community. Conventionally 'an (itinerant) mender of pots, pans, kettles etc.', but now more generally applied IRELAND, 1997. 2 a child, especially a mischievous child. Remembered in use in New Zealand in 1904 and in Australia in 1910 NEW ZEALAND, 1996. 3 a piece of scrap from wreckage CANADA, 1983

tinker's cuss; tinker's damn; tinker's toss noun something of no value UK, 1824 tinkle noun urine, the act of urination US, 1960. ► give a tinkle to telephone someone. From the ringing bell of original telephones UK, 1938 tinkle verb to urinate. Children's vocabulary, used coyly by adults US, 1960

tinklebox noun a piano US, 1946 tin lid noun 1 a Jewish person. Rhyming slang for YID UK, 1992. 2 a child. Rhyming slang for KID AUSTRALIA, 1905 tinned dog noun canned meat AUSTRALIA, 1895

tinnee; tinny noun a can of beer AUSTRALIA, 1964 tinny noun 1 an imprecise measure of marijuana wrapped in tinfoil, usually enough for about three cigarettes NEW ZEALAND, 1995. 2 a small aluminium boat AUSTRALIA, 1979. 3 a station wagon with a steel body and no wood trim US, 1993

tinny adjective lucky AUSTRALIA, 1919

tinny house noun a place where marijuana tinnies are sold NEW ZEALAND, 1999 tin plate noun 1 a mate. Rhyming slang NEW ZEALAND, 1992. 2 in circus and carnival usage, a law enforcement official in a small town US, 1981 tin sandwich noun a harmonica; a mouth organ. Used as the title of an album of harmonica music by Tommy Basker, 'The Tin Sandwich', 1994 US, 1999 tinsel-teeth noun 1 any person with orthodontia US, 1979. 2 orthodontic braces US, 1971

Tinsel Town nickname Hollywood US, 1939

tins of beans; tins noun jeans (denim trousers). Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tin soldier noun a prostitute's client who pays not for conventional sex, but to act as a prostitute's 'slave'. Noted as a 'voyeur-type male, usually of middle- or upper-class background' by David Powis, The Signs of Crime, 1977 UK, 1977 tin tack noun 1 dismissal from employment. Rhyming slang for SACK. Recorded in 1932 but believed to be late C19 UK, 1932. 2 a fact. Rhyming slang based on BRASS TACKS, generally plural UK, 1999 tin tank noun a bank. Rhyming slang UK, 1932 tin termites noun rust UK, 1972 tints noun 1 sunglasses US, 1972. 2 tinted car windows US, 1980 tiny noun 1 a child AUSTRALIA, 1961. 2 a very young member of a youth gang US, 1981 tiny gangster noun a young member of a youth gang US, 1989 tiny mind noun ► out of your tiny mind; out of your tiny you are crazy, foolish, mad UK, 1970

Tiny Tim noun a five-pound note; the sum of £5. Rhyming slang for FLIM, formed on a character in Charles Dickens's A Christmas Carol, 1843 UK, 1992

Tio Taco noun a Mexican-American who curries favour with the dominant white culture. Literally 'Uncle Taco', referring to a Mexican dish made with a fried corn tortilla US, 1969 tip noun 1 a point of view, an aspect or perspective; a concentration upon an aspect UK, 1994. 2 special information conveyed by an expert or insider; a piece of professional advice; private knowledge, especially in connection with investment or gambling UK, 1845. 3 that which is 'tipped' to win; the probable winner in a race UK, 1873. 4 a dirty or chaotically untidy place. Especially applied, apparently, to teenagers' bedrooms; from a community site where rubbish is tipped UK, 1983. 5 a small group with specific economic functions, such as a drug-selling enterprise US, 1995. 6 a gang US, 1990. 7 a rubber thong sandal CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985. 8 a crowd gathered in front of a carnival game or show US, 1968. 9 a steady, repeating player in a carnival midway game US, 1985 tip verb 1 to convey expert, inside or specialist information, especially about a profitable investment or a probable winner UK, 1883. 2 to give a gratuity UK, 1706. 3 to behave foolishly. Gulf war usage US, 1991. 4 to reckon that something will occur AUSTRALIA, 1955. 5 to perform oral sex. A shortening of TIP THE VELVET (to kiss with the tongue) UK, 2002. 6 to become aware of a swindle US, 1963. ► tip it in trucking, to drive fast US, 1946. ► tip someone the wink to warn someone; to privately signal to someone UK, 1676. ► tip the brandy to lick, suck and tongue another's anus. A combination of TIP (to perform oral sex) and BRANDY AND RUM (the buttocks) UK, 2002. ► tip the bucket on someone to denigrate or criticise someone AUSTRALIA, 1986. ► tip the gas in drag racing, to fill the petrol tank US, 1968. ► tip the ivy to lick, suck and tongue another's anus UK, 2002. ► tip the load to go to confession AUSTRALIA, 1989. ► tip the velvet 1 to kiss with the tongue, especially to 'tongue a woman'. Based on obsolete 'velvet' (the tongue) UK, 1699. 2 to perform oral sex UK, 2002. 3 in homosexual sex, to lick, suck and tongue another's anus UK, 1997 tip-fiddle noun a military deployment list. Back-formation from TPFDL (time-phased forces deployment list) US, 2003 tip-off noun a warning; an item of private information. A variation of TIP UK, 1901 tip off verb to give information to someone, especially about an impending crime US, 1891

tipper noun a dump truck US, 1971

tippety-run noun a form of cricket played by children in which the person batting has to run every time the ball is hit. Also with great variation as 'tip-and-go', 'tip-and-run', 'tippety', 'tippety-cricket', 'tippety-runs', 'tippy-cricket', 'tippy-go', 'tippy-go-run', 'tippy-runs', 'tippy and tippy-runs' – and that's ignoring vast spelling variation AUSTRALIA, 1983 tipple noun 1 alcohol; especially a drink of regular choice. From the conventional verb UK, 1581. 2 by extension, a recreational drug of choice UK, 2000 tippy-toe verb to walk on tiptoe. Childish variation of conventional 'tiptoe' UK, 1901 tips noun in betting, odds of 11–10 UK, 1991

tip-slinger noun a person who offers racecourse tips AUSTRALIA, 1915

tipster noun in horse racing, someone who gives his opinions on various horses and their chances in a race US, 1951

tip-toe verb in motor racing, to manoeuvre carefully through or past an obstruction or dangerous condition US, 1980

tip-top adjective excellent UK, 1755 tip up verb to join a gang, especially a prison gang US, 2000 tip-up town noun a collection of ice fishing shanties on a lake's frozen surface. The 'tip-up' is the small fishing pole used for ice fishing. Michigan Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003 tire noun an apron worn by a young girl to keep her dress clean. This very old word – Shakespeare often used it – is still in use in Nova Scotia CANADA, 1988 tire billy noun a short stick with a weighted head used by truck drivers to test the air pressure of their tyres US, 1971 tired adjective boring UK, 1987 tired and emotional adjective drunk. A barbed journalistic euphemism thought to have been coined, or noted in political use and gleefully adopted, by satirical magazine Private Eye UK, 1981 tire-kicker; tyre-kicker noun in the used car business, a customer who studiously inspects the cars for sale, seemingly at the expense of ever getting around to buying a car. Reported by sales assistants in a UK electrical goods retail chain in August 2002 as meaning 'a customer who spends a long time looking and fails to make a purchase' US, 1997

tish note noun in circus and carnival usage, counterfeit money, especially when used to pay a prostitute US, 1981 tissue noun 1 crack cocaine. The variant 'tisher' is also used UK, 1998. 2 (especially in Tasmania) a cigarette paper AUSTRALIA, 1966 tissue odds; tissue noun a betting forecast used by bookmakers. From the flimsy paper originally used for this purpose UK, 1942 tiswas; tizwas; tizz-wozz noun a state of excitement or confusion. Originally Royal Air Force use; possibly a blend of 'it is/it was' as a variation of 'not know if you are coming or going' or a variation of TIZZ (an emotional state). From 1974–82 Tiswas was a popular Saturday morning television programme that demonstrated the qualities of excitement and confusion UK, 1960

tit noun 1 the female breast US, 1928. 2 any finger-touch button such as on an electric bell; thus any button-like or knobby protuberance that vaguely resembles a nipple. Originally military UK, 1943. 3 a police officer's helmet. From the shape UK, 2002. 4 a fool. Often as 'look a right tit' or 'an absolute tit', and the amusing popular favourite 'feel a right tit' UK, 1947. 5 a small raised bump on a computer keyboard key, most commonly the f and j keys, to provide orientation for the user's fingers US, 1991. ► a tit full of Wild Turkey used for describing an alcoholic's fondest sexual fantasy US, 1994. ► get tit to succeed in the goal of touching or fondling a girl's breasts US, 1974. ► on the tit enjoying charity, or quasi-charity, in the form of undemanding work US, 1957

tit adjective undemanding, easy US, 1990

tit about verb to waste time; to play about; to be engaged in trivial activity UK, 1999

tit and clit chain noun a decorative chain that connects a woman's pierced nipples and clitoris US, 1996 titanic noun someone who performs oral sex on first acquaintance. A joke reference to 'going down' (performing oral sex) first time out; the RMS Titanic famously sunk on her maiden voyage UK, 2002 titbag noun 1 a brassiere US, 1994. 2 a fool. An elaboration of TIT (a fool) UK, 2001 titch nickname applied to a person of small stature or a little child. Derives, via the earlier spelling 'tich', from music hall entertainer Little Tich (diminutive comedian Harry Relph, 1868–1928), who took as his stage name the nickname he was given as a child from his resemblance to Arthur Orton, the man who claimed to be the missing heir to an English baronetcy, Richard Tichborne UK, 1934 titchy adjective small, of small stature, insignificant. From TITCH UK, 1950

tit-clamp noun a device, designed to cause discomfort or pain for sexual stimulation, that is attached to a breast or nipple UK, 1995

tit-for-tat noun 1 a reaction equal and opposite to the action UK, 1556. 2 a hat. Rhyming slang. Can be shorthand to 'titfer', 'tiffa' or 'tit-for' UK, 1930. 3 a trade union traitor. Rhyming slang for RAT AUSTRALIA, 2002

tit-fuck noun an act of rubbing the penis in the compressed cleavage between a woman's breasts US, 1972

tit-fuck verb to rub the penis in the compressed cleavage between a woman's breasts US, 1986

tit-hammock noun a brassiere UK, 1961 tithead noun an idiot. Elaboration of TIT (an idiot) on the pattern of DICKHEAD (an idiot) UK, 1999

titi noun the female breast TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tit joint noun a bar or club featuring bare-breasted women servers US, 1984

tit-kisser noun a man sexually obsessed with women US, 1977

tit lift noun a procedure in cosmetic surgery to enhance the female breast UK, 1992

tit mag noun a magazine that features pictures of half-naked or naked women in erotic poses UK, 1976

tit magazine noun a magazine featuring photographs of naked women US, 1972

tit-man; tits-man noun a male with a (declared) primary interest in a woman's breasts as a point of attraction US, 1974 tito noun a rand (unit of currency). Teen slang, after South African Reserve Bank Governor Tito Mboweni SOUTH AFRICA, 2003

tit off verb to annoy or to aggravate someone UK, 1997

tit ring noun a ring that passes through a pierced nipple US, 1984

tit run noun a walk through a crowd in search of attractive female breasts US, 1995 tits noun 1 when preceded by a characteristic or adjective, a person (of either gender) of the type defined by that characteristic or adjective UK, 1997. 2 heroin. Probably from TITS (exceptionally good) UK, 2002. ► get on someone's tits to annoy or irritate someone. Used by either gender UK, 1945. ► off your tits drunk or drug-intoxicated UK, 2000. ► the tits the best; absolute perfection, mid-C20 tits adjective exceptionally good US, 1966

tits! used for expressing excitement US, 1992

tits and ass; tits and arse adjective said of a film, television programme, or magazine featuring nudity US, 1965 tits out adverb in an uncompromising fashion, determinedly. Office jargon with a non-gender specific application UK, 2005 tits up adjective dead; out of operation. A coarser BELLY-UP, of military (possibly Royal Air Force) origin UK, 1981

tittie twister noun a pinch and twist of the breast, especially the nipple US, 1997

tit tip noun a female nipple US, 1982 tittle-tattle verb to inform on someone. A nuance of the conventional sense (to chat, to gossip), perhaps influenced by 'tell-tale' UK, 2003 titty; tittie noun the female breast IRELAND, 1922

titty bar; tittie bar noun a bar featuring bare-breasted female servers and/or dancers US, 1991

titty-deep adjective used of a fox hole shallow US, 1990 titty-fuck noun an act of rubbing the penis in the compressed cleavage between a woman's breasts. Elaboration of TIT-FUCK US, 1988

titty-fuck verb to rub the penis in the compressed cleavage between a woman's breasts US, 1998

titty hard-ons noun erect nipples AUSTRALIA, 1996

titty pink adjective a bright pink shade of lipstick. Thought to resemble the colour of a nipple US, 1982 tittytainment noun television programming that exploits sex. Used in the German media US, 1998

tit-wank noun an act of sexual gratification in which the penis is rubbed between a female partner's breasts UK, 2002

tit willow noun a pillow. Rhyming slang; playing on the pillowing effect of a TIT (the female breast) UK, 1932

tizz verb to frizz something up AUSTRALIA, 1967

tizz; tiz; tizzy noun a state of panic or confused excitement US, 1935

tizzic noun a lingering, throaty cough BARBADOS, 1998

tizz up verb to dress up AUSTRALIA, 1977

tizzy adjective ostentatiously dressed AUSTRALIA, 1953

tizzy up verb to smarten or spruce something up AUSTRALIA, 1960

TJ nickname Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico. On the California-Mexico border, just south of San Diego, California US, 1981

T-Jones noun a mother US, 1988

tjorrie noun ► see: CHORRIE

TL noun a sycophant. From the Yiddish tuchus leker (ass licker) US, 1972

TLC noun tender, loving care US, 1973

TM noun 1 a commercially rolled cigarette. A shortened form of TAILOR-MADE US, 1976. 2 transcendental meditation US, 1979

TMB doctors' shorthand applied to an elderly patient. An initialism of 'too many birthdays' UK, 2002

TMI used for expressing the sentiment that a conversation has become too personal, that the speaker is imparting too much information US, 1997

TMT used to designate the person who will feature in your immediate masturbatory fantasies UK, 2002

TNT noun 1 heroin. A play on DYNAMITE (a powerful drug) UK, 1977. 2 amyl or butyl nitrite UK, 1998. 3 a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. A pun on TNT (the explosive trinitrotulene), suggesting that the ecstasy experience is explosive UK, 1999. 4 fentanyl, a synthetic narcotic analgesic that is used as a recreational drug 2004

TNX used as Internet discussion group shorthand to mean 'thanks' US, 1997 to preposition at. In conventional use from C10 to mid-C19; now in regional and dialect use in the UK, and colloquial use in the US UK, 1985 toad noun 1 an unattractive, older male homosexual US, 1985. 2 a very sick, derelict hospital patient. An initialism for a 'trashy old alcoholic derelict' US, 1977. 3 a black prisoner US, 1989. 4 a used car that is in very poor condition US, 1980

TOAD used for describing what happens when a surfer catches a big wave and almost immediately falls from his board. An abbreviation of 'take off and die' US, 1988

toadie noun the vagina US, 1998 toadskins noun money. A play on FROGSKIN CANADA, 1912 toad-stabber; toad-sticker noun a knife US, 1945 to and fro noun snow. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 to-and-fro'ing; to'ing-and-fro'ing noun a constant moving about UK, 1961 to and from noun an English person. Rhyming slang for POM AUSTRALIA, 1946 toast noun 1 something that is completely broken or inoperable US, 1991. 2 a forest that has been burnt by a forest fire US, 1991. 3 a narrative poem US, 1976. 4 an amusing story told as part of a rap performance. Adopted from a West Indian DJ's 'toast' (to perform a lyric) US, 2000 toast verb to heat a powdered drug such as heroin for injection CANADA, 1966 toast adjective dead US, 1983 toasted adjective 1 drunk US, 1980. 2 emotionally unstable ANTARCTICA, 1997

toasted bread adjective dead. A variation of the familiar rhyming slang 'brown bread'; UK, 1998 toast rack noun a very thin cow NEW ZEALAND, 2002 tobacco juice; tobacco stain noun faecal stains in the underwear or on a toilet bowl US, 1966

tobaccy noun tobacco US, 1935

Tobago love noun a relationship in which there is little or no display of affection TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1993

Tobago sugar noun wood waste left by termites TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tober noun a field or other site recognised as the temporary home and responsibility of a circus, fair or market. Shelta UK, 1890

Tobermory noun a story. Rhyming slang, from the main village on the Isle of Mull, Scotland UK, 2001 tober ome noun a toll collector, a rent collector; a landlord UK, 1934

tober showman noun a travelling musician UK, 2002

Tablerone; tobler noun alone; on my own. Rhyming slang, formed from a brand of chocolate confection. Often as 'on my tobler' IRELAND, 2003 to bugger adverb used to intensify an adjective. In phrases like 'blown to bugger' UK, 2002

toby noun the road, the highway. From Shelta tobar or tober UK, 1958 toby jug noun the ear. Rhyming slang for, LUG. UK, 1992 tochis; tuckus; tochas noun the buttocks. Yiddish US, 1934 tochis-over-teakettle adverb head-over-heels US, 1991 tockley noun the penis AUSTRALIA, 1992 to coin a phrase used as an ironic acknowledgement or apology for an immediately preceding or ensuing triteness US, 1951

toddie noun a potato UK, 1984

toddle verb to go; to leave UK, 1812 toddy noun an alcoholic beverage made with the alcohol of choice, hot water and sugar UK, 1991

todge ome-palone noun the passive partner in homosexual anal sex UK, 2002 todger noun the penis. From the obsolete verb 'todge' (to smash to a pulp), the penis seen as a smashing tool UK, 2001 todger dodger noun a lesbian. Literally 'someone who avoids a TODGER' (the penis) UK, 2002 to-do noun a social function or party. Extending the more general sense of 'to-do' (a fuss) creates this slightly critical variation of DO (a party) UK, 2001

Tod Sloan; tod noun alone. Rhyming slang for 'alone' although usage suggests a rhyme on 'own': 'on your tod' (on your own). Tod Sloan (1874–1933) was a US jockey who raced in the UK, under royal colours, from 1896. In 1901 he was banned by the English Jockey Club; by 1906 he was ruled off the turf everywhere. Coined originally for his fame, continued ironically with his infamy when he was truly 'on his tod'. Still used though the man is forgotten UK, 1934 toe noun ► on the toe nervous, anxious AUSTRALIA, 1989

toe-ender noun a kick UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 toefoot noun a numbing of the feet in cold water, creating the sensation of having no toes, only a foot. Surfing usage US, 2004 toe-jam noun the amalgam of dirt and sweat that gathers between the toes of unwashed feet US, 1999 toe nails in the radiator; toes on the radiator; toe nails on the front bumper; toes on the bumper adjective describing a vehicle being driven at top speed, or the driver of that vehicle. Citizens' band radio slang; the image of a driver's foot pressing the accelerator pedal through the floor US, 1976 toe-popper noun a small antipersonnel mine powerful enough to blow off a hand or foot US, 1990 toe-rag noun 1 a person who is disliked, usually with good reason. Ultimately from the rags worn on a tramp's feet, hence a beggar, and hence this term of contempt which is the only sense that survives UK, 1875. 2 a slut. Rhyming slang for SLAG UK, 1992 toes noun ► on your toes on the run UK, 1996 toes over adjective said when a surfer has any number of toes extended over the front end of the surfboard US, 1964 toes-up adjective sleeping. Prison usage NEW ZEALAND, 1997 toe ticket noun the name tag affixed to the toe of a corpse in a morgue US, 1962 toe-to-toe noun a fight UK, 2000 toe toucher noun a male homosexual, especially the passive partner in anal sex UK, 1983 toe up adjective drunk. A corruption of 'torn up' US, 2001 toey adjective 1 fast, fleet-footed AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 restless; uneasy. From an earlier sense of 'a racehorse keen to run' (1930) AUSTRALIA, 1959. 3 anxious for sex NEW ZEALAND, 1995

toff noun 1 a person who is, or appears to be, of a superior social status or well-to-do. From 'tuft' which, in 1670, was a gold tassel worn by titled undergraduates at Oxford and Cambridge, and, by 1755, was university slang for a person of rank and title and hence down the social scale to 'swell' and 'nob'. In 1865 there was a music hall song entitled 'The Shoreditch Toff' by Arthur Lloyd UK, 1851. 2 a completely reliable and dependable person AUSTRALIA, 1989

toffee noun 1 nonsense or flattery UK, 1967. 2 (a stick of) gelignite. From its appearance UK, 1964. ► for toffee of a person's ability to do something, not at all, by no means, not in any circumstances UK, 1914 toffee-nose noun a snob; a supercilious individual. A play on TOFF (a well-to-do person) as the sort of person who would look down their nose at a lesser individual UK, 1964 toffee-nosed adjective supercilious, snobbish UK, 1925

toffee wrapper; toffee noun the head. Rhyming slang for NAPPER UK, 1998

toff ome noun a wealthy older male homosexual lover; a homosexual sugar daddy. After the obsolete sense as 'a very well-to-do gentleman' UK, 2002

tog noun a men's suit CANADA, 1965

tog verb to dress. Conventional English reincarnated as slang in black vernacular US, 1946 together adjective having your life, career or emotions under control; self-assured US, 1969. ► get it together to take control of your personal condition; to get your mind and emotions under control; to become organised US, 1975 tagged out adjective dressed UK, 1793 tagged up adjective dressed up, usually for a special occasion. From TOGS (clothes) UK, 1793

toggle jockey noun in the US Air Force, a co-pilot US, 1946 togs noun 1 clothing. Conventional English starting in the late C18, resurrected as slang in the C20 UK, 1779. 2 especially on the eastern mainland, a swimming costume AUSTRALIA, 1918 toilet noun 1 an inferior venue UK, 2002. 2 in the used car business, a used car with serious hygiene issues US, 1992. 3 a person as a sex object US, 1980. 4 fat buttocks BAHAMAS, 1982. 5 a casino. An insider term US, 1980. ► in the toilet 1 lost, wasted US, 1987. 2 in serious trouble US, 2001 toilet-bowl adjective having an inferior location or very low status US, 1995 toilet-bowl woman noun a prostitute who operates on Main Street in downtown Los Angeles. Another name for a 'comfort lady' US, 2000 toilet mouth noun a person who employs a vocabulary that is considered foul or obscene US, 1976

toilet queen noun a homosexual male who loiters around public toilets in search of sex-partners US, 1967 toilet roll; toilet noun unemployment benefit. Rhyming slang for THE DOLE UK, 1992 toilet seat noun in electric line work, an insulator retainer US, 1980 toilet-seat flying noun short run commercial flying, with lots of stops CANADA, 1996 toilet services noun in a prostitute's advertising, the act of urination, or defecation, by one person on another for fetishistic gratification UK, 2003 toilet snipe noun a thief who robs homosexuals at public toilets, often after posing as a homosexual himself UK, 1983 toilet talk noun speech that is considered obscenely offensive US, 1971

Toiling Tillie noun used as a personification of the stereotypical female office worker US, 1955 to'ing-and-fro'ing noun ▶ see: TO-AND-FRO'ING toke noun 1 an inhalation of marijuana smoke US, 1962. 2 marijuana UK, 2001. 3 a dose of a drug US, 1994. 4 cocaine UK, 2003. 5 in casino gambling, a gratuity either in the form of betting chips or in the form of a bet made in the name of the dealer. An abbreviation of 'token of gratitude' US, 1981 toke verb 1 to inhale smoke from a tobacco cigarette, a marijuana cigarette, a crack cocaine pipe or other drug US, 1952. 2 to sniff up and inhale cocaine UK, 2001. 3 to tip someone. Almost exclusively casino usage US, 1983

toke pipe noun a short-stemmed pipe used for smoking marijuana US, 1982 toke noun 1 a marijuana smoker US, 1973. 2 in a casino, a tipper. Because tips in casinos are most often in the form of gambling tokens or 'tokens' US, 1974

toke up verb to smoke marijuana US, 1959 to kill for adjective extremely desirable UK, 2001

Tokyo toughies noun inexpensive tennis shoes US, 1991 tol'able used as a response to the query of how you are. A youth-slurred 'tolerable' US, 1981 toley; toly noun excrement, especially a turd. From Scottish dialect toalie or tolie (a small cake) UK: SCOTLAND, 1967

toller noun a carved wooden duck decoy CANADA, 1946

tolley noun toluene, a paint solvent inhaled by the truly desperate abuser US, 1997

tolly mug noun a tooth mug or glass UK, 1947 tom noun 1 a prostitute. Thus a police unit that targets prostitution may be dubbed 'tom squad' or 'tom patrol' UK, 1948. 2 a resident of Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal, the power elite of Canada CANADA, 1979. 3 in a casino, a poor tipper US, 1993. 4 money SOUTH AFRICA, 1975. 5 a British private soldier. A shortening of TOMMY UK, 1995

Tom noun a black person who curries favour with white people by obsequious and servile behaviour. A shortened form of UNCLE TOM US, 1959 tom verb to work as a prostitute. From TOM (a prostitute) UK, 1964 ▶ see: TOMORROW

Tom verb to curry favour by acting obsequiously and in a servile manner US, 1967

Tom adjective shoddy, inferior US, 1989

Tom and Dick; Tom, Harry and Dick; Harry, Tom and Dick; Tom Harry adjective sick. Rhyming slang UK, 1954

tomato noun an attractive woman, especially a young one US, 1929 tomato can noun a mediocre boxer US, 1955 tomato puree; tomato noun a jury. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 tomato sauce noun a racehorse. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tombowler; tombola noun a large marble; a highly prized marble AUSTRALIA, 1977

Tombs nickname the Manhattan Detention Complex or city jail. Named when built in the mid-C19 because it was modelled on an Egyptian-style mausoleum. The present facility bears no resemblance to the original structure but still carries the sobriquet US, 1840 tombstone disposition noun a surly, graceless, fearless character US, 1970 tom cat noun 1 a sewing machine needle converted to use for injecting drugs US, 1949. 2 a mat. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 tom-cat; tomcat verb to pursue women for the purpose of fleeting sexual encounters US, 1927

Tom Cruise noun alcohol. Rhyming slang for BOOZE, formed on the name of the US film actor (b.1962) UK, 1998

Tom, Dick and Harrilal noun used as the Trinidadian version of the common man Tom, Dick and Harry TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990

Tom, Dick and Harry noun any man – by random example. From C16, obsolete variations abound, not the least of which is Shakespeare's 'Tom, Dick and Francis'; 'Tom Dick and Harry' is not recorded until 1865 UK, 1865

Tom Dooleys noun the testicles. Rhyming slang for GOOLIES (the testicles), formed from a folk song character who, fittingly, was hung UK, 1992

Tom Finney adjective skinny. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of Preston and England footballer, Tom Finney (b.1922) UK, 1998 tomfoolery; tom noun jewellery. Rhyming slang. The abbreviated form is first recorded in 1955 UK, 1931

tomming noun prostitution UK, 2002

Tom Mix; tom noun an injection of a drug. Rhyming slang for FIX, formed on the name of US film actor Tom Mix, 1880–1940 UK, 1978 tommy noun the penis BAHAMAS, 1982

Tommy noun a British private soldier. The name Tommy Atkins was used as a specimen signature on official forms UK, 1884

Tommy Dodd noun 1 God. Rhyming slang UK, 1960. 2 a gun. Rhyming slang for ROD US, 1944

Tommy Dodd adjective odd. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Tommy Dodds noun betting odds. Rhyming slang, extended from TOMMY DODD (odd) used from the mid-C19 in relation to coin tossing UK, 1960

Tommy Farr noun a (drinks) bar. Rhyming slang formed on the name of the Welsh champion boxer, 1914–86 UK, 1992

Tommy Guns noun diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE RUINS UK, 1998

Tommy Rollocks; rollocks; rollicks noun the testicles; nonsense, especially as an exclamation. Rhyming slang for BOLLOCKS UK, 1961 tommyrot noun nonsense UK, 1884

tommy squeaker noun a fart UK, 2003

Tommy Trinder noun a window. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the popular Cockney comedian, 1909–89 UK, 1998

Tommy Tripe; tommy verb to look at someone or something. Rhyming slang for PIPE UK, 1992

Tommy Trotter noun a lump of nasal mucus. Glasgow rhyming slang for SNOTTER UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

Tommy Tucker noun 1 the penis, especially when erect. Possibly rhyming slang for 'fucker' UK, 1966. 2 a spirited person. Rhyming slang for FUCKER, formed from a nursery rhyme character. Normally said without malice UK, 1998. 3 a gullible individual. Rhyming slang for SUCKER UK, 1998 tomo noun a subterranean stream. From the Maori term for 'cave' NEW ZEALAND, 1972 tomorrow noun ▶ like there was no tomorrow; as if there was no tomorrow with desperate vigour, urgently UK, 1980 tomorrow; tom verb to borrow. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tomorrow next day noun among Nova Scotians of German descent, the indefinite future CANADA, 1999 toms noun a fit of annoyance. Short for TOM TITS AUSTRALIA, 1960

Tom Sawyer noun a lawyer. Rhyming slang, formed from Mark Twain's eponymous hero UK, 1961

Tom Tank noun an act of male masturbation. Rhyming slang for WANK (an act of masturbation) UK, 2003

Tom Terrific nickname Tom Seaver (b.1944), a pitcher who almost single-handedly carried the New York Mets from last place in 1967 to the World Series champions in 1969. From a television cartoon show popular in the late 1950s and early 60s US, 1969

Tom Thumb noun rum. Rhyming slang AUSTRALIA, 1905

tom tit; tom noun an act of defecation. Rhyming slang for SHIT UK, 1943 tom tits; toms noun 1 diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE SHITS AUSTRALIA, 1943. 2 a fit of annoyance. Rhyming slang for SHITS AUSTRALIA, 1944

Tom Tug noun a bug. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 ton noun 1 a large amount. Often in the plural UK, 1770. 2 in any miscellaneous context, one hundred UK, 1962. 3 one hundred miles per hour UK, 1954. 4 one hundred pounds sterling UK, 1946. 5 one hundred Australian dollars AUSTRALIA, 1989 ton verb ► ton it to drive at 100 miles per hour UK, 2000 tone noun rude or disparaging talk TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1957 tone on tone noun a car with the same colour interior and exterior US, 1997 toney adjective ► see: TONY tongs noun heroin. Possibly in reference to the Chinese 'tongs' (criminal organisations) responsible in part for the import and distribution of the drug UK, 2002 tongue noun 1 the clitoris TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003. 2 an attorney US, 1962. ► get tongue in the categorisation of sexual activity by teenage boys, to kiss with tongue contact US, 1986 tongue job noun oral sex on a woman UK, 1984 tongue-pash verb to kiss with open mouths AUSTRALIA, 2000 tongue-trooper noun a Quebec inspector of signs, commissioned to enforce Bill 101, the language law making French primary in the province. Mordecai Richler is widely credited with having invented this popular nickname for the 'language police' in his controversial New Yorker essay 'Oh Canada! Oh Quebec!' (1992) CANADA, 2000 tongue wash noun oral sex, especially on a woman US, 1981 tonguey; tonguie noun a tongue-kiss AUSTRALIA, 1995

tonk noun 1 a homosexual male. From 'tonka bean', rhyming slang for QUEEN NEW ZEALAND, 1946. 2 the penis AUSTRALIA, 1972 tonk verb 1 to have sex. Euphemistic for FUCK UK, 1974. 2 in sport, to defeat someone resoundingly. Noted as 'imitative of a powerful blow having reached its target' by Susie Dent, The Language Report, 2003 UK, 1997 tonking noun a humiliating beating. From TONK UK, 1999

tonking adjective used as an intensifier UK, 1974

tonky noun the genitals, male or female BAHAMAS, 1982

tonky adjective fashionable. A possible blend of French ton (style) and SWANKY (SHOWY) NEW ZEALAND, 1998

Tonky; tonkie noun a member of the Batonka tribe; an unsophisticated person or thing; someone who has 'gone native'. Derogatory ZIMBABWE, 2000

tonsil hockey noun passionate kissing US, 1986

tonsil juice noun saliva US, 1946

tonsil paint noun whisky US, 1977

tonsil test noun a film or theatre audition UK, 1952 tonsil-tickling noun intensive kissing. Slang for those who don't let it get too serious UK, 1990s tonto adjective crazy, silly, foolish, eccentric. From Spanish tonto (stupid) US, 1973 ton-up noun a speed of 100 miles per hour, especially with reference to motorcycles UK, 1961 ton-up boy noun a motorcyclist who has driven at 100 miles per hour; generically, a member of a motorcycle gang. From TON (100) UK, 1983 tony; toney adjective up-market, sophisticated, stylish; snobbish, swanky. Conventionally meaning 'style'. Also used in Australia and New Zealand since 1900 US, 2001

Tony Benn noun ten. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of popular socialist politician Tony Benn (b.1925) UK, 1998

Tony Benner noun ten pounds. Rhyming slang for TENNER, extended on the name of Tony Benn (b.1925), a popular socialist politician UK, 1998

Tony Blair; tony noun hair. Rhyming slang, based on prime minister Tony Blair (b.1953), probably inspired by the new hairstyle he adopted (with widespread media attention) in 1996 UK, 1998

Tony Blairs noun flared trousers. Rhyming slang for 'flares' UK, 1998

Tony Hatch noun a match. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the British tunesmith (b.1939) UK, 1998 tony's noun dice that have been marked to have two identical faces US, 1950

toodlebuck; toodle-em-buck; doodle-em-buck noun any of various gambling games played by children utilising a spinning device with the names of horses in a race written on it. From a 'toodle/doodle' frequentative formation expressive of spinning, 'em' (them) and 'buck' (a gambling marker) AUSTRALIA, 1924

toodle-oo goodbye. Cute. In the US, quite affected in a British sort of way UK, 1907

toodle-pip; tootle-pip goodbye. Very dated; contemporary usage is generally ironic, denoting a certain type of foolish upper-class speaker UK, 1907 toodles goodbye. Affected; an American corruption of TOODLE-OO, perceived in the US as quaintly and quintessentially British. A signature line of the Francine 'Gidget' Lawrence character played by Sally Fields on Gidget (ABC, 1965–66). Repeated with referential humour US, 1966

toody-hoo used as a greeting US, 1983 too fool adjective lacking common sense CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985

toolie; tuie; tooney; toolie; toole noun a capsule of amobarbital sodium and secobarbital sodium (trade name Tuinal™), a combination of central nervous system depressants US, 1966 tool noun 1 the penis. Conventional English at first – found in Shakespeare's Henry VIII – and then rediscovered in the C20 as handy slang UK, 1553. 2 an objectionable idiot, a fool UK, 2001. 3 a diligent student US, 1965. 4 a weapon, generally a gun or a knife UK, 1942. 5 a skilled pickpocket US, 1950. 6 in pool, a player's cue stick US, 1993. 7 a surfboard US, 1987 tool verb 1 to drive, to go, to travel, usually in a carefree manner. Originally of horse-drawn transports, applied in the C20 to motor vehicles, boats and aircraft US, 1948. 2 to wander aimlessly; to do nothing in particular. The variant 'tool around' is also used US, 1932. 3 to have sex US, 1993. 4 to slash a person with a razor UK, 1959. 5 to work hard US, 1997 toolbox noun 1 the male genitals US, 1964. 2 the vagina US, 1967 tool check noun an inspection by a military doctor or medic of male recruits for signs of sexually transmitted disease US, 1967 tooled up adjective 1 in possession of a weapon. From TOOL (a gun or knife); popularised in such 1970s television crime dramas as The Sweeney UK, 1959. 2 carrying cocaine. A self-important adoption of an earlier gangster cliché UK, 2001. 3 in possession of house-breaking implements UK, 1959

tooler noun a show-off US, 1965 tooley bird noun in oil drilling, a loud squeak caused by poorly lubricated equipment US, 1954

toolie noun 1 in oil drilling, a driller's helper US, 1954. 2 a man who, in a quest for sex, joins a group of young people during the Schoolies Week holiday AUSTRALIA, 2003 toolies noun a pair of men's close-fitting and revealing nylon swimming trunks. From TOOL (the penis) AUSTRALIA, 2003 ► see: TULES toolio noun a social outcast US, 1997 tools noun 1 the syringe and other equipment used to prepare and inject drugs US, 1966. 2 the jewellery, cars, clothing and material flourishes that support a pimp's image US, 1972. 3 a racecourse bookmaker's equipment UK, 2001 tools of the trade noun any objects used in sado-masochistic activities, especially when advertised by a prostitute UK, 2003 tool up verb (of a man) to ready yourself for sexual intercourse, by erecting the penis UK, 1984 too much adjective great, wonderful, excellent US, 1969 too much! used as a humorous commentary, suggesting that someone has gone too far US, 1963 too much perspective; too much fucking perspective used for expressing the sentiment that too much information is being shared.

A catchphrase from Spinal Tap, used with humour and referentially US, 1984 toonie noun a two-dollar coin. An alternative to 'doubloonie', both nicknames derived from the LOONY CANADA, 1987 toonkins noun used as an endearing term of address to a child BARBADOS, 1965 too right yes indeed!, absolutely! AUSTRALIA, 1919 tooroo goodbye. Variant of 'too-ra-loo' AUSTRALIA, 1927 too serious adjective very good US, 1980 toot noun 1 a dose of a drug, especially cocaine to be snorted US, 1971. 2 an inhalation of marijuana smoke UK, 2004. 3 cocaine; heroin UK, 1977. 4 butyl nitrite US, 1984. 5 a drinking spree US, 1891. 6 the toilet. Rhymes with 'foot'. Perhaps a euphemistic alteration of 'toilet'. The suggestion in the Australian National Dictionary that it derives from British dialect tut (a small seat or hassock), recorded in C19, fails to impress as it doesn't take into account the fact that the dialect word was pronounced to rhyme with 'putt' AUSTRALIA, 1965. 7 a prostitute US, 2001. ▶ see: WHISTLE AND TOOT toot verb 1 to inhale a powdered drug, such as cocaine US, 1975. 2 to inhale crack cocaine vapours UK, 1996. 3 to fart US, 1978 toot; tute nickname in Canadian military aviation, the Tutor one-engine jet trainer CANADA, 1995 tooter noun a (improvised) tube for inhaling cocaine into the nose US, 1981 toothbrush day noun after a guilty verdict, the day when sentencing is announced US, 1985 tooththing noun anonymous casual sexual activity with any partner arranged over Bluetooth™ radio technology enabled mobile phones UK, 2004 toothless gibbon noun the vagina. A visual pun, evocative of, if not inspired by, The Goodies 'Funky Gibbon', 1970 UK, 1999 toothpick noun 1 a thinly rolled marijuana cigarette. Collected during an extensive survey of New Zealand prison slang, 1996–2000 NEW ZEALAND, 2000. 2 a long, thin, old-fashioned surfboard AUSTRALIA, 1985. 3 a railway tie US, 1977. 4 a pool cue stick that is lighter than average US, 1990. 5 a sharp knife US, 1945 tooth-to-tail ratio noun the ratio of combat troops (tooth) to rear-echelon support personnel (tail) US, 1991

tootie adjective homosexual US, 1999 tooting adverb completely, absolutely. Usually further intensified with a preceding adverb US, 1932

Tooting Bec noun 1 food; a little to eat. Rhyming slang for PECK formed from an area of south London UK, 1937. 2 a kiss. Rhyming slang for 'peck' UK, 1992 tootle; tootle around; tootle along; tootle off verb to go; to wander; to travel UK, 1959 too true used as a stressed affirmative UK, 1969 toots noun used as an affectionate term of address, usually to a girl or woman US, 1936 tootsie noun 1 a woman, a girlfriend; often used as a form of address, either humorous or affectionate US, 1895. 2 a child's foot; a woman's foot. A baby-talk coinage; playful or affectionate usage US, 1999. 3 a capsule of secobarbital sodium and amobarbital sodium (trade name Tuinal™), a combination of central nervous system depressants. Also variant 'tootie' US, 1977 tootsie roll noun distilled and concentrated heroin US, 1987 tootsie trade noun a sexual coupling of two effeminate homosexual men UK, 2002 toov noun cigarettes, tobacco. English gypsy use UK, 2000 too wet to plow adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999 top noun 1 the dominant partner in a homosexual or sado-masochistic relationship US, 1967. 2 a maximum prison sentence US, 1968. 3 a first sergeant. Variants include 'topper' and 'tap kick' US, 1991. ▶ be on top to be discovered in a criminal enterprise; to be arrested. Presumably from the exposed and conspicuous position that is normally meant by 'on top' UK, 1970. ▶ over the top said of a score in pinball when the score exceeds the capacity of the scoring device and thus returns to zero US, 1977. ▶ the top 1 the beginning of something, often in the phrase 'from the top' UK, 1976. 2 the northern parts of Australia AUSTRALIA, 1951 top verb 1 to execute someone especially by hanging or beheading; hence, to kill someone UK, 1718. 2 to take the dominant, controlling role in a sado-masochistic relationship US, 1997. ▶ top from the bottom; top from below (of a sexual submissive in a sado-masochistic relationship), to take, or attempt to take, the dominant, controlling role UK, 1996. ▶ top the hills and pop the pills used as a stock description of a trucker's work US, 1976. ▶ top yourself to commit suicide. A specific variant of TOP (to kill deliberately) UK, 1718 top adjective great; excellent US, 1935 top banana noun the headliner in a vaudeville show; by figurative extension, the leading figure in any enterprise US, 1953 top bitch noun in a group of prostitutes working for a pimp, the latest addition to the group US, 1967 top bollocks; top ballocks noun the female breasts UK, 1967 top brass; brass noun high-ranking police officers. Adopted from military usage, preceded by 'big brass' and 'high brass' UK, 1949 top dog noun 1 a very important person UK, 1900. 2 in poker, the highest pair in a hand US, 1996 top dog adjective of a person, important UK, 1998 top dollar noun a high price or the best price; or rate of pay US, 1994 top dollar adjective first-rate, genuine UK, 2001 top-drawer adjective well-bred, high-class, the best UK, 1920 top dresser drawer noun the uppermost berth in a brakevan (caboose) US, 1946 toped verb drunk. From the conventional, if rarely used, verb 'tope' UK, 2003

Top End; top end noun the northern parts of the Northern Territory AUSTRALIA, 1933

Top Ender noun a person from the Top End AUSTRALIA, 1941 top-flight adjective first rate US, 1939 top gun noun 1 crack cocaine US, 1994. 2 one hundred pounds. Rhyming slang for TON, formed from the title of a 1986 film UK, 1998 top hat noun 1 the vagina. Rhyming slang for PRAT UK, 1998. 2 a fool. Rhyming slang for PRAT UK, 1998. 3 in the television and film industries, a device used to enable shooting very low angles UK, 1960 top hats noun erect nipples US, 1997 top-hole adjective excellent. Arch and dated but still used without irony UK, 1908 topless noun in the used car business, a convertible US, 1992 top mag noun a fast-talking criminal. Possibly an elaboration on earlier sense of 'mag' (a chatterer) AUSTRALIA, 1975 top man noun in a homosexual couple, the partner who plays the active role during sex US, 1941 top notch noun a gang member with high standing within the gang JAMAICA, 1989 top-notch adjective of the best quality. Figurative use of a 'top notch' representing the highest point achievable UK, 1984 top-notcher noun an outstanding person AUSTRALIA, 1947 topo noun crack cocaine UK, 2003 top-off noun a police informer AUSTRALIA, 1940 top-off merchant noun a police informer AUSTRALIA, 1944 top of the head noun in betting, odds of 9–4. From the TICK-TACK signal used by bookmakers UK, 1991 top of the pops noun the police. Rhyming slang for COPS, formed on the title of UK television's longest-running popular music show (BBC television, 1964–2006) UK, 2005 top of the shop adjective excellent. An elaboration of TOP (excellent) UK, 1999 top of the world noun a feeling of elation, good health or prosperity US, 1920 top one noun the best of times UK, 1999 topper noun 1 a remark or action that serves as the coup de grace of a conversation or series of events US, 1939. 2 a criminal who represents the interests of a cheque forger UK, 1956. 3 in circus and carnival usage, a featured act US, 1981 topping adjective excellent UK, 1822 topping shed noun in prison, a place of execution UK, 1950 tops noun dice that have been marked to have two identical faces US, 1962 tops adjective topmost in quality, the best US, 1935 tops adverb at the most US, 1987 tops and bottoms noun 1 in poker, a hand consisting of a pair of aces (the highest card) and a pair of twos (the lowest card) US, 1951. 2 a roll of trimmed paper 'topped' and 'bottomed' with a genuine banknote to give the impression of a weighty roll of money UK, 1959. 3 a combination of Taluin™, a painkiller, and the antihistamine Pyribenzamine™, abused for non-medicinal purposes US, 1989 top-shelf adjective excellent or the best US, 1892 top stick noun the best regular player in a pool hall US, 1990 topsy noun a chamber pot BARBADOS, 1965

topsy-turvy adjective 1 disordered, in a chaotic state, very untidy UK, 1528. 2 upside down; in reverse order UK, 1530 top totty noun an especially desirable or sexually available woman or women UK, 2001 top 'uns noun a woman's breasts UK, 1958 top whack; top wack noun the most expensive price. Derives from WHACK (a share of money) UK, 1974 top willow! in cricket, used for registering enthusiastic approval of a batsman's performance. A cricket bat is traditionally made of willow. Displayed on a placard at the England v West Indies 2nd Test, Edgbaston, 31st July 2004 UK, 2004

toque; tuque noun a knitted cap made from wool CANADA, 1871 torch noun 1 an arsonist US, 1938. 2 an act of arson US, 1981. 3 a cigarette lighter US, 1972. 4 a handgun US, 1962. 5 marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. A conical shape holding fire at the flared end US, 1977. 6 a love song or ballad US, 1948 torch verb to light a fire, especially an arson fire US, 1931 torched adjective drunk US, 1990 torch job noun an enema containing a heat-inducing agent such as Vicks Vaporub™, Ben-Gay™, Heet™, or Tabasco™ sauce US, 1972 torch up noun to smoke marijuana; to light up a joint US, 1955 tore down adjective very disoriented, usually because of drug intoxication UK, 1983 toreon noun a variety of marijuana UK, 1980 tore up adjective distressed US, 1960 tornado bait noun a mobile home or trailer, especially in a tornado zone US, 1992 torn up adjective hurt; upset US, 1968

Toronto the Good nickname the city of Toronto, considered with reference to its longtime (into the 1980s) strict rectitude in law and custom. Also nicknamed Hogtown, Toronto continues to carry both terms though money and a cosmopolitan and international flavour have replaced slaughterhouses and the former moral stiffness CANADA, 2001

torpecker noun a torpedo US, 1948 torpedo noun 1 a hired gunman or killer US, 1929. 2 the penis US, 2003. 3 a marijuana cigarette SOUTH AFRICA, 1946. 4 a marijuana and crack cocaine cigarette US, 1994. 5 in trucking, a large, bullet-shaped light on a cab US, 1971 torpedo juice noun any improvised liquor on board a submarine US, 1948 torpedos noun beans US, 1977 torqued adjective angered, annoyed US, 1968 tortoise head noun the erect penis UK, 2001 torture chamber noun a jail or prison where illegal drugs are not available US, 1982

Torvill and Dean noun a homosexual. Rhyming slang for QUEEN, formed from ice-dancing champions and Olympic gold medal winners 1984, Jayne Torvill and Christopher Dean UK, 2003

Toryglental adjective insane, crazy. Glasgow rhyming slang for 'mental', contrived on the Toryglen area of Glasgow UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 tosh noun 1 nonsense. A compound of synonyms 'bosh' and 'trash' UK, 1892. 2 used as a form of male address. Possibly Scottish in origin. In 1990, car manufacturer Toshiba created a new slogan 'Ullo Tosh! Gotta Toshiba?' based on the song 'Ullo John! Gotta New Motor?', Alexei Sayle, 1983 UK, 1954. 3 a bath. School slang UK, 1881 tosheroon; tusheroon; 'roon noun in pre-decimalisation currency, a half-crown coin; two shillings and sixpence UK, 1859

toshing verb painting and decorating UK, 1998 tosh up verb to make something look as good as new. Car dealers' term UK, 1983

toss noun 1 nonsense, especially if self-indulgent UK, 1990. 2 something of little or no value UK, 1994. 3 an act of masturbation UK, 1785. 4 a search of a person or place US, 1973. 5 an armed robbery US, 1950. ► not give a toss; not care a toss to not care one way or another; to reject. Two suggested etymologies prevail, either 'to not care enough to toss a coin' or 'to toss (masturbate) yourself'; on balance, probably 'to toss a coin' as it takes a deal less effort and therefore the rejection is greater UK, 2001

toss verb 1 (of a male) to masturbate. Often used with 'off' UK, 1879. 2 to get the better of someone; to overcome someone or something AUSTRALIA, 1949. 3 to search a room, apartment, house, office or person without regard to the condition in which the premises or person are left US, 1939. 4 to rob a place US, 1950. 5 to gulp a drink down, 1992. ► toss a grind to eat US, 1992. ► toss chow to eat quickly and voraciously US, 1993. ► toss it in stop doing something AUSTRALIA, 1954. ► toss it to someone to have sex with a woman US, 1964. ► toss salad to engage in oral stimulation of the anus US, 2001. ► toss the boards to play three card molly, a street swindle in which the object is to identify a given card among three cards that are quickly moved around US, 1972. ► toss the tiger to vomit. A visual allusion to multi-coloured vomit NEW ZEALAND, 1960. ► toss your cookies to vomit. Children's vocabulary US, 1941. ► toss your lollies to vomit NEW ZEALAND, 1998

tossbag noun a contemptible individual UK, 1977 tossed salad noun any of several sexual practices involving oral-anal stimulation US, 1997 tosser noun 1 someone who is considered worthless or despicable. A synonym of WANKER UK, 1977. 2 nothing at all; something of very little value. From the meaning as 'a penny' (a coin of little value) UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 3 a penny. From the low value coin used in games of pitch-and-toss. Still current in Northern Ireland UK, 1934 tossily adverb self-indulgently, hence pretentiously. From TOSS (to masturbate) UK, 2000 tossle; tossel noun the penis. Variant of 'tassle' (something that dangles) AUSTRALIA, 1945 tossup noun a fool; a generally abusive term for a person; in Australia, used as an affectionate form of address. Derives originally (C16) from the conventional sense as 'drunkard'. The more abusive sense combines 'fool' and TOSSER, a synonym for WANKER (a despicable person) UK, 1983 toss-up noun 1 an even chance; anything dependant on chance. From the tossing of a coin UK, 1809. 2 a person who will trade sex for crack cocaine US, 1989. 3 a promiscuous female US, 1995 toss-ups noun crack cocaine. From 'toss-up' (a person who trades sex for crack) UK, 2003 tossy adjective pathetic UK, 2001

tot verb to collect rubbish UK, 1884

TOT used for suggesting that it is time to tell the complete truth.

From the Yiddish for 'buttocks on the table' US, 1989 total verb to wreck something beyond repair. Originally and chiefly applied to a car US, 1954 total adjective utter; out-and-out; complete; used as an all-purpose intensifier US, 1999 total bang up noun in prison, a regime under which inmates are locked in their cells for 24 hours a day UK, 1996 total blank noun in circus and carnival usage, a dull town where business is poor US, 1981 totalled; totalled out adjective drunk US, 1966 totally adverb completely. Very close to standard English, but with the right attitude quite slangy US, 1982 totally! used as an enthusiastic expression of agreement US, 1982 total out adjective to an extreme; to excess. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982 total wreck noun a cheque. Rhyming slang UK, 1996 tote noun in horse racing, a pari-mutuel betting machine. An abbreviation of 'totalisator' AUSTRALIA, 1890 tote verb to carry a pistol US, 1998

tot! used for expressing assent. An abbreviation of TOTALLY! US, 2000 to the bad of time, late UK, 2000 to the good adverb of time, early UK, 2000 to the nth degree adjective to an extent beyond any reasonable measurement. Uses 'n' (a mathematical symbol for an indefinite number) to create a quasi-scientific sounding approximation UK, 2001 to the rack! used by pool players for expressing dismay and utter defeat. The player has no choice in this situation but to return his cue to the rack US, 1993

tothersider noun in Western Australia, a person from an eastern state AUSTRALIA, 1872

toto noun the penis TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987 toto-ed adjective in a state of drug-induced exhilaration. Inspired by The Wizard of Oz, 1939, in which Judy Garland (1922–69) as Dorothy, says to her dog: 'Toto, I don't think we're in Kansas anymore' UK, 2001 totonol noun frequent, regular sex as a cure for a woman's ailments TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tottie; totty; tot noun a person who is not white, especially a 'coloured' person; originally and particularly, one of the Khoikhoi race. Derives from Hottentot; now considered derogatory and offensive SOUTH AFRICA, 1832 ▶ see: TATER tottita noun the vagina US, 1998

tot-tots noun the female breasts TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1974

totty; tottie; tott noun a sexually available or desirable young woman or women UK, 1890

totty adjective attractive, desirable UK, 2002

tot up verb to amount to; to add up; to calculate. Ultimately from 'total'. An older variant, 'tot together', is still familiar UK, 2004 touch noun 1 a sum of money obtained at one time, especially by cadging or theft US, 1846. 2 a satisfying result. Derives from the 'something-for-nothing' senses UK, 2000. 3 in pool, finesse US, 1895. 4 a resemblance or evocative quality. When combined with a pluralised proper noun, it is used to suggest characteristics associated with that noun, as 'a touch of the Prince Edwards', 'a touch of the Bob Dylans' or 'a touch of the Hollywoods' UK, 1388. ▶ put the touch on someone to attempt to extract money from someone with glib or coercive talk US, 1956 touch verb 1 to borrow from someone US, 1955. 2 to subject someone to extortion or bribery UK, 1654. 3 to finance someone UK, 1999. 4 to have sex with someone IRELAND, 1984. ▶ I wouldn't touch it with yours used by one male to another as an expression of distaste or contempt for a female. Here 'it' is 'a woman' and 'yours' is 'a penis' UK, 1984. ▶ not touch it with a bargepole used as an indication of extreme distaste or contempt. In many minor variations UK, 1984. ▶ touch home to communicate a feeling; to make sense US, 1959. ▶ touching cloth; touching cotton having an urgent need to defecate UK, 2002 touch and go adjective of uncertain outcome, unsure UK, 1815 touch and tap noun a cap (hat). Rhyming slang UK, 1992 touched; touched in the head adjective mentally impaired; insane UK, 1893 touched by the moon adjective (slightly) insane. An elaboration of TOUCHED (insane), in the form of rhyming slang on LOON (a madman) UK, 1992 touche éclat verb to conceal something. From French, where, if the construction were used, it would mean (very loosely) 'a brilliant or acclaimed touch'. A contemporary gay usage UK, 2003 touchhead noun a convert to the musical cult of the Grateful Dead after the 1987 release of the song 'Touch of Grey'. A play on the common DEADHEAD (a Grateful Dead follower) US, 1995 touching adjective used of playing cards adjacent in rank US, 1996 touch man noun a criminal who specialises in breaking into safes by manipulating the combinations until they open US, 1970 touch off verb to light a fire, especially if arson US, 1979 touch'ole noun a cow's anus CANADA, 1992 touch-on noun an erection UK, 2001

touchous adjective irritable, easily upset TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1956 touch the dog's arse noun car theft. Prison slang for the initialism TDA (taking and driving away) UK: ENGLAND, 1998 touch up verb 1 to caress and fondle someone in a sexual manner UK, 1903. 2 to steal something US, 1997 touch wood used superstitiously as a precaution against bad luck, spoken to accompany the action of touching wood (often humorously tapping your own wooden head); or to replace the need for the action; or by rote, without superstition, as a general way of saying 'with luck'. After a Christian belief in the benefit of touching the cross, hence the proverbial 'Touch wood, it's sure to come good' UK, 1908 touchy-feely adjective overly sensitive, caring or emotional.

Originating in psycho-therapy, now generally used dismissively to describe every state between tactile and lecherous US, 1968 touch you! used for conveying surprise and admiration US, 1997 tough verb to inject a drug into a vein on the underside of the tongue. It is not particularly difficult to guess why this practice is so named US, 1986. ▶ tough it out; tough to bear hardship; to determinedly face up to a difficulty 2000 tough! 'hard luck!'; unfair UK, 1929 tough; tuff adjective good, admirable US, 1937 tough biccies! used for expressing a profound lack of sympathy for a bad turn of events NEW ZEALAND, 1977 tough cheeko used for expressing a lack of sympathy US, 1969 tough darts too bad US, 1968 tougher noun in poker, an increased bet US, 1951 tough guys noun in craps, the proposition bets (bets that a number will be rolled in a pair) US, 1983

toughie; toughy noun a tough person or situation US, 1929

toughies noun in craps, the proposition bets (bets that a number will be rolled in a pair) US, 1983 tough love noun a mixture of compassion and strictness designed to affect change in destructive behaviour US, 1981 tough nut; tough nut to crack; hard nut; hard nut to crack noun someone who is difficult to deal with, especially one with a tendency to violence US, 1999 tough shit who cares?, so what? An unsympathetic variation of 'tough luck': 'tough' (unfortunate, unpleasant) and SHIT (an abstract form) for 'luck' US, 1934 tough shitski used as a humorous embellishment of tough shit, or too bad. A mock Slav or Russian suffix US, 1961 tough titty; tough titties; tough tit used for conveying a lack of sympathy with a difficult turn of events US, 1934

toup noun a man's hairpiece US, 1985 tour ball noun in pinball, a ball that stays in play for a relatively long period without scoring many points US, 1977

tour crud noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a bacterial or viral infection that quickly spreads among those following the band on tour US, 1994 tourist noun 1 in relation to a specified subject area, a person who takes a temporary interest UK, 2002. 2 a summer worker in Antarctica ANTARCTICA, 1966

Tourist Annie noun the stereotypical female tourist in Port of Spain, dressed in what she perceives as traditional island clothing TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1971 tourist disc noun in shuffleboard, a shot that passes through without hitting a target disc or discs US, 1967 tourist trap noun a place that attracts and makes unreasonable profits from tourists UK, 1939 touristy adjective full of tourists; designed or developed to appeal to tourists; characteristic of tourists. Often with derogatory connotations UK, 1906 touquet noun an engagement or wedding ring US, 1961 tour rat noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a fan who follows the band on tour at all costs US, 1994

tout noun 1 an informer, especially one who works for the IRA UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 1979. 2 in horse racing, someone who sells generally worthless advice with the promise of inside information bound to help bettors win UK, 1865. 3 a horse racing enthusiast who closely watches workouts and is generally disliked by those on the inside of the sport AUSTRALIA, 1989. 4 in a confidence swindle or sales scheme, an agent who for a commission locates potential victims US, 1988. 5 in a whe-whe lottery game, a person who records and collects bets, takes the bets to the banker and pays off winners TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1996 tow verb ► I'll tow that one alongside for a bit before I bring it aboard among Nova Scotia fishermen, used for expressing doubt about the truth or reliability of an idea or project CANADA, 1992 towel noun ► chuck in the towel; throw in the towel; toss in the towel to admit or concede defeat. From boxing UK, 1915 towelhead; towel-head noun an Arab; also a Sikh or other turban-wearer. An offensive or derogatory term; from the traditional headwear of the various races and creeds US, 1979 towel up verb to beat someone up AUSTRALIA, 1919

tower bird noun in oil drilling, a worker on a derrick US, 1954

Tower Bridge, tower noun a refrigerator. Rhyming slang for 'fridge' UK, 1992

Tower Hill verb to kill. Rhyming slang, formed on an area of London UK, 1998 towie noun a tow-truck driver AUSTRALIA, 1975 town noun 1 London. Used by Charles Dickens, Oscar Wilde and present-day commuters UK, 1837. 2 city. A coy term that harkens back US, 1999. ► go to town to make the utmost effort; to tackle something with zest and vigour UK, 1933. ► go to town on to attack excessively either verbally or physically IRELAND, 1992. ► in town in horse racing, on major metropolitan tracks. The opposite of the 'bushes' AUSTRALIA, 1989. ► out of town in jail or prison US, 1982 town bike noun a promiscuous female. Everybody has, it seems, 'taken a ride' AUSTRALIA, 1945 town clown noun in carnival usage, a local police officer US, 1989 town crier noun a liar. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 town dollars noun in horse racing, money bet at a betting operation away from the track US, 1951 towner noun a local resident. Circus and carnival usage US, 1980 town hall drapes noun the foreskin of an uncircumcised penis UK, 2002 townie noun 1 a towns person, contrasted with a visiting student or summer visitor US, 1852. 2 any member of a subcultural urban adolescent grouping that seems to be defined by a hip-hop dress and jewellery sense UK, 2004 town punch noun an extremely promiscuous girl or woman US, 1975 towns noun the testicles. Rhyming slang on 'town hall' for BALL(s); appears to originate in Liverpool UK, 2001 towns and cities noun the female breasts. Rhyming slang for TITTIE(S), recorded as obsolete by Julian Franklyn, A Dictionary of Rhyming Slang, 1960, but noted as a variant of BRISTOL CITY by Ray Puxley, Cockney Rabbit, 1992 UK, 1960 toxic adjective 1 of a situation, unhealthy, poisonous. Figurative application of the conventional sense UK, 1998. 2 amazing, powerful US, 1987

Toxic Hell noun a Taco Bell™ restaurant (a Mexican fast-food chain in the US) US, 1993

toy noun 1 a can in which opium is stored, whether the can is tin, tinned iron or another metal; a small amount of opium US, 1934. 2 any object that is used for sexual stimulation during masturbation, foreplay, sexual intercourse or fetish-play US, 1977. 3 a desk with an attached bookcase UK, 1947. 4 a computer system US, 1991. 5 an inexperienced or incompetent graffiti artist US, 1990. 6 in drag racing, a dragster (a car designed specifically and exclusively for drag racing) US, 1965 ► see: TAW toy boy noun a younger male lover UK, 1981

toy dolls noun the testicles. A vaguely assonant euphemism UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

Toyko Rose; tokyo noun the nose. Rhyming slang, formed from the name given by the US administration and soldiers in World War 2 to the many female voices that broadcast Japanese propaganda, but especially associated with Iva Ikuko Toguri (b.1916), a Japanese-American, who actually broadcast under the name Orphan Ann. UK, 1992

toy otter noun in car repair, a Toyota car US, 1992 toys noun heroin UK, 2003

TP noun 1 a scene in a pornographic film or a photograph depicting a woman having simultaneous oral, vaginal and anal sex. An abbreviation of 'triple penetration' US, 2000. 2 a woman with large breasts and large buttocks. A 'total package' US, 2000

TR-6 noun an amphetamine. Possibly from a Triumph TR-6, the legendary sports car manufactured from the late 1960s to the mid-70s, used here as an allegory for SPEED (amphetamine) UK, 1998

trac noun an intractable prisoner AUSTRALIA, 1967 track noun 1 the street or area where prostitutes solicit customers US, 1969. 2 the open road as used by itinerant travellers. Commonly in the phrase 'on the track' AUSTRALIA, 1873. 3 the course of an event; the course of time AUSTRALIA, 1945. 4 an armoured personnel carrier, especially the M-113 US, 1971. 5 a warder who carries contraband for prisoners. An earlier variant 'track-in' has been recorded from 1939 AUSTRALIA, 1950. ► the track the Savoy ballroom, New York. A major night spot on Lenox Avenue between 140th and 141st Streets in New York from 1927 until the 50s US, 1946 track verb to inject drugs UK, 1996 track-basher noun a specialist trainspotter who travels (and so 'collects') little-used sections of the rail network UK, 2003 tracked up adjective scarred from regular intravenous drug injection US, 1971 tracker noun in the television and film industries, a low-level development executive US, 1997 trackie; tracky noun a tracksuit. Also in the plural form 'trackies' AUSTRALIA, 1987

trackie-bottoms noun tracksuit trousers UK: SCOTLAND, 1996

trackie daks noun tracksuit trousers AUSTRALIA, 2000

track lawyer noun in horse racing, someone who constantly resorts to claims of technical rule violations, the pettier the better US, 1947 track record noun the known facts about relevant history US, 1951 tracks noun bruises, punctures and sores visible on the skin of an intravenous drug user US, 1960. ► across the tracks; wrong side of the tracks the socially inferior area of town. The railway often separated the better-off part of an American town from the poorer quarters. Duke Ellington's 'Across the Tracks Blues' dates to 1943 US, 1943. ► make tracks to leave US, 1945 traction noun in confidence games, an amount of money used to begin an increasingly larger series of swindles US, 1997

traddie noun a traditional jazz enthusiast UK, 1983 trade noun 1 a man, self-identified as heterosexual, who engages in active anal homosexual sex or passive oral homosexual sex but will not reciprocate US, 1927. 2 heterosexual or homosexual prostitution; customers of that prostitution, especially homosexual. Originally 'the trade' UK, 1680 trade verb ► trade numbers to bid for a job based on an estimated cost US, 1989. ► trade paint to be involved in a car accident with another car US, 1997 trade queen noun a homosexual man who prefers sex with a seemingly heterosexual man who consents to homosexual sex in the 'male' role, receiving orally or giving anally US, 1970 trade-rage noun an outburst of enraged hostility within a business environment UK, 2003 trades noun the trade journals of the US entertainment industry US, 1984 tradesman's entrance; tradesman's noun the anus, designated as an entry suitable for sex. In the grand houses of polite society the tradesman's entrance is traditionally round the back UK, 2001 trade up verb to escape criminal prosecution or lessen the charges against you by providing the police with information about other criminals US, 1981

Tradies noun a tradesmen's club AUSTRALIA, 1987 traditional discipline noun corporal punishment, especially when used in a prostitute's advertising matter UK, 2003

trad jazz; trad noun traditional jazz UK, 1956

traf verb to fart. Back slang AUSTRALIA, 1998

Trafalgar Square; trafilgar noun a chair. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 tragic noun an inferior or pathetic person. From the adjective UK, 2005 tragic adjective inferior, pathetic, no good. Used, especially in a sporting context, as an opposite of MAGIC (excellent). 'Liverpool are magic... Everton are tragic' is legendarily ascribed to footballer Emlyn Hughes (1947–2004) UK, 1984 tragic magic noun 1 heroin US, 1990. 2 crack cocaine dipped in phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust UK, 1998 trailer noun in a striptease performance, the preliminary march across the stage that precedes the removal of any piece of clothing US, 1981. ► pull a trailer to possess large buttocks US, 1988 trailer verb to pull a dragster onto its carrying trailer after it has been eliminated from an event. A car that has lost is referred to as 'being trailered' US, 1970 trail hog noun a skier who is inconsiderate of other skiers, monopolising a narrow trail US, 1963 trail marker noun an unappetising piece of food, the identity of which is uncertain US, 1991 trail mix noun a recreational drug cocktail of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, and Viagra™, a branded drug that enables a male erection US, 2003 trails noun 1 cocaine UK, 2003. 2 while under the influence of LSD or another hallucinogen, sequences of repeating after-images trailing a moving object US, 1999 train noun 1 cocaine US, 1993. 2 heroin UK, 2003. 3 in prison, drugs. To say 'the train has arrived' is to say that illegal drugs have arrived at the prison US, 1982. 4 a series of waves US, 1963. 5 multiple orgasms US, 1985. ► pull a train; run a train to engage in serial sex with multiple partners, homosexual or heterosexual, usually consensual US, 1965 train verb ► train Thomas at the Terracotta; train Terrence/Terence at the terracotta (of a male) to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1971

trainies noun trainers, sports shoes UK, 2001 training beer noun low alcohol beer CANADA, 1995 training wheels noun a learner's driving permit US, 1976 train smash noun 1 fried or tinned tomatoes; tomato sauce. Military black humour; an especially unappetising example of visual imagery UK, 1941. 2 a hastily prepared savoury dish of tomatoes with onions, eggs, sausages, etc AUSTRALIA, 1960 trainspotter noun anyone with a pedantic interest in and an obsessive knowledge of a specific topic. Genuine trainspotters, of the variety that stand on railway platforms, are the stereotypical arch-hobbyists UK, 1995 train-surfing; urban surfing; roof-riding noun riding illegally on the roof of a train (or car, bus, etc) for the thrills. A ten-year craze from the early 1980s US, 1993 train wreck noun a horribly wounded soldier or casualty department patient. Used by medical corpsmen in Vietnam US, 1978 tram noun ► wouldn't know if a tram was up you to be docilely unaware AUSTRALIA, 1972

trammie noun a tram driver or conductor AUSTRALIA, 1919

tramp noun 1 a promiscuous man or woman US, 1922. 2 a worker who moves from job to job, city to city UK, 1808

Trance Canada nickname the Trans-Canada highway. This nickname is either a reference to 'highway hypnosis' (on boring sections like the 401 from Montreal to Toronto) or to the 'spellbinding scenery' on such parts as the Rocky Mountain crossing or the Maritime sections CANADA, 2001

tranced out; tranced adjective in a state of extreme distraction UK, 1997

trancey adjective of trance music UK, 1998

Trane nickname John Coltrane (1926–67). A jazz titan US, 1985 trank noun 1 any central nervous system depressant. Variant spelling include 'trang' and 'tranx' US, 1971. 2 a person who takes the excitement out of something; a killjoy. A figurative use of 'a tranquilizer' US, 1979 tranked adjective sedated; under the influence of tranquilizers US, 1991

trannie adjective transsexual US, 1999 trannie; tranny noun 1 a transvestite UK, 1984. 2 a transsexual US, 1997. 3 a transistor radio UK, 1969. 4 in a car or truck, a transmission US, 1993. 5 any surface used for skating or foot-propelled scootering that is not totally horizontal. From 'transition' UK, 2000 trans noun 1 a car US, 1995. 2 transport BAHAMAS, 1982

transcend verb to smoke marijuana US, 1974 transformer noun 1 a transsexual US, 1991. 2 a stuttering type of manipulation of a record to create a musical effect 2002

transfusion noun a replenishment of cash AUSTRALIA, 1989. ► get a transfusion to fill a vehicle with petrol or diesel US, 1976 transit noun ► in transit experiencing the effects of LSD US, 1971 transvesty; transvestie noun a transvestite US, 1987

transy noun a transsexual US, 1987 trap noun 1 the mouth UK, 1776. 2 a police officer. Now only historical AUSTRALIA, 1812. 3 a prostitute's earnings. A shortened form of TRAP MONEY US, 1973. 4 an electronic device that records the originating telephone number of all incoming calls. A term and practice made obsolete with the advent of the 'caller ID' feature on telephones in the late 1990s US, 1991. 5 a hiding place for illegal drugs US, 1967. 6 a residence US, 1957. 7 a timing light at the finish line of a drag race US, 1970. 8 in poker, a deceptive bet US, 1979 trap verb 1 to have success attracting members of the opposite sex. Royal Navy slang UK, 1989. 2 to install an electronic trap on a telephone line US, 1996. 3 to land safely and accurately on an aircraft carrier US, 1991 trap door noun 1 a scab under which a drug addict injects drugs US, 1992. 2 a computing function that is easily performed but difficult to perform in the inverse. Extremely useful in cryptography US, 1991 trapeze artist noun a person engaged in simultaneous anal and oral sex US, 1979 trap money noun 1 a prostitute's gross earnings US, 1974. 2 money containing tear gas and/or dye kept in a bank to be given to bank robbers. An abbreviation of 'booby-trap money' US, 2004 trap off verb to deceive or manipulate someone US, 2002 trapper noun a person who can open envelopes and reseal them without a trace US, 1982 trappy adjective loud and boastful, possibly insulting. TRAP is 'mouth', therefore 'trappy' is MOUTHY UK, 1999 traps noun 1 drums and other items of percussion, collectively. Musicians' slang US, 1903. 2 the trapezius muscles connecting the neck and shoulder US, 1984. 3 your usual haunts AUSTRALIA, 1933 trap smasher noun in lobstering, a severe storm US, 1978 trap two; trap number two noun the anus. From greyhound racing UK, 1998 trash noun 1 contemptible people; a contemptible person UK, 1604. 2 military decorations, awards and patches US, 1990. 3 marijuana US, 2001. 4 heroin UK, 2003. 5 waves that collapse before they break, making poor surfing conditions US, 1977 trash verb 1 to destroy something UK, 1970. 2 to criticise or malign someone or something US, 1975. 3 to frighten someone. Market traders' term; directly from Romany UK, 1979

trashed adjective very drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1966 trash hand noun in poker, an unplayable hand US, 1992 trash hauler noun during the Vietnam war, a cargo transport pilot US, 1988 trashing noun looting from shops US, 1975 trash time noun a short jail sentence, especially one spent on a litter cleaning duty US, 1987 traumatic adjective very exciting; excellent US, 1990 travel verb ► travel on a tie pass to walk along a train track US, 1977 travel agent noun an LSD dealer. A euphemism based on a TRIP metaphor US, 1966 traveller noun alcohol taken in a car on the way to a party or concert US, 2004 traveller's check noun in poker or other gambling, a betting token that rolls across the table or floor. From the insider slang term CHECK (a gambling token) US, 1996 traveller's marrow noun an erection brought on while travelling, especially while sleeping UK, 1985 travelling agent noun in a whe-whe lottery game, a person who collects and records bets, brings the bets and money to the banker and pays off winners TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1996 tray noun a bunch of vials containing crack cocaine US, 1994 tray adjective three. A variation of TREY UK, 2002 treacle noun used as an endearment. Probably, simply, a simile for 'sweet'; possibly, rhyming slang 'treacle tart', for 'sweetheart' UK, 2001 treacle verb to flatter someone; to behave in an obsequious manner UK, 1943 treacle tart; treacle noun a fart. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 tread noun a shoe UK, 1959 treaders noun shoes US, 1970 treadhead noun a member of a combat tank crew US, 1987 treadly noun a bicycle AUSTRALIA, 1990

treash; treas noun a term of affectionate address. A shortening of 'treasure' UK, 2002 treasure noun a highly valued person. Often applied to people who provide a service UK, 1810 treasure chest noun a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977

Treasure Coast noun that portion of Florida between Cape Kennedy and West Palm Beach. After the sunken treasure believed to lie off the coast US, 1965 treasure hunt noun 1 the search in a gambling establishment or cardroom for someone from whom to borrow money US, 1982. 2 the vagina; a fool; a despicable person. Rhyming slang, CUNT. Can be shortened to 'treasure' UK, 1998 treat noun ► a treat beautifully, enjoyably, extremely UK, 1964. ► do a treat; do someone a treat to suit someone admirably UK, 1904. ► do someone a treat; do someone up a treat to thrash someone. An elaboration of DO (to beat) or DO UP (to beat up), possibly a deliberate pun on 'do someone a treat' (to suit someone very well) UK, 1975 treat verb ► treat a J to add another drug or drugs to a marijuana cigarette US, 1982 treat 'n' street verb in a hospital's casualty department, to tend to a patient's needs and discharge him or her as swiftly as possible UK, 2002 treble chance noun a dance. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tree; trees noun marijuana. An exaggerated BUSH US, 1995. ► out of your tree drunk or drug-intoxicated IRELAND, 1991. ► out of your tree; off your tree crazed; mentally deranged US, 1966. ► out yer tree drunk UK, 2002 tree-eater noun a member of the US Special Service Forces. Because of the constant survival training the special forces undergo US, 1993 tree-fucker noun a stereotyped environmentalist. A variant of TREE-HUGGER UK, 2000 tree-hugger noun an environmental activist US, 1977 tree-hugging adjective environmentally aware; active in environmental protection US, 1999 tree-jumper noun a chronic sex offender US, 1992 trees noun broccoli US, 1966. ► put in the trees to overcharge someone US, 1980 treetop level and all engines out adjective near death US, 1994 tree up verb when parachuting, to land and become entangled in a tree US, 1959 treeware noun books, magazines, newspapers, etc., as opposed to all alternate forms of providing such texts. Computer hacker slang, deriding the fact that paper is made from pulped wood US, 1997

Trekker noun a zealous fan of Star Trek. Preferred by the fans over the term 'TREKKIE' US, 1978

Trekkie noun a devoted fan of Star Trek, the original science fiction television programme (which started in 1966) and subsequent films and spin-offs US, 1978

trekky adjective in the style of Star Trek, the cult science-fiction television programme first seen in 1966 UK, 2001 trenches noun ► in the trenches involved in the hard, dirty aspect of an enterprise US, 1970 trendy noun 1 a follower of fashion UK, 1968. 2 a youth defined by a skateboarders' particular sense of fashion UK, 2002 trendy adjective fashionable UK, 1962 tres noun in betting, odds of 3–1. A variation of TREY UK, 1991 tres adverb very. Directly from the French UK, 2000 trev nickname a person whose prime characteristic is vanity; a person who wears nothing but designer-label clothes. Presumably derives from an unknown but especially well-groomed Trevor. Usually derogatory UK, 2003 trey noun 1 three UK, 1859. 2 a prison sentence of three years US, 1983. 3 a threepence. Shortening of TREY BIT AUSTRALIA, 1896. 4 three dollars' worth of a drug US, 1966 trey bit noun a threepence AUSTRALIA, 1898

trey eight noun a .38 calibre handgun US, 1992 treyer noun three years or three dollars US, 1950 trial-size adjective used of a person, very short US, 1988 triantelope noun the Australian tarantula, any of various large spiders of the genus Isopoda. Seems to be a blend of 'tarantula' and 'antelope' AUSTRALIA, 1845 triantiwontigongolope; triantiwontigong noun a mythical insect or monster; also, a name for something unknown. From a poem for children about a non-existent creature so named by C.J. Dennis in A Book for Kids, 1921 AUSTRALIA, 1965

Tribe nickname the Cleveland Indians professional baseball team. References to native American Indians in US professional sports teams (Indians, Braves, Redskins) persist in an era when many other stereotypes have withered US, 1950 tribe adjective contemptibly unfashionable. Collected on the 17th June 2005 from teenage girls (who described themselves as 'townies') in Swansea, south Wales: 'You don't want to go there – it's tribe.' UK: WALES, 2005

Tri-Chevy noun a Chevrolet car or truck manufactured in 1955, 1956 or 1957 US, 1993 trick noun 1 a prostitute's customer US, 1925. 2 an act of sex between a prostitute and customer US, 1926. 3 a short-term homosexual sexual partner, not paying US, 1963. 4 a casual sexual partner US, 1968. 5 a prostitute UK, 1999. 6 any dupe US, 1865. 7 a swindle. Far less common in this sense, but not unheard UK, 1865. 8 on the railways, a work shift US, 1946. ► can't take a trick to be consistently unsuccessful. From card games AUSTRALIA, 1944. ► do the trick to achieve your object UK, 1812 trick verb 1 to engage in sex with a paying customer, usually in an expeditious fashion US, 1960. 2 to have sex with a short-term partner, without emotion or money passed US, 1968 trick adjective 1 excellent US, 1988. 2 in hot rodding and drag racing, abnormal, unusual US, 1968 trickact verb to play about mischievously IRELAND, 1992 trick baby noun the offspring of a prostitute and an unknown customer, often of mixed race US, 1969 trick bag noun 1 a bag used by a prostitute to carry tools of the trade. A search warrant issued by the Sausalito (California) Police Department in its investigation of a massage parlour/brothel defines a trick bag as 'a large woman's handbag, which will generally enclose the following items which are used in the practice of prostitution: clothing, especially a change of undergarments such as panties, bras, camisoles and negligees, wet wipes, paper tissues, Vaseline and personal lubricants, bottles of mouth wash, rubbing alcohol, baby oil, various kinds and numbers of condoms, douches and other forms of feminine hygiene, and various cosmetics, small hand towels which are normally used in the practice of prostitution to wipe the ejaculatory excretions from the bodies of the prostitute and the customers[.]' US, 2003. 2 a dilemma with no clear solution US, 1992 trick book noun a prostitute's list of customers US, 1972 trick bunk noun in prison, a bed used for sexual encounters US, 1990 trick-cyclist noun a psychiatrist. Originally military UK, 1930 trick day noun an agreed time when homosexuals in long-term relationships may have sex outside the relationship US, 1964 trick dress; trick suit noun a dress that a prostitute can remove easily US, 1963 trick flick noun a pornographic film, usually homosexual US, 1970 trick house noun a house or apartment where prostitutes take their customers for sex US, 1972

Trickidian noun a Trinidadian. A term that can be used with admiration or as disparagement TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1982 trick name noun a prostitute's business alias US, 1991 trick off verb to perform oral sex on a man US, 1997 trick out verb to decorate something, or dress somebody, elaborately US, 1727 trick pad noun an apartment or room which a prostitute uses only for sex with customers US, 1970 trick pants noun pants that are easily removed, favoured by prostitutes US, 1967 trick rig noun a sexually attractive body US, 1997 trick room noun a room where a prostitute takes customers US, 1969 tricks noun ► on the tricks working as a prostitute US, 1967 trick seat noun the passenger seat on a motorcycle US, 1984 trickster noun a prostitute US, 1976 trick towel noun a towel or wash rag used to clean up after sex US, 1970

Trick Wiley noun used as a generic term for any gullible victim of a swindle US, 1965 tricky adjective needing careful handling or cautious action; difficult; risky UK, 1887 tricky Dick noun the penis US, 1984

Tricky Dick; Tricky Dickie nickname Richard Nixon. President of the US from 1969 until 1974, not known for his honesty or fair play US, 1970 tricon noun in poker, a hand with three cards of the same rank US, 1967 trier noun a racehorse genuinely being run to win AUSTRALIA, 1915

trife adjective possessing low or no moral character US, 2002 trifecta noun in US horse racing, a bet on the first three in the correct order US, 1991 triff adjective great, marvellous, superlative. A shortening of TRIFFIC UK, 1982 triffic adjective great, marvellous, superlative – often used with heavy irony. A slovening of 'terrific' (genuinely great) UK, 1984 trigger noun 1 in a shooting, the shooter US, 1980. 2 any prison guard carrying a gun US, 1992 trigger-happy adjective too eager to shoot a gun US, 1945 trigger time noun time spent in combat US, 1987 trike noun a three-wheeled motorcycle such as the Harley-Davidson Servi-Car. Biker (motorcycle) usage, referring to a child's tricycle US, 2003 trilby hat; trilby noun a fool. Rhyming slang for PRAT UK, 1992 trill verb 1 to idle with friends, especially with drugs and/or alcohol enlightening the idling US, 2004. 2 to stroll, to strut, to leave. Also 'trilly'. The heroine of Du Maurier's 1894 novel Trilby was noted for her beautiful feet; Trilbys came to mean 'feet', and then 'to stroll' US, 1945 triller noun an attractive young woman. West Indian patois variation of 'thriller', recorded by a Jamaican inmate in a UK prison, August 2002 JAMAICA, 2002 trim noun 1 the vagina; a woman as a sex object; sex with a woman US, 1949. 2 in the television and film industries, sections of scene cut by an editor US, 1990 trim verb 1 to cheat, defraud or swindle someone UK, 1600. 2 to have sex with a woman US, 1972 trimmer noun 1 an outstanding person or thing AUSTRALIA, 1878. 2 in cricket, 'a fast ball of exceptional quality, especially one that narrowly misses the stumps' UK, 1959 trims noun playing cards altered for cheating by slightly trimming off the edges of certain cards US, 1979

Trini adjective Trinidadian TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973

Trini by boat noun a long-standing immigrant in Trinidad TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987

Trinidad time; Trini time noun used for expressing an expected and accepted lack of punctuality TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990 trinity noun a style of three-storey terraced house consisting of three rooms stacked vertically US, 1996 trio noun in poker, a hand with three cards of the same rank US, 1967 trip noun 1 a hallucinatory drug experience. Uncertainty surrounds the first slang usage of the term. US slang lexicographer Peter Tamony argued in American Speech (Summer 1981) that the term was first used in a slang sense by Jack Gelber in The Connection, a 1957 play dealing with heroin addicts. Tamony privately conceded that the usage was not 'a smoking gun', and in retrospect it appears more figurative than slang. The Oxford English Dictionary points to Norman Mailer's 1959 Advertisements for Myself, in which Mailer wrote of taking mescaline and of 'a long and private trip', but there is no evidence that Mailer's use reflected a colloquial understanding and was not simply literary metaphor. Similarly, in a 1963 article about LSD in Playboy, Allan Harrington used the term 'trip', but again the context suggests metaphor, not slang. The slang sense of the word is indelibly associated with Ken Kesey and his LSD-taking Merry Pranksters. In 1964, Ken Kesey bought a soon-to-be-famous International Harvester school bus in the name of Intrepid Trips, Inc., suggesting an already current, if private, slang sense. In September 1999, Kesey wrote about his recollection of the first use of the term: 'I think it came from our bus trip in 1964, when Cassidy said "This trip is a trip"' US, 1966. 2 any profound experience US, 1966. 3 a state of mind. Used in an extremely vague and amorphous way, usually suggesting something profound US, 1966. 4 interest US, 1967. 5 a personal or sexual experience, especially if non-conventional US, 1971. 6 a dose of LSD, usually in the form of a blotting paper tab. Derived from the sense as 'a hallucinogenic experience' that follows ingestion UK, 2000. 7 a prison sentence US, 1952 trip verb 1 to experience a drug-induced hallucinogenic euphoria. Also 'trip out' US, 1966. 2 to engage in flights of fancy, especially while in prison US, 1967. 3 to get angry, to lose control because of anger US, 1990s. 4 to insult US, 1995 tripe noun 1 utter nonsense; anything worthless or of poor quality, rubbish. Derives from 'tripe' as a source of inferior food UK, 1676. 2 in the theatre, electrical lines dangling from overhead fixtures UK, 1952. 3 a tripod. Used by travelling salesmen and itinerant swindlers to support a suitcase full of merchandise US, 1981 trip grass noun marijuana enhanced with amphetamine US, 1982 triple noun sex involving three people US, 1988 triple crown noun oral, vaginal and anal sex in the same session US, 2004 triple C's noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medicinal purposes US, 2003 triple jet ace noun a fighter pilot who shoots down three aircraft in a single day US, 1964 triple m noun mutual manual masturbation US, 1985 triple-nickels noun the 555th Parachute Infantry Battalion, US Army. The US Army's first all-black parachute infantry test platoon, company and battalion US, 1991 triplets noun in poker, three of a kind US, 1963 triple W noun a woman as the provider of good sex. The W's are 'warm', 'wet' and 'womb' US, 1970 triple X noun 1 a tablet of MDA that also contains the analogues MDA and MDEA UK, 1996. 2 someone who abstains from sex, alcohol and drugs. Reminiscent of the slang term for a decaffeinated espresso drink made with non-fat milk – why bother? US, 1996 trip out verb 1 to undergo an hallucinogenic experience as a result of drug-intoxication US, 1967. 2 to upset someone; to confuse someone; to disturb someone US, 1960s. 3 to amaze someone; to enlighten someone US, 1968. 4 to become involved in something in a focused and intense manner US, 1966 tripped out adjective hallucinogen-intoxicated US, 1973 tripper noun 1 a person using LSD or another hallucinogenic drug US, 1999. 2 LSD. From TRIP (a period of LSD intoxication) UK, 1998. 3 a train passenger US, 1977 tripple-dipper noun a veteran of World War 2, Korea and Vietnam US, 1966 trippy adjective 1 hallucinatory UK, 2001. 2 of psychedelic design. From TRIP (an LSD experience) and the psychedelic imagery inspired by such drug usage US, 1993. 3 excellent US, 1988. 4 extremely committed to the hippie life, especially the drug aspects of it US, 1968 trips noun 1 LSD US, 1969. 2 in poker, a hand with three cards of the same rank. An abbreviation of 'triplets' US, 1997. 3 dice with intentionally rounded edges used for cheating US, 1974 trisaurus noun a Boeing 727 aircraft. From its three jet engines; the plane was produced from the late 1960s to 1984 UK, 1994 trisexual; trysexual adjective willing to try anything sexually; open to any sexual experience. Borrowing from 'bisexual', punning 'tri' with 'try' US, 1988 triss noun a male homosexual AUSTRALIA, 1953 trissy adjective homosexual AUSTRALIA, 1982 triumphant adjective excellent US, 1991 trivet noun in poker, a three-dollar bet US, 1996 trivial adjective in computing, too simple to bother explaining US, 1997 trixie noun a multiple bet, gambling on three horses in four combined bets UK, 1991

trizz noun a prostitute's customer US, 1973 trog noun 1 a stuffy, old-fashioned person. From 'troglydite' (an ancient cave-dweller) UK, 1965. 2 a slow, careful, trundling driver. Probably extends from the previous sense UK, 1972. 3 a visiting surfer AUSTRALIA, 1977 trog verb to walk; to depart; to drive without urgency. Military UK, 1995 troglydite noun a computer enthusiast who has abandoned all contact with life outside his computer US, 1991

trog off verb to go, especially if it means making an effort UK, 2004 trog up verb to dress and equip yourself for caving and pot-holing. Probably derives from 'troglydite' UK, 2004 trojan noun a condom, Trojan™ brand or otherwise US, 1997

Trojan noun an AT-28 aircraft, used as a ground-attack aircraft and then a fighter bomber in the Vietnam war US, 1985

Trojan horse noun 1 in computing, an intentionally destructive program disguised and sent in benevolent form US, 1991. 2 in poker, an unexpectedly strong hand held by another player whose betting has successfully masked its strength US, 1996 troll noun 1 a resident of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan. Because they live below the Mackinac Bridge that connects the peninsulas. Upper Peninsula usage US, 2003. 2 a message posted on an Internet discussion group with the hope of attracting vitriolic response US, 1997 troll verb (of a homosexual man) to walk the streets in search of sexual adventure; (of a homosexual man) to walk, to wander. Familiarity of usage has resulted in the original, conventional sense being re-derived, here from the specifically sexual sense UK, 1967 trolley noun a line used by prisoners to exchange notes US, 1950.

► off your trolley 1 mentally disordered; crazed. A 'trolley' is an electric powered tram that runs on rails, hence 'to be off your trolley' is to not follow an ordered course UK, 1896. 2 drunk UK, 2000 trolley and tram; trolley noun ham. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 trolley and truck noun an act of sexual intercourse. Rhyming slang for FUCK UK, 1992 trolleyed; trollied adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated. Derives from 'OFF YOUR TROLLET'. UK, 1996 trolley jockey noun a tram operator US, 1954 trolley man noun a man engaged in the racing of horses and ponies in trotting matches UK, 2000 trolley off verb to go away; to leave UK, 1974 trollies; trolleys; trollys noun underpants; trousers. Originally dialect, adopted by the Royal Navy and from there into more general use; it is interesting to note that polari speakers claim the word for gay society, probably from its relationship with TROLL (to walk with the purpose of attracting sexual interest) UK, 2002 trombone noun 1 a telephone. Rhyming slang; generally used as 'the old trombone' UK, 1961. 2 in the television and film industries, a hanger that can be extended from a wall to support lighting US, 1977

trombone verb 1 in the sport of clayshooting, to slide the hand back along the barrel of the gun whilst swinging upwards to aim and fire. Imitative of the sliding-action when involved in playing a trombone UK, 1983. 2 to lick the anus of a male partner while caressing his erect penis. The actions involved mimic the playing of a trombone UK, 2001

tromp and stomp noun a marching drill US, 1957 troop noun 1 a single soldier; used as a term of address to a soldier US, 1986. 2 crack cocaine UK, 1998 trooper noun a person who is the ultimately stalwart good sport US, 1951 troopie-groupie noun 1 a girl who freely offers her sexual availability to soldiers. Military UK, 2001. 2 a war correspondent, or like-minded civilian, who is enthusiastically supportive of the military. From GROUPIE (a follower) UK, 1982 troops noun collectively, the mechanics in a car repair shop US, 1992 trophy adjective used of a wife or girlfriend, young and beautiful to an extent that would not be expected with the man US, 1998 trophy fuck verb to have sex with a famous person because of that person's celebrity, 2001 tropical adjective 1 extremely eccentric or mildly insane US, 1946. 2 of goods, stolen. Synonym of HOT AUSTRALIA, 1950 tropical fish; tropie noun an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PISH (a Scottish variation of PISS) UK, 2002

Tropic Lightning nickname the 25th Infantry Division, US Army US, 1979

tropo adjective 1 insane, mad, crazy. Of military origins; an abbreviation of 'tropical' or 'tropics' as a reference to mental or nervous instability caused by war service in the tropics AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 sunburnt, suffering from too much exposure to the sun and wind AUSTRALIA, 1991. 3 especially in Queensland, of a building designed for tropical weather AUSTRALIA, 2003 trot noun 1 a period of time considered in terms of how you fared during it AUSTRALIA, 1911. 2 a line-by-line translation of a work in a foreign language US, 1891. ► on the trot 1 in succession UK, 1956. 2 engaged in evading discovery or capture by the police UK, 2000

Trot noun a Trotskyist; thus Trotskyite; hence used of or applied to anyone or anything associated with political views from the extreme left UK, 1962 trots noun 1 diarrhoea. Used with 'the' US, 1904. 2 a horse race meeting for trotting and pacing; such meetings collectively AUSTRALIA, 1890 trotter noun 1 a deserter from the military; an escaped prisoner; anyone on the run from the police. Originally military UK, 1950. 2 pork US, 1976 trotters noun the feet UK, 1775 trou noun trousers; pants US, 1968 trouble noun a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957 trouble and fuss noun bus. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 trouble and strife; trouble noun 1 a wife. Rhyming slang UK, 1908. 2 life. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 troubled adjective drunk UK, 2002 trough noun 1 a place where you (regularly) eat or drink UK, 2001. 2 a bar, especially at a horse racetrack AUSTRALIA, 1989 trough verb to eat. Armed services' slang; adapted from conventional 'trough' (a receptacle for feeding domestic animals) UK, 1987

trouncer noun an attractive girl UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 1996

troused adjective drunk US, 1997 trouser noun a man or men objectified sexually. Probably derived in response to SKIRT (a woman, women) UK, 1995 trouser verb to pocket something; to earn money. Extended from a 'trouser pocket' UK, 1892 trouser cough noun a fart UK, 1978

trouserer adjective drunk UK, 2002 trousers noun ► with your trousers down being taken by surprise; in a state of unreadiness. Generally prefaced with the verb 'catch/caught' UK, 1966 trousers and skirts adjective bisexual UK, 1981

trouser snake noun the penis US, 1976

trouser trout noun the penis UK, 1998 trout noun an unattractive (older or old) woman UK, 1897 ► see: THAMES TROUT. ► all about trout alert, watchful UK, 1962 trout pout noun unnaturally inflated lips as a result of collagen implants. An unfortunate similarity to the freshwater fish UK, 2003 truck verb to stroll; to stride US, 1938 truck driver noun 1 an aggressive, 'mannish' lesbian US, 1967. 2 in prison, a prisoner or guard who delivers messages US, 1976. 3 an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1967 trucker's powder noun amphetamine. A variation on TRUCK DRIVER (amphetamines), this plays on SPEED and the need to stay awake UK, 2001

truckie noun a truck driver AUSTRALIA, 1919

truck stop Annie noun a prostitute working at a truck stop US, 1977 truck stop cowboy noun a person who looks the part of a trucker, plays the part of a trucker, but is not a trucker US, 1976

Trudeau acre noun a hectare. As the Canadian French measure of land is in the hectare (a metric unit equivalent to 2.471 acres), and the English is in the acre unit, 1970s anti-Trudeau feeling took parodic form here as much as in opposition to the Prime Minister's promotion of bilingualism and biculturalism nationwide CANADA, 1987

true adverb especially in Aboriginal English, is it true?, really? AUSTRALIA, 1959 true bull; true bool noun a tested and proven leader. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982 true love noun a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957

True North noun Canada. 'The True North, strong and free' is a line from the Canadian national anthem. In its patriotic connotation, this expression suggests pride and strength, but it may also suggest the extreme cold, snow and ice which Canadians endure CANADA, 2001 true's God! used for affirming the truth of what has been said FJI, 1976 true that!; true dat! used for expressing strong agreement US, 1998

true-true adjective authentic BAHAMAS, 1982

true virgins make dull company the air navigation system: True heading plus/minus Variation gives you Magnetic heading plus/minus Deviation gives you Compass heading. The reverse mnemonic is 'Can Dead Men Vote Twice?' CANADA, 1995 truggy noun an off-road vehicle that combines features of a truck and a tubular buggy. Collected by John Thompson of Hendersonville, North Carolina, 2004 US, 2004

Trujillo's revenge noun diarrhoea. Homage to Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo US, 1982 trull noun a prostitute, a concubine, a loose-moralled woman. A generally obsolete conventional English term UK, 1519

Truman's folly noun the Korean war. Another Republican party coining US, 1968 trummus noun the buttocks, the posterior UK, 2002 trump noun a fart. From the sound of a trumpet UK, 1903 trump verb to fart. From C15; from the sound of a trumpet UK, 1425 trumpet noun 1 a telephone UK, 1977. 2 a stethoscope TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987. 3 a fart. Juvenile use, extending the more familiar

TRUMP (a fart) back to its origins UK, 1997. 4 in hot rodding, a tailpipe extension US, 1958. 5 cocaine UK, 1999 trumpets noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. Specifically used of any MDMA tablet stamped with the stylised image of a horn-player (possibly an angel) UK, 2004 trump of the dump noun the person in charge of an enterprise NEW ZEALAND, 1998

trunch noun a blow or a beating with a truncheon UK, 1980 trundling-cheat noun a car; originally any wheeled vehicle UK, 1630 trunk noun the human nose. Derisory, emphasising the size of someone's nose or, figuratively, the intrusive quality of that person's nosiness UK, 2000 trunk and tree noun the knee. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 trunk job noun a corpse, especially a badly decomposed corpse, found in a car boot (trunk) US, 1993 trupence bag noun marijuana UK, 2003 trust verb ► I wouldn't trust you as far as I can throw you used as an expression of deep mistrust in someone UK, 1961 trustafarian noun a young person who lives a counterculture life-style on the proceeds of a trust fund US, 1992 trust you! used as an ironic register of predictable behaviour. Also with other nouns or names UK, 1834 truth chamber noun a police interview room UK, 1971

try verb ► try it on; try it on with to make an attempt to outwit or impose upon someone UK, 1811. ► try this on for size; try this for size to consider a notion; to try something out; also used in horseplay as a battle-cry US, 1956 trying! you are trying too hard to be something you are not! Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981 try-on noun an attempt to deceive. From TRY IT ON UK, 1874

try-out noun a selective trial US, 1903 try walking across US airline company Trans World Airlines (TWA). An ironic play on the famous initials. Most airlines attract jocular variations of their names; TWA seems to have more than most, including: 'Travel Without Arrival'; 'Try Walking, Asshole'; 'Try Walking Again'; 'The Worst Airline'; 'Took Wrong Airline'; 'Take Weapons Aboard'; 'Thieves, Whores and Alcoholics'; and so on US, 1995

TS too bad. An abbreviation of TOUGH SHIT US, 1957

T's and blues noun a combination of Taluin™, a painkiller, and the antihistamine Pyribenzamine™, abused for non-medicinal purposes US, 1989 tsatske noun a pretty, sexy, brainless woman. Yiddish, with the Yiddish diminutive of tsatskeleh US, 1961

TS card noun a notional card that is punched when a person complains. An abbreviation of the sympathy-lacking TOUGH SHIT US, 1948

tsk tsk verb to express commiseration, or disappointment or irritation by making the sound 'tsk tsk' UK, 1966

tsk tsk used for expressing commiseration, or disappointment, or irritation. An attempted written representation of the sound of this non-verbal exclamation that is somewhere between 'tut tut' and a sucking of the teeth UK, 1947 tsotsies noun non-white adolescent criminals SOUTH AFRICA, 1968 tsuris; tzuris; tzorís noun troubles, problems, suffering. Yiddish US, 1970

TTFN goodbye. An initialism of 'ta-ta for now', which served as a catchphrase first in the BBC radio programme ITMA, 1941–49, and was picked-up by popular BBC radio broadcaster Jimmy Young (b.1921) who began broadcasting in 1949 UK, 1948

TTFO (in doctors' shorthand) told to fuck off (go away). Medical slang UK, 2003

T-timers noun dark glasses worn by marijuana smokers US, 1952 tub noun 1 a drum US, 1958. 2 a seat on an amusement ride US, 1980. 3 a small crap table US, 1983. 4 in electric line work, an overhead transformer US, 1980 tubby adjective 1 emphasising low frequencies, producing poorly defined sound. Used in describing a location's sound quality in television and film-making US, 1987. 2 overweight UK, 1835 tubby; tubs noun an overweight person. Both variants serve as nickname and derogatory term; 'tubs' is the abbreviation of 'tubby' UK, 1999 tube noun 1 a fool, an idiot; a despicable or contemptible person. Probably from an earlier sense as 'penis', thus PRICK UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a person UK: SCOTLAND, 1988. 3 a marijuana cigarette US, 1937. 4 a telephone US, 1960. 5 a prison officer who listens to inmates' conversation and for information from informers UK, 1950. 6 a can of beer AUSTRALIA, 1964. 7 the concave face of a wave US, 1963. 8 a shotgun US, 1994. 9 in a casino, the rack where betting tokens are stored at a gambling table US, 1996. 10 a totally unnecessary breast examination UK, 1999. ► down the tubes ruined with no chances left; done-for; lost; wasted. A variation of 'down the drain' or 'down the pan'; literally 'down the toilet' US, 1963. ► lay tube from the male point of view, to have sex US, 1983. ► the tube a television; television. Originally applied to the telephone, but then much more widely to television US, 1959

Tube noun ► the Tube the London Underground transport system. Originally, in this context, the tunnel in which an underground electric train runs (late C19), hence this abbreviation of 'tube-railway'. The Central London Railway, which opened in 1900, was known as 'The Twopenny Tube' for its fixed-price fee. The cost of a journey has been going up ever since UK, 1902 tube verb 1 to watch television US, 1979. 2 to surf below and inside the crest of the wave US, 1979. 3 to insert an endotracheal tube into a patient. Medical use UK, 1980. 4 to fail, to do poorly US, 1966 tube lube noun oral sex on a man US, 1970 tuber noun a person who spends too much of the day on a sofa watching television. From the dominant term COUCH POTATO and punning on THE TUBE (television) US, 1986 tubes noun the London Underground transport system. A variation of THE TUBE UK, 1996 tube steak noun 1 a frankfurter, a hot dog US, 1963. 2 by visual extension, the penis US, 1980 tube top noun a woman's garment, elasticised, stretching from the waist to under the arms US, 1974

tub of lard noun a fat person. A neat combination of a pun on TUBBY (fat) and 'lard' (a soft white fat). When Roy Hattersley MP, an overweight politician, declined to guest on the satirical BBC television quiz Have I Got News For You he was replaced, to great hilarity, with an actual tub of lard UK, 1993 tubs noun drums US, 1946. ► the tubs a gay bath house; the gay bath house scene collectively US, 1964

tubular adjective 1 used of a wave, hollow as it breaks, creating a chamber which can be surfed through US, 1988. 2 spectacular US, 1982 tuck noun 1 food, especially snacks and delicacies. Mainly school slang UK, 1857. 2 a cosmetic operation to remove fat or skin US, 1993 tuck verb in transsexual usage, to tape your penis onto your groin to avoid any telltale bulge which might tip off someone as to your genetic sex US, 1987. ► tuck in; tuck into; tuck away to eat heartily; to start eating. 'Tuck away' is first recorded in 1861 UK, 1810 tuck and roll; tucked and rolled adjective descriptive of a highly stylised car upholstery design, popular with hot rodders and low riders US, 1963 tucked and rolled adjective medically transformed from a male to a female US, 1990 tucked up adjective arrested UK, 1996

tucker noun food AUSTRALIA, 1850 tucker verb to provide someone with food; to feed someone AUSTRALIA, 1891

tuckerbag noun a bag for carrying food AUSTRALIA, 1885

tucker box noun a box used to store and transport food; a lunch BOX AUSTRALIA, 1897

tukered; tukered out adjective tired, exhausted US, 1840 tucker fucker noun a cook AUSTRALIA, 1983 tuckerless adjective without food AUSTRALIA, 1910

tuckers noun a tuck shop UK, 1947 tucker time noun meal time AUSTRALIA, 1902 tuck in noun a meal AUSTRALIA, 1889 tuck shop noun a school's purveyor of snacks UK, 1857 tud noun a totally unnecessary drink that causes you to vomit US, 2001

'tude noun a bad attitude US, 1987 tudge boy noun a criminal hired to enforce criminal rules on other criminals US, 2002

tuft noun the female pubic hair UK, 1980 tug noun 1 an act of masturbation AUSTRALIA, 2001. 2 an arrest. A pun on PULL (an arrest) UK, 1999. 3 a warning of imminent danger given from one criminal to another, or beggar to beggar, etc. Often in the phrase 'give you the tug' AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► give someone a tug to arrest someone UK, 2000 tug verb 1 (from criminal to criminal, or beggar to beggar, etc) to give a warning of imminent danger. Often in the phrase 'tug your coat' AUSTRALIA, 1975. 2 to masturbate NEW ZEALAND, 1998. ► tug on 1 to inhale smoke from a cigarette UK, 2000. 2 to think about something. Figurative use of conventional 'tug' (to pull) UK, 2001 tug and rub noun an erotic massage CANADA, 2001 tug o' war noun a whore. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 tules; toolies noun a remote rural area. An extension of the name of a type of cattail that grows in the very rural San Joaquin Valley of California US, 1974

tulip noun someone whose looks or behaviour mark them as abnormal IRELAND, 1991 tulips noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2001 tum noun the stomach. A shortening of TUMMY UK, 1869 tumble noun 1 an act of sexual intercourse; an invitation to engage in sexual intercourse UK, 1903. 2 recognition by the police or the interruption of a crime US, 1950. 3 a fight, especially a gang fight US, 1960. ► come a tumble to be noticed US, 1958 tumble verb 1 to discover, to understand, to notice, to realise, to become aware of UK, 1846. 2 to have sex with someone. Found in Shakespeare and understood in context if not used heavily today UK, 1602. 3 to get married US, 1970 tumble and trip; tumble noun a collection from a group of people. Rhyming slang for WHIP-ROUND UK, 1992 tumble down the sink; tumble noun a drink. Rhyming slang; first recorded in Songs and Slang of the British Soldier: 1914–1918, John Brophy and Eric Partridge, 1930 UK, 1979 tumblers noun 1 the female breasts UK, 2003. 2 dice with rounded edges US, 1950

tummy noun the stomach UK, 1869 tummy banana noun the penis AUSTRALIA, 1968

tummy tuck noun cosmetic surgery designed to reduce the fat around a person's waist US, 1977 tum-tum noun the stomach. A variation of TUMMY or, more likely, the first babyish variation of 'stomach' from which 'tummy' derives UK, 1864

tuna noun 1 the vagina. Fish, as an allusion to what some claim to be the natural odour of a woman US, 1986. 2 a female US, 1971. 3 a young sailor as the object of desire of a homosexual man US, 1985

tunage noun music US, 1996

tuna party noun a party where girls far outnumber boys US, 2004 tuna snuffling noun the act of oral sex on a woman. Combines TUNA (the vagina) with a reasonably conventional usage of 'snuffle' US, 2001 tune noun 1 a recorded song. Deviating from the literal meaning to embrace not just the tune, but all that goes into the song US, 1993. 2 a tablet of Tuinal™, a branded barbiturate. An approximate abbreviation, usually in the plural; probably also as a pun on iTunes™, a branded medicated sweet UK, 1996 tune verb 1 to talk; to say something SOUTH AFRICA, 1976. 2 to beat someone physically. Also used with 'up' UK, 1788 tune-and-toe show noun a musical-theatre entertainment. A play on 'song and dance' UK, 1979 tune grief verb to verbally abuse someone SOUTH AFRICA, 1972 tuner noun in the television and film industries, a musical composer US, 1977 tune up verb to beat a better attitude into a fellow prisoner with a poor attitude US, 1989 tuning noun an instance of sexual intercourse which the female partner finds satisfying. Automotive imagery UK, 1959 tunnel of love noun the vagina US, 2001 tunnel rat noun 1 a US soldier who explored Viet Cong tunnels and underground networks US, 1977. 2 a police officer working for the New York Transit Bureau. New York police slang US, 1997 tunnel shot noun a photograph or shot in a film focusing on a woman's vagina US, 1970 tuntun noun the vagina TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tuppence noun two pence; hence, in later use, a notional sum of negligible value UK, 1857 tuppenceworth noun a small contribution. Literally, 'two-penny-worth' UK, 2000 tuppenny fuck noun a thing of no worth UK, 2003 tuppenny ha'penny; tuppenny halfpenny; twopenny-halfpenny adjective of little worth; insignificant UK, 1909 tupperware noun in electric line work, plastic protective covering for a conductor US, 1980 tuppy noun the vagina. Borrowed from an Aboriginal language AUSTRALIA, 1985 turbo noun 1 marijuana UK, 2003. 2 marijuana mixed with crack cocaine US, 1994. 3 a fast driver US, 1997 turbo-gobbed adjective describes someone who talks endlessly and without pause UK, 2002 turd noun 1 a piece of excrement. In conventional use since about the year 1000, it is described in the Oxford English Dictionary as not now in polite use UK, 1766. 2 a contemptible person, a shit. The earliest meaning (a length of excrement) redirected UK, 1936. 3 a negative comment in a personnel file US, 1967

turd bird noun a Ford Thunderbird US, 1992 turd burglar noun a male homosexual UK, 1983 turd-burgling adjective anal sex UK, 2002 turdcutter noun the buttocks. Imprecise and crude physiology US, 1977 turd-floater noun a heavy rain CANADA, 2002

turdhead noun a despicable person US, 1953 turd herder noun a plumber US, 1963 turdpacker noun in anal sex, the active partner US, 1940s turdtapper noun a male homosexual. An allusion to anal sex CANADA, 2003 turf noun 1 the territory controlled by a gang; a sphere of influence US, 1952. 2 a job, responsibility, obligation US, 1970. 3 the place where a whe-whe lottery game is operated TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986. 4 the street US, 1978 turf verb in hospital usage, to transfer a patient to another's responsibility US, 1994 turf consultant noun in horse racing, someone who makes a living selling tips to bettors US, 1947 turf dance noun a stylised dance developed and performed by an urban youth gang US, 2002 turistas; touristas noun diarrhoea US, 1972

Turk noun 1 a homosexual man who assumes the active role in anal sex US, 1950. 2 a strong and aggressive young man US, 1949

Turk verb (of a male) to have sex, especially in a brutal fashion UK, 1966 turkey noun 1 in films and showbusiness, an absolute failure or disaster, critical or financial; hence, in wider usage, a failure or disaster. Why the turkey, a native of America, is the symbol of spectacular failure is a mystery US, 1927. 2 an incompetent, ineffective or disliked person. May be used with affection US, 1951. 3 a member of a youth gang who is reluctant or unwilling to join in gang fights US, 1949. 4 an Irishman or a person of Irish descent US, 1982. 5 a patient who has been mishandled medically US, 1961. 6 in hospital usage, a patient with a petty medical complaint US, 1978. 7 a planespotter who is new to the hobby, or does not have good equipment, or does not take the hobby seriously UK, 2003. 8 in motorcycle racing, an old and/or heavy and bulky motorcycle US, 1973. 9 amphetamine UK, 1998. 10 cocaine UK, 1998. 11 poor quality, adulterated or counterfeit drugs US, 1958. 12 a tip of fifty cents US, 1977. ► the turkey an act of withdrawing from addictive drugs; the time period of that withdrawal (without direct reference to the symptoms). A variation of COLD TURKEY UK, 2002 turkey verb 1 to withdraw from a habit or addiction suddenly and without any tapering off. An abbreviation of 'cold turkey' UK, 1996. 2 to inhale marijuana smoke nasally US, 1970

turkeyhead noun a dolt US, 1955 turkey line noun in the language of hang gliding, a line used by an instructor to prevent the nose from dipping during landing or take-off US, 1977 turkey neck noun the penis. The similarity between a penis with shaved surround and a plucked turkey's neck hanging down US, 1997 turkey shoot noun an overwhelming slaughter of helpless victims. From the C19 'sport' of a shooting match in which the target was a live turkey US, 1970

Turkey trot noun diarrhoea suffered by tourists US, 1960

Turkish bath; Turkish noun a laugh, especially at someone else's expense. Rhyming slang UK, 1998

Turkish culture noun anal sex US, 1972

Turkish delight noun in homosexual usage, anal sex US, 1987

Turkish delight; Turkish adjective 1 miserly. Rhyming slang for TIGHT, no racial slur is intended UK, 1998. 2 of poor quality. Rhyming slang for SHITE; here the racial slur seems deliberate UK, 2002

Turkish rope noun a heavy gold necklace US, 1995

Turk McGurk noun any unethical, vindictive person US, 1977 turn noun 1 a histrionic display AUSTRALIA, 1971. 2 a (theatrical) performer UK, 1715. 3 a party AUSTRALIA, 1953. 4 in trucking, a return trip US, 1976. 5 a jail sentence US, 1995. ► do a turn to have sex. A play on a theatrical act UK, 2002

turn verb 1 in trucking, to make a round trip to and from the specified destination US, 1971. 2 to sell something, especially stolen goods US, 1972. 3 to convert a man to homosexuality US, 1991. 4 in drag racing, to register a speed US, 1960. ► turn 'em and burn 'em to quickly service a fighter plane and return it to combat. Gulf war usage US, 1991. ► turn a film in Quebec, to shoot a film. The French origin of this English phrase is tourner un film CANADA, 2001. ► turn in to retire to bed UK, 1695. ► turn into a pumpkin in transsexual usage, to dress in keeping with your genetic sex US, 1987. ► turn it on 1 to make an all-out effort at some task AUSTRALIA, 1944. 2 (of a woman) to perform sexually AUSTRALIA, 1944. 3 to enliven something UK, 1983. 4 to provide for a party or celebration AUSTRALIA, 1941. ► turn it up to consent to sex NEW ZEALAND, 1973. ► turn Japanese to masturbate. From the perceived resemblance between a stereotypical Japanese face and the facial expression that accompanies a quest for orgasm UK, 1980. ► turn over the covers to examine the other side of an issue US, 1974. ► turn state to become a witness for the prosecuting authorities. From the term 'state witness' US, 1990. ► turn the corner to begin to improve; to change your attitude for the better UK, 2003. ► turn the duke in circus and carnival usage, to shortchange someone

US, 1981. ► turn the mit to shortchange US, 1980. ► turn tricks to work as a prostitute, 1996. ► turn turtle (of a surfer) to pass through a wave coming at them by rolling under their surfboard US, 1977. ► turn up trumps to succeed, to turn out well UK, 1862. ► turn up your nose to view or treat with contempt UK, 1818. ► turn your key to make you angry. A variation of WOUND UP UK, 2001 turnaround noun 1 in trucking, a return trip US, 1976. 2 training time for navy pilots between aircraft carrier cruises US, 1990 turn around verb in criminal or police usage, to persuade someone to inform or otherwise betray US, 1975 turned on adjective 1 sexually aroused UK, 1977. 2 able to comprehend, especially as a result of drug use US, 1978. 3 stimulated and inspired by some music UK, 1977 turn it in! stop doing that!; stop talking! A variation of TURN IT UP! UK, 1999 turn it up! stop! Originally 'turn up' (to renounce), 'turn it up' (to move home or, otherwise, change your life), hence the current meaning AUSTRALIA, 1927 turn-off noun something that disgusts or creates antipathy US, 1983 turn-off verb 1 to create antipathy in someone, to disillusion someone US, 1970. 2 to disgust someone US, 1970 turn-on noun 1 something that excites or arouses someone sexually AUSTRALIA, 1969. 2 a sharing or gifting of drugs US, 1995. 3 a single instance of drug-intoxication. Also known as a 'turning-on' UK, 1978 turn on verb 1 to use a drug US, 1953. 2 to introduce someone to something, especially drugs US, 1961. 3 to arouse an interest, sexual or abstract in someone; to stimulate someone; to thrill someone US, 1965 turn on, tune in (and) drop out used as a slogan for, and invitation to join, the hippy counterculture. Credited to Timothy Leary (1920–96) the self-styled high priest of LSD, this pocket-philosophy combined TURN ON (to use drugs), 'tune in' (to become culturally aware) and DROP OUT (to cease to be part of a conventional society) in a catchphrase that seemed to be more than the sum of its parts US, 1968 turnout noun 1 a novice prostitute; a prostitute working in a particular brothel for the first time US, 1973. 2 in the illegal production of alcohol, the yield of whisky compared to the amount of raw materials US, 1974 turn out verb 1 to recruit and convert someone to prostitution US, 1960. 2 to engage a woman in serial sex with multiple partners US, 1966. 3 to convert someone to homosexuality US, 1952 turnover noun 1 a robbery of stolen goods from a criminal accomplice UK, 1959. 2 a search of a prison cell. The abbreviated form 'TO' is also used UK, 1940 turn over verb 1 (of the police) to search a property or to stop and search a person; in criminal use, to burgle a property or rob a person UK, 1859. 2 to set upon someone and beat them up UK, 1962 turn round and used as an embellishment between to and do. An unnecessary formula used in north London UK, 1999 turntablism noun the creation of music and rhythmic patterns by manipulation of record turntables. A mid-1990s coinage credited to DJ Babu of the Beat Junkies US, 2002 turntablist noun a DJ who uses turntables as instruments to create and manipulate sound. From the turntable 'decks' the DJ manipulates US, 2002 turn-up noun an outcome, especially a surprise. An abbreviation, with a slightly narrower sense, of TURN-UP FOR THE BOOKS UK, 1964 turn-up for the books; turn-up noun an unexpected happening, usually positive. Originally racecourse and gambling use UK, 1873 turpentine; the turps noun the Serpentine (a lake in London's Hyde Park). Rhyming slang UK, 1960 turps noun 1 turpentine UK, 1823. 2 alcohol. An abbreviation of 'turpentine' AUSTRALIA, 1865 ► see: TERPS turtle noun 1 a variety of LSD. Named after, and identified by a depiction of, the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, a cult comic and television programme from the 1980s UK, 2001. 2 the replacement for a combat soldier who is due to return home. Like the turtle, the replacement seems never to get there quickly enough US, 1968 turtle verb (used of a boat) to turn over completely in the water, exposing the bottom of the hull to the sky US, 1966 turtle dove noun 1 love, as a term of address. Very old-fashioned rhyming slang UK, 1974. 2 a glove. The short form 'turtle' is also used UK, 1857 turtlehead; turtle's head noun a piece of faeces semi-emerged from the rectum UK, 1997 turtleneck noun the foreskin on an uncircumsised penis US, 1983 tush; tushie; tushy noun the backside, the buttocks. Yiddish US, 1962 tush hog noun 1 a strong and powerful man who extorts money from others US, 1946. 2 a person with a short temper US, 1972

tusker noun an all-in-all unattractive girl US, 1968 tuskie; tuskee noun a marijuana cigarette US, 1977 tuss verb to abuse for non-medicinal purposes non-prescription medication containing dextromethorphan (DXM) US, 2003 tussin noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medicinal purposes. From the branded cough syrup Robitussin™ US, 2003 tustin noun marijuana originating, perhaps, in Tustin, California UK, 2003 tutae noun faeces. From the Maori NEW ZEALAND, 1985 tutti noun a latrine TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

tutti frutti noun lemon extract CANADA, 1999

tut-tuts noun the female breasts TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1956 tutty noun makeup UK, 1999 tutty adjective pathetic. British Indian (Hindi) urban youth slang UK, 2006 tutu noun 1 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003. 2 in craps, a roll of four. A homophonic pun – two, TWO US, 1999

tuxedo; tux noun a strait jacket US, 1949

TV noun a transvestite UK, 2003

TV parking noun the chance of finding a car parking space exactly where you need it US, 1998

TV rental noun a Ford 'Granada' car. A reference to high street business Granada Television Rentals UK, 1981

TV-style noun anal sex from behind a person on their hands and knees. An allusion to the fact that both participants are facing the same way and can watch television during sex US, 1979

TWA noun a teeny-weeny aircraft or helicopter US, 1991 twack verb to go window-shopping, look, ask about cost, but buy nothing CANADA, 1955 twaddle noun nonsense UK, 1782 twak noun 1 rubbish SOUTH AFRICA, 1953. 2 tobacco SOUTH AFRICA, 1844 twally noun an idiot, a fool. Glasgow slang UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 twang verb ► twang the wire (of a male) to masturbate AUSTRALIA, 1971 twanger noun 1 the penis FIIJI, 1994. 2 a citizens' band radio antenna US, 1976 twangie boy noun a young male prostitute. A term coined by novelist Robert Campbell US, 1987 twat noun 1 the vagina UK, 1656. 2 a woman UK, 1929. 3 a promiscuous homosexual man US, 1987. 4 used as an abusive epithet for someone you would otherwise call a cunt. From the sense as 'the vagina' UK, 1929. 5 an unfortunate or difficult situation; an unpleasant task; a problem. A logical extension of the previous sense TWAT UK, 2001

twat verb to hit someone UK, 1999 twat 'there we are then', used to (reluctantly) acknowledge an occurrence. Acronym in use by south Wales police UK, 2001

TWAT The War Against Terrorism. An unfortunate acronym, highlighted on BBC Radio 4 panel game The News Quiz, October 2001. Subsequently, some broadcasters began using 'The War On Terrorism', inviting TWOT. TWAT (the vagina) and 'twot' are synonymous UK, 2001

twat around verb to play the fool, to waste time; to make a mess of something; to inconvenience someone UK, 2002 twat bubble noun a contemptible person. Offensive and insulting UK, 2005 twatch verb to do emergency sewing repairs crudely CANADA, 1999 twat chat noun talking about sex from the female perspective; also used as a nickname for The Vagina Monologues by Eve Ensler, 2001 UK, 2001 twat-hooks noun the fingers; the hands. From an image based on TWAT (the vagina). Heard by Partridge on the BBC, 18th January 1973 UK, 1973 twat mag noun a pornographic magazine that features naked women. A combination of TWAT (the vagina), probably not TWAT (a fool), with MAG (a magazine) UK, 1996 twat off! go away! UK, 2000 twatted adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated UK, 1999 twattery noun foolishness; nonsense UK, 2002 twatting adjective used as an intensifier UK, 2000 twattoo noun a tattoo on the female pubis; a tattoo of unfashionable design UK, 1995 twatty adjective 1 foolish, idiotic UK, 2000. 2 unpleasant UK, 2002 tweak noun in mountain biking, any low, destabilising contact with a rock, root or stump US, 1992 tweak verb 1 to bend US, 1990. 2 in computing or electronics, to make a minor adjustment US, 1983. 3 to use methamphetamines. The spelling 'tweek' is also used US, 1996 tweak and freak verb to engage in kinky sex after injecting methamphetamine US, 1989 tweaker; tweeker noun a user of methamphetamine or amphetamines US, 1989 tweaks noun crack cocaine UK, 2003 twee adjective affectedly dainty, over-refined UK, 1905 tweed; tweeds noun marijuana. Contraction of 'the WEED', thus 'tweed', 'tweed' US, 1995

Tweed Curtain noun an invisible barrier between Oak Bay and Greater Victoria, British Columbia CANADA, 1989

tweedle noun a confidence trick in which a counterfeit such as fake jewellery or, in the 'whisky tweedle', a 30-gallon barrel containing only a quart of alcohol is sold in the stead of a genuine purchase UK, 1890 tweedle verb to operate the tweedle confidence trick, exchanging a genuine purchase for a fake UK, 1956 tweedler noun 1 a stolen vehicle offered for an honest sale UK, 1977. 2 a very minor or petty confidence trickster UK, 1959 tweeds noun 1 trousers AUSTRALIA, 1954. 2 clothing, especially a suit US, 1968

tweek verb ► to get tweeked to be knocked from your surfboard and then be pummelled by the ocean US, 1988

tweeker noun methcathinone US, 2003 tweetie noun an effeminate male. An imitation of a lisped 'sweetie' and an allusion to Tweetie Pie, a cartoon character of the 1950s and 60s US, 1968

Tweety Bird noun a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by an embossed icon of Warner Bros' animated character Tweety Pie UK, 2003 twelve noun in a deck of playing cards, any queen US, 1996 twelve inch rule noun a fool. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 twelve-ounce curls noun drinking beer US, 1985 twelver noun a twelve-pack of beer US, 1997 twennie noun a twenty-dollar dose of crack cocaine US, 1989 twenties noun a swindle featuring a twenty-dollar note US, 1952 twenty; 20 noun 1 a twenty-pound note UK, 1999. 2 a location. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1975 twenty-cent bag noun twenty dollars' worth of a drug US, 1972 twenty-cent rock noun crack cocaine worth $20 US, 1991 twenty-five noun LSD. From the slightly more formal LSD-25, from the most formal D-Lysergic Acid Diethylamide US, 1966 twenty-four hours noun a homemade alcoholic beverage made with sugar, yeast, water and flavouring Fiji, 1997 twenty-four seven adverb ▶ see: 24/7 twenty-nine noun ▶ she's a twenty-nine this morning usually of a wife, very angry or upset CANADA, 1999 twenty-one days in the county jail noun in poker, a hand consisting of three sevens US, 1988 twenty rock noun crack cocaine UK, 2003 twenty spot; twenty spotter noun a twenty-pound note. Adopted directly from US currency UK, 1976 twenty stretch noun a twenty-year prison sentence UK, 2001 twenty-twenty adjective good-looking; attractive. Punning, leaping from 'seeing well' to 'good-looking' US, 1947 twenty-twenty hindsight noun the ability to see clearly what should have been done US, 1962 twenty-two carat; twenty-four carat adjective genuine, first-class. Figurative application of gold standards; 'twenty-four carat' from 1900, 'twenty-two carat' since 1962 UK, 1962 twerp; twirp noun an idiot, a fool, a despicable person UK, 1874 twerpy adjective idiotic, foolish US, 1971 twice-and-a-half truck noun a 2.5 ton truck US, 1968 twice as cold as zero adjective very cold. The arithmetic impossibility lends an ironic charm to the expression US, 1975 twice pipes noun in hot rodding, a dual exhaust system US, 1993 twicer noun a two-year prison sentence UK, 1974 twicicles-as-nicicles noun the testicles. Based on an advertising slogan and a vague aural similarity UK, 2002 twiddle noun 1 the tilde character (~) on a computer keyboard US, 1983. 2 in fencing, a circular parry UK, 1988 twig noun 1 a radio aerial. Probably of military origin UK, 1981. 2 a match (usually in the plural). Used by borstal boys UK, 1958. 3 marijuana US, 1970. 4 cocaine, amphetamines or any other central nervous system stimulant US, 1993. 5 in sports betting, a half-point increment in the points spread US, 1984. ▶ drop off the twig; fall off the twig to die AUSTRALIA, 1974 twig verb 1 to realise something. From the obsolete sense (to watch); ultimately from English dialect twick (to pinch), especially in the sense 'to arrest' UK, 1815. 2 to probe your eye or your anus to relieve an irritation UK, 1992 twilight verb to lose yourself in a daydream US, 1974 twilight zone noun 1 in drag racing, the state of travelling at extremely high speeds US, 1965. 2 in railway employment, the period of waiting for promotion from fireman to driver UK, 1970

willly noun a woman, especially an attractive or promiscuous one US, 1934

twin noun in hot rodding, an engine with two cylinders US, 1965

twin caper noun a double date US, 1960

twin fin noun a surfboard with two fins AUSTRALIA, 1985

twin fins noun in craps, two fives US, 1983 twink noun 1 an effeminate, young, handsome homosexual male US, 1968. 2 a new military recruit US, 1983. 3 a coward US, 1982. 4 a moment, the merest measure of time. Originally, 'a wink of the eye', a 'twinkling' UK, 1754 twinkie noun 1 an eccentric; someone who doesn't conform to peer-group expectations US, 1998. 2 a person who is profoundly out of touch with reality US, 1982. 3 an Asian-American who embraces the dominant white culture in an attempt to curry favour. An allusion to a Hostess™ dessert cake that is yellow on the outside and white on the inside US, 1998. 4 a youthful, sexually inexperienced male who is the object of an older homosexual's desire. The spelling 'twinky' is also used US, 1979

twinkies noun car wheel rims US, 2003 twinkles used as a verbal talisman when two people say the same thing at the same time US, 1993

twinkle star noun in trucking, an International Harvester Transtar model truck US, 1986 twinkle-toes noun 1 a dancer; often used as a nickname or term of endearment US, 1975. 2 a youthful, effeminate homosexual man US, 1979 twinkling noun silent applause: raising both hands and wiggling your fingers, with your open palms facing the recipient of the gesture UK, 2003 twins noun 1 two women having sex with one man or with each other for the pleasure of the man US, 1977. 2 a woman's breasts US, 2001. 3 the fists US, 1998 twins adverb ▶ go twins to go on a double date US, 1959 twirl noun 1 a key, especially a skeleton key. Because a burglar twirls it as he uses it UK, 1879. 2 a prison officer. From the sense as 'a key' UK, 1933 twirling noun the dishonest substitution of a winning betting slip for a losing one. In use among bookmakers UK, 1960 twirly noun an elderly bus passenger. An elision of 'too early', from the high incidence of such passengers wishing to use their free bus-passes too early UK, 1980 twist noun 1 a girl AUSTRALIA, 1924. 2 the passive, 'feminine' member of a lesbian relationship US, 1970. 3 a marijuana cigarette. The paper end is twisted to prevent the loss of its contents US, 1920. 4 a small bag or paper wrap of heroin UK, 2002. 5 a turn to buy drinks in a group of people drinking IRELAND, 1991. 6 severe pressure or coercion to do something. 1996. 7 a multiple bet, gambling on three different horses in separate races in a total of seven bets. More popularly known as a PATENT UK, 2001. ▶ around the twist eccentric, crazy NEW ZEALAND, 2002 twist verb 1 to cheat or swindle someone AUSTRALIA, 1956. 2 to arrest someone US, 1953. 3 to spend time in jail or prison US, 1971. 4 to roll a marijuana cigarette US, 1958. 5 in pool, to apply spin to a shot to affect the course of the object ball or the cue ball after it hits the object ball US, 1990. ▶ twist a braid to say goodbye US, 1993.

▶ twist a dream to roll a marijuana cigarette US, 1949. ▶ twist her tail to start a car or to accelerate suddenly US, 1962. ▶ twist your arm to persuade someone; strictly, to persuade someone by force or threat, but often jocular UK, 1953 twist! a derisive suggestion that accompanies the offensive gesture of a raised middle finger UK, 2001 twist 'n' go adjective used of a motor-scooter. From the handlebar throttle on such machines UK, 2004 twist and twirl; twist noun a girl. Rhyming slang US, 1928 twisted adjective 1 perverted US, 1900. 2 drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1958 twister noun 1 a key US, 1940. 2 an individual who prepares marijuana cigarettes US, 1936. 3 a strong drug injection, especially a combination of heroin and cocaine US, 1959

twistie noun a bottle of beer with a screw top AUSTRALIA, 1993 twistum noun a marijuana cigarette. An elaboration of TWIST US, 1998 twist up verb to roll a marijuana cigarette US, 1997 twisty noun a devious, even dishonest, practice NEW ZEALAND, 1997 twisty adjective odd, strange UK, 1957 twit noun an inept and ineffectual person. Widely popularised by UK radio comedy The Goons (1951–60) and celebrated by Monty Python's Flying Circus in 'The Upper-Class Twit of the Year' sketch (1970) UK, 1934 twit verb to tease or taunt someone UK, 1530 twitch noun 1 a prostitute US, 1962. 2 a personal pleasure US, 1981. 3 a bird-watching trip. Bird-watchers' slang, from the observation that many bird-watchers do twitch with excitement UK, 1977. 4 in hospital usage, a hypochondriac US, 1994 twitcher noun 1 a bird-watcher. Bird-watchers' slang. Originally from the observation that many bird-watchers do twitch with excitement and applied only to excitable members of the bird-watching community, now well known and applied generally UK, 1977. 2 anyone with a pedantic interest in, and an obsessive knowledge of, a specific topic. Extended from its sense in the bird-watching world UK, 2003 twitching; twitchin' adjective excellent US, 1993

twitchy adjective 1 agitated, nervously restless, anxious UK, 1874. 2 in motor racing, moving in a jerky or sudden fashion US, 1980 twittering adjective experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. A schoolgirl term UK, 1958 twitting adjective inept; unfashionable US, 1959

twizzle; twizzle-about verb to rotate; to swirl; to twist something into a swirl shape UK, 1788

two noun an act of defecation. An abbreviation of NUMBER TWO TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 ▶ see: TWO SHOT, TWO STRETCH. ▶ giz a two used to request a two-way share UK, 1996. ▶ in two in bar dice games, to make a hand in two rolls of the dice US, 1971. ▶ in two-twos instantly TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990

two; two up verb to share a cell with one other prisoner UK, 1996

two-0 noun a twenty-dollar note US, 1982

two and a juice noun two beers and a tomato juice CANADA, 1987 two and eight noun a confusion; an attack of nerves; an emotional state; drunk. Rhyming slang for STATE UK, 1938

two and two noun cocaine US, 1974

two bad boys from Illinois noun in craps, a roll of two US, 1985

two-bit adjective inconsequential; of no note. 'Two bits' represented a quarter of a dollar, a small sum; most younger speakers who use the term would not be familiar with its monetary roots US, 1932 two bits noun 1 a small amount US, 1989. 2 twenty-five dollars. An example of the 'cent = dollar' mechanism in drug slang US, 1968. 3 twenty-five thousand dollars US, 1986 two bob noun the sum of two shillings. After decimal currency was introduced in 1966, used for the sum of twenty cents AUSTRALIA, 1934. ▶ have two bob each way to have all contingencies working for you; to hedge your bets AUSTRALIA, 1973 two bob adjective inferior, rubbishy, useless. Derives from Australian similes such as 'as silly as a two bob watch'; explained by G.A. Wilkes in A Dictionary of Australian Colloquialisms, 1978, as the sum of money most often used in derogatory expressions of worth. A BOB is 'a shilling' in pre-decimal currency (5p for what it's worth, 5c in Australia). It compares with US TWO BIT and UK 'two penny' AUSTRALIA, 1944 two bob bit noun a fart; as a plural, diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE SHITS UK, 1992

two-bob lair noun a person who dresses flashily but cheaply AUSTRALIA, 1944 two-bob piece; two-bob bit noun a two-shilling coin. After the introduction of decimal currency in 1966, used for a 20-cent piece AUSTRALIA, 1956 two-bob watch noun a cheap, poorly made watch. Used metaphorically AUSTRALIA, 1954. ▶ go off like a two-bob watch (of a woman) to be an astoundingly good sexual partner AUSTRALIA, 1971 two-bottle jump; two-quart jump noun a relatively long move between performances US, 1973

two-bug noun in horse racing, an inexperienced jockey with a weight allowance of seven pounds US, 1990

two bulb noun a police squad car IRELAND, 2005

two-by-four noun a small house BARBADOS, 1965

two-carbon abuser noun a drunkard. Hospital usage. Alcohol has two carbon atoms US, 1978

two cents' worth; two cents noun a personal opinion, advice or point of view US, 1970

twocker; twok; twoc noun a criminal who takes (usually a vehicle) without owner's consent; occasionally, someone who is suspected of dishonesty UK, 1996

twocking noun the criminal act of taking (usually a vehicle) without owner's consent UK, 1996

two dots and a dash noun the male genitals US, 1964 two'd up adjective applied to two inmates in a prison cell UK, 1978

twoer noun 1 anything comprised by, or reckoned as, two UK, 1899. 2 two hundred pounds UK, 1970

twofer noun 1 any situation in which you obtain two of something when only one is expected or paid for. A shortening and corruption of 'two-for-one'; originally applied to a pair of theatre tickets sold for the price of one, and then picked up in more general use US, 1936. 2 in American casinos, a chip worth $2.50 US, 1985 two-fingered adjective anti-social. A reference to the offensive V-SIGN gesture UK, 1999 two foot table eater noun an active participant in oral sex. West Indian and UK use, recorded in August 2002 JAMAICA, 2002 two-for-one noun 1 double credit for time served in prison by inmates with jobs or positions as prison trustees US, 1972. 2 100% interest UK, 1996

two-four noun a case of beer containing 24 bottles. This term is the universal Canadian designator for the item, though 'case' may sometimes mean 'the box of 12' US, 1993 two-four-seven adverb at all times – twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. A variation of 24/7 UK, 2000

TWOG noun someone who travels to underdeveloped countries and seeks to become a part of meanest level of local society. An imperfect acronym for 'Third World Groupie', used by white Zimbabweans ZIMBABWE, 2000

two-in-one noun cocaine and heroin mixed for injection together US, 1964

two in the glue noun in a car or truck, a two-speed automatic transmission US, 1993

two lamps burning and no ship at sea used for describing the ultimate in wastefulness US, 1963

two man noun second degree manslaughter US, 1982

two men and a dog a very small crowd NEW ZEALAND, 2002

two minutes noun a small amount of time UK, 2002

twomp noun twenty dollars US, 2001

twomp adjective costing twenty dollars US, 2001 twomping noun a beating, a thumping UK, 1998

twonk noun a fool UK, 2003 two-o noun a twenty-dollar chunk of crack cocaine US, 1989 two-o-eight noun a military discharge for mental unfitness US, 1968 twopenny-farthing adjective of little worth, unimportant. A devaluation of TUPPENNY HA'PENNY UK, 1959

two pennynorth; twopenneth noun an opinion. From conventional sense (a small amount, hence a small contribution) UK, 1965

two-percenter noun ▶ see: ONE-PERCENTER

two pi noun the number of years consumed completing a doctoral thesis US, 1991

two-pipe noun a double-barrel shotgun US, 1949 two-pot screamer noun a person who gets drunk on very little alcohol AUSTRALIA, 1959

two-pump chump noun a male who ejaculates without much stimulation US, 2004 two rolls and no coffee noun in craps, a roll of seven on the first roll after establishing your point. A pun on 'roll', with the player here losing after two rolls US, 1949 twos noun 1 the second landing or floor level in a prison UK, 1996. 2 a share UK, 1996. ▶ all the twos twenty-two. In Bingo, House or Housey-Housey calling, the formula 'all the' announces a double number UK, 1943 twos and blues noun a two-tone horn and flashing blue light used to signal a police vehicle travelling urgently UK, 2002 twos and fews noun small-denomination notes or loose change US, 1973 two-seater noun an outdoor privy which accommodates two people at once US, 1966

twosey noun an act of defecation AUSTRALIA, 1995

Two Shades of Soul noun the 173rd Airborne Brigade, US Army. So named because of the amicable relations between black and white soldiers in the unit, the first major US combat unit sent to Vietnam US, 1988 two shot; two noun in the television and film industries, a shot of two actors facing each other, each taking up half the screen US, 1977 twoisky noun two hundred dollars. The 'sky' suffix is purely decorative US, 1994 two snaps up! used for expressing approval. A catchphrase from the television programme In Living Color US, 1990 two-spirited adjective applied to homosexual, lesbian, bisexual or transgendered Native Americans. First used among Native Americans of transgendered people only, it has also been offensively applied to half-breeds and those who have adopted white culture CANADA, 1996

two-step noun the highly venomous bamboo viper, found and feared in Vietnam. So named because of the belief – false but vivid – that the venom is so toxic that it kills a person before they can take two steps after being bitten US, 1991 two stretch; two noun a two-year sentence of imprisonment. A multiple of STRETCH (a year's sentence) UK, 1930 two's up adjective sharing, especially a cigarette. Used in borstals and detention centres UK, 1978

twot noun an abusive epithet for someone you would otherwise call a cunt. A variant spelling (originally pronounced in a similar manner) of twat (the vagina). As time has passed the pronunciations have separated UK, 1999 two-thirds of five-eighths of fuck all noun almost nothing. From the final line of 'The young man of Bengal' limerick. A recorded song based on the variation 'two thirds of four fifths of fuck all' was released in the UK in 2005 by Ivor Biggun NEW ZEALAND, 1998 two-thirty adjective grimy, dirty. Rhyming slang for 'dirty' UK, 1960 two-time verb to be seeing more than one sexual partner without the knowledge of the partner(s); to be unfaithful US, 1924

two-timer noun a person who is unfaithful to another person or a cause US, 1927

two-timing woman noun a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957 two-toilet adjective used of an Irish immigrant, relatively well-off economically and straying from the Irish cultural ties that bind. A term coined in Boston and rarely used elsewhere US, 1990

two-two noun a prostitute CANADA, 1993

two-two adverb in pairs INDIA, 1979

two-up noun 1 a gesture that is used to insult or otherwise cause offence. The forefinger and the middle finger are extended to form a V shape, with the palm turned in towards the gesturer UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 a gambling game in which two pennies are tossed from a small flat bat AUSTRALIA, 1884

two-up school noun a place at which a two-up game is held; a group of people playing two-up AUSTRALIA, 1897

two-way noun a position for mutual, simultaneous oral sex between two people, or the act itself, especially when advertised as a service offered by a prostitute UK, 2003 two-way adjective said of a carnival game or attraction that can be operated either legitimately or in a crooked fashion US, 1989

two-way bondage noun a restriction of movement to facilitate an erotic encounter or sexual intercourse, especially when advertised as a service offered and received by a prostitute UK, 2003 two-way man noun a male prostitute who is available for both anal and oral sex US, 1941 two-way watersports noun when used in a prostitute's advertising, indicates that the prostitute is willing both to urinate over the client, and be urinated upon. A specification of WATER SPORTS (the practice of urophilia and urolagnia) UK, 2003 two-wire noun an electronic technician. US Navy usage US, 1998 two words, three effs fuck off. If the intention is euphemistic why spell it out? UK, 2000 twozee verb to defecate. Children's vocabulary TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986 twunt noun a despicable person, an idiot. A blend of CUNT and TWAT UK, 2005

TX in on-line poker playing, thanks UK, 2003

txt verb to send a text message. A new vocabulary of abbreviations, of which this is probably the most recognisable, has grown rapidly as texting becomes evermore popular and mobile phone companies limit the number of characters subscribers may use UK, 2000 tyke noun 1 a child, especially one who is disobedient, impudent or mischievous; a youth. Probably from the sense as 'a dog' UK, 1400. 2 a Yorkshireman. Originally pejorative, ultimately from the sense as 'a dog'; now in general use, and adopted with pride by yorkshire people: Barnsley football club is nicknamed 'The Tykes' UK, about 1700. 3 a rough, ill-mannered fellow UK: NORTHERN IRELAND, 1996. 4 a Roman Catholic. Probably Northern Ireland English Taig AUSTRALIA, 1902. 5 a scruffy dog; a mongrel. Now widely used as a pet name UK, about 1400 type noun a person, especially one of a stated or implied character. Colloquial UK, 1922

typer noun a typewriter US, 1982 typewriter noun 1 a machine gun UK, 1915. 2 a fighter; a boxer. Rhyming slang UK, 1931. 3 the push-button automatic transmission on a Dodge car US, 1968 typewriter commando noun a soldier assigned to clerical support duty far from combat US, 1947 typewriter jockey noun a stenographer or typist US, 1960 typist noun in a deck of playing cards, a queen US, 1988

typo noun a typographical error UK, 1945 tyrannosaurus rex; tyrannosaurus noun sex. Rhyming slang UK, 1998

Tyrone noun a potent strain of marijuana US, 1995

Uu

Ubangi noun a black person. Offensive US, 1979

U-barrel noun a large steel drum used for collecting urine where there is no plumbing ANTARCTICA, 2003 über-; uber- prefix super-high in quality or degree. Adopted directly from German preposition über (over, above), combines to form words that exceed the norm US, 1992

UBI doctors' shorthand for the facetious diagnosis: unexplained beer injury. Medical slang UK, 2003 uc dai loi; ouc-dai-loi noun (during the Vietnam conflict) an Australian soldier. From Vietnamese. Spelt with much variation AUSTRALIA, 1975 u cunt nickname Uncut magazine (since 1997). Originally a cut and paste by disgruntled employees, then adopted by the magazine's competition UK, 2001 udder noun 1 the female breast. Originally (about 1708) in conventional or poetic use UK, 1933. 2 a despised, disrespected or foolish woman. Possibly a variation of COW; more likely to derive from 'udder' (the female breast) hence used here as a synonym for PI UK, 2001. 3 a protruding paunch produced by too much beer drinking. Recorded as a contemporary gay usage UK, 2003

u-ey; u-ee; yewie; you-ee noun a u-turn US, 1969 uggies noun a pair of Uggs™ boots AUSTRALIA, 2003 ugly adjective uglier than ugly US, 1966 ugly as a hatful of arseholes adjective especially ugly AUSTRALIA, 1971 ugly as fuck adjective very ugly US, 1989 ugly Australian noun a rough, loutish Australian; an Australian yobbo AUSTRALIA, 1974 ugly sister noun a blister. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 ugly stick noun a notional stick with which a person has been beaten in order to make them ugly US, 1969

ugs noun ▶ see: HUGS AND KISSES uh-oh used in recognition of trouble US, 2001 uh-uh adverb NO US, 1924

UIC ski team noun unemployed winter skiers CANADA, 1989

uke noun a ukulele US, 1915 ukelele noun on the railways, a short-handled shovel US, 1977

UKG noun British gangsta music and culture. An abbreviation of United Kingdom Gangsta UK, 2002

Ukrainian peanut noun a sunflower seed CANADA, 1987 ultimate noun in the coded terminology used in advertising for sexual contact, full sexual intercourse UK, 2006 ultimate xphoria noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 ulysses noun a u-turn US, 1968

-um suffix added to words to give the impression of English as spoken by an American Indian US, 1946 um and ah verb to hesitate; to be uncertain. From the vocal sounds that may accompany hesitation UK, 2000 umbrella noun 1 a fellow, especially a husband or boyfriend. Rhyming slang for FELLAH; FELLA UK, 1998. 2 in the television and film industries, a reflector used to bounce light onto a subject US, 1990 umpteen noun an imprecise, large number UK, 1918 umpteenhundred noun a point in the yet-to-be-determined, indefinite future US, 1988 umpteenth; unteenth adjective used of a great but unspecified number or amount UK, 1918 una adjective one. From Italian uno UK, 1996 unass verb 1 to stand up; to remove yourself from your immediate location US, 1967. 2 to knock someone out of a sitting position US, 1991 unbling noun cheap, shoddy, unimpressive jewellery. The opposite of BLING UK, 2005 unbutton verb to force or rip open a safe US, 1949. ▶ unbutton the mutton to undo clothing and liberate the penis AUSTRALIA, 1971 unc noun an uncle, especially as a term of address AUSTRALIA, 1946 uncle noun 1 a pawnbroker UK, 1756. 2 a person who buys stolen goods from criminals US, 1950. ▶ cry uncle; say uncle; holler uncle to admit defeat; to beg for mercy. From Irish anacol (mercy) US, 1918 uncle verb to act in a passive or subservient fashion. From UNCLE TOM US, 1969 uncle and aunt noun a plant. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 unclear on the concept adjective completely and dramatically ignorant about a particular subject US, 1988

Uncle Bert noun a shirt. Rhyming slang UK, 1961

Uncle Bertie adjective angry, especially if only temporarily; characteristically ill-tempered. Rhyming slang for SHIRTY; extended from UNCLE BERT (a shirt) UK, 1992

Uncle Bill noun the police. A variation of 'old Bill' UK, 1962

Uncle Bloody noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 2001

Uncle Bob noun 1 a police officer UK, 1965. 2 the penis. Rhyming slang for KNOB UK, 1992

Uncle Charles; Uncle C noun cocaine UK, 2002

Uncle Charlie noun 1 used as a representation of the dominant white culture in the US US, 1963. 2 among truckers using citizens' band radio, the Federal Communications Commission US, 1976. 3 the Viet Cong US, 1985

Uncle Charlie is visiting; my Uncle Charlie is visiting I am experiencing menstruation US, 2001

Uncle Daniel noun in hot rodding, a deceptively normal-looking car that has been modified and enhanced for speed US, 1958

Uncle Dick noun the penis. Rhyming slang for PRICK UK, 1960

Uncle Dick; dickey; dickie adjective sick. Rhyming slang UK, 1960

Uncle Fred noun bread. Rhyming slang, generally childish UK, 1932

Uncle Ho noun Ho Chi Minh US, 1976

Uncle Joe noun Joseph Stalin UK, 1943

Uncle Junk noun heroin. Elaboration of JUNK (heroin) US, 1985

Uncle Lester noun a child molester. Rhyming slang UK, 2002

Uncle Mac noun 1 a smack. Rhyming slang, formed from 'Children's Favourites' radio presenter Uncle Mac (Derek McCulloch), BBC Light Programme, 1954–67 UK, 1992. 2 heroin. Rhyming slang for SMACK, extended from the earlier, more innocent use as 'a smack' UK, 1992

Uncle Miltie nickname Milton Berle, US comedian of vaudeville, radio and television (1908–2002). Berle was also known as Mr Television US, 1968

Uncle Milty noun Miltown™, a branded tranquillizer US, 1998

Uncle Ned noun a bed. Rhyming slang UK, 1925

Uncle Sam noun the US federal government US, 1950

Uncle Sid noun LSD. A play on the second syllable of ACID (LSD) UK, 2003

Uncle Tom noun a black person who curries favour from whites through obsequious, fawning behaviour. In recent US history,

Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas has attracted the 'Uncle Tom' label more than any other black American, in part due to the irresistible Tom-Thomas pun US, 1922

Uncle Tom verb (used of a black person) to try to curry favour with white people by obsequious behaviour US, 1937

Uncle Willie adjective 1 silly. Rhyming slang UK, 1932. 2 chilly. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 unco adjective 1 clumsy; awkward. Short for 'uncoordinated' AUSTRALIA, 1996. 2 weird AUSTRALIA, 1996 uncommon horn noun an unusually urgent sexual appetite UK, 2001 uncool adjective unpleasant, aggressive, dangerous; excitable; tending to show your feelings more than is prudent or advisable US, 1953 un-cred adjective unfashionable. The antonym of CRED (acceptable to your peers) UK, 2001 uncunt verb to withdraw the penis from a woman's vagina US, 1961

uncut adjective not circumcised US, 1957 under noun sexual intercourse. The location of the sexual organs: 'under a body' or, perhaps, 'under a skirt' UK, 1936 under adjective a state of sobriety when measured against drug-intoxication UK, 2003 underage adjective in snowboarding, used to describe the not-yet-perfected performance of a trick or manoeuvre US, 1995 under-arm adjective pornographic UK, 1979 underchunders noun underpants. From 'underwear' and CHUNDER (vomit), because they are revolting AUSTRALIA, 1966 undercover adjective used of a racehorse, trained in secret US, 1951 undercrackers noun underpants UK, 1997 underdaks noun underpants AUSTRALIA, 1966 underdungers noun underpants NEW ZEALAND, 1981

under four eyes; under two eyes adjective face to face TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990 underground noun a hidden counter culture. Usually in a political context, although in the 1960s also in a cultural context US, 1935 underground mutton noun rabbit meat AUSTRALIA, 1919 undergunned adjective having too small a surfboard for the surf conditions AUSTRALIA, 1989 underlook verb to look at someone or something with grave doubt BARBADOS, 1965 underpass noun the posterior; the buttocks, the anus. Rhyming slang for ARSE and appropriate imagery UK, 2003 under-stain noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. A euphemism UK, 1980 under starter's orders adjective arrested. Criminal and police slang, from horse racing UK, 1959 undertaker noun a bookmaker who will only accept bets at odds under those offered by his competition AUSTRALIA, 1989 under the affluence of incohol drunk. A deliberate spoonerism, probably Australian but post-war UK comedians are worthy of consideration AUSTRALIA, 1984 under-the-arm adjective no good, inferior; loathsome. Implies that the object described is a STINKER UK, 1930s to 1960s underwhelm verb to arouse little or no interest in someone. Jocular. Now included in the Oxford English Dictionary UK, 1956 under yonder noun the anus US, 1972 undies noun underwear. Abbreviated 'underwear'. In the UK, applied most commonly to women's underwear; in Australia to men's; in the US to children's UK, 1906 undressed adjective used of a citizens' band radio operated without a linear amplifier US, 1976 unemployed noun the penis. Especially in the phrase SHAKE HANDS WITH THE UNEMPLOYED AUSTRALIA, 1971 unforgettable noun a combination of cocaine, heroin and valium US, 1993 unfragged adjective not listed on the daily frag order specifying the military objectives of the day. Vietnam war usage US, 1986 unfuckable adjective too ugly to be considered as a sexual partner AUSTRALIA, 1979

unfucked adjective re-ordered; having order brought out of chaos US, 1997 unglue verb in drag racing and hot rodding, to blow up an engine US, 1968 unglued adjective out of control US, 1962 ungodly adjective 1 of time, unpleasantly early in the day UK, 1889. 2 superlative US, 1974 ungowa; ungowa bwana yes, affirmative, OK. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1976 ungrateful adjective said of a hospital patient who dies after heroic efforts to save his life US, 1989 unhinged adjective angry; emotionally unsettled UK, 1719 unholy adjective awful; outrageous UK, 1842 unhook verb to remove handcuffs US, 1982 unhook the U-haul! 'hurry up!'. The image is of unhooking a rental trailer that is slowing you down US, 1993 uni noun 1 university; a university AUSTRALIA, 1898. 2 a school uniform. Pronounced 'unny' UK, 1947

uniboob noun a woman's chest clothed in a manner that presents the two breasts as a single entity US, 2001 uniform noun 1 a uniformed police officer, as distinguished from a detective in street clothes US, 1969. 2 a member of the armed forces US, 1941 uniform tango noun an UNCLE TOM. From the military phonetic alphabet, UT US, 1991 uninteresting adjective used of a computer problem, subject to being solved with enough time, not requiring creative problem-solving skills US, 1991

Union Jack noun 1 a multiple bet on 9 selections. Named after the Union Jack flag which a schemata of the wager resembles UK, 2001. 2 the back. Rhyming slang. The short form 'union' is also used UK, 1992

Union Pacific noun in poker, a hand consisting of three sixes and a pair. The sixes are known as 'boxcars', hence the railway company name US, 1988 unit noun 1 the penis. The slang sense of the word gives special meaning to the nickname 'The Big Unit' given to baseball pitcher Randy Johnson US, 1985. 2 the vagina US, 1978

United Parcel Service noun any amphetamine, methamphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant. A forced formation: the initials UPS represent stimulants as 'ups' (see UPPER) US, 1976 units noun parents. An abbreviation of 'parental units' US, 1987

University of a Billion Chinks nickname the University of British Columbia, in racist reference to the large student population of immigrants from South Asia CANADA, 2001

University of Freebies noun the University of Florida. Back-formation from the initials FU, playing on the role of athletics at the university US, 2004 university of hard knocks noun experience, especially when valued against a university education. An admixture of the clichés UNIVERSITY OF LIFE and SCHOOL OF HARD KNOCKS UK, 1984 university of life noun experience, especially when valued against a university education UK, 1959 unk-unk noun an unknown that is unknown or not even suspected. Aerospace usage US, 1974 unleaded adjective caffeine-free. Borrowing from the language of car fuel for application to the world of coffee drinks and, to a lesser extent, soft drinks US, 1996 unload verb 1 (of a male) to ejaculate. Originally in gay use US, 1995. 2 to punch someone; to beat someone. Probably from an earlier sense (to drop bombs) UK, 1998. 3 in air combat, to accelerate US, 1990.

- 4 on the railways, to end a work shift or to jump off a moving train US, 1977
- unotque noun marijuana UK, 2003
- unpack verb to vomit UK, 1983
- unprofessional, that's what you are used as a humorous if pointed insult. Coined by ESPN's Keith Olberman to describe the level of play of strike-breaking, 'replacement' baseball players in 1995 US, 1997
- unreal adjective excellent; exceptionally bad. Depends on context and tone US, 1965
- unroot adjective great; terrific. Representing a pronunciation of UNREAL AUSTRALIA, 1990
- unscrewed adjective out of control US, 1962
- unsliced adjective not circumcised US, 1988
- unteenth adjective ▶ see: UMPTEENTH
- until the wheels fall off adjective until a prison clique disbands; ultimately loyal. Back-formation from a CAR (a clique) US, 1989
- untogether adjective not in control of your personal condition; unable to get your mind and emotions under control; disorganised UK, 1969
- untold adjective excellent; terrific; wonderful AUSTRALIA, 1979
- untolds noun lots; heaps AUSTRALIA, 1987
- unwind verb to relax after a period of tension or stress UK, 1958
- up noun 1 a tablet of amphetamine, methamphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1979; 2 an inspiration; an elevated mood US, 1966; 3 in the used car business, a potential customer who has walked on to the sales forecourt US, 1975. ▶ on the up and up legitimate, honest US, 1863
- up verb 1 to start suddenly or boldly; to rise abruptly UK, 1831; 2 to arouse or aggravate someone UK, 2000; 3 to increase a bet in cards US, 1942. ▶ up it to pay off a debt US, 1980. ▶ up sticks to pack up and go; to move. Originally nautical, from raising the mast prior to setting sail UK, 1877
- up adjective 1 happening; going on UK, 1838. 2 wrong; amiss UK, 1849. 3 successful US, 1990. 4 under the influence of a drug, especially LSD and, later, MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1966. 5 pregnant TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1991. 6 used of waves, large. Giving rise to the cry, 'Surf's up!' US, 1964. 7 imprisoned US, 1975. 8 of food or drink, made, cooked, ready, served UK, 1967. 9 in the used car business, next on the salesmen's rotation list to approach a potential customer who has walked onto the sales forecourt US, 1975. 10 used of an actor in the television and film industries, unable to remember lines US, 1977. 11 of a male, having sexual intercourse with someone UK, 1937
- up adverb 1 each; equal in quantity UK, 1809. 2 up to or up at AUSTRALIA, 1884
- up suffix 1 used to form adjectives and verbs with the meaning 'to be under, or put someone under, the influence of a drug', 2000. 2 having adopted a stated style or characteristic. Formed in combination with a participial adjective UK, 2004
- up against adjective confronted by a difficulty US, 1896
- up against it in a difficult position, in trouble US, 1896
- up against the wall helpless, dominated by another; used for expressing power over others. A catch-phrase of the politically active in the US 1960s, echoing a police command US, 1960s
- up-and-down noun 1 an order of Kessler ale and Stroh's beer US, 1981. 2 sex US, 1993. 3 in gambling, a type of conditional bet: a single-stakes-about or a double-stakes-about UK, 2007
- up and down adjective brown, especially applied to brown ale. Rhyming slang UK, 1992
- up-and-downer; upper-and-downer noun a violent quarrel; a fight UK, 1927
- up and down of it noun the gist of something; the whole thing; the outcome of a situation UK, 1994
- up and under noun thunder. Rhyming slang, formed from a rugby manoeuvre that became a popular catchphrase for BBC rugby league commentator Eddie Waring, 1910–86 UK, 1998
- upchuck noun ground beef. Playing on 'ground chuck' for the beef as well as the slang for 'vomit' US, 1996
- upchuck verb to vomit US, 1996
- up country adjective South Vietnam north of Saigon US, 1977
- up for it adjective ready to party UK, 1999
- upfront adjective honest, open, frank US, 1970
- upful adjective happy, positive. Mainly West Indian and UK black usage UK, 1997
- uphill gardening noun anal intercourse UK, 1997
- uphills noun dice that have been altered in a fashion that produces high numbers when rolled US, 1962
- upholstered adjective suffering from a sexually transmitted infection US, 1949
- Upjohn noun a tablet of Dexedrine™, Benzedrine™ or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1971
- up jumped the devil! used for expressing dismay at the toss of a seven by a craps player trying to make his point US, 1950
- up north adverb to prison US, 1989
- up on one adjective of a police officer, on a charge, standing accused UK, 1974
- upper noun an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1973
- upper-class snob noun an act of oral sex, especially performed on a man. Rhyming slang for BLOW JOB UK, 2003
- upper-crust noun the upper classes; the higher circles of society UK, 1843
- upper deck noun the female breasts US, 1967
- upper persuasion for lower invasion noun foreplay US, 1968
- uppie noun an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant. A variation of UPPER US, 1982
- Uppie noun a student of the University of Port Elizabeth. Formed on the initialism, by which the university is known, UPE; Radio Uppie is the UPE student radio station SOUTH AFRICA, 1972
- uppity; uppidy adjective brash; arrogant; refusing to accept one's place in society. Originally coined by southern blacks, now widely used US, 1880
- uprights noun the legs US, 1970
- upsidaisy!; upsadaisy!; oops-a-daisy! used to comfort a child who has fallen over and to lightly encourage a recovery UK, 1862
- upside preposition against US, 1959
- upskirt noun a type of voyeurism devoted to seeing what is beneath a woman's skirt US, 1995
- upsplice noun the vagina; a disagreeable woman US, 2001
- upstairs adverb in poker, in the form of a raised bet US, 1996. ▶ not right upstairs; short of a few rooms upstairs not completely sane UK, 1931
- upstate adjective 1 in prison US, 1934. 2 murdered US, 2003
- upta adjective no good; hopeless; worthless. Originally short for UP TO PUTTY, but now conceived of as short for UP TO SHIT AUSTRALIA, 1918
- up the aisle noun a sexual position in which the woman kneels and the man enters her from behind. Rhyming slang for DOG-STYLE, combining a pun on 'a narrow passage' with an implication of marriage UK, 2003
- up the in and out adjective ruined; pregnant. Rhyming slang for UP THE SPOUT UK, 1998
- up the Irons! used as a greeting, especially between Iron Maiden fans. Collected from fans of heavy metal music by Seamus O'Reilly, January 1995 US, 1995
- up there Cazaly come on! Used as a cry of encouragement. Originally a cry of support for Ron Cazaly (1893–1963), Australian Rules football player AUSTRALIA, 1943
- up there for thinking, down there for dancing; up here for thinking, down there for dancing a catchphrase used as a jocular demonstration of the speaker's grasp on anatomy UK, 1999

uptight adjective 1 nervous, anxious US, 1934. 2 inhibited; narrow-minded; very correct and straightlaced US, 1968 up top noun 1 a person's intelligence UK, 1967. 2 a woman's breasts, or the area of the breasts UK, 2003 uptown noun 1 cocaine. Uptown is expensive and glamorous, as is cocaine US, 1980. 2 in pool, the area at the head of the table US, 1993 uptown adjective upscale, prosperous US, 1946 up west; up West noun the West End of London. Originally as viewed from the East End, subsequently used throughout suburbia regardless of the compass UK, 1979 up you! used as an exclamation of contempt, derision or defiance; a euphemism for 'fuck you!'. Often accompanied by, or used instead of, the raised middle finger gesture which carries the same meaning. Apparently not recorded before 1984 but, surely, much earlier UK, 1984 up you for the rent! damn you! AUSTRALIA, 1955 up your alley! used as a dismissive retort. A euphemism for UP YOUR ASS/ARSE! UK, 1976 up your giggy! used as an expression of contemptuous rejection. After GIGGY (the anus) CANADA, 1961 up your nose with a rubber hose used as a general-purpose, nonsensical insult. A signature line of Vinnie Barbarino, played by John Travolta, on the television comedy Welcome Back, Kotter (ABC, 1975–79). Repeated with referential humour US, 1979 up yours! used as an expression of contempt, rejection, or derision. A shortening of UP YOUR ASS/ARSE! UK, 1956 urban surfing verb ▶ see: TRAIN-SURFING urger noun a racecourse tipster AUSTRALIA, 1919

Uriah Heep noun an objectionable or unpleasant person; a dull or insignificant person. Rhyming slang for CREEP, formed from a character in Charles Dickens' David Copperfield, 1849 UK, 1992 urine express noun an elevator in a public housing development. New York police slang US, 1997 urine-stained adjective not good enough; not socially acceptable US, 1996 us adjective my. Too widely used to be simply a dialect of northern England UK, 1999

US adjective not in working order. A military abbreviation of 'unserviceable', 'useless', and/or UP TO SHIT UK, 1942 us pronoun me. Queen Elizabeth II is often derided for referring to herself as 'we' (known as the 'royal we'); this is the 'working-class us' UK, 1828 use verb 1 to use drugs, especially addictive drugs such as heroin. Used without an object. A euphemism, but one which is crystal clear in slang context US, 1971. 2 to enjoy something (if only you could get the something that is wished for) UK, 1956. ▶ use your loaf to act intelligently, think. Often as an imperative UK, 1997.

▶ use yourself 1 to masturbate BAHAMAS, 1982. 2 to use physical violence; to fight. By elision from 'use yourself as a weapon' UK, 1962 used beer department noun a toilet. Modified to 'used coffee department' and the like for office settings US, 1995 useful adjective 1 good; capable; effective; satisfactory UK, 1955. 2 competitive IRELAND, 1991 useful as an ashtray on a motorbike adjective useless AUSTRALIA, 1986 useless as tits on a boar; useless as tits on a boar hog; useless as tits on a bull adjective ineffectual, serving no useful purpose CANADA, 1981 useless smile noun used for describing the happy, vacant facial expression of someone under the influence of LSD US, 1994 user noun 1 a drug addict UK, 1935. 2 a person who exploits others for their own gain AUSTRALIA, 1978

ush verb to work as an usher in a theatre US, 1981

US of A noun the United States of America. A variation of the conventional abbreviations US and USA US, 1973

USP noun amphetamines; MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003

UTA adjective in abundance US, 1986 ute noun a utility truck AUSTRALIA, 1943 utensil noun a chamberpot TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1909 utilities noun US Marines' combat fatigues US, 1991

U-turn noun a reversal of political policy. From motorists' jargon UK, 1984

UVs noun sun rays. An abbreviation of 'ultra-violet sun rays' US, 1968

UYB noun an uppity yankee bitch. The southern US view of some northern US women US, 1986

Uzi noun a pipe used for smoking crack cocaine US, 1994 uzzfay noun a police officer. Pig Latin for FUZZ US, 1955

Vv

V noun 1 Valium™ US, 1984. 2 sildenafil citrate marketed as Viagra™, an anti-impotence drug taken recreationally for performance enhancement, in combination with other chemicals that stimulate the sexual appetites UK, 2000. 3 a V-sign UK, 2002. 4 a visit US, 2002. 5 a five year prison sentence. From the Roman numeral for five US, 1945. 6 five dollars US, 1962. 7 marijuana US, 1979

V adjective very. Upper-class society origins (perhaps from abbreviation use in school) into wider middle-class usage UK, 1982

V-8 gang noun a youth gang that uses large American cars NEW ZEALAND, 1984

V-8s noun men's shorts US, 1972

VA noun the vagina. Adopted from the standard abbreviation for the state of Virginia, punning the phonetic similarity US, 1998

Vaalie; Valie noun an inhabitant of the region formerly known as Transvaal. Often derogatory or patronising SOUTH AFRICA, 1976

VAC noun a vacation UK, 1709 vacation noun time spent in jail or prison US, 1971 vacaya noun 1 any mechanical or electrical device that produces sound; a jukebox; a record player UK, 2002. 2 a mobile phone. From the earlier, more general sense (a device that produces sound) UK, 2002 vada; varda; vardi; vardo; vardy verb to see; to look; to observe. Polari UK, 1859 vadavision; vardavision noun a television UK, 2002

VAF! (when first noticing an attractive person) 'look!'. Polari; an acronym for 'VADA absolutely FANTABULOSA!' UK, 2002

vag noun 1 a vagrant US, 1868. 2 vagrancy; a criminal charge of vagrancy US, 1859 vag verb to charge someone with vagrancy US, 1859 vage; vag; vadge; vaj noun the vagina US, 1986 vaggerie; vagary; vagarie verb to go; to leave; to travel. Probably from Italian vagare (to roam) UK, 2002 vagina vandal noun a rapist US, 1962 val noun 1 a tablet of diazepam (trade name Valium™), an anti-anxiety agent US, 1986. 2 value UK, 2000. 3 a resident of the San Fernando Valley, Los Angeles County, California US, 1982 valentine noun a very short jail sentence US, 1949

Valentine noun in college, a notification of academic deficiency US, 1968

Valentine Dyalls; valentines noun haemorrhoids. Rhyming slang for PILES, formed on the actor Valentine Dyall, 1908–85 UK, 1998 valet noun in a deck of playing cards, a jack or knave US, 1988

vali; vallie; vally noun Valium™, a branded tranquillizer UK, 1996 valley noun the antecubital vein at the inside of the elbow, a prime site for intravenous drug injections US, 1970

Valley noun ► the Valley 1 the San Fernando Valley, Los Angeles County, California US, 1994. 2 a low-lying area east of Seventh Avenue in Harlem, New York US, 1966 valley dolls noun LSD UK, 2003

Valleyite noun a resident of the San Fernando Valley, Los Angeles US, 1985 valve job noun sex in a car US, 1997 vamoose verb to go; to leave. Spanish vamos (let us go) US, 1834 vamp noun a woman that makes it her habit or business to captivate men by an unscrupulous employment of her sexual charms UK, 1911 vamp verb 1 (of a woman) to flirt, and otherwise employ an obvious sexuality to attract a mate UK, 1927. 2 to smell bad TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1973 vampire noun a medical operative who draws off a patient's or donor's blood; a member of any National Blood Transfusion collecting team. Jocular and affectionate, usually UK, 1961. ► take the vampire's kiss; take the vampires to tease someone, to pull someone's leg. Rhyming slang for TAKE THE PISS UK, 1998

van noun a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977

Van nickname the city of Vancouver, British Columbia CANADA, 2002

V and A nickname Victoria and Albert Museum UK, 1937

vandoo noun in the Canadian Forces, a member of the Royal 22nd Regiment, the francophone army unit CANADA, 1995

V and T noun vodka and tonic UK, 1997

V and X noun in carnival usage, a five-and-ten cent store US, 1981

Van Gogh noun a trucker operating with a citizens' band radio. A trucker without a citizens' band radio is said to be driving 'without ears', and hence the artistic allusion US, 1976

Vangroovy noun Vancouver, British Columbia CANADA, 2002 vanilla adjective 1 white-skinned, Caucasian. Originally black usage, now widespread US, 1994. 2 ordinary, simple, basic. Derives from the plainest ice-cream variety US, 1977. 3 of sex, conventional; of homosexual sex, gentle, traditional, emotional US, 1984. 4 used of pornography, relatively high-brow, designed for couples and first-time viewers US, 2000 vanilla fudge noun a judge. Rhyming slang UK, 2004

Vanity Fair noun a chair. Rhyming slang, formed from the title of Thackeray's novel UK, 1961

Vanna noun used as a term of address between homosexual males. From Vanna White, of television game show fame US, 1990

Vanouever noun any vacuum cleaner. Rhyming slang for HOOVER UK, 1992

vap verb when throwing dice, to snap your fingers BARBADOS, 1965

vap; vaps noun an impulse; a sudden urge TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1957 vapour lock noun a temporary loss of common sense or memory. An allusion to a mechanical problem with the carburettor of an internal combustion engine US, 1996 vapourware noun in computing, a program that is announced well before it is completed and released US, 1991 varda d'amour noun the look of love. A combination of polari and French UK, 1992 varder; varda noun a look. Polari UK, 1996 vardo noun in gypsy or traveller use, a trailer, a wagon, a caravan UK, 1934 varicose alley noun the platform that extends from a stage used by strippers out into the audience US, 1945 varicose vein noun a baby; a child. Glasgow rhyming slang on Scottish dialect wean (pronounced 'wayne') UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 vark noun used as a term of abuse, especially applied to a police officer. A contemptuous term, from Afrikaans vark (pig) SOUTH AFRICA, 1975 varnish noun on the railways, a passenger train US, 1946 varnish verb ► varnish the cane (from the male perspective) to have sex US, 1968

vasso noun vaseline AUSTRALIA, 1998

VAT noun vodka and tonic. Initialism, punning on value added tax; made popular by 1980s television series Minder UK, 1994

Vatican roulette noun birth control by the rhythm method US, 1979 vato; bato noun a guy. Border Spanish used in English conversation by Mexican-Americans US, 1950 vato loco; bato loco noun a wild guy US, 1965 vault noun a hotel baggage checkroom US, 1954 va va voom noun style; a powerful or seductive style. Used as a song title by Cinerama 'Va Va Voom', 1998, and as an advertising strap line for Renault's Clio™ (2001+) US, 1996

VC noun the Viet Cong; a member of the Viet Cong US, 1966 ▷ see: VICTORIA CROSS

V-card noun a person's virginity US, 2001

VCR noun a vicious campus rumour US, 1966

VD bonnet noun a condom. A reference to the prevention of venereal disease US, 1972

V-Dub; Vee-Dub noun a Volkswagen motor vehicle. Shortening of vee double-u, that is, Volkswagen AUSTRALIA, 1970

veal cutlet noun in gambling cheating schemes, a victim US, 1962

veal of the sea noun the green sea turtle BAHAMAS, 1982 veddy adverb very. A jocular pronunciation, approximating a child's, or an American's (attempting a 'British' accent), rendering of 'very' UK, 1859 vee noun sex involving three people, two of whom are focused on the pleasure of the third US, 1995 veeblefetzter noun a corporate manager. Not a term of endearment US, 1997 vee dub noun a completely depilated female pubis. Also as a verb and, thus, an adjectival participle. From a similarity in shape and finish to the bonnet of a Volkswagen Beetle US, 2003 veep noun a vice president US, 1949 ▷ see: VIP vee wee noun a Volkswagen motor vehicle UK, 1984 veg noun vegetables UK, 1898

Vegemite-driller noun a male homosexual AUSTRALIA, 1985

Vegemite valley noun the anus and rectal passage. Use is often suggestive of homosexual activity. Vegemite™ is a dark brown foodstuff AUSTRALIA, 2003 vegetable noun 1 a person who is mentally and physically incapacitated to a degree that renders the comparison with a plant organism fair if cruel UK, 1921. 2 a person with an inactive, undemanding lifestyle. A derogatory use arising from the semi-conventional medical sense above UK, 2001 vegetable garden noun a group of neurologically depressed hospital patients US, 1978 vegetation noun relaxation US, 1986 vegged out adjective relaxed and inactive US, 2001 veggie noun 1 a vegetable US, 1955. 2 a vegetarian. The variant spelling 'vegy' is also used UK, 1975 vegie adjective of school subjects, of the easiest grade AUSTRALIA, 1992

vego noun a vegetarian AUSTRALIA, 1996

vego adjective vegetarian AUSTRALIA, 1988

veg out verb to relax and do nothing US, 1995 veins noun ► get veins in bodybuilding, to achieve definition, or well-developed and sculpted muscles US, 1984 velcro noun a lesbian. Figurative use of Velcro™, from the French velours croché (hooked velvet), a branded material fastener UK, 2000 velvet noun 1 gambling winnings US, 1974. 2 a passenger train carriage US, 1977. ► on velvet in good shape US, 1997 velvet fog nickname singer Mel Tormé (1925–99) US, 2000 vendor noun a juke box US, 1965 vendor's noun a commercial bottled beer, even when obtained from a bootlegger CANADA, 1999 vengeance noun ► with a vengeance to a great degree, very much UK, 1568 vent verb to express frustrations in larger-than-life dimensions. What an earlier generation would have called 'let off some steam' US, 1996 vent; vent act noun a ventriloquist UK, 1893. ► take it to the vent to commit suicide US, 1989 ventilate verb to shoot someone. From the image of bullet holes ventilating the body US, 1947. ► ventilate the block in hot rodding and drag racing, to blow a rod out through the engine US, 1960s ventilator noun a machine gun US, 1962

Vera Lynn; Vera noun 1 gin. Rhyming slang, based on the name of singer Vera Lynn (b.1917) known from World War 2 as 'the forces' sweetheart' UK, 1952. 2 a cigarette paper. Rhyming slang for SKIN (a cigarette paper) UK, 1992 verandah over the toy shop noun a paunch or beer-belly AUSTRALIA, 1987

vera vice; victoria vice; veras noun the police vice squad. A CAMP elaboration UK, 1996 verbal; verbals noun 1 a conversation, a talk UK, 1997. 2 a verbal statement given to the police, often self-incriminatory UK, 1963 verbal; verbal up verb to fake a confession of criminal guilt UK, 1979 verbal diarrhoea noun unwarranted verbosity UK, 1823 verballing noun the act of faking a criminal confession UK, 1974 vergla noun freezing rain. The word is borrowed, modified but pronounced fairly correctly, from the French verglas, which means the same thing CANADA, 2002

Veronica Lake noun steak. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the US film actress, 1919–73 UK, 1992 verrry in-ter-est-ing; very interesting, but stupid used as a humorous comment on a remark or event; used for humorously dismissing what has just been said. A signature line on Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In (NBC, 1968–73), uttered by Arte Johnson while playing a wacky Nazi soldier. Repeated with referential humour US, 1969 versatile adjective bisexual UK, 2002 versing preposition ► be versing to compete against. A corruption of the preposition 'versus', almost always heard in the progressive form US, 1984 versioning noun a technique in hip-hop music of blending different periods and styles of recorded music US, 2000

vert noun in skateboarding, an almost vertical ramp UK, 2003 vertical bacon sandwich noun the vagina. From the resemblance UK, 2002 vertical jockey noun an elevator operator US, 1953 very adjective excellent US, 1989 very adverb very much, absolutely UK, 2002 very à la adjective absolutely in fashion. Generally contemptuous, disparaging or ironic in tone UK, 1984 vest noun a show-off US, 1965 vestibules noun the testicles UK, 2003 vestige noun a brassiere. Recorded as a contemporary gay usage UK, 2003 vest out verb to retire from police service after vesting in the pension plan with 15 years of service. New York police slang US, 1997 vet noun 1 an ex-member of the military US, 1848. 2 a prison doctor SOUTH AFRICA, 1974 veterano noun an experienced, respected gang member. Spanish used by English-speakers US, 1975 veterinarian noun a physician who regards his patients as of animal intelligence US, 1978

Vette noun a Corvette car US, 1994 vex verb to engage someone in an abusive verbal attack UK, 2001

VG adjective very good. Abbreviation UK, 1982

V girl noun a woman who is attracted to men in military uniform US, 1960

Viaggy noun a Viagra™ tablet UK, 2002 vibe verb to create and enjoy a good atmosphere UK, 2001 vibe; vibes noun the atmosphere generated by any event; mood; nuances intimately related to all senses. An abbreviation of 'vibration', which has the same meaning US, 1960

vibed up adjective excited; in the mood UK, 1983 vibe off verb to take inspiration from someone or something UK, 1999 vibe out verb to intimidate someone UK, 1983 vibes noun a vibraphone UK, 1940 vibey adjective fashionably atmospheric; in tune with the zeitgeist. From the 1990s; a positive sense of VIBE (the atmosphere of an event) UK, 1999 vibrations noun the atmosphere generated by any event; mood; nuances intimately related to all senses US, 1966

vibrator noun a motorcycle US, 1962 vic noun 1 a victim US, 1968. 2 a sucker or an easy target for crime US, 1969

Vic nickname Victoria, a southern state of Australia AUSTRALIA, 1902

Vicar of Bray noun 1 a tray. Rhyming slang, formed from a C18 song UK, 1960. 2 the number three; three. Rhyming slang for TREY UK, 1960 vice noun a police vice squad. Usually used with 'the' UK, 1966 vice president noun in poker, the player with the second best hand US, 1988 vice versa noun reciprocal oral sex between two lesbians. The earliest known lesbian periodical in the US (1947) was named Vice Versa US, 1963 vicey adjective sinful; depraved TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1993 vicious adjective handsome US, 1982 vick verb to steal. Probably an evolution from 'victim' US, 1993

Vicky noun a Ford Victoria sedan, first built in the 1930s and then revived in the 1950s US, 1965 vicky; vick noun a two-fingered gesture that is used to insult or otherwise cause offence. Glasgow slang; the forefinger and the middle finger are extended to form a V shape, with the palm turned in towards the gesturer UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 vicky-verky vice-versa. Used as a song title by Squeeze, 1981 UK, 1961

Victor Charlie nickname the Viet Cong US, 1966

Victoria noun used of a person otherwise described as nouveau riche. After singer and footballer's wife Victoria Beckham (b.1975); recorded as a contemporary gay usage UK, 2003

Victoria Cross; VC noun something of little or no value. Rhyming slang for toss, formed from the highest military honour for valour UK, 1992

Victoria Monk noun semen. Rhyming slang for SPUNK, after the music hall singer, best remembered for 'Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?', Victoria Monks, 1884–1972 UK, 1960

Victory V noun 1 urine; an act of urination. Rhyming slang for PEE or WEE, formed from the Churchillian gesture or Victory V branded medicinal-confectionery UK, 1998. 2 a Triumph car. Citizens' band radio slang; 'victory' as a synonym for 'triumph' UK, 1981 vid noun 1 a video cassette, a video recording UK, 2000. 2 a music video US, 1985 video-nasty noun an exceptionally unpleasant horror film, available on video UK, 1982 vidrio noun heroin. The Spanish for GLASS (heroin) UK, 2003

Viet noun a Vietnamese person US, 1966

Vietnam rose noun any sexually transmitted infection AUSTRALIA, 1988

Viet shits noun diarrhoea US, 1991

vig noun 1 interest owed on an illegal loan. A shortened form of VIGORISH US, 1990. 2 profit. Freely adapted from VIGORISH (interest on a loan) UK, 2001 vigorish noun the interest owed on an illegal loan. Yiddish slang from the Russian vygrysh (winnings-out-to-pay) US, 1966 vikes noun the prescription drug Vicodin™ US, 1996

Viking queen noun in homosexual usage, a muscular, blonde man US, 1987 vill noun a village or town. Found in the poetry of the early C18, but not particularly thereafter until the war in Vietnam US, 1976 village noun a notional community of racecourse bookmakers UK, 1991

Village noun ► the Village Greenwich Village, New York, a small neighbourhood below 14th Street and west of Broadway, haven to Bohemians US, 1952 village adjective unsophisticated, out of touch with trends US, 2002 village bike noun 1 a promiscuous woman. As with the TOWN BIKE, 'everyone has ridden her' UK, 1995. 2 a lesbian. Rhyming slang for DYKE UK, 2003 village pump noun a girl who is free and easy sexually CANADA, 1992 village ram noun a sexually aggressive male TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1964 villain noun a professional criminal; someone with a criminal record UK, 1945

Ville noun ► the Ville Pentonville prison, London UK, 1903

-ville suffix used for making or emphasising an adjective; used in combination with a characteristic to describe a place or a condition. Modern usage began with the US beats and travelled back to the UK. By the mid-1970s the US form was presumed obsolete having been replaced by '-city'. It survives in the UK without obvious irony US, 1891

Vincent nickname the Viet Cong; a member of the Viet Cong US, 1965

Vincent Price; vincent noun ice. Rhyming slang, formed from the US actor, 1911–93, particularly famed for his roles in horror films UK, 1992

Vincent Van Gogh; vincent noun a cough. Rhyming slang, based on the predominant UK pronunciation of impressionist artist Vincent Van Gogh (1853–90) UK, 2002 vine noun 1 a men's suit; clothing US, 1932. 2 the penis US, 1972 vine down verb to dress up US, 1969 vinegar stroke; vinegar noun the final penile thrust culminating in ejaculation when copulating or masturbating. Alluding to the facial expression of the male. Also, in the plural, 'the final thrusts preceding ejaculation'. UK comedian Phill Jupitus, who uses this term to describe the closing moments of his act, explains: 'Just before a bloke comes he looks like you've popped a teaspoon of vinegar into his mouth' AUSTRALIA, 1961 viney bones noun rubber bands. Used by motorcyclists. Douglas Dunford, of the Beaulieu Motor Museum, gives the following etymology: 'Originated with the famous [motorcycle] trials rider Hugh Viney of the '30s who used to cut up old inner-tubes and supply his mates with bands to fix their riding numbers.' UK, 1984

Vinnies; St Vinnies nickname a St Vincent de Paul charity store AUSTRALIA, 1970 vino noun 1 wine, especially cheap wine. From Spanish and Italian VINO (wine) AUSTRALIA, 1919. 2 a drinker of doctored cheap wine UK, 1966 vinyl noun used generically for musical recordings produced on such material UK, 1976 violet noun ► come up smelling of violets to emerge unscathed from a difficult or troublesome situation, used especially of someone who is consistently and remarkably lucky. Probably somewhat dated by the time it was recorded. The form survives as 'come up smelling of roses' UK, 1981 violin cases noun large, heavy shoes US, 1946 vip; veep noun a very important person US, 1945 viper noun 1 a marijuana dealer US, 1958. 2 a marijuana user. A term of the 1930s with some lingering use until the 1960s US, 1938 viper's weed; viper's drag noun marijuana; a marijuana cigarette US, 1938

VIP massage noun a sexual service offered in some massage parlours, in which a hand-massage includes masturbation of the client UK, 2003

VIP services noun sexual intercourse, as distinct from masturbation, when advertised as a service offered by a prostitute UK, 2003 virtual marketing noun word-of-mouth as a deliberate marketing tactic US, 2000 virgin noun 1 a person who has not contracted a sexually transmitted infection US, 1947. 2 a letter which has not been postmarked US, 1977 virgin adjective used of a green on a par-3 hole, untouched by any ball of a foursome US, 2000 virgin bride; virgin noun a ride, especially in the sense an act of sexual intercourse. Rhyming slang, now rare AUSTRALIA, 1902 virgin ears noun used, usually in the first person, for a claim of innocence in matters sexual US, 1970

Virgin for short – but not for long applied to girls named Virginia. Part-catchphrase, part-nickname; often irresistible, always hilarious UK, 1984 virginia noun the vagina BAHAMAS, 1982

Virginia vitamin noun any central nervous system stimulant US, 1977

virginity curtain noun a canvas screen secured to the underside of a warship's accommodation to preserve the modesty of those who go up and down the gangway from those who look up. Similar in purpose and design to a CUNT SCREEN UK, 1969

Virgin Mary noun a non-alcoholic version of the Bloody Mary, made with tomato juice, horseradish, Worcestershire and/or Tabasco sauce, celery, salt and black pepper; unadulterated tomato juice. A tasty pun, using 'virgin' as 'non-alcoholic' US, 1993 virgin pie noun cherry pie US, 1952 virgin principle noun the belief among gamblers that a beginner will have good luck US, 1993 virgin state noun the period when a person has started using an addictive drug but is not yet fully addicted US, 1970 virtual Friday noun the last day in a working week shortened by a holiday at the end of the week US, 1991 virus noun 1 HIV, the human immunodeficiency virus US, 1992. 2 in computing, a program that duplicates itself maliciously when it finds a host, often with a mechanism that enables it then to spread to new hosts US, 1990 visit verb ► to visit Aunt Lillian to experience the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1968 visitations noun ► the visitations the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999 visit from the cardinal noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. Playing on the colour of a cardinal's robes US, 2000 visit from the French lady noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. Euphemism, credited to Stella Tilyard, Aristocrats, 1994 US, 1994 visiting card noun an act of defecation at the scene of the crime by the criminal US, 1945 visitor noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1949 visuals noun hallucinations experienced under the influence of psychoactive mushrooms or peyote US, 1992 vitamin A noun LSD. From the common term ACID US, 1997

vitamin B noun beer US, 1990

vitamin C noun cocaine US, 1984 vitamin D noun dextromethorphan (DXM), an active ingredient in non-prescription cold and cough medication, often abused for non-medical purposes US, 2003 vitamin DB noun Dominion Breweries draught bitter NEW ZEALAND, 1998

vitamin E noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. An elaboration of E UK, 1998 vitamin H noun haloperidol, a potent tranquillizer US, 1989 vitamin K; vit K noun ketamine hydrochloride, an anaesthetic used as a hallucinogen US, 1989 vitamin M noun Motrin™ US, 1994

vitamin N noun nicotine; a cigarette US, 2004 vitamin P noun 1 sex. 'P' is for PUSSY US, 1989. 2 the game of poker US, 1996

vitamin Q noun the recreational drug methaqualone, best known as Quaalude™ US, 1982 vitamins noun 1 drugs in tablet or capsule form UK, 1996. 2 any central nervous system stimulant US, 1977

vitamin T noun marijuana US, 1997

vitamin V noun valium US, 1994

vittles noun food. An American corruption of the C14 'victual' US, 1946

vizzo noun in prison, a visit UK, 1996

VJ; veejay noun a video jockey, a television presenter of music videos; a visual artist who mixes lights and images in a club environment. Initialism, on the model of DJ US, 1982

VO noun a beautiful woman. An abbreviation of 'visual orgasm' US, 1997 voce; votch; voche noun the voice, especially a singing voice; a singer. Theatrical, polari; from Italian voce UK, 1989

vod noun vodka US, 1986

vodders noun vodka UK, 2002

voddie; voddy noun vodka UK, 1988

vodka acid noun LSD UK, 2003 vogue noun 1 a posture that implies, or is part of, a fashion-style US, 2003. 2 a cigarette. Polari UK, 1992. 3 a wheel rim US, 2001 vogue verb 1 to engage in a style competition that values posturing US, 1995. 2 to light a cigarette. From VOGUE (a cigarette) UK, 1993 voice verb to telephone US, 1991 vol noun in prison, a volunteer UK, 1996 volcano noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle CANADA, 2001

Volks noun a Volkswagen car US, 1964

Volkie noun a Volkswagen car, especially the 'Beetle' SOUTH AFRICA, 1962 volley noun an abusive verbal attack UK, 1996 volley verb to hit someone. Tennis jargon, 'volley' (to strike a ball before it bounces) adopted for a less sporting use UK, 1999 volley dolly noun a woman attracted to male volleyball players US, 1990 volley off verb to engage in an abusive verbal attack UK, 2001 vom verb to vomit CANADA, 1993 vomatose adjective extremely disgusting US, 1983 vomit comet noun 1 any late-night public transport used by drunken passengers. From the probable outcome of movement and alcohol UK, 2003. 2 the modified KC-135A reduced-gravity aircraft. The aircraft flies parabolas in order to investigate the effects of zero gravity; passengers are often sick to their stomachs US, 1999 vomiting viper noun the penis UK, 1984

vonce noun 1 marijuana US, 1960. 2 the butt of a marijuana cigarette US, 1965

vonka noun the nose UK, 2002

Von Trapp noun excrement; nonsense, rubbish. Rhyming slang for CRAP, formed from the family whose story is told in The Sound of Music UK, 2003 vote verb to propose something that you want UK, 1814 voyou noun in Quebec, a hoodlum, or more specifically a striker who commits vandalism against the company. The French word here used in English carries the sense of 'outside the law' CANADA, 2002

VP noun a sex offender. An initialism of 'vulnerable prisoner' UK, 1996

VPL a visible panty line, the most heinous of fashion crimes. Popularised by Paul Simon in Woody Allen's Annie Hall US, 1967

VRB noun vodka and Red Bull™. Initialism for a popular cocktail (Red Bull is a brand name 'energy' drink) UK, 2001

vroom verb to leave noisily US, 1967

vrot adjective rotten; hence, drunk. From Afrikaans SOUTH AFRICA, 1910

VS noun an injection of drugs into a vein. Initialism of a 'vein SHOT' US, 1938

V-sign noun a gesture that is used to insult or otherwise cause offence, especially when made in conjunction with threatening or abusive language, e.g. 'fuck off!' or 'up yours!' with which the sign may be considered synonymous. The forefinger and the middle finger are extended to form a V shape, the palm turned in towards the gesturer; as an obscene gesture it is confined almost entirely to the UK. There is a legend that French archers, when captured by the British at the Battle of Agincourt (1415), had their middle and forefingers – those necessary to draw the bowstring – chopped off. The Welsh bowmen are said to have wagged their two fingers, taunting the French. The earliest written description of a v-sign as both threat and insult is French: '[Pangurge]

stretched out the forefinger, and middle finger or medical of his right hand, holding them asunder as much as he could, and thrusting them towards Thaumast' (François Rabelais, 1532). Further derivations abound: 1) Farmer and Henley's Slang and its Analogues (1890) suggests a representation of cuckold's horns, however this is traditionally made with the first and fourth fingers. 2) Symbolic of the phallus; the raised middle finger (FLIP THE BIRD) has been known since Roman times and, it is suggested, the v-sign enlarges the penis or doubles the quotient, or disguises the single finger insult. 3) The fingers represent themselves inserted in the vagina – though why this should be insulting is not explained. 4) Symbolic of female legs or labia spread wide; or represents the triangular shape of female pubic hair. 5) A corrupted victory sign – however the Churchillian symbol is first recorded in 1941, contrived by a Belgian Lawyer named Victor De Lavelaye. Probably more than one of the above, except 5, is the truth UK, 1948

V spot noun a five-dollar note US, 1949

Vulcan nerve pinch noun when operating a computer, the keyed-combination of the characters Ctrl-Alt-Delete used to restart the machine. A figurative application of a fictional technique used in the television science fiction series, Star Trek US, 2004 vulture noun in trucking, a police plane used for spotting speeders US, 1971

VW noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by VW embossed on the tablet UK, 2002

Ww

W noun a toilet. An abbreviation of the common WC NEW ZEALAND, 1916

W noun 1 a police warrant for search or arrest UK, 1956. 2 in sports, a win US, 1970 wac; wack noun 1 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1981. 2 marijuana mixed with phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust UK, 1998 wack adjective inferior, unacceptable, very bad US, 1984 wacked adjective 1 excited US, 1959. 2 beyond repair. Extends WACK (inferior) UK, 1997 wacked out adjective crazy, eccentric, mad US, 1968

wacked up adjective crazy, odd, irrational US, 1947 wackelass noun a cat that is a troublesome, clumsy creature CANADA, 1999 wacker; wack; whacker noun used as a term of address to a man. Liverpudlian UK, 1768 wacker adjective worse. From WACK (bad) US, 1999 wackie; wacky noun a stereotypical member of the working-class; a conformist. Teen slang UK, 1982

wack job; whack job noun a person who is mentally ill US, 1979 wacko; whacko adjective a person who is crazy, eccentric or mentally imbalanced US, 1977

wackoid adjective odd, eccentric UK, 1999

wacktic adjective very bad UK, 1983

wacky adjective odd, eccentric, crazy US, 1935 wacky baccy; wacky backy noun marijuana. From WACKY as 'eccentric'. Many variants exist, including 'whacky baccy/backy', 'whackatabachy', 'wacky tobaccy/tobacky' and 'whacky weed' US, 1975 wacky for khaki adjective infatuated with men in military uniform US, 1967 wac-wac noun phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1995 wad noun 1 the semen ejaculated at orgasm. From 'wad' (a large quantity) US, 1969. 2 expectorated sputum US, 1989. 3 a rag saturated with glue or any volatile solvent that is inhaled for the intoxicating effect US, 1970. 4 a sandwich; a bun; a cake UK, 1919. 5 a roll of money, a great deal of money US, 1951 wad verb (of a male) to reach orgasm. After WAD (semen) UK, 2003 wad cutter noun a flat-nosed bullet US, 1962 wadded adjective well-off, rich. From WAD (a great deal of money) UK, 2002 waddy noun a club; a hefty piece of wood suitable for a club. From the name of an Australian Aboriginal weapon in the extinct language Dharug, Sydney region AUSTRALIA, 1809 waders noun shoes US, 1945

wadge noun ► see: WODGE wafer noun 1 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. If dance is seen as a new religion, then MDMA is as important a part of the ritual as the wafer is in conventional church rites UK, 2003. 2 a cigarette paper UK, 1996 waffle noun 1 nonsense; incessant or unfocused talk UK, 1900. 2 in trucking, a non-skid tyre US, 1971

Waffle noun a movement in Canada's New Democratic Party to change somewhat its left-wing policies CANADA, 2001 waffle verb 1 to vacillate; to take both sides of an issue UK, 1803. 2 to talk nonsense; to talk incessantly or in an unfocused way UK, 1937

waffy adjective comfortable. Hip-hop, urban slang. A compound of 'warm' and 'fluffy' noted in connection with a legal dispute over rap lyrics by BBC News, 6th June 2003 US, 2003 wag noun a social outcast, especially a non-surfer US, 1991

WAG noun 1 the female partner of a footballer, especially an England team player. WAGs, the acronym for wives and girlfriends, was applied to the players' partners during the 2006 World Cup. The collective usage was soon individualised UK, 2006. 2 Welsh Assembly Government. Initialism UK: WALES, 1999 wag verb to play truant UK, 1848. ► wag wienie; wag your wienie to commit indecent exposure of the male masturbatory variety US, 1984 wage slave noun anyone reliant on the income generated by regular employment UK, 1964 waggle verb in pool, to make practice shots before actually hitting the cue ball US, 1993 wagon noun 1 a woman, especially a pushy one, or one capable of invective IRELAND, 2003. 2 abstention from drug use. Extending the previous sense UK, 1997. 3 an old, worn-out, beat-up car US, 1959. ► on the wagon abstaining from drinking alcohol US, 1906 wagon burner noun a native American Indian. Offensive US, 1995 wagon-chasing adjective used of a lawyer, unscrupulous, inclined to solicit business from those in trouble with the law US, 1953 wagons ho! used as a humorous signal that a venture is about to begin. From cowboy films US, 1994 wagon-spotter noun a trainspotter who specialises in 'collecting' freight wagons UK, 2003 wagwon? 'what's going on?'. Either directly from, or in imitation of, West Indian speech UK, 2003 wahey! used for registering a feeling of exuberance UK, 2003 wahini noun a female surfer. From the Hawaiian US, 1963 wail verb 1 in jazz, to perform with great feeling US, 1955. 2 in pinball, to score a large number of points in a short period of time US, 1977. ► wail down the place to dance with enthusiasm that borders on vulgarity TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1990

wailer noun in drag racing, a very fast car US, 1970 wailing adjective exciting US, 1965

Waiouru blonde noun a Maori woman. Waiouru is a remote North Island military base NEW ZEALAND, 1997 waist noun ► make waist to make pelvic thrusts and gyrations during sex TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 wait-a-minute vine; wait-a-minute bush noun a heavy, thorny vine found in the jungles of Vietnam. When it snagged you, you had to wait a minute to disentangle yourself US, 1976 wait and linger noun the finger. Rhyming slang, applied only in an anatomical sense UK, 1992 waiter's delight noun in poker, a hand consisting of three threes and a pair. A 'three' is a TREY, the hand is conventionally known as a 'full house', hence 'treys full', the waiter pun US, 1988 waiting room noun in surfing, the area beyond the breakers where surfers wait to catch waves ISRAEL, 1977

wait up! 'wait for me!' US, 1944 wake; wake up verb to become aware of something AUSTRALIA, 1910

'wake; wake up' verb ► wake your ideas up to concentrate; to use your wits. Often as an imperative UK, 1961. ► wouldn't wake if... to be generally unaware of what's what AUSTRALIA, 1961 wake and bake; wake-n-bake verb to smoke marijuana as one of the first acts of the day US, 1997

waker-upper noun a heroin addict's first injection of the morning US, 1982 wake-up noun 1 the day's first dose of a drug taken by an addict US, 1954. 2 any amphetamine or central nervous system stimulant US, 1972. 3 a short time remaining on a jail sentence or term of military service, especially the last morning US, 1950 wake up verb 1 to make someone aware; to inform someone AUSTRALIA, 1859. 2 to become aware that you are being swindled US, 1969. 3 in horse racing, to stimulate a horse illegally by electric shock or drugs US, 1947 wake-up adjective used of an addictive substance taken upon waking up US, 1981 wake-up pill noun an amphetamine or other central nervous system stimulant US, 1979 wake you verb to make you aware of something US, 1953 wakey-wakey noun a wake-up call. Adapted from the exclamation, 'wakey, wakey!' UK, 2001 wakey, wakey! 'wake up!'. Probably of military origin; widespread once adopted as the catchphrase of bandleader Billy Cotton (1899–1969) in his 1949–68 BBC radio Sunday lunchtime variety programme, The Billy Cotton Bandshow UK, 1959 wakey, wakey, eggs and bakey! used for calling someone from sleep to breakfast. Used with great comic effect by Quentin Tarantino in Kill Bill Volume 2 (2004) as Bill's brother Budd awakens The Bride to bury her alive US, 2000

wakey, wakey, hands off snakie! used for humorously waking up a male AUSTRALIA, 1985

Waldorf-Astoria noun an especially spartan solitary confinement cell US, 1976 walk noun 1 a release from jail US, 1965. 2 during the Vietnam war, a 30-day patrol in which contact with the enemy is expected US, 1991 walk verb 1 to win something easily UK, 1903. 2 to escape unpunished US, 1979. 3 to quit a job or commitment US, 1999. 4 (of objects) to disappear, presumed borrowed or stolen UK, 1898. 5 to move a boat sideways US, 1989. 6 (used of a military aviator) to suit up for battle. From the vocabulary of fighter pilots US, 2001. ► walk a cat back to trace a missile back to its launch site. Gulf war usage US, 1991.

► walk back the cat to reconstruct events in order to understand what went wrong US, 1997. ► walk in tall corn to make a great deal of money US, 1997. ► walk out on to abandon someone or something. Of theatrical origin UK, 1937. ► walk the dog 1 while surfing, to move frontwards and backwards on the surfboard to affect its speed US, 1987. 2 on the railways, to operate a freight train at such a high speed that the wagons sway US, 1977. ► walk the nose while surfing, to advance to the front of the board US, 1962. ► walk the plank to move forward on a surfboard, increasing the speed of the ride AUSTRALIA, 1963. ► walk the twelve steps to go to court CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985. ► walk the walk of the trollop to convey sexuality while walking. Another catchphrase from the 'Wayne's World' sketch on Saturday Night Live US, 1991. ► walk the walk; walk the walk and talk the talk to be (or behave as if) totally familiar with, and a part of, a given circumstance UK, 2004. ► walk the yard to methodically walk in a prison open space US, 1981. ► walk with your Lucy to inject a drug US, 1981. ► walk your dog to use the toilet US, 1968

walkabout; walk-about noun a journey on foot taken by an Aboriginal, especially when withdrawing from white society for a period AUSTRALIA, 1910. ► go walkabout 1 (of an aboriginal) to go on a walkabout AUSTRALIA, 1927. 2 (of a person) to go off somewhere else AUSTRALIA, 1969. 3 (of an important person) to make an informal tour on foot. Variants include 'do a walkabout' UK, 1984

walkaway noun 1 a type of theft in which the thief walks away with a suitcase in a public place, leaving behind his suitcase as an alibi if apprehended US, 1954. 2 the final step in a confidence swindle, in which the swindlers walk away with the victim's money US, 1981 walk-back noun an apartment in the rear of a building US, 1970 walkboards noun a platform outside a carnival show or attraction US, 1966 walk-buddy noun in prison, a close friend and steady companion US, 1976 walker noun 1 a prisoner who constantly paces in his cell US, 1984. 2 a striptease dancer who disrobes while walking US, 1981. 3 in dominoes, the highest piece of its suit that is not a double and has been played US, 1964 walkers noun the legs US, 1992

walkie noun a close and dependable friend. A term that suggests 'talkie', which in turn suggests friendship US, 1991 walkies noun a walk with a small child or a dog. A childish or jocular term addressed to, and understood by, that child or dog US, 1923

walkie-talkie noun 1 an able-bodied person (from the perspective of a disabled person) UK, 2003. 2 a portable two-way radio US, 1939. 3 a prisoner who associates with guards US, 1992 walk-in noun a thief who steals from unlocked hotel rooms US, 1954 walking adjective used of an order for food at a restaurant, to be taken from the restaurant US, 1952 walking crab noun in electric line work, a lever lift US, 1980 walking disaster area noun an especially inept or accident-prone person UK, 1984 walking man's special noun in the used car business, a run-down car that is not much to look at but still runs, in a fashion US, 1993 walking money noun in gambling, a small amount of money given by the house or other players to someone who has just lost all of his money US, 1961 walking tree noun in a criminal enterprise, a watchman or lookout US, 1956 walking writer noun in an illegal numbers gambling lottery, a person who collects and records bets US, 1949 walk in the park noun an easy thing to do UK, 1998 walk in the sun noun a combat march without a significant chance of engaging the enemy US, 1991 walk of fame noun the walk home or to work after spending the night with a beautiful and popular woman US, 2001 walk of shame noun the walk home or to work after spending the night with a date, still wearing yesterday's clothes US, 2002 walk-on noun in sports, an athlete who gets chosen for a team having appeared at practice unsolicited and unexpected US, 1978 walkover noun in horse racing, a race in which all but one of the entries are withdrawn. The lone horse starting the race can win the purse simply by walking the distance of the race US, 1965 walk-up noun a brothel US, 1950 wall noun ► behind the wall imprisoned US, 1989. ► go over the wall to escape from prison US, 1934. ► go to the wall to lose money in stock investments US, 1988. ► off the wall in auction fraud, where non-existent bids are said to come from UK, 2003.

► the wall a maximum security prison US, 2002. ► up the wall crazy; crazed by circumstances; angry UK, 1951 wall verb to lean against the wall at a party or other social gathering US, 1997 wallaby noun ► on the wallaby wandering around. Originally 'Tramping the outback in search of work (as though following the track made by wallabies)', G.A. Wilkes, A Dictionary of Australian Colloquialisms, 1978 AUSTRALIA, 1961

Wallace and Gromit; wallace verb to vomit. Rhyming slang, based on Oscar-winning (1990) animated characters UK, 1998

Wallace Beery; wallace noun in a betting shop, a dispute over the sum due. Rhyming slang for 'query', formed from the name of the US film actor (1885–1949) UK, 1998 wallah; walla noun 1 a man identified by relation to the activity, occupation or philosophy to which it is properly affixed. Adopted directly by Anglo-Indians, hence military, from Hindu wālā ('a person connected in some way with the thing expressed in the first word', George Clifford Whitworth, An Anglo-Indian Dictionary, 1885) INDIA, 1785. 2 in the television and film industries, indistinguishable background voices US, 1990 wallbanger noun a person whose impairment with central nervous system depressants has produced a marked lack of coordination US, 1977 wallet noun 1 a person who finances a (criminal) project UK, 2003. 2 a generous person US, 1997 wallet lane noun the passing lane of a motorway. Trucker use, with a reference to a 'wallet' because of the likelihood of having to pay a ticket if caught using the passing lane US, 1977

walleyed adjective drunk US, 1992 wallflower week noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1954 wallie noun in skateboarding, any jumping manoeuvre performed from a wall. A combination of 'wall' and OLLY; OLLIE (a jumping manoeuvre) UK, 2004 ▶ see: WALLY wallies noun nothing, zero UK, 2000 wallin' noun the act or habit of sitting or standing against a wall at a party. Teen slang UK, 2003 wall job noun sex with one of the participants standing against a wall US, 2001 wallop noun 1 a heavy blow UK, 1823. 2 an attempt, a go. A pun on BASH (a try) UK, 2001. 3 the strength to deliver a heavy blow. Boxing slang UK, 1914. 4 beer UK, 1933 wallop verb 1 to hit someone UK, 1825. 2 to get the better of someone. A figurative application of the previous sense UK, 1865. 3 to dance UK, 1992 walloped adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated UK, 2002 walloper noun 1 the penis UK: SCOTLAND, 2002. 2 a male who masturbates to excess NEW ZEALAND, 1998. 3 a police officer AUSTRALIA, 1945. 4 a dancer, especially a professional dancer. Theatrical slang UK, 1937

wallopies noun large female breasts US, 1975

walloping noun a beating, a thrashing; a win by a more than convincing margin UK, 1871 walloping adjective large, great UK, 1847 wallops noun choreography. From WALLOP (to dance) UK, 1992 wallpaper noun 1 a background pattern or photograph for a computer display screen US, 1991. 2 counterfeit money US, 1949. 3 a postcard acknowledging receipt of a citizens' band or ham radio message US, 1976

wall-stretcher noun an imaginary tool for which a building trades apprentice may be sent to fetch UK, 1961 wall ticket noun in Keno, a big win. Casinos often post large winning tickets on the wall of the Keno lounge as an enticement to bettors US, 1987 wall time noun the time as shown on wall clocks, as contrasted with GMT or another common time used on computers ANTARCTICA, 1991 wall-to-wall adjective abundant; appearing everywhere. From wall-to-wall carpets that cover the entire floor UK, 1967 wall-to-waller noun a pornographic film shot in one day on a very low budget US, 2000

Wally ▶ call it Wally to agree that a matter is settled GUYANA, 1962

wally; wallie; wolly noun 1 an unfashionable individual; someone who is innocent, or foolish; a fool. Possibly originates in the name Wally, however Scottish dialect wally-draigle (a feeble, ill-grown person) may well have had an influence UK, 1969. 2 in CID slang, a uniformed police officer, especially a constable; more generally, a trainee or an incompetent police officer. 'Woolly' is also recorded by the Oxford English Dictionary in 1965 UK, 1970

wallyo; wal-yo noun a young man, usually an Italian-American US, 1975

Wally Pipp noun any athlete who misses a game and is thereafter replaced by a better player. On 1st June, 1925, the New York Yankees first baseman Wally Pipp did not play because he was sick; his place was taken by Lou Gehrig, who played for the next 2130 games US, 1967 walnut storage disease noun any unspecified mental problem. A play on NUTTY (crazy) US, 1983 walnut whip; walnut noun 1 sleep. Rhyming slang for KIP, formed on a chocolate confection UK, 1998. 2 a vasectomy. Rhyming slang for THE SNIP UK, 2002

Walter Mitty noun 1 a person who poses as a heroic ex-soldier.

From Walter Mitty, the title character of James Thurber's short story The Secret Life of Walter Mitty (1939) and successful film of the same title starring Danny Kaye (1947) AUSTRALIA, 2002. 2 the female breast. Rhyming slang for TITTY. The short form 'walter' can also be used UK, 2003

Walts noun 14 Int (an undercover intelligence unit of the British Army). Abbreviated from Walter Mitty, the name of a character, created in 1941 by James Thurber, who has become a cultural reference for a person who leads a dual existence UK, 1995 waltz noun intense warfare, be it a fire fight or hand-to-hand combat US, 1991 waltz verb to move in a nonchalant manner US, 1887. ▶ waltz matilda to travel as a swagman. From 'Matilda' (a swag) and 'waltz' (to lead in a waltz), here punning on the female name. Now of course obsolete, except in the well-known Australian song. Most singers are entirely unaware of the literal meaning of the phrase AUSTRALIA, 1893 waltz off verb to leave in a nonchalant or cavalier manner US, 1989

wamper noun a sandal made with pieces of tyre and tied with thatch string CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985 wampum noun money. An imitation of Native American Indian language US, 1950 wampy adjective crazy NEW ZEALAND, 1950 wand noun 1 the penis. The magic stick that you wave in your hand UK, 2001. 2 in pool, a player's cue stick US, 1993 wandering hands brigade noun a male's hands exploring a female's body NEW ZEALAND, 1984

wandwaver noun a male exhibitionist US, 1980

wang; whang noun the penis US, 1935

wangbar noun an electric guitar's tremolo arm US, 1980

wanger noun ▶ see: WHANGER wangle noun a swindle; a convenient arrangement. The successful outcome of the verb WANGLE UK, 1915 wangle verb to arrange something to suit yourself; to contrive or obtain something with sly cunning; to manipulate something. Widely used, especially in the military, as 'wangle a job', 'wangling leave (of absence)', etc UK, 1888

wang-wang noun the penis US, 1980

wank noun 1 an act of masturbation; hence, an act of self-indulgence. An earlier spelling 'whank' has given way to 'wank' UK, 1948. 2 a waste of time UK, 1998. 3 a fool; a despicable person UK, 2002. 4 nonsense; rubbish. As in the expression 'that's a load of old wank' and the exclamation (current in the armed services, especially army, 1960–70s) 'wank! wank!' (pronounced almost as if quacked) greeting any announcement or declaration considered to be rubbish UK, 1979 wank verb 1 to masturbate. The Scots dialect word whank (to beat) was the usual spelling until the 1970s. Also used with 'off' UK, 1950. 2 to party with zeal and a lack of inhibition CANADA, 1993

wank adjective of poor quality; pathetic; self-indulgent UK, 2002

wank about; wank around verb to waste time UK, 2001 wank-bank noun a personal collection of inspirational erotic images. Formed on WANK (an act of masturbation) UK, 2003 wanked-out adjective drained of life UK, 2000

wanker noun 1 a masturbator. The earlier spelling 'whanker' has given way to 'wanker' UK, 1978. 2 a despicable person; an all-purpose form of abuse. From the sense as 'a masturbator'; some commentators suggest late C19 dialect wanker (a simpleton) UK, 1972

wankered adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated, 2001 wanker's doom noun the mythological disease that is the inevitable result of excessive masturbation US, 1977 wanker tank noun a large 4WD vehicle that never gets used for off-road driving AUSTRALIA, 2003

wanking-spanner noun the hand. A masturbatory tool that loosens nuts UK, 1961 wank mag noun a pornographic magazine. Combines WANK (to masturbate) with MAG (a magazine) UK, 1998 wank-off adjective self-indulgent. A figurative application for 'an act of masturbation' UK, 2000 wank-pit; wanking-pit noun a man's (unshared) bed. Military slang, formed on WANK (masturbation) UK, 1961 wank shaft noun 1 the vagina UK, 2001. 2 the penis; also used as a term of abuse. Formed on the word WANK (masturbation) UK, 2003

wank sock noun an item of (men's) footwear used to contain the penis during masturbation UK, 2003 wanksta noun someone, especially a white person, who postures as a gangsta rapper. A derisory play on WANKER (a despised person) US, 2002 wank-stain noun a contemptible person UK, 1997 wank tanks noun the testicles. Celebrating the testicles as no more than a source of semen for masturbation UK, 2002

wank trade noun the pornography industry US, 1997 wankware noun software on compact disc intended for sexual stimulation CANADA, 1995 wanky adjective 1 of poor quality; pathetic. Original printer's use cognisant with WONKY, survives into a modern use which presumes WANK as the inspiration UK, 1890. 2 pretentious AUSTRALIA, 1979 wannabe noun someone who wants to be and pretends to be that which he is not. Deemed potentially offensive by Multicultural Management Program Fellows, Dictionary of Cautionary Words and Phrases, 1989 US, 1980

wanna-bet shirt noun in a rowing competition, a team's shirt which is the object of a wager between competing teams, where the winner claims the opposing team's shirts which are worn as a badge of victory US, 2001

Wanno nickname Wandsworth Prison UK, 2004

wan singer, wan song ▷see: ONE SINGER, ONE SONG want noun a notification that a person is wanted by the police US, 1958 want verb ► want in to wish to enter; to desire to be a part of something. Originally a colloquial term in Scotland, Northern Ireland and the US UK, 1836. ► want out to wish to exit; to desire a complete change of circumstances UK: SCOTLAND, 1870

wap noun ▷see: WASP wappy adjective idealistic, sentimental. Perhaps as a blend of WET (weak, lacking in effectiveness) and SOPPY (foolishly sentimental, naive) UK, 1959 war noun ► go to war to fight US, 2002 war and strife noun a wife. Rhyming slang; a less-used variation of TROUBLE AND STRIFE UK, 1931 warb noun a decrepit, unclean or otherwise disgusting person. Perhaps from 'warble' (a type of maggot) AUSTRALIA, 1933

warby adjective decrepit, unkempt; filthy; disgusting AUSTRALIA, 1923

warchalk verb to chalk icons on walls, etc, to indicate an area where a wireless Internet connection may be made for free. Derived as a back-formation from WARCHALKING UK, 2002

warchalker noun a computer user who chalks icons on walls, etc, to indicate to other computer users an area where a wireless Internet connection may be made for free UK, 2002 warchalking noun the practice of chalking icons on walls, etc, to indicate an area where a wireless Internet connection may be made for free. Coined in June 2002 by Matt Jones, a London-based 'information architect', as a play on 'wardialing' (a computer-directed assault by telephone). 'Warchalking' is based on the system of symbols used by UK tramps and beggars, first recorded in 1849, and developed by US hobos during the Depression. The three basic symbols are ⌘ (open node), ○ (closed node) and (w) (wep [wired equivalent privacy] node) UK, 2002

warden noun 1 a parent US, 1968. 2 a spouse. Usually a spouse of the female persuasion as perceived by the spouse of the male persuasion US, 1976. 3 a school principal US, 1954. 4 a teacher. Teen slang US, 1951. 5 on the railways, the supervisor of a track crew US, 1977 war department noun someone's wife or girlfriend US, 1984 war dialer noun a computer program that dials a given range of telephone connections in order to hack into computer or telecommunications systems US, 1989 warehoused adjective used of a prisoner who is neither educated nor trained during a period of imprisonment but simply contained UK, 1996 warez noun pirated computer software offered over the Internet. A deliberate respelling of 'wares' UK, 2003 warhead noun in cricket, a fast bowler UK, 1996

warlord noun a high-level member of a political organisation US, 1991 warm noun an act of warming; an act of becoming warm. Colloquial UK, 1768 warm adjective good UK, 1996 warm for someone's form adjective sexually attracted to someone US, 1964 warm fuzzies noun the feeling when praised by a superior US, 1986 warm one noun a bullet US, 1998

warmup noun a loose-fitting, athletic warmup suit US, 1999 warm up verb to refill a cup of coffee US, 1996

warn't verb was not; were not US, 1970 warp noun a bent card used by a card cheat to identify the value of the card US, 1996 war paint noun makeup, cosmetics. Originally theatrical US, 1869 warped adjective 1 perverted US, 1993. 2 drug-intoxicated US, 1979. 3 drunk UK, 2002 warp one noun a high speed. Figurative US naval aviator usage US, 1986 warp seven adverb very quickly US, 1992 warrior noun a fearless, violent member of a youth gang US, 1995 warrior bold noun a cold UK, 1961 wars noun ► have been in the wars to show signs of injury, especially the trivial wounds that afflict children UK, 1850 warthog noun a US Air Force attack plane formally known as an A-10 Thunderbolt. Gulf war usage US, 1991 warts and all with all blemishes or imperfections unconcealed UK, 1930 war wagon noun a vehicle carrying weapons on a motorcycle gang outing when trouble is expected US, 1992

Warwick Farm; warwick noun the arm. Rhyming slang, after the name of a racecourse in Sydney AUSTRALIA, 1944 war zone noun an area in Washington D.C. infamous for drug sales and other crime US, 1984 wash noun 1 crack cocaine. A shortened form of 'readywash'. To manufacture crack cocaine, hydrochloride is washed in a solution of baking soda and water UK, 1996. 2 the effect of a drug US, 1974. 3 a large number of things or people BARBADOS, 1965. ► the wash theft of money in public lavatories while the owner is washing UK, 1977 wash verb 1 to kill US, 1941. 2 to purge or expunge something US, 1983. 3 to give money obtained illegally the appearance of legitimacy through accounting and banking schemes US, 1997. 4 to shuffle a deck of cards US, 1965. 5 to receive favourable consideration US, 1986. 6 to be credible UK, 1849. ► not a child in the house washed nothing done, no progress made IRELAND, 1996. ► wash mouth to criticise someone or something without concern for the consequences TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986. ► wash your face when selling a lot by auction, to break even UK, 2004. ► wash your mouth out; wash out your mouth addressed to someone using filthy language or dirty words. Often as an imperative, and occasionally elaborated with 'soap', or 'soap and water' UK, 1961 wash away verb to kill someone US, 1941 washboard noun in mountain biking, an area of hard, rippled earth US, 1996 washboard adjective of an abdomen, trim, muscular, defined. From the appearance – solid and rippled US, 1992 washdown noun beer. Especially in the context of drinking after a session of drinking the tranquillizing herbal beverage kava FUJI, 1991 washed-up adjective no longer successful, finished US, 1923 washer noun ► put a washer on to urinate. A Lancashire term UK, 1967 washer-dryer noun a douche bag and towel US, 1980 wash-foot-and-come noun a noisy, rowdy party ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA, 1998

washicons noun trainers, sneakers TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1992 washing machine noun 1 in computing, an obsolete large hard disk found in a large floor cabinet US, 1991. 2 a wave as it breaks over and thrashes a surfer US, 1991

Washington noun a one-dollar note. From the portrait of George Washington on the note US, 1959

Washington Monument noun in poker, a hand with three fives. A rather esoteric allusion to the fact that the Washington Monument is 555 feet high US, 1988 washout noun 1 a failure (a thing or a person); a disappointment; a cancellation UK, 1902. 2 in motorcycle racing, the condition that occurs when the front wheel begins to slide in soft dirt; also used in mountain biking US, 1973

wash out verb 1 to fail and expel someone from a course or training US, 1970. 2 in motor racing, to suffer a loss or decrease in steering responsiveness US, 1980. 3 in mountain-biking, to lose front-wheel traction US, 1996. 4 to process cocaine into crack cocaine UK, 1996

wash-pot noun something or someone easily obtained TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1971 wash rock noun crack cocaine. Combines two separate terms for CRACK UK, 1997 wash-up noun a post-event analytical discussion. Originally Royal Navy, then the wider military, and from there into corporate and political jargon UK, 1965 wash up verb in heterosexual intercourse, to enter the vagina from behind UK, 2001

washwoman's gig noun in an illegal numbers gambling lottery, a bet on 4, 11 and 44 US, 1949 washy adjective used of a racehorse sweating, especially with anxiety US, 1976 wasp; wap noun 1 a white Anglo-Saxon Protestant. The term is applied to whites without particular regard to the religious component US, 1957. 2 a white Appalachian southern Protestant US, 1981. 3 a traffic warden. From the yellow band on the uniform hat and sleeves (no doubt influenced by a characteristic intent to 'sting' a harmless motorist) UK, 1966

wasplashness noun the state of being distinctly white, Anglo-Saxon and Protestant US, 1957

WASS verb ► see: WAZ

wassock; wazzock; wazzuck noun a fool; an annoying or stupid individual UK, 1983

wassup?; whas up?; wassuuup? used as a greeting. A slurred 'what's up?' with dozens of variant spellings. Wildly popular pop speak in the US (and, to a degree, UK) in 2000 in response to a series of television advertisements for Budweiser™ beer US, 1990

wassy adjective ostentatious, especially in a sexually provocative way TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987 waste verb 1 to kill someone US, 1964. 2 to smoke marijuana US, 1967. 3 (used of a jockey in horse racing) to lose weight AUSTRALIA, 1989.

► waste babies (of a male) to masturbate US, 2001. ► waste groceries to vomit US, 1987 wastebasket noun in pool, a pocket that seems receptive to balls dropping US, 1993 waste-case noun a drunkard US, 1987 wasted adjective 1 drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1964. 2 absolutely exhausted. From earlier uses as 'intoxicated' UK, 1995

Waste Island nickname the West Island of Montreal. Likely nicknamed with this derogatory term by teenagers, the West Island area of the city is heavily residential and suburban, meaning that under-age citizens have to be transported around by their parents or use the bus, and by contrast with central Montreal, it is boring CANADA, 2002 waster noun a lazy, unambitious person IRELAND, 1991 waste-time adjective dull, boring, uninteresting. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1972 wastoid noun a worthless, dim-witted person; a person whose drug or alcohol use is ruining their life US, 1985 wastry noun rubbish (trash) JAMAICA, 2003

watch verb ► watch your lip; watch your mouth; watch your trap to talk politely; to mind your manners; to not speak out of turn. Often exclamatory UK, 1997. ► watch your step to be careful; to be cautious in a current or planned activity. Often as a warning UK, 1959

Watcha ► see: WOTCHER

watch and chain; watch noun the brain. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 watchie noun a watchman UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 watch it verb used as a (sometimes threatening) warning to be careful. Always imperative, often exclamatory UK, 1916 watch queen noun 1 a homosexual man who derives sexual pleasure from watching other men having sex US, 1970. 2 a lookout during anonymous homosexual sex in public places US, 1975 watch this space used as an announcement that further developments may be expected. Originally, and still, used of space in a newspaper, etc UK, 1917 watch works noun the brain. Teen slang, reported by a Toronto newspaper in 1946, although reportedly 'obsolescent or obsolete' by 1959 CANADA, 1946 water noun 1 methamphetamine or another central nervous system stimulant US, 1989. 2 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1989. 3 semen TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1983 ► see: WATERCRESS, WATER HEN. ► go in the water to lose an athletic contest or other competition intentionally US, 1955. ► go to water to be overcome with fear; to fail to maintain a resolve AUSTRALIA, 1950. ► in the water; out in the water in debt US, 1992. ► over the water Northern Ireland. A British armed services' view of the world UK, 1995

water verb ► water her garden (of a man) to have sex with a woman JAMAICA, 1998. ► water the garden to change the bottles of intravenous fluid that feed a neurologically depressed hospital patient US, 1978. ► water the horses to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1971. ► water the vegetables to administer intravenous fluids to a hospital's neurologically depressed patients US, 1985 water black noun mascara. Because water is needed for application UK, 1952 waterbomber noun an aircraft for fighting fires. Most of the world's waterbombers are made by Canadair in Montreal, and are known in Europe as 'le Canadair' and 'le pelican' CANADA, 1965 ► FIREBOMBER water box noun in drag racing, the area where cars heat and clean their tyres before a race US, 1997 waterboy noun a truck with a water tank used to spray water or other liquids on the ground US, 1971 water burner noun a cook. The form 'water scorcher' has been recorded as early as 1916 AUSTRALIA, 1982 watercooler moment noun a televisual moment that is expected to get people talking the next day. The discussions about such a moment are envisaged to happen when office workers meet at a watercooler US, 2003 watercress; water noun a dress. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 watercress; water verb to dress. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 water dog noun 1 in circus and carnival usage, a seal US, 1981. 2 in trucking, a truck with leaking water lines US, 1971 waterfall verb to drink from a can or bottle by cascading the liquid into your mouth without touching the can or bottle with your lips. Collected from a 13-year-old in Irvine, California, April 2003 US, 2003

Waterford adjective easily understood; perfectly clear. Puns the synonymous 'crystal clear' with well-known Irish glass manufacturers Waterford Crystal UK, 2001 waterhead noun a person with mental problems US, 2002 water hen; water noun ten. Rhyming slang, especially in horse racing UK, 1969 waterhole; water hole noun 1 a public hotel AUSTRALIA, 1968. 2 a truck stop US, 1976

watering hole; watering spot noun a bar or club where alcohol is served; a public hotel US, 1955

Waterloo noun a stew. Rhyming slang, from the area of London UK, 1992 watermelons noun female breasts of generous dimensions. From the all-too-obvious resemblance US, 1995 water sports noun 1 sexual activity involving the giving and getting of an enema US, 1969. 2 sexual activity that includes urination US, 1969 water-walker noun a fellow aviator whose accomplishments approach the miraculous. US naval aviator usage US, 1986 water-water noun marijuana UK, 2003 water works noun 1 tears UK, 1647. 2 the urinary system US, 1961 wave noun 1 the semi-erect penis US, 1987. 2 crack cocaine UK, 1998 wave verb to bend the edge of a playing card for later cheating US, 1979. ► wave a dead chicken to knowingly make a futile attempt to resolve a problem. Possibly an allusion to voodoo US, 1996. ► wave your wig to comb your hair. High school student usage US, 1961 wavelength noun ► on your wavelength; on the same wavelength to comprehend (and agree with) another's point of view or approach. Figurative application of a clear radio signal US, 1927 waves noun ► make waves to stir up trouble; to upset an established or accepted routine US, 1962 wax noun phonograph records. Recordings were originally made on wax cylinders or discs; the term applied to shellac discs and, subsequently, vinyl, but is not used to refer to newer technologies such as CD, tape, etc US, 1932. ► put the wax on the tracks to get ready and start out UK, 2003 wax verb 1 to shoot or kill someone US, 1960. 2 to excel; to perform well US, 2001. 3 in children's games, to share turns at bat, kicking or the like AUSTRALIA, 1990. ► wax the carrot (of a male) to masturbate US, 2001. ► wax the dolphin (of a male) to masturbate US, 1987. ► wax the weezer (of a male) to masturbate US, 2001

waxa adjective good, excellent UK, 2003 waxhead noun a surfer. From the wax used on surfboards AUSTRALIA, 1981

wax me used as an injunction or request to be given a marijuana cigarette UK, 1996

wax up verb to conceal contraband in a small container in readiness for hiding the container in the anus UK, 1996

waxy noun in horse racing, an enthusiast who can't help shouting in the ears of those near him AUSTRALIA, 1989 way noun a familiar neighbourhood; your home territory US, 1987. ► in a big way to an extreme US, 1987. ► on the way out of a person, approaching retirement or likely to be dismissed; of a thing, coming to the end of its useful existence UK, 1961. ► that's the way (something does something) that's how things turn out. Used in a formulaic construction of 'that's the way the NOUN VERBS' US, 1952. ► the other way diverging from a stated condition UK, 1858 way adverb extremely; without doubt US, 1982 wayback adjective in remote areas AUSTRALIA, 1899

way enough! in team rowing, used as a command by the coxswain to the rowers to stop rowing US, 2003

Wayne Fontanas adjective mad. Rhyming slang for BANANAS; formed from British singer Wayne Fontana (Glyn Ellis) (b.1945) who, with Wayne Fontana & The Mindbenders, came to prominence in the mid-1960s UK, 2004 wayout noun a person who is dressed in an extraordinary, unconventional fashion. From WAY OUT (unconventional) US, 1969 way out adjective extreme; unconventional; experimental or innovative; good US, 1958 way past adverb extremely US, 1992 way to go! used for registering approval; 'well done!'. Abbreviated from 'that's the way to go!' US, 1972 way up adjective drunk US, 1995

waz; wazz; wass verb to urinate UK, 1984

waz; wazz; whaz noun an act of urination UK, 1999

wazoo noun the anus and/or rectum US, 1965 wazz verb to rain. A figurative use of the sense 'to urinate' UK, 1980. ► wazz on your bonfire to spoil your fun, to ruin something good. Combines WAZ; WAZZ (urination) with a symbol of celebration UK, 1998 wazzed adjective drunk. A variation of PISSSED. The Batfinks 'Wazzed 'n' Blasted' was recorded in the 1980s but not released until 1998 UK, 1996 wazzer; wazz adjective wonderful UK, 1983

wazzock; wazzuck noun ► see: WASSOCK

WC noun a lavatory. Abbreviated from 'water closet' UK, 1815 weak! used as a prompt and short expression of disagreement with what has just been said US, 1986 weakheart noun a police officer; a representative of the establishment or authority. Used by West Indians, and intended to be offensive UK, 1977 weakie noun a poker player who lacks courage US, 1996 weak sister noun 1 a weak, ineffective person US, 1857. 2 an investor who buys a stock as an investment but sells it as soon as the price rises US, 1988

weaky-weaky adjective frail TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1987 weapon noun 1 the penis. First recorded around the year 1000; and ever thus UK, 1000. 2 in pool, a player's cue stick US, 1993. ► spit shine the weapon to perform oral sex on a man. Perhaps this phrase has military origins US, 2001 weapons noun an actor's arsenal of make up UK, 1952 weapons-grade adjective very strong. Teen slang, post 11th September 2001 US, 2002 wear verb 1 to tolerate or accept something. Originally military UK, 1925. 2 to use a name US, 1968. ► wear American gloves among Canadian military personnel, to have your hands in your pockets CANADA, 1995. ► wear buttons to be extremely gullible US, 1976. ► wear it to take the blame, and punishment, for another's crime UK, 1996. ► wear stripes to serve a prison sentence US, 1949. ► wear the face off someone to vigorously French kiss someone IRELAND, 2003

we are not worthy used as a humorous recognition of accomplishment US, 1992 wearing the smalls noun the testicles. Rhyming slang for BALLS UK, 2003

Weary Willie noun a person who is perpetually tired, sad and pessimistic. From the character portrayed by circus clown Emmett Kelly (1898–1979) US, 1947

Weary Winny noun a prostitute who seeks customers on the street. From the title of a 1927 film US, 1951 weasel noun a tip, a gratuity. Used by railway porters; probably derived from WEASELING (extracting tips) UK, 1965 weasel verb 1 to use ambiguous language in an attempt to equivocate on the meaning US, 1956. 2 to use cunning to achieve your end; to cheat UK, 1975. ► weasel out; weasel your way out to avoid a responsibility or obligation, especially in a sly or underhand manner UK, 1962 weasel and stoat; weasel noun a coat. Rhyming slang UK, 1971 weaseling; weaselling noun extracting gratuities. Used by railway porters UK, 1970

We, as official Video Rangers, hereby promise... used with humour as an oath or pledge. From the US children's television programme Captain Video and his Video Rangers (1947–57), in which the viewers were asked to join with Captain Video in promising to 'support forever the causes of freedom, truth and justice throughout the universe'. Used with irony in later years by those who as children had been warped by television US, 1957 weather noun ► under the weather 1 ill, unwell US, 1850. 2 experiencing the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. A narrowing of the general sense of 'vaguely unwell' CANADA, 1961. 3 tipsy, drunk. From the conventional sense as 'unwell' AUSTRALIA, 1942 weather guesser noun a meteorologist ANTARCTICA, 2003 weather in; weather out verb (of bad weather) to confine pilots in Canada's west to the airport until conditions improve. This term was used in alternation with, or perhaps more often than, 'storm-stayed', in western Canada winters CANADA, 1989 weave noun 1 real and synthetic hair woven into existing hair to hide baldness or thinning hair US, 1993. 2 clothes US, 1972 weave verb ► get weaving to start (immediately). Originally Royal Air Force slang UK, 1942 web noun a television network US, 1990 webbed up adjective involved, entangled; addicted UK, 2000 webfoot noun 1 a dairy farmer NEW ZEALAND, 2002. 2 a racehorse that performs well on a muddy track US, 1951 weblish noun the informally coded and abbreviated form of English that is used in text messaging, chat rooms, etc UK, 2001 web rage noun an outburst of enraged hostility within a cyber-environment US, 1996 wedding noun a one-on-one battle between fighter pilots US, 1986 wedding bells noun morning glory seeds, eaten for their purported hallucinogenic effect US, 1970 wedding bells acid; wedding bells noun LSD US, 1971 wedding kit noun the genitals US, 1964 wedding night noun the first occasion on which two homosexual men have sex with each other UK, 2002 wedding tackle noun the male genitals UK, 1961 wedge noun 1 a thick fold of currency notes; money in general. In the C18 and C19 'wedge' meant both 'money' and 'silver'; however, these senses were obsolete long before the current usages. The modern derivation comes from folded banknotes which form a wedge shape; hence the coincidental generic usage UK, 1977. 2 one hundred pounds UK, 2000. 3 a dose of LSD; LSD US, 1971. 4 in drag racing, an engine with a combustion chamber that is shaped like a wedge US, 1999. 5 a car. Teen slang US, 1951 wedged adjective in computing, suspended in mid-operation and unable to proceed US, 1983 wedged up adjective having money to spend UK, 2000 wedger noun someone who pushes into a queue US, 1994 wedgie noun a wedge-tailed eagle AUSTRALIA, 1941

wedgies noun wedge-heeled shoes UK, 1959 wedginald noun money. Disguising WEDGE (money) with a play on the name Reginald UK, 1999 wedgy; wedgie noun 1 the condition that exists when someone pulls your trousers or underpants forcefully upward, forming a wedge between buttock cheeks US, 1988. 2 a sandal, the thong of which wedges between the toes US, 1981 wee; wee wee noun urine; an act of urination. Juvenile or jocular in the main UK, 1937 wee verb to urinate IRELAND, 1934

weebles noun an ill-defined or undefined illness US, 1947 weed noun 1 marijuana. The preferred slang term for marijuana until the 1950s, and despite the popularity of its successors it has never completely vanished from the lexicon US, 1928. 2 a marijuana cigarette US, 1958. 3 a cigarette US, 1951. 4 tobacco UK, 1606. 5 a thin, unhealthily delicate and weak person UK, 1869. 6 in horse racing, an undersized thoroughbred UK, 1948. 7 an expert BARBADOS, 1965. 8 a beginner surfer US, 1990. ► get into the weeds to micro-manage the smallest details US, 1991 weed verb 1 in a gambling establishment, to provide an employee with money to gamble in the hopes of building up business US, 1947. 2 to pilfer. Survives as WEEDING UK, 1811. ► weed a poke to remove all money and valuable items from a stolen wallet US, 1962 weedburner noun in drag racing, exhaust pipes that extend downward and to the rear of the car, terminating near the ground US, 1993 weeder noun on the railways, the supervisor of a track crew US, 1977 weed head noun a marijuana smoker US, 1945 weeding noun stealing, especially from an employer, or at the scene of a crime already committed. From WEED (to pilfer) UK, 1977 weedily noun a female marijuana smoker US, 1955 weed monkey; weed mule noun an old car or truck used to haul raw materials used in the illegal production of alcohol US, 1974

weedo noun a marijuana user US, 1958 weed of wisdom noun marijuana UK, 1994 weeds noun clothes US, 1961 weed tea noun a narcotic drink made by the infusion of marijuana leaves. A combination of WEED (marijuana) and 'tea' in the conventional sense US, 1960 weedwacker team noun in law enforcement, a surveillance team US, 1997 weedy adjective lacking in physical, moral or emotional strength UK, 1852

Wee Georgie Wood; wee georgie adjective good. Rhyming slang, formed on music hall entertainer Wee Georgie Wood (1894–1979), perhaps via the Tasmanian Wee Georgie Wood Steam Railway (named after a locomotive presumably named, in turn, after the entertainer); especially in the phrase 'any wee georgie wood?' AUSTRALIA, 1942 wee hammock noun a sanitary towel. From the similarity of appearance; in usage while such capacious reinforcement was the popular choice; certainly in use during the mid-to late 1960s UK, 2001 wee heavy noun a nip-sized bottle of strong ale or barley wine. First used for Fowler's Wee Heavy™, then generic. Recorded by Brian Glover, CAMRA Dictionary of Beer, 1985 UK, 1985 wee hours noun very early in the morning; the hours just after midnight US, 1973 weekend noun any short term of imprisonment UK, 1950 weekend adjective used derisively for indicating a part-time or casual dedication to a stated activity. Not restricted to weekend usage UK, 1935 weekender noun a person serving a jail sentence for a minor offence on weekends US, 1971 weekend habit noun a sporadic use of recreational drugs UK, 1996 weekend hippie noun a person with a conventional lifestyle who at the weekend adopts a counterculture persona US, 1968 weekend pass noun a glass. Rhyming slang, probably of military origin UK, 2002 weekend root noun a sexual partner with no illusions of a sustained relationship NEW ZEALAND, 1998 weekend warrior noun 1 a member of the National Guard. Members of reserve units must typically devote one weekend a month to refresher training US, 1976. 2 in drag racing, a hobbyist/enthusiast who confines his passion to weekend events US, 1965 weenie; weeny adjective small, tiny UK, 1790 weenie; weeny; wienie noun 1 a hot dog. From the German wienersurst US, 1906. 2 the penis US, 1978 weenie bin noun a library carrel US, 1987 weenie wagger; weenie waver noun a male sexual exhibitionist US, 1970

weeny; weenie; wienie noun an unlikeable, weak person US, 1963 weeny-bopper noun a young girl, not yet a teenager but with a teenager's tastes. After TEENYBOPPER (a young teenager, especially a girl) UK, 1972 weep and wail noun a sob story told by a beggar. Rhyming slang for 'tale' UK, 1960 weep and wait verb to serve a prison sentence while awaiting news on the outcome of an appeal US, 1962 weeper noun a prisoner who cannot manage his incarceration and constantly complains US, 1976

weepie noun a film, novel, play, song, etc, with a sentimental narrative or emotional effect UK, 1952 weeping willow noun a pillow. Rhyming slang UK, 1880 weeping womb noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle US, 1999

weeps noun tears US, 1946 wees noun an act of urination NEW ZEALAND, 1984 weevil noun in oil drilling, a new and inexperienced worker US, 1954 wee-wee noun 1 the penis US, 1969. 2 the vagina US, 1998 ▷ see: WEE wee-wee verb to urinate. Children's vocabulary UK, 1937 wee-wee adjective very small BARBADOS, 1965

weezee verb to urinate. Children's vocabulary TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1986

we go! 'let's leave!'. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1981

we gone goodbye. Originally used for signing off on a citizens' band radio transmission, but too good to stay there US, 1976

We Ho noun West Hollywood, California US, 2001

weigh verb ▷ weigh in to bring influence to bear; to make a forceful contribution to a topic under discussion UK, 1909. ▷ weigh in with to produce something additional; to introduce something extra or unexpected; to contribute UK, 1885. ▷ weigh into someone 1 to attack someone AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 to ensnare someone in a swindle US, 1965. ▷ weigh on to pay or repay someone. English Gypsy use UK, 2000 weigh off verb 1 to sentence someone to imprisonment or other judicial punishment. In a wider sense 'to weigh up' is 'to consider'; this usage is originally military UK, 1925. 2 to take revenge. To redress the balance by adjusting the weight UK, 1977 weight noun 1 large quantities of a drug US, 1964. 2 a large amount of money US, 1964. 3 blame, responsibility US, 1960. 4 difficulties, problems US, 1997. 5 the handicap that a skilled pool player will allow an opponent US, 1984. ▷ do the weight to slim, to lose weight UK, 1999. ▷ put on weight to undergo breast enhancement surgery US, 1997 weight house noun in an illegal drug enterprise, any place where a dealer hides his major supply of drugs US, 2002 weightless adjective drug-intoxicated, especially by crack cocaine UK, 1998 weight pile noun the area where weightlifting equipment is kept. Prison terminology US, 1990 weights noun loaded dice US, 1977 weight watcher noun a Department of Transportation employee at a roadside weigh station for trucks US, 1976 weigh up verb to consider or appraise something UK, 1894

weiner noun ▷ see: WIENER weird and wonderful adjective remarkably eccentric; peculiar; unfathomable. A colloquial coupling; usually ironic or derogatory, always clichéd UK, 1859 weirdo noun a weird person US, 1955 weird out verb 1 to begin to act weirdly US, 1980. 2 to frighten someone; to cause someone emotional turmoil US, 1993

weirdy; weirdie noun 1 an eccentric; a very odd person UK, 1894. 2 a homosexual, usually male UK, 1969

welch verb ▷ see: WELSH welcome aboard! a catchphrase used in greeting to a newcomer to any organisation, institution or closed group US, 1962 welcome to my world used for expressing limited sympathy when someone is complaining about something that happens to you regularly US, 1999 welcome to the club! used for expressing faint sympathy for someone who is complaining about something that others suffer US, 1993

weld verb to have sex JAMAICA, 1992

welder noun a male pornography performer US, 1995

well noun to a pickpocket, an inside jacket pocket US, 1979. ▷ the Well Bridewell Jail, Chicago US, 1976 well adjective used of a drug addict, unaffected by withdrawal symptoms US, 1969 well adverb used generally to add positive emphasis to adjectives UK, 1986 well and truly adverb utterly, beyond doubt, to an unarguable degree UK, 1948 well away adjective 1 sound asleep UK, 1927. 2 tipsy UK, 1931. ▷ be well away to prosper, to be doing very well. As in the example: 'He's well away with that girl' UK, 1937 well-endowed adjective 1 of a man, having impressively proportioned genitals UK, 1951. 2 of a woman, having generously proportioned breasts UK, 1984 well-gone adjective drunk UK, 2000 well-hard adjective very tough UK, 1995

well-heeled adjective rich; having more than sufficient money US, 1897 well hung adjective 1 of a man, having generously proportioned genitals UK, 1685. 2 young. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 wellie verb 1 to smash something or defeat someone. Used by the Royal Marines in the Falklands war, made familiar in the SAS fictions of Chris Ryan and Andy McNab UK, 1982. 2 to kick someone or something UK, 1966 wellie; welly noun 1 a Wellington boot (rubberised or plastic water-proof footwear). In the 1970s, it began to be used in phrases where 'boot' occurred, e.g. 'The welly's on the other foot now'; 'he's getting too big for his wellies'. Perhaps started by The Great Northern Welly Boot Show put on by Billy Connolly at the Edinburgh Festival in the early 1970s. 'Well boot' is also a variant UK, 1961. 2 power, energy, especially when harnessed as acceleration UK, 1980. ▷ give it some wellie; give it some welly to vigorously attack someone or something; hence, to put all your effort into something. After WELLIE (Wellington boot), hence a play on STICK THE BOOT IN UK, 1990

wellied adjective drunk UK, 2002

wellie-whanging noun Wellington boot hurling as an unconventional competitive sport UK, 1984 well, I'll be a blue-nosed gopher! used for expressing surprise. A signature line of the Ollie character in the 'Spin and Marty' segment of the Mickey Mouse Club in the 1950s. Repeated with referential humour US, 1955 well, I'll be a dirty bird! used for expressing surprise humorously. A signature line of George Gobel on the television comedy The George Gobel Showcase (CBS, 1954–60). Repeated widely with referential humour US, 1960 well, I'm damned! ▶ see: I'LL BE DAMNED well I never!; well I never did! used for registering surprise UK, 1848 wellington noun a condom. A figurative application of waterproof footwear. 'Welly boot' is also a variant UK, 2003 wellington boot; wellington noun an act of sexual intercourse. Rhyming slang for ROOT AUSTRALIA, 1970 well-lined adjective reasonably wealthy UK, 1999 well-oiled adjective drunk. An intensification of OILED that now stands alone UK, 1937 welnow no US, 1993

welsh; welch verb to swindle someone out of money waged. Originates in the supposed untrustworthiness of the Welsh, possibly as speakers of a language few other mainland Britons understand (and such private communication is, after all, the intention of most criminal slang) UK, 1857

Welshie; Welshy noun a Welsh person UK, 1951

Welsh Wales noun Wales. If this referred specifically to the parts of Wales where Welsh is the predominant language this could well be considered as a correct usage; however, this is used generally and patronisingly, often in a faux-Welsh accent, of Wales as a whole UK, 2004

Welsh Windbag nickname politician Neil Kinnock (b.1942); hence, any loquacious Welsh person. A happy alliteration given to Kinnock from his weakness for big speeches that (unhappily) undermined his credibility with the electorate; the tag dates from his time as leader of the Labour party from 1983–92 UK, 1984 wendy noun a white homosexual male. Gay slang, formed on the name Wendy, probably elaborating the initial 'w' for white, and originating among Cape coloureds SOUTH AFRICA, 2000

Wendy house noun 1 in prison, a time when prisoners are permitted to associate with each other. From a child's Wendy house, thus an allusion to playtime and the possibility for discreet association UK, 1996. 2 the Duty Chief Inspector's office in the Information Room at New Scotland Yard. From the conventional sense as 'a children's playhouse' UK, 1999

Werris noun a Greek person AUSTRALIA, 1977

Werris Creek noun 1 a Greek person. Rhyming slang. From the name of a New South Wales town AUSTRALIA, 1977. 2 an act of urination. Rhyming slang for LEAK AUSTRALIA, 2002

wert' noun worthless. Hawaiian youth usage US, 1982

Wesson party noun group sex enhanced by spreading vegetable oil on the participants' bodies. An allusion and tribute to Wesson™ vegetable oil US, 1971 west coaster noun in trucking, a large, rectangular rear view mirror US, 1971 west coast turnaround noun any strong central nervous system stimulant. Powerful enough to keep a truck driver awake for a trip to the west coast and back US, 1971

West End show noun heroin. London's West End is known as 'Theatreland'; this jocular term in use amongst musicians suggests that heroin is a popular entertainment that will, in the words of a critical cliché, 'run and run' UK, 2001

West End thespian noun a lesbian. Rhyming slang UK, 2003 western grip noun used of a male when masturbating, gripping your penis with your thumb facing your body. From the grip used on the reins by those riding Western style US, 2004 western style adjective used of coffee, stale and lukewarm. Punning on the observation that the coffee has 'been on the range all day' US, 1976

West Ham reserves; west hams noun the nerves. Rhyming slang, formed from the football club UK, 1961 westie noun a young tough person. Originally referring to people from the western suburbs of Sydney, it now has spread to other parts of the country. In Sydney it was used as a derogatory sobriquet to refer to inhabitants of suburbs west of one's own, which meant that everyone except those people living in the eastern beach suburbs was liable to be called a 'westie' by someone. Similarly, in New Zealand, applied to those from the suburbs west of Auckland AUSTRALIA, 1977

Westminster Abbey noun a cab driver. Rhyming slang for CABBY UK, 1992

Westminster Abbey adjective shabby. Rhyming slang; originally theatrical, nicely ironic UK, 1961

Westralia noun Western Australia. Hence 'someone or something of Western Australia' is 'Westralian' AUSTRALIA, 1893 wet side passkeys noun burglary tools. Coined in Chicago US, 1982

Westy noun US Army General William Childs Westmoreland (b.1914), US commander in Vietnam 1964–68 US, 1991

wet noun 1 a politician with middle-of-the-road views on controversial issues, especially (during the 1980s) a Conservative not entirely supportive of Margaret Thatcher's monetarist policies UK, 1931. 2 in motor racing, a tyre designed for racing in the rain US, 1992. 3 a drink of an alcoholic beverage. C10 wæt, first recorded in slang as 'heavy-wet' (malt liquor) UK, 1982. 4 alcoholic beverages. Gulf war usage UK, 1991. 5 an act of urination UK, 1925. 6 a conventional cigarette infused with embalming fluid US, 2001. 7 rain; wet weather US, 1945. 8 a Mexican national illegally present in the US. Shortened form of WETBACK, from the Spanish mojado, drawn from the image of swimming across the Rio Grande River from Mexico into Texas. Derogatory US, 1979. ▶ the wet the wet season in Australia's tropical north AUSTRALIA, 1908 wet verb ▶ wet the baby's head to drink to celebrate the birth (and christening) of a child UK, 1885. ▶ wet the elbow to enjoy a few drinks NEW ZEALAND, 1994. ▶ wet your whistle to have a drink, especially an alcoholic drink US, 1720. ▶ wet yourself to laugh uproariously UK, 1970 wet adjective 1 of a woman, sexually excited; ready for sex. Not recorded before 1937 but surely in use much earlier UK, 1937. 2 in politics, willing to compromise. Adopted from the sense 'weak, lacking in effectiveness'; in this context often as Tory 'wet' (see following citation) UK, 1980. 3 weak, lacking in effectiveness. Upper-class society use UK, 1916. 4 foolish NEW ZEALAND, 2002. 5 excellent US, 2000. 6 pertaining to killing US, 1992. 7 permitting the purchase and consumption of alcoholic beverages US, 1950 wetback noun 1 an illegal immigrant to the US from Mexico. An offensive and figurative term deriving from the crossing of the Rio Grande River between Mexico and the US. Displaying a candour endemic to the time, the US Border Patrol launched 'Operation Wetback' in 1954 to stem the tide of illegal immigration from Mexico US, 1929. 2 in surfing, a large wave US, 1957 wet behind the ears adjective inexperienced UK, 1931 wet blanket noun a killjoy, a spoilsport UK, 1857 wet bum noun a weak individual. Derogatory; the image of a baby with a wet bottom, punning on WET (weak) UK, 1997 wetcoast noun the strip of British Columbia along the Pacific Ocean CANADA, 1989

Wetcoast Samsonite noun a green rubbish bag used for luggage CANADA, 1989 wet decks noun a woman who has recently had sex with several men US, 1972 wet dream noun 1 among men, a sleeping fantasy that triggers orgasm UK, 1851. 2 a dream come true. A figurative application of the unconscious fantasy that triggers an orgasm UK, 1971 wet dreamer noun an exciting experience UK, 1999 wet fart adjective ineffectual, pointless UK, 2000 wet-finger noun ▶ get wet-finger in the categorisation of sexual activity by teenage boys, to insert a finger into a girl's vagina US, 1986

Wet Nelly noun used as a generic name for any form of bread pudding. There is anecdotal evidence of Wet Nelly being enjoyed during World War 1 UK, 2000 wet paper could cut you used for describing a person who can't do anything right TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1989

wet rag noun an unpopular, socially inept person US, 1955 wet road block noun the Yalu River, Korea. US troops were prohibited from crossing the Yalu, even in pursuit of enemy soldiers US, 1982 wet season noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle AUSTRALIA, 1988

wet shot noun a scene in a pornographic film or photograph depicting a man ejaculating US, 1991 wet smack noun a sexually frigid woman US, 1977 wet stuff noun explicit violence or sex in a television programme or film US, 1997

wetsuit noun a condom US, 1993

wettie noun especially among surfers, a wetsuit AUSTRALIA, 1987 wettie rash noun a rash caused by wearing a wetsuit AUSTRALIA, 1996

wetware noun a human being; the human brain US, 1991 wet week; wet weekend noun ► like a wet week; like a wet weekend miserable, wretched UK, 1984 wet willie noun an act in which a spit-moistened finger is forced into a victim's ear and twisted US, 1992

WFO adjective used of a throttle, all the way open. An abbreviation of 'wide fucking open' US, 2001 whack noun 1 a heavy, resounding blow; a blow with a stick, often as corporal punishment UK, 1737. 2 a share, a portion, a part, a measure AUSTRALIA, 1889. 3 heroin UK, 2003. 4 crack cocaine UK, 2003. 5 a poorly executed piece of graffiti art US, 1997. ► have a whack at; take a whack at to attempt something; to attack someone US, 1904. ► out of whack not in proper shape or order US, 1885 whack verb 1 to kill someone, especially by gunshot. Also used with 'out' US, 1977. 2 to strike someone vigorously UK, 1721. ► whack plaque in a dentist's office, to clean teeth. Collected from an orthodontist in Bangor, Maine, in April 2001 US, 2001. ► whack your doodle (of a male) to masturbate US, 1970 whack! in the language of hang gliding, used for commenting on a poor landing US, 1992

whackadoo noun a crazy person US, 1979 whack attack noun 1 in the language of hang gliding, a string of bad landings US, 1992. 2 an irrational and violent reaction to hallucinogenic drugs US, 2001 whacked adjective 1 exhausted UK, 1919. 2 drunk or drug-intoxicated. Also used with 'out' US, 1967. 3 out of control UK, 1995

whacker; wacker noun a fool; a jerk AUSTRALIA, 1966 whacking noun 1 a beating; a defeat. The figurative, sporting sense is not recorded before 1951 UK, 1862. 2 a killing. From WHACK (to murder) US, 2001 whacking adverb used to intensify adjectives of largeness UK, 1853 whacko adjective 1 terrific; wonderful AUSTRALIA, 1953. 2 crazy; eccentric US, 1957

whacko! used for expressing shock AUSTRALIA, 1937

whack-off noun an act of masturbation US, 1969 whack off verb to masturbate US, 1969 whack off with verb to steal something AUSTRALIA, 1977

whacko Jacko adjective crazy. A catchphrase formed from the nickname of entertainer Michael Jackson, whose well-publicised eccentricities give rise to this usage UK, 1989 whacko the chook! used for expressing shock AUSTRALIA, 1981

whacko-the-diddle-oh used for expressing shock AUSTRALIA, 1966

whack out verb to kill someone US, 1979 whack-silly adjective obsessed with masturbation US, 1962 whack up verb to divide something, especially a quantity of illegal drugs, into portions US, 1973

whaddup? used as a greeting US, 1994 whaddya hear?; whaddya say? used as a greeting. The trademark greeting of James Cagney ('Rocky' Sullivan) in the 1938 Warner Brothers film Angels With Dirty Faces US, 1938 wha happen?; what happenin? used as a greeting TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1993 whaka blonde noun a Maori woman. A coinage from the Whakarewarewa Thermal Village in Rotorua, a Maori tourist attraction NEW ZEALAND, 1950

whale noun a gambler who places large bets US, 1995 whale verb 1 to beat someone UK, 1790. 2 to have sex US, 1967. 3 to play music with passion and gusto US, 1958 whale belly noun on the railways, a coal tender with a drop bottom US, 1946 whale in the bay noun someone looking for payment of a gambling debt AUSTRALIA, 1989

whale kisser noun an environmentalist US, 2003

whale of a time noun a good time US, 1913

whale sperm noun a plexiglas cleaning agent US, 1991 whale tail noun that portion of the 'T' at the rear of a thong that becomes exposed during wear UK, 2005 wham noun a striptease act in which the dancer ends her performance completely naked US, 1981 wham! used for registering the suddenness of an occurrence. Figurative use of 'wham' (to hit) UK, 1999

wham bag noun a bag full of explosives US, 1988 wham, bam, thank you m'am used for describing anything done in very short order, especially sex. Sometimes abbreviated, and sometimes embellished with other rhymes US, 1942 whammer noun the penis US, 1989 whammy noun 1 a curse or hex. US, 1940. 2 something that is upsetting or sets you back US, 1961

whammy bar noun a floating bridge on an electric guitar that makes tremolos, vibrators, dives, bends and other effects possible US, 1992

wham-wham noun in prison, store-bought snacks US, 1981 whandoodles noun in poker, a temporary increase in the betting limit after a player wins a hand with a rare hand US, 1967 whangdoodle noun on the railways, a remote telephone US, 1977

whanger; wanger noun the penis US, 1939 wha'ppen(?) 'what's happening?'; used as a greeting. West Indian and UK Black usage UK, 1981 whapp'n used as a greeting. Derived from 'what's happening?' but not used as an interrogative UK, 2003 wharfie noun a wharf labourer AUSTRALIA, 1911 wharf rat noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a follower of the band who abstains from alcohol and drugs. From the title of a Grateful Dead song US, 1994

whark verb to vomit UK, 1985 whassname noun used to refer to a name that is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning. Slowning of WHAT'S-HIS-NAME UK, 2000

what noun ► or what? used as a final (often the only), wholly indefinite choice UK, 1766 what a gay day! used as a conversation starter or filler; also as an indicator of homosexual company. The catchphrase of CAMP comedian and television compere Larry Grayson (1923–95) it caught the public imagination in the mid-1970s and was adopted into popular use UK, 2004 what a loss used for expressing sympathy for a difficult situation US, 1983

what am I going to do with you? said to someone you know well as an expression of tolerance and forgiveness UK, 1984 what a revolting development this is used for expressing displeasure. A signature line of working-class hero Chester A. Riley on the television comedy The Life of Riley (NBC, 1949–58). Repeated with referential humour US, 1958 what are you like? an exclamation directed at someone whose behaviour is unacceptable IRELAND, 1995 what can I do you for? 'how can I help?', 'what can I do for you?'. A jocular suggestion UK, 1961 whatcha' thinking? used as a greeting US, 1986 what'chu talkin' about, Willis? used for humorously expressing a lack of understanding or belief. A stock line on the television comedy Different Strokes (1978–86), uttered by the Arnold Jackson character played by Gary Coleman. Repeated with referential humour US, 1986 what did your last slave die of? used as an expression of discontent to someone who is demanding that too much be done UK, 1976 whatdja; whatdya; whaddya 'what do you'. A phonetic recording of general slurring UK, 1999 what-do-you-call-it; what-d'ye-call-it noun used as a replacement for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 1600 what do you know?; whaddya know? used as a register of surprise US, 1914 what do you know, Joe? used as a greeting US, 1947 what do you think of the show so far? – rubbish! a question and answer catchphrase widely used and often without an appropriate context. Comedian Eric Morecambe (1926–84) introduced this catchphrase in the early 1970s. The response was usually voiced by Morecambe in the manner of a ventriloquist: 'ruggish!' UK, 1981 what else did you get for Christmas? directed at a person showing-off with a new 'toy'; often addressed to the tail of a disappearing vehicle UK, 1975 whatever adverb used for registering self-pitying acceptance US, 2003 whatever pronoun used as an emphatic form of 'what?'. In conventional use from C14–C19, then colloquial UK, 1974 whatever! used as a dismissing retort to what has just been said. Said with attitude, with a pause after 'what', and sometimes with thumbs and forefingers shaped like a 'W' US, 1989 whatever's fair used as a non-responsive, vague answer to a direct question US, 1969 whatever turns you on your individual tastes, foibles, hobbies, interests, etc. Generally spoken to indicate a tolerance of tastes that do not coincide with your own US, 1978 what for a thing is that? among Nova Scotians of German descent, used as a query to mean 'what kind of a thing is that?' CANADA, 1999 what goes up must come down a Cockney catchphrase that comments generally on the inevitability of things happening, and, specifically, on the nature of a pregnancy UK, 1969 what-have-you noun used in place of any other item or items in a category UK, 1999 what is it with you? why are you behaving in such a manner? UK, 1996 what it is used as a greeting US, 1974 what kind? what's the matter with you? US, 1963 what makes you tick the inner-workings of your mind. As if by clockwork UK, 1999 whatnot noun anything and everything. Usually a characteristic of individual speakers, not a group, and often used with an annoying regularity UK, 1540 what price NOUN? consider the worth of... something!; what do you think of... something? Occasionally admiring, but generally sarcastic, in reference to a declared or well-understood value UK, 1893 what say? 1 what do you think?; what do you say to the proposal?, etc UK, 1895. 2 used as a greeting US, 1965

what's-er-name; what's-her-name noun used to refer to a name that is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning UK, 1978

what's-his-face; what's-her-face noun used to refer to a name that is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning UK, 1995

what's-his-name; what's-his-namey noun used to refer to a person whose name is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning UK, 1697 whatsit; whatsis; whatzis noun used to refer to a name that is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning US, 1882

what's it to you? used (often aggressively) as the rhetorical response to a question, the answer to which is thus signalled to be none of the questioner's business UK, 1959

what's kicking? used as a greeting, along the lines of 'what is new?' US, 1949 what's my name? used as a taunt while beating someone. In 1967, boxer Muhammed Ali fought Ernie Terrell, who insisted on calling Ali 'Cassius Clay'; as Ali pounded Terrell, Ali taunted 'What's my name, fool? What's my name?' US, 1997 what's poppin? used as a peer-to-peer greeting US, 1995 what's shaking?; what's shakin'? used as a greeting US, 1951 what's that when it's at home? used as an expression of contempt or derision for something. Any person, people or object may, of course, substitute for 'that' UK, 1932

what's the damage? how much do I owe?; what is the cost? Formed on DAMAGE (expense) UK, 1984 what's the dealio?; what's the dillio? what is new?; what is going on? Popularised by rapper Busta Rhymes in the late 1990s US, 2002 what's the difference between NOUN and NOUN? a well-worn joke-telling formula that is only usually half answered (a more vulgar or scandalous response to the question is implied) US, 1851 what's the drill? what are the arrangements, or usual procedures? Originally military, now general UK, 1961 what's the score? what is the latest information, situation, etc? Originally Royal Air Force, then more general UK, 1961 what's the story, morning glory? used as a cheerful greeting US, 1959

what's up? used as a greeting US, 1993

whatsup? used as a greeting US, 1990

what's up, Doc? used as an all-purpose enquiry. The catchphrase of Loony Tunes cartoon hero Bugs Bunny, who, from his third outing, in July 1940 (and much repeated), would inquire 'Mnyeh... what's up, Doc?' as a taunt to pursuers. Also used cinematically, this time without specific context, as the title of a 1972 Hollywood film. Popular with sub-editors as a headline for any number of articles on the National Health US, 1940 what's up with that? used for expressing interest in more facts US, 1994 what's with you? what's amiss with you?; why are you behaving in such a way?; what has happened to you?; explain yourself!; why? Also applied to inanimate objects US, 1940 what's your damage? what's your problem?; what's the matter? US, 1988

what's your song, King Kong? used as a greeting US, 1947 what the fuck! used for registering annoyance, resignation or surprise. Possibly a shortening of 'what the fucking hell!', in turn an elaboration of WHAT THE HELL! UK, 1999 what the heck! used as an exclamation of surprise, indignation, etc; also used dismissively and as an expression of resignation UK, 1887

what-the-hell adjective indifferent, uncaring UK, 1968

what the hell! used in annoyance, resignation or surprise UK, 1872 what the hellfire! used for registering annoyance or surprise. A variation of WHAT THE HELL! UK, 1997

what the hey! used as a humorous declaration of surprise, bemusement or dismissal. Popularised by Milton Berle in the early days of US television; an early television catchphrase that swept the nation US, 1957

what up? used as a greeting US, 1990

what up, love one? used as a greeting. Used as a coded greeting by members of the Black Guerrilla Family prison gang US, 2000 what/which part of no don't you understand? used for humourously emphasizing a previous negative answer. Wildly popular, and over-used, in the 1990s; an instant favourite of US parents scolding children. First made famous by Lorrie Morgan in a 1991 song 'What Part of No', written by Wayne Perry and Gerald Smith – 'I'll be glad to explain it / If it's too hard to comprehend / So tell me what part of no / Don't you understand?' US, 1991

whatyoucallit noun used as a replacement for any noun that the user cannot or does not wish to specify UK, 2002

what-you-may-call-it; whatchamacallit noun used in place of a word that is temporarily forgotten or not important for the context UK, 1598 wheat noun marijuana. A play on GRASS and an assonant pun on WEED US, 1969

wheech verb to move swiftly; to move something swiftly away. Probably derived, in some way, from Scots dialect wheech (a stink) UK: SCOTLAND, 1911 wheel noun 1 a leader; an important person US, 1933. 2 a mid-level employee in an illegal lottery US, 1978. 3 the game of roulette US, 1993. 4 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003. 5 in a carnival, any ride that is in the form of a wheel US, 1960. 6 a life prison sentence US, 1991. 7 in lowball poker, the lowest possible straight (five to ace) US, 1981. 8 the ankle US, 1986 wheel verb 1 to travel; to drive US, 1721. 2 (used of a racehorse) to turn around suddenly US, 1968 wheel and deal verb to engage in profit-making in a flamboyant manner US, 1961 wheeler-dealer noun a scheming, contriving deal-maker with many connections. The reduplication of the vowel sound serves to intensify US, 1960

wheeler-dealing; wheeling-and-dealing noun scheming business practice US, 1984 wheel horse noun in oil drilling, the best worker on a crew US, 1954 wheelie; wheely noun 1 a wheelstand, the lifting of the front wheels of a car or front wheel of a motorcycle, bicycle or skateboard off the ground due to sudden acceleration US, 1966. 2 a wheelchair UK, 1999. ► pop a wheelie to perform a wheelie US, 1995

wheelie-bin noun a large, wheeled rubbish bin AUSTRALIA, 1984 wheel jockey noun a military convoy truck driver US, 1991 wheel man noun 1 in a criminal operation, the getaway driver US, 1935. 2 a person who brings together pool players who are willing to play for money US, 1993 wheels noun 1 a car US, 1959. 2 a record turntable or turntables used by DJs. From the circular shape and revolving motion. Variants include 'wheels of steel' and the singular 'wheel' US, 1999. 3 shoes or boots US, 1990. 4 the legs, especially a woman's legs US, 1966. ► on wheels to the extreme US, 1943. ► put wheels on it used in restaurants to note that the order is a take-away CANADA, 1993. ► the wheels are coming off to be getting out of control; to not be going as planned UK, 1998 wheels man noun a good driver IRELAND, 1996

wheesh! be quiet! From Scots dialect wheesh (a hush) UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 wheeze noun 1 a piece of comedic business; a trick; a clever idea. Originally theatrical, used by clowns and comedians; then especially popular with schoolchildren UK, 1864. 2 a false belief US, 1965 wheezy Anna noun a spanner. Rhyming slang, formed from the title of a 1930s comic song UK, 1992 when adverb now. The natural response to the conventionally polite enquiry 'Say when?' UK, 1976 when fowl have teet; when cock have teet used for expressing an impossibility TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1945

when it's at home used to intensify any question of identity. A derisive tag implying contempt or incredulity, suffixed to 'what is a....?'. The earliest usages of this scornful device were grammatically correct: '[W]here your friends are when they're at home?' (Rudyard Kipling, Plain Tales from the Hills, 1888). Current usage, however, will occasionally reform a sentence that should commence correctly with 'who is...?' by converting the proper noun to object status, e.g. 'What is a John Smith when it's at home?' UK, 1957 when push comes to shove when there is no longer any choice but to proceed; when worse comes to worst US, 1958 when-shee noun heroin. A variation of YEN-SHEE (heroin). 2003

when you've got to go, you've got to go; when you gotta go, you gotta go applied philosophically to death, prosaically to responsibility ('duty calls') and trivially to a visit to the toilet. Popularised by Hollywood films US, 1975 where it is at; where it's at 1 the centre of a situation, a place where something important is happening US, 1965. 2 in touch UK, 1965 where someone is at the person's point of view or opinion US, 1968 where's the fire? used for expressing a lack of shared concern US, 2003 where the big nobs hang out noun a toilet (as used by men), especially a public convenience. A self-serving pun AUSTRALIA, 1971 where the sun don't shine in your rectum US, 1992 wherever? adverb used as an emphatic variation of 'where?'. In conventional use from the C10 to C19; now colloquial UK, 2002 where were you when the shit hit the fan? used as a greeting between US Marines in Korea US, 1986 where you're coming from your point of view or opinion US, 1975 which foot you kick with your personal preference of politics, religion or sexuality. Left or right, Catholic or Protestant, hetero- or homosexual UK: SCOTLAND, 2000 whickerbill noun a railway brakesman US, 1946 whif adjective what-if. Used in 'what if...?' exercises projecting possible contingencies and developing reactions to them US, 1974 whiff noun 1 an unpleasant smell. From WHIFFY (bad-smelling) UK, 1899. 2 cocaine US, 1983

whiff verb 1 to give off an unpleasant smell UK, 1899. 2 to inhale a powdered drug through the nose US, 1981 whiffle dust noun 1 amphetamine powder. From the imaginary magic powder used by conjurers, manufacturers, marketing professionals and others to enhance their product or presentation UK, 2003. 2 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003. ► see: MUMMY DUST whiffler noun an auction house employee who moves and displays the items for sale UK, 2003 whiffy adjective having an unpleasant odour, smelly UK, 1849 whiler noun a man with more than one girlfriend. In West Indian and UK black use, August 2002 UK, 2002 whim-whams noun a feeling of dread or anxiety, a state of anxiety or nervousness; the jitters US, 1950

whiney gyny club noun complaining hospital patients recovering from gynecological surgery US, 1985 whinge noun a moaning complaint. From the verb UK, 1984 whinge; winge verb to complain; to whine AUSTRALIA, 1938

whinge bag noun a complainer. Formed on WHINGE (a moaning complaint) UK, 2003 whingeing pom noun an English person viewed as a habitual complainer. A stock Australian stereotype AUSTRALIA, 1962 whinger noun a person who whinges; a habitual complainer AUSTRALIA, 1934 whip noun 1 a car. Used by urban black youths UK, 2004. 2 a long radio antenna US, 1976. 3 a boss or supervisor US, 1984. 4 a close friend BAHAMAS, 1982. 5 rum AUSTRALIA, 1953 ▶ see: WHIP-ROUND whip verb to arrest someone US, 1971. ▶ whip it in, whip it out a catchphrase that celebrates a male approach to sexual relations. From the lyric of a rugby song: 'Whip it in, whip it out, quit fucking about Yo ho, yo ho, yo ho'. Sometimes further extended with: 'wipe it off, walk away' UK, 1998. ▶ whip it out to release the penis from the confines of the trousers, a bold genital display US, 1997. ▶ whip the cat to feel remorse; to regret something AUSTRALIA, 1847. ▶ whip up on skippy (used of a male) to masturbate. 2001. ▶ whip your wang (used of a male) to masturbate US, 1969 whip and lash; whip noun a moustache. Rhyming slang for TASH UK, 1992 whip and top; whip verb to masturbate. Rhyming slang for STROP UK, 1992 whiplash noun a rash. Rhyming slang; perhaps, also, a sexual innuendo UK, 1998 whip off verb (used of a male) to masturbate US, 1975 whip-out noun 1 a bankroll designed to impress when whipped out of the pocket US, 1972. 2 a regular payment US, 1981 whip o'will noun an act of vomiting; vomit. Possibly rhyming slang for 'spill your guts' AUSTRALIA, 1967 whipped adjective dominated by a girlfriend or wife. A shortened form of PUSSY-WHIPPED US, 1965 whipper noun 1 a small cartridge of nitrous oxide. Designed for use in making whipped cream, but often abused for the psychoactive effects of the gas US, 1986. 2 a person who enjoys being whipped in a sado-masochistic encounter US, 1970 whippersnapper; snapper noun a young, impertinent person unmindful of his station in life. Still heard, but used with the effect of dating the speaker UK, 1700 whippet noun a shotgun with both barrel and stock sawn off for hiding on the body US, 1982

whippets; whippits noun capsules of nitrous oxide used as a recreational drug US, 1980

Whippins and Lashins noun the Irish Girl Guides IRELAND, 1995

whippy noun 1 a place used for the home base in children's game hide-and-seek AUSTRALIA, 1964. 2 a pocket in which money is kept; hence, the money kept there AUSTRALIA, 1973

whippy adjective clever US, 1969 whip-round; whip-around; whip noun an informal fund collected from a group of people. Originally military 'whip' (a collection for more wine in the mess) UK, 1874 whips noun a great deal of. A play on LASHINGS AUSTRALIA, 1890 whips and jingles noun symptoms of heroin withdrawal. Referring to the physical pain and frayed nerves suffered US, 1973 whipsaw verb 1 in poker, to surround a player with two confederates whose collusive betting tactics relieve the middle player of his bankroll and drive him from the game US, 1949. 2 in horse racing, to correctly pick both the winner and second-place finisher in a race US, 1947 whip shot noun a type of controlled toss of the dice, effective by a skilled cheat US, 1963 whipster noun an untrustworthy individual IRELAND, 1997 whip-whap adverb quickly, without second thought TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 whirl noun an attempt US, 1884 whirl bet noun in craps, a one-roll bet on 2, 3, 7, 11 and 12 US, 1961 whirlies noun extreme dizziness experienced when drunk US, 1966 whirligig noun a revolver US, 1957 whirlpooling; whirlpool noun the assault of a girl by a group of males in a swimming pool who grope her while churning water around her US, 1993 whirly noun 1 in the television and film industries, a hydraulic lift used for shooting scenes from above US, 1990. 2 a small, localised whirlwind. The variant spelling 'whirlie' is sometimes used AUSTRALIA, 1894 whirlybird noun a helicopter US, 1951 whirlygigs noun ▶ having the whirlygigs drunk UK, 2002 whirly pig noun a helicopter-borne police officer. Quoted as a term used by residents of Berkeley, California, to describe police in helicopters US, 1970 whirly-whirly noun a small, localised whirlwind. From 'whirl', but modelled on WILLY-WILLY AUSTRALIA, 1926

whirly wind noun especially in Queensland, a small, localised whirlwind AUSTRALIA, 1969

whisker noun usually in comparisons, a narrow margin, a small amount US, 1913 whiskers noun 1 seniority or tenure on a job US, 1973. 2 pubic hair US, 1967 whiskey noun a type of bet in an illegal numbers game lottery US, 1957 whiskey dent noun a dent on your car that you don't remember incurring while driving drunk US, 1984

whiskeyleg noun a drunkard US, 1957 whiskey papa noun a white phosphorous flare or grenade. From the military phonetic alphabet – WP US, 1990 whiskey-rot noun any unspecified illness US, 1970 whisper noun 1 a rumour UK, 1596. 2 the very end of a prison sentence US, 1976 whistle noun in the sport of polo, energy UK, 2003. ▶ wet your whistle to take a drink; to quench a thirst UK, 1530 whistle verb ▶ whistle in the dark to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1967. ▶ whistle through the wheatfield to engage in oral sex on a woman, especially a blonde woman US, 2001 whistle and flute; whistle noun 1 a suit (of clothes). Rhyming slang UK, 1931. 2 cocaine. Rhyming slang for TOOT UK, 2000 whistle and flute; whistle verb to inhale drugs or drug smoke. Rhyming slang for TOOT UK, 1996 whistle and toot; whistle and flute; toot noun money. Rhyming slang for LOOT; used mainly in the reduced form UK, 1950 whistlebait noun an attractive woman or girl US, 1947 whistlecock noun amongst Australian Aboriginals, a penis that has had a small slit made in the base of the urethra as a means of birth control; a man who has had this operation AUSTRALIA, 1945 whistle for verb to wait for, or expect, something in vain UK, 1882 whistler noun a police car US, 1971 whistlers noun pieces of metal scrap packed in an artillery shell that makes a screaming sound as the shell moves through the air US, 1990 whistlestop noun a small town. From the image of a train making a brief stop at the town US, 1947 whistling gear noun in trucking, the highest gear. May have been named for the whistling sound older tractors made when in overdrive gear, or for the possibility that a rig travelling in this gear could attract the attention of a 'whistler' – a police car US, 1971 white noun 1 a capsule of Benzedrine™ (amphetamine sulphate) or any other central nervous system stimulant US, 1966. 2 heroin, cocaine or morphine. From the colour of the powdered drug US, 1914. 3 crack cocaine. A derivative of the previous sense US, 1995. 4 a five-pound note. From the colour of the large five-pound notes, which were withdrawn from circulation in 1957 UK, 1946. 5 platinum jewellery UK, 1950. 6 in American casinos, a white betting token worth one dollar US, 1985. 7 in American casinos, a white betting token worth $500 US, 1961. 8 a day; daytime US, 1975. 9 'silver' coins. Variants include 'whites' and 'white money' UK, 1887. ► like white on rice entirely, utterly, completely US, 1987. ► the white surgical spirit as an alcoholic drink. The liquid is clear but 'white' differentiates this from BLUE (methylated spirits) UK, 2000. ► white-boy shuffle an uncoordinated, ungraceful, counter-rhythmic dancing style US, 1993 white adjective decent. Usually used sarcastically and as a conscious rejection of the racism that once would have inspired the saying US, 1913 white-ant verb to undermine someone or something. From 'white ant' (a termite) AUSTRALIA, 1922 white-ass; white-assed adjective bland; insipid; lacking creativity. A reciprocal in formation to the common 'black-ass'; not praise US, 1995 white ball noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 white boy noun heroin. An embellishment of BOY (heroin), from the colour of the powdered drug US, 1986 white-bread adjective everyday, unexciting, respectable; representing the epitome of white middle-class values and style US, 1991 white burger noun a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1996 white Cali; white Cally noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy; an antihistamine tablet sold as MDMA. From the colour combined with an abbreviation of California, the presumed place of origin UK, 1996 white cliffs of Dover; white cliffs adjective over. Rhyming slang, formed from the famous landmark, celebrated in song and geography UK, 1998 white cloud noun crack cocaine US, 1989 white cockroach noun a white person TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1838 white crinkle noun a five-pound note. A combination of CRINKLE (paper money) and the colour of five pound notes, which were withdrawn from circulation in 1957 UK, 1957 white cross noun an amphetamine or methamphetamine tablet, sectioned with an X US, 1965 white cylinder week noun the bleed period of the menstrual cycle. Refers to a tampon applicator US, 1999 white devil noun cocaine US, 1972 white drugs noun heroin, cocaine, morphine, etc. From the colour of the refined powder US, 1961 white dust noun powdered amphetamine UK, 1996 white eye noun illegal alcohol smuggled from the French islands of Saint-Pierre and Miquelon. This term appears in Tom Dalzell's The Slang of Sin to mean 'whisky' CANADA, 1998 white-eyes noun a white person US, 1978 whitefellow; whitefella noun a white person as opposed to a native Australian Aboriginal AUSTRALIA, 1826 white fever noun used of people of colour, a strong attraction towards white people. The opposite of JUNGLE FEVER US, 1969 white fingers noun cocaine US, 2002

white fluff noun LSD UK, 2003

white ghost noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 white girl noun 1 cocaine US, 1971. 2 heroin UK, 1998 white goods noun cocaine. From the colour; adopts the retailing term for 'large white electrical goods' (refrigerators etc.) UK, 2001 white-haired lady noun marijuana. Possibly derives as a simile for something considered to be as dangerous as marijuana UK, 1998 white hat noun 1 an officer in a firefighting company US, 1954. 2 a computer hacker who acts with a legal or moral justification US, 2001 white horse noun 1 heroin. An elaboration of HORSE (heroin) UK, 2003. 2 cocaine. A play on HORSE (heroin) which is mostly brown US, 1977 white junk noun heroin, possibly of the finest quality. An embellishment of JUNK (heroin) from the colour of the powdered drug US, 1977 white kaffir noun a white person who associates with black people. Racist and abusive SOUTH AFRICA, 1846 white knight noun a night spent under the influence of cocaine. The colour of cocaine and a pun on 'night' UK, 2001 white-knuckle verb to persevere on courage alone, especially in the quitting of an addictive drug US, 1974 white-knuckle adjective anxiety-making; frightening; thrilling. From the effect of holding-on tightly UK, 1988 white lady noun 1 any strong white spirit such as gin or methylated spirits AUSTRALIA, 1935. 2 a powdered narcotic, especially cocaine or heroin. The shortened form 'lady' is also used US, 1968 white light noun LSD. Possibly a reference to The Velvet Underground's 1967 album 'White Light/White Heat' UK, 1969 white lightning noun 1 strong, if inferior, homemade whisky US, 1921. 2 LSD; LSD mixed with methamphetamine or similar US, 1970 whiteline fever noun an addiction to cocaine. The white powder is shaped in a LINE for inhalation UK, 1996 white man noun an honourable man US, 1865 white man's time noun used for denoting punctuality US, 1963 white meat noun a white person as a sex object; the genitals of a white person; sex with a white person US, 1957 white mice noun 1 during the conflict in Vietnam, the South Vietnamese civilian police. From their white helmets and gloves US, 1977. 2 dice. Rhyming slang UK, 1954 white missy noun a glass of cheap white rum BARBADOS, 1965 white money noun in prison, actual currency. Required for major purchases, such as drugs US, 1976 white mosquitoes; white mosquito noun cocaine. Probably from the 'sting' of an injection US, 1949 white mule noun an illegally manufactured whisky, colourless and powerful US, 1921 white nigger noun a French-Canadian. Offensive CANADA, 1971 white nurse; nurse noun powdered drugs; cocaine; heroin; morphine US, 1936 white-on-white noun a white shirt that was deemed fashionable in the 1940s US, 1976 white-out; whitey noun an instance of paling as a symptom of imminent faintness, dizziness or vomiting. From the draining of colour from the face UK: SCOTLAND, 1988

White Owl noun a branded White Owl™ cigar re-made to contain marijuana US, 2003 white Owsley noun a type of high quality LSD. From the name of legendary LSD manufacturer Augustus Owsley Stanley III US, 1974 white pipe noun a mixture of marijuana and crushed Mandrax™ (a branded tranquillizer in tablet form) smoked or ingested orally. A tablet of Mandrax, also known as a 'white', enhances the effect of the marijuana. When 'white pipe' is smoked it is usually in a pipe improvised with a broken bottle SOUTH AFRICA, 1998 white policeman's roll noun in an illegal numbers gambling lottery, a bet on 13, 37 and 70 US, 1949 white powder noun a narcotic in white powder form, that is, heroin, cocaine or morphine US, 1908 white-powder bar noun lawyers who defend drug dealers UK, 1998 white robin noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. From the colour of the tablet and the embossed motif UK, 2002 white rock noun high quality methamphetamine in rock form US, 1989 white Russian noun in homosexual usage, the passing of semen from one mouth to another US, 1987 white shirt noun in roller derby, a skater who plays honourably and is seen as the 'good guy', usually from the team designated as the home team US, 1999 whiteshirt noun a senior prison officer. From the uniform UK, 1996 white shit noun cocaine UK, 1996

white shoes noun white-wall tyres US, 1978 white sidewalls noun the visible scalp on the side of the head after a short haircut, especially a military haircut US, 1968

whiteskin noun in poker, any card ranked ten or lower US, 1943 white slave noun a woman engaged in enforced prostitution UK, 1857

whitesocks noun a ferocious if tiny mosquito US, 1965 white stuff noun any powdered drug – morphine, heroin or cocaine US, 1914 white sugar noun crack cocaine. From the appearance UK, 1998 white telephone noun ► speak on the great white telephone; talk into the big white telephone; talk to God on the big white telephone to vomit into a lavatory bowl. From the image of a sick person leaning over a white lavatory bowl and crying 'God!' in despair US, 1978

white tornado noun freebase cocaine US, 1979 white trash noun an impoverished or anti-social white person or persons; originally, and still, the poverty-stricken white population of the southern US. Originally black usage; derogatory; abbreviates to 'trash' (rubbish) US, 1837 white turtle-neck brigade noun male homosexuals. From a type of jumper that was in vogue, and, perhaps intended as a discreet signal between gay men UK, 1969 white van man noun the average tabloid-reader-in-the-street, the man-in-the-street. It is a statistical probability that the driver constructively criticising your driving is behind the wheel of a white van. Coined in 1997 by BBC Radio 2 DJ Sarah Kennedy UK, 1997 whitewash noun in sports, a victory in which the opponent does not score at all US, 1867 whitewash verb to win a game without your opponent scoring US, 1971 white widow noun a variety of marijuana 2002

white wog noun a Welsh person. Usually jocular, from WOG (any person of non-white ethnicity) and a recognition of the Welsh as a race apart within the British Isles; it is, perhaps, interesting to note that a Welsh accent attempted by an English person has a pronounced tendency to sound Indian UK, 1984 white worm noun an uninfected appendix removed in surgery based on an incorrect diagnosis US, 1994 whitey noun 1 a white person or white people collectively. Insulting; a gesture of resistance US, 1942. 2 an amphetamine pill US, 1982. 3 in pool, the cue ball US, 1983 ► see: WHITE-OUT

Whitney dressed as Britney applied to an older person dressed in a younger fashion. A modern variation of the popular idiom, 'mutton dressed as lamb'; formed on the US entertainers Whitney Houston (b.1963) and Britney Spears (b.1981) UK, 2004 whittle verb ► whittle the gut stick (of a male) to masturbate UK, 2003 whiz noun ► the whiz pick pocketing UK, 1937

whiz verb to urinate US, 1971 whiz; whizz noun 1 a genius; somebody who is extremely proficient at a given activity. An abbreviation of 'wizard' US, 1914. 2 an act of urinating. Often in a construction such as 'take a whiz' US, 1971. 3 whisky US, 1953. 4 on the railways, the pressurised air that operates the brake system US, 1977. ► on the whiz operating as a pickpocket US, 1950

whizbang verb to travel fast US, 1966 whizbang; whizz-bang noun an injected mixture of cocaine and heroin; cocaine; heroin US, 1933 whizbox noun a global positioning system device. Gulf war usage US, 1991 whiz-kid; whizz-kid noun a precociously bright child; hence a young person advancing in business faster than expectations US, 1960

whizo noun a weapons system officer US, 1991

whizz verb to use amphetamines UK, 2000

whizz; wizz; whiz noun amphetamine. A pun on SPEED UK, 1993

whizzbang noun a pretty girl US, 1947 whizzer noun 1 an excellent thing; also used as a nickname for a person who excels UK, 1888. 2 the penis US, 1999. 3 a pickpocket. Variants include 'whiz' and 'whizz' US, 1925. 4 in poker, a successful play of an inferior hand, or the person playing it US, 1988. 5 a drinking bout CANADA, 1975 ► see: WYSSA whizzhead noun a habitual amphetamine user UK, 2000

whizz kid noun a habitual amphetamine user UK, 1999 whizz-kids noun in police use, forensic scientists or a forensic science department. Usually used with 'the'. Formed on 'whizz-kid' (a precociously bright child) UK, 1971

whizz mob noun a gang of pickpockets UK, 1929 whizzo; wizzo noun in the US military, a weapons system operator or officer. From a vocalisation of the abbreviation WSO US, 1993

whizzol; wizzol splendid! UK, 1905 whizzo; wizzo adjective excellent. After WHIZZO! (an exclamation of delight) UK, 1948

whizzy adjective used of a computer program, well-designed and attractive US, 1991 whoa! used for urging a serious reconsideration of the direction that the conversation is taking. From the C19 command to a horse or ox to stop, and still evocative of a simple, rural world US, 1987

whoady noun a close friend or family member US, 2004 who are you looking at? used aggressively as an offensive challenge UK, 1999

Who ate all the pies? You fat bastard, You fat bastard a call and response chant used to taunt anyone who is overweight. A chant from the football terraces that has spread wider UK, 2001 who-began-it noun an admonishment or a threatened beating IRELAND, 2000 who cares? expresses a dismissive lack of concern or interest US, 1844 whodunnit; whodunit noun 1 a murder mystery novel, film or other entertainment; a detective novel. Adopted in the UK in 1942 from the US US, 1930. 2 in prison, a meat pie. A body has been discovered under the pastry! UK, 1950 who he? usually used for jocular or dismissive effect UK, 1981 who knows it? used as a ritualistic questioning of the veracity of a statement US, 1963 whole ball of wax noun everything US, 1953 whole box and dice noun everything AUSTRALIA, 1888 whole hog noun ► go the whole hog to do something in a thorough way US, 1828 whole lot; whole lotta adverb a great deal; very much US, 1907 who loves ya, baby? used for expressing affection in a humorous fashion. The signature line of the police captain played by Telly Savalas on the television police drama Kojak (CBS, 1973–78). Repeated with referential humour US, 1978 whomp back verb to drink. A play on KNOCK BACK (to drink) US, 1973

whomper noun a powerful, hard-breaking wave US, 1964

whoof verb to fart UK, 1966

whoof back verb to eat or drink greedily UK, 2000 whoo-hoo! used as a humorous expression of happiness, usually ironic. From the television cartoon The Simpsons US, 1996 whoop; woop noun a bit; a small amount US, 1904 whoop verb ► whoop it up to make a great deal of rowdy noise US, 1884 whoop; woop noun ► give a whoop in hell to care, generally in a negative context US, 1970 whoop and holler noun an indeterminate, relatively small distance US, 1964 whoop and holler verb to shout; to carry on loudly US, 1969 whoop-de-do noun 1 in horse racing, a style of racing based on the premise of establishing an early lead and then running as fast as possible with maximum whip and heel encouragement US, 1959. 2 in motorcycle racing, a closely spaced sequence of hills or rises US, 1973. 3 a loud and rowdy event or gathering US, 1929 whoop-de-do adjective 1 in horse racing, employing the strategy of riding all-out from the start of the race US, 1948. 2 celebratory, uproarious. Variants include 'whoop-de-doodle' and 'whoopidy-do' US, 1932 whoop-de-dool; woop-tee-dool used as an expression of strong support or celebration. Often ironic US, 2000 whoopee noun ► make whoopee 1 to have sex. A forced and silly euphemism, but one sanctioned by television censors; it was used with annoying regularity by Bob Eubanks, host of The Newlywed Game television programme (ABC, 1966–90) US, 1928. 2 to indulge in, and take pleasure in, boisterous or rowdy merry-making UK, 1933 whoopee! used for expressing great excitement UK, 1862 whoopee card noun a computer punch card with all the holes punched out US, 1991 whoopedool used as an, often ironic, expression of celebration. An elaboration of WHOOPEE! UK, 2001 whoops! used as a hurried expression of regret US, 1937 whoopsie noun a male homosexual US, 1961 whoopsie-daisy!; whoops-a-daisy! used for registering dismay or surprise, often implying clumsiness US, 1925 whoop-up trail noun the terrain over which men and boys ride horses fast CANADA, 1987

Whoor's melt noun ► see: HOOR'S MELT

whop verb to strike someone with heavy blows UK, 1575 whopper noun 1 something that is extremely and unusually large. The best known Whopper in the US is a hamburger sandwich introduced by the original Burger King™ restaurant in Miami in 1957 UK, 1785. 2 a big lie US, 1984 whopper with cheese noun a fat woman with thrush. Medical slang, punning on a well-advertised burger UK, 2002 whopping adjective enormous, powerful UK, 1706 whop stick noun a hammer US, 1992 who pulled your chain? who asked for your opinion?; what has upset you? UK, 1937 who rattled your cage? who asked for your opinion?; what has upset you? UK, 1985 where noun 1 a girl. Used with sarcasm in reference to a girl who is definitely neither a prostitute nor even apparently promiscuous US, 1981. 2 in a deck of playing cards, a queen US, 1967. 3 used as a semi-affectionate term for a man IRELAND, 1959 where verb to work as a prostitute UK, 1583 where-dog noun a promiscuous woman US, 1980 where-hopper noun a frequent customer of prostitutes US, 1977 where house cut noun cutting a deck of cards by removing a section from the middle of the deck and moving it to the top or bottom US, 1951 where note noun a two-dollar note US, 1970 where of Babylon noun an extremely promiscuous woman. Originally a disparaging sobriquet for the Church of Rome, in allusion to the Book of Revelations, Chapter XVII, where she is one of several mysterious Christian allegorical figures of evil US, 1992 where's bath; where splash noun an impromptu and quick cleaning of the body at a sink, with special attention to cleaning the genitals US, 1950 where scars noun puncture wounds and bruises from needle use US, 1970 where's egg noun in lobstering, a sea urchin (Strongylocentrotus drobachiensis) CANADA, 1829 whoreshop noun a brothel UK, 1938 where's melt noun ► see: HOOR'S MELT where-style adverb said when a woman has sex with her underpants still around one leg US, 1973 whoretel noun a hotel or motel that caters for prostitutes US, 1973 where wagon noun a police van used for sweeps to arrest prostitutes US, 1970

Whorez nickname Juarez, Mexico. The phonics work and Juarez has something of a reputation for its prostitutes US, 1970 who-shot-John noun a reproach or interrogation US, 1969 whosis noun used in place of a person's name which the speaker cannot remember or doesn't think is important US, 1953 whosit; whoosit; whozit; whoozit noun used to refer to a name (usually of a person, sometimes a thing) that is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided or hardly worth mentioning UK, 1948 who smelt it dealt it used for attributing the source of a fart. A childish rhyme, sometimes with formulaic responses UK, 1998 who's robbing this coach? mind your own business. This comes from an old joke about Ned Kelly (a famous Australian bushranger) robbing a coach. He declares he's going to 'rob all the men and rape all the women'. A gentlemen attempts to intervene on behalf of the women, when one of the ladies pipes up and says 'Who's robbing this coach, you or Mr Kelly?' AUSTRALIA, 1945 who's up who who is in charge?; what's going on here? Supplied to Baker in a notebook of World War 2 slang. Sometimes used literally as regards the interpersonal relationships of a group of people, but often metaphorically. Also elaborated to 'who's up who and who's paying the rent' AUSTRALIA, 1966 who's your daddy?; who's the daddy? who is in charge (of this situation)? US, 2001 who threw you nuts? who excited your interest?; who asked for your opinion? By implication the person addressed is being called a monkey UK, 1999

Whovian noun a dedicated fan of BBC cult science fiction television programme Dr Who UK, 1998 whup verb to beat someone US, 1945

why-for noun the reason or cause US, 1954

Whykickamoocow noun a notional remote town NEW ZEALAND, 1984

wibbly-wobbly adjective very wobbly; unsteady UK, 1984 wick noun 1 the penis. A reduced form of HAMPTON WICK (PRICK) UK, 1960. 2 an irritating or bad-tempered person UK; SCOTLAND, 1988. 3 in bowls, a glancing blow which (generally more by luck than judgement) brings a bowl into contention. Not a very polite term UK, 1990. ► get on your wick to get on your nerves; to exasperate you. Based on rhyming slang for PRICK (the penis) UK, 1945 wick! used for registering firm approval. Abbreviated from WICKED! but extended to two syllables as spoken 'wee-ick!' by 10-year-old children in Cardiff, south Wales, 16th October 2001 UK, 2001 wick-dipper noun a man objectified sexually. From wick (the penis) and DIP YOUR WICK (to have sex) UK, 1994 wicked noun especially pure heroin UK, 2002 wicked adjective excellent US, 1920 wicked adverb extremely. A rare instance of late C20 American slang that has stayed regional; a common term in New England ('wicked hot', 'wicked cold' etc.) rarely heard elsewhere US, 1984 wicked witch noun a woman, especially a malicious or contemptible woman. Rhyming slang for BITCH UK, 1998 wicker-head noun a Vietnamese peasant. From their straw hats US, 1991 wick off verb to exasperate or aggravate someone. A variation of GET ON YOUR WICK UK, 2002 wicky noun the buttocks BAHAMAS, 1982 wid preposition with. Colloquial pronunciation UK, 1869 widder; widda; widdy noun a widow UK, 1837 widdle verb to urinate UK, 1961 wide noun ► give a wide to avoid something or someone UK, 2000 wide adjective 1 immoral UK, 1594. 2 knowing, informed, aware IRELAND, 1991 wide boy noun a man living by his wits, often a petty criminal UK, 1937 wide brown land noun Australia. Made famous by the poem My Country by Dorothea Mackellar, 1914 AUSTRALIA, 1908 wide girl noun a woman living by her wits, often a petty criminal UK, 1956 wide load noun someone with a broad backside. From a common road sign indicating that ahead of the escorting vehicle is a truck with a wide load US, 1990 wide-on noun a state of sexual excitement in a woman. A jocular riposte to HARD-ON (an erect penis) AUSTRALIA, 1987 wide open adjective unrestrained by authority; unrestricted by the police; wild US, 1950 wide ride noun a heavy woman US, 1994 widger noun 1 a small boy. Noted originally as a Royal Navy usage, probably from the late 1950s; an elaboration of 'wee' (small) UK, 1984. 2 the penis, especially a relatively small penis. Probably direct from the sense as 'a small boy' on the model of LITTLE MAN (the penis) UK, 1997 widget noun used generally for a small gadget; specifically a small device for making beer foam as the can is opened. In the 1990s, UK brewers John Smith's advertisers sold canned beer with a 'widget' – an easier option than to explain the chemistry and technology that creates the beery froth US, 1937 widgie noun a female teenage delinquent of the 'bodgie and widgie' subculture of the 1950s and 60s. Noted for their promiscuity, wild behaviour and revealing clothing. Perhaps a blend of BODGIE with 'wi-', the first syllable of 'women' AUSTRALIA, 1950 wido; wide-oh noun a villain, a petty criminal, a rogue. Probably a variation of WIDE BOY (a petty criminal) UK: SCOTLAND, 1988 widow noun 1 a single word, or two, set on a new line at the end of a paragraph, especially when set on a new page UK, 1925. 2 in some poker games, an extra card dealt to the table for all players to use in their hands US, 1967. 3 in electric line work, a cable grip US, 1980. ► the widow Veuve Clicquot™ champagne; champagne. From French veuve (widow) UK, 1781 widow Jones noun a toilet US, 1949 widow-maker noun 1 the M-16 rifle, introduced as the standard US Army infantry rifle in 1967. Early versions of the rifle were prone to jamming, thus 'making widows' US, 1990. 2 in Vietnam, a Viet Cong booby trap US, 1990. 3 in trucking, any long haul truck US, 1971 widow's mite; widow's noun a light, especially of the type required by a smoker. Rhyming slang UK, 1931 widow's wink; widow's noun a Chinese person. Rhyming slang for CHINK (a Chinese person) UK, 1979

Widow Twankey; widow noun 1 a handkerchief. Rhyming slang for HANKY, formed on the pantomime 'dame' who is Aladdin's mother UK, 1992. 2 an American. Rhyming slang for YANKEE UK, 1992 wiener; weiner noun the penis. The phallic connotations of the food item lead to this usage US, 1960 wiener roast noun a picnic featuring hot dogs US, 1920 wienie noun in drag racing, a slick racing tyre US, 1965 ► see: WEENIE, WEENY wienie roaster noun in drag racing, a jet-powered car US, 1993 wife noun 1 in a homosexual relationship, the more passive or 'feminine' partner US, 1883 ► see: WEENIE, WEENY. 2 in law enforcement, a work partner US, 1988. ► the wife your wife. Folksy, potentially annoying, and almost inevitably patronising US, 1989 wife-beater noun 1 a sleeveless tee-shirt or undershirt US, 1994. 2 any alcoholic drink, especially beer UK: WALES, 2004 wifed up adjective of a male, in a serious relationship with a female who appears to dominate him US, 2004 wife duty noun a promise or obligation to spend time with your wife or girlfriend US, 2000 wife-in-law noun one prostitute in relation to another prostitute working for the same pimp US, 1957 wife's best friend noun the penis AUSTRALIA, 1971 wife starver noun a man who defaults on maintenance payments AUSTRALIA, 1950 wifey; wifie noun a wife. A slightly patronising term UK, 1996 wifey adjective used of a female, dowdy, mature and proper US, 2001 wifie noun an old woman UK, 2002 wig noun 1 the head; the mind US, 1944. 2 a judge; a barrister UK, 1956. ► tighten your wig to use drugs and become intoxicated US, 1986. ► with a wig owing; to pay. A shameless pun on 'toupee' and 'to pay' AUSTRALIA, 1989 wig; wig out verb to lose control of your emotions; to become angry US, 1955 wig-chop noun a haircut. Teen slang US, 1955 wig city noun a medical institution for the mentally ill. Extended from the adjective sense US, 2001 wig city adjective mentally unbalanced, eccentric (usually when the latter is thought to be the former) US, 1998

wigged adjective confused, disoriented, especially as a result of drug use; drug-intoxicated US, 1951 wigged out adjective in an extreme state of drug intoxication, excitement or rage; dissociated from reality US, 1968 wigger; wigga; whigger noun a white youth who affects the speech patterns, fashion and other mannerisms of black youth. An elision of 'white NIGGER' US, 1988 wiggle noun in electric line work, a secondary voltage tester with a glow-light indicator US, 1980. ► get a wiggle on to hurry US, 1896 wiggle verb to wriggle; to walk with a sinuous swaying of the hips. A colloquial variation; in conventional use from the C13 to C19 UK, 2002 wiggle room noun scope for freedom of thought or action; room for political manoeuvring and compromise US, 1941

wigglers noun the fingers US, 1970 wiggly; wiggly-waggly adjective of movement, wriggly; of form, irregularly undulated UK, 1907 wiggy adjective crazy; outstanding; wild; creative US, 1961 wigit noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2003 wig-out noun a period of controlled craziness UK, 2001 wig out verb to become angry, to lose your temper UK, 1955 wig-out adjective crazed UK, 2001 wig picker noun a psychiatrist US, 1961 wig-trig noun an idea US, 1946 wigwag noun in the television and film industries, a light outside a sound stage indicating that shooting is in process US, 1990 wigwam noun in a deck of cards, an ace. From the visual similarity between an 'A' and a wigwam US, 1988 wigwam for a goose's bridle noun used as a nonsense answer to a question AUSTRALIA, 1960

Wilbur Wright; wilbur noun a flight (air travel). Rhyming slang, formed from the elder of the US aviation pioneers, the Wright Brothers UK, 1992

Wilcannia shower noun a dust storm. Wilcannia is an inland town in New South Wales. Other locations similarly used by nature, weather and irony: Bedourie, Bogan, Bourke, Cobar, Darling and Wimmera AUSTRALIA, 1945 wilco; wilco (I) will comply!; generally, used as a signal of assent. Originally used as military communications, often to complement ROGER (message understood). UK, 1946 wild adjective 1 used of film in the television and film industries, shot without sound US, 1990. 2 of prison sentences, served consecutively US, 1972. ► go wild in the bush (used of a white person) to have sex with a black person BAHAMAS, 1982 wild about adjective enthusiastic about; having a strong liking for; sexually infatuated with UK, 1868 wild card noun 1 an unpredictable factor; an unknown. From card playing jargon where it represents a card of no predetermined value US, 2002. 2 a dangerously unpredictable person UK, 2001. 3 an enemy fighter plane US, 1986 wildcat noun 1 strong, illegally manufactured whisky US, 1999. 2 methcathinone mixed with cocaine. An elaboration of CAT (methcathinone) US, 1998. 3 in oil drilling, a well drilled in unproven land US, 1954 wildcat adjective 1 unauthorised, unlicensed, unsanctioned US, 1870. 2 characterised by high risk and unsound business planning US, 1877 wildcatter noun 1 an independent, risk-taking oil driller who drills wildcat wells US, 1883. 2 in trucking, an owner-operator who works independently US, 1946 wild colonial boy noun an uninhibited, free-living man. Originally meaning 'a bushranger'. From the title of a popular folk song and still often used allusively AUSTRALIA, 1881 wild duck noun a person who has failed to pay a debt and is not seen as likely to do so AUSTRALIA, 1989 wild flower noun a variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 2002 wild hair noun an impulsive notion. A shortened form of WILD HAIR UP YOUR ASS without the full connotation of annoyance US, 1989 wild hair up your ass; wild hair up your butt noun the notional cause of irrational, obsessive behaviour US, 1981 wild horse noun a Ford 'Mustang' car. Citizens' band radio slang UK, 1981 wilding noun violent youth gang activity directed towards random victims. A term popularised by the 'Central Park Jogger' case in 1989 US, 1989 wildo noun a person behaving in a wild or crazy manner UK, 1966 wild-out noun a gang fight US, 1999 wild thing noun ► do the wild thing to have sex US, 1990 wild up verb to agitate someone; to make someone nervous US, 2003

Wilfred noun the penis. A variation of WILLY (the penis) UK, 2001

Wilhemina noun a female customer, especially of discreet or illegal services. A feminisation of BILLY BUNTER (a customer) UK, 2002

Wilkie Bard noun a card; a business card; a playing card; a race card, etc. Rhyming slang, formed from a music hall comedian, 1874–1944 UK, 1960

Wilkinson Sword noun bald. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of a razor manufacturer UK, 1998 will do used as an expression of assent to carry out an action. By ellipsis of the personal pronoun, possibly influenced by WILCO UK, 1955 willets noun the female breasts UK, 1998 william noun a piece of currency. A pun on 'bill' US, 1983

William Hague adjective vague. Rhyming slang, formed from the politician who led the Conservative party, 1997–2001 UK, 1998

William Pitt noun excrement. Rhyming slang for SHIT, formed from the British Prime Minister known, historically, as 'Pitt the Elder', 1708–78, or his son, also Prime Minister, 'Pitt the Younger', 1759–1806 UK, 1998

William Powell noun a towel. Rhyming slang, formed from the US film actor, 1874–1944 UK, 1961

William Tell verb to give off an unpleasant smell. Rhyming slang, formed from a legendary Swiss hero UK, 1992

William the Third noun a piece of excrement. Rhyming slang for 'turd' AUSTRALIA, 1968 willie noun 1 a piece of currency. A pun on 'bill' US, 1983. 2 a gambler's wallet or financial resources AUSTRALIA, 1949

Willie Peter; Wilie Peter grenade noun an M-34 white phosphorous anti-personnel hand grenade. Another use of the military phonetic alphabet US, 1977 willies noun a condition of fear or nervousness US, 1896

Willie the Shit Burner noun used as a generic term for the poor soul assigned to collect and burn solid human waste collected in latrines at US military bases in Vietnam US, 1990

willie weaver noun a drunk driver US, 1976 willing adjective gutsy; courageous; unwavering; aggressive AUSTRALIA, 1899 will o' the wisp; willer noun a potato crisp. Rhyming slang UK, 1992

Will's Whiff noun syphilis. Rhyming slang, formed from a brand of small cigar UK, 1992 willy noun 1 the penis. Originally northern English, not dialect, for 'a child's penis' or a childish name for any penis. Adopted by adults as a jocular reference, now widely used as a non-offensive and broadcastable term. The spelling 'willie' is also used UK, 1905. 2 a tantrum. Generally in the phrases 'chuck' or 'throw a willy' AUSTRALIA, 1941. 3 a supply of money for gambling AUSTRALIA, 1949. 4 a wallet AUSTRALIA, 1967 willy-nilly adverb here and there, haphazardly. Not particularly related to the C17 sense of the phrase meaning 'willingly or unwillingly' US, 1934 willy warmer noun the vagina UK, 2001 willy-waving noun macho behaviour that is especially unnecessary or foolish. Formed on WILLY (the penis) UK, 1997 willy-willy noun a small, localised whirlwind. From the Australian Aboriginal language Yindjibarndi AUSTRALIA, 1894

Willy Wonka noun a fool. Rhyming slang for PLONKER (a fool and the penis), that may be an elaborate play on WILLY (the penis) UK, 1998 willy woofter noun a homosexual man. Elaboration of WOOFTER (a male homosexual) UK, 2000

Wilma noun a Protestant female, especially one who is a supporter of Glasgow Rangers football club. A female form of William, and the female equivalent of BILLY-BOY UK: SCOTLAND, 1996 wilma adjective meek. A personification of uncertain pedigree, recorded as a contemporary gay usage UK, 2003

Wilson noun in skateboarding, a fall producing serious injury US, 1984

Wilson Pickett noun 1 a white phosphorous flare or grenade. From the initials WP, Pickett was a popular American rhythm and blues singer US, 1991. 2 a ticket. Rhyming slang, formed from the name of the US soul singer (b.1941) UK, 1992

Wimmera shower noun a dust storm. Wimmera is an inland town in Victoria. Other locations similarly used by nature, weather and irony: Bedourie, Bogan, Bourke, Cobar, Darling and Wilcannia AUSTRALIA, 1945 wimmin; wimmen noun women. The first variation was adopted and promoted by politically aware feminists to avoid ending with 'men'; the second variation is a phonetic accident UK, 1910 wimmos noun women. A variation of pronounced 'wimmin', used by cricketers UK, 2003 wimp noun a weak and timid person. A thorough treatment of the word may be found in 'Wimp', Reinhold Aman, Maledicta, Volume VIII, p. 43–56, 1984–1985. The word played a major role in the US presidential election of 1988, in which President George H.W. Bush had to overcome a widely held perception that he was 'a wimp' US, 1920 wimpish adjective weak, ineffectual US, 1925 wimp out verb to give way to timidity or fear US, 1981 wimpy adjective feeble; afraid. From WIMP (a weak and timid person). Although the adjective was not recorded until the late 1960s, the Popeye the Sailor radio programme gave the US J. Wellington Wimpy, known simply as Wimpy, in 1936 US, 1967 wim verb ► are you winning? used as a rhetorical greeting UK, 1984. ► win hands down to win with great ease. From horse racing, when a jockey may relax the hold on the reins when victory seems certain UK, 1882. ► would win doing hand-springs; would win with its head in its chest; would win shelling peas of a racehorse, certain to win. Also used as 'could win' UK, 1994. ► you can't win used for expressing the futility of action, or the inevitability of failure UK, 1926 winch verb 1 to date a member of the opposite sex; to court; to go steady. Probably from 'wench' (a girl) UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. 2 to kiss and cuddle. Extends from the sense 'to date, to court' UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 winchell noun a trusting, unsophisticated person US, 1972 winco noun a wing commander in the Royal Air Force UK, 1941 wind noun ► a wind so sharp it cuts the whiskers right off your face a cold, hard wind CANADA, 1988. ► get in the wind to run quickly; to depart US, 1965. ► get the wind to smoke marijuana UK, 1998. ► get the wind up; have the wind up to be nervous or scared UK, 1916. ► in the wind free from prison US, 1992. ► put the wind up someone to make someone afraid UK, 1916. ► take someone's wind to kill someone US, 1974

wind verb ► see: WINE wind and kite noun a website. Rhyming slang UK, 2002 windbag noun a habitually verbose talker UK, 1827

windball noun intestinal pain US, 2003 winded adjective hungover US, 1992 winder noun a drug addict who regularly enters and leaves treatment programmes US, 1970 windie noun a wind surfer NEW ZEALAND, 1994

Windies nickname the West Indies international cricket team AUSTRALIA, 1964 windjammer noun 1 a person who talks too much US, 1949. 2 a citizens' band radio user who monopolises conversation US, 1976. 3 in drag racing and hot rodding, a supercharger US, 1968. 4 a railway air brake US, 1946. 5 a hammer. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 windmill noun in hot rodding and drag racing, a supercharger US, 1965 window noun 1 in card games, the card at the end of a player's hand US, 1967. 2 in American casinos, the space through which the careful observer can see the blackjack dealer's down-card as he deals US, 1985. ► out the window; out of the window out of the question US, 1983. ► pick a window – you're leaving! used as a jocular threat of violence UK, 1995. ► window's open used for describing obvious and inept cheating US, 1979 window dress verb in poker, accidentally on purpose to let other players see the end card in your hand US, 1967 window hop verb to move from window to window inside a house at night, waiting for a substance-addicted spouse to come home US, 1998 window-licker noun a severely disabled person. Offensive. Derived, apparently, from the attitude of such a person when seen travelling on a bus UK, 2003 window music noun on the railways, scenery US, 1977 windowpane; window noun a dose of LSD on a tiny, clear piece of gelatin US, 1975 window party noun an act of vengeful vandalism, in which the aggrieved party breaks all the glass in his victim's boat CANADA, 1999 window rattler noun someone who snores with great resonance UK, 1964 window washer noun a heavy rain storm US, 1976

Windoze noun Microsoft Windows™. Not praise US, 1997

wind pie noun nothing to eat FJI, 1994 windshield time noun time spent driving; paid travel time between a reporting location and the job site, or between job sites US, 1978 wind, skin and ice noun as specifications for a car, air conditioning, leather upholstery and in-car entertainment. Motor trade slang UK, 2004

Windsor ballet nickname collectively, the strip and sex clubs in Windsor, Ontario, Canada US, 1997

Windsor Castle; windsor; brown windsor noun the anus. Rhyming slang for ARSEHOLE, formed from a royal residence; shortened to 'windsor' and then punningly elaborated to 'brown windsor' as a type of soup UK, 1992 windsucker noun in horse racing, a horse that swallows air when running US, 1947 wind trap noun strands of hair that a semi-bald man may cultivate and style to lay over his naked pate. Rhyming slang for FLAP UK, 1992 wind tunnel noun in homosexual usage, a loose anus and rectum US, 1981 wind-up noun 1 a practical joke; a send-up UK, 1984. 2 a person who teases UK, 1977 wind up verb 1 to make fun of someone; to play a practical joke on someone. The image of the mainspring in a clockwork motor getting more and more tightly wound UK, 1979. 2 to arrive; to arrive eventually; to settle in a final position US, 1918 windy noun 1 a windproof jacket and over-trousers ANTARCTICA, 2003. 2 in pool, a shot that passes the object ball without touching it. Based on the image of the cue ball breezing by the object ball US, 1993

Windy noun ► the Windy Chicago, Illinois. From the winds that sweep the city; a short form of WINDY CITY US, 1969 windy adjective afraid; very nervous; ill at ease UK, 1916

Windy City nickname 1 Chicago, Illinois. New York slang lexicographer Barry Popik has relentlessly worked to debunk the myth that the term was coined in conjunction with the 1893 World's Fair. Popik has traced the term to Cincinnati newspapers in 1876. Wide usage still US, 1876. 2 Port Elizabeth SOUTH AFRICA, 1989. 3 Wellington, New Zealand NEW ZEALAND, 2004 wind your neck in! 'be quiet!' UK, 1943

Windypeg nickname Winnipeg, Manitoba CANADA, 2002

wine; wind verb while dancing, to gyrate the pelvis in a sexual manner TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1916 wine and dine verb to entertain someone with wine and food. Earlier as 'dine and wine' UK, 1916 wine grape noun a Roman Catholic. Glasgow rhyming slang for PAPE UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 wine head noun a drunkard who favours wine US, 1962 wine shed noun a bar US, 1984

winflly noun a flight made during winter from New Zealand to Antarctica ANTARCTICA, 1969 wing noun 1 the arm UK, 1823. 2 a winning streak in poker US, 1988 wing verb 1 to shoot at someone and wound them but not seriously UK, 1802. 2 to discipline someone UK, 1996. ► wing it to improvise; to do something with little preparation. Originally from the theatre, indicating the necessity of learning a part at short notice, standing in the wings of a stage US, 1970 wing and a prayer noun a very narrow margin of automotive power or control; hence, a slender hope or chance. Originally applied to the minimum requirement for an aircraft's emergency landing UK, 1943

wingding; wing-ding noun 1 a party, a celebration US, 1949. 3 in motorcycle racing, a brief loss of control for which the rider compensates US, 1965. 2 a fit, especially one feigned by a drug addict; a person feigning such a fit US, 1927

wing verb ► see: WHINGE

winging adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1970 wingnut noun a person who is easily angered or flustered. As a piece of hardware, a 'wingnut' is easily tightened – the basis for its application to a person US, 1990 wings noun 1 any powdered drug, especially cocaine, heroin or morphine. Because wings give you the lift that gets you HIGH US, 1953. 2 insignia worn by motorcycle gang members signifying sexual conquests US, 1966. ► get your wings to use heroin for the first time. A nod to aviation terminology US, 1989 wing-wang noun the rectum US, 1970 wing wipe noun a crew member of a military jet aircraft. A term used by the infantry US, 1990 wingy noun a person with one arm US, 1980 wingy adjective very loose-fitting, giving the appearance of extreme thinness TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

wink noun the penis UK, 2001 winker noun the vagina. The imagery of an eye that opens and closes UK, 1970 winkie noun 1 the vagina UK, 2001. 2 a sideways punctuation face indicating laughter, generally formed as ;-)US, 1995 winking noun ► like winking; like eyes-a-winking very quickly UK, 1827 winkle noun a boy's penis; a small penis US, 1966. ► have on the winkle to be obsessed by something UK, 1969 winkle-trip noun a male striptease act performed for an all-female audience on a Thames pleasure boat UK, 1980 winky; winkie noun the penis; a small penis; a boy's penis. Usually juvenile, occasionally derisory; probably a variation of WINKLE UK, 1984 winner noun a loser socially. Sardonic, cruel US, 1964 winners noun dice that have been altered so as to roll numbers other than seven, useful to the shooter in craps US, 1950 winners and losers noun trousers. Glasgow rhyming slang on 'troosers' UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 winny-popper noun the penis. A schoolchildren's term CANADA, 1968 wino noun 1 a lowly drunk US, 1913. 2 a wine connoisseur NEW ZEALAND, 1997 win or lose noun any and all alcoholic drinks. Rhyming slang for BOOZE UK, 1992 wino time noun a short jail sentence US, 1992 winter noun any period between carnival seasons, regardless of the actual time of year US, 1966 winter blossoms noun the older, female, winter residents of a hotel UK, 1977 winterer; winteroverer noun a person who spends the winter in Antarctica ANTARCTICA, 1958

Winterpeg nickname Winnipeg, Manitoba CANADA, 2002 winter wear noun the foreskin on an uncircumsised penis US, 1983 win-win adjective said of a situation in which the parties involved all feel that they have done well US, 1977

wipe noun a handkerchief US, 1981 wipe verb 1 to dismiss or reject a person; to wash your hands of someone AUSTRALIA, 1941. 2 in drag racing, to defeat another car. Created by back-formation; when a car is defeated, the name of the driver is wiped from the list of those competing, so the driver is 'wiped' US, 2003. ► wipe the clock to set a train's air brake valve at the position used for full emergency application. An allusion to the sudden drop of the pressure needle on the air gauge to zero US, 1975. ► wipe the floor with; wipe up the floor with; wipe the earth with; wipe the ground with to inflict an absolute defeat on someone; to surpass someone UK, 1896 wiped adjective 1 infatuated UK, 2004. 2 drunk US, 1968. 3 exhausted US, 1996 wiped out adjective very drug-intoxicated US, 1974 wipe-off noun 1 a cursory washing of the body using little water US, 1953. 2 a total wreck; a write-off AUSTRALIA, 1945 wipe off verb to wreck or ruin something AUSTRALIA, 1962 wipe-out noun a fall from a surfboard, usually caused by a wave. A major word of the surfer's lexicon; it was the title and one-word lyric of the 1963 'surf instrumental' by the Surfaris that featured a drum solo practised on the school desk of many an early 1960s schoolboy AUSTRALIA, 1962 wipe out verb 1 to destroy something; to kill or wound someone US, 1968. 2 to remove someone from their position UK, 1969 wire noun 1 a telegraph message; a telegram UK, 1876. 2 a report; information. A vestigial term from the era of telegraphy UK, 1925. 3 news transmitted privately TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1938. 4 a bookmaking operation US, 1981. 5 a small microphone and transmitting device worn on the person as part of law enforcement interception of oral communications US, 1973. 6 the penis IRELAND, 1991. 7 the buttocks TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1968. 8 in a pickpocketing team, the thief who actually picks the victim's pocket UK, 1851. 9 in horse racing, the finish line US, 1974. 10 amphetamines UK, 2003. 11 in pool, the score string US, 1993. ► have your wires crossed; get your wires crossed to be at cross purposes; to be affected by a mutual misunderstanding UK, 2001. ► on the wire in pool, having scored or having been awarded a score as part of the handicapping of a game US, 1993 wire verb 1 to send a telegraph message UK, 1859. 2 to use a small microphone or transmitting device to intercept oral communications US, 1973. 3 in skateboarding, to analyse and plan a difficult manoeuvre or trick US, 1976 wired adjective 1 intoxicated on amphetamines or cocaine. Also used with 'up' US, 1966. 2 tense, anxious UK, 1979. 3 well-rehearsed US, 1995. 4 used of a pair in stud poker, dealt in the first two cards of a hand US, 1981 wired to the moon adjective extremely drug-intoxicated. An elaboration of WIRED (drug-intoxicated) UK, 1995 wired up adjective 1 intoxicated on central nervous system depressants US, 1979. 2 available for homosexual relations US, 1961 wire-fu noun a technique that employs wires and pulleys to create choreographed martial art fights. Formed on 'kung fu' US, 1997 wirehead noun a computer hardware specialist US, 1991 wire room noun an illegal betting establishment's telephone office US, 1950 wires noun any central nervous system stimulant US, 1977 wire store noun a big con based on a supposedly corrupt telegraph official who claims he can delay the reporting of race results to the benefit of the victim US, 1969 wire to wire noun in horse racing, the entire distance of the race, from start to finish US, 1951 wise verb to inform or educate someone; to explain something US, 1905. ► wise up; wise up to to learn, realise or understand something US, 1919 wise adjective ► be wise; be wise to; get wise; get wise to to be aware of something; to be warned about something US, 1896. ► put wise; put wise to to make someone aware of something; to warn someone about something US, 1913

-wise suffix in the manner of, or to do with, a conjoined subject US, 1942 wiseacre noun a smart alec UK, 1595 wiseass noun an obnoxious person with delusions of cleverness US, 1971 wisecrack noun a smart, humorous, sometimes cruel remark US, 1924 wisecrack verb to make smart, humorous and sometimes cruel remarks US, 1946 wisecracker noun someone who makes smart, humorous and sometimes cruel remarks US, 1923 wisecracking adjective given to making smart, humorous and sometimes cruel remarks US, 1915 wise guy noun a recognised member of an organised crime enterprise US, 1975 wise monkey noun a condom. Rhyming slang for DUNKY, influenced perhaps by the usual number of wise monkeys and a PACKET OF THREE UK, 1992 wisenheimer noun a smart alec, a wise guy UK, 1904 wisepuss noun an obnoxious person with delusions of cleverness. A variation of WISEASS US, 1971 wish verb to greet someone INDIA, 1979 wishbone noun in hot rodding, a triangular suspension control device US, 1993 wishing book noun a mail-order catalogue US, 1975 wish-was noun someone who wishes that he were something that he is not US, 1991 wishy-washy adjective 1 weak; uncertain UK, 1703. 2 in poor condition TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1993

wiss noun a urination. Glasgow slang UK, 1996 wisteria adjective clingy. From the characteristics of the plant; a contemporary gay usage UK, 2003 wit noun a witness US, 1999 wit! 'what was just said is not funny!' US, 1986 witch noun ► the witch any powdered drug; cocaine, heroin, etc US, 1949 witch doctor noun a doctor who specialises in internal medicine US, 1985 witches' knickers noun plastic bags caught up in trees or shrubs IRELAND, 2000 witch hazel noun heroin US, 1959 witch's brew noun LSD enhanced with botanical drugs from plants such as deadly nightshade or jimsonweed US, 1970 witch's cackle noun the male genitals. Rhyming slang for WEDDING TACKLE UK, 2003 with authority! used as a humorous comment on a remark made or action taken without hesitation and boldly. Coined on ESPN's Sports Center while narrating footage showing a basketball slam dunk US, 1997 with it adjective aware of all that is happening; stylish; part of a subculture US, 1945 without adjective clueless; out of touch; out of style US, 1999 wiwi noun a French person. A Maori approximation of the French 'Oui, Oui' NEW ZEALAND, 1998

wix adjective excellent. Urban youth slang. Probably a reduction of WICKED UK, 2005 wizard noun 1 an expertly skilled person UK, 1620. 2 in computing, a person who has specific and detailed expertise US, 1983. 3 in pinball, an expert player US, 1977

wizard adjective excellent, marvellous. Magical origins; mainly used by the privileged and officer classes until after World War 2, then widespread. Of upper-class society use: '[...] still used, though almost always in inverted commas' (Ann Barr and Peter York, The Official Sloane Ranger Handbook, p.159, 1982) UK, 1922 wizard! used for expressing approval UK, 1933 wizard's sleeve noun a capacious vagina. Coined for humorous magazine Viz UK, 1999

wizz noun ► see: WHIZZ, WHIZZO wizzard; wizzard of oz noun an ounce of marijuana. This plays on the conventional abbreviation 'oz' (ounce) and, by association with the film The Wizard of Oz, 1939, which contains the song 'Somewhere Over The Rainbow', suggesting where this measure of marijuana might take you. The misspelling 'wizzard', if deliberate, may be punning on WHIZZ (amphetamine) UK, 2001

wizzo noun the weapons officer on a military aircraft US, 1998 wizzy adjective excellent, exciting, wonderful; used for registering general approval. A variation of WIZARD UK, 1998 wizzy-wizzy verb to whisper BARBADOS, 1965

wobble verb ► wobble the job to cause trouble among workers on a unionised worksite CANADA, 1989 wobble board noun a simple musical instrument made of a sheet of stiff material that is wobbled rhythmically. Invention of the instrument and its name is credited to Australian artist and entertainer Rolf Harris (b.1930) AUSTRALIA, 1957

wobbler noun 1 an outburst of temper UK, 1983. 2 in trucking, a spoke wheel US, 1971. ► throw a wobbler to have a fit of bad temper or anger US, 2003

wobblestick noun a gear lever on a truck or car US, 1971 wobbles; wobs noun a powerful and deep vibration of the board while skateboarding fast US, 1976

wobbly noun a fit of anger UK, 1977. ► throw a wobbly to have a fit of bad temper or anger NEW ZEALAND, 1984

Wobbly noun a member of the anarchist trade union the International Workers of the World US, 1914 wobbly adjective uncertain; undecided; risky UK, 1984 wobbly egg; wobbly; egg noun a capsule of Temazepam™, a branded tranquillizer; any central nervous system depressant; in the plural it refers to the drug in general. From the characteristic nature of gelatine, the original method of manufacturing the capsules UK, 1996 wobbly hole noun in trucking, the neutral gear US, 1971 wobbly orange noun a warrant officer in the Royal Air Force. A ludicrous re-use of the initials UK, 2002 wodge; wadge noun a large amount. Originally used of a bulky mass UK, 1860 wog noun 1 any person of non-white ethnicity; a native of the Indian subcontinent; an Arab; any (non-British) foreigner, as in 'the wogs begin at Calais'. Derogatory, patronising. Derives possibly from an abbreviation of 'golliwog' (a caricature, black-faced, curly-haired doll) but the widest usage is in reference to Asians and not black people. Popular, unproven etymology has 'wog' as an acronym of 'Western(ised) [or] Wily Oriental Gentleman' UK, 1929. 2 any language that isn't English AUSTRALIA, 1988. 3 a germ that causes an illness AUSTRALIA, 1941

wog adjective 1 foreign UK, 1956. 2 of non-Anglo-Celtic origin AUSTRALIA, 1944

wogball noun SOCCER AUSTRALIA, 1984

wog box noun a large portable stereo system associated, stereotypically, with black youth culture UK, 1990 woggy adjective 1 characteristic of a non-white person AUSTRALIA, 1988. 2 of non-Anglo-Celtic background AUSTRALIA, 1968

wojus adjective inferior; of poor quality IRELAND, 2004 woke-up adjective informed; up-to-date US, 1968 wolf noun 1 a sexually aggressive man US, 1945. 2 in prison, an aggressive, predatory homosexual US, 1952. 3 in homosexual anal sex, the active participant US, 1940. 4 a prison sentence of 15 years US, 1990s wolf verb to act in a sexually aggressive manner US, 1974

wolf bait noun an attractive young woman US, 1960

Wolfhounds noun the 27th Infantry Regiment of the 25th Division. Formed in 1901, named by the White Russians in World War 1, distinguished fighters in World War 2, Korea and Vietnam US, 1968 wolf in the pack noun a traffic police car in the midst of other cars US, 1962 wolf pack noun a group of friends who play poker at cardrooms, taking advantage of unskilled strangers US, 1996

wolf-pack verb 1 to engage in criminal gang activity US, 1982. 2 to congregate with other teenagers around their cars at shopping centre car parks, drinking beer and idling US, 1989 wolf ticket noun a threat or other act of intimidation used to coerce US, 1974

wolf whistle noun a distinctive whistle (generally, a sharply terminated rising note, followed by one that rises briefly before descending and fading) used as a declaration of appreciation for a sexually attractive person. After WOLF (a sexually aggressive man), and generally, but not exclusively, in the vocabulary of men US, 1952 wolf-whistle verb to whistle in a distinctive declaration of appreciation for a sexually attractive person. From the noun US, 1955 wollie; woolah noun crack cocaine added to a marijuana cigarette or cigar US, 1989 wolly noun ▶ see: WALLY wollyback noun anyone living in a rural area IRELAND, 1995 wolver noun the penis. Rhyming slang, formed from Midlands' town Wolverhampton as an elaboration of 'hampton', the shortened form of HAMPTON WICK (PRICK) UK, 1967 woman in the sun noun heroin. Collected in private correspondence with certain musicians UK, 2001 womb noun the rectum US, 1983 wombat noun 1 a dull, uninteresting or stupid person. From the name of a stocky native nocturnal marsupial AUSTRALIA, 1905. 2 in computing, a waste of money, brains and time US, 1991 wombat-headed adjective stupid; fat-headed. First used by the bushranger Ned Kelly in his famous 'Jerilderie Letter' in 1879 AUSTRALIA, 1971 womb broom noun the penis US, 1973 womb duster noun the penis US, 1977 womble noun 1 in prison, an inmate detailed as a litter collector. After the children's characters created by Elizabeth Beresford, and in a BBC television series launched in 1973 UK, 2003. 2 a fool UK, 1986 womble verb to pick up litter. From the raison d'être of children's television characters in The Wombles, who collected litter in the 70s from 1973, and again from 1998 UK, 1996 womb sweeper noun the penis US, 1978 womb-trembler noun something that causes great excitement UK, 2001 women and children off the street! in shuffleboard, used as a humorous commentary on a hard shooter US, 1967

womp; whomp verb to beat someone US, 1964 wonder star noun methcathinone UK, 1998 wonder veg noun any mushroom with a hallucinogenic effect UK, 1996 wonder wand noun the penis. An elaboration of WAND (the penis) US, 2001 wong verb in casino blackjack, to play several hands at a table where the count of cards played favours the player, and then to move on to another table. Named after Stanford Wong, a blackjack expert US, 1991 wonga noun 1 money. From Romany wanger or wonger, defined by George Borrow in Romano Lavo-Lil, 1907, as 'Coal. Also a term for money, probably because Coal in the cant [criminal] language signifies money'. Romany 'wongar-camming miser' is literally 'one who loves coal'. (Now obsolete 'coal', also 'cole', meant 'money' from the mid-C17, and all but faded away by C20). Variants include 'wong' and 'wonger' UK, 1953. 2 marijuana UK, 1985 wonk noun a student who studies harder than contemporaries consider necessary; a political professional who is studious and therefore well informed. Derogatory US, 1962 wonkey; wonky adjective broken US, 2001 wonk out verb to study excessively US, 1987 wonky adjective 1 unbalanced; out-of-true. Variation of obsolete sense of 'wanky' (inferior, damaged) UK, 1919. 2 unsound or unreliable UK, 1925. 3 intellectual; out of touch with reality US, 1970 won't do itself used before tackling any task as an expression of resigned determination. A very clichéd truism if not a catchphrase UK, 1999 woo noun sexual foreplay NEW ZEALAND, 1998 wood noun 1 the fully erect penis US, 1991. 2 the penis TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1950. 3 in a casino or other gambling establishment, a person who watches without playing. An abbreviation of

DEADWOOD US, 1950. ▶ have the wood on someone to have an advantage over someone AUSTRALIA, 1949. ▶ on the wood 1 in horse racing, racing along the rail US, 1994. 2 in hot rodding and motor racing, throttled to the maximum US, 1993

Woodbine; woodie; woody; wood noun any cheap cigarette. From branded 'Wild Woodbine™' cigarettes, manufactured by WD & HO Wills and among the cheapest to be had UK, 1916 wood burner noun an attractive female. A suggestion that the woman consumes WOOD in the 'erect' sense of the word US, 1990 wooden verb to beat someone with a club of some sort AUSTRALIA, 1905 wooden adjective in poker, said of a hand that is unplayable US, 1951 wooden aspro noun a blow to the head with a police baton NEW ZEALAND, 1980 wooden cat noun a Morris Traveller car. Citizens' band radio slang; OLD CAT is a Morris Minor; this 'cat' is amended for the wooden bars in the model's design UK, 1981 woodener noun a sentence of imprisonment for 30 days. Rhyming slang, WOODEN SPOON for MOON (a month's imprisonment) UK, 1950 wooden hill; little wooden hill noun the stairs. Nursery use, especially in the phrase CLIMB THE WOODEN HILL TO BEDFORDSHIRE (to go upstairs to bed) UK, 1961 wooden horses noun a carousel BARBADOS, 1965 wooden Indian noun a poker player who does not talk or display emotion US, 1996 wooden leg noun an egg. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 wooden overcoat noun a coffin. A bleakly cynical euphemism, since 1903. Later variations are 'wooden kimono', 1926 and 'wooden suit', 1968 UK, 1903 wooden plank noun an American, especially an American in the UK. Rhyming slang for YANK UK, 1992 wooden spoon noun 1 a notional trophy awarded to an individual or a team placed last in a competition. From an actual wooden spoon that was customarily presented to the lowest on the Mathematical Tripos list at Cambridge University UK, 1858. 2 a month's imprisonment. Rhyming slang for MOON UK, 1998 wooden-spooner noun in a sporting competition, an individual or team that comes last. From WOODEN SPOON UK, 1954 wooden-spoonist noun in a competition, an individual or team that comes last. From WOODEN SPOON UK, 1927 woodentop noun 1 a uniformed police officer. After the children's television puppet show The Woodentops (1955–58). The variant 'woody' is also used UK, 1982. 2 a fool; also attributed as an adjective. After the sense 'a police officer' UK, 1983

Wood family noun used as a humorous description of empty seats in a theatre UK, 1952 woodfoot noun numbing of the foot in cold water. Surfing usage US, 2004 woodie noun 1 a Wills Woodbine™ cigarette UK, 1931. 2 a wooden powerboat, especially one built between the 1920s and 60s US, 2001

wooding noun among vagrant alcoholics, a task of collecting firewood UK, 1966 woodpecker noun a machinegun AUSTRALIA, 1898 woodpile noun 1 a xylophone US, 1945. 2 the area in a prison yard where white prisoners exercise. Formed from PECKERWOOD (a white person) and IRON PILE (weightlifting equipment) US, 1989 woodpile cousin noun an actual, if distant, blood relative US, 1975 wood rash noun any injury, especially grazing, sustained when riding a skateboard on a wooden ramp. A combination of location and appearance; ironically modest US, 2001 woods noun the vulva; a woman's pubic hair. Usually used with 'the' US, 1968 woods French noun a limited ability in French CANADA, 1980

woodshed verb to rehearse, especially in private US, 1936 woodsman noun a male pornography performer who can be counted upon to maintain an erection as long as needed and to ejaculate more or less on demand US, 1995 woodster noun a male pornography performer whose erections can be counted on US, 2000 woods noun a party held in the country US, 1967 woodwork noun ► come out of the woodwork; crawl out of the woodwork; creep out of the woodwork (of someone or something unpleasant) to appear; to arrive on the scene; to emerge. Usage is often with humorous intent but the allusion is to insects normally found in the woodwork – woodworm, deathwatch beetle, cockroach, etc UK, 1973 woody; woodie noun 1 an erection. US pornographer Joey Silvera is given credit for coining this term, which did not stay within the confines of pornography for long US, 1985. 2 a car with wood or synthetic wood paneling on its body US, 1962 ► see: WOODBINE woody pill noun a genuine or a generic Viagra™ tablet. Based on WOODY (an erection) UK, 2002

Woody Woodpecker noun a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, embossed with a representation of the popular animation character UK, 1999 woof verb 1 to vomit US, 1978. 2 to eat very quickly. Possibly from 'wolf down' UK, 1943. 3 to threaten or intimidate someone; to engage someone in ritualistic, quasi-friendly insulting US, 1967 woof! used as a shout of approval, especially as a male declaration of appreciation for a sexually desirable female. Originated by television talk show host Arsenio Hall in 1989; the barking is accompanied by a pumped raised hand, fist clenched US, 1992 woofer noun an unattractive woman or man. A variation of DOG UK, 1995 woofter noun a homosexual man. A variation of POOFTER (a male homosexual) UK, 1977 woofterish adjective ineffectual NEW ZEALAND, 1993 wook noun a quintessential rural hippie. From the Wookie character in the George Lucas Star Wars films US, 2004 wool noun 1 pubic hair; by extension, sex US, 1972. 2 used derogatively of someone who is not from the city; a stereotypical country-dweller; a YOKEL. From WOOLLY BACK UK, 2001

woola; woolas; wooly; wool noun crack cocaine or phencyclidine sprinkled over marijuana which is then smoked in a cigarette; a hollowed-out cigar filled with marijuana and phencyclidine US, 1995 woolah noun ► see: WOLLIE woolie noun a female's pubic hair NEW ZEALAND, 1994

woolies noun winter clothing US, 1945

Woolies nickname high street shop FW Woolworth's, later Woolworth's AUSTRALIA, 1944

woollies noun marijuana and crack cocaine mixture; marijuana and phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust UK, 1998

Woolloomooloo Yank noun an Australian who puts on an American accent AUSTRALIA, 1945 woolly noun 1 a black person. Variants include 'wooley head' US, 1969. 2 in CID slang, a uniformed police officer UK, 1965 woolly back noun 1 a stereotype of the unsophisticated country-dweller. An allusion to the intelligence and appearance of sheep UK, 1981. 2 a Welsh person US, 2003 woollyback breaker noun a citizens' band radio user from North Wales. Citizens' band radio slang BREAKER (a citizens' band user) with an allusion to sheep UK, 1981 woolly mitten noun a kitten. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 woolly nose noun a railway fettler AUSTRALIA, 1969 woolly-pully noun a military-issue heavy jumper. A customised woollen pullover UK, 1984 woolly vest noun a pest. Rhyming slang UK, 1998 woolly woofter; woolly noun a male homosexual. Rhyming slang with POOFTER AUSTRALIA, 1988

Woolwich and Greenwich noun spinach. Rhyming slang, formed from two London locations for crossing over the Thames UK, 1992

Woolwich Ferry noun sherry. Rhyming slang, formed from a transport across the Thames UK, 1992

Woolworth noun in hold 'em poker, a five and a ten as the first two cards dealt to a player. Woolworth's was the most famous five and dime store in the US US, 1981

Woolworth's finest noun in shuffleboard, a ten US, 1967 wooly bear noun in caving and pot-holing, a fibre-pile undersuit US, 1997 wooly blunt; woolly blunt noun a marijuana and crack cocaine cigarette UK, 2003 woop noun ► see: WHOOP

Woop Woop noun an imaginary remote place AUSTRALIA, 1918 wooshed up adjective having been whisked to a froth (as of a milkshake); figuratively of anything having been subjected to random inflation (see citation) UK, 1999

wooter noun the penis US, 1981 wooz noun marijuana. From WOOZY (intoxicated) UK, 2003 wooziness noun a fuddled state, muzziness; often used to describe a morning-after-the-night-before feeling US, 1977 woozy adjective unsteady; dizzy; disoriented; intoxicated with drugs or drink. Anglicised by Conan Doyle in 1917 US, 1897 wop noun an Italian immigrant or Italian-American US, 1914. ► up the wop 1 pregnant NEW ZEALAND, 1981. 2 broken; unsound NEW ZEALAND, 2001

wop adjective Italian US, 1961 wopcacker noun a superlative example of something AUSTRALIA, 1941

wop-jawed adjective in circus and carnival usage, amazed by an act or demonstration US, 1981 wop-wops noun remote back country NEW ZEALAND, 1984 word noun ► get a word in edgeways to contribute to a conversation. Generally in a negative form UK, 1984. ► put the word on someone to proposition someone AUSTRALIA, 1975. ► take the word in the illegal production of alcohol, to warn someone about a pending law enforcement raid US, 1974. ► the word 1 gossip, rumours US, 1961. 2 an order US, 1962 word verb to speak to someone AUSTRALIA, 1905 word! used for expressing assent US, 1987 word in your shell-like noun a brief and discreet (one-sided) conversation. Variation of 'word in your ear'; 'shell-like', which does not appear outside of this phrase until later, derives from a similarity of shape between the ear and some (delicate, pink) shells UK, 1985 words noun a quarrel (of violent words not actions). A refinement of a sense that has served since 1462 UK, 1862 word up verb to speak to someone in a flattering manner AUSTRALIA, 1985 word up 1 used for expressing agreement US, 1986. 2 used as a greeting. Used in the hip-hop community US, 2003 work noun 1 the betting slips in an illegal lottery or gambling operation US, 1972. 2 cheating in gambling, especially in craps. The statement 'There's work down' means that altered dice or cards are in play US, 1950. 3 dice or cards that have been altered for the purpose of cheating US, 1963. 4 crack cocaine US, 1989. 5 sex US, 1959. ► do the work on someone to kill someone US, 1994. ► have your work cut out; have your work cut out for you; have all your work cut out to have enough, or all you can manage, to do – anything more would be too much. From an earlier sense (to have your work prepared for you) UK, 1856 work verb 1 to cheat at gambling US, 1963. 2 to have sex with someone US, 1957. 3 to sell drugs US, 1993. 4 to dilute a powdered drug US, 1989. ► to get worked to be knocked from your surfboard and pummeled by the ocean US, 1987. ► work a ginger (of a prostitute) to rob a client. From GINGER AUSTRALIA, 1953.

 ► work for Standard Oil to drive a truck that burns excessive amounts of fuel or oil US, 1971. ► work like a charm to achieve a purpose with absolute ease. From the idea of a magic charm influencing the action UK, 1882. ► work like a nigger to work very hard. Praise and contempt in equal parts US, 1836. ► work the cuts (used of a prostitute) to solicit customers on the streets US, 1987. ► work the glory rode to affect religious conversion while in prison in the hope of receiving an early parole US, 1976. ► work the hole to rob drunks sleeping on underground platforms or in the carriages US, 1953. ► work the kerb (of a prostitute) to ply for trade from passing motorists UK, 2002. ► work the nuts to operate a shell game in a circus midway or carnival US, 1980. ► work the other side of the street to be on opposing sides of a bipolar situation; to make a living as a criminal US, 1982. ► work your bollocks off to work very hard UK, 2002. ► work your ticket to obtain a discharge from employment on the grounds of physical injury or ill health; originally military but in the prevailing compensation culture applied to any employment situation where benefits of discharge are considerable, and thus fraudulent endeavour is often implied UK, 1899 workaround noun in computing, a temporary fix of a problem US, 1991 worker noun 1 a professional wrestler who puts on a good performance US, 1999. 2 a member of a drug-selling enterprise who sells drugs on the street US, 1995. 3 a gambling cheat US, 1962. 4 in the circus or carnival, a large blown-up balloon shown by the concession selling packages of balloons US, 1980

workie noun a worker UK, 2002 working adjective in craps, said of a bet that will be in effect on the next roll US, 1981 working boy noun a male prostitute US, 1987 working class noun a glass. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 working classes noun spectacles, glasses. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 working end noun the dangerous end of a tool or weapon US, 1992 working fifty noun a large piece of crack cocaine bought at a wholesale price US, 1990 working girl noun a prostitute US, 1968 working john noun an honest, hard-working man US, 1957 workingman's weed noun marijuana. An allusion to the 1970 album 'Workingman's Dead' by the Grateful Dead, a band well known for the use of recreational drugs UK, 2000 working-over noun a beating-up, a thrashing UK, 1984 working parts noun the genitals UK, 1995 working stiff noun a hard-working labourer US, 1966 work is the curse of the drinking classes a catchphrase that reverses a popular cliché. Attributed to Oscar Wilde UK, 1946 work out verb to masturbate US, 2002 work over verb to beat someone up; to thrash someone (both physically and figuratively) UK, 1927 works noun the equipment used to prepare and inject drugs US, 1934.

- get on someone's works to annoy someone AUSTRALIA, 1956.
- in the works already in progress, due to happen CANADA, 1973.
- the works the complete treatment US, 1899 works adjective in motor racing, supported by the car manufacturer US, 1965 works for me! used for expressing agreement. A signature line of Los Angeles Police Department Detective Sergeant Rick Hunter on the television police drama Hunter (NBC, 1984–91). Repeated with referential humour US, 1991 world noun ► the world during the war in Vietnam, back home, the US, life outside the military US, 1970 world of shit noun a very dangerous situation US, 1984 worlds noun commercially manufactured cigarettes US, 1990 worm noun 1 a computer program that maliciously duplicates itself repeatedly in a host computer until it clogs and crashes the system US, 1990. 2 a coiled condenser used in the illegal production of alcohol US, 1974. 3 a facial blemish BARBADOS, 1965. 4 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1981. 5 an inexperienced oil field worker US, 1984. ► wet down the worm to perform oral sex on a man US, 2001 worm and snail; worm noun a fingernail. Rhyming slang UK, 1992 worm dirt noun chewing tobacco. An obvious visual comparison US, 2001 worms noun ► are you keeping it for the worms?; are you saving it for the worms? said, probably in frustration, to a female rejecting sexual advances or to one who is presumed to be a virgin. 'It' being a state of virginity, 'the worms' signifying death US, 1977

Wormtown nickname Worcester, Massachusetts US, 1997 wormy adjective nervous or anxious, especially when manifested in the stomach NORFOLK ISLAND, 1992 worra laff! what a laugh! A phonetic slovening, probably of Liverpool origin UK, 1999 worry verb 1 to steal something CAYMAN ISLANDS, 1985. 2 (said of a jockey in horse racing) to ride a horse US, 1951 worse for wear adjective 1 somewhat drunk UK, 1984. 2 hung over US, 1979 worse luck! more's the pity! UK, 1861 worth adjective ► not worth two cents to jingle on a tombstone of a person, without any redeeming qualities CANADA, 1988. ► worth a few bob; worth a bob or two of people, fairly wealthy, of things, fairly valuable. From BOB (a shilling, now equivalent to 5p but not of equal value) UK, 1981 wossface noun a person whose name is unknown, forgotten, to be avoided, or hardly worth mentioning. A slurring of WHAT'S-HIS-FACE UK, 2001

wossie noun ► see: WUSSIE

wot pronoun what UK, 1829 wotcher; watcha; what yer used as a greeting. Elision of the C16 greeting 'what cheer'. Stereotypically Cockney but in wider use. The earliest recorded use is "Wot cher!" all the neighbours cried, / "Who're yer goin' to meet, Bill? Have you bought the street, Bill?" (Albert Chevalier, 'Wot Cher!' or 'Knocked 'em in the Old Kent Road', 1891) UK, 1953 wot no...? used humorously for registering an absence or a shortage. A misspelling of 'what' provides this endlessly variable graffiti catchphrase, presented in a speech-bubble, or as a caption to a drawing of Chad, or Mr Chad looking over a wall, this used to highlight or protest about another World War 2 shortage. The formula has lingered in speech but Chad slowly faded from view UK, 1945 wotsit noun an unnamed thing. Reduction of the phrase 'what is it?', usually seen as WHATSIT; this variation is possibly inspired by Golden Wonder's Wotsits™, a popular cheesy flavour snack UK, 1997 wotsit in a sock noun the penis. A specific variation of WHATSIT (an unspecified object) UK, 2005 wouldn't it? used for expressing exasperation. Elliptical for such phrases as 'wouldn't it make you sick', though mostly euphemistically so for such phrases containing profanity, such as 'wouldn't it give you the shits' or 'wouldn't it root you' AUSTRALIA, 1940 wouldn't it rip you? used for expressing exasperation AUSTRALIA, 1941 wouldn't it root you? used for expressing exasperation. Also WOULDNT IT RIP/ ROTATE YOU? both of which are presumably euphemisms for the 'root' form, even though the earliest recorded form is 'rip' (1941, Australian National Dictionary). Also, 'wouldn't it root your boot' AUSTRALIA, 1945 wouldn't it rotate you? used for expressing exasperation. Euphemistic for WOULDNT IT ROOT YOU AUSTRALIA, 1944 wouldn't it rot your socks? used for expressing exasperation AUSTRALIA, 1982 wouldn't say no used for registering acceptance of something, sometimes as a suggestion that something would be accepted if it were offered UK, 1939 wouldn't work in an iron lung to be extremely lazy AUSTRALIA, 1971 would you believe...? used for humorously probing for a statement that can be believed. The signature line of spy Maxwell Smart, played by Don Adams, on the television comedy Get Smart (1965–70). Adams had used the line earlier on The Bill Dana Show (NBC, 1963–65). Repeated with referential humour US, 1965 wounded soldier noun a bottle or can of beer that has been partly consumed. Playing on DEAD SOLDIER as 'an empty bottle' US, 1991 wound up adjective angry, annoyed. The image is of a clock's mainspring wound too tight and ready to lose control UK, 2001 wow noun 1 a thing of wonder; a sensational success. From the exclamation 'wow!' US, 1920. 2 an exclamation mark (!) US, 1983

Wow nickname the psychiatric hospital in Auckland. The hospital is near the Whau River NEW ZEALAND, 1998 wowser noun a spoilsport of the worst kind; a moral crusader; a prude. Claimed by John Norton, editor of the Sydney Truth (1891–1916) as his own coinage and an acronym from the phrase 'we only want social evils remedied', a supposed catchcry of 'the wowsers'. This story has sadly never been corroborated, and its derivation must be sought elsewhere. The Australian National Dictionary suggests British dialect wow (to howl or bark as a dog, to complain), which seems to fit well, but one correspondent to the Truth in 1910, after denying the word as Norton's invention, goes on to say 'a false sense of public decency forbids the publication of the derivation and true meaning', which suggests some profane origin AUSTRALIA, 1900 wowserish adjective prudish; puritanical AUSTRALIA, 1906 wowserism noun the characteristic behaviour of a WOWSER; prudishness AUSTRALIA, 1904

wowseristic adjective prudish; puritanical AUSTRALIA, 1907

woz was. A deliberate misspelling, especially in graffiti UK, 1984 woza noun a person who used to be successful or well known. From 'was a' UK, 2001 wozzed adjective exhausted NEW ZEALAND, 1998 wrap noun 1 a small paper-wrapping containing powdered drugs UK, 1996. 2 a wrapped roll of coins US, 1977. 3 the end of a session. Originally from the entertainment industry, extended to general situations US, 1972. 4 praise; a compliment or commendation. Variants include 'wrap-up', 'rap' and 'rap-up' AUSTRALIA, 1939 wrap; wrap up noun ► wrap yourself around to eat or consume something AUSTRALIA, 1965 wrap; wrap up verb to roll a marijuana cigarette UK, 1999. ► wrap round; wrap around to crash a vehicle into an immovable object UK, 1950 wrap-head noun a follower of the Pocomania Afro-Christian religion JAMAICA, 1987 wrapped; wrapped up adjective pleased; overjoyed; enamoured AUSTRALIA, 1963 wrapper noun 1 a motor vehicle. Citizens' band radio' slang US, 1976. 2 an unmarked police vehicle. Originally citizens' band radio slang. Variants include 'plain wrapper' and 'plain wrap' US, 1976. ► in the wrapper 1 drunk US, 1985. 2 in bed US, 1997 wraps noun cigarette rolling papers US, 1994. ► under wraps kept in secret UK, 1939 wrap-up noun a female sex-partner who, by a vague yet firm understanding, is regularly available UK, 1970 wrap up verb 1 to cease talking; to stop making a noise. Usually in the imperative, often as a two word exclamation UK, 1958. 2 to complete the final days of a prison sentence US, 1976 wreck verb ► wreck my head to agitate me to an extreme degree IRELAND, 2003 wrecked adjective very drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1968 wrecking crew noun 1 theatre insiders who watch a show's early performances and spread negative comments about the show US, 1973. 2 crack cocaine UK, 1998. 3 on the railways, a relief crew US, 1946

wren noun a woman US, 1920 wrench noun in drag and motor racing, a mechanic US, 1980 wrench verb 1 to go US, 2002. 2 to disrupt or upset someone US, 1976. 3 in motor racing and hot rodding, to perform mechanical work on a car, whether it literally involves using a wrench or not US, 2004

wrench artist noun a railway mechanic US, 1977

wrencher noun a car enthusiast with considerable mechanical ability US, 2003 wrestle; rattle verb to play a game of bar dice US, 1971 wretch verb to vomit US, 1966 wriggle noun ► get a wriggle on to hurry. A variation of GET A WIGGLE ON AUSTRALIA, 1971 wriggle out verb to avoid a responsibility or duty UK, 1848 wriggly adjective out of the ordinary; suspiciously different UK, 1995 wring verb ► wring out your mule to urinate US, 1974. ► wring out your sock to urinate US, 1988. ► wring the rattlesnake to urinate AUSTRALIA, 1971 wringer noun a bankruptcy petition US, 1954 wrinkle noun a clever device, trick or method UK, 1817 wrinkleneck noun in horse racing, a seasoned and experienced horse handler US, 1951

wrinkle room noun a bar frequented by older homosexual men US, 1985 wrinkly noun an old person. A reference to the wrinkled skin of advanced years. Partridge qualified the definition: 'as applied to anyone over the venerable age of thirty' UK, 1972 wrist noun 1 a contemptible person. From WRIST JOB (an act of masturbation) – or similar term – hence, this is synonymous with WANKER UK, 1998. 2 in betting, odds of 5–4. From the TICK-TACK signal used by bookmakers UK, 1991

wristers noun in lobstering, knitted gloves with no fingers US, 1978 wrist job noun 1 an act of masturbation. Used as a song title by Humble Pie in 1969 UK, 1969. 2 used as an all-purpose form of abuse; a substitute form of wanker UK, 2000 wristy adjective having the characteristics of a masturbator; hence, inferior or unpleasant. From WRIST (a contemptible person) UK, 2000 write verb 1 to write a prescription for a narcotic which will not be used for medicinal purposes US, 1953. 2 to create graffiti art US, 1997. ► write numbers to take bets on an illegal policy game (numbers lottery) US, 1975

write-off noun any motor vehicle damaged beyond economic repair; any thing (physical or abstract) or person considered to be beyond saving. Originally Royal Air Force slang for 'a wrecked aircraft', now thought of as the language of insurance UK, 1918 write off verb to destroy something; to damage something beyond repair, generally a vehicle. From the conventional use 'to write off the value or the investment' UK, 1991 writer noun 1 a graffiti artist US, 1997. 2 in a casino, employee who accepts and records bets on Keno US, 1972 ► see: SHEET WRITER wrong noun in craps, a bet against the shooter US, 1974 wrong adjective known to inform the police US, 1953

wrongle noun in craps, someone who bets against the shooter US, 1974 wrong number noun an untrustworthy person US, 1972 wrong-o noun a bad person US, 1970 wrong side of noun used of an age that is greater than a stated number UK, 1663 wrong time noun a woman's menstrual period US, 1954 wrong 'un noun 1 a lawbreaker; someone on the wrong side of the law AUSTRALIA, 1985. 2 a police informer. English gypsy use UK, 2000.

3 in prison, a sex offender or convicted paedophile; an informer UK, 1996 wrong-way English noun in pool, spin imparted on the cue ball such that the angle of refraction off a cushion is different, if not opposite, from what would be expected US, 1993

WS noun a sado-masochist encounter involving enemas or urination. An abbreviation for WATERSPORTS US, 1979

WTF used in computer message shorthand to mean 'what the fuck?' or 'who the fuck?' US, 1991

WUCIWUG what you see is what you get. Quasi-initialism used for text messaging UK, 2001

wudja? 'would you?'. Apparently coined by television production company Brighter Pictures but rapidly gained wider use UK, 2002 wuffo; whuffo noun in the language of hang gliding and parachuting, anyone other than a fellow expert. Purportedly derived from the question, 'Wuffo they do that?' US, 1978

wumpers noun a rubber-soled sandal, especially one made from a car tyre BAHAMAS, 1982 wunch noun a group of bankers. Collective noun. A jokey Spoonerism of 'bunch of wankers' UK, 2002 wunzee verb to urinate. An evolution of the children's vocabulary of NUMBER ONE and NUMBER TWO TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

wurley noun a hut. Originally an Aboriginal dwelling AUSTRALIA, 1839

wurzel noun a person from the countryside. Derogatory; most probably from the television series Wurzel Gummidge, 1979–81, based on the stories about the 'scarecrow of Scatterbrook' created by Barbara Euphan Todd UK, 2000 wuss noun a weak, timid person. A blend of WIMP and PUSSY, both meaning 'a weak and timid person' US, 1982

wussie; wussy; wossie noun a weak, timid, passive person US, 1982

wuss out verb to back down; to fail to do as promised US, 1977

wussy adjective weak, timid, passive US, 1995 wuwoo noun a mixture of marijuana and cocaine; marijuana. Possibly adapted from a celebratory reaction to the drugs' effects UK, 2001 wuzzy noun a female. A corruption of the French oiseau, or BIRD (a young woman) UK, 1983

Wyamine noun a Benzedrine™ inhaler. The Wyamine™ inhaler was manufactured by Wyeth Laboratories; it became a generic name for any inhaler with Benzedrine-infused cotton strips, valued by amphetamine users US, 1967

Wyatt nickname sometimes applied to a person who burps loudly and for comic effect. From rhyming slang WYATT EARP (a burp) UK, 1992

Wyatt Earp noun 1 the penis. Rhyming slang for CURP (the penis), formed on the name of the legendary US lawman (1848–1929), possibly informed by the film-myth of Wyatt Earp as a heroic shootist UK, 1980. 2 a belch. Rhyming slang for BURP, based on the name of hero of countless films, Wyatt Earp UK, 1992

wyman noun ▷ see: BILL WYMAN

Wynona Ryder; wynona noun cider. Rhyming slang, based on the name of the popular film actress (b.1971) UK, 2002

wyssa; whizzer; wyzza noun a personal message sent or received in the Antarctic or sub-Antarctic. Derives from the Australian Antarctic Division telex code for 'with all my/our love darling' AUSTRALIA, 1959

Wythenshawe white man noun a black man with the manners and standards of contemporary white society. Wythenshawe is a suburb of Manchester UK, 2002

Xx

X noun an empty railway wagon US, 1946

X noun 1 MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. Generally an abbreviated 'ecstasy' specifically used of any MDMA tablet stamped with a symbol that may be read as an X US, 1988. 2 marijuana UK, 2003. 3 in blackjack, any card worth ten points. A Roman numeral used by card counters US, 1991. 4 a cross-breed of a dog CANADA, 1997. 5 a grip on all illegal gambling US, 1974. ▶ see: GENERATION XER. ▶ the X in the circus or carnival, exclusive rights for an item or concession US, 1980

X verb to take MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1985

X adjective 1 annoyed, irritated, angry. A pun on 'cross' UK, 1962. 2 in drag racing, experimental. The designation FX means an experimental car from a factory; MX means an experimental component from a manufacturer US, 1970 x-double-minus adjective very bad. Alluding to a non-existent grading scale US, 1968 x-dressing noun cross-dressing UK, 2003

Xer noun ▶ see: GENERATION XER

X-Files noun haemorrhoids. Rhyming slang for PILES, formed on US television science-fiction/conspiracy drama The X-Files first broadcast in 1993 UK, 1998

X-Files E noun a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, branded with a borrowed logo. After The X Files, a cult science fiction television programme from the mid-1990s, playing on X (E) UK, 1996

x-ing noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy UK, 1998

X marks the spot used as a caption or legend to a specific location (marked with a cross) on a map or in a photograph. Of catchphrase status although rarely spoken. Familiar uses include:

the scene of the crime, a hotel window on a postcard and pirate treasure maps UK, 1968

Xmas noun Christmas. Pronounced 'Exmas'. Originally pronounced as 'Christmas', derived from Greek, the initial letter of Christos, yet is generally presumed to be a coinage of modern marketing and, while widely recognised, remains an unconventional usage UK, 1755

X queen noun a homosexual male who is a frequent user of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1994

x-ray eyes noun the sense of intuition of a poker player who can ascertain the hands held by other players US, 1988

X-row noun the area in a prison housing inmates condemned to death US, 1992

xs and os noun the basic elements of a plan. From play diagrams in basketball, football or other sports, in which the xs represent the players of one team, and the os represent players of the other US, 1984

XTC noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. Pronounced 'ecstasy' US, 1985

X vid noun a sexually explicit video US, 1992

XX noun a twenty-dollar note US, 1982

XY noun a spouse. A mutual abbreviation from XYL (a wife) and XYM (a husband) US, 1976

XYL noun a wife. A partial acronym: 'ex-young lady' US, 1976

XYM noun a husband. A partial acronym: 'ex-young-man' US, 1976

XYZ noun a citizens' band radio user of undiscovered gender; hence, a homosexual. By extension from XYL (a wife) and XYM (a husband) US, 1976

XYZ used to alert someone that their fly zipper is open. A partial acronym: 'examine your zippers' US, 1999

Yy

Y noun ► the Y a premises of the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) or Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA); also the YMCA or YWCA organisation US, 1915

Y2K noun 1 the year 2000; the first second of the year 2000. Y (year) plus 2xx (2000) CANADA, 1995. 2 used as the first three characters for any year between 2001 and 2009 INDIA, 2004 yaba noun paramethoxyamphetamine, PMA. A phonetic approximation (perhaps Thai or Burmese), literally 'crazy medicine', by which name it is also known, 2002 yabba noun methamphetamine in pill form when taken as a recreational drug UK, 2001 yabba-dabba doo! used as a cry of exultation. The Flintstones, a US television animation-comedy, first broadcast in 1960, introduced 'yabba-dabba-doo!' as a catchphrase. 'A yabba-dabba doo time' (an excellent time) comes directly from the theme song, 'The Flintstones: Rise and Shine', written by William Hanna and Joseph Barbera, the show's creators. As a noun, 'yabba-dabba doo' means 'exuberance' US, 1998 yabber noun a conversation; a chat AUSTRALIA, 1855 yabber verb to talk, converse, chat, now especially used of unintelligible language that is annoying; hence, to chatter, blabber, be noisy. Originally used in Australian pidgin. From an Australian Aboriginal language, possibly the Wuywuring language of the Melbourne region AUSTRALIA, 1841 yabbering noun talk, conversation AUSTRALIA, 1847 yabby noun an Australian freshwater crayfish, found throughout eastern Australia and introduced into Western Australia, commonly caught for food; later applied to various other similar freshwater crayfish. From Wemba, an Australian Aboriginal language of Victoria AUSTRALIA, 1894 yabby verb to fish for freshwater crayfish. After the noun sense AUSTRALIA, 1934 yabbing noun the act of fishing for yabbies, usually with a bit of meat on a string AUSTRALIA, 1934

yack adjective sick UK, 2001 yack; yak noun 1 voluble talk. Echoic of idle chatter US, 1952. 2 a joke US, 1951. 3 a telephone sales solicitor, either for a legitimate business or for a confidence swindle US, 1985. 4 a watch. Possibly derived from Welsh gypsy yākengeri (a clock, literally 'a thing of the eyes'). Still current, in second spelling, among market traders UK, 1812

yack; yak verb 1 to talk volubly and either idly or stupidly or both US, 1949. 2 to vomit US, 1992 yacker noun a swindler working on a phony investment scam by telephone US, 1988 ► see: YAKKA yacker verb to talk AUSTRALIA, 1882

yackety-yack noun inconsequential talk UK, 1958 yadda yadda yadda used for suggesting meaningless conversation US, 1993 yaffle verb 1 to eat hurriedly or greedily. Originally, 'to eat or drink'; still current in Royal Navy slang but only as 'to eat' UK, 1788. 2 to engage in oral sex. From the sense 'to eat' UK, 1998 yaffler noun a person who talks too much AUSTRALIA, 1995 yag noun yttrium aluminium garnet. Used in the diamond trade UK, 1975 yage noun ayahuasca also known as yajé, a psychedelic drink from South America US, 1999 yah boo! used as an expression of scorn or derision. A childish use UK, 1921 yah boo sucks! used as an expression of defiance, scorn or derision. Originally used by children, now childish; an elaboration of YAH BOO! UK, 1980 yahoo noun 1 an unrefined, loutish, uncultured person. An imaginary race of brutes created by Swift in Gulliver's Travels UK, 1726. 2 crack cocaine US, 1994 yahoo! used as an exuberant expression of excitement or delight UK, 1976 yahoos noun the female breasts. Perhaps from 'yahoo!' as a celebratory cry US, 2001 yahso adverb here; in or to this place JAMAICA, 1995 yak noun during the Korean war, an enemy aircraft. Coined as an allusion to North Korea's YAK-9 fighter jet US, 1991 ► see: YACK yakenal noun a capsule of phenobarbital sodium (trade name Nembutal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1982 yakka; yacker noun work. From the now defunct verb 'yacker' (to work), from the Australian Aboriginal language Yagara, Brisbane region. Connection with the Ulster word 'yokkin' (a spell of work) is untenable. Now usually in the phrase HARD YAKKA AUSTRALIA, 1888 yakker noun 1 talk AUSTRALIA, 1961. 2 food. From Australian pidgin; possibly equating YAKKA (work) with food. Variants include 'yack' AUSTRALIA, 1942

yale noun crack cocaine UK, 2003

Yale noun a commercial hypodermic needle, whether or not it is manufactured by Yale US, 1973

Yalie noun a student or alumnus of Yale University US, 1952 yam verb 1 to talk too much US, 1951. 2 to eat as if famished BARBADOS, 1965 yam foot noun a foot that is broad and splayed out TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003 yammagi; yamidgee noun an Aboriginal, especially an Aboriginal male. A Western Australian Aboriginal (Watjari) term, yamaji, used generically. Variant spellings include: 'yamagee', 'yamagi', 'yammagee' and 'yammogee' AUSTRALIA, 1925

Yammie; Yummy noun a Yamaha motorcycle, in production since 1954 UK, 1999 yandy noun a shallow dish used for separating seeds from other matter AUSTRALIA, 1903 yandy verb to separate seeds from surrounding matter in a YANDY; hence, in tin-mining, to pan. Such work is done by a 'yandier' AUSTRALIA, 1914 yang noun 1 the penis. From the masculine principle in the Chinese philosophy of yin-yang US, 1983. 2 the rectum US, 1974

yang-yang adjective of a horse, lively or spirited AUSTRALIA, 1976

Yank noun 1 an American. Originally a New Englander or someone from the northern states of America. An abbreviation of YANKEE; often derogatory UK, 1778. 2 an American bird. Bird-watching slang UK, 1977 yank verb to tug something with sudden energy; to remove something US, 1848 yank and bank verb to execute a turn in a fighter plane US, 1986 yankee noun a multiple bet, gambling on four different horses in a specific combination of eleven bets UK, 1967

Yankee noun 1 a native or inhabitant of New England; hence, more generally, of the northern states of America. The most likely derivation is from Dutch Janke, a diminutive of Jan (John) as a pejorative nickname; also possible is a North American Indian corruption of 'English'; or Cherokee eankke (a slave, a coward). Used by the Confederates of the Federal army during the American Civil War, 1861–65, and since by the south of the north US, 1765. 2 a tool used by car thieves to pull out the cylinder of the ignition lock UK, 1977

Yankee adjective American UK, 1781

Yankee-bashing noun an act of engaging US servicemen in sexual activity. Well-used by members of the Women's Royal Army Corps in Hong Kong during the 1960s UK, 1984

Yankee clipper noun a North American moving van US, 1976 yankee dime noun a kiss US, 1900

Yankeeland noun the United States of America UK, 2000

Yankee shout noun a social outing where everyone pays for themselves AUSTRALIA, 1945

Yankee tournament noun a sporting contest in which everyone plays everyone else. An Australian nuance of YANKEE (American) as 'equal for all' AUSTRALIA, 1961

Yanking noun an act of engaging US servicemen in sexual activity. Formed on YANK (an American) UK, 1950

Yank tank noun a large car, especially one manufactured in the US AUSTRALIA, 1981 ya-o noun crack cocaine US, 1995

yaoh noun cocaine UK, 1999

yap noun 1 the mouth US, 1900. 2 inconsequential talk US, 1907. 3 in circus and carnival usage, a naive, gullible local resident US, 1981 yap verb to talk incessantly. The term existed in this sense in C19 English dialect, and then independently arose in the US in the 1920s UK, 1886 yapper, snapper, and crapper noun oral, vaginal and anal sex with a woman. A clever phrase heard in jokes but rarely in real life US, 2004 yuppies noun ► the yuppies greyhound racing or coursing. A play on THE DOGS AUSTRALIA, 1984

yappy; yappified adjective idiotic UK, 1979 yar! used as a general-purpose interjection, usually conveying excitement about something US, 1989

yarco; yark noun a member of a subcultural urban adolescent grouping in Yarmouth, Norfolk, that seems to be defined by a hip-hop dress and jewellery sense UK, 2005 yard noun 1 one hundred dollars US, 1926. 2 one thousand dollars US, 1932. 3 a prison sentence of 100 years US, 1969. 4 a prison sentence of one year US, 1950. 5 your country, especially Jamaica UK, 1994. 6 your home, your house; in prison, your cell. West Indian and UK black JAMAICA, 1950. 7 a member of the Montagnard tribe, the aborigine hill tribes of Vietnam's Central Highlands US, 1991

Yard noun ► the Yard Scotland Yard, subsequently New Scotland Yard, headquarters of the Metropolitan police. Originally, since 1888, used of the location of London's Metropolitan Police; the familiar name stayed when the headquarters moved to new premises in 1967 UK, 1888 yard verb 1 to be sexually unfaithful US, 1960. 2 to get hold of someone CANADA, 1984 yardage noun a big penis US, 1970s yard-and-a-half noun one hundred and fifty dollars US, 1962 yardbird noun 1 a chicken US, 1956. 2 a prisoner, a convict US, 1965. 3 a newly arrived military recruit US, 1945. 4 in trucking, a terminal employee who moves trucks around the yard US, 1971. 5 on the railways, an injured employee assigned to limited duty in a railway yard US, 1968

Yardbird nickname Charlie Parker, jazz saxophonist US, 1949 yard buddy noun a close friend in prison US, 1974 yard bull; yard dick noun a railway detective US, 1958. a railway detective US, 1950 yard dog noun an unsophisticated, uncouth person US, 1973 yard goose noun a railway pointsman US, 1977 yardie noun 1 a member of a violent gang culture rooted in the West Indies, especially Jamaica. Yardies have an international reputation for drug-related crime JAMAICA, 1986. 2 a person from your neighbourhood; a friend JAMAICA, 2003. 3 a yardman AUSTRALIA, 1990 yard man noun a Jamaican JAMAICA, 1994 yardney noun a manner of speech combining West Indian and London accents and vocabularies. Combining YARDIE (a Jamaican gangster) and 'Cockney' (a stereotypical Londoner) UK, 1999 yard out verb to exercise in a prison yard US, 1984 yard sale noun in snow-based sports, the result of an accident in which equipment is deposited over a wide area US, 1995 yardstick noun a road mile marker US, 1976 yarn noun 1 a story, an adventure story, especially a long, marvellous or incredible story. Of nautical origin; from 'spin a yarn' (to tell such a story) UK, 1812. 2 a chat, a talk, a conversation AUSTRALIA, 1852 yarn verb 1 to tell a story UK, 1812. 2 to talk; to have a chat AUSTRALIA, 1847

yarpie noun ► see: JAPIE yarra adjective mad, stupid, eccentric. From the mental asylum at Yarra Bend, Victoria AUSTRALIA, 1943

Yarra-banker noun a loafer or vagrant idling on the banks of the Yarra River, Melbourne; a Melbourne soap box orator AUSTRALIA, 1895

Yarra – stinking Yarra! used as an offensive catchphrase addressed by Sydneyites to Melbournites. Melbourne sits on the banks of the Yarra River AUSTRALIA, 1984 yassoo! used as a greeting among troops who have served in Cyprus. From Greek giasou! (an all-purpose word for 'hello', 'goodbye', 'cheers!'). Sometimes elaborated in mock-Scots as 'yassoo the nool!' UK, 1984

yattie noun a girl UK, 2003 yawn noun anything which induces boredom UK, 1974 yawn verb ► yawn in technicolor to vomit US, 1981 yawn said to register the speaker's boredom, instead of actually yawning UK, 2000

yay! used as an exclamation of delight UK, 1963 yay; yayoo; yeah-O; yeyo; yeo noun crack cocaine US, 1995

Y-bone noun the vulva and vagina as an object of oral sex NEW ZEALAND, 1998

Y Dub noun a premises of the YWCA (the Young Women's Christian Association), or the organisation itself. Short for YW. Later use seems to be predominantly in New Zealand US, 1984 yea; yay adverb when describing size, and combined with an appropriate gesture: this, so US, 1960 yeah noun yes, used as a signal of assent US, 1905 yeah-yeah no. Said dismissively; a rare instance of a double affirmative producing a negative UK, 2000 year noun a one-hundred dollar note US, 1997 year blob noun a notional date that, within context, was a very long time ago. A variation of YEAR DOT UK, 1997 year dot noun a notional date long ago; time immemorial UK, 1895 yeast verb to exaggerate US, 1973

yee yes US, 1980

yegg noun a criminal, especially a burglar or safecracker. Anglicised by 1932 US, 1900 ye gods!; ye gods and little fishes! used as a mild oath, especially to express exasperation or indignation. The former dates from 1807; and elaborated with 'little fishes' since the 1850s. Original use was no doubt sincere but from the 1960s usage has been derisory or jocular UK, 2002

yeh noun marijuana UK, 1998

Yekke; Yekkie noun a German Jew. Derogatory. From Yiddish, but of uncertain origin UK, 1950 yeller feller; yellow feller; yellow fellow noun a person of mixed Aboriginal and white parentage AUSTRALIA, 1913 yellow noun 1 a capsule of pentobarbital sodium (trade name Nembutal™), a central nervous system depressant; any barbiturate US, 1944. 2 LSD US, 1977 yellow adjective 1 cowardly, afraid US, 1856. 2 used to describe that section of the printed news media which tends towards the sensational, the unscrupulous and the tawdry. Derives from an 1895 experiment by the New York World in the use of colour-printing with the intent to attract more readers; a cartoon of a young girl in a yellow dress known as 'The Yellow Kid' US, 1898. 3 light-skinned; of mixed race US, 1934 yellow and white earth noun money CANADA, 1983

yellow bam noun 1 a capsule of pentobarbital sodium (trade name Nembutal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1986. 2 methamphetamine hydrochloride, a powerful central nervous system stimulant US, 1994

yellow-bellied adjective cowardly US, 1924 yellow-belly noun 1 a coward US, 1930. 2 a person of mixed Asian and white parentage. A derogatory and racist reference to skin-tone. An earlier use, from 1842, was by Americans of Mexicans UK, 1867 yellow-belly bird noun a coward TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1960 yellow bullet noun a capsule of pentobarbital sodium (trade name Nembutal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1977 yellow canary noun in trucking, a Yellow Transit Freight Lines truck US, 1976 yellow dimple; yellow dimples noun LSD, especially in combination with another drug US, 1982 yellow doll noun a capsule of pentobarbital sodium (trade name Nembutal™), a central nervous system depressant US, 1977 yellow egg noun Temazepam™, a branded tranquilizer UK, 1998 yellow jacket noun 1 a barbiturate or other central nervous system depressant, especially Nembutal™ US, 1952. 2 a high-velocity, hollow-nose, expanding bullet US, 1981 yellow legs noun the US Marines. Korean war usage; coined by the North Koreans alluding to the marine leggings US, 1968

Yellow Legs noun the Royal Canadian Mounted Police CANADA, 1974

yellow pages noun in poker, a play or a bet made strictly for the purpose of creating an impression US, 1996 yellow peril noun 1 a danger (real or imagined) that armies of any and all Asiatic peoples will overrun the West. From the conventional use of 'yellow' to convey an Asiatic or Oriental complexion. Usage is mainly historical but paranoia and the Internet keeps the phrase alive UK, 1900. 2 used as a collective noun for all sorts of things with a yellow connection. Mainly jocular. Used by motorcyclists of traffic wardens (from the yellow flashes on their uniforms) UK, 1943. 3 hepatitis. A peril of shared needles by drug addicts; their usage, with a pun on the fear of Asians and the skin discolouration associated with hepatitis UK, 1985. 4 in prison, school, or any canteen in any institution, a bright yellow cake favoured by the caterers. Originally services UK, 1961

Yellow Peril nickname in Canadian military aviation, the Harvard training aircraft CANADA, 1995 yellow rock noun methamphetamine in rock form, yellow in colour either because of incomplete processing or the presence of adulterants US, 1989 yellow sheet noun a criminal record. A generic in UK use, from the colour of the New York Police Department document at the time of coining US, 1992 yellow streak noun a trait of cowardice UK, 1911 yellow submarine noun marijuana. A fanciful similarity in shape between a JOINT and The Beatles' musical cartoon creation 'Yellow Submarine'; 1969; however, both promise a colourful journey UK, 2003 yellow sunshine; yellow cap; yellow dot noun LSD US, 1972 yells, bells and knells noun newspaper announcements of births, marriages and deaths. A journalistic summation of life; a variation of HATCH, MATCH AND DISPATCH AUSTRALIA, 1984 yen noun an intense craving, especially for a drug; an addiction UK, 1876 yen verb to crave a drug intensely. From the Chinese; originally applied to opium users US, 1919 yenems; yenams; yenhams noun free cigarettes; anything belonging to someone else. Adopted from Yiddish, possibly as early as the mid-1920s UK, 1984 yennep; yennap; yenep noun a penny. Back slang UK, 1851 yen pock noun an opium pellet US, 1934 yen pop noun marijuana US, 1950

yen pox noun opium ash US, 1957 yen-shee noun heroin. From an earlier generalised sense as 'opium' (which included heroin in its definition) US, 1960

Yenshee baby noun an extremely constipated bowel movement that is the product of opiate addiction. Yenshee is Chinese for 'opium residue' US, 1938 yen-shee-suey noun opium or heroin dissolved in wine US, 1949 yen sleep noun a drowsiness encountered by many LSD users after the effects of the drug have worn off US, 1972 yenta noun a gossip; a busybody; a scold. Yiddish US, 1923 yeola noun marijuana UK, 2003 yep yes. A variation of 'yes'; the final plosive stresses the affirmative and gives it a semi-interjection or exclamatory sense US, 1891 yerba noun marijuana. A Mexican Spanish word that means 'herb' or 'grass', thus HERB (marijuana) or GRASS (marijuana) US, 1967 yerba mala noun poor quality marijuana; phencyclidine. Adopted from Mexican Spanish, the literal meaning is 'bad/evil grass'; yerba buena (good grass) is probably also used US, 1986

yerhia noun marijuana UK, 2003 yer man noun an unnamed male IRELAND, 1997

yer one noun an unnamed female IRELAND, 1997

yers pronoun a variant spelling of YOUSE AUSTRALIA, 1923 yesca; yesco noun marijuana. Directly from Spanish yesca (tinder), 'a fuel that is burnt' US, 1949

yes, if you've got the inclination; yes, but not the inclination used as a catchphrase response to: 'Have you got the time?'. Also, 'yes, if you've got the money' UK, 1977

yes man; yes-man noun an obsequious subordinate; a person who agrees with everything a superior says or does UK, 1912

yessir! yes indeed US, 1913

yes siree (Bob) yes indeed US, 1846

yes sir, we're pals, and pals stick together used as a humorous affirmation of agreement. Used as the sign-off by Ed McConnell on the Smilin' Ed's Gang (1950–55) children's television programme. Repeated with referential humour US, 1955

yes sir, yes sir, three bags full used for mocking unquestioning, blind obedience. US naval aviator usage, from the children's song 'Ba Ba Black Sheep' US, 1986 yessus!; yesus!; yissus! used for expressing anger, frustration, shock, surprise, etc. From the Afrikaans pronunciation of 'Jesus' as an oath or exclamation SOUTH AFRICA, 1942 yesterday adjective out-dated; unaware of current fashions and trends US, 1968

Yes way! used for humorously rebutting someone who has just said 'No way!' US, 1989

yes-woman; yes-girl noun an obsequious female subordinate; a person who agrees with everything her superior says or does. A consequence of YES MAN; originally 'yes-girl' had primacy but current use favours 'yes-woman' US, 1930 yettie noun a successful person who is young, entrepreneurial and technical UK, 2000 yet to be adjective free, gratis. Rhyming slang UK, 1961 yew noun the eye. Usually in the plural UK, 2002 yeyo; jejo noun cocaine. Adopted directly from Spanish UK, 1998 yez pronoun you (plural). Originally only in representations of Irish speakers, but later as the typical Australian pronunciation with an unstressed vowel IRELAND, 1828

Yid noun a Jewish person. Offensive US, 1874

yiddel; yiddle noun a Jewish person US, 1946

Yiddish highway noun US Highway 301, which runs between New York and Miami, Florida US, 1979

Yid kid noun a young Jewish person US, 1978

Yidsbury nickname Finsbury, an area of north London with (traditionally) a large Jewish population. A combination with YID (a Jewish person) UK, 1981 yike noun a fight; an altercation AUSTRALIA, 1940

yikes! used in surprise, pain or shock. Possibly a variant of conventional 'yoicks!' or 'crikey!' (Christ) US, 1971

Yim, Yoe and Yesus noun in poker, three jacks. A play on 'Jim, Joe and Jesus' (instead of Jack), but the reason why is unknown AUSTRALIA, 1953

yimyom noun crack cocaine UK, 1998 yin noun one, indicating a single person or thing. Often in nicknames, such as 'Big yin' (Billy Connolly), 'wee yin', etc UK: SCOTLAND, 1911 ying noun marijuana. This word seems to derive from the combination of two facts lodged in a vaguely HIPPIE philosophy: 1) the female cannabis plant is considered superior; 2) in Eastern philosophy, the concept of two complementary forces that make life is yin yang. 'Yin', mispronounced here as 'ying', represents the female UK, 2003 ying yang noun 1 the anus and/or rectum US, 1968. 2 the penis US, 1981. 3 a variety of LSD identified by the ying yang (yin yang) symbol UK, 1996. ► up the ying yang to excess. The suggestion of 'ying-yang' is 'the rectum' US, 1976 yin-yang noun a well-known variety of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy, identified by the yin and yang symbols embossed on the tablet UK, 2002

yip verb to bark in a piercing and shrill manner US, 1907 yipes!; yipe! used in shock, pain or surprise. Synonymous variations of YIKES! US, 1998 yippee!; yippy! used as a declaration of excitement and assent US, 1920 yippie noun a member of, or adherent (knowing or not) to, the principles of the Youth International Party, a short-lived blend of 1960s counterculture values and New Left politics US, 1967

YL noun an unmarried woman; a girlfriend. An abbreviation of 'young lady' US, 1976

YM noun 1 a premises of the YMCA (the Young Men's Christian Association), or the organisation itself. Pronounced 'wy em' US, 1937. 2 a boyfriend. Acronym of 'young man': US, 1976

YMCA dinner noun a meal made from leftovers. Standing for 'yesterday's muck cooked again' AUSTRALIA, 2003 yo; Yolanda noun in craps, a roll of eleven US, 1999 yo! 1 used as a greeting. Both Italian-American and black communities lay claim to 'yo!'. First recorded in 1944 among Philadelphia's Italian-Americans and popularised by Sylvester Stallone in the 1976 film Rocky US, 1944. 2 used as an expression of surprise, contempt, dismay, etc SOUTH AFRICA, 1871 yob noun an uncultured, boorish person. Ultimately back slang, from 'boy' AUSTRALIA, 1938

yobbery noun hooliganism UK, 1974 yobbish adjective loutish, characteristic of a YOB UK, 1972 yobbo; yobo; yobboe noun a lout. A variation of YOB UK, 1938 yobby adjective characteristic of a yob UK, 1955 yo-bo noun a member of the Korean Service Corps. Korean war usage US, 1957 yochie noun in the language surrounding the Grateful Dead, a follower of the band who has lost all touch with reality US, 1994

yock noun a laugh US, 1938 yock verb 1 to laugh US, 1938. 2 to expel nasal mucus UK, 2001 yockele noun a Christian. Slightly derogatory East End Yiddish; perhaps an elaborate back slang variation of GOY. 'Yog' is recorded for 'a Gentile' in 1939 UK, 1977 yocks noun the eyes. English Gypsy use UK, 1936 yodel noun an act of vomiting NEW ZEALAND, 1995 yodel verb 1 to vomit AUSTRALIA, 1965. 2 to perform oral sex on a woman US, 1941. ► yodel up the valley to perform oral sex on a woman. An elaboration of conventional 'yodel' AUSTRALIA, 1971 yodeller noun a Chrysler car. Citizens' band radio slang 1981 yog; yogg noun a fire in the hearth. Market traders' use, directly from Romany UK, 1979 yogga noun a gun. English Gypsy use, perhaps from YOG (a fire) UK, 2000 yoghurt cannon noun the penis. An image formed on an ejaculating penis UK, 1998 yogi noun 1 a member of the uniformed personnel (commissionaire, security, etc) at Nottingham University in the early 1970s. Derives, apparently, from US animated cartoon series Yogi Bear, first broadcast in 1958 UK, 1984. 2 a poker player with the annoying habit of coaching other players US, 1996

yoin verb to steal US, 2002 yoinks! used for registering surprise UK, 1997 yoke noun 1 a tablet of MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy. This usage is an extension of the Hiberno-English use of the term for 'something whose name does not spring immediately to mind' IRELAND, 1998. 2 a choke hold. Originally military slang embraced by the police US, 1987. 3 robbery by force US, 1951 yoked; yolked adjective muscular US, 1993 yokel noun an unsophisticated, gullible person, especially one with a rural background UK, 1812

yola noun a light-skinned black female US, 1947 yomo; yom noun a person, a fellow US, 1977 yomp verb to cross rough country on foot, especially when fully laden with equipment. A Royal Marines term from the Falklands/Malvinas war UK, 1982

Yonge and Eligible noun the Yonge and Eglinton street area CANADA, 2002 yon noun the vagina. From the Sanskrit term, which is an object of Hindu veneration TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

yonks noun an indefinitely long time UK, 1968 yonnie noun a small stone suitable for throwing. Probably from an Australian Aboriginal language AUSTRALIA, 1941

yoof adjective used to describe any product (especially of the media) for the youth-market that may be characterised as high on fashionable content and criticised as low-culture. A deliberate misspelling of 'youth', mocking the pronunciation of stereotypical 'yoof' television presenters, emphasising the critical view UK, 2000 yoo; yufe noun a young person; the period of youth. A deliberate mispronunciation of 'youth', used by Leicestershire teenagers UK, 1977 yoofsploitation noun the exploitation of youth culture and imagery for commercial gain, especially in films UK, 2002 yoo-hoo noun a poker player who engages in excessive needless table talk US, 1996 yoo-hoo verb to try to get someone's attention by calling 'yoo-hoo' US, 1948 yoot; yut; yout noun a youth; a youth gang member. West Indian US, 1949 yop verb to inform on someone. School slang, recorded in Glasgow UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 york verb to vomit US, 1966

Yorkie; Yorky noun a Yorkshireman or -woman UK: ENGLAND, 1818

Yorkshire Penny Bank noun an act of masturbation; more usually, something of little or no value. Rhyming slang for WANK (an act of masturbation) UK, 1980

Yorkshire Ripper noun a slipper. Rhyming slang, formed on the nickname of mass murderer Peter Sutcliffe who was at large in the 1970s UK, 1992

Yorkshire tyke noun a microphone. Rhyming slang for MIKE UK, 1957

you ain't said nothing used for expressing contempt for what has just been said US, 1968

you and me noun 1 a flea. Rhyming slang. A C19 term recorded as current UK, 1998. 2 tea. Rhyming slang UK, 1925. 3 urine; urination. Rhyming slang for WEE or PEE UK, 1998. 4 a pea. Rhyming slang UK, 1998

you beaut adjective great; excellent AUSTRALIA, 1974

you beaut!; you beauty!; you bewdy! excellent, terrific, hooray! AUSTRALIA, 1943

you beaury noun excellence AUSTRALIA, 1965

you betcha! used for expressing emphatic affirmation US, 1983

you better believe it a catchphrase used for expressing emphatic agreement US, 1969

you can go off some people, you know used as a (usually jocular) response to offence or imagined offence UK, 1984

you can have it!; you can keep it! 'I want nothing to do with it!' UK, 1930 you cannot be serious! 'that is preposterous!'. A stock phrase of US tennis star John McEnroe whose questioning of officials' calls was as legendary as his genius at the game. Of all his rants against tennis officialdom, this one spread into mainstream catchphrase status US, 2002 you can say that again used as an expression of heartfelt agreement US, 1942 you can say that in spades used as an expression of heartfelt agreement. Card playing imagery UK, 1961 you can't stop him, you can only hope to contain him used as a humorous comment on a high achiever. Popularised by ESPN's Dan Patrick US, 1997 you can't take it with you! directed at someone who, in saving money, loses happiness UK, 1847

you could have knocked me down with a feather used for expressing astonishment at something that has happened UK, 1741 you don't even know used as an intensifier when words fail US, 1984

you don't know the half of it! used, as a catchphrase, to imply so much more US, 2002

you don't say! used for expressing astonishment at a statement US, 1912 you don't say so! used for expressing astonishment at a statement UK, 1779

you for coffee? an unambiguous invitation to drink coffee pronounced 'you fuck-offee!' UK, 1984 you go, girl! used as an encouragement or exhortation. Popularised by several black entertainers relatively simultaneously in the 1990s, and widely repeated, usually in a woman-to-woman context US, 1993

you haven't got the brains you were born with used as a derisive catchphrase UK, 1961 you have some explaining to do used for humour when there is in fact some explanation owed. A catchphrase from the I Love Lucy television series (1951–61), with the 'explaining' often butchered with a pseudo Desi Arnaz Cuban accent to 'splaining' US, 1996 you heard! 'you heard me all right, so don't pretend you didn't!' or 'Oh, you understand, so stop pretending!' US, 1960

you know noun cocaine. Rhyming slang for SNOW (or, possibly, BLOW) UK, 1998

you know used as a verbal pause for indicating that the speaker assumes that the listener is listening, understanding and agreeing. An annoying discourse marker if ever there was one UK, 1599 you know what an unnamed (but strongly implied) activity or thing. The ultimate multi-purpose euphemism UK, 1845 you know what you can do!; you know what you can do with it!; you know what to do with it! used as a very definite expression of rejection of someone or something. A barely euphemistic catchphrase UK, 1945

you like? used as a humorous mock pidgin version of 'do you like this?' US, 1990

you little beaut; you little beauty used as praise AUSTRALIA, 1945

you'll be a long time dead! a catchphrase offered as an excuse for indulgent behaviour UK, 1957 you'll do yourself out of a job used as a jocular catchphrase addressed to someone working hard UK, 1977 you look marrrrvelous used for humorous praise. Popularised by comedian Billy Crystal on NBC's Saturday Night Live in the 1980s; uttered by a Crystal character, Fernando. Repeated with referential humour US, 1984

you make a better door than a window addressed to a person getting in the light, or blocking a view NEW ZEALAND, 1941

you never get a satisfied cock without a wet pussy used for expressing the principle of symbiosis UK, 1967

you never know something unexpected may well happen UK, 1924 young adjective ► not so young as I was; not as young as he used to be getting or being old UK, 1852. ► the night is young; the night is yet young it is still early UK, 1937

youngblood noun a young man, especially a young black man and especially an impetuous one; used as a term of address to a young man US, 1946 young, dumb, and full of come adjective used for describing a young man with great hopes and little experience US, 1966

young fellow-me-lad; young feller-me-lad noun used as a semi-jocular form of address UK, 1926 young fogey noun a young person with out-dated ideas and values. Coinage is claimed by Australian writer and wit Clive James UK, 2001 youngie noun a young woman; a young person. The natural corollary of OLDIE AUSTRALIA, 1965

young lady noun a female sweetheart UK, 1896

young man noun a male sweetheart UK, 1851 young one noun an attractive young girl who is sexually of age IRELAND, 1991 young stir noun a reformatory for juvenile offenders. A pun on 'youngster' US, 1982 young 'un noun a child, a young or younger person UK, 1810 young volunteer noun a youthful male homosexual prostitute US, 1982 young woman noun a female sweetheart UK, 1858 you now what?; you know what! used as an introductory catchphrase UK, 1961 your actual; yer actual adjective used to emphasise a noun UK, 1966 you rang? used as a humorous line when entering a room. A signature line of the hipster character Maynard G. Krebs on the television situation comedy The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis (CBS, 1959–63). Repeated with referential humour US, 1963 your arse! used as an expression of contempt, rejection, disbelief or derision UK, 1988 your arse in parsley! you are talking nonsense! An elaborated form of (UP) YOUR ARSE! UK: SCOTLAND, 1985 you're right, you fox used as a tease when someone has finally stumbled over the obvious US, 1966 you're sharing used as an admonition that the speaker is straying into personal matters that should be kept private US, 1995

you're telling me used for concurring with another speaker UK, 1932 you're the boss you decide, you make the choice. Used among equals, or even to a child, with no real superiority involved AUSTRALIA, 1984 you're the doctor! whatever you say, you are the authority, or the expert, or the one in charge; the responsibility is yours US, 1907 your man noun a specific male individual. An idiomatic phrase used in Hiberno-English IRELAND, 1991 your one noun a specific female individual. An idiomatic phrase used in Hiberno-English IRELAND, 1995 yours and ours noun flowers. Rhyming slang; noted as current among Covent Garden porters UK, 1960 yourself pronoun ► up yourself smugly self-satisfied; self-involved AUSTRALIA, 1987 yours truly pronoun used for 'me' or 'I'; a reference to yourself. Adopted from the formal subscription to a letter; usage is generally jocular in tone UK, 1866 youse; yous; youze; yers; yez noun you, both singular and plural AUSTRALIA, 1885 you shot who? I didn't hear you – what did you just say? US, 1988 you tell me! used for expressing a complete lack of understanding of the subject under discussion UK, 1969 you the man used for registering the personal superiority of a man so addressed; hence, used to encourage and to champion someone US, 1997 you've said it! 'yes, indeed!', I entirely agree with you US, 1931 you were born stupid – you've learnt nothing – and you've forgotten that a catchphrase addressed to someone who has said or done something foolish. Probably of military origin AUSTRALIA, 1984 you weren't born – you were pissed up against the wall and hatched in the sun a catchphrase used in response to such assertions as 'before I was born', 'when I was born', etc UK, 1977 you what?; y'what? what did you say? Often challenging, disbelieving or truculent UK, 1964 you won't know yourself a catchphrase used as encouragement to diet or exercise or to try a change of style (clothes, hair, etc) UK, 1961

you wouldn't want to know you would be terribly amazed, disappointed, disgusted; you would not believe it! AUSTRALIA, 1975 yow! 1 watch out! Used as a warning to people engaged in some criminal activity AUSTRALIA, 1950. 2 used as an expression of surprise. Popularised in the Zippie the Pinhead cartoon US, 1991 yowge adjective emphatically huge. Liverpool dialect echoes the stressed pronunciation UK, 2001 yowl noun the exhaust note of a twin two-stroke motorcycle engine UK, 1979 yoy noun an editorial rant likely to contain the phrase 'why oh why'. An acronym in journalistic use UK, 2005 yo-yo noun 1 a fool US, 1955. 2 a bisexual US, 1986. 3 a hot rod enthusiast who races illegally US, 1956. 4 in air combat, a steep climb and dive in an attempt to gain a more favourable position US, 1989. ► up and down like a yo-yo used of a person whose moods alternate rapidly between optimism and despair UK, 1984 yoyo verb to perform a tactic in aerial combat resembling a roller coaster ride US, 1983 yoyo children noun children who become pawns in a violent matrimonial battle and are constantly changing home UK, 1977 yoyo mouth noun a citizens' band radio user who talks too much US, 1976 yoyo nickers; yo-yo knickers noun a woman who (allegedly) exhibits a casual readiness for sexual encounters. The image is drawn of panties going up and down, up and down UK, 1999

YP noun in prison, used insultingly of an inmate who is not behaving in an adult manner. An initialism of 'young prisoner' UK, 1996

Y's noun male underpants. Presumably this term is restricted to pants with a Y-shaped opening UK: SCOTLAND, 1985

YT yours truly, me UK, 2001

yuck noun 1 a laugh US, 1971. 2 a fool US, 1943. 3 in gambling cheating schemes, a victim US, 1962. 4 crack cocaine US, 1993

yuck!; yech!; yuk! used as an indication of disgust. Echoic of vomiting UK, 1966 yuck; yuk; yuk-yuk verb to laugh. Echoic US, 1974. ► yuck it to stop doing something UK: SCOTLAND, 1985. ► yuck it up; yuk it up to behave in a foolish, time-wasting way US, 1964 yucky; yukky; yukk adjective disgusting US, 1970 yug noun a deviation from an intended flight-path. In Royal Air Force use UK, 1979 yuk verb to vomit US, 1997 yuletide log; yuletide noun a dog, especially a racing greyhound. Rhyming slang; a variation of CHRISTMAS LOG UK, 1974 yuletide logs; yuletides noun greyhound racing. Rhyming slang for THE DOGS UK, 1974

yum!; yum-yum! used for registering pleasurable anticipation, especially with regard to your personal appetites UK, 1878 yumlicious adjective of a young man, sexually attractive. Teenage girls' usage, or foisted upon them by the magazines they read. Elision of YUMMY (tasty, attractive) and 'delicious'; literally 'good enough to eat' UK, 1998 yummy noun an attractive woman who is not easily seduced. Often embellished to KANSAS YUMMY US, 1985

yummy adjective tasty, delicious, attractive UK, 1899 yummy mummy noun a sexually desirable mother. Not to be confused with the branded breakfast cereal which probably lent its name to this breed IRELAND, 2001

yum-yums noun any illegal drug in capsule form US, 1980 yup noun a yuppie (young upwardly mobile professional). A sneering abbreviation of a sneering initialism US, 1984 yup yes, absolutely. A variation of YEP; the final plosive stresses the intention and gives it a semi-exclamatory sense US, 1906 yuppie noun an individual socially categorised as a young upwardly mobile professional. An acronym, often used derogatively, probably coined by several people independently. Variations include: BUPPIE/BUPPY (black upwardly mobile professional), 'chuppy' (Chinese etc.), 'puppy' (Punjabi etc.). These social groupings are the stuff of personal ads where you can find new, evermore contrived acronyms including, according to David Rowan, A Glossary for the 90s, 1998: SINBAD (single income, no boyfriend and absolutely desperate), SITCOM (single income, two children and an oppressive mortgage) and YAPPIE (young affluent parent) US, 1982 yuppie scum noun an arrogant young professional. A favourite epithet of the 1980s US, 1992 yuppification noun the change that is made in order that something or somewhere becomes attractive to the yuppie market; gentrification. Derogatory in tone UK, 1999 yuppify verb to style or remodel something in a manner characteristic of, or suitable for, yuppie life UK, 1984 yupster noun a young upwardly mobile professional. A variation of YUPPIE US, 1986 yutz noun a fool. From Yiddish yutz (the penis) US, 1991

Zz

z noun 1 in hip-hop culture, used for replacing the letter 's' when creating plurals US, 2002. 2 an outcast; a despised person US, 1963

Z noun an ounce of narcotics US, 1975. ► the Z the demilitarised zone US, 1976

-z suffix used in the abbreviating of a forename, by truncating the given name to its first open syllable which is then closed with -z. Examples: Gary or Gareth becomes Gaz; Jeremy, Jez; Terry or Terence, Tez; Sharon, Shaz UK, 1984

za noun pizza US, 1996

zac noun a six-month or six-year prison sentence. From ZACK (six pence) AUSTRALIA, 1919

Zacatecas purple noun a potent variety of marijuana originating in Mexico. Named after the location and the colour of the buds US, 1974

Zachary Scotts; Zacharys noun diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for TROTS; formed on the name of US film actor Zachary Scott (1914–65) UK, 1992 zack; zac noun a sixpence; the sum of six pence. Origin unknown. Perhaps from Scottish dialect saxpence (sixpence), or possibly Yiddish from German sechs (six). After the introduction of decimal currency in 1966, it came to mean 'a five-cent piece', or its value, a similar coin with about the same comparative value; dying out from the 1980s, now seldom heard AUSTRALIA, 1898. ► not have a zack to be broke AUSTRALIA, 1989. ► not worth a zack worthless AUSTRALIA, 1962 zaftig; zoftig adjective sexy, buxom. From German/Yiddish for 'juicy' US, 1932 zag verb when faced with two courses of action, to take the right one. Most commonly used in variations of 'I zigged when I should have zagged' US, 1948 zags noun thin papers used for rolling cigarettes. From the branded name Zig Zag™, the dominant rolling papers during the hippie years US, 1970 zambi noun marijuana presumed to originate in the Republic of Zambia US, 1998 zambuck noun a member of St John Ambulance Brigade. From a proprietary name of an antiseptic ointment commonly used by them AUSTRALIA, 1918 zami noun a lesbian. From a misplaced juncture of the French les amies (women friends) TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 2003

Zanussi noun ► on Zanussi drug-intoxicated; wildly excited or distracted. A variant of ON ANOTHER PLANET, from the advertising for Zanussi, a manufacturer of domestic electrical appliances UK, 1995

zap noun 1 amyl nitrite UK, 1996. 2 an electrical shock US, 1994 zap verb 1 to kill someone. A major piece of slang from the Vietnam war US, 1942. 2 to shoot someone. A Royal Navy variation on the previous sense UK, 1989. 3 to finish something off. A figurative variation of the sense 'to kill' UK, 1999. 4 to defeat someone heavily US, 1968. 5 to give someone an electrical shock; to administer electric shock treatment to someone. Recorded as 'administering shock treatment' in 'The language of nursing', Philip C. Kolin, American Speech, p. 209, Fall–Winter 1973 US, 1995. 6 to operate electronically, often by remote-control. 2001. 7 to overwhelm someone US, 1967. 8 to move quickly US, 1974. 9 to have sex US, 1985. 10 to present, to give US, 1967. 11 to steal something UK, 2002. 12 to use the (remote) fast-forward facility on video playback to pass advertising; to use a remote control to switch between television channels (to avoid advertising, or simply to find a programme that engages you) US, 1983. 13 to send a text message UK, 2003. 14 to heat something up in a microwave oven US, 1999. 15 to give a student in college a notification of academic deficiency US, 1968. 16 in Canadian military aviation, to affix a sticker on which is the badge of a military unit onto an aircraft of another service CANADA, 1982

zap over verb to change your mind UK, 1972 zapped adjective 1 drug-intoxicated US, 1979. 2 spicy US, 1983

zapper noun any remote-control device used with domestic entertainment equipment – television, stereo, video, DVD player, etc US, 1981

zappy adjective lively, energetic UK, 1983

zap up verb to enliven something UK, 1988

Zat? ► see: OWZAT?

zatch noun the genitals of either gender. Originally used of female genitals UK, 1950

Zazu Pitts noun diarrhoea. Rhyming slang for THE SHITS, formed on the name of the US film actress, 1914–65 UK, 1992

zazzy adjective ostentatious, showy US, 1961

Z-bag noun the bed US, 1968

Z-bars noun in motorcycle racing, handlebars each shaped like the letter Z, facing each other US, 1973

zebbed adjective circumcised UK, 2003 zebra noun a cadet officer in the US Air Force. An allusion to how conscious the officer is of his stripes US, 1946 zebra adjective racially mixed US, 1971

Zec noun an area in Quebec where logging and hunting are controlled or prohibited CANADA, 1992

zeds noun 1 sleep. Royal Navy slang; echoic, based on UK pronunciation of 'z', from the strip-cartoon legend 'zzzz' as an indicator of sleep. Used in phrases such as 'racking (or piling) up the zeds' (sleeping) and 'zeds merchant' (someone who likes to sleep) UK, 1989. 2 central nervous system depressants UK, 1983

zeek freak noun a person who greatly enjoys sex while under the influence of crack cocaine US, 1989

zeke noun in circus usage, a hyena US, 1981

Zelda noun 1 a girl or a woman, especially if dull or uninteresting. Possibly after Zelda Fitzgerald (1900–48) with the suggestion that the name is dull and old-fashioned; Zelda Fitzgerald was herself named after the character of a gypsy queen in a romantic novel US, 2002. 2 a high school girl who is a socially inept outcast US, 1961. 3 a witch. Perhaps from the character Aunt Zelda, a 2000-year-old witch in Sabrina, The Teenage Witch, from a 1962 comic book creation, subsequently in animated and live-action television series UK, 2002

zeller noun an over-devoted surfer US, 1988

zen noun LSD. From the other-worldly state sought by Zen Buddhism UK, 1978

Zen noun MDMA, the recreational drug best known as ecstasy US, 1989

zen in verb to grasp completely through intuition US, 1967 zenith noun ketamine hydrochloride, an anaesthetic used as a hallucinogen US, 2002 zeppelin noun a poker player who contemplates long and hard before every bet or play US, 1996 zero noun 1 a person of no significance; a nobody US, 1979. 2 a gambler who is a chronic loser US, 1996 zero verb 1 to kill someone US, 1990. 2 to identify or locate someone or something US, 1955 zero-dark-thirty noun very early in the morning US, 1991 zero out verb 1 to kill someone. Korean war usage US, 1989. 2 to be killed US, 1992 zero week noun the orientation week preceding eight weeks of basic military training US, 1968

Z-game noun the game with the lowest betting limits in a gambling operation or cardroom. There need not be 26 tables to arrive at the Z-game; it is the lowest-stakes table in the place US, 1988 zhoosh; jhoosh noun 1 ornamentation UK, 2002. 2 clothing UK, 1968 zhoosh; jhoosh verb 1 to swallow something UK, 2002. 2 to tidy the appearance of something; to tittle, to trim, to ornament UK, 1997 zhooshing noun shop-lifting UK, 1995 zhoosh off; jhoosh off verb to leave; to go UK, 2002 zhooshy adjective showy, ornate UK, 2002 ziff noun a beard. Origin unknown. Now all but obsolete AUSTRALIA, 1917 ziffed; be-ziffed adjective bearded. From ZIFF (a beard) AUSTRALIA, 1973 zig noun ► get the zig to become annoyed or angry with someone UK, 2000 zig verb 1 when faced with two courses of action, to take the wrong one. Most commonly used in some variation of 'I zigged when I should have zagged' US, 1948. 2 to shoot down an enemy fighter plane US, 1986

Zig and Zag noun 1 a variety of LSD identified by a picture of television puppets Zig and Zag UK, 1996. 2 an act of sexual intercourse. Rhyming slang for SHAG, formed from a double act of television puppets, in turn named from an in-and-out movement UK, 2003 ziggerboo noun an eccentric or crazy person US, 1947 zig-zag noun 1 cigarette rolling papers. A brand name that acquired a generic meaning US, 1968. 2 sex with a prostitute US, 1954 zig-Zag adjective unreliable; dishonest TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1960 zigzag man noun 1 marijuana UK, 2003. 2 LSD. Perhaps from a icon printed on the drug UK, 2003 zig-zig noun sexual intercourse. Familiar pidgin in the Far, Near and Middle East and Mediterranean, originally military; a variation of JIG-A-JIG. Used by US soldiers in the South Pacific UK, 1918 zig-zig verb to have sex. Familiar pidgin in the Far, Near and Middle East and Mediterranean, originally military; a variation of JIG-A-JIG US, 1918 zilch noun 1 nothing US, 1940. 2 a socially inept outcast US, 1965 zillion noun an almost unimaginably large number. One of several invented numbers used to convey a large number; probably coined by Damon Runyon US, 1944 zillionaire noun a multi-millionaire US, 1946

Zimbo noun a person from Zimbabwe NEW ZEALAND, 1995 zimmer noun a girl US, 1990 zinc noun an obviously unfashionable child or youth. Pejorative. Commented on by the Plain English Campaign in October 2003 UK, 2003 zine noun an inexpensively self-published magazine devoted to such topics as hobbies, music, film and politics. An abbreviation of FANZINE, ultimately 'magazine' US, 1978

zined noun a fan magazine editor US, 1976 zinfandel noun serious trouble. Zinfandel is a wine from California that seems not to have travelled well CANADA, 1970 zing noun 1 energy, vigour US, 1918. 2 sex appeal. A nuance of the previous sense US, 1961. 3 an amphetamine tablet US, 1997

Z-ing noun the practice of targeting tourists as victims of crime by the 'Z' as the first letter on the car number plate, designating a rental car US, 1994 zing verb 1 (of a bullet) to ricochet US, 2001. 2 to travel quickly US, 1920. 3 to affect someone suddenly and forcefully US, 1975. 4 to feel pleasurable sensations resulting from drug use UK, 1971. ► zing it in to bet heavily US, 1979

zing! used to represent a sudden change in circumstance or emotion UK, 1919 zingaro noun in circus and carnival usage, a gypsy US, 1981 zinger noun 1 the punch-line of a joke; the last word US, 1964. 2 an arranged ending to a competition US, 1959. 3 a surprise, an awkward or unexpected turn of events US, 1973. 4 an exceptionally good example of something UK, 1955. 5 a very attractive woman US, 1959. 6 an amphetamine tablet US, 1993. 7 a hot pepper US, 1996. 8 a hard stare that is intended to impart bad luck on the recipient US, 1979

zingy adjective exciting, energetic US, 1948 zip noun 1 an Italian or Sicilian criminal brought to the US for criminal purposes, especially murder US, 1993. 2 a Viet Cong; a Vietnamese; any South Asian person US, 1970. 3 energy UK, 1900. 4 methamphetamine US, 1997. 5 cocaine. Probably from ZIPPED (drug-intoxicated) US, 1998. 6 used for representing the sharp sound of, for instance, a bullet or a mosquito as it moves through the air; specifically of bullets, it is often reduplicated: 'zip-zip' or 'zip, zip' UK, 1875. 7 nothing at all; zero US, 1900. 8 a hand-made gun, a zip gun US, 1967 zip verb 1 to move quickly US, 1852. 2 to kill someone US, 1982. ► zip it to stop talking. From the image of zipping your mouth shut US, 1999. ► zip your lip; zip your mouth to stop talking. The image of a zip fastener (zipper) sealing your lips; may be mimed rather than spoken; often as an imperative US, 1942 zip ball noun in pinball, a ball that leaves play without having scored US, 1977 zip-five noun a prison sentence of a maximum of five years US, 1964 zip gun noun an inexpensive, homemade gun, usually consisting of a tube, a grip and a rudimentary striking device US, 1950

zipped noun drug-intoxicated US, 1973 zipper noun 1 a scar US, 1978. 2 an electronic display of news or publicity which is scrolled across a screen fixed to a building US, 2003. 3 a short but well-formed wave US, 1988. 4 a trap play in poker US, 1996 zipperhead noun 1 a Vietnamese person. Offensive US, 1987. 2 a stupid person US, 1989 zipper ripper noun in craps, a roll of ten. Evolved from the more common BIG DICK (a roll of ten) US, 1999 zippily adverb energetically, swiftly UK, 1983 zippiness noun an energetic quality, speediness UK, 1924 zippity-doo-dah noun nothing at all. An elaboration of ZIP (zero) US, 1977 zippity-doo-dah! used as a nonsensical, all-purpose utterance. From the lyrics of a song in the 1946 Walt Disney film Song of the South US, 1992 zippo noun 1 nothing. An embellished form of ZIP US, 1993. 2 energy US, 1981. 3 a tank-mounted flame thrower. An allusion to the branded cigarette lighter US, 1966 zippo verb to set something on fire and burn it. An allusion to the branded cigarette lighter US, 1966 zippo job noun the burning of a village as part of a military sweep through the area US, 1988

zippola noun nothing at all US, 1994 zippy noun someone whose lifestyle mixes hippy ideals and modern technology. An acronym of 'zen-inspired professional pagan' UK, 1990s zippy adjective lively, bright, energetic, vigorous; fast, speedy US, 1904 zips noun the first decade of the 21st century UK, 2003 zip squat noun a very small amount. Two words that mean 'nothing' US, 1990 zip top noun A Jewish person. Offensive US, 1987 zip up verb to stop talking. The image of a zip fastener sealing the lips UK, 1999 zirconia flush noun in poker, four diamonds. Named after the synthetic diamond US, 1996 zit noun an acne pimple US, 1966 zitfarm noun a teenager. From the adolescent tendency towards ZIT (a pimple, a spot)-production in agricultural quantities US, 1981 zizz noun a snooze, a brief sleep; sleep. Military usage; echoic in as much as the cartoon-strip legend 'zzzz' is an accurate indicator of sleep UK, 1941 zizz verb 1 to sleep. Military usage; echoic in as much as the cartoon-strip legend 'zzzz' is an accurate indicator of sleep UK, 1942. 2 to prepare food in a blender UK, 2002

zizzy adjective fancy, showy US, 1954

Z-list noun denotes all that is associated with a level of minor-celebrity so despised that obscurity is almost achieved. A notional social grouping that contrasts with A-list (top-rank celebrity); 'Z-list' inclusion is a matter of derogatory opinion US, 1979 zloty noun in poker, low-stakes betting. Named after the lowest value coin in the Polish monetary system US, 1996

zob noun an unlikeable, despicable person US, 1911 zobbit noun an officer. Royal Air Force lower ranks' usage, from Arabic dabat (an officer) UK, 1967

zod noun someone who is socially inept to the extreme US, 1982 zog noun the US federal government. A basic piece of racist, right-wing political vocabulary in the US US, 2000 zoinks! used for expressing fear or surprise. Popularised as a signature line of the character Shaggy, voiced by Casey Kasem, on the television cartoon Scooby Doo, Where are You? (CBS, 1969–72). Repeated with referential humour US, 1972

zol noun a marijuana cigarette US, 1955

Zola Budd noun a police vehicle, especially a slow-moving armoured vehicle; a small bus, especially a Toyota. Township slang; after the South African-born British Athlete (b.1966) who was involved in a controversial incident in the 1984 Olympic 3,000 metres race. SOUTH AFRICA, 1985 zombie noun 1 a dull, personality-free person. From the belief of certain west African religions that corpses can be revived to walk the earth without souls US, 1941. 2 in poker, an expert player who shows no emotion, no matter how good or bad his hand is US, 1979. 3 a policewoman. Usually in the plural UK, 1956. 4 among air-traffic controllers, a suspicious unidentified flying object UK, 1982 zombie verb to put someone into an apathetic condition. From a belief in soulless corpses that walk the earth (and film sets) having been revived by voodoo UK, 1990 zombied adjective very drunk. In a condition generally seen among the undead UK, 2002 zombie job noun during the Korean war, a night patrol US, 1957 zombie medicine noun tranquilizers. From the desired effect of the medication UK, 1996 zombie weed noun phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1981 zone noun a state of such concentration that consequent action seems instinctual. Often in the phrase 'in the zone' US, 1995. ► on the zone lost in a daydream US, 1974. ► the zone a state of being qualified for, and meeting all other parameters for, a promotion in rank. Originally Royal Navy, then army use UK, 1962 zoned out adjective mentally absent US, 1971 zone out; zone off; zone verb to absent yourself mentally, with or without the aid of drugs US, 1992

zoner; zonie noun someone from Arizona US, 1991 zonk verb 1 to fall asleep, especially as a result of drugs or drink. Also used with 'out' US, 1970. 2 to hit or strike, literally or figuratively US, 1969 zonked noun the recreational drug GHB. From the drug-intoxicated sense of ZONKED US, 2000 zonked adjective 1 intoxicated on a drug, especially marijuana; drunk. Also used with 'out' US, 1958. 2 exhilarated; intoxicated by an abstract thought UK, 1980. 3 exhausted US, 1968 zonker noun a drug user who indulges to excess. A cartoon strip by Garry Trudeau has had a laid-back marijuana-smoking character called Zonker since 1972 US, 1996 zonkers noun the female breasts. An abbreviation of BAZONKAS US, 1995

zonking adverb used as an intensifier of adjectives that convey positivity or largeness UK, 1958 zonks noun an indefinitely long time. A variation of YONKS UK, 1982 zoo noun 1 the section of a prison where 'vulnerable prisoners' are kept for their own safety. In Prison Patter, 1996, Angela Devlin notes that an ANIMAL is 'a sex offender', and animals are kept in a zoo UK, 1996. 2 a police station. Citizens' band radio slang US, 1976. 3 in motor racing, the pit area where cars stop for fuelling and repairs US, 1980. 4 a brakevan (caboose) US, 1977. 5 a notional or actual grouping or assemblage of people; the place where they are assembled. Often mildly contemptuous UK, 1924. 6 a zoophile, a person with a sexual interest in animals UK, 2002

zoob noun a large penis AUSTRALIA, 1985 zoo book noun a student directory with photographs of each student US, 1968 zoobs noun the female breasts. A blend of BOOB(S) and BAZOOMS US, 1968 zoo doo noun compost made from multi-species faeces US, 1981 zooed adjective 1 drunk US, 1979. 2 crowded. Surfer usage US, 1988

zoobie noun a cylindrical implement that holds the butt of a marijuana joint, 2001 zook noun a marijuana and tobacco cigarette; may also contain crack cocaine UK, 2000

zookeeper noun in motor racing, the official in charge of the pit area US, 1980 zoom noun 1 phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust US, 1994. 2 marijuana laced with phencyclidine, the recreational drug known as PCP or angel dust. 'Zoom!' is a comic book caption for the drugs' combined effect US, 1982 zoom verb 1 to move very quickly. From aviation slang US, 1946. 2 to induce someone to commit a crime that they were not otherwise inclined to commit US, 1970 zoom bag noun a military flier's flight suit US, 1991 zoomer noun 1 an energetic fool. From ZOOM (to move quickly) UK, 2000. 2 a person who sells fake crack cocaine and then quickly disappears US, 2002 zoomers noun the female breasts US, 1968 zoomie noun 1 a graduate of the United States Air Force Academy US, 1991. 2 in drag racing cars, an exhaust pipe that curves upward directing some of the exhaust gases to heat the tyres US, 1968. 3 a crew member of a military jet aircraft. A term used by the infantry and navy US, 1948 zooms noun the female breasts. A shortened form of BAZOOMS US, 1968

zoo-only adjective applied to the sexual predilection of a zoophile with no other interests UK, 2002 zoot noun 1 a ZOOT SUIT US, 1947. 2 a marijuana cigarette. Also called a 'zut' or 'zootie' UK, 1996. 3 a cigarette butt TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1956 zoot canary noun a fashion model. Beatniks' use, therefore late 1950s UK, 1984 zooted; zooted up adjective drug-intoxicated US, 1986 zooter noun 1 in cricket, a non-spinning ball bowled by a spin-bowler. Coinage credited to Australian cricketers Shane Warne (b.1969) and Terry Jenner (b.1944) to describe a style that they developed AUSTRALIA, 2002. 2 a ZOOT SUITER US, 1994

zootie adjective emotionally unbalanced or drug-intoxicated US, 1990

zootied adjective very marijuana-intoxicated US, 1982 zoot suit noun a type of man's suit characterised by its exaggerated style: padded shoulders, long jacket, high-waisted trousers, bright colours. Perhaps by reduplication of 'suit' US, 1942

zoot suiter noun a member of an identifiable group of zoot-suit-wearing young men, characterised by fashion and as flashy and vulgar US, 1943

zoot up verb to dress in a zoot suit and accessories US, 1947 zooty adjective fashionable, stylish. Derived from, and an allusion to, ZOOT SUIT US, 1946 zoo-zoo; zuu-zuu noun in prison, sweets, snacks, soda or any other special treat US, 1981 zoquete noun heroin. Directly from Spanish for 'block' or 'chunk' UK, 2003

Zorba the Greek; Zorba verb to urinate; an act of urination. Also used as a noun. Rhyming slang for LEAK, formed on the title of a 1946 novel by Nikos Kazantzakis and 1964 film UK, 1992 zorch verb in computing, to move or process quickly US, 1983 zorries noun inexpensive, practical foam rubber thong sandals US, 1990 zot noun zero; nothing US, 1965 zot verb to move suddenly or swiftly. Perhaps from the nonsense, all-purpose word – especially used as a substitute for God – coined by US cartoonist Johnny Hart (b.1931) US, 1974 zotz noun a planned murder; an assassination US, 1988 zotz verb to kill someone US, 1982

zotzed adjective drunk or drug-intoxicated US, 1992 zounds! used for registering a strong reaction. Compounded from 'God's wounds!', modern usage is often ironic UK, 1616 zowie! used as a vocal representation of an instantaneous happening UK, 1913 z's noun sleep. From Z's as the representation of snoring in comic strips used with a verb such as 'catch', 'cop', 'cut', 'get', 'grab' or 'rip' US, 1963. ► stack z's to sleep US, 1975 zubrick; zoob noun the penis. Mainly in soldiers' Arabic shufti zubrick or shufti zoob (let's see/show the penis), possibly enhanced by the rhyme on PRICK but not rhyming slang UK, 1958 zucchini noun an extended fibreglass field hut ANTARCTICA, 1991

zug up verb to cut hair unevenly TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1959

zuke noun in American casinos, a gratuity US, 1985

Zulu noun 1 a black person. Offensive US, 1960. 2 a large marijuana cigarette US, 1973

Zulu princess noun in homosexual usage, a young and attractive black man US, 1987 zulu time noun Greenwich Mean Time US, 1960

'zup? used as a greeting. A slurred 'what's up?' US, 1990 zut adjective stupid TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO, 1984 zymotic; zymy adjective contemptible. A figurative application of the conventional senses relating to infectious disease and containing putrefactive germs, thus creating a synonym for LOUSY. Noted in use amongst teenagers UK, 1965

0-9

10-1; ten-one adjective broken. Teen slang taken from citizens' band radio jargon UK, 1982

10-4; ten-four used as an acknowledgement that a message has been received US, 1976

11 noun the loudest possible amplification. From a comic conceit in the film This Is Spinal Tap US, 1984

110 per cent adverb absolutely, utterly UK, 2001

12 noun a recording available on twelve-inch vinyl disc UK, 2002

125 noun cocaine. Rhyming slang, from the Inter-City 125, the nearest thing the UK has to a high-speed train UK, 2001

12-er noun a twelve-pack of beer US, 2003

14 nickname 1 used as an indication that a person is a member of a northern California Mexican-American gang. 'N' for Norteno (the name of a gang) is the fourteenth letter of the alphabet US, 1985. 2 a member of the Nuestra Familia prison gang. 'N' is the fourteenth letter of the alphabet US, 2000

151; one-fifty-one; fifty-one noun crack cocaine US, 1998

187; one-eight-seven noun 1 a homicide. From the California penal code number used by the police as radio shorthand for a homicide. Adopted into the lyrics of GANGSTA RAP(S) from Los Angeles Police Department usage US, 1992. 2 no possibility; no chance. A figurative use of the previous sense, hence 'any possibility is dead'. US, 1996

1984 adjective oppressively authoritarian. Directly from the novel Nineteen Eighty-Four by George Orwell, 1949 US, 1970

21 nickname Newquay, Cornwall. Puns 'new key': 'He's got the key of the door, never been twenty-one before' UK, 1981

24/7; twenty-four seven adverb at all times – twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week US, 1989

24-hour hootch noun a beverage of apple juice, yeast and aspirins CANADA, 1989

276 nickname the prison gang more commonly known as the Black Guerrilla Family US, 2000

288; two eighty-eight adjective too disgusting, too gross. An excruciating pun on 288 as 'two gross' (2 x 144 = 288) US, 1995

28 cheeks noun girls who are not romantically or sexually faithful to one partner; two timers. Teen slang, of uncertain origin. This may well also apply in the singular SOUTH AFRICA, 2003

2C-B noun 4-bromo-2, 5-dimethoxyphenethylamine, a mild hallucinogen used recreationally US, 1995

364; three-sixty-four noun a 364-day jail sentence in the US, the maximum jail term for misdemeanours, served in county jail US, 1992

365; three-six-five noun a mutton chop. So named because it is served for breakfast every day of the year NEW ZEALAND, 2001

365; three-sixty-five adverb all the time. Every day of the year US, 1990

37461 noun crack cocaine UK, 2003

3750 noun marijuana UK, 2003

3-m noun (1) mutual (2) manual (3) masturbation US, 1985

3-peat; three-peat verb to win a sports championship three times consecutively. When he was the coach of the Los Angeles Lakers basketball team, Pat Riley sought and obtained a trademark for the term US, 1992

40 noun 1 a forty-ounce bottle of malt liquor. Also spelt out as 'forty' or 'forty-ounce' US, 1990. 2 a 40-milligram dose of the synthetic opiate oxycodone used recreationally US, 2001

404; four-o-four adjective mentally lost, very unaware. From the Internet message '404, URL not found' US, 1997

411; four-one-one noun gossip, information. 411 is the universal telephone number for directory enquiries – known commonly as 'information' in the US US, 1991

415 noun a prison gang with black members US, 2000

420 man; four-twenty man noun a cheat, a fraudster. A reference to the Indian Penal Code INDIA, 2003

45 noun a single song recording on vinyl. From the rpm (revolutions per minute) UK, 1950

5000; five thousand goodbye. An abbreviation of AUDI 5000! US, 1996

50 Cent adjective homosexual. Rhyming slang for bent, formed on the stage name of New York rapper Curtis Jackson (b.1977) UK, 2005

5318008 noun a numerical sequence that displays boobies (the female breasts) upside down in the window of a calculator or mobile phone. Probably first seen in the 1970s, still in use, 2003

5-H-1-T noun shit. A euphemism employed by some doctors UK, 2002

5 watter; five watter a fool. A play on the dimmest unit of electric lighting and a person who is not very bright; in Royal Air Force use, 2002 UK, 2002

6-10 verb to have sex UK, 1981

64; six-four; six-fo' noun a 1964 Chevrolet Impala, an ultimate prize of car customisers and lowriders US, 1997

650 lifer noun in Michigan, a prisoner sentenced to life in prison for possession of more than 650 grams of cocaine US, 1997

69; sixty-nine verb to engage in simultaneous, mutual oral sex with someone US, 1971

69; sixty-nine; sixty-niner noun mutual, simultaneous oral sex between two people (used of both the position and the act) UK, 1888

6-up; six-up noun a police officer US, 2003

79 noun an M79 grenade launcher. Vietnam war usage. It is a single-shot, break-open, breech-loading, shoulder-fired weapon US, 1992

7-up noun in casinos, a wire bent in the shape of a seven that is slipped into slot machines to trigger a payout US, 1997

8; number 8; number eight; eight noun heroin. H (heroin) is the eighth letter of the alphabet US, 1994

80's bush noun a bushy female hairstyle, popular in the 1980s and mocked thereafter US, 2001

88 used as a symbol of fascist and racist beliefs. 'H' is the eighth letter of the alphabet, and so 88 translates into HH, or 'Heil Hitler' US, 2000

8th; eighth noun an eighth of an ounce, especially of a drug UK, 1989

9; nine noun 1 a 9mm pistol US, 1990. 2 a nine-gallon keg of beer AUSTRALIA, 1943

900 noun in skateboarding, a jumping manoeuvre of two and a half revolutions UK, 2004

98; ninety-eight noun any classic car, especially an Oldsmobile 98 US, 1997

995 used euphemistically to avoid swearing in citizens' band radio transmissions UK, 1981